This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on the Appeal of the Commissioners from the Jamestown Congregation, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THE APPEAL OF THE JAMESTOWN, PA., COMMISSIONERS.

The Committee on Judiciary respectfully report that they have examined the papers in the case of the appeal by certain Commissioners of the Jamestown, Pa., congregation from the decision of the First Synod of the West, and find that the steps necessary to bring the case in an orderly way before the Assembly have been taken. They therefore present the following resolution for adoption:

Resolved, That the Assembly proceed with the adjudication of this case, and its consideration be made the order of the day for to-morrow, Friday, morning at 10 o'clock.

The report of the Committee on the Memorial Address was read and adopted, and the hearing of the address was made the first order of the day after the reading of the minutes on Friday evening.

The report of the Committee on the Charter of the Women's General Missionary Society was read and the Charter as presented was approved. The committee of last year was continued to complete the work of securing the Charter.

The report of the Committee on the Relation of Baptized Children to the Church was read, amended and adopted.

The Committee on Closing the Columbian Exposition on the Sabbath presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CLOSING THE COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION ON THE SABBATH.

The Committee on the Opening of the Gates of the Columbian Exposition on the Sabbath respectfully recommend the adoption of the following by the Assembly:

We, the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, in session in Monmouth, Ill., do hereby protest against the action of the Commissioners and Local Directory of the Columbian Exposition in resolving to open its gates on the Sabbath for the following reasons:

1. It is a violation of the Divine Law. In respect to the sentiment of those who recognize the Sabbath of rest as instituted for the good of our own race, Congress expressed it as the will of the people that the gates of the Exposition should be closed on that day. That this is the will of the people has been indicated by the petitions of more than twenty millions of our people. There has been no evidence presented since that the will of the people has changed. The reopening of the question in Congress failed to secure any change in its action. The opening of the gates, therefore, on the Sabbath is a palpable violation of the law expressly prohibiting it.

2. The opening of the gates on Sabbath is a breach of trust. The acceptance of the funds appropriated by Congress was the acceptance of the conditions attached to the appropriation. There was thus, in addition to the expressed will of Congress and through it the will of the people, a contract entered into by both parties, which neither of them can legally annul without the consent of the other. Those who sought the closing of the gates of the Exposition on the Sabbath rested in the faith that the contract would be honestly and faithfully fulfilled. Every principle of honor and integrity requires it.

3. The opening of the gates on the Sabbath is disobedience to the authority to which it is still subordinate. The Exposition is a national institution still subordinate to the government which gave it its legal existence, provided for its management, located it and aided its finances. The tendency of disregarding this authority is to alienate the law-abiding people and to make the Exposition dependent for success upon a class whose influence would be detrimental to all the interests and objects of the Exposition.

4. As securing additional force to this protest, we affirm that our rights, which have been recognized and guaranteed by the acts, both of the Nation and the Exposition, have been, by the resolution to open the gates, wrested from us. We insist upon the fulfillment both by the Government and the Commissioners who have charge of the Exposition, of the pledge that it should not be opened on the Sabbath. We urge and entreat all who are under our charge, as Christian people, not to avail themselves of the privileges of the Exposition until it is finally agreed that it shall not be open on the Sabbath.

Resolved, that copies of this paper be signed by the Moderator and Clerk of this Assembly and forwarded to the Chairmen of the Commission and of the Local Directory.

J. C. White, according to the invitation of the afternoon, addressed the Assembly. The following resolutions were adopted:

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY WITH J. C. WHITE.

The Assembly, having heard with great pleasure the address on Foreign Missions made by Mr. J. C. White, one of the secretaries of the International Young Men's Christian Association, hereby expresses sympathy with him in going out to Calcutta, India, to work among the educated natives of that country, and prays God that the divine blessing and great success may attend all his labors there for the extension of Christ's kingdom and the salvation of souls.

After prayer by Rev. J. Q. A. McDowell, the Assembly adjourned.

FRIDAY.

May 26, 1893, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. D. W. Collins, D. D.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

1:45 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. D. Ralston.

The roll was called. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The order of the day was suspended till the consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Home Missions was completed. This report, which was adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON HOME MISSIONS.

We have had under consideration the report of the Board, and the report of the General Committee of Home Missions.

From an examination of the reports put into our hands, we find that we have great encouragement to prosecute the work. Our mission stations generally are in a prosperous condition. Our missionaries are doing faithful work. The year has been one of advancement along the whole line. The Church of our choice and of our love is commending herself more than ever to the confidence of the people, believing, as she does, in an inerrant Bible, and preaching, as she does, a pure gospel from all her pulpits, the conviction is growing that it is safe to follow the standards which she holds aloft. Inviting fields are opening and calling on us to occupy them, fields with some of which it is a crisis hour, but because of lack of means we cannot enter them. A larger sum is asked of the Church for the work than in any previous year, but not larger than is needed to meet the pressing demands of the field, not larger than the Church is able to give, and not larger than our people will give if every pastor and elder will do his duty.

We present for adoption by the Assembly the following resolutions:

Resolved 1. That we express our gratitude to God for the success with which he has crowned our efforts in the Home Mission field.

2. That the action of the Board, as presented in the annual report, be approved.

3. That the report of the General Committee of Home Missions be adopted.

4. That the recommendations of the General Committee be adopted.

A memorial from the Trustees of Westminster College on the report of the Permanent Committee on Education was presented and referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was made the third order of the day for to-morrow morning.

A letter from Rev. M. V. B. Van Arsdale, General Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, asking for an opportunity to address the Assembly, was presented and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

The report of the Committee on the Board of Church Extension was adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON CHURCH EXTENSION.

There have been placed in our hands two papers, the annual report of the Board and a memorial from the Women's General Missionary Society.

I. From the report of the Board it appears that the past year has been a prosperous one. The work has been prudently managed, and the difficulties and emergencies that have arisen during the year have been met with skill and sound judgment. The Treasurer's tabular report of receipts and expenditures is specially full and satisfactory. The receipts from congregations and other sources were slightly less than the year preceding—those from the Sabbath Schools notably so—but the Board has been able to meet the most important and pressing demands made upon it, and also to make provision for the return of the full amount borrowed from the permanent fund.

There are now before the Board awaiting action applications for about $33,500, and this amount will probably be largely increased during the year by applications from stations where home mission work is to be begun. The rapid extension of home mission work into new fields lays upon the Board of Church Extension the necessity of making a corresponding advance in its work. The Church must be prompt and liberal in its contributions to enable the Board to do this. The Board will also need to sift carefully the applications, and adhere strictly to its established policy of requiring applicants for aid to contribute to the full extent of their own ability as a condition of receiving assistance.

The following resolutions are presented for adoption:

Resolved 1. That the General Assembly heartily approves the work of the Board during the past year.

2. That our people be urged to contribute the full amount asked for the year, in order that the Board may be able to keep pace with the new work undertaken in the home mission field.

3. That the Special Committee (of which Dr. Paul is Chairman), appointed to prepare and present an early appeal to the Church on behalf of home missions, be also commissioned to present at the same time the coördinate and interdependent claims of Church Extension, and that Presbyteries include the work of Church Extension in the conferences they have been directed to hold on home mission work.

4. That all our people be urged to make their contributions to the work of Church Extension through the regular channels, and that special appeals to the Church at large for contributions to unauthorized objects be discouraged.

5. That the Board designate a special object for the contributions of the Sabbath Schools during the third quarter of the year.

6. That the Board be authorized to exercise some discretion in the application of the rule requiring that the property of congregations receiving aid shall be secured in the particular form of the declaration of trust; but in every case in which the Board deems it inadvisable to insist upon such declaration of trust, the fact shall be made known to the Board of Home Missions.

II. As to the Memorial from the Women's General Missionary Society: It seems that the Women's Board is now ready to begin the work of assisting in building mission churches, but the charter now in force does not clearly authorize it to do this work, and the new charter may not go into force for some months, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Board of Church Extension be authorized to arrange with the Women's Board to act as an auxiliary in the work of building churches for mission congregations, as is already done in the case of parsonages.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises.

The Committee on Freedmen's Missions presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

Viewing with pleasure the manifest approval of the work among the freedmen by the King and Head of the Church, as shown by the outpouring of his Spirit in large measure upon both teachers and scholars, we present the following points for your consideration:

Resolved 1, That we record our heart-felt gratitude to God for the measure of blessing, which he has already bestowed upon this work.

2. That we approve the work of the Board and of the teachers, and commend the faithfulness, zeal and wisdom shown by them in the conduct of the work.

3. That we commend the Board in its present efforts to increase its direct evangelistic work; and express the conviction that the time is at hand when the planting of mission stations and the organization of congregations should be prosecuted vigorously.

4. That, in order to secure greater efficiency on the part of those who desire to fit themselves for becoming religious teachers of their people, the Board be authorized to organize a department of theology in connection with Knoxville College, as soon as the same may be practicable.

The Committee on Correspondence presented a report, which, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

I. The report of the Western Section of the Executive Commission of the Alliance of Reformed Churches has been submitted to us. The report notes with pleasure that the United Presbyterian Church has been re-enrolled as a member of the Alliance. According to the basis of representation adopted by the Alliance, our Church is entitled to eighteen delegates in the next General Council. An annual apportionment of $15.00 per delegate is assessed for carrying on the work of the Alliance.

We submit the following resolutions:

Resolved 1, That the delegates of our Church, to the next General Council of the Alliance, to meet in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1896, be appointed by the General Assembly of 1895.

2. That a warrant for $270.00, the amount for which our Church is assessed for carrying on the work of the Alliance for the present year, be drawn on the Treasurer of the General Assembly in favor of the Treasurer of the Alliance.

II. The letter of the Rev. Paul D. Van Gieson, D. D., delegate to this General Assembly from the Reformed Church in America, has been referred to your committee. We note with pleasure the fraternal spirit which it breathes, and submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That Rev. W. W. White, Ph. D., principal, and Rev. A. K. Duff, alternate, be appointed to convey the fraternal greetings of this General Assembly to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America.

III. The correspondence of the Committee on Union with the Associate Reformed Synod of the South has been submitted to us. While this correspondence seems, at present, to be barren of results, so far as immediate union of the two churches is concerned, we commend the wisdom and Christian prudence of the Committee in the negotiations and approve its action. We offer the following resolution for your approval:

Resolved, That this Committee be continued for the coming year with a view of continuing these negotiations.

IV. The credentials of Rev. B. H. Greer, delegate from the Associate Reformed Synod of the South to this General Assembly, have been received. We regret to learn that owing to the damaged condition of the railroads over which he must pass, he will not be able to attend this meeting. In a telegram received from him, he expresses the desire that the action of this Assembly may be favorable to a union between the two Churches. We submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., be appointed to convey the fraternal greetings of this General Assembly to the Associate Reformed Synod of the South.

V. We deem it of great importance that we continue to cultivate fraternal relations with the Holland Christian Reformed Church, and to this end we offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That Rev. W. C. Williamson, principal, and Rev. Josiah H. Gibson, alternate, be appointed to convey the fraternal greetings of this General Assembly to the Holland Christian Reformed Church Synod. The credentials of Rev. John Riemersma, delegate to this General Assembly from the General Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church, have been submitted to your Committee. It is with pleasure that we announce the presence of this brother upon the floor of the Assembly, and we submit for your approval the following resolution:

Resolved, That the hearing of the address of Rev. John Riemersma, delegate of the General Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church, be made the order of the day for 11:15 o'clock a. m. to-day.

VI. An invitation from the Grand Army Post of Monmouth, Ill., to this General Assembly to participate as an organization in the Decoration services to be held in the City of Monmouth, Ill., May 30, 1893, has been referred to this Committee. In reference to this invitation, we offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the invitation received from the Grand Army Post of Monmouth, Ill., to participate in the Decoration services to be held in said city, May 30, 1893, be accepted with thanks.

VII. A communication from the Young Men's Christian Association, of Monmouth, Ill., has been referred to your Committee, and we recommend the following for your adoption:

Resolved 1, That the Moderator extend the greetings of the Assembly to the Association, Psalm 20: 1–4.

2. That we accept the invitation to visit their rooms and attend their services, in the spirit in which it is given.

VIII. The credentials of Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., and Rev. W. S. Owens, D. D., delegates appointed to represent the Western Section of the Executive Commission of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches, have been referred to us. We submit the following for your approval:

Resolved, That the hearing of these delegates with reference to the work of the Alliance be made the order of the day for 10 a. m., Wednesday.

IX. The report of delegates to the Presbyterian Alliance has been placed in our hands. We submit the following in reference to this report:

Resolved 1, That the conduct of our delegates to the Presbyterian Council be approved.

2. That, in accordance with the suggestion of the delegates reporting, the action of the Council in re-admitting the United Presbyterian Church to the Alliance, be given a place in the records of the Assembly.

After prayer by Rev. J. W. Taylor the Assembly adjourned.

7:30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. Ralph E. Lackey.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz.: the consideration of the report of the Committee on Foreign Missions. After addresses by returned missionaries and the Corresponding Secretary of the Board, the report was adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The facts in connection with the work of the Board of Foreign Missions are so clearly and specifically stated in their printed report, which will soon be in the hands of all who wish it, that we need to call your attention to only a few things. It has been a year of continued prosperity, both in the success which has attended the work in the foreign field, and the increased interest in missionary effort in our home churches.

It is the semi-centennial of mission work in the United Presbyterian Church, the first missionary, Rev. Jos. Banks, having been sent out July 14, 1843, to labor among the coolies and negroes of the island of Trinidad. From that small beginning the work has gradually grown in interest, influence and extent until the number of foreign missionaries has increased to 153, native Christian workers to 580, 45 churches have been organized, 12,000 communicants have been enrolled, and over 7,000 children brought into the Sabbath schools. In view of all this, may we not as a Church very gratefully say, "Behold what God hath wrought"?

But amid all this brightness and joy, there have been clouds and darkness; and we would express our deep sorrow at the loss the missions have sustained in the removal by death of two faithful and devoted workers, Mrs. W. T. Anderson in India, and Rev. Dr. Lansing in Egypt. Mrs. Anderson had long wished to engage in this work, and as soon as the door opened she entered upon it in the full spirit of devotion and consecration, only to cease ere it was fully commenced. Dr. Lansing, early consecrated to the foreign missionary service, entered upon the same December 12, 1850, and pursued it with unflagging interest, zeal and devotion until the day of his death. To his labors under the blessing of God, are we largely indebted for our valuable mission property in Cairo and the training schools in Assioot and Cairo.

In regard to the difficulties presented in the memorial of certain native ministers of Sialkot, which was referred to the Board by the last General Assembly, we are happy to learn that negotiations are now in progress by which the Board hopes these differences may be adjusted satisfactorily to all parties, and harmony restored.

We recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved. 1. That the annual report of the Board be approved.

2. That renewed thanks be given to God for the many favors bestowed upon our missionaries, the success which has so largely attended the foreign mission work, and the valuable acquisition of the new mission station, Rawal Pindi, in India.

3. That in view of the new places in our mission fields, which are constantly opening up, and the urgent calls to occupy them, increased efforts should be made in our home Church to have more laborers sent forth, and the necessary means to sustain them be fully supplied, and in order to secure these, Presbyteries should give a large measure of their attention to this matter in their meetings and conferences throughout the year, and all pastors should frequently bring the subject before their people by sermons, circulating the report of the Board and such other methods as may be most effective in enlightening them and awakening a deeper interest on their part.

4. That Miss C. M. Buchanan, of Hebron, Ind., be appointed as missionary to Egypt, and that the Board be directed to send out others to the foreign field as soon as they can be secured to fill the places that are now vacant, and to occupy the new and needy places that are continually pressing themselves upon us.

5. That most hearty thanks be given to those Societies, both Home and Foreign, and to the numerous friends, who have given us such generous and timely aid in the prosecution of our work.

6. That the Board be urged to continue their efforts to effect such an early settlement of existing difficulties in the India field as will secure not only the highest development of the native church, but also the greatest progress in the work of converting souls.

7. That the Board be directed to publish 6,000 copies of the annual report, and that pastors and sessions be urged to have these circulated and read as much as possible in all our congregations.

After prayer by Rev. Albert Gordon the Assembly adjourned.

TUESDAY.

May 30, 1893, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. J. G. D. Findley.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises, in which the case of Rev. S. G. Irvine, D. D., a former Moderator of the Assembly, and for more than forty years a home missionary in Willamette Valley, Oregon, who has for months past been suffering from severe sickness, was by resolution specially remembered.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz.: the consideration of the appeal of Lake Presbytery. The hearing of the parties was completed. After consideration by the Assembly the appeal was sustained by the following votes: ayes, 78; nays, 72; non-liquet, 2.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was made the order of the day for this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. John Riemersma, delegate from the General Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church, expressed the Christian greetings of his Synod, and the Moderator responded in the name of the Assembly.

The following petition to the Government of the United States on the traffic in intoxicants, etc., in the New Hebrides Islands was adopted and ordered forwarded:

PETITION AGAINST THE TRAFFIC IN INTOXICANTS, &c., IN THE NEW HEBRIDES.

To the President of the United States:—The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, respectfully petitions the government of the United States, to take such active measures, as may be practicable to protect the natives of the New Hebrides Islands, against the injurious effects of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, fire arms and ammunition.

It has come to the knowledge of the General Assembly, that the natives of the New Hebrides Islands have been largely brought under the influence of the Christian religion, and have been rapidly rising into its moral character and civilization. In consequence of this, the Islands have been opened to traffic with civilized nations. Advantage has been taken of this, to establish an extensive traffic in fire arms, ammunition and intoxicating liquors, with most disastrous results, and unless the powers interpose, demoralization and crime must continue to increase.

The General Assembly has great satisfaction in knowing that the government of the United States looks with favor upon the legitimate use of its power and influence in the interests of humanity, and although without colonial interests in the South Pacific has expressed its sympathy with, and cordial approval of, a joint movement by the different powers, for the suppression of this destructive traffic. The General Assembly, therefore, respectfully petitions the government to press the preparation of a convention by the Christian powers, for the protection of the natives of the New Hebrides Islands, and of other islands not already under protection, against the traffic which has already worked so much injury, and that the same may be made effective at the earliest possible date, and we will ever pray, etc.

The following resolutions on the Chinese Exclusion Act were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS ON THE CHINESE EXCLUSION ACT.

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has passed a law excluding or expelling certain classes of Chinese from our borders; and,

WHEREAS, The Supreme Court of the United States has declared the law constitutional and valid; and,

WHEREAS, The execution of this law will bring great hardship upon the classes affected, and produce an invidious and unjust discrimination between them, and people of other nations; and,

WHEREAS, In retaliation for such treatment, the Chinese government will probably exclude all Americans, and with them all American missionaries, from her borders and thus hinder greatly the progress of Christ's kingdom; therefore,

Resolved 1. That we earnestly petition Congress to rescind her action in regard to this matter, and the President of the United States, if consistent with the obligations resting upon him as our Chief Magistrate, to suspend the operation of the law until it be rescinded.

2. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the President of the United States, and the presiding officers of both Houses of Congress.

After prayer by Rev. John Riemersma the Assembly adjourned.

1:45 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. A. S. Aiken.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

A resolution, asking the sympathy of the Assembly with the temperance people of Iowa in the struggle for the retention of their prohibitory legislation, was read and referred to the Standing Committee on Reform.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz.: the consideration of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures. During the discussion of this report, the Presidents of the Colleges were allowed the privilege of the floor. Before the final disposition of the report the hour of adjournment arrived, and the Assembly adjourned after prayer by Rev. A. R. Rankin.

7:30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. J. H. Nash.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The order of the day was suspended till the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was disposed of. This report is as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES.

There have been placed in our hands the report of the Assembly's Committee on Education, memorials from the Second Synod, the Presbytery of Allegheny, the Board of Directors of the Allegheny Theological Seminary, and the Board of Trustees of Westminster College, with reference to certain recommendations of the Committee on Education, a memorial from the Allegheny Theological Seminary with reference to the Assembly's control of the Theological Seminaries, and a memorial from sundry persons with reference to the Patrons of Husbandry.

1. Your committee has carefully considered the report of the Educational Committee. Through its efforts, the cause of higher education has been kept before the mind of the Church during the year. The report before us embodies its recommendation of ways and means for promotion of the educational work of the Church. It recommends the unification and affiliation of all our educational institutions in a uniform system, and that a committee be appointed by the General Assembly to act in conjunction with one representative from the faculty of each of our educational institutions, and that this joint committee be instructed to formulate a uniform standard of scholarship and graded curriculum of studies that shall be operative in course and graduation, and shall be made applicable both to academic and collegiate institutions. While your committee is unable to estimate the value of such a uniform system, still we recommend that be and hereby are appointed a committee to act in conjunction with one representative from the faculty of each of our educational institutions, whose duty it shall be to devise and carry such plans of unification and affiliation of our educational institutions as institutions may agree upon as practicable and advantageous.

II. Memorials before your committee, as well as the past experience of the Church, make evident the fact that the plan proposed by the Educational Committee, of assessing upon the whole Church an annual sum, beginning with $25,000 for the first year, to be used in meeting the current expenses of our educational institutions, does not commend itself to all portions of the Church. We recognize fully the great and pressing need of all our seminaries, colleges and academies for increased funds, but the plan proposed is so radical, and so likely to interfere with the increasing of permanent endowments, which the Educational Committee itself calls the "best plan," that it appears to us to be inexpedient to inaugurate such a movement without a fuller discussion and understanding of its merits.

We therefore recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That we do not approve the proposed plan of assessing an annual amount upon the whole Church, beginning with the sum of $25,000 for the first year, to be distributed among our educational institutions.

III. With reference to the matter of the Assembly's control of the Theological Seminaries, referred to us in certain memorials, the following facts appear: The existing theological seminaries are entirely under the control of the Synods of the Church. These Synods have already substantially defined the extent to which they will accept the control of the General Assembly over the Seminaries. There are legal questions concerning the structure of charters, and moral questions concerning rights of control vested in Synods, which have founded, and with great labor, endowed these Seminaries, which would prevent the Assembly assuming control of these Seminaries without the consent of the Synods in charge.

We therefore recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That no further action be taken by the Assembly looking to the transfer of the Seminaries from the control of the Synods to that of the Assembly.

IV. A memorial from certain members of our Church asks the Assembly to modify the deliverance of 1874, declaring membership in the "Order of the Patrons of Husbandry" to be contrary to Article XV. of our Testimony, and to declare applicable to it the deliverance of the Assembly of 1885 relating to the "Grand Army of the Republic," which deliverance was reaffirmed and made applicable to the "Junior Order of United American Mechanics" and "similar associations" in the deliverance of the General Assembly of 1891.

We recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That this Assembly reaffirm the following deliverance of the Assembly of 1873, viz.: "That this Assembly do most earnestly and affectionately exhort all the members of this Church to abstain from connecting themselves with any secret associations, believing that they are unnecessary, and are calculated to operate injuriously on the interests of society, and do especially urge the ministers and elders of this Church to use their influence to keep our members from an incorporation with them."

Part I. of this report was rejected. The following substitute, which was entertained for Part II., was rejected:

SUBSTITUTE FOR PART II. OF THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES.

Resolved, That this General Assembly appropriate the sum of $25,000 for the support of its educational institutions, to be applied for the present by the Board of Education according to the basis of the Quarter-Centennial Fund, as follows:

To Allegheny Seminary	9 parts.
To Xenia Seminary	9 parts.
To Westminster College	12 parts.
To Monmouth College	12 parts.
To Tarkio College	8 parts.
To Muskingum College	8 parts.
To Cooper Memorial College	8 parts.

An amendment was offered to the whole of Part III., when the amendment and Part III. were ordered to be printed in the minutes and referred to the next Assembly, with instructions to the presbyteries to send to the next Assembly their opinion on the matters referred to. The amendment is as follows:

AMMENDMENT TO PART III. OF THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES.

Resolved 1, That any change affecting the financial condition or relations of the Theological Seminaries does not seem to be necessary or desirable.

2. That the election of professors in the seminaries shall continue to be conducted, as is now provided for by the Boards of Directors, the Synods or Presbyteries having control, with the additional provision that, upon each election of a professor, the Board of Directors shall report to the next Assembly the name of the professor elected, and the chair which he is to occupy, that the election may be confirmed by the Assembly. In case the election be not sanctioned by a majority vote of all the commissioners to that Assembly, the professor-elect shall at once tender his resignation to the Board of Directors, and the resignation shall by them be accepted, and a new election take place.

3. That the directors of each seminary shall report annually to the General Assembly the condition and work of the institutions under their care, and whatever else may be necessary to show that the requirements of the Assembly, as to the term and course of study, have been complied with.

4. That the Assembly, as often as it may be deemed necessary, shall enjoin the Synods, or their Boards of Directors having charge of the seminaries, to revise the course of study with a view to keeping fully abreast of the requirements of the times for adequate and sound theological instruction, said revision to be submitted to the Assembly for its approval.

5. That the Synods and Directors having charge of the seminaries be and hereby are directed by the Assembly to make any changes in their present regulations that may be necessary to give effect to these resolutions.

Part IV. was amended and adopted.

Proceeded to the order of the evening, viz.: a Conference on what should be the attitude of the Christian Church toward the Columbian Exposition in case the Exposition is opened on the Sabbath day. It was resolved to limit the Conference to half an hour, and all addresses except the opening one to three minutes each. At the close of the Conference, the Chairman reported its action. This report was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

RESOLUTION ON OPENING THE COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION ON THE SABBATH.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this General Assembly that to attend the World's Fair, in case the gates are open on the Lord's day, would be a sin against our risen Lord and a compromise of our Christian testimony. Therefore, we pledge ourselves not to patronize the Fair by our presence or in any other way.

The Standing Committee on Young People's Work presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

In the hands of your Committee there was placed but one paper, "The Report of the General Committee on Young People's Work." In this report there is much for encouragement, and many evidences that the young people of the Church are being aroused to meet the responsibilities of our day. In number of organizations and members reported there has been commendable growth. In 1891, 524 societies were reported. In 1892, there were 589 societies, while this year the number of organizations is 664,—a gain of 75 during the present year. In 1891, the reported membership was 19,026. In 1892 it grew to 23,994. The report of the present year gives a membership of 28,082. Forty-seven Junior Societies have been organized during the year, with a membership of 1,706. The report also shows a growth in liberality of contributions. The 374 societies from which reports were received by the General Committee, contributed the sum of $17,873. Of this amount $4,139 was required to meet current expenses; $7,828 was used to assist in the work of the congregations where societies were organized, while $3,753 was given for Christian work outside these congregations. The General Committee infers that, had reports been received from all societies, these figures might have been raised so as to make $30,000 for the Young People's Societies during the year. An interesting fact regarding the method of raising money, is that 72 societies adopted the subscription plan; 265 raised all funds by voluntary offerings, while but 142 societies depended upon entertainments. It is a matter for congratulation that the method of voluntary offerings has been so prevalent, and that dependence upon the application of the anæsthetics of food and amusement as a means of securing contribution to the cause of Christ, bids fair to become a thing of history. The report also speaks of encouraging growth in spirituality and zeal of members to use the opportunities of the meetings, as a means of growth in grace and knowledge. Enlarged interest of the older people in the work of the young is also reported. Many societies are working through mission schools and special prayer-meetings, visitations of the sick and missions of mercy to prisons and hospitals. Many are interested in establishing libraries and reading-rooms, while not a little help has been given toward new church buildings and support of local missionaries.

The General Institute recently held in St. Louis, is reported to have been of most interesting and practical nature, and fully up to any of its predecessors in training for work, and stimulating to loyalty to Christ and the Church. Your Committee feels that much gratitude should go out to God from the whole Church, and that earnest prayer should be made, that he will lead the Young People in their work, and endue them with power from on high. The thanks of the Church are also due to the General Secretary, and all the officers of the "General Society" for efficient service.

The report of the General Committee makes four suggestions to the General Assembly which are acted upon by your Committee as follows:

I. Regarding the suggestion of the St. Louis convention, that the Assembly take such action as will permit the unification of the work by providing that the General Secretary give his whole time to the work and be assigned duties similar to those performed by the secretaries of the Boards, does not meet our approval. Your Committee is of the opinion that the work of the Young People has not yet assumed such proportions as to need this enlargement of duty for the General Secretary, and that the needs of the work can be met by the faithful service of Presbyterial and Synodical Secretaries under the present system. We therefore recommend that no radical change be made at present as to the duties of the General Secretary.

II. The second suggestion, that our young people be again urged to devote their talents and their contributions to the upbuilding of their own congregations, and that the action taken at East Liverpool, urging the organization of Mission Sabbath Schools wherever practical, under the direction of sessions, be endorsed and again commended to the Young People's Societies as a work offering the best training in personal work and tending to the building up of the Church in their respective localities, meets the approval of your Committee, and we recommend the hearty endorsement of this sentiment and the urging of the Young People's Societies to build the walls of Zion, each before its own door of special opportunity.

III. The suggestion that the officers of the various Unions and Societies be urged to promptness, neatness and care in making their annual reports, so that a more complete report of the work can be made by the General Committee, is heartily commended by your Committee, and we likewise recommend that the Presbyteries be directed to appoint the Presbyterial Secretaries of Young People's work so as to have the names reported to the General Assembly for confirmation, and printed in the minutes of the Assembly, the same as other presbyterial officers.

IV. The fourth suggestion that the Young People's Societies be invited to contribute to a thank-offering the coming year, and that the General Assembly at its present meeting name the object to which this offering shall be made, does not commend itself to your Committee. We believe that, since the annual thank-offering service conducted by the Women's Missionary Society is rapidly becoming a congregational offering in every locality, the introduction of a second thank-offering service would be impracticable. The Women's Society is already in this field, and it is but fitting that their faithfulness as wives, mothers and sisters and efficiency as Christian workers should be recognized by full participation with them in the annual thank-offering. We believe that such affiliation will secure a unity of purpose and sympathy of endeavor among all societies and grades of age, which may be endangered by the multiplication of thank-offerings for special classes. We therefore recommend the General Assembly to refrain from designating any object for a young people's thank-offering and instead to urge the Young People's Societies to join heartily with the Women's Missionary Society in the effort to secure an annual congregational thank-offering service in every church on the last Sabbath of the church year, so that each year may close with unity of congregational efforts and thankful endeavor of all to swell the contributions of the closing year.

V. In view of the enlargement of our Home and Foreign Missionary opportunities and the consequent need of increased effort in prosecuting the work, it is recommended that Young People's Societies seek to provide themselves with maps and charts of missionary fields, missionary libraries and periodicals containing reports of the work, so that the "fuel of facts may feed the fires of zeal" in the Master's work and fuller knowledge of the world's need draw us into closer fellowship with "Him of pierced hand," who would draw all men unto himself. Inasmuch as the prosperity of the Church depends so much upon a stable system of finance and the flow of a steady stream of contributions to the regular work designated by the Boards, rather than spasmodic efforts of generosity resulting from special appeal and peculiar circumstance, it is therefore recommended to the young people that they foster the habit of generous giving to the regular Boards of the Church, and that they link their lives more closely to God, and the business interests of life to the chariot of gospel progress, by adopting the plan of systematic beneficence which was assigned by the wisdom of God, and is described in the Holy Scripture by the words "tithes and offerings." We recommend also that the blanks for reports of young people's work be furnished with a space to indicate what proportion of the young people in our societies have given practical assent to the divine injunction, "The tenth shall be holy unto the Lord."

VI. In view of the large number of young people in every community who are unsaved, and who are rapidly drifting toward permanence of character in opposition to the truth as it is in Jesus, and in view of the fact that these can only be reached through the efforts of a spiritual and aggressive Church; we therefore urge the young people to earnest prayer and effort to bring back the whole Church to the early conditions of "Apostolic faith in the personal presence of Christ, apostolic hope for his appearing, and apostolic seeking and waiting for the enduement of power from on high," so that the Church may gain her old world-shaking power among men, and multitudes be born a day into the kingdom of God. In view also of the fact that evangelistic effort must include personal contact with the unsaved and tactful presentation of the gospel by Christian workers, we suggest to our Young People's Societies such affiliation of effort with the Societies of other denominations as will secure the division of our larger cities and towns into districts for personal canvass, so that the gospel offer may be brought to all the young with such denominational sympathy and regard for Church preferences as may secure the best results.

Believing that the enlargement of young people's work instead of dividing the Church into regiments of young and old is serving to unify the Church by keeping the enthusiasm of youth in the hearts of the aged, and bringing the sobriety of age to the youthful, we can see the dawn of a day of better service for the whole Church, and so bid the young people "God speed" in their efforts.

After prayer by Elder A. W. Marshall the Assembly adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.

May 31, 1893, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. A. L. Davidson.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises.

Invitations to the Assembly to hold its next meeting at Xenia, O., and Albany, Ore., were extended. The latter invitation was accepted, and the United Presbyterian Church of Albany, Ore., was chosen as the place of the next meeting of the General Assembly, and the hour was fixed at 8 o'clock p. m. The thanks of the Assembly were returned to the First Church, Xenia, O., for the invitation to meet there.

The First Church of Portland, Ore., was chosen as the place of meeting for the General Committee of Home Missions.

The Special Committee on the Sabbath Closing of the Columbian Exposition presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CLOSING THE COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION ON THE SABBATH.

The Committee on Sabbath closing of the World's Fair, to which was referred the petition of the Kansas Sabbath Union, would respectfully report, that, inasmuch as we have, in the action already taken, urged and entreated all the people under our care not to avail themselves of any of the proffered privileges of the Exposition while it is sought to overthrow the Sabbath, no further deliverance seems to be necessary on the part of this Assembly.

The Committee on the Board of Ministerial Relief presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

That the laborer is worthy of his hire, is inspired truth. It applies to the minister of the gospel while he is able to exercise his office and discharge his duties. If in old age he is unable to perform these duties, and has not been able to lay up for himself a competent support, nothing seems plainer than that he should be provided for by the kind benefactions of the Church. If he has gone to his reward, and has left a dependent widow or family, it seems equally plain that the Church should aid these. This indicates the necessity for the existence of the Board of Ministerial Relief, and suggests its beneficent object.

Through many years this Board has been quietly and unostentatiously doing its good work. Many hearts have been gladdened by its ministrations, and many closing years of God's dear servants have been cheered by its timely aid. More assistance has been given during the past year than in any since the Board was organized.

Besides the contributions from year to year to meet the current need, the Church and special friends of the Board have contributed for a special endowment fund which now amounts to more than $100,000. This amount is safely invested, and the income from it can be used with the annual contributions of the churches for the current expenses of the Board.

In view of this, your Committee would venture to suggest that the Board is now in a condition to increase, in some cases at least, the amount given annually to beneficiaries. What has been given, it is known, has afforded great relief, but not sufficient to free the needy in old age from anxiety, or to enable them to abstain from attempting work which they have not had ability to perform. They should be freed from care in regard to temporal support, and we believe the Church is able and willing to do this. That the Board may be more and more fully able to accomplish this, a deeper interest in their good work should be awakened among the people generally, and in missionary and young people's societies in all the congregations, and larger contributions should be placed in the treasury.

The following resolutions are presented for adoption:

Resolved 1. That the work of the Board for the past year be cordially approved.

2. That the Board be recommended to increase the amount of its contributions annually, especially in the more needy cases; and in order that it may be enabled to do this, that an earnest effort be made by all the churches to put increased contributions into the treasury.

The Committee on Finance presented a report, which was adopted, except so much as relates to a General Delegate Fund, which was referred to the next General Assembly and ordered to be published in the papers of the Church. It is as follows:

REPORT ON FINANCE.

The Committee on Finance would beg leave to report as follows:

I. There have been placed in our hands the following bills, which we recommend to be paid:

Wm. J. Sawyer, for Ways and Means Committee, Printing, mailing, etc., folders	$ 527 89
Murdoch, Kerr & Co., printing	19 75
Stevenson & Foster	4 03
Janitor Biggsville church	10 00
Janitor First church, Monmouth	20 00
W. W. Barr, expenses of Committee on Women's Board (1892)	22 00
Expenses of Committee on Church Federation	31 00
J. C. Wilson, delegate to A. R. Synod South	45 60
E. B. Graham, expenses of Committee on Narrative and State of Religion	9 85
D. MacDill, D. D., expenses as retiring Moderator	13 78
Principal Clerk	36 00
Second Clerk	38 00
Assistant Clerk	20 00
Dr. J. D. Irons, expenses of Educational Committee	402 15
The R. A. Wilson Co., for stationery	8 40
To provide for proportion of United Presbyterian Church in Presbyterian Alliance	270 00

We would call attention to the fact that no charge is made by the Ways and Means Committee for traveling expenses and clerical work, also to the fact that Mr. J. P. Tracy, chairman of R. R. Committee has rendered us efficient service free of charge.

II. The reports and statements of the following treasurers have been submitted and found correct: Gibson Trust Fund for 1891 and 1892; Board of Ministerial Relief; Board of Foreign Missions; Board of Home Missions; Board of Education; Board of Church Extension; Board of Freedmen's Missions; Board of Publication, and Trustees of General Assembly.

III. The memorial from the Presbytery of San Francisco, in reference to a scheme of insurance of church property, has been referred to us. In our judgment, such a scheme would not be practicable in our Church. It would involve much difficulty, and we do not believe would result beneficially, therefore we would recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That the memorial be not granted.

IV. The following scheme for a general delegate fund has been referred to us, together with the report of the Committee appointed by the last Assembly:

WHEREAS, Under the present arrangements for meeting the expenses of delegates to the General Assembly, a large number fail, in part at least, to receive their traveling expenses; and

WHEREAS, Not a few of those, especially who live in more remote parts of the Church, are in consequence of this order of things, hindered from attending meetings of the General Assembly, to which they have been appointed; and

WHEREAS, This is calculated to give the central parts of the Church a larger representation than the more remote parts; and

WHEREAS, Simple equity demands that the privilege of serving in the Assembly, as well as the burden of the expenses, should be evenly distributed over the entire Church,

Therefore the Synod of Nebraska respectfully memorializes the General Assembly to establish a General Delegate Fund to be maintained under such regulations as the following:

1. The necessary traveling expenses of delegates to the General Assembly shall be paid out of the General Delegate Fund, subject to conditions hereinafter stated.

2. Upon the basis of estimates submitted, the Finance Committee shall recommend to the General Assembly each year an assessment on the presbyteries in this country of as many cents per member as may be deemed sufficient to meet all claims against this fund for the next ensuing year.

3. Delegates from presbyteries which have paid their full apportionment to this fund shall be entitled to their entire traveling expenses, and those from presbyteries which have paid less than their full apportionment shall be paid the same proportion of their traveling expenses as their presbyteries have paid of their apportionment.

4. When the bill of any delegate for necessary traveling expenses shall exceed four cents mileage (computed in one direction only) it shall be referred to the Finance Committee for approval. Delegates from foreign presbyteries shall be allowed their expenses from and to their temporary home in this country.

5. Contributions to this fund must be paid on or before the second day of the sessions of the Assembly.

6. The treasurer of the General Assembly shall each year present to the Finance Committee an estimate of the expenses for the coming year, shall receive all contributions to this fund and shall audit and pay all claims, except as provided above.

Your Committee believes that the scheme here presented is a good and practical one, and that its adoption would be a simple justice to the various parts of our Church. It is our opinion that an assessment of ten cents per member each year would afford a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of all delegates, and this would not be burdensome to any, but would relieve weak and distant presbyteries of a heavy burden.

We recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That the scheme of a General Delegate Fund as submitted be adopted.

The Committee on Union with the Holland Christian Reformed Church presented a report, which was adopted. The nomination of the Committee provided for in the last resolution of the report was referred to the Committee on Nominations.

Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., delegate from the Council of the Presbyterian Alliance, addressed the Assembly.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on the case of Rev. David Morrow, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THE APPEAL OF REV. DAVID MORROW.

The Judiciary Committee respectfully report that, in the case of the appeal of Rev. David Morrow from the action of the Synod of California, at Los Angeles, that no notice of appeal in this case was given until after Synod adjourned, and as the Synod is therefore not represented, and the parties are not properly before the General Assembly; therefore,

Resolved, That the appeal be referred back to the Synod of California.

The Committee on Judiciary presented a report on the case of J. G. Armstrong and wife, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON THE CASE OF J. G. ARMSTRONG AND WIFE.

In the case of J. G. Armstrong and wife, brought to the Assembly by reference from the Synod of California, the Judiciary Committee report that, as papers and evidence necessary to an intelligent and proper adjudication of the case are wanting, therefore,

Resolved, That no further action be taken.

The Committee on the Board of Publication presented a report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON PUBLICATION.

We have carefully examined the report of the Board of Publication, and also a memorial referred to us, asking for the establishment of an additional paper, or the enlargement of the Young Christian.

We are happy to report that we find the business of the Board well managed and in a very prosperous condition, and that year by year its work is extending, and it is becoming more useful to the Church.

In regard to the memorial, as the Young Christian has recently been enlarged so as to almost meet the wish of the memorialists, we decline to recommend the establishing of an additional paper.

Resolved 1. That we approve of the work of the Board for the past year.

2. That we re-affirm the action of former Assemblies, directing the publication of a tract or small pamphlet, setting forth our doctrines and distinctive principles.

3. That we recommend the Board to take into consideration the issuing of a cloth bound Bible, at a lower price than any now published by it.

4. That we recommend the mission work of the Board in its free distribution of Bibles, Bible Songs, Psalters, Psalm books and periodicals among mission schools and struggling congregations, and with this work in view, we heartily recommend the Board to the patronage of our people.

5. That we heartily recommend the Sabbath School periodicals of our Board to our schools, believing that considering the quality, they are as cheap as those offered by any other Board.

The Committee on the Board of Publication presented the following report on a uniform psalmody, which was adopted:

REPORT ON A UNIFORM PSALMODY.

Your Committee, to which was referred a memorial asking for a metrical version of the Book of Psalms, which would be acceptable to all the Psalm-singing churches of our country, would make the following report:

When our present version was in preparation, we earnestly invited the other Psalm-singing churches to unite with us in the work, and would have gladly welcomed them then; and we still desire union with them in this respect. We therefore recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That a Committee of three persons be appointed to confer with a similar Committee, that may be appointed by our sister denominations, and report to the next Assembly.

The nomination of the Committee provided for in this report was referred to the Committee on Nominations.

The Standing Committee on Narrative and State of Religion presented a report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

The Committee to which was referred the report of the Permanent Committee on the Narrative and State of Religion, would respectfully submit the following:

NARRATIVE.

The total number of ministers is 814, which is a net gain of 23 during the year; licentiates 81, which is a net gain of 19; students of theology, 66. It may be well to call attention to the value and efficiency of denominational schools as instrumental in calling, preparing and furnishing a gospel ministry to the Church. For example, the Synod of New York with its nine Presbyteries, but without any such school, reports only two students; while the Synod of Iowa, with only six Presbyteries, but with such schools, reports eleven students. The membership of the Church is 111,119, being a net gain of 2,101. It should be emphasized that two-thirds of this gain is in the 200 churches receiving aid through the Board of Home Missions. We lament that only 40 per cent. of the members are males, while 60 per cent are females. Should not pastors and sessions bestir themselves to bring the fathers and sons of our families into the membership of the Church?

There are 935 congregations, which is a net gain of 15. We are sorry to report, for some accountable reason, a decrease of over 2,000 scholars and teachers in the Sabbath School. Let the Church awake to a deeper sense of her duty toward the lambs of the flock. The total contributions are $1,400,000, which is a net gain of $113,712.

STATE OF RELIGION.

The State of Religion in our beloved Zion, leads us to thank God and take courage. While we regret that we have not done more in seeking the salvation of the lost, yet we rejoice in the continued favor of God and the abiding power of the Holy Spirit, as manifested in the number of conversions from the world; in the increased liberality of our people; in the revival of personal activity, especially among "Our Young People," and the various missionary societies. Truly we can say, "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

SUGGESTIONS.

It was suggested by the Permanent Committee to have the Assembly prepare and adopt a list of questions for Presbyteries and Sessions, and that these lists be distributed early in the year. From past experience we believe that the Permanent Committee can better gather facts, upon which to base their report, in their own way, by early in the year securing one in each Presbytery to gather for them such things as may be of interest in their report. It was also suggested that the membership of the Permanent Committee be reduced to one. We believe the present membership of three to be better, as each member can have two years experience before taking the responsible position of chairman.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved 1. That we, as a Church, double our diligence and missionary zeal in going out into the world with Christ our Lord to seek and to save the lost.

2. That in order to bring our people into vital touch with the operations of the Church, we urge them to procure and read our Church literature, and thus secure that knowledge which is essential to a revival of an evangelistic spirit and liberality in contributions.

3. That, whereas by some over-sight the record of three of the deceased ministers is left out of the memorial narrative in the report of the Permanent Committee, the Clerks of the General Assembly be directed to complete the record.

4. That, the same as last year, the Moderator and Clerks of the Assembly be a Committee to select some one from among the Commissioners to the next Assembly to deliver a memorial address, and that the length of time to be given to the address be left to the discretion of the Committee.

5. That the Permanent Committee on Narrative and State of Religion be charged with the duty of preparing a list of uniform topics for the mid-week prayer-meetings, for the year 1894, and provide for renewing the study of the Bible by books, according to the plan adopted for 1892.

After prayer by Rev. Russell Graham the Assembly adjourned.

1:45 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Elder John Law.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises.

The Committee on the Board of Education presented a report, which, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

There have been referred to your Committee on Education the following papers:

I. The report of the Board of Education. From it we learn that there are employed in our seminaries, at Allegheny and Xenia, seven regular and two temporary professors; that the number of students in these seminaries for the past year is 106, a decrease from the preceding year of 5; that 29 of these were students of the first year, 43 of the second year and 34 of the third year; that the amount of money received during the year is $19,927. From it we also learn that in the six colleges: Cooper Memorial, Knoxville, Monmouth, Muskingum, Tarkio and Westminster, and in the two academies, Marissa and Waitsburg, there are 89 professors and instructors, an increase over the preceding year of 7, and 1520 students, an increase over the preceding year of 124; that of one of these institutions no mention is made of religious work, but with this exception all report a good religious interest, daily services and systematic Bible instruction; that contributions were made to these institutions amounting to $74,821, of which sum Tarkio received $65,000 and Knoxville $4,236. The sum total shows a decrease of $27,510 from the amount contributed last year; that applications for aid were made by 82 students asking for $7,320, of which $4,783 was actually paid. From this report we also learn that "45 per cent. of the present working force of the Church have been aided by the Board in preparing for the work of the ministry"; that during the past ten years two of our colleges and nine presbyterial academies have been aided to the extent of almost eight thousand dollars, and that this Board has done something toward providing efficient teachers for these academical schools; that "there is yet much to be done in this department, and were the necessary funds placed at the disposal of the Board, a work might be done for the Church which would equal in importance and practical results any of her present enterprises"; that the growing sentiment of the Church in favor of this department of our Church's work indicates that "we have reached the time for decided action, and we look to the present Assembly to make ample provision by which this, as well as the other objects of the Board, may be more fully accomplished."

This Board asks: (1) That this Assembly reaffirm more explicitly the rule forbidding aid to students addicted to the use of tobacco; (2) that the present rule providing for applications for aid through the faculties of seminaries be so changed as to require the endorsement of the Presbytery having the oversight of the applicant; (3) that an appropriation of $12,000 be made to this Board.

We also learn that the term of the following members of the Board expires with this Assembly, viz.: the Rev. T. H. Hanna, D. D., Rev. A. Renwick and Mr. S. C. Hogue.

II. A memorial from the Synod of Nebraska, praying "that the Board of Education be empowered to exercise a more direct and effectual control of all our educational institutions; that it be charged with aiding in the support of these institutions, rather than with aiding in the support of needy students in attendance upon them."

Your Committee would recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved. 1. That the work of the Board of Education in providing aid for academies and students in our literary and theological institutions be approved by this Assembly.

2. That the rule enacted by the Assembly of 1879, and reaffirmed by the Assembly of 1887, "that beneficiaries shall not use tobacco," be construed to mean absolute abstinence from the use of tobacco.

3. That the endorsement of the Presbytery having the care of the student, be made in all cases a condition of aid from the Board of Education.

4. In the matter of the memorial from the Synod of Nebraska, your Committee would not recommend any change for the present in the relation of the Board of Education to our educational institutions, or in its present policy of aiding students.

The Committee on Appropriations presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Your Committee would recommend for appropriation to the various Boards the following amounts, exclusive of the twenty thousand dollars already pledged by churches, individuals and Women's Missionary Societies to the Board of Foreign Missions:

To Foreign Missions	$106,800
" Home Missions	83,658
" Freedmen's Missions	50,000
" Church Extension	45,000
" Education	12,000
" Ministerial Relief	10,000
" Assembly	7,000
Total	$314,458

The Committee on the Women's Board presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THE WOMEN'S BOARD.

The Committee on the Women's Board respectfully report that they have considered the report of the Board of Directors of the Women's General Missionary Society, and find that there has been progress during the year in each of its several departments. The General Society has now reached a membership of 20,365, and the congregational societies number 840. Their contributions for the past year amounted to $58,565. The growth of the Society and the enlargement of its work should be encouraging to the women of the Church, and gratifying to the General Assembly.

The efficient help of this agency has been extended to every department of the Church's effort, both at home and abroad, and to her benevolent institutions as well. Plans have also been arranged looking to the securing of special attention to the development of missionary interest among the youth of the Church, giving promise of greater missionary zeal on the part of the generation soon to be called to carry on the active work of the Church.

We recommend for your adoption the following:

Resolved. 1. The work of the Women's General Missionary Society, and of its Board of Directors, as presented in their report for the past year, is hereby approved.

2. Their valuable and efficient aid in the various departments of the Church's effort is hereby gratefully acknowledged, and their zeal and fidelity in the Master's work heartily commended.

The Standing Committee on Reform presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON REFORM.

The report of the Permanent Committee on Reform, referred to us, gives the state of things in the country concerning the Sabbath, National Reform, Temperance and the Public Press. We need not repeat the facts stated, as the report itself will be published in full in the minutes. The Assembly has already taken action on Sabbath Reform, as presented by a special committee on this subject. Upon National Reform, likewise, a report has already been presented, commending the cause to the financial and moral support of our people. It remains to consider the subjects of Temperance and the Press.

We have also referred to us a paper signed by the President and Secretary of the National Temperance Society of New York, asking that representatives be appointed to the World's Temperance Congress, to meet in Chicago, June 5, 1893. A request of the Synod of Kansas has also been referred to us, asking that the "Assembly take steps looking toward the organization of a Bureau of Reform, to be located at Washington, whose duties shall be to bring the influence of all Christian people to bear upon national legislation." The object in view is a very desirable one, and the value of such an agency to impress upon Congressmen the Christian sentiment of the land, is very apparent. But the ends aimed at are largely secured through the agency of the National Reform Association. If any additional organization is necessary, it seems to us that the plan had better be suggested by the Association already engaged in this work to the churches in general.

Temperance: Among the crying evils of our time, intemperance is evidently the chief. How shall it be lessened and finally destroyed? is a question that taxes the wisdom of the wisest. Certainly no means that accomplishes anything in the right direction ought to be neglected. Let all moral means be employed to rescue the drunkard and protect the young, while legal and political efforts are made to outlaw the traffic that entails so much misery upon the race. Let partisanship stand aside. Let the individual conscience be quickened and determine the ballot of the Christian voter. Let each man assert his ownership of himself, and that in any time or place no whip of party dictation shall drive him to do otherwise than his own judgment approves. Let him further settle it that the dominant consideration in his voting, in ordinary cases, shall be the suppression of the liquor traffic. Let prohibition be the principle, and we may trust the individual to do what he can by his own methods to secure its triumph. While we press our convictions on the attention of others, it is well for us to hear and consider what others are doing. It is good both to let our light shine, and to stand under the shining light of others. The comparison of views in a World's Temperance Congress will be profitable, if it do nothing more than lessen our sense of infallibility on the one hand, and on the other deepen our sense of the difficulty and duty of solving the problems presented by the liquor traffic.

The Press: The public press not only reflects but makes public sentiment. How shall it be enlisted in behalf of reform in general and temperance reform in particular? The daily press has been for the most part against us. A few exceptions only serve to prove the rule. Christian people should discriminate against papers issuing a "Sunday" edition, or defending Sabbath desecration and other iniquities. Their influence in our families is injurious, and their influence everywhere is against the interests of righteousness. We must withdraw our patronage from them or become partakers in their sin. Let us stand by the papers that stand by the cause we represent—that maintain the cause of truth and righteousness, for which we spread our banner to the breeze.

We recommend for adoption the following resolutions:

Resolved. 1. That seven persons, four ministers and three elders, be appointed by this Assembly to represent us in the World's Temperance Congress, which will meet in Chicago June 5, 1893.

2. That we urge upon our people to break the bonds of partisanship, and make the foremost consideration in their exercise of the elective franchise to overthrow the liquor traffic.

3. That we declare it to be the duty of Christian people, who care for good order and sound morals, to support by their patronage only such papers as are friendly to the Sabbath and Christian reform.

4. That we recommend to the National Reform Association to take such action as it may deem proper, looking toward the establishment of a Bureau of Reform at Washington, through which the churches of the land may be able to exert their full influence upon national legislation.

5. Inasmuch as the existence of the prohibitory liquor law of one of the great commonwealths of our nation is in serious danger of being repealed or greatly modified in favor of the liquor traffic, as the result of the election to be held during the coming autumn for state officers and members of the legislature may determine, therefore;

Resolved, That this Assembly extends its sympathy and pledges its moral support to the friends of the prohibitory law of Iowa.

The nomination of the Committee provided for in the first resolution of this report was referred to the Committee on Nominations.

The Committee on Revision presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON REVISION.

Your Committee would respectfully report that the following records, all properly certified by the clerks, have been placed in our hands: the Minutes of the General Assembly of 1892; of the Synods of New York, Pittsburgh, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, California, Columbia and of the First Synod of the West and the Second Synod of 1892; also the Minutes of the Presbytery of Sialkot for the year 1892, and an abstract of the Minutes of that meeting of the Presbytery of Egypt, which was held in February, 1893.

After examination we find that these records have been neatly and carefully kept, and that the business of the different courts has been transacted in an orderly and presbyterial manner, except in the following particulars:

1. That the recommendation of the Synod of California to the Presbytery of San Francisco, regarding the reception of the certificate of Brother Morrow, appears to transcend the requirements of the Book of Church Government.

2. That from the record of the judicial act by which the Rev. Sabir Masih was disciplined at the meeting of the Sialkot Presbytery, which was held last fall, it does not appear that any definite charge was brought against him, or that he was summoned to answer any charge, while the sentence pronounced in the case is one not authorized by our Book of Discipline.

We therefore recommend the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the Minutes before us, except in the matters noted, be approved, and that the Assembly's Clerk be directed so to certify.

2. That lower courts, in taking action which affects the reception or the standing of officers and members of the Church, be enjoined to regulate their course by the requirements of the Book of Discipline.

The Committee on Statistics presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON STATISTICS.

Your Commiitee would report that the only document placed in our hands was the summarized statistics tabulated by the Second Clerk. This is so carefully prepared as to afford year by year a bird's-eye view of the condition of the Church, so far as it can be presented in figures. We note the following interesting facts which we have gleaned from these tables:

During the past year one new Synod has been formed by the division of the Synod of the Pacific, so that we now have on the Pacific Coast the Synod of California and the Synod of the Columbia. In the whole Church we have now eleven Synods, against ten of last year. Two new Presbyteries have been formed; namely, the Presbytery of Pittsburg in the Synod of Kansas, and the Presbytery of North Platte in the Synod of Nebraska. In the whole Church we have sixty-two Presbyteries as against sixty of last year.

Pastors and Stated Supplies reported last year 542; this year, 566; a gain of 24. This involves a decrease of ministers without charge, so that while there were 254 last year there are but 239 this year. Total ministers last year, 796; this year, 805; a gain of 9. Thirty per cent. of our ministers are without charge. Thirteen of our ministers have died during the year. Thirty-two have been ordained to the ministry during the year. Eighty-one licentiates are reported this year, as against 62 last year, a gain of 19. The number of theological students has, however, decreased from 92 last year to 66 this year. This is in part accounted for by the fact that a large number of students were licensed this spring who are now reported among the licentiates.

The number of congregations reported last year was 920; this year, 935; a gain of 15. The number of church edifices erected during the year was 23, as against 20 of last year. The average cost of these churches was $5,858; total cost, $134,735. Sixty-one congregations are yet without church buildings. Sixteen parsonages were erected during the year at an average cost of $1,875, and a total cost of $30,050.

The total reported contributions for the year for religious purposes amount to $1,400,090, or nearly a million and a half. The Church reached the million mark only in 1890. This is an average per member over the whole Church of $14.07. By Synods the average per member is as follows; Of New York, $14.33; of Pittsburgh, $15.28; First of the West, $12.71; of Ohio, $10.08; of Second, $12.68; of Illinois, $13.10; of Iowa, $19.00; of Kansas, $10.57; of Nebraska, $15.85; of California, $14.35; of the Columbia, $17.38.

The amount asked for by the General Assembly last year for the work of the Boards of the Church was $300,236; amount contributed by congregations, $290,826; average per member due to this work, $3.04; Amount paid on the basis of membership of last year, $2.89. Omitting what was paid for the rebuilding of Tarkio College, the average per member paid by each Synod to the Boards of the Church is as follows: Of New York, $1.89; of Pittsburhg, $3.12; of First of the West, $2.04; of Ohio, $2.21; of Second, $2.04; of Illinois, $2.50; of Iowa, $2.16, or including amounts paid to rebuilding Tarkio College, $7.84; of Kansas, $1.52; of Nebraska, $2.01; of California, $1.75; of the Columbia, $1.50.

The total membership of the Church reported this year is 111,119, of which 100,548 are in this country, and 10,571 in the Mission Presbyteries. The net gain for the year is 2,101. This gain in the different Synods on the membership of last year is as follows: Of New York, 1.6 per cent.; of Pittsburgh, 1.9; of First of the West, 1.5; of Second, 1.5; of Illinois, .8; of Iowa, 3.1; of Kansas, 3.7; of Nebraska, 8.4; of California, 7.6; of the Columbia, 15; of Missionary Presbyteries, 2.1; the net loss in the Synod of Ohio is 113.

The reports of this year show the relative proportion of male and female members in this country. The male members are 39,383, the female 61,165; or, in other words, the membership is about 40 per cent. male and 60 per cent. female. The male membership increases as we go westward from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In the Synod of New York the proportion is about 37 male to 63 females, while in the synods of the Pacific coast the proportion is about 42 to 58.

The number of our Young People's Societies has increased from 589 of last year to 664 this year, and the membership of these societies from 23,994 last year to 28,092 of this year.

The Missionary Societies of the Church have increased from 836 of last year to 861 this year.

While the Sabbath Schools have increased from 1,090 of last year to 1,116 this year, there is a decrease of 300 in the number of teachers and officers, and of 1,951 in the number of scholars. We think there is some mistake in these reports. The principal decrease is in the presbytery of Sialkot, while considerable decrease is also reported from the First and Second Synods, Synods of Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

Any thing that indicates decline in our Sabbath School attendance shows weakness in our work. The attention of Synods and Presbyteries in which there is such decline is respectfully called to the matter.

Our percentage of increase follows the star of empire westward. It presents the paradox that where the Church is weakest its growth is greatest. Is it to be inferred that the Church, which has to struggle hardest for an existence, does the most mission work?

The proportion of male members in our Church, which is supposed to labor at great disadvantage because of its position on the subject of secret orders, is as great if not greater than that of other churches about us. We have two-fifths males and three-fifth females. The M. E. Church, we are informed, reports 1 to 3, or one-fourth males to three-fourths females.

Resolved, 1. That the statistical tables submitted by the Second Clerk be adopted by the Assembly.

2. That we express our gratitude to God for his great blessing upon our Church, manifested by its continuous growth all along the line, as exhibited in the statistics of the Church.

3. As there exists great want of uniformity in the manner of reporting contributions to different objects, as for instance money contributed to college buildings, etc., is reported as if contributed to the Board of Education, and that spent upon repair of church buildings, parsonages, etc., as if contributed to the Board of Church Extension. We recommend that only moneys actually contributed to the Boards be reported in the columns bearing their respective names, while that contributed to college buildings, etc., be reported in column of general contributions, and that for church buildings, repairs, etc., be reported under congregational expenses.

4. That we express our high appreciation and admiration of the careful, pains-taking work of our Second Clerk, Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., who has brought up the statistical tables of the Church's work to such completeness, accuracy and perfection. A prominent official of the Pan-Presbyterian Council has said that the statistical tables of our United Presbyterian Church are the most complete and accurate of any that come into the hands of that body. We observe that the present year rounds up twenty-five years of his faithful, devoted service at the Second Clerk's desk, and we hereby place on record the high appreciation and gratitude which the Church cherishes for this important service.

RESOLUTIONS ON FEDERATION OF CHURCHES.

The General Assembly hereby declares that we are not prepared to accept the proposed plan for the federation of the churches, for the following among other reasons:

1. Because we do not believe it is proper to accept any plan of federation which would exclude other evangelical churches, although they do not hold to the Presbyterian system of church government.

2. Because that provision in the plan designed to "prevent the multiplication of weak and antagonistic organizations," would impose restraint upon us in our work of home evangelization which we cannot accept.

3. Because we have no guarantee, in the proposed plan of federation, that the position of our Church on the important subject of praise in divine worship would be respected in the meetings of the federal council.

4. Because the ends proposed can be sufficiently secured by the Alliance of the Reformed Churches. Therefore,

Resolved That the Committee on the Federation of the Churches be continued, with instructions to be guided in their further negotiations by the foregoing declarations of the General Assembly.

The Standing Committee on Sabbath Schools presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON SABBATH SCHOOLS.

Your Committee on Sabbath Schools would respectfully report that we find the following facts concerning this department of the Church's work: We are pleased to note an increase in the number of pastors present in our schools; also, while there is a decrease in the expenses of our schools, yet we are pleased to note that their contributions to the Boards of the Church have increased more than $1,500. The average attendance has gone up 2,324, while the number making profession is 62 more than last year. Mission schools have increased 27, while there is a decrease of 27 in the whole number of schools. We note a decrease of 219 officers and teachers, and 1,967 scholars; also a decrease of teachers' meetings and normal classes. Besides there is reported a decrease of 2,403 scholars memorizing the catechism. Of the decrease in scholars we note the fact that 1,740 are in the Presbytery of Sialkot, 588 in the First Synod of the West, 723 in the Synod of Ohio.

In view of these facts, we recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. We recognize the goodness of God in the increased number of scholars making profession, the attendance on church, and the average attendance during the year.

2. While we deplore the discouraging features in our Sabbath School work, we would urge all interested in and desiring the success of our Sabbath School work, to avail themselves of every opportunity to attend and take an earnest and active part in all meetings for prayer and conference concerning this great work.

3. Whilst it is a matter of sincere congratulation that there has been an increase of over 300,000 copies in the total aggregate of all the Sabbath School periodicals for the year, by careful examination it is found that the Sabbath School literature of our Board will very favorably compare with other Sabbath School literature both in price and quality, with the additional merit of loyalty to our denomination; therefore we would urge our schools to use no other literature than that provided by our own Board.

4. We recommend that the scholars attending our Sabbath Schools should be carefully divided into two classes, viz., adults and children proper, in order that clearer data may be had for estimating the real state of the work as indicated by increase or decrease in the attendance.

5. We recommend the third Sabbath of October as a day of special prayer for Sabbath Schools; also the last Sabbath in June, 1894, as Missionary Day.

6. We recommend that the contributions of the Sabbath Schools be appropriated as heretofore, and in the following order: First quarter, Foreign Missions; second quarter, Home Missions; third quarter, Church Extension; fourth quarter, Freedmen's Missions.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented a report, which was amended and adopted:

REPORT ON DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES.

1. We recommend that an Elders' Conference be held at the next meeting of the Assembly, and that the pastor and session of the Albany congregation be appointed a Committee to fix the time and arrange the program for this meeting.

2. That a Conference be held on Sabbath Schools during the next Assembly, and that the preparation of the program be left to the Sabbath School Committee of the Board of Publication.

3. That Rev. W. G. M. Hays be appointed the Moderator's alternate, to preach the opening sermon at the next General Assembly.

The Committee on Sabbath Schools presented the following report on the memorial of the non-partisan W. C. T. U., which was adopted:

REPORT ON TEMPERANCE INSTRUCTION IN SABBATH SCHOOLS.

In regard to the memorial from the non-partisan Women's Christian Temperance Union, we see no call for any special action inasmuch as the existing plan of work in our schools and the literature issued by our own Board amply provide for all that this memorial represents; therefore we recommend no further action.

The Committee on Nominations presented a report, which, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON NOMINATIONS.

Your Committee would recommend the following persons to fill the vacancies in the Boards and Committees of the General Assembly.

The hour of adjournment was postponed till the business of the Assembly was finished.

It was agreed to hold this evening, in connection with the people of the First Church, Monmouth, Ill., an extra-judicial conference on the presence and power of the Holy Spirit; that Rev. James Bruce preside and Rev. R. M. Russell open, and that the members of the Assembly be invited to attend.

It was ordered that the majority and minority reports of the Committee to prepare an overture on the jurisdiction of the General Assembly over the Theological Seminaries, be printed in the minutes.

The following resolutions of thanks were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS.

Resolved, 1. That we hereby convey to our Moderator, Rev. James Bruce, our thanks for the very able, dignified, fair and considerate manner in which he has presided over our deliberations.

2. That we extend our most hearty thanks to Rev. T. H. Hanna, D. D., and Rev. W. T. Campbell, D. D., and to the good people of the First and Second Churches, and other friends in the city, and particularly to the ladies, for the hospitable and happy manner in which they have provided for our comfort and entertainment.

3. That we tender to the representatives of the Daily Review our hearty thanks for the discriminate and interesting reports of our meetings which they have furnished.

4. That we here record our appreciation of the services of our young friends who acted as pages, and to those who have presided at the Assembly post-office.

5. That we extend a vote of thanks to the various railroads for favors rendered to the members of the Assembly.

6. That we would humbly and devoutly thank God, the great King and Head of the Church, who has graciously given us such a harmonious and profitable meeting.

The following resolution on Bible Songs was adopted:

RESOLUTION ON BIBLE SONGS.

WHEREAS, There seems to be a growing dissatisfaction in many quarters with hymns of human composition as the matter of praise in the worship of God on the part of those who use them, and a longing for something better; and

WHEREAS, We believe that our inspired songs, the Psalms of the Bible, are not only that better thing, but the very best hymns that are to be had; and

WHEREAS, The way seems to be opening up for their wider acceptance and use, if they were properly introduced and pressed upon the attention of Christian people; therefore,

Resolved, That the consideration of this matter be referred to the Board of Publication, and to a special committee consisting of the following members:—Revs. J. A. Collins, W. G. Moorehead, D. D., W. W. White, D. D., J. McK. Cleland, Esq., and T. H. Gault, Esq., to act in connection therewith, and to devise means, if possible, of bringing our Bible Songs more prominently to the attention of those who are unacquainted with them and securing their adoption.

The minutes of this session were read and approved.

The Assembly was dissolved when the Moderator said: "By virtue of authority to me delegated, I do hereby dissolve this General Assembly, and require another General Assembly, chosen in the same manner, to meet in the United Presbyterian Church, of Albany, Oregon, on the fourth Wednesday of May, 1894, at 8 o'clock p. m."

The Assembly was then led in prayer by Rev. James Duncan, D. D., Psalm 133 was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the Moderator.

JAMES BRUCE, Moderator.
WILLIAM J. REID, Principal Clerk.
A. G. WALLACE, Second Clerk.
JOHN S. McKEE, Assistant Clerk.

APPENDIX.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Your Trustees would respectfully report that on July 19th, they organized by electing Samuel Collins, D. D., President, R. E. Stewart, Vice President, James McCandless, Treasurer, and Graham Scott, Secretary.

In the matter of the suit to recover the Detroit church property, having been informed that the lower court had rendered a decision adverse to our claim, after careful investigation of all facts in regard to the merits of the case, the Trustees advised an appeal to the superior court, promising financial aid to assist in carrying it through.

Our Treasurer's report, presenting a detailed account of our finances, is submitted to the General Assembly.

The official term of James McCandless, Graham Scott and R. E. Stewart will expire on the first of July next.

J. W. Arrott, Esq., offered his resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees, which was accepted, and George R. McCague was elected to take his place until the meeting of the General Assembly.

Received from Wm. B. Frew, executor of the estate of James A. Shereff, of Aledo, Ill., $5,888.56 for the use of Freedmen's Missions.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GRAHAM SCOTT,
Secretary.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 22, 1893.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The first half century of the Foreign Missionary work of our Church closes this year. On the 14th of July, 1843, its first missionary to the unevangelized world, the Rev. Joseph Banks, was sent to labor among the coolies and negroes of the Island of Trinidad. On February 18th, 1845, the Rev. James Barnett began work at Damascus in Syria; in November, 1854, Rev. Thomas McCague in Cairo, Egypt; in June, 1855, Rev. Andrew Gordon at Sialkot, India; and on June 11th, 1860, Rev. J. C. Nevin in Canton, China. In 1878 all our foreign mission work was concentrated upon Egypt and India, and since that time it has been carried on in those two fields with an ever increasing interest and widening influence.

In the fifty years since the sailing of that first missionary one hundred and fifty-three persons have been sent to the work—of whom fifty-five were men, and ninety-eight were women. Forty-one native churches have been organized, over twelve thousand persons have been gathered in to profess their faith in Christ, and more than one hundred thousand, it is believed, have heard the Gospel for the first time as it was proclaimed to them by our missionaries. Should we not as a Church gratefully say: Behold what God hath wrought! May not this year well be our Foreign Missionary Jubilee year?

In laying their Thirty-fourth Annual Report before the General Assembly and the Church at large the Board would gratefully recognize the favor of Him whose is this great cause. During the past year in neither of the missions has the work been interrupted or materially hindered. In several instances there have been sickness and death, but the mass of the laborers have been able to pursue their course without interruption. Promising additions have been made to their number, and new and important fields like Rawal Pindi in India and Tanta and the upper Delta in Egypt have been entered with good prospects of success. At home also there has been an increase of interest.

The calls for help have been encouragingly responded to. In no case has the Board been forced to abridge or suspend its operations. And while all the fields we occupy are increasingly white for the harvest, and more laborers and funds are pressingly needed, yet much has been done, and devout thanks are due to God. Something of it all may be seen in the following report, to which earnest attention is invited:

THE MISSIONS AND THE WORK.

The missions under our care are, as stated, in India and Egypt, and their statistics are as follows for the year ending with December last.

THE BOARD AND ITS WORK.

During the year the Board has pursued an uninterrupted course. One member, after years of devoted service, Mr. Robert T. Elliott, was led on his removal from the city to resign.

The following movements have been made by missionaries:

Rev. E. B. Stewart who was appointed to the foreign service by the last Assembly was granted, at his special request, a release from his appointment, August 8th, 1892. Miss Harriet M. Conner. for many years a useful missionary in Egypt, resigned September 14th. Rev. J. Kelly Giffen and family embarked, after a brief sojourn in this country, on September 10th, for his work again in Egypt; also, Misses Ella O. Kyle and Margaret A. Smith, November 2d, for the same field; and Rev. T. L. Scott and family, November 30th, returning to India. As new missionaries, Revs. Samuel G. Hart and K. W. McFarland and their wives, and Miss Amanda E. Jamieson sailed for Egypt, November 2d, and Miss Leonora J. McDowell, November 30th. All these additions to our missionary force in the field were alike helpful, gratifying and promising.

Leave has been granted to Rev. Chauncey Murch and family of Egypt, and Misses Annie F. Given and Josephine L. White of India, to return to this country this spring. It was felt their long labors had made them all need a change, and that a furlough might be useful for them and their cause.

With these changes in regard to our workers the Board are grieved to report two others of special interest, viz.: the removal by death of the Rev. Gulian Lansing, D. D., at Cairo, Egypt, on the 12th of September, and of Mrs. Wm. T. Anderson, at Sialkot, India, on October 3d.

Dr. Lansing was born at Lishaskill, N. Y., February 1st, 1825, was early consecrated to the ministry and to the foreign missionary service, and from his first sailing on the 12th of December, 1850, for the foreign work up to the day of his death, never for a moment flagged in his interest in it, or in his devotion to it. He was largely concerned in opening the new and important stations up the Nile in Egypt, in procuring the commodious mission property in Cairo, and in founding and carrying on the schools, especially for the training of young men for the Gospel ministry in Assioot and Cairo. Eminently was he instrumental in drawing the attention of Christians abroad, particularly in England and Scotland, to our work in Egypt, and in securing an earnest place for it in their prayers and in some instances their princely benefactions to it. His labors for that mission and for Christ in that needy land were abundant and were largely blessed. But he rests from them all. His works do follow him, and long will usefully will.

In the death of Mrs. Anderson, the mission in India and our Church here at home may well unite in a deep common sorrow. Early devoted by her parents to their covenant God, she early manifested a personal interest in Christ, and then more and more held herself in an ever growing longing and readiness for his service in doing good, especially to the spiritually needy; and when at length the way was opened for her entering upon the foreign mission work, she at once responded to the call for it. Tenderly, but willingly, she left here many of her heart's dearest treasures—and on landing in India, eagerly engaged in preparing for the work among the perishing. In this she made rapid advances, and in winning the hearts of all who were brought in contact with her. But she was early arrested in her course and made to cease from labor ere it was scarcely fully begun. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints. Sweet as a rich perfume is her memory among many whom she went to save.

MEMORIAL OF NATIVE MINISTERS IN INDIA.

The last Assembly referred a memorial of certain native ministers of Sialkot Presbytery to the Board, "with instructions to report to the next Assembly and recommend such action as may be suitable under the circumstances."

The Board having already heard full statements relating to the matters contained in the memorial from missionaries now in this country, and having carefully considered the memorial itself, addressed a letter to the mission, and transmitted a copy of it to the memorialists. In the letter the Board endeavored to make a statement of the difficulties complained of in the memorial as they understood them, and followed this with certain recommendations which they hoped, if adopted in substance, would remove the friction which had arisen between the mission and the memorialists. The letter and recommendations of the Board seemed to be entirely satisfactory to the memorialists, but not to the members of the mission generally. The action of the mission, however, in the chief matter complained of was modified, and a new set of rules relating to aiding native congregations, and the employment of native ministers, were adopted by the mission—substantially those governing home mission work in this country. These rules, according to the information which the Board has, are not satisfactory to the memorialists, but as they were somewhat hastily proposed and approved by the mission, it is hoped that with some modifications, and with longer time for their consideration, all may come to regard them as satisfactory, and thus harmony be restored.

It is but proper to add that only a part of the native ministers joined in the memorial, or appear to be dissatisfied, and one of those whose names were affixed to the memorial has since left the mission and joined the Plymouth brethren.

It should be said further, that while the mission did not see their way clear to adopt in full the recommendations of the Board, our missionaries are in a much better position to judge in relation to the practical work in the field than the Board can be. We have full confidence in them and must trust largely to their judgment to direct all missionary operations.

THE WORK OF THE PAST YEAR.

First.—ABROAD. In the India mission the Rev. J. P. McKee, D. D., succeeded the Rev. Dr. Robert Stewart in the Training School at Sialkot, which Dr Stewart had conducted so long, but from which he was compelled to retire as he returned to this country. Under Dr. McKee the institution gives good promise of continued usefulness and success.

In the matter of the Rawal Pindi station the required steps for the legal transfer to us are being taken—but in the proverbial dilatoriness of Oriental proceedings the negotiations are not yet completed. Practically, however, the mission and district have been placed under our care and Rev. E. E. Fife is in charge of the schools at Rawal Pindi, and Rev. W. T. Anderson of the preaching in the surrounding region. This station will be a very important addition to the work of our India mission.

In this mission arrangements are making for the publication by the missionaries of a monthly which shall contain carefully prepared Sabbath School lessons, and also helps for native Christians. It is to be printed in the native tongue, and the expense will be defrayed by the different stations where it will be circulated. It is believed much good will result from this work. Rev. J. H. Martin was appointed editor of this publication, Rev. Jiwan Mal, assistant editor, and Rev. J. W. Morrison, business manager.

Much encouragement is given for prosecuting our work in India from the following evidences of progress: In 1871 the Protestant native Christians of India, altogether, numbered 286,987; in 1881, 492,822; in 1890, 648,842. In 1881 the native communicants were 135,264; in 1890, 215,759. In 1881 there were 196,360 scholars in the Protestant mission schools; in 1890, 297,051. In the Sabbath Schools in 1881 there were 65,728 scholars; in 1891, 144,253. The progress is steady and large.

In the Egyptian mission it is gratifying to see that of the 31 churches in this field 15 have pastors; in 61 of the mission stations there are regular church buildings, and several of the settled congregations are doing much for their self-support. Of the young men trained in the schools of this mission 14 are now ordained ministers, 16 are licentiates, and 9 are theological students.

During the past year a monthly periodical has been commenced at Cairo, under the editorship of the Rev. Dr. Watson. It is termed Nasheret el Ingeeleeya—"Evangelical News" or the "Egyptian Evangelist." It aims at giving information to the native Christians about the Gospel and the religious life, their church and its principles, and their mission, with their duties in regard to it. It is intended to foster an interest in the cause of Christ and of devotion to it. It will be no expense to the mission.

An interesting and important part of the work in Egypt in the past year has been the continued tours which have been made on the mission boat up the Nile for evangelistic work. Taking up his residence on the boat the missionary has visited the native churches and done much to edify the members. He has been in the various mission stations and more fully made known the saving word. He has explored new places and had the way prepared for schools to be opened and the Gospel to be preached in them. In all these towns particular attention has been paid by the missionary's wife to the native women, and much good has been done by visiting them and reading and declaring the Gospel to them.

Second.—AT HOME. In various ways the past year has been of missionary interest and effort in our home churches. In many congregations active and earnest missionary societies and mission bands are existing and their members have been earnest in seeking to promote this cause. At their meetings papers have been read on missions, periodicals and reports circulated, conferences held and fervent prayers have been increasingly offered for the Holy Spirit to be poured out and the blessing of God to rest upon the labors of all engaged in this work.

In the increasingly large numbers of the Young People's Societies attention has been happily turned to this subject, and thus the children of our churches have been made to receive information in regard to it and had impressions made which may be of a lasting character. Who can tell how many from these large classes in our congregations may yet thus come to be laborers in the great and needy harvest fields of Egypt and India or other parts of the world?

In the two theological seminaries, Xenia and Allegheny, there has been much of the spirit of missions during the sessions just closed. In each, meetings for conference and prayer on the subject have been regularly held. Addresses have been delivered by returned missionaries and others, and earnestly have the Board sought by a personal visitation, to have the students made to know as much as possible of the extent, the condition, and the momentous needs of our plenteous harvest fields and their calls for laborers.

More or less of the volunteer movement has been seen and a large number of the young men in both institutions have been led to anxiously consider the great question of personal duty to the heathen.

It is very gratifying that a large number of the missionaries, male and female, have been provided for during the year by individuals, churches, seminaries and colleges, and especially by the women's societies. As a rule the pledge that was given when each of these laborers was sent forth has been promptly and fully kept, and many in the heathen fields have thus had the great salvation proffered to them that in all probability might have never had it otherwise. Thus, too, many here at home who could not go themselves to seek and save the lost, have been the means of its being done by their sustaining those who could go on this behalf.

As a help for ministers, teachers and parents in bringing our work before those under their care, and for the information of the people at large, the Board had 6,000 copies of its last Annual Report printed and distributed as widely as possible in all of our congregations. At considerable expense also a map of each mission with all its leading stations, their locations, etc., was carefully prepared and about 500 of them have been sent as called for to Sabbath Schools, societies, etc. All this was done in view of the fact, so often and happily seen, that the more our people can be made to see and know of our work the more they are led to think and pray and do for it.

THE WOMEN'S BOARD AND SOCIETIES.

In scarcely anything are the evils of heathenism in all its tendencies and effects more painfully seen than in its bearing upon woman—ever degrading her and more and more making her comfortless, wretched, miserable and hopeless. On the other hand, in few things is Christianity more happily seen in all its elevating, cheering and enriching power and influence than in the blessings which it confers upon woman wherever it fully comes. In view of this and of the great debt which every Christian woman owes for the Gospel, what could be more appropriate than that the women of our Church, who have been so largely blessed by it, should have sympathy for their heathen sisters and put forth their efforts to send the Gospel and its messengers and blessings to them.

Most happily this spirit exists, and is steadily increasing all over our Church. The Women's General Missionary Society is a great power in originating, fostering and combining efforts in this behalf. It aims at having all the women of our Church organized in some way into societies or bands and companies where there shall be a universal and heart-felt putting forth of effort for the accomplishment of great good. In this way this society had a year ago 888 societies and 20,757 members auxiliary to it in their great work of stimulating prayer and contributions to supply the destitute at home and abroad with the Gospel. In our foreign field there are now twenty-five devoted, unmarried Christian women seeking to evangelize and lift up their unhappy sex from their heathenism—a larger number of female foreign missionaries than is found in any other church in proportion to our numbers. Nearly all of these are provided for by the Women's Board as its treasury is supplied from the various missionary societies throughout the Church.

The Board of Foreign Missions gratefully mention that of the $52,643 which were raised by the societies for the work of the Church last year, $14,875 were appropriated to our foreign missions and were of signal service in helping to carry them on. During the past year the Women's Board nominated two new female missionaries for our foreign work, and when they were duly appointed it provided their outfits, passages and salaries. By correspondence, procuring and circulating missionary literature, and encouraging and directing in the organizing of missionary bands and societies this Board has also done very much to rouse up and bring into active exercise among the women a spirit of interest in all the work of our Church, and specially, it may be gratefully said, in our foreign mission work.

Among the most useful and acceptable means of having its objects promoted is the publication of "The Women's Missionary Magazine of the United Presbyterian Church." This is a monthly devoted to missions at home and abroad, and is under the editorial management of the Magazine Committee of the Women's General Missionary Society. Each number contains a large amount of the latest word in regard to the conditions and needs, the calls and encouragements of the great mission work of our Church. The Board of Foreign Missions has largely felt its helpful influence. It should be read by every woman of our Church.

MEDICAL WORK.

The importance of this kind of work in our missions is increasingly seen every year. God heals diseases as well as forgives iniquities. Jesus cared for the bodies as well as for the souls of the multitudes. As a Church we have wisely made this a part of our foreign mission work, and as wisely our General Assembly have transferred the management of it to the Women's Board. In each of the missions this work is now formally organized and is doing incalculable good. At Sialkot, and at Jhelum and Bhera in India hospitals and dispensaries have been opened, and under the efficient labors of Miss Maria White, M. D., in the former, and of Mrs. Sophia E. Johnson, M. D., in the latter two places, as well as on occasional itinerating tours in the outlying districts, very much has been done in medical service, both to relieve human suffering and at the same time have large numbers of the people learn the Way of Life. In the hospital at Sialkot there was during the year a total or 17,383 patients, and in the dispensatories at Jhelum and Bhera 19,360, or 37,193 persons in all that received medical treatment at the hands of our missionaries.

At Assioot in Egypt, L. M. Henry, M. D., is settled as a medical missionary, and as he freely gives the Gospel message for the saving of the soul wherever he goes for the healing of the body, he is the means of having multitudes hear of Jesus Christ and the way to be saved who would perhaps have never otherwise heard the glad tidings. At this station he had during the year 12,398 patients, made 668 house visits, performed 128 surgical operations, and had the receipts exceed the expenditures by $785.

THE CHILDREN.

As far as is known Timothy and perhaps Titus were brought into contact with Paul and the work of missions probably in early life. In these far later times Samuel J. Mills, our own Gulian Lansing, and many others who became mighty as pioneers and laborers in this great work were early made to know of Christian missions. Who may doubt that great good might always result from having efforts put forth on this behalf, and thus the rising generation be better prepared for the important part which they may yet be called upon to act in the evangelization of the world? As if realizing this, efforts are happily more and more widely made in our Church to have information on the subject of missions imparted to the young. In this way it is believed that in many instances this large class in our churches will be influenced for good as they are thus early made to hear of the condition of all who are destitute of the Gospel and to know what may be their personal duty in future years in regard to them.

A NATIVE MINISTRY.

A most important part of the work in each of our missions is the raising up of a well qualified native ministry. So it doubtless was in the early Apostolic missions. So it should be still. And accordingly schools are carefully carried on in all of our missions, and besides these there is an institute or college in Assioot in Egypt and one at Sialkot in India, with almost all the grades of advanced studies. From these have come and are steadily coming, young men of promise and of good attainments, not only for general good service in life, but also to pursue thorough theological courses. Thus there are now in the Egyptian mission over thirty young men already in the native ministry or earnestly preparing for it from these schools.

In the India mission also thorough training is carried on, and thus both missions are steadily aiming at having all the native churches supplied with native pastors and other useful laborers.

The gratitude of our Church is due to the late Rev. Dr. Lansing for a munificent gift for this work during the past year. In a revived and probably grateful remembrance of the mission from which he obtained his noble wife, and for which he long did so much, the Maharajah Dhuleep Singh made about two years since a liberal donation to it, and with it a gift of $10,000 to Dr. Lansing himself. That money Dr. Lansing regarded as sacred, and made it over to the mission with the direction that it should be invested and the income be used in the training of young men in Egypt for the ministry. The mission accepted it, and investing it for its purpose designated it: "The Endowment Fund of the Theological School of the American Mission in Egypt."

THE HELPERS OF THE YEAR.

The aggregate of contributions for the work for the year has been gratifyingly large. They have also been more general, and thus give good promise of an increased interest in the work and of enlarged contributions in the time to come.

The special appeal to the Sabbath Schools and to the friends of Christ for the funds to pay for the important mission station and property at Rawal Pindi in India has been well responded to. Still there is a deficiency which it is earnestly hoped will be made up by the time the transfer is fully made.

The Board are grateful for the remembrance which good men and women have had of this cause in their last wills. Liberal and most timely aid has thus come to us, and as each bequest was promptly sent on its good errand, an opportunity was given to the donors, though dead, yet to have the Word of Life spoken to the perishing. Truly it is good to have Christ always be one of the heirs of a good man's estate.

In their association the Egyptian missionaries make thankful mention of liberal grants and help which were received during the year from the American Bible Society, the British and Foreign Bible Society, Turkish Mission Aid Society, Lord Cromer, Thomas Cook & Son, Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Mr. Ludwig Miller, Peoples Brothers and Mr. Simpson, of Liverpool, and Mr. Peter McKinnon.

The India mission has also received numerous gifts from English officers, residents and others, and also government aid.

NEW MISSIONARIES.

Very urgent appeals are made to the Board from the mission in Egypt for at least one new missionary to be sent each year, and for two female missionaries to be sent this year. From India the call is most pressing for two new male missionaries and four female. All of these for both missions are specially needed at the earliest day they can be sent. In the case of India the call is most urgent from the fact that in advising a year ago that Rawal Pindi station be secured, the mission informed us that it should be done only on condition that two new men would be sent out at once to that field.

Notwithstanding all these urgent calls the Board has been able as yet only to appoint Miss Carrie M. Buchanan. Whom else shall we send—and who will go for us?

FINALLY,

Brethren, pray for our Foreign Missions. Millions upon millions in India and Egypt are without the Gospel that alone brings salvation. God has signally blessed our endeavors to give it to them. Will he not still be mindful of this work and bless it yet more and more? "Thus saith the Lord: I will be inquired of by the house of Israel to do it for them." "ASK, AND YOU SHALL RECEIVE."

By order of the Board.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15th, 1893.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS.

In accordance with the regulations the following report is presented to the General Assembly:

I. CONDITION AND PROGRESS OF THE WORK:

Payments to Presbyteries	56,644	59,693	64,819
Entire expenditures, year ending March 31	60,639	63,266	68,101

Comparison of these figures shows a most gratifying increase in every important particular. The net gain, both in numbers and percentage, is the largest on record. This is true also of the contributions for the Boards and for salary of ministers, these two items taken together showing an increase over last year, which was itself exceptionally favorable, of $11,031, an average of 93 cents per member. For many years in succession it has been the privilege of the Board to report this continual advance in the prosperity of the Home Mission work. Here and there stations are found which have little apparent prospect of success, but they are few, and what is better, are not becoming more numerous. The work, as a whole, is richly rewarding the Church for all her outlay upon it, and is full of bright promise. There can be no better pledge of the continued growth and prosperity of our beloved Church than the success and encouraging outlook of her missions at home. But while we rejoice in abundant tokens of the Lord's favor, and ascribe to him all the praise and glory, as we ought, we should be humbly mindful of the fact that our opportunities for extending the Saviour's kingdom have all along been, and are to-day, much beyond what we have yet undertaken to improve, and we should realize that the very blessings of the past are a call to us for greater efforts, and larger liberality, and still wider extension of our missionary operations in the home field.

During this year, as last, the demands for aid in new enterprises were constant and many. An unusually large sum, $7,000, was placed at the disposal of the Board to meet emergencies, but when all of this had been granted, or virtually pledged if suitable men could be found, many applications had to be refused. These and others of like character will doubtless come before the General Committee.

II. GRANTS BY THE BOARD. The General Assembly placed at the disposal of the Board $4,346 to meet the possible needs of cases referred, and $7,000 to meet emergencies during the year. Of the former sum it was found necessary to use but $2,301. The emergency fund was exhausted before the month of February. Though the whole amount was not definitely granted, the small balance remaining, as shown by details given below, was pledged in case certain conditions should be fulfilled.

Grants for Stations referred to the Board. Cleveland Presbytery, Youngstown 2d, $80; Des Moines, Jefferson, $26; Illinois Southern, Xenia Prairie, $325; Keokuk, Winfield, $120; Los Angeles, Wildomar, $150; Omaha, Gordon, $100; Tennessee, Harriman, $1,000; Westmoreland, Jeannette, $500; total, $2,301.

Grants to meet Emergencies. Arkansas Valley, Colony, $200; Towner, $200; Beaver Valley, Ellwood, 3 qrs., $225*; Boston, Cambridge, $500*; Sutton, $350; College Springs, Eugene, $300*; Wirt, 3 qrs., $300*; Colorado, Lamar, 10 mos., $150*; Concordia, Four Mile and Con., $100; Garnett, Expenses of S. M., $150; Illinois Central, Spring Creek, $200; Indiana, 2d Indianapolis, 8 mos., $500*; Kansas City, 1st Kansas City, 6 mos, $325; 1st Kansas City, Kansas, 3 qrs., $450*; Keokuk, Birmingham, $200; Mansfield, Expenses of S. M., $50; New York, 3d Brooklyn, 8 mos., $800*; North Platte, Harrisburg and Cons., $600*; Oregon, Exploring work, $48; Pittsburg, Springfield, Mo., 3 qrs., $600*; Sidney, Unionville, 5 mos., $125*; total, $6,373. The * indicates work either wholly new or never before aided. The amount used for this purpose was $4,550, which, added to $11,035 granted by the last General Committee, makes a total of $15,585 appropriated to new work during this year.

It has been customary to report the amount withheld in quarterly settlements, because conditions are in some way not fulfilled, but the statement seems to serve no important purpose, and its preparation involves considerable labor. It will therefore be omitted from the annual report. The amount can be found very nearly by taking the difference between payments to Presbyteries and appropriations in the comparative statement given above.

III. Special Missions. The Board has been charged with special responsibility for twenty-seven stations. Of these the terms of twenty-two are for periods extending beyond the current year. From all these important missions, with two exceptions, in which no work was done, special reports have been received. They have a membership of 1,452, a net gain of 273, over 23 per cent. They represent 11 per cent. of the membership of all mission stations, but nearly 19 per cent. of the entire net gain. In seven of these missions church buildings have been completed and entered during the year. In some of the stations the work is not encouraging, but generally speaking the condition and prospects are excellent. The statistical tables give full details. In the briefest form such facts as seem to require special mention are here stated.

Altoona, Presbytery of Conemaugh. '92-7*. Rev. R. A. Hutchison, stated supply. Very satisfactory progress has been made and the prospects are good. A lot was purchased some time since, for which the Presbytery of Conemaugh undertook to pay by special contributions. With aid from the Board of Church Extension, a building is now in progress. The aid asked and granted by the Board for the coming year is $900, a reduction of $300. Owing to the failure of the Presbytery to report its wishes as to the stated supply, the Board was unable to take action on that point, but there is no question that the reappointment of Mr. Hutchison is desired by all concerned.

Columbus 1st, Presbytery of Xenia. '87-92-5. Rev. R. B. Patton, pastor. Continued growth and prosperity, good working spirit and improving prospects, sum up the reports. $725 has been granted for the coming year, a reduction of $25. It is confidently expected that within a short time much more rapid progress toward self-support will be made.

Columbus 2d, Presbytery of Xenia. '92-7. Rev. J. B. Wilson, stated supply. 81 members are now reported, a gain of 56. This new mission in the capital city of Ohio shows from the outset a remarkably vigorous life. While future growth may not be relatively so large, the prospects are certainly excellent. A neat and comfortable house of worship has been erected. The stated supply, whose labors have been constant and highly efficient, has been reappointed, with a renewal of the grant of $1,000. Mr. Wilson says in his report: "Our prospects at present are cheering, and with the blessing of God I do not see why the mission should be long a burden on the Boards of the Church."

Creston, Presbytery of College Springs. 83-6-9-94. Rev. L. N. Lafferty, pastor. For many years the pastor and the Board have felt that the small, unsightly, inconvenient house of worship was a serious hindrance to the growth of the mission. We take great pleasure in reporting that it has been replaced by a building in every way suitable. Reports show a gain of 26 members during the year, and the condition and outlook are much improved. While this is partly a direct result of the quickened life of the congregation in their endeavors to build, it is due also to improving prospects for the city and surrounding country. The Board has always encouraged the pastor to stand by his work and now hopes that he will be permitted to gather the harvest of long and faithful labor. The grant of $600 has been renewed.

Davenport, Presbytery of Rock Island. '84-9-94. Rev. W. E. Shaw, stated supply. But little change is reported. The organization for work is good, but Brother Shaw is not satisfied with the progress made or with some features in the condition of the mission. The grant of $500 has been renewed. Both the congregation and the presbytery ask, and the Board would cheerfully make, the reappointment of the stated supply, but in accordance with his wishes the question is held under advisement for the present.

Detroit, Presbytery of Detroit. '91-6. Rev. W. H. Vincent, stated supply. The congregation is well organized for work, and the spiritual condition is regarded as good. In addition to regular work a mission Sabbath school is maintained, which gives promise of good results in the future. A decision of the lower court some months ago was adverse to our claims to the church property in Detroit, but is so clearly contrary to the rulings of Supreme Courts of other States and of the United States upon similar questions, that the case has been appealed to the Supreme Court of Michigan. So long as this question is in litigation, Brother Vincent and his people must labor under serious disadvantages. All things considered, encouraging progress has been made. The grant of $1,200 has been renewed and the stated supply reappointed for the coming year.

Findlay, Presbytery of Sidney. '90-5. Rev. J. P. Sharp, stated supply. During the year a church building has been completed, and thus the way is for the first time fully open to test what can be done in this city. There has been reasonable growth, and in all respects reports show an encouraging condition of the work. Presbytery asked, and the Board has granted, $750 for next year, a reduction of $100. We regret to state that Mr. Sharp, who has been in charge of the mission since its inception, and who has successfully borne the burden of the hard foundation work, declines reappointment. He will be urged to remain for at least one quarter of the new year.

Fort Wayne, Presbytery of Northern Indiana. '92-7. A grant was made for this place by the last General Committee upon condition of stated supply for whole time, and with the assurance from the delegate of the Presbytery that the way was entirely open for an appointment by the Board. It was soon found that this was not the case. Without attempting a full explanation, it may be said that an anomalous state of things exists in regard to our work in Fort Wayne which cannot possibly be dealt with by any authority but that of the Presbytery. The Board has done nothing during the year, and cannot now take any action. In the peculiar circumstances it has been thought best to refer the whole case to the General Committee. The Presbytery asks a grant of $1,200 for the coming year.

Lincoln, Presbytery of Pawnee. '91-6. Rev. O. S. Morrow, stated supply. The erection of a house of worship has been the main feature of the year. It is now approaching completion. Some growth is reported, and the condition of the mission is certainly better than a year ago. The grant of $1,100 has been renewed. The Board desires to bear testimony to the zeal with which Brother Morrow has labored during the three years he has been in charge since the foundation of the mission. His relation to the station as stated supply will cease not later than the first of October.

Los Angeles, Presbytery of Los Angeles. '83-8-91-4. Rev. H. W. Crabbe, stated supply. In respect to growth this has been by far the best year in the history of the mission, as will be seen by reference to the statistics. $650 was asked for the coming year and granted by the Board. After five years of faithful service, during which he has had many unusual trials to bear, Rev. H. W. Crabbe retires from the field. In the present condition of the mission it is thought best not to appoint a permanent successor for some time. Bro. Crabbe has been requested to remain until about the first of September, after which it is hoped that Dr. John G. Brown, who has been solicited by the Board to take temporary charge, will act as stated supply until next spring or summer.

Muncie, Presbytery of Northern Indiana. '90-5. Rev. Geo. T. Scott took charge as stated supply near the beginning of the year, and has served acceptably since. His reappointment, earnestly asked by the congregation and presbytery has been cordially made. While little growth has been secured, the prospects for the future seem to be improving. Presbytery asked a grant of $900, but the Board could not see the way clear to do more than renew the grant of $800.

Newton, Presbytery of Arkansas Valley. '84-9-94. At the first of July, Rev. T. M. Knox withdrew from the field, and since that time no regular supply could be secured, though many efforts were made. It is difficult to know what should be said about this mission, or what should be done for it. The Presbytery is anxious that it be sustained, and some recent reports seem to indicate that the prospects are improving, yet the Board is not satisfied, without additional light, to renew the grant of $700 as requested. The delegate of the Presbytery to the General Committee is expected to visit Newton and investigate the condition and outlook of the mission on his way eastward. In view of this, and of the further information he may be able to give, the Board requests the General Committee to consider and decide upon the case.

South Omaha, Presbytery of Omaha. '92-7. Rev. J. F. Ross, stated supply. This has been the first full year of regular ministerial work in this field, and the results are certainly most satisfactory. No more gratifying report has been received by the Board from any special mission, and indications for continued prosperity of the work are cheering. The way was well prepared for successful work by Miss Johnston, who was supported in the field by the Women's Board during the preceding year, and the stated supply has diligently improved his opportunity. The Presbytery asked a grant of $950, a reduction of $150, and the reappointment of the stated supply for the next year. Both requests were approved by the Board.

Pittsburg, Presbytery of Pittsburg, Kansas. '90-5. Rev. J. H. Gibson, stated supply. The work in this field continues to prosper. There has been a marked increase, and the condition and prospects of the work are good. The grant of $1,000 has been renewed, and the stated supply is reappointed.

Portland 2d, Presbytery of Oregon. '92-7. Rev. H. F. Wallace, D. D., stated supply. This is a new mission, organized last fall. Dr. Wallace was assigned to it upon request of the Presbytery, and in compliance with the known wishes of those interested in the work. He has entered upon his duties with energy, and is encouraged by the outlook. So long as services must be held in a rented hall, progress cannot be rapid. A grant has been made at the rate of $1,200, and the stated supply is reappointed. With the first church self-supporting, and heartily backing this new enterprise, there is every reason, with the promised blessing of God, to expect success.

Pueblo, Presbytery of Colorado. '90 5. Rev. J. L. Hervey, stated supply. This is another of our important missions that has been permitted to enter a completed house of worship. The growth has not been so large as was hoped for, but the prospect is good. Upon request of the Presbytery, the Board has renewed the grant of $1,200 and continued the stated supply.

Salt Lake City, Presbytery of Colorado. '92-7. The Board regrets to state that as yet no missionary has been secured for this field. It will be remembered that the Women's Board have agreed to undertake the support of the work. Repeated efforts have been made, all through the year, to secure a suitable minister, but none of the brethren selected have accepted the work. The matter has not been dropped, however, and it is hoped that some qualified man will yet be found who will feel that the invitation of the Board, in the name of the Church, is to him a call from God.

Seattle, Presbytery of Oregon. '92-7. Rev. S. Dell Johnston, stated supply. Here also a church building has been completed and entered. The mission is in excellent condition, and reports from it are in every way encouraging. The grant of $1,200 is renewed and the stated supply reappointed.

Sioux City, Presbytery of Northwestern Iowa. '92 7. Rev. J. A. McKirahan was appointed to this new and untried field early in the year. As yet but little progress can be reported, but the missionary speaks hopefully of the outlook. Everything is yet to be done in the way of securing a permanent place of worship and fully testing the field in the interest of our Church. The grant of last year, $1,200, has been renewed and the stated supply reappointed.

Spokane, Presbytery of Spokane. '91-6. Rev. W. A Spalding, stated supply. The favorable reports of a year ago are repeated. Good, though not rapid, progress has been made. The field is new and the population somewhat changing. Minister and congregation regret that, with certain heavy burdens upon them, they cannot this year again reduce their request for aid. $1,100 has been granted, and the stated supply reappointed.

Tacoma, Presbytery of Oregon. '91-6. Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick, stated supply. In this mission we report the seventh church building completed by special missions during the year. With the entrance into the permanent field of labor and the new house of worship, both opportunity and prospect for successful work are greatly increased. The missionary reports encouraging growth and good condition, and looks hopefully to the new year. He has been reappointed, and the grant of $1,200 renewed.

Waitsburg, Presbytery of Spokane. '92-7. Rev. W. G. M. Hays has been the stated supply in this field for years, and will be continued. Rapid growth of the congregation has not been at any time expected, but it is in good condition and is gradually increasing in strength. The interests of the Waitsburg Academy, which is so important to the future of our cause in that whole vast region of the Northwest, are bound up with those of the congregation. For this reason alone, if no other could be given, the help of the Church should be continued. The grant of $650 has been renewed for the coming year.

The remaining five stations, unless their terms are renewed, do not continue longer in the special care of the Board. Their requests and reports will be submitted as usual to the General Committee.

Colorado Springs, Colorado Presbytery. '88-93. Rev. H. H. Bell, pastor. Continued growth and prosperity are reported. The outlook seems to be in every way favorable. The special care of the Board is no longer necessary, and is not asked. $500 is applied for, a reduction of $200 from the grant of last year.

Horton, Presbytery of Kansas City. '88-93. Rev. R. E. Stewart served as stated supply until the close of March. Some months before that time he reported that in his judgment the prospects of the field did not warrant continued outlay. The congregation has recently been disorganized by the Presbytery. We regret this outcome, yet are not greatly surprised by it. The work was an experiment, taken up in response to a special appeal from the Synod of Kansas, while the town was new and great expectations of its future were entertained. As in so many "boomed" places, results have not corresponded with the hopes cherished. Our Church succeeds best by entering new places only when their status has been reasonably well established. This experiment in a line of work which some have charged the Church with unwisely neglecting, may afford a very useful lesson. The failure cannot be attributed to the cause that has done so much harm in other mission stations, want of regular and suitable supply. There has not been a week since the organization that an efficient minister was not in charge.

Kansas City Second, Presbytery of Kansas City. '88-93. No regular supply has been in the field, the congregation desiring to seek settlement. The results of depending in this way on occasional supplies are not thus far very encouraging. The mission is reduced in numbers and strength, and its very life may depend on securiug soon an efficient pastor or stated supply. Yet Kansas City is one of the best fields open to our Church, and there can be no reasonable doubt of success as the result and reward of well directed effort. It is hoped that the General Committee will give full consideration to the needs of our work in this great and important center. For this congregation a grant of $1,200 is asked with a view to the settlement of a pastor.

Kearney, Presbytery of Omaha. '88-93. Rev. W. E. Purvis, stated supply. Reports continue to be reasonably encouraging. A grant of $800 and the reappointment of the stated supply are the requests made by presbytery.

San Diego, Presbytery of Los Angeles. '88-93. Rev. R. G. Wallace, stated supply. His reappointment is requested, and he will probably soon be called as pastor. A grant of $950 is asked, $50 less than last year. The missionary states that this has been the best year in the history of the congregation. In view of the sad experiences of two preceding years, we rejoice with him in the tokens of God's gracious favor to him and to his people.

IV. THE SLIDING SCALE. Fifty-one stations in twenty-three presbyteries were brought before the Board with requests for exemption from the present operation of the sliding scale rules. Thirty-four are favorably recommended. Ten have not, in our judgment, shown reason sufficient to justify exemption. Seven are referred, without positive expression of opinion, to the General Committee. In twenty-nine cases more aid is asked than the scale allows, but the presbyteries failed to comply with the rules.

Received from Presbyteries	$45,745 60	$55,618 85	$47,904 98
From Sabbath Schools and Young People	177 22	52 27	373 66
From Ladies' Missionary Societies	172 56	177 79	28 00
From Individuals	4,402 52	3 677 61	1,014 32
Total direct contributions	$50,497 90	$59 526 52	$49,320 96
From Legacies	4,659 84	16,257 54	3 402 29
From Investments	1,284 08	751 78	1 213 24
Total ordinary receipts	$56,441 82	$76 635 84	$53 966 49
Total expenditures	$60 638 72	$63,265 83	$68 101 43

There is thus a deficiency of $14,134.94 in the contributions received. To that extent the reserve fund has been depleted. Large as this fund was made by the legacy of the Speers estate last year, it will not bear another such draft as this without being reduced below the amount found by long experience to be necessary if anything approaching prompt and regular payments are to be maintained. It is gratifying to state that the receipts from presbyteries, the main source of direct income, have not fallen off, if we leave out of comparison last year, during which a special effort was made to pay an accumulated debt; on the contrary, they are larger than ever before reported. The great decline in income is from legacies. Last year showed by far the largest; this year is marked by the smallest receipts from this source recorded for many years. With a constantly increasing outlay, it is plain that a greatly enlarged liberality is called for if the efficiency of our work in the home field, so largely crowned with the blessing of God, is to be maintained unimpaired, or extended as it should be to meet the opportunities presented to us as a Church.

As has been frequently reported the amounts received from Sabbath schools and missionary societies are only the contributions sent directly to our treasurer, and do not by any means represent the gifts from these sources for home missions. Financial agents do not generally report in detail, but so far as they have done so we can trace $3,452.00 as coming from Sabbath schools. The Women's Board has expended during the year ending April 15th, for the Warm Springs Indian Mission, $7,582.97, including an outlay upon new buildings and repairs of old, and for the support of women missionaries, $2,308 38; a total of $9,891.35 for home mission work. The help so largely and cheerfully given by the women of the Church and the readiness they show to do still more as opportunities appear, is most gratefully acknowledged by the Board.

Some readjustment of the form of statement of funds and securities held by the treasurer requires explanation. Of the items reported last year, the balance of ordinary receipts, cash from the Speers estate, mortgage from the Speers estate and the Stewart fund have been combined in one sum of $35,574.33. Deducting from this the deficiency of income as above reported, $14,134.94, there remains the Reserve Fund of $21,439.39 reported this year. The Wilson, Herron and Elliott funds (this latter increased by the final payment received during the year of $220), and the item stated as Other Investment Funds, have been combined in one amount, $9,159.15, and are now reported as invested or uninvested. These are funds designated by the donors, or directed by the Assembly, to be held for investment. Other items are stated as in previous years.

VI. THE SUPPLY SYSTEM. The change provided for in the revised regulations adopted by the General Assembly in 1892 does not come fully into effect until the first of July. The Board has issued the necessary printed lists of available men, and a considerable number of appointments have been arranged under the new plan, but it is yet too early to form any very decided judgment of the practical workings of the system. A year's experience under its full operation will enable us to speak more definitely. It is, however, the opinion of the Board that the plan gives promise of working satisfactorily.

VII. THE COMING YEAR. With a few exceptions the annual reports required from Presbyteries have been received. Applications for aid are presented which amount in the aggregate to $95,000. This, of course, is exclusive of any sum that may be, as in the past, granted to the Board to meet emergencies during the year. Nearly $20,000 of these applications are for new work, much of which has been fairly inaugurated and must be sustained. The Board is constrained to urge that the General Committee cannot safely grant anything approaching the sum called for. With a deficiency this year of over $14,000 on an expenditure of $68,000 it is evident that a large increase of appropriations would probably involve disastrous results to the whole work. Besides this, the unsettled financial condition of the country warns us to guard against a great increase of obligations at the present time. Nor do we believe that such an increase as the applications represent is demanded by the best interests of the home mission work Care must be exercised in taking up new work. Extension to a great many new fields at once is beyond the probable ability of the Church, measured by contributions, to prosecute vigorously and sustain permanently the work undertaken. But it is not in the direction of new work alone that care should be exercised. Many of the older stations asking aid can get along with less, and some ought to receive nothing. A careful scrutiny should be given to the whole list. As the time heretofore required for the distribution of men by the General Committee is now available for other purposes, it will be possible to give more thorough examination to requests for money.

Rev. E. Z. Thomas has been appointed to represent the Board in the General Committee of Home Missions.

The members of the Board whose term of service expires on the 30th of June are Revs. E. Z. Thomas and J. W. English, and George M. Reed, Esq. The term of the corresponding secretary also expires at the same time.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board,

D. BARCLAY, President
WM. S. OWENS, Cor. Secretary.
J. W. ENGLISH, Rec. Secretary.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15, 1893.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF HOME MISSIONS.

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of the General Committee of Home Missions was held in Biggsville, Ill., May 17th to 24th, 1893. With the exception of Big Spring and Brookville, all the Presbyteries in America and the Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension, were represented by delegates. Rev. W. A. MacKenzie, of the Presbytery of Argyle, was elected chairman, and Rev. W. J. McMichael, of the Presbytery of Wheeling, assistant secretary.

The applications presented by Presbyteries for aid to mission stations established or proposed amounted to $95,094. This did not include, of course, any sum to be placed at the disposal of the Board. Appropriations are recommended in this report as follows: For special missions in the care of the Board, $21,525; for other stations heretofore aided, $41,973; for new work, $13,420; to meet the probable needs of cases referred to the Board, $1,740; to the Board to meet emergencies, $5,000; total, $83,658. This is by far the largest sum ever asked of the Church for home missions, and would have been even larger had not the grants to the Board to meet emergencies and for cases referred been greatly reduced. Over $20,000 was asked for new work, and nearly all of it so promising that denial of aid was painful, and selection difficult; yet more than a third of the amount was refused.

From the outset of the Committee's deliberations it was fully recognized that an increase at the present time in the appropriations to this department of the Church's work ought to be avoided if possible. The large deficiency in the last year's contributions, the evident inability of the Board of Church Extension, unless more liberal support is provided, to meet the numerous and heavy demands from new fields, and other weighty considerations, some of which are in the annual report of the Board of Home Missions, show that we are face with a serious crisis. But the General Committee, after long con- and earnest discussion and effort, finds it impossible to retrench ex- re. To effect any material reduction aid must be denied to all new sta- owever promising, and this in face of the fact that work has actually been begun in most of them. In a word, the AGGRESSIVE WORK of the United Presbyterian Church MUST STOP. Possibly a radical and decisive—disastrously decisive—step like this might awaken the Church, as nothing else could do, to the realities of the situation, and call forth adequate contributions; but the General Committee is not prepared to recommend it. The sum asked, large as it is comparatively, is not beyond the ability of the Church to give. What can we do, confronted as we are in the gracious providence of God with so many splendid opportunities, and when to halt in our progress is to risk both loss and shame—what can we do but submit the facts to the General Assembly and ask that the claims and needs of this great home mission work, so richly crowned with God's blessing, be pressed more universally and more earnestly than ever before upon the Church? In the conclusion of this report practical recommendations are submitted for the attainment of this desirable end.

I.—AID GRANTED.

The following characters are used to express conditions upon which appropriations are made: p. s., continuance of existing pastoral settlement; s., settlement. IN ALL OTHER CASES THE CONDITION IS STATED SUPPLY, unless something different is expressly indicated. A fraction after the appropriation shows the amount of time to be taken, as ½ or ¾. Where no figures are used the grant is for full time. Where an * is affixed, as $120*, the station has received what the sliding scale rules permit, and is referred to the Board for consideration of its claims to exemption and an increase.

II.—SPECIAL AND NEW WORK.

1. With respect to the special missions which have been under the care of the Board, but whose terms now expire, the following action is recommended: Colorado Springs, Colorado Presbytery, a grant of $450; 2d Kansas City, Presbytery of Kansas City, a grant $1,100, and continuance as a special mission for a second term of five years; Kearney, Omaha Presbytery, a grant of $775, and reappointment of Rev. W. E. Purvis, s. s.; San Diego, Los Angeles Presbytery, a grant of $900, continuance as a special mission for three years, and the reappointment of Rev. R. G. Wallace as stated supply.

2. In a number of instances requests have been presented by Presbyteries that stations under their care be made special missions. With the exception of 1st Kansas City and Oakland, Cal., these are all new stations. While it is not deemed advisable to comply with the request in every case the following are recommended: 1st Kansas City, Presbytery of Kansas City, for a term of five years, with a grant of $900 for the coming year; Oakland, San Francisco Presbytery, for five years, with $1,200, Rev. J. M. French, D. D., appointed as stated supply; 2d Denver, Presbytery of Colorado, for five years with $1,200; St. Louis, Wagoner Place, Illinois Southern Presbytery, for five years, with $1,000; Olympia, Oregon Presbytery, for five years with $1,100, Rev. J. M. Welch appointed as stated supply; the mission for the present located at 21st and Wharton streets, Philadelphia, for five years, with $1,000; Springfield, Mo., for five years, with $900, and the re-appointment of Rev. John Teaz as stated supply.

3. The following grants are recommended for stations not heretofore aided by the General Committee, and not included in the foregoing action as to special missions: Cambridge, Boston Presbytery, $500; Clinton, same Presbytery, $400, at the disposal of the Board, to be used if, on further information, it is found advisable; Aurora, Chicago Presbytery, $1,000, on condition that $200 be raised by the mission; Lamar, Colorado Presbytery, $300; Eugene, College Springs Presbytery, $200; Wirt, same Presbytery, $500; 3d Brooklyn, New York Presbytery, $1,200; Willey, Illinois Central Presbytery, $100; 2d Indianapolis, Indiana Presbytery, $420; Utica, Mansfield Presbytery, $150; Canton, same Presbytery, $800; Amoret, Kansas City Presbytery, $100; Kansas City, Kansas, $350; Alexandria, Indiana Northern Presbytery, $700; La Prairie, Monmouth Presbytery, $100; Media, same Presbytery, $200; Highland Ave., Pittsburgh, Monongahela Presbytery, $300; Gering, North Platte Presbytery, $500; Bostwick, Pawnee Presbytery, $300; San Miguel, San Francisco Presbytery, $150; Sidney, Sidney Presbytery, $250.

III.—GENERAL.

From the report of the Board of Home Missions we note with gratitude that the past year has been one of more than ordinary success and progress in the Home Mission work. We also note with pleasure the large number of new houses of worship completed during the year in special missions, and that our churches in important centers are thus being prepared for more effective, aggressive work. The facts given in the report, while in many ways full of cheer, have also much in them to cause serious thought and call for careful study on the part of the whole Church. A knowledge of all these facts would, we are persuaded, result in more liberal support by the people of our churches. With profound gratitude in our hearts to the Great King and Head of the Churchwe look hopefully to the future. It is our conviction that much of the failure to contribute more largely to the Home Mission work is due to a lack of knowledge of the work and its needs. Therefore we request the General Assembly to adopt the following resolutions, viz.:

1. That each Presbytery shall, at its first stated meeting subsequent to the adjournment of the General Assembly, hold a special conference on the liberal support of our Home Mission work, at which the delegate to the General Committee shall give his report, in order to carry the information, interest and enthusiasm of this committee to the members of Presbytery.

2. That every pastor and stated supply shall take the earliest possible opportunity to present this subject to his people.

3. That Presbyteries require from each pastor and stated supply annually, at the spring meeting, a report in regard to the performance of this duty.

4. That Presbyteries be urged to make such arrangements as to their spring meetings as will permit the forwarding of reports and applications not later than April 20th, as required by the regulations, and that a failure to mail such papers in due time shall constitute a bar to the consideration of requests by the General Committee, unless such delay was clearly unavoidable.

5. That, in view of the pressing need of the increasingly large fields and the urgent calls from new stations Presbyteries be directed to use all diligence to develop in stations receiving aid the spirit of self-support.

6. That while we look with favor on the early formation of pastoral settlements in our mission stations, yet inasmuch as such settlements are often hastily formed and greatly embarrass the mission work, and inasmuch as the Church at large is required to support the pastor so settled, the General Assembly be requested to adopt the following as an amendment to the regulations for Home Mission work: That, "ordinarily no aid shall be given by the Board of Home Missions in cases in which less than half of the salary of the pastor is paid by the congregation, unless the Board has consented to such settlement."

7. That, in view of the large appropriation asked for this year, and the need of having the facts well before the Church, Revs. A. S. Biddle, R. A. Jamison, John S. McKee, D. Paul, D. D., J. P. Cowan, D. D., E. McKee, J. W. Johnston, Jas. White, D. D., Albert Gordon, J. C. Lynn and W. G. M. Hays be appointed a committee to prepare an early appeal to the Church, and during the year to present this matter through the papers of the Church and otherwise, Dr. Paul to be chairman of the committee.

Respectfully submitted,

W. A. MacKenzie, Chairman.
William S. Owens, Secretary.
W. J. McMichael, Ass't Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

The work of another year in this field is done and the record made. The future will answer the question, "What shall the harvest be?" God has been good in sparing life and health to all the teachers and workers under the direction of this Board. We give him thanks. The Board has held fifteen meetings, a quorum being present at all the meetings except two. The business committed to our trust has been transacted with all possible care, with a view to the glory of God and the best interests of the cause of Christ.

We present in detail the work of another year in the following report:

KNOXVILLE, TENN.

The work at this point is in a hopeful condition. No serious interruption has occurred either from sickness or from dissatisfaction. The progress made in eighteen years is gratifying. Advancement is apparent not only in the multiplication of large buildings, but also in the development and elevation of the colored people. Their public schools and churches, in many instances, and even their homes, compare favorably with those of their white neighbors. It is no longer a rare thing to meet colored people of refined taste in this community. They are at ease in society, and free from loudness in dress and deportment.

The laborers here are: J. S. McCulloch, Eliza B. Wallace, Agnes H. Wait, Maggie McDill, Jennie McCahon, Edith W. Shontz, Hattie E. Shontz, E. Belle Kerr, Hattie A. Kerr, R. J. Love and Mrs. Love, J. J. Duncan, Wm. Petrie, J. P. Vance, Minnehaha Finney, Tillie Wishart, Jean Robertson and Mabel Simpson.

Congregational Statistics. Members, 61; increase by profession, 13; by certificate, 2; decrease, 16; adult baptisms, 10; contributions to the Boards, $459; general contributions, $72; congregational expenses, $119; total contributions, $650; average per member, $10.61; enrollment of Sabbath School, 300; contributions of Sabbath School, $94.

Religious Work. At the College chapel preaching services are observed on Sabbath morning; Sabbath School in the afternoon; prayer-meeting, bible reading, temperance or missionary meeting in the evening. The day is so divided up as not to make the services burdensome to the younger children, and the intervals are short so as to discourage or prevent the gathering of large groups for profitless or noisy conversation. The morning from 8 to 10:30 is left free for religious reading and study, the library being open one hour for this purpose. This allows time for young people to engage in mission Sabbath School work. Five schools have received assistance in this way, and the students, who go out, return in time for the regular services in the College.

Wednesday Evening Prayer-Meeting. The Prayer-Meeting is usually held in the Chapel, but in order to better exercise the gifts of the young disciples, it is broken up sometimes into sections and held in five different rooms. More individual responsibility is felt, and less diffidence in taking part voluntarily.

Sabbath School. There are sixteen classes well graded according to age and ability. After opening exercises each class occupies a separate room for the study of the lesson, and for instructions in the catechisms. A large number of the children have completed Brown's and the Shorter catechisms. It is no uncommon thing for students to memorize one or other within the year.

The Christian Association, organized somewhat after the plan of "Our Young People," is helpful to the members, spiritually, training them for active, personal work. They are largely responsible for the conduct of the Sabbath evening meeting.

The McCague Mission Band. A society of young ladies meets on Sabbath afternoon to hear and discuss missionary intelligence, following mainly the program published in the Woman's Magazine.

Mission Sabbath School A number of students organized a mission school in a neglected part of the city. They at first found an unoccupied room for meetings, and after a few weeks they rented and fitted up two rooms, and finally three rooms. The mechanical department of the College came to their help in making seats, and they were assisted in visiting from house to house by Miss McCahon, who employed the time she could spare from her other duties, in teaching the people in their own homes, and leading them to the house of God. Attendance from 50 to 80. A meeting for reading the Bible has been held in this Sabbath School building on Wednesday afternoon, and another in the College on Friday afternoon for sewing and reading. The enrollment of the Wednesday class is four women of the neighborhood, and of the Friday class forty. Miss McCahon has not been alone in this work, other teachers sometimes going with her. About one hundred visits have been made, and there is no doubt that good has been done. Special meetings were held in January, and again in March. The interest awakened gave good evidence of the presence of the Holy Spirit. Many were led to feel and express deep concern for their spiritual welfare, and it is believed that more than thirty were brought into "joy and peace in believing." Of these eighteen have already been admitted to the United Presbyterian Church, and there is no reason to doubt that they are quite as much at home as they could be in any other church.

Colored Teachers. It is quite safe to say that 150 teachers, who have wholly or in part received their education in Knoxville College, have taught from two to ten months within the past year. With few exceptions these teachers engage in Sabbath School work, and in perhaps a large majority of instances they exercise a commanding influence on the youth religiously. Many of them find it necessary every year to establish or reorganize Sabbath Schools either in the public school house or in an adjoining church.

The Training School is so organized in the College as to afford facilities for the practical equipment of teachers. These teachers, while in college not only recite regularly in the Normal or more advanced classes, but also hear classes, and take charge of them, under the supervision of an experienced superintendent. They meet frequently with Mrs. Wait to receive her criticisms, and discuss with her methods and improvements proposed by others, who have adopted them with success.

Kindergarten Classes, under the charge of Miss Mabel Simpson, have awakened new interest among the little ones, and presented a valuable object lesson to students who go out to teach. They see how it is possible to break up the monotony of the school-room without creating disorder.

Industrial Department. Farming, shop-work in wood, type-setting, sewing by hand and by machine, baking, cooking and general housework are pursued in connection with training the mind and heart. It is not proposed to impart a thorough knowledge of any trade, but rather to cultivate a taste for handicraft, and to break down any lingering tendency among students to speak or think unfavorably of manual labor in any form. By an arrangement with the State University of Tennessee, the farming, shop-work and printing are carried on with a very light annual cost to the Freedmen's Board. Boiler, engine, machinery, tools, apparatus for natural philosophy and chemistry, and general equipments, to the amount of $3,000.00 are furnished by the University. Besides this, $1,800.00, to maintain industrial instructors, and $600.00 to keep up supplies and remunerate student labor, are given annually. Remuneration is so given as to encourage high standing in deportment and class room work as well as in manual skill. Any student may enter regularly the Agricultural or Mechanical course, but only those appointed to scholarships by Senators and Representatives are entitled to remuneration. There have been eight employed in farm work, five in printing and ten in carpentering. A few of the appointees found it impossible or inconvenient to take work in the Industrial Department. Others would gladly have taken an industrial course, but were shut out because they were not sufficiently advanced in their studies.

Sewing. All the girls in classes from the second year Primary, to the second year Normal, inclusive, are in the sewing room by classes during the five consecutive forty minute periods of the forenoon. The smaller boys in the training school classes also sew. In all 140 persons have received instruction in this department, 27 of whom are boys. From one to two o'clock P. M., the sewing room is open to girls, who wish to receive assistance in cutting and making their own clothing. During the first seven months of the present school year, 510 articles have been made. In making these articles about 800 yards of material have been used. All beginners use models, which include the various stitches used in practical work. Many of our pupils have had no other work this year than that on these models. To those in sewing classes articles made here are sold for a very little over the cost of material, while to those not in any of the classes, a small amount is charged for making. It is thought that after this year this department will be self-sustaining.

Ladies' Hall. A building for larger girls is nearly completed. It is provided with kitchen, scullery, Matron's room, store-room for bread, flour, groceries, canned goods, empty cans, vegetable and milk cellars, with work room attached, oven and bakery, laundry and drying room, with bath-rooms and furnace room all on the basement floor. The next floor has the drying, sewing, dish-washing and four music rooms, and the two floors above have the office, parlor, sitting-rooms, reception-room, and forty-three bed rooms, some of them large enough to accomodate three girls. The building is four stories high including basement. It is 124x40 feet, with a rear extension 47x58 feet. The t price is $15,716, and the furnishing, including ranges, dining-room outfit and bed-room sets will necessarily increase the amount to nearly $18,000.

The Little Girls' and Little Boys' Homes have met a want that had been long felt. Applications came for more little girls than could be taken without crowding too much. A few more little boys could have been accommodated with cots, but some of these cots were needed for young men, who could not be accommodated elsewhere. Some disappointment is felt that parents and guardians have not eagerly filled every vacant place, but there is still no doubt that the places will all be filled without much further waiting.

The Students' Fund is proving one of the most efficient means of doing good. It has saved many a boy and girl, and many a young man and young woman from dropping out before the end of the year. With all the manly and womanly energy displayed by some they have been unable to earn sufficient to fully pay their way, and a few dollars given at a proper time, even in the way of wages for extra work furnished, have brought great relief. The conviction is forcing itself upon many that aid will be needed for many years to come. It is needed, and is given in many of the white colleges. Harvard University, "including the graduate department, is paying out more than fifty thousand dollars a year to students who need aid to compass their education." Most persons on examining the report of the U. S. Commissioner of Education, will be surprised to find how many scholarships there are, ranging in value from $30 to $200 a year. They are intended to put scientific and practical education within the reach of any capable and worthy young man or woman, and it is difficult to see how the object can be accomplished without aid to students from some source outside of their own ability to earn a livelihood. The actual figures show that the average graduating class in colored colleges is not more than three. Why not stimulate them with scholarships, and put them on equal footing with white institutions? Put the value of all so called scholarships of colored colleges together, and the amount will fall far short of the amount paid out for this purpose by the colleges of the single little state of Massachusetts. It is acknowledged with gratitude and pride that a great deal has been done for the negro, but it is not a tithe of what has been done during the same time for his white brother. And if colored students are to compete with white students, will it be a fair contest? especially when it is so well known that poverty will cripple the black man more than the white? Let men who have been favored with means look at this matter and ask what God would have them do. It is gratifying and encouraging to know that several donations, ranging from $50 to $200 have been made for this purpose within the last year. Every dollar expended is reported promptly to the Board, together with the name of the recipient. The amount received from state appointments for the year is $1,103.23; from ladies' missionary societies and other sources, $1,209.75.

The Boarding Department As has been the case for many years, this department has been overcrowded and after all had been received for whom any room could be found even by putting three girls in a room quite a number of applicants were refused admittance because no place could be found for them. The total enrollment of the boarding department, including the Little Boys' and Little Girls' Homes, was 213, distributed as follows: In the general boarding department (all adults), 145. These came from eleven southern states and the West Indies. In the Little Girls' Home 47, and in the Little Boys' Home 21. The hope is entertained that overcrowding will be avoided, and that no more will have to be turned away, who come asking for admittance, when the Girls' Hall is completed, to which reference is made in another part of this report. The health of the students was unusually good, and the working of the whole industrial department satisfactory. The division of the oversight of the work among the teachers has been successful. The teachers exhibit the same energy here as in the class room, looking upon this as affording them an additional opportunity to better understand their pupils.

Little Girls' Home As stated above the enrollment is 47, including three assistants. Twenty-seven of these are wholly, and two partly supported by relatives. Some of these children come from long distances, showing how the need of such a home is felt by some of the best colored families. They represent eleven different states extending from the Lakes to the Gulf.

Quite a religious interest was experienced in this Home among the young girls. Twelve professed to have found peace and united with the church. Some of the letters they have sent home telling how they had accepted Christ and confessed him and were trying to lead Christian lives were indeed touching.

In the Little Boys' Home The enrollment was 21, including four assistants. Ten are supported by parents; seven by Ladies' Missionary Societies and Mission Bands. During the weeks of prayer this winter, the boys became much interested and some of them showed signs of great concern for their salvation. For several weeks they were kept in classes and subjected to careful examination. Fourteen came out on the side of Christ, were received into the church and baptized.

Thus Miss McDill, who has had charge of the girls, and Mrs. Love, who has had charge of the boys, have been made glad in having their prayers answered, and their untiring work rewarded. One day Jesus will say, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me."

This whole department has been managed with the same skill, as has been shown in other years, and except the salaries of the workers in it, has been self-sustaining, including the making of repairs, refurnishing, etc.

The following summary of the financial report will show the condition of the Treasury at the first of May:

MILLER'S FERRY, ALA.

Mr. Cloud reports very hopefully concerning the work here: "The attendance was good from the beginning to the close of the session. Special efforts were made for more consistent religious training, which resulted in bringing many to Christ and reforming the lives of quite a number of church people. Eighteen persons made a public profession of religion. One hour is spent in Bible study on Monday morning. A small house built last fall is also used for one of the large Sabbath School classes. Very little industrial work has been done this year because of the crowded condition of the school. The industrial and religious training of the mothers has been faithfully carried on. The object of the Mothers' Meeting was to teach them to honor God in all things. After a few minutes of prayer by some of the members, the time was divided between Bible reading and lectures on practical subjects pertaining to home training. These earnest workers, Mrs. Scott and Miss Jarnagan, had splendid opportunities for doing effective work in the home, which otherwise could not have been reached. A large Sabbath School class of old people, and a more tidy appearance of the children, are some of the fruits of the Mothers' Meeting. The enrollment is 42, nearly all old people. The enrollment in the Sabbath School is 275, with an average attendance of 226. The day school enrollment is 260. We are rejoiced to see the 'Back Quarters' coming in to the Sabbath School. These places are noted for wickedness. Religious meetings are held during the whole year, and the results of these meetings are very encouraging. The need of a United Presbyterian church is felt by many, and a step in that direction would add strength to the mission work."

A literary society meets on Friday nights, and the meetings are enjoyed by all.

The great need of mission work in other sections of the country is much felt.

The probability of establishing a U. P. church here is good, but an attempt to establish a church before educational and religious training among the Freedmen I believe would be a failure. Mr. Cloud recommends the undertaking of missions in other places, and they are receiving the attention of the Board.

It is believed now that we have the laborers ready to enter upon such work in the true spirit of missions. It is proposed to put another worker in the field at Miller's Ferry to take special charge of the industrial training of the girls. Mrs. Cloud is relieved from her work in the day school, but she does not allow her care of two children to interfere with the spiritual welfare of her large class of little ones in the Sabbath School.

ATHENS, TENN.

The fourth year's work at this point is in some respects the most cheering. The evidence of God's approval seems clearer. So far as men can judge, believers have been quickened, and souls have been born again. The little organization has grown from 21 to 60, and harmony and good feeling prevail. Rev. J. L. Cook is installed pastor, and enjoys the respect and confidence of Christians in the community, both black and white. They have an active and enthusiastic society of young people; they take decided ground on the temperance question, and their Sabbath School will compare favorably with the best in the place. Through the liberality of the Sabbath School a very neat and respectable church is erected on ground that had been purchased, and owned many years by a colored man. By diligence and thrift he first bought his own freedom, and then secured a home. He made the last payment on himself only a few days before the Emancipation Proclamation, which freed millions of others. The church stands on historic ground, and "Uncle Nelson's Corner" promises to be as noted for the dispensing of spiritual food as it had long been for bodily refreshment.

The day school has an enrollment of 161, with an average attendance of 108. Mr. Cook has taught several classes in addition to his pastoral work. Miss Mary V. Byars and Mrs. Fannie T. Pitts, formerly Miss Jackson, are the regular teachers, and five of the most advanced pupils have assisted by hearing one or two classes a day. The course extends as far as the entrance of the high school in most towns. The old school house was abandoned early in the year, and an old dwelling in a good location was secured. It is an improvement on the old place, but it is only a temporary expedient, and a new building is a necessity if the school in this location would be a success.

CHASE CITY.

The work at this station has been conducted along the usual lines of effort. The industrial, intellectual, and spiritual training of pupils have received the proportion of attention believed to be most conducive to the development of Christian character.

The study of the pure word of God has been given greater prominence than ever before. Its divine truths have been unfolded in daily lessons, as a part of the regular instruction of the day school, and all pupils have been required to attend the services for worship and special Bible study on the Sabbath.

The increased attendance on all religious services, and the marked advancement of pupils in Scripture knowledge seem to justify the course pursued.

Regular Services. A sermon is preached each Sabbath afternoon. This service is followed by Sabbath school, for which all remain. The attendance at these services averages 169 for the whole year. It frequently reaches 350. On special occasions it is larger. At each regular service a collection is taken up for the missionary work of the church. These contributions amount to $120.53 for the year. The people are taught to regard giving as an act of worship. Our young people hold a Bible study prayer and praise meeting for one hour each Friday afternoon. The regular congregational prayer-meeting is held on Wednesday evenings. The attendance during the whole year has been larger than in the past. It averages over 100, and often reaches twice that number. The colored people willingly take part in the service. The smaller girls and boys, if members of the church, will lead in prayer, read passages from the Scriptures and sometimes make brief comments. These services are very interesting and helpful. Present membership of congregation, 140.

The Day School. The training of teachers for work in the public schools receive special attention. It is felt that this work, as much as any other tends to widen the influence of the mission, and bring the blessings of the gospel to the poor. These teachers instructed in Bible knowledge, with the foundation principles of a rudimental education well laid, and drilled in the most approved methods of instruction and school economy in the Model training school, go forth and do a grand work among their people. About 66 teachers trained in this mission have gone forth to this work. Enrollment of school for term, 319; average for each month, 194.

Teachers' Institute. Forty seven teachers of Mecklenburg and adjoining counties of Virginia and North Carolina met in the mission April 5th, on the call of Prof. Thos. W. Smith, Superintendent of Schools, of Mecklenburg county, Va., and continued in session for three days and two evenings. The teachers of the mission gave instruction to these colored teachers in organization, government, methods, etc., during the three days of the institute. The evening sessions were spent in conference and the reading of papers on school work by the colored teachers. These papers gave evidence of earnestness and untiring zeal on the part of these teachers in the elevation of their race. To the thoughtful Christian worker these instructors of their people suggest a medium through which our missions may reach untold thousands for good. Before adjourning, these teachers by hearty resolutions expressed their high appreciation of what is being done for them by the mission and the church which it represents.

The Girls' Industrial Home. This department under the careful management of Miss S. Anna Dickson is still self-sustaining, and closes the year with a balance of $31.41 in the treasury. The number of girls in the Home for the year is 11, and the number of boys taking their meals in the home 13. Eighteen teachers boarded in the Home during the Teachers' Institute. The great poverty of the colored people, owing to the failure of last year's crops, kept many who had applied, from entering the home. The number of applications coming in already seem to indicate a full home next year.

The influence of the industrial training given to the girls, and the refinement and culture that social intercourse, under proper home restrictions, has brought to both girls and boys, leave no longer any doubt as to the importance of this part of the work in the social and moral elevation of the colored people.

Sewing School. The sewing school with Miss Mary McCampbell as teacher has been kept open during the nine months of the school term. The number of girls receiving instruction in cutting, fitting and making plain garments for girls and boys is 129. These girls spent one-fourth of each school day in this department and made gratifying progress. The number of yards of material used was 1,465. The number of garments made, 800.

The Women's General Missionary Society contributed $100 to purchase goods for this department.

Clothing, Etc. Fifty-seven packages containing clothing, bedding, books and papers were received during the year. These things have been very helpful, and many pupils have attended school for the whole year, who could not have done so but for this assistance. The clothing was usually sold to the pupils, experience having proved this to be best, as giving tends to foster a spirit of dependence, while judicious assistance stimulates and encourages.

The missionaries in this field are as follows: Principal, J. H. Veazey; Teachers, the Misses Alice E. Wray, Lizzie N. Dickson, Armitta D. Buck, Clara Hazen; Sewing Teacher, Miss Mary McCampbell; Matron Girls' Industrial Home, Miss S. Anna Dickson.

Rev. J. H. Veazey, after a service of ten years, has resolved to retire from the work at the close of the present year. The Board feels deep regret, and makes the announcement with genuine sorrow. This servant of the Lord has been most faithful and efficient. The success that has attended his labors is most marked, and we cannot doubt that in the day of the ingathering a large number from among the despised and the poor will be garnered as a result of his faithful labor. May God's richest blessing ever rest on him and on his home.

BLUESTONE.

The work has prospered here this year. There has been a marked increase in the regularity and punctuality of attendance, both at religious services and v school.

Regular services were held every Sabbath at 2 o'clock P. M., when the word was preached or presented in the form of Bible reading, and Sabbath School was held immediately after. All the people, young and old, attend both services. All the pupils in day school are required to attend Sabbath School. Special services were held during October and March. The people seemed much interested. There were no conversions reported, but the principal wrote: "We witnessed the outpouring of the Holy Ghost and Christians were greatly refreshed. Boys and girls, fifteen or sixteen years old, who were never in Sabbath School before have been brought in this year. Young people who formerly came to talk and disturb the meetings, now earnestly take part in the religious services. The increase in attendance has been large, but the increase in interest has been surprising." A mid-week prayer-meeting is held regularly, and is well attended. A Young People's Society meets every Friday evening with good attendance and interest. The topics and references given in the Young Christian are used; the references are read and short talks are given by the members.

The congregation has forty (40) members. The Sabbath School has an enrollment of two hundred and one (201). The collections for missions amounted to $18.00. The congregation is now engaged in erecting a house of worship, the members contributing material, work and money with much liberality. The Chase City Mission and the Henderson Mission are giving aid. By these means the house will be completed by the giving of only a very small amount by the Board, if any at all be required. W. M. Fowlkes, the efficient Superintendent of this mission, having studied theology under the direction of Rev. J. H. Veazey for three years, the Board requested Dr. J. M. Fulton and Rev. J. H. Veazey to examine him, and also to hear him preach several sermons on texts assigned. This they did and afterward memorialized the Presbytery of Allegheny asking that he be licensed to preach the gospel as a probationer for the holy ministry, expressing the judgment strongly that he was qualified to preach the gospel to his people to their profit. The Presbytery received the memorial and preparatory to granting the request, took Mr. Fowlkes under the care of Presbytery as a student of theology, and appointed Rev. J. M. Fulton, D. D., Rev. J. H. Veazy and Elder Edward Williams (of the Chase City congregation) a commission to license Mr. Fowlkes at an early date if the way be clear. As it was known that the Corresponding Secretary was soon to visit and inspect the missions in that region, he was added to the commission. The commission met in Henderson, N. C., on the 31st day of March and April 1st, and on this latter date Mr. Wm. M. Fowlkes was licensed. In the three years he has had charge of the mission he has shown himself a workman needing not to be ashamed. Able, capable and consecrated we expect much from his labors in that field. The Presbytery of Allegheny, at a recent meeting, appointed Dr. Fulton, Rev. J. H. Veazey and Elder Edward Williams a commission to ordain Mr. Fowlkes at a convenient time if the way be found clear. The day school had an enrollment of 195, and an average attendance of 103. The workers are: Mr. W. Fowlkes, Principal, Mrs. Nannie Fowlkes and C. H. Wilson.

NORFOLK, VA.

All the workers in this mission have been blessed with health to labor continuously throughout the year. Sickness and poverty, caused by the very unusually cold winter, told on congregation and school.

The statistics of the congregation are as follows: Members, 117; increase by profession, 11; by certificate, 1; decrease, 24 (roll purged for two years); adult baptisms, 6; infant baptisms, 1. Contributions to the Boards, $124.60. Three services have been held every Sabbath during the year. The Wednesday evening prayer-meeting and the Friday evening Mothers' Meeting have been regularly sustained.

The Sabbath School. The Sabbath School work is most interesting, as at most of our missions the attendance of all the pupils of the day school is required at the Sabbath School. The house is filled every Sabbath afternoon from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock. The largest attendance in one day was 678. The average attendance during summer vacation was 182. The average during the first term was 573 and for the whole year 458. The contributions for the year were $150.60.

The Christian Endeavor Society has held regular weekly meetings and always full of interest. It has a large membership, and the work done in the meetings and by hand to hand effort in their every day converse with their fellows, untold good is done to the members in the way of deepening their piety, and to others by the light that is shed on their lives and character.

The School. School opened September 5th, with an enrollment of 571, several hundred being turned away for lack of room. The work last year was very satisfactory. The instruction has been thorough and discipline excellent. The opening exercises every morning are very interesting and impressive. Each teacher spends the first hour of each day in the class room in some special Bible lesson and prayer, and for four months, daily prayer-meetings were kept up at the close of school in the afternoon and were always attended and interesting. Christians were greatly revived. The only unconverted member of the Senior class and ten others professed conversion. In the school as in the church and Sabbath School, attendance was reduced after the holidays by prolonged severe weather. Several of the graduates are taking a course in Mathematics, Latin and Greek. One of them, a young man of exceptional promises, expects to go to Knoxville next year. He is a United Presbyterian, and it is hoped that he will be prepared to do much for his people in this destitute South. Of the sixty-one graduates from the High School, thirty have been teaching this year. The total enrollment this year is 632.

Indus'rial Work. The sewing department was as usual very full, 250 girls being enrolled, and in the classes with a good degree of regularity, during the school terms. The only drawback to this work is that the time of each class in the sewing room is so limited. The amount of work done may be estimated from the fact that 2,941 yards of goods were used; 872 garments were made, and 248 useful articles besides. The pupils continue to show great interest in the work.

Printing Department Early in the year it became evident that to make this department of any practical benefit, it must be put in charge of a practical printer. Mr. Hanley, of East Liverpool, was appointed and took charge of the work. In his hands it has been quite successful. The equipment consists of two presses, paper cutter, cases, type, etc. The equipment is enlarged and improved, as the needs of the office may require, from the proceeds of job work. We have been printing the College Bulletin, a small eight page paper edited and published by the students, and the Weekly Advance, the only paper published by the colored people in the community. We have more job work than we can do. It is contemplated, so soon as practicable, to purchase a cylinder press, after which the department will be self-sustaining. Eighteen young men are pursuing this course.

The Prospect. The future is full of promise in this field. More than two hundred and fifty applications for admittance to the school next September are already filed with the principal, besides those who are in attendance this year. For the last two years hundreds have been turned away, who have come pleading with tears to be permitted to enter—turned away! Where? To roam on the street with nothing to do, and no school house door open to them nor a seat for them in any school in the city. These to grow up in ignorance and vice, to swell the large pauper element and fill the prisons. Moved by such considerations, the Board has resolved to enlarge the buildings at Norfolk during this summer by the addition of four new school rooms, and a corresponding increase in the seating capacity of the chapel. The last General Assembly instructed the Board to make this improvment, but before the arrangements could be made, the time was so far spent that it was thought better to postpone until this year. The contract for doing the work is now made with a firm in Norfolk. The total cost of the improvement will be $6,470. This is a needy field. A wide and effectual door is opened to us here. The principal in closing his annual report has strongly expressed the truth as it impresses us: "The need for this work is pressing. There are quarters here that cannot be matched outside of the largest cities. The colored people when let alone go back to a state incomparably worse than slavery. They must be saved and saved soon." The workers at Norfolk are: Rev. J. B. Work, Principal; Wm. L. Clenahan, Will H. King, J. C. Hanley (printer), Misses Margaret Kuhn, Agnes Kyle, Lizzie J. Houston, Ella R. Day, Principal of Model School, Gertrude Broughton, assistant, Mrs. A. M. Gebhart, sewing teacher, Sarah Dennison, Bible reader, and R. G. Armstrong, matron of Teachers' Home.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Another year at this mission has closed, the second full year of work in that field, and there is much in the work that is encouraging, and very much to make one sad. The large number brought under the influence of the gospel during the past year by the School and through the regular preaching of the Word is something to be thankful for. The total enrollment of the day school was large, and a larger number waited on the preaching of the Word every Sabbath, and were instructed in the Sabbath School. At no point has the interest in all the work been more fully sustained than here, and nowhere have we seen more marked results in the way of enlightening the people as to the need of a knowledge of the pure word of God. Dr. Fulton in his annual report, has this to say: "There is much in all our Freedmen's work to encourage us. Now and then we meet men, black as night, well educated, strong characters, conscientious, consecrated men. As you look into their faces their evident culture speaks so much of the man that you at once forget the negro. These cases are not few. Among the free born negroes well brought up there are many. So among the children of slaves, we find men and women of whom no race would be ashamed. This shows what the future will be, the dawn of the bright day. In the day school there were 702 enrolled; 425 of them were regular attendants. The others would average four months each. The night school for five months reached 200 of an enrollment, so we have been permitted to reach the mind of 900 during the year. In our religious services, we were permitted to teach and preach to as many more.

Religious Services. We have had Sabbath School and preaching every Sabbath with an average attendance of 600; we cannot give the total enrollment: as we have had so many scholars and so few teachers, time for teaching is too precious to keep a roll. We held no special meetings for evangelization: we find this not the best plan, the people are more used to confessing Christ, than living Christ; in all our teaching and preaching we have tried to keep them up to the Bible idea of living. We have not organized a congregation as yet, we do not think it wise to do so if we could; the most they know about religion is in their denominational fights. To add another denomination now would only increase this weakness. The better way now besides chapel services is to go from congregation to congregation, preaching the pure word of God that the poor people may learn the riches of the Bible. This can be done without a denominational organization; in the future the people will grow toward the mission, then will be the time to organize.

Young People's Meetings. These meetings are held every Friday. We divide them into three companies. Senior, Junior and Primary teaching is adapted to each company. Scripture verses are committed and recited, sentence prayers offered. In the Senior company remarks, written and read. To get a negro to say something is a great work; this he does better in writing. We also teach every Sabbath morning in Presbyterian Church.

Industrial Work. In this department we teach sewing, house-keeping and cooking, to 120 girls. We have a neat house, well arranged for the work. The partitions are made out of heavy felt curtains; all rooms can be thrown into one when a special lesson is to be given. One great need here, is an industrial school for boys; it seems to me this could be established without much cost, and economically conducted. The attention of men of means should be called to this subject, and its great need pressed upon them. Skilled hands should accompany developed brains.

Cottages. The cheap cottages, erected the past summer, have been useful beyond our expectation. Had our girls' cottage been twice as large it could have been comfortably filled; we have had 58 girls during the year, and 38 boys. We have but 13 rooms in each cottage; in the girls' four were in a room, and sometimes five; there should only have been three. These cottages are under the control of the teachers. The lady teachers in their turn conduct morning and evening worship at the girls' cottage, the male teachers doing the same at the boys' cottage. Their rooms were always under the supervision of teachers, and were nicely kept. They brought their provisions from home, and did their own cooking. We have been enabled to reach a good class of students, far out in the country, by these cottages.

The Condition, as Dr. Fulton sees it: The whole race is fenced in by the deep conviction of the whites, that the negro was appointed by the Lord to do only menial work, and beyond that he cannot go. This is not a prejudice on the part of the white people, but it is a religious conviction. The southern people will never do anything to change this condition. When we attempt to help the colored man we are told it is no use. He will lie and steal and live an impure life; while there are exceptions, they say this is the rule. It is true of many that they steal and lie and live unchaste lives; but, if reasonable, we cannot expect anything else. As one of their race said, They themselves were stolen, why should they not be thieves? They were not believed on oath for two hundred years, why should they not lie? The family relation was never respected among them, why should they be pure? Taken from savagery, treated like animals, their consciences were never developed. Here we have a race, many of whom have conscience almost eliminated. Under the control of their animal natures their religion, parrot like, imitators, all for effect. They think it real; apparently only one motive—to be men pleasers; every other ambition dead. The colored man is in a more hopeless condition than for twenty-seven years. He has no one to plead for him; no Philips or Garrison, not even a Fred. Douglas. No political party stands for him. The last governmental hope was the Blair Educational bill. The Republican Senate had not the nerve to vote for it, and the Democrats knew too well what education meant. The only hope for the colored race is in the church—the benevolent people. The nation helped to crush the colored man and the Indian. The one she forsakes, the other she helps. Why this difference? Since God has put this work upon the Church let us arise to a realization of the needs of the people and strive to fit them for citizens of earth and heaven.

The workers in this mission the last year were: Rev. J. M. Fulton, D. D., Messrs. Wm. Fulton and Robert Comin, Misses Mary Reed, Mollie Schwarburg, Lissa M. Jack, Stella Marshall and Maggie Kerr, Industrial teacher. Wm. Fulton retired before the close of the term on account of impaired health, and Mr. C. D. Fulton filled out the term.

It is with profound regret that we announce the retirement of Dr. Fulton from the work at the end of this year. His strong will, consecration, enthusiasm, executive ability and warm Christian heart will be greatly missed at Henderson, and we earnestly look to God to provide a man of his own choosing to occupy his place. Our prayers for Dr. Fulton go up to God continually for all the blessings he may need. In closing his annual report he says: "I am sorry to leave the work. It is a work to command the best energies of any man in the Church. With all the burdens it has its bright side, and to have the consciousness that you are the instrument of preaching the gospel to the poor makes up for all the isolation and ostracism that comes to such workers in this South land."

The Woman's Auxiliary Board, continued to render assistance in this field, by paying salaries of all industrial teachers and Bible readers, the total amount being $3,616.00. The thanks of the Board are gratefully tendered for this and other valuable assistance rendered in carrying on this needy work.

Legacies have been received this year, amounting to $334.00. We thank the Lord that he puts it into the hearts of his servants to remember the poor and perishing, when they come to make the final distribution of their worldly goods.

Three men, too modest to allow their names to be mentioned, contributed to this work, along special lines. One gave $100 to buy books for the libraries, another gave $100 to keep two needy and worthy pupils in the high school, at Norfolk a whole year, and another gave $50 to be paid to any young man, graduating from Knoxville College this year, who would enter the mission work, with a view to the ministry, among his own people. All these gifts were timely, and are already bearing fruit. We hold up these examples that others may not fear to do likewise.

PROSPECTIVE WORK.

The work cannot be slackened at any of the stations now occupied. It is in prospect to organize a church at Miller's Ferry at an early day, and it is fondly hoped that a faithful and efficient pastor will very soon be provided for them, a graduate of Knoxville College.

It is expected that at least two new missions will be opened early this year, to be managed and worked by two other graduates of the College, who are expected soon to enter the ministry. The locations of these prospective missions have not been fully decided upon, but most probably one, or both, will be within easy reach of Miller's Ferry Mission, in the Canton Bend.

The Board respectfully asks for an appropriation of $50,000.00 for the support of the work the coming year.

The term of office of H. J. Murdoch, Peter Dick and Rev. R. H. Park, expires with this meeting.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board,

W. H. McMILLAN, Presl.
J. W. WITHERSPOON, Cor Sec.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION has been called upon to mourn the loss of one of its most valuable members by death. While the last General Assembly was in session, Mr. Samuel Dyer was called to his rest. For almost twenty-three years he served the Church as a member of this Board, and as its secretary and treasurer. He was remarkable for his humble piety and integrity. His clear mind and sound judgment, and deep interest in the work of the Church made him a very valuable member of the Board. His Christian spirit endeared him to all the members, and made his death not only a loss but a personal bereavement.

Mr. C. F. Dean was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Dyer. He was also chosen as secretary and treasurer. In entering upon his duties as treasurer he gave bond in the sum of $10,000, with ample security, for the faithful performance of the trust committed to him. Mr. Dean is cashier of the Union National Bank, of Pittsburgh, and therefore the Board's account has been transferred to that institution.

The Board has followed the same policy as in former years, giving careful attention to each application, and acting upon it according to its own merits. The pressure for large grants has been very great, but there has been a constant effort to keep the amount given as low as possible, consistent with the success of the work. It is evident that in many cases the Presbyteries do not scrutinize the applications and endeavor to protect the funds of the Church from unreasonable demands as they should do.

The Board is much perplexed as to the extent to which aid should be given where the congregation is rebuilding. In some cases it appears to be necessary to the life of the congregation, but at the same time, in the judgment of the Board, there is a tendency to seek help to a greater degree than is really necessary.

The Board is also much perplexed as to the course to be taken when the congregation making application for aid is not strictly a mission church, but is formed by the division, for some cause, of an existing congregation. It seems to the Board that the Presbytery should not, ordinarily, authorize the organization until the work can be sustained without help from the Boards.

Contributions are sometimes received for missions or congregations which have appealed for help otherwise than through the Board. Such contributions are sent with the expectation that credit will be given for them as if made to the Board. But this cannot be done when the Board has not made any grant of aid. To avoid complications and misunderstandings, the rule has been adopted that in all such cases the money will be returned to the donors.

The Board calls the attention of the General Assembly to the growing tendency to make special appeals to the Church at large for help. However worthy the case may be, every such appeal diverts contributions from their proper channel and weakens the general work.

The attention of the General Assembly is again called to the fact that very large appropriations have been required by the work in the cities. When the mission is the beginning of our work in a city, the help given is necessarily larger, but it is quite possible that if there was a well arranged organization of the congregations in our older cities for the development of local resources, the demand upon the general funds of the Church would be less, and the result more satisfactory.

PARSONAGES.

In consequence of the demand for aid to churches, the Board has not made any appropriations for parsonages during the past year, but has referred all applications which it approved to the Women's Auxiliary Board. The Board has great pleasure in recognizing the valuable help to the work thus rendered.

SABBATH SCHOOLS.

The Board was not prepared to designate a mission for the Sabbath school contributions. It was thought better to wait until the amount of the contributions would be known, so that the appropriation might be made according to the gifts, and the schools were asked to give with this in view. The contributions have been $3,985.06. A less amount than last year.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from all sources have been as follows:

From Presbyteries through the Financial Agents	$21,041 08
" Sabbath Schools	3,985 06
" Societies	478 65
" Individuals	6,941 50
Total direct contributions		$32,446 29
From Legacies		1,838 29
" The Daniel Speers Fund		273 00
" The Rev. W. H. Haney Fund		40 00
" Rents		1,483 50
" Loans Returned, Churches		3,414 50
" Loans Returned, Parsonages		3,066 89
" Interest on Permanent Funds		4,378 46
" Quarter Centennial Commission		54 11
" Donations subject to annuity		2,700 00
" Sales of property		4 265 40
" Investments matured and paid in		1,708 33
" Special		5 00
Total for the year		$55.668 77
Balance May 1, 1892		9,982 42
Total		$65,651 19

The payments have been:

To Congregations	$49,556 18
" Annuities	183 00
" Special Contributions	266 62
" Investment for the "Mary Stuart" Fund	1,800 00
" Taxes and Improvements	560 64
" Salaries and Expenses	2,111 91
Total Payments		$54,478 35
Balance, May 1, 1893		$11,172 84

The liabilities of the Board are:

To appropriations not paid	$21,410 00
" the Permanent Funds	4,870 00
" the Annuity Fund	900 00
Total		$27,180 00

During the year it was not possible to replace the amount reported as drawn from the permanent funds, and in addition $1,708.38 of investments paid in and a balance of $900 of annuity funds remain in the treasury. The treasurer has been directed to replace the permanent funds and to invest the annuity balance. This leaves an available balance of $6,402.84.

During nearly six months of the year it was necessary to borrow nearly $6,000 from the bank. It is therefore earnestly asked that a fair proportion of the contributions be made early in the year to avoid this loss.

The Board acknowledges with special gratitude the liberality of a few persons by which, in a time of an empty treasury, it was enabled to assume the Brooklyn Mission.

APPROPRIATIONS.

The appropriations have been as follows:

Congregation.	Presbytery.	Donation.	Loan.
Alameda	San Francisco	$ 3,000
Aspinwall	Allegheny		$ 1,500
Belle Center	Sidney	2,000
Brooklyn, 3d	New York, for lot	6,500
Clay Center	Concordia, for lot	800
Creston	College Springs	3,000
Golden	Monmouth	700
New Alexandria	Westmoreland	500
Peru	Des Moines	60
Portland, 2d	Oregon, for lot	4,500
San Miguel Canon	San Francisco	400
Seattle	Oregon, for church	3,500
Shannon City	College Springs	500
Springfield	Pittsburg, for lot	2,000
	for church	1,800
Stronghurst	Monmouth	500
Tacoma	Oregon, for church	3,350
Topeka, Liberty Mission	Kansas City	2,000
Washington Heights	New York for lot		8,500
Wilmerding	Westmoreland	1,850
Wirt	College Springs	500
		$37,460	$10,000
Total grants			47,460

NOTES. The appropriations for the purchase of the lots in Seattle and Tacoma—Seattle, $5,000; Tacoma, $3,750—were made last year, but were overlooked in the report. The correct total for 1892 is, therefore, $48,250.

Third Brooklyn. A mission was opened in Brooklyn under very favorable circumstances, which has since been organized as the Third Church. After a personal examination by the President and Corresponding Secretary, the purchase of a lot was authorized. This was made possible by the special gifts of some interested in the work.

Washington Heights, New York. A similar investigation was made of the field selected for this new mission in the city of New York, and being encouraged by the good prospects for the work, the grant was made. The appropriation is not finally adjusted. For the present it is made a loan, but there may be some change in the future.

SECURITIES.

The Board has given careful attention to the securities required.

DECLARATION OF TRUST.

The Board has found much difficulty in the application of the rule that the property of congregations receiving aid shall be secured by the declaration of trust. The Board takes a mortgage for the aid given; when it asks in addition to this that the title shall, in certain defaults, vest in the Trustees of the General Assembly, objection is sometimes made that it is unreasonable. When this declaration of trust is made for aid from the Home Mission Board the same objection is not made. The Board therefore asks the General Assembly to allow it to exercise some discretion in this particular. In New York state, the validity of such a declaration of trust has been questioned. The Board therefore has required that the deed shall contain a covenant securing this interest to the Board.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Board is indebted to William F. Robb, Esq., for his gratuitous services as Notary Public. It is a pleasure also to acknowledge the prompt and faithful services of the Superintendents of Missions when called to act in special cases.

VACANCIES.

The term of office of Rev. E. S. McKitrick, Rev. J. T. McCrory, D. D., and Mr. C. F. Dean, expires with this year.

APPROPRIATION.

The applications before the Board and not yet acted upon amount to about $33,500. It is known that this sum will be largely increased in the year. The Assembly is therefore asked to make an appropriation of at least the amount granted last year.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

In submitting this, our annual report to the General Assembly, we gratefully acknowledge the Divine goodness to this Board during the last ecclesiastical year.

Our meetings have been well attended and the members of the Board generally have evinced a conscientious interest in the whole work of the Board and have labored heartily and faithfully to promote efficiency in this department of the Church's work.

GENERAL WORK.

The general work of the Board has been prosecuted during the year on the same lines substantially as heretofore. We have kept in stock a large assortment of the best theological, religious and Sabbath School books to be attained. We have in accordance with the instructions of the last Assembly, "studied the wants of the Church and endeavored to meet them by supplying current works on theology and practical Christian work on as good terms to ministers and Christian workers as do other dealers in such supplies."

Our assortment of family, pulpit and small Bibles for Sabbath School teachers and all students of the Word is fully equal, if not superior to that of any other publishing establishment in the country.

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE ASSEMBLY OF 1892.

The General Assembly of last year requested the Board to prepare and publish a book of selections of psalms and music to meet what was felt to be a want in special meetings and wherever a large number of books is needed at a nominal cost. Such a book, containing 43 selections from Bible Songs, was prepared and published in the early part of the ecclesiastical year, under the title, "Selections from Bible Songs," and has been well received throughout the Church.

The Assembly also requested that the Junior Quarterly should be "so arranged that it could be converted into a lesson leaf if desired." It was impracticable to make this change, without in a measure marring its advantage as a Quarterly, and as there seemed to be no demand for the change such as to justify this, the suggestion has not been carried out.

The last Assembly spoke approvingly of the improvement made in the Young Christian, and expressed a desire for further improvement, "so that it may become the recognized organ of the young people of our Church." The Board has adopted plans for its further enlargement and improvement, and this, too, without increasing the cost to its subscribers.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The only new publications of the year have been the Selections from Bible Songs already referred to, and the Digest of the Acts of the General Assembly. We have not yet been able to issue, as directed by the Assembly of 1891, "a tract containing a brief, concise and inexpensive statement of the doctrines and distinctive principles of our Church," for the reason that we have not as yet secured the preparation of such a tract.

NEW DEPOSITORY.

In compliance with the request of the Publication Committee of the Associate Reformed Church, the Board has established a depository at Charlotte, N. C. This was thought to be the most convenient point in the south for the depository for the A. R. Synod.

GRANTS.

The Board has made large grants of books, papers and Sabbath School supplies generally to the Freedmen's Missions, on the application of the Freedmen's Board. Very many stations and Sabbath Schools, in the Home Mission field, have been assisted in the same way. The help thus furnished was timely, and no doubt contributed much to the success of the work of these Boards in their respective fields.

We are now called upon to furnish the means for publishing The Treasury of David in Arabic. The cost of this publication had been assumed by the Board several years ago, and as it is now translated and ready for the press, the money will be presently needed. This work will be of great value to our theology students and native members in Egypt, as well as to all others, who use the Arabic language.

The same number of Presbyteries—two—Chicago and Vermont, failed to report as last year, and apparently 27 more schools, making 101 in all. As there were some new schools organized during the year, the failure to report was more extensive than this shows. We need still more careful work.

We recommend the appointment of the third Sabbath of October as a day of special prayer for Sabbath schools in all the churches, and the last Sabbath of June, 1894, as Missionary day.

The statistics of the year call for gratitude to God for more faith in his promised blessing, and for more diligent, earnest, cheerful and hopeful work.

The terms of office of the Corresponding Secretary, and of the following members expire this year: Revs. W. B. Smiley, R. H. Hood, J. M. Wallace, and Messrs. T. J. Gillespie and Robert Trimble.

The following statement shows in detail our operations during the past year and our present financial condition:

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education respectfully submits its report for the year ending April 30, 1893:

I.—BENEFICIARIES.

Eighty-two young men have been recommended for aid during the year. Two of this number—both literary students—found it possible to meet the demands of the year from private resources, and have not called for the amount appropriated. Five students in the seminary at Allegheny, Pa., returned the last installment—one third of the appropriation—being able to finish the year's work without asking this amount from the Board. Of the eighty receiving aid, seventy-six are theological, and four are literary students. Forty-four of the theological students attended the Seminary at Allegheny, Pa., and thirty-two the Seminary at Xenia, Ohio. Two of the literary students are attending Muskingum College; one is attending Cooper Memorial College, and one is in Monmouth College.

Thirty-one Presbyteries are represented, and the Presbyterial relation of the students is as follows: Xenia Presbytery, eight students; Butler, seven; College Springs, six; Allegheny, five; Keokuk, four; Conemaugh, Frankfort, Mercer, Monmouth, Muskingum, Sidney, Steubenville and Wheeling, three students each; Beaver Valley, Cedar Rapids, Chartiers, Garnett, Illinois Central, Kansas City, Le Claire and Westmoreland, two students each; Arkansas Valley, Brookville, Caledonia, Indiana, Lake, Monongahela, New York, Omaha, Rock Island and Vermont, one student each.

Twenty-one were recommended for one hundred and twenty-five dollars each; thirty-three for one hundred dollars each; twenty for fifty dollars each; one for ninety dollars; three for seventy-five dollars each, and two for forty dollars each. The total amount asked for beneficiaries was $7,320.

The Board, in distributing the funds, has adhered to the rule that "the amount paid to each student shall be proportionate to the time of his actual attendance at the seminary during the session." The result has been a reduction of about $400 from the appropriations. With this exception and the voluntary return by students of $126, the full amount appropriated has been paid. The actual payment to students has amounted to $6,783.50.

II.—SEMINARIES, COLLEGES AND ACADEMIES.

The annual report of the Board to the last General Assembly contained suggestions respecting the educational work of the Church, which have been discussed in conventions, and through the press during the year. The Board is still fully convinced that our denominational institutions must continue to be the agency for educating the youth of the Church, if our principles are to be maintained and perpetuated. This implies a better equipment, not so much in the teaching quality as in the teaching force of our institutions, and in the means for sustaining the work in its higher demands.

The thought is worthy of repetition that "the educational enterprises of the Church ought to be recognized as of equal importance with the work committed to our mission boards," for unless proper and liberal training is given to the youth of the Church, there will be but little interest taken in our denominational work abroad. Our future, as a Church, in our own and foreign countries, will depend, to a great extent, upon the educational advantages afforded to the young in our denominational schools. It is with gratitude to God that we record the efficiency of the work performed in our seminaries and colleges during the year, and recognize the fact that in some of our institutions, increased facilities have been afforded for meeting the demands of the age.

The seminaries, colleges and academies report as follows:

Allegheny Seminary.—The faculty consists of three regular and two temporary professors. Sixty-three students were in attendance, classified as follows: First year, sixteen; second year, twenty-eight; third year, nineteen.

The financial report shows:

Increase to endowment fund	$ 18,857
From investments	10,462
From Synods	2,265
The present productive endowment amounts to	171,219

The suggestion of the faculty is "that the Board of Education still continue the work of aiding students, and that this part of its work should not be abandoned, as suggested in a circular issued by the Educational Committee."

Xenia Seminary.—There are four professors. Forty-three students have been in attendance. The classification is as follows: first year, thirteen; second year, fifteen; third year, fifteen.

The financial report contains the following items:

Permanent endowment	$67,955
Money received	7,200
Current expenses	8,250

The statements, compared with the reports of last year, show a decrease of five in the attendance at our seminaries, but there has been an increase of five in the number graduating. The greatest loss has been in the number entering the first year—fourteen less this year than at the opening of the preceding session. There is reason for thanksgiving in the fact that the contributions to the seminaries have been so liberal, and that the permanent endowment is being so generously increased.

Cooper Memorial College.—Ten professors and instructors. Total number of students, two hundred and three. There are ninety-two in the literary department. The others are enrolled in the commercial, art and musical courses. Three are in the present senior class, two are expecting to enter the ministry.

The religious services are preaching in the college chapel every Sabbath, and Bible lessons every Monday. In the literary department eighty-three per cent. are professing Christians.

Contributions:

For endowment	$ 50 00
Current expenses	168 69

The statement of the faculty is: "We heartily indorse the report of the Assembly's Committee, favoring regular contributions to the educational institutions of the Church, especially to the colleges. No department of the work of the Church is of more importance, or will yield a better return than the education of our young people. In cultivating other fields we should not neglect this needy one."

Knoxville College.—The following items are taken from the report of the faculty: There are eighteen professors and teachers. The total enrollment is two hundred and ninety-five. Sixteen students are in the regular college classes. There are two in the present senior class, and it is probable that both will enter the ministry. The religious services, not including those which form a part of the daily exercises of the school, are: Sabbath morning, preaching; afternoon, Sabbath School; evening, Bible reading or prayer-meeting; and Wednesday evening, prayer-meeting. Ninety-four per cent. of the college students and eighty-eight per cent. of those in the regular preparatory classes are members of the church.

The financial report shows receipts:

From State University for salaries and supplies,

Industrial department	$2,400
To assist students	1,836

The faculty believe "that the effect would be almost invariably good if they could assure any one able to enter the freshman class with a high grade, that at least $30 a year would be granted every year until graduation, or as long as the required high grade is maintained, the student being required to be in school all year."

Monmouth College.—Thirteen professors, two hundred and sixty-one students, one hundred and fifty-three in the collegiate and one hundred and eight in the preparatory, English and musical departments. There are twenty-eight in the present Senior class; nine or ten will enter the ministry.

The religious work has been prosecuted with energy during the year. Aside from regular Bible instruction in all the classes during the week, the usual preaching and Christian Union services on Sabbath, and the Monday evening prayer-meeting, nine volunteer classes, aggregating nearly one hundred students, have been engaged in the special study of the Bible once a week during the entire year. Ninety-four per cent. of the students are church members.

The financial report shows the following receipts:

For endowment	$3,385
For current expenses and equipment	950

The faculty have enumerated the pressing needs of the college: "More apparatus in the biological and physical science departments; charts, maps and books of reference in all departments of the college. Also an increased teaching force—which must be secured through an increased endowment fund—that a greater number of electives may be given in the junior and senior years."

"In the judgment of the faculty, the Board of Education should be so organized as to enable it to help the institutions educating the students, as well as the students educated."

Muskingum College.—Professors in all departments, thirteen. Students in the collegiate department, eighty; in the preparatory and other departments, forty. The present senior class numbers eighteen. It is expected that eight will enter the ministry.

The religious work of the college consists of weekly Bible study by all the students, and of special work performed through the agencies of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. A revival of religion, during the winter term, resulted in bringing all the non-professing students into the church; while 97 per cent. of all the students attending during the year have been professing Christians. A missionary society of the students raise $150 annually for the support of a minister in the India mission.

Contributions of the year:

For endowment	$85 92
For current expenses	73 55

The report states that "the condition of the college, as to work done, is good; as to character of the students, very much above the average; that the college needs more endowment, and must have it in order to maintain its present high standing." The belief of the faculty is, "that the best way to aid the student is to aid the college."

Tarkio College.—There are fourteen professors and instructors. Total number of students, two hundred and forty-one. Forty-three are in the collegiate, the others are in the preparatory, musical, business and normal departments. There are six in the present senior class. Of this number, one will enter the ministry, certainly; four, possibly. The religious services are weekly prayer-meeting, Sabbath school in college and monthly missionary meeting. Sixty-one per cent. of all the students are professing Christians.

Contributions:

For building fund $65,000

The statement of the faculty is: "The college is growing in numbers, but more in the character of work, and in its influence upon the students. We are hampered for want of money, and are decidedly in favor of the plan proposed by the Educational Committee—a fund for the present necessities of the colleges."

Westminster College.—The aggregate number of students is two hundred and fifty-four. One hundred and thirty-three are in the collegiate, and one hundred and twenty-one in the preparatory and other courses. The present senior class numbers twenty-five; six, perhaps eight, will enter the ministry.

The report states that "the religious life of the college has been quickened during the year. Special services were held which were very helpful. Probably the proportion of church members is not greater than usual, but the spiritual tone of the college is better."

The interest-bearing endowment is over $100,000
Expenses of the year 16,000

There were no students in the college receiving aid from the Board during the past year. The reason may be found in this statement of the faculty: "We have a few students who are aided by the Presbyterian Board, which is more liberal to students in the lower classes."

Marissa, Ill., Southern Illinois Presbytery.—Frank E. Dean, principal. Five persons are employed as instructors, and sixty-five students have been in attendance. The classification is, regular, thirty; irregular, thirteen; music and art, twenty-two. There are two in the graduating class. The property, valued at $2,500, is controlled, as required by the rules of the General Assembly, by a board of trustees, the majority of whom are members of the United Presbyterian Church. The average attendance is the best in the history of the academy. The Presbytery recommended an appropriation of $200. The academy has been sending many of its students to the colleges of the Church, and, in this way, has proved a real helper to our higher educational institutions. The Board made an appropriation of $150. This amount has been forwarded to the treasurer.

Waitsburg, Wash., Presbytery of Spokane.—Miss Ina L. Robertson, principal. Three assistant instructors. Total outlay for teaching and current expenses, $2,037. Value of property, $12,000. This includes $5,000 of an endowment fund, which, with the exception of $240, is invested in bankable notes drawing from 7 to 10 per cent. interest. The enrollment for the year, not including students in the musical department, is eighty-one. First term, fifty-nine; second term, sixty-three; third term, forty-three. There will be one graduate this year. Two of the under-graduates will enter one of our eastern colleges in the fall. The religious exercises, apart from those connected with the daily work of the school, are a weekly prayer-meeting, and a weekly Bible recitation and drill, conducted by the general superintendent, the Rev. W. G. M. Hays. The institution is incorporated, according to the requirement of the General Assembly, and is under the control of the Synod of the Columbia. An ex-president of the State University, and now editor of the Washington Educational Journal, says, "The school is on the best financial basis of any denominational school in the state." It is the conviction of some who are well acquainted with the institutions of the great northwest that "this academy, in tone and efficiency, is second to no other institution of learning of either church or state to be found in the eastern half of Washington and Oregon, and the entire state of Idaho. In a majority of instances it is far superior." The faculty say that the pressing need is a home for the students. The Presbytery asked for an appropriation of $350. The Board, believing that the work in that portion of the Church should be encouraged, and our institutions liberally supported, granted the full amount.

III.—FINANCE.

The annual statement of the treasurer is submitted to the Assembly. This report shows that fifty-six Presbyteries have contributed to the funds of the Board. An appropriation of $10,000 was granted by the last General Assembly for meeting the obligations of the Board. The receipts for the year have been, from Presbyteries, $4,694.90, from all sources which make up the actual benefactions of the Church, $4,817.65. There has been a commendable increase in the contributions, as compared with former years, but there is a demand for still greater liberality in order to sustain properly the educational interests of the Church.

The recommendation of the General Assembly was for ten cents per member; the receipts show that six Presbyteries have contributed less than two cents per member; ten, less than three cents; five, less than four cents; ten, less than five cents; twelve, less than six cents; five, less than seven cents; four, less than eight cents; two, less than nine cents; and that but two—Argyle and Allegheny—have given the full proportion of the amount asked for the year.

The cash on hand at the beginning of the year amounted to $1,083.64. The treasury is now overdrawn $400.00, showing that the payments have exceeded the receipts of the year to the amount of $1,483.64. Last year we began our work, with more than one thousand dollars at command, we enter this year with an empty treasury, and four hundred dollars in debt. The demand is for promptness and liberality on the part of the whole Church.

IV.—THE BOARD.

The aim of the Board has been to meet, as nearly as possible, the varied and increasing demands of the educational work of the Church. The original constitution proposed a work far more extended than the funds at command, and the prevailing sentiment of the Church at the time would justify. For a time the aiding of young men occupied our attention, and required the outlay of all the contributions of the Church. The extent of this work may be seen in the fact that 45 per cent. of the present working force of the Church have been aided by the Board, in preparing for the ministry.

Ten years ago, through coöperation with Presbyteries and Synods, we began to assist in establishing and sustaining institutions of learning. Thus a second object of our organization was being fulfilled. During these years, two of our colleges, and nine Presbyterial academies, have been aided; almost eight thousand dollars have been paid to these institutions, and the Board has done something toward providing efficient teachers for these academical schools. There is much yet to be done in this department, and were the necessary funds placed at the disposal of the Board, a work might be done for the Church which would equal in importance, and practical results, any of her present enterprises.

A third line of effort proposed in the constitution is "to cherish and diffuse an educational spirit throughout the Church." For a few years the Church has been turning attention to higher education, and better facilities in our institutions for the training of the young. It may be seen by referring to the report of the Board to the Assembly of 1888, that the present agitation had been anticipated, and, during all this period, the Board of Education has been ready to undertake and prosecute this work, whenever the contributions of the Church would justify the advance movement. It is believed that we have reached the time for decided action, and we look to the present Assembly to make ample provision by which this, as well as the other objects of the Board, may be more fully accomplished.

Two suggestions are made respecting present forms of application. The Assembly of 1879 adopted this regulation: "No student addicted to the use of tobacco in any form shall be granted aid by this Board." The Assembly of 1887 directed "the Board to continue the rule that beneficiaries shall not use tobacco." After these declarations, we find that, almost every year, there are young men in our seminaries who persist in using tobacco, and then excuse themselves on the plea that the word ADDICTED does not signify a total abstinence. We ask the Assembly to make a rule concerning the meaning of which there will be no misunderstanding in the future.

The rule providing for applications for aid through the faculties of the seminaries is not as satisfactory as was anticipated. Complications arise at times when the faculty would much prefer to have the Presbyteries, or the Board, responsible for action taken. It is found, also, that the number of applicants have increased annually since the adoption of this rule. The belief is, that there will be a still greater increase if the present method is continued. The Board is of the opinion that better results would be obtained by making applications, as formerly, through the formal act of Presbytery.

The Board asks for an appropriation of $12,000.

The term of office of Rev. T. H. Hanna, D. D., Rev. A. Renwick, and Mr. S. C. Hogue, expires with this Assembly.

By order of the Board,

R. GRAHAM, President.
A. RENWICK, Secretary.
W. T. CAMPBELL, Cor. Sec.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

By the direction of the General Assembly in 1862, a fund was established for the relief of aged and infirm ministers. Ever since that time the movement for this most worthy object has steadily advanced with increasing influence and usefulness. In 1864 it was extended to include the indigent widows and children of deceased ministers. In 1873 it was organized into the Board of Ministerial Relief, which was formally incorporated in 1875.

Aiming only at relieving ministers of our Church and their dependent widows and children who have their applications for aid endorsed by their Presbyteries, this Board has worthily commended itself to the sympathies, the prayers and the contributions of our whole Church. The past year has happily manifested this with increased interest, and thus the Board has been enabled to carry relief to still larger numbers of worthy ministers and their families in their dependence and their need. Only let the contributions to this Board be enlarged, and still greater help can be given to all beneficiaries and to a greater number, and thus still greater good may be done.

During the past year the disbursements have been larger than ever before, and the increasing demands upon the Board each year make it obvious that the income from the endowment and regular receipts will in time all be required to meet these demands.

Number of beneficiaries during the past year: males, 14; females, 36. One aged minister died, and one minister's widow.

The Board would ask for an appropriation of $10,000 for the coming year.

The statement of the treasurer showing the receipts and disbursements of the past year is appended:

PHILADELPHIA, May 15, 1893.

REPORT OF WOMEN'S GENERAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The year ending April 15, 1893, has been a year of progress to this Board. The work of the several departments has been steadily carried on and regular reports received from the Foreign, Home, Freedmen, Church Extension and Parsonage Fund secretaries, with monthly reports of the treasurer and the Literature Committee.

The charter prepared by the General Assembly's Committee was approved by the Board and unanimously adopted by the Convention of the General Missionary Society at Omaha.

The annual summary shows that of the sixty-two presbyteries in the Church, sixty are represented, including the new presbyteries of North Platte, and Pittsburg. Twelve new societies reported, making in all 840 congregational societies, numbering 20,365 members.

Contributions, $50,809, to which add the value of boxes, $7,756, making a grand total of $58,565.

The trustees of the Waitsburg Academy having presented the claims of Waitsburg Academy, the Board pledged $1,000 for this institution on condition that the balance of the required sum be first raised.

FOREIGN WORK.

In the Foreign Department, we are pleased to note that the past year has been one of progress both at home and abroad; one full of blessing and encouragement, even though mingled with chastisement in one of our fields, where cholera, fever and famine made fearful ravages among idol worshipers and followers of the false prophet. Even though native Christians suffered severely from contagion and epidemics, our missionaries were kept from harm and, with one exception, the names of our missionary women, married and unmarried, still have place on the roll of faithful ones who have gone out as messengers of truth to those sitting in darkness and superstition. Mrs. Jean Given Anderson, one of the eight who sailed for India, October, 1891, has been called up higher, to mingle her voice with the voices of those who sing praises around the great White Throne. Her name has been carved on the memory tablet of our Women's Hospital at Sialkot, but she has a more lasting place in the hearts of those who came under her sweet and pious influence.

Work at Home. The contributions of missionary societies give no indication of a backward tendency during the past year. On the contrary, a number of societies have shown increased interest by liberal contributions, and the undertaking of special work, which required greater effort on their part, than during other years.

Contributions.—The total amount of money contributed by missionary societies for foreign mission work during the past year, $15,822.42. Of this amount, $15,186.27 came into the treasury of the Women's Board, making with balances from year before, $24,221.54; $636.15 of the first amount was paid by a few societies direct to the treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions, and that Board has kindly allowed it to be credited on our women's work, and it has been reckoned in the following disbursements:—

On salaries of 19 unmarried missionary women	$ 9,170 00
Girls' Schools, Egypt	746 33
" " India	807 82
Zenana work, Egypt	400 00
" " India	478 00
Outfit for two new missionaries	200 00
Traveling expenses	300 00
Rawal Pindi	204 14
Building of Dispensary and Wards at Jhelum, India	5,000 00
Maintenance of Medical Work	1,670 00
Surgical Instruments	94 27
Native Evangelist	66 00
Miscellaneous small specials	36 57
Balance	5,048 41
	$24,221 54

It will be seen from these figures, that the new work contemplated last year has been accomplished, viz., the erection of suitable and comfortable buildings at Jhelum for medical purposes, and the sending out of two new missionary women to Egypt. The missionaries have been in the field several months, and the funds for building are in the hands of the Mission Association.

Work for the Present Year.—As the great need of both of our fields seems to be more missionary women, the foreign department of the Women's Board will make every effort possible to supply that one want, hoping that earnest, efficient, consecrated young women will come forward and offer their services, and that contributions from societies may be increased to warrant their support.

HOME WORK.

The secretary is happy to report continued interest and liberal financial support for the several branches of her work.

Indian Work.—Rev. Joseph Alter reports that the Lord's Supper has been observed three times at the Warm Springs Agency during the past year, and eighteen members received—one by certificate and seventeen by profession. Twelve adults and seven infants baptized. Present membership, 107. Young People's Society membership, 35.

Rev. J. A. Speer, of the Wapinitia Mission, reports that Presbytery has been asked to effect an organization at that place. Forty acres of land have been given to us by the allotting agent. Church building and parsonage completed. Average attendance at church services, 90 to 100. Sabbath School about 70. Miss Black, also of Wapinitia Mission, reports work among the women, organizing women's prayer-meeting, visiting sick and poor, teaching girls in Sabbath School, leading Young People's meeting, etc. She is much encouraged.

Financial Statement.—Balance, 1892, $6,503.94. Receipts, $3,208.55. Disbursements, $7,602.97. Balance, $2,109,52.

Home Missionary Women.—South Omaha having a pastor in charge, Miss Johnson, who had rendered such efficient service, resigned January, 1893. Miss McCool, of Second Church, Indianapolis, Ind., reports that Presbytery effected an organization there Nov. 21, with 33 members; present membership, 45; Sabbath School, 202; Y. P. Society, 30; 1450 calls during the year. On Feb. 5, 1893, Miss Nina Murray began her labors in Sioux City and has made about two hundred calls to date, April 10. Average attendance, morning service, 20; average attendance, Sabbath School, 17, and a Women's Missionary Society has been organized. Work looks encouraging. Salt Lake City still unoccupied because no man has been found willing to undertake the work.

Financial Statement.—Balance, 1892, $6,114.72. Receipts, $6,040.09. Disbursements, $2,323.38. Balance, $9,831.43.

MINISTERIAL RELIEF WORK.

Many societies have sent boxes containing valuable articles of clothing, table linen, bedding, etc., to families of disabled or deceased ministers, many of them also containing money. We also sent $500 to assist in the purchase of a home for a minister's widow and family. The money came from other sources, hence this amount does not appear in the following:

Financial Statement.—Receipts, $437.55. Disbursements, $15. Balance, $422.55.

FREEDMEN'S WORK.

The Freedmen's Board having given the Industrial training for girls into the care of the Women's Board, attention has been concentrated in this direction in so far as supporting this phase of the work at Knoxville, Tenn.; Miller's Ferry, Ala.; Norfolk and Chase City, Va., and Henderson, N. C. The girls are receiving systematic instruction in both cooking and sewing at Knoxville, Tenn., Chase City, Va., and Henderson, N. C., and in sewing at Miller's Ferry, Ala., and Norfolk, Va.; making in all seven industrial teachers and one Bible reader (at Norfolk) that have been supported, as also meeting the running expenses of this department at each station. In the Little Girls' Home nineteen little girls have been supported.

Financial Statement.—Balance from last year: Freedmen's General, $1,540.04; Little Girls' Home, $197.36. Freedmen's General: received during the year, $4,517.96; disbursed, $4,489.67; balance, $1,568.33. Little Girls' Home: received during the year, $615.83; disbursed, $801.25; balance, $11.94.

CHURCH EXTENSION AND PARSONAGE WORK.

The work has been most encouraging. By assistance received from the Missionary Societies two congregations have been enabled to build parsonages, a loan being granted to Willamette, Oregon, of $600.00 for eight years, and one to Neill Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, of $3,500.00 for eleven years. Two more are under consideration: Clearfield, Ohio, and the Second Church, Portland, Oregon.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY WORK.

The Junior Missionary work of the Church has received special attention. As directed by the Women's General Missionary Society the Board appointed a secretary to take charge of the Mission Band work. Twenty-seven Presbyterial Secretaries have been appointed and the missionary education of our youth is securing special attention throughout the Church.

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 22, 1893.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

In this report the object has been not to produce an original likeness of the Church according to our own views, or as seen by ourselves, but to make a composite picture of the many sketches which have been furnished us by courteous and faithful clerks and secretaries. In this way we see our Church as others see it.

The Ministry.—Our Church has 810 ministers. During the year 13 have died; 7 were dismissed to other churches; 1 was suspended; 6 were received and 24 ordained, making a net increase of 9. It is well not only to remember those who have departed and entered into their rewards, but also to make, in the official history of our Church, some record of their names and services. Therefore, we submit the following:

MEMORIAL RECORD.

JOHN CAMPBELL BRYSON, of Kansas City Presbytery. His parents were William Bryson and Hannah (Bryson) Bryson. He was born in Washington county, Pa., January 17, 1821. He made a profession of faith in 1840, in the Associate Reformed congregation of West Alexander, Pa. He graduated at Bethany College in 1846, and studied theology four terms in Allegheny Seminary. He was licensed April 11, 1849, by Steubenville Presbytery. He was ordained November 12, 1850, at Blairsville, Pa., by the Blairsville Presbytery. He was pastor at Puckety, Pa., 1850 to 1854; Mt. Gilead, Pa., September, 1855, to 1866; stated supply at Fairview, Mo., 1868 to 1872; served in various places in Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, 1873 to 1877; voluntary supply at Warrensburg, Mo., 1882 to 1892, in alternation with Rev. John C. Steele. He served as a member of the United States Christian Commission during the closing year of the civil war. He was married April 15, 1851, to Miss Nancy Agnes Chambers, Pittsburgh, Pa., and to Miss Hannah Maria Fulton, Washington, Iowa, May 3, 1877. He had eight sons and three daughters; all by his first wife. Six sons and two daughters survive him. He died in St. Louis, Mo., November 25, 1892, of chronic bronchitis. His wife survives him.

EBENEZER BROWN CALDERHEAD, of Concordia Presbytery, died at Marysville, Kans., September 25, 1892, where he had made his home for the last six years. His father was Rev. Alexander Calderhead, who came from Scotland with Dr. John Mason about 1800. His mother was Margaret (Brown) Calderhead, a relative of John Brown of Haddington. He was born in Belmont county, O., January 4, 1810. His first communion was in Piney Fork congregation, O., of which his father had been the first pastor. His college was Franklin, in New Athens, O., where he graduated in 1836. He attended the Allegheny Seminary. He was licensed by Steubenville Presbytery, May 19, 1840. He was ordained by the Presbytery of Second Ohio, August 11, 1841. He was pastor of Jonathan's Creek and connections in Perry county, O., from August 11, 1841, until April 12, 1854, when he was released from Jonathan's Creek, remaining pastor of the connections, Rush Creek and Thornville, until January 22, 1861. He made no publications, except occasional newspaper articles. He married Martha B. Wallace, sister of Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., of Robinson Run congregation, Pa., November 23, 1843. He had eight sons and three daughters. Six sons and three daughters survive him. He died of paralysis and old age; without charge. His wife died February 16, 1872, at Mulberry, Mo.

ARCHIBALD CRAWFORD, of the Presbytery of Philadelphia, was the son of Samuel and Jane (Kirker) Crawford. He was born September 24, 1836, at Newton-Hamilton, Monaghan county, Ireland. He made profession of faith in Newton-Hamilton congregation. He graduated at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O. He attended the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Auburn, N. Y. He was licensed September 3, 1861, by the Presbyterian Presbytery of Cayuga, N. Y., and returned to Ireland. He was ordained October 15, 1864, by the Presbytery of Cavan in the Irish Presbyterian Church. He was for a short time pastor in the Presbyterian church at Cootehill, Ireland. He was pastor over United Presbyterian congregations: Newark, N. J., October 1, 1869, to April 1, 1877, and of the Fourth church, Philadelphia, from May 3, 1879, to October 30, 1883. He supplied in 1890 and 1891 in the Presbyteries of Butler, Big Spring, Argyle, Frankfort, Delaware and Northern Indiana. He was married August 5, 1879, to Miss Margaret Elizabeth McClure. He had one son, who still survives him. He died at Warren Point, County Down, Ireland, February 7, 1893, of liver trouble and the breaking of a blood vessel. At the time of death he was without charge, but had been supplying pulpits where openings offered. He preached on Sabbath, two days before his death. His wife survives him and resides in Philadelphia.

ROBERT C. CRISWELL, of the Presbytery of Princeton, was the son of James and Elizabeth Criswell, now at Mars, Pa. He was born in Butler county, Pa., March 1, 1849. He made a profession of faith in the congregation of West Union, Pa. He graduated at Westminster College in 1874, and attended the Allegheny Seminary. He was licensed April 10, 1877, by the Beaver Valley Presbytery. He was ordained April 17, 1878, by Muskingum Presbytery. He was pastor at Lebanon, O., April 17, 1878-October 21, 1885; Ontario, O., June 8th, 1886, until September 8, 1891; Somerville, Eden and West Union, pastor-elect and on the ground from November, 1891, to October 6, 1892, on which date he was installed pastor at Somerville and Eden, Ind., but was not yet installed at West Union, Ill., when he died, October 23, 1892. He was married May 13, 1875, to Mary E. McKibben, Mt. Gilead, O. He had four sons and three daughters, of whom two sons and three daughters survive him. He died at Somerville, Ind., October 23, 1892, of typhoid fever. His wife survives him.

HUGH FORSYTHE, of the Presbytery of Muskingum, was the son of David and Isabel (Wilson) Forsythe. He was born at Rix's Mills, O., December 3, 1817. He made profession of faith in the congregation of Salt Creek. He graduated at Franklin College in 1838, and attended the full course at the Allegheny Theological Seminary. He was licensed by Second Ohio Presbytery April, 1841, and ordained and installed by the same pastor at Fairview and Washington, Guernsey county, O., May 24, 1842, resigning Washington April, 1852, and Fairview February, 1861. He was stated supply at Barlow, O., 1861-1865. His first wife was Mary McFadden, Cadiz, O., and his second wife, Margaretta Anderson Burns. He had three sons and one daughter, of whom only one son survives him. He died in Centre township, Guernsey county, O., Dec. 5, 1892, of diabetes. At the time of his death he was without charge. His wife survives him.

JOHN DUNLAP GIBSON, D. D., of the Presbytery of Delaware, was the son of Colin and Margaret (Miller) Gibson. He was born in Cambridge, N. Y., August 20, 1815. He made a profession of faith in the Associate Reformed Church of Cambridge at the age of eighteen years. He pursued his literary studies at the Cambridge Academy. He attended the Theological Seminary at Newburgh. He was licensed by the Washington Presbytery, April 2, 1838. He was ordained by Caledonia Presbytery, January 6, 1839. He was pastor at Seneca, N. Y., January, 1839, to spring of 1844; Stamford, N. Y., February 5, 1845, to December 29, 1885. He was president of the Delaware County Bible Society for forty years; served one year as financial agent of Newburgh Seminary, and one year as moderator of New York Synod. He published two sermons, "The Great Commission," and "The Infallible Teacher and Sovereign Savior." The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred by Westminster College in 1876. He was married, September 12, 1838, to Catherine D. Wood, of Newburgh, who died July, 1891. He had four sons and two daughters. Three sons and one daughter survive him. He died in South Kortright, N. Y., January 6, 1893, of disease of the heart. At the time of his death he was without charge.

[ROBERT N. HAMMOND, son of George and Ann Hammond, was born September 2, 1852, in Aughnacloy, County Tyrone, Ireland, and came to this country when fifteen years of age. He graduated from Westminster College in the class of 1874, and studied theology in the Xenia Theological Seminary. He was licensed April 26, 1876, by Xenia Presbytery, and ordained February 19, 1879, by Vermont Presbytery. He was pastor at Barnet Center, Vt., from his ordination to September 5, 1882, and at Thompsonville, Conn., from September 1, 1885, to April 22, 1890. For a time after his resignation he lived at Thompsonville, Conn., and then removed to New York City, preaching as he had opportunity till three Sabbaths before his death. He died in the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, Dec. 4, 1892, of Bright's disease. He was married June 25, 1879, to Miss Ella Hammond, who survives him.]—The Clerks.

[JOHN WALKER HARSHA, of the Presbytery of Argyle, the son of John and Nancy (McDougall) Harsha, was born March 9, 1808, in Argyle, N. Y. At an early age he made a profession of his faith in the South Argyle congregation. He received his preparatory education at Cambridge Academy, was graduated at Union College in 1834, and pursued a full course of theological training at the Canonsburg Theological Seminary. He was licensed, June 27, 1838, by Muskingum Presbytery, and ordained, April 28, 1840, by Ohio Presbytery. He was pastor of New Lisbon and West Beaver, Ohio, from 1840 to 1844, and of Bethel, Lawrence county, Pa., from 1844 to 1853, when he resigned, because of a throat trouble. He was professor of Latin and English Literature in Westminster College from 1853 to 1856. He afterwards lived in Argyle, N. Y., but on account of infirm health was not able to engage in active ministerial work. His publications are as follows: "Pardon of Sin," 16mo, pp. 241, 1853; "Song of the Redeemed," 12mo, pp. 482, 1870; "A Sermon for the Times," 1856; "An Address on the Course and Design of Collegiate Study," and a number of articles in the periodicals of the Church. He died of paralysis in Argyle, N. Y., August 18, 1892. He was never married.]—The Clerks.

GULIAN LANSING, D. D., of the Presbytery of Egypt, was the son of John and Eliza (Groat) Lansing. He was born in Lishaskill, N. Y., February 1, 1825. He made profession of faith in the Dutch Reformed Church, at Niskayuna, N. Y., in 1843. He graduated at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1848, and attended his whole course in the Associate Reformed Seminary, at Newburgh, N. Y. He was licensed May 22, 1850, by the Associate Reformed Presbytery of New York, and ordained August 7, 1850, by the same Presbytery. He sailed December 12, 1850, for foreign mission service at Damascus, Syria, and was thence removed to the mission work in Egypt early in 1857, and there continued until his death. He served as foreign missionary; professor in the Theological Seminary at Cairo; delegate to the Presbyterian Council in 1877; president of Directors of hospital in Cairo. He published "Egypt's Princess" in 1864; numerous essays and articles in home and foreign periodicals; superintended the translation and publication of a metrical version of Psalms in Arabic. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him by Union, Monmouth and Princeton, all in the same year. He was married August 7, 1850, to Maria Oliver, Lishaskill, N. Y., and to Miss Sarah B. Dales, missionary in Cairo, Egypt, August, 1866. He had three sons and one daughter, all of whom but the daughter survive him. He died at Cairo, Egypt, September 12, 1892, of consumption. At the time of his death he was professor in the Theological Seminary in Cairo, and had partial charge of the church in Cairo. Mrs. Maria (Oliver) Lansing died July 5, 1865. Mrs. Sarah B. (Dales) Lansing died November 26, 1889.

JOSEPH PETTIGREW, of the Presbytery of Des Moines, was the son of Joseph and Mary (Gibson) Pettigrew. He was born near Belfast, County Down, Ireland, February 3, 1836. He made a profession of faith when quite young, in the congregation of Board Mills, Rev. Mr. Sturgeon, pastor. He pursued his literary studies at a private school in Belfast, and also under Prof. Scott, in Chattam, England, and attended the Allegheny Theological Seminary. He was licensed April 16, 1883, by the Presbytery of Monongahela. He was ordained April 30, 1884, by the Presbytery of Frankfort. He served as pastor at Patterson's Mills, Washington county, Pa., from April 30, 1884, to October 12, 1886; and at North English and Fairview, Iowa, from May, 1888; released from North English June 11, 1889, and from Fairview April 13, 1892. He served five years in the English army, and ten years in the civil service in England, and came to Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1869. He was at one time a local preacher in the Methodist Protestant Church, and for six or seven years prior to uniting with our Church had charge of a Sabbath School in the eighteenth ward, Pittsburgh, Pa. In his work he was quite successful. He was married September 18, 1853, to Miss Rebecca Simpson, of Ballynahinch, Ireland, who survives him. He had two daughters, both of whom are living. He died in Guernsey, Iowa, April 16th, 1892, of kidney trouble.

SAMUEL BRIGGS STEWART, of the Presbytery of Frankfort, was the son of John and Sarah Jane (Briggs) Stewart. He was born in Plumville, Indiana county, Pa., December 24, 1844. He made a profession of faith in Apollo congregation before his fifteenth year. He was a member of the 139th Penna. Volunteers, August, 1862-May, 1865. He graduated at Franklin College in 1874. He attended the Allegheny Theological Seminary three terms. He was licensed June 20, 1876, by Westmoreland Presbytery. He was ordained June 18, 1878, by the same Presbytery. He was pastor of Madison congregation, Pa., June 18, 1878, to July 1, 1879. He was stated supply at Corning, Victoria and Woodside, Adams county, Iowa, in College Springs Presbytery, July 1, 1879, to October, 1880; pastor of Clinton and Shiloh, Butler county, Pa., in Butler Presbytery, April 4, 1882-October 31, 1887; Hanover and Tumlinson's Run, January 30, 1889, and resigned Tumlinson's Run May 1, 1892. He was the pastor of Hanover at the time of death. He was married November 17, 1880, to Margaret A. Martin, Corning, Iowa. He had two sons and two daughters, all of whom but one son survive him. He died at Harshaville, Pa., March 6, 1893, of apoplexy. His wife survives him.

[Thomas Beatty Stewart, son of Robert E. and Elizabeth (Ferguson) Stewart, was born October 1, 1854, in Glenwood, Rush county, Ind. He graduated at Indiana University in 1880, and studied theology two years at Xenia, and one year in the Presbyterial Theological Seminary of the Pacific. He was licensed August 29, 1882, by Indiana Presbytery, and ordained April 11, 1883, by San Francisco Presbytery. In the autumn of 1882, he took charge of a mission in San Francisco, Cal., organized it as the Second church, May 18, 1883, and was installed as its pastor August 4, 1884, and this pastoral relation continued till his death. He was a commissioner to the Assembly of 1892, and before his return home he was attacked by the disease which terminated his life. He died at Monmouth, Ill., July 25, 1892, of a ruptured blood vessel, the result of typhoid fever. His wife, Sarah Lenorah Wylie, to whom he was married June 8, 1883, and two daughters survive him.]—The Clerks.

John Cree Telford, D. D., of the Presbytery of Conemaugh, was the son of Stephen and Mary Telford. He was born at East Greenwich, N. Y., August 22, 1821. He made a profession of faith in East Salem, now Shushan, N. Y., in 1843. He graduated at Jefferson College in 1844, and studied theology four terms in the Associate Seminary at Canonsburg. He was licensed June 20, 1848, by Chartiers Presbytery. He was ordained January 1, 1850, by Clarion Presbytery of the Associate Church. He was pastor of Mahoning and connections from January, 1850, to April, 1867; from that time of West Union and Olivet until April 15, 1879, and of West Union alone until his death. He was moderator of the Synod of Pittsburgh at its meeting in Burgettstown some years since. He published an able sermon on Psalmody. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him by Westminster College in 1888. He was married November 14, 1850, to Miss Martha Oram at Canonsburg, Pa. He had one son and four daughters; all of whom except one daughter survive him. He died at West Lebanon, Pa., December 17, 1892, of heart failure. He was at time of death pastor of West Union congregation. His wife survives him.

The number of pastors and stated supplies in the Church is 566—24 more than last year, while 244, a decrease of 10, are without charge. However, the number of installations is 2 less, and the number of releases 12 greater. This seeming discrepancy is explained by the fact that there is a much larger number of stated supplies. When one is called a "stated supply," but labors as a pastor, by the appointment of Presbytery and according to the wishes of both congregation and minister, the mere omission of a formal installation, for which there is no Scripture authority, need not be lamented with copious tears or dark forebodings. It is possible that we are only moving towards the system of official appointments, which has been so successful in the Methodist Church, with the additional advantage on our part of the fundamental Presbyterian principle—the consent of both minister and congregation. If an adoption of some method of appointing laborers to their fields, or a modification of the methods of settling, releasing and transferring pastors will render our unemployed ministers more available, exempt congregations from suffering so long from the loss of a fixed gospel ministry, and will relieve them of the friction and trouble so common under our present plan, many ministers and congregations will hail the change with unfeigned pleasure. The number of licentiates is 81—19 more than last year. The number of licensures has increased from 31 to 50. However, the number of students not licensed has decreased from 92 to 66. The number of students licensed at the end of their second year accounts largely for this decrease.

Membership.—The number of communicants in our Church is 111,119. During the year 13,086 have been received—7,174 on profession of faith and 5,912 on certificate. The net gain is 2,101. The net increase in the 200 stations receiving aid through the Board of Home Missions is 1,463, or 12½ per cent., or one for every eight members, or two-thirds of the net gain of the whole Church. This is the largest net gain both in members and per cent. in the history of our home mission work. This large increase is not due to the large number received in these stations by certificate; for they received fewer certificates this year than last, and the decrease by deaths and removals is almost equal to the increase by certificate; while the increase by profession is about 10½ per cent. The net gain of the whole Church is a little less than two per cent., or of one member in 51, or an average of less than three in a pastoral charge. While we ought to lament the lack of our missionary zeal and the weakness of our efforts in seeking the salvation of the lost, yet these figures do not represent the full result of our labors; for the gross gain of members on profession is a little more than three times the net gain. The number of deaths will not account for the small net increase, for this number is only about 1,600. The smallness of the net increase is due very largely to our great loss of members by removal. The removals are reported as over 9,000, and yet less than 6,000 were received on certificate, leaving about 1,500 not reported. Where are our wanderers to-night? Some have wandered into other denominations; but we have received a large number, probably as many and perhaps more from them. Some, who once went to the house of God with the voice of joy and praise, having become negligent of duty, have had their names removed to retired lists, and are wandering around their old churches—not often into them—and are not reported as members; for many sessions, which desire to make a fair showing in the flesh as concerning giving, constrain the number reported to be circumcised by cutting off all which trouble them by their failure to contribute to the so-called quota. Others, with certificates in their pockets or trunks, are wandering over the prairies or through the cities like lost sheep without a fold or shepherd. What can be done to save to our Church these thousands? Efforts should be made to induce those who remove from one place to locate where we have a congregation or a prospect of one. Those removing to an entirely new country should go in colonies and take the Church with them. We recommend that instead of granting certificates of dismissal to members themselves, that there be granted, on request, a transfer of membership from one congregation to another in any evangelical Church. 1,518, or a little more than one-fifth of the number received on profession, were baptized on their reception. This shows either that infant baptism was sadly neglected many years ago, or else a very encouraging increase from the world. 3,911 infants were baptized during the year. The relation of such to the Church is a most important question, on which a report is to be made by a special committee. Twenty-two congregations have been organized during the year; one has been received and twelve have been dissolved, making a net gain of nine, although the number reported is fifteen more. We cannot explain the discrepancy. There are 207 mission stations, of which 38 have been organized during the year. 23 houses of worship have been erected at an average cost of $5,858, or about $600 more than the average last year, and $1,000 more than the year before. There are still 61 congregations—about one in 15—without buildings. 16 parsonages have been built during the year, making a total of 254, or one in every three pastoral charges.

Sabbath Schools.—The number of Sabbath Schools has increased from 1,090 to 1,116. There are, however, 250 fewer officers and teachers, and about 2,000 less number of scholars. We have no means of knowing why the number has decreased. The number of scholars, counting all the children of the Church and all brought in by missionary efforts, is still nearly 15,000 less than the number of communicants; and the total number of scholars, teachers and officers is 5,000 less than the number of communicants, nearly all of whom ought to be in the Schools. So our Sabbath Schools are only about one-half their proper size. Perhaps the use of the name Bible school might have a tendency to obviate the objection or prejudice of many communicants, who think that they are too big for Sabbath schools. The contributions of the schools are nearly $80,000, or about $3,600 more than last year, and $8,000 more than the year before.

Our Young People.—We write with pleasure of the young people because they are strong. The number of their societies has increased from 589 to 664, and their membership from 24,000 to 28,000. The general answers to the question, "Are the young people active and loyal?" are: "Yes." One modifies his answer, saying, "For the most part." Another says, "Loyal? Yes; Active? Not all." Another, "They are loyal, but only tolerably active." Another, "More active than loyal." One cautious brother answers, "As loyal as young people usually are." But many intensify their answers "Emphatically;" "Universally;" "Yes, and growing more so," and "Extraordinarily so." It has come to pass in these days that God has poured out his Spirit on all flesh, and our sons and daughters are prophesying, and our young men are seeing visions of what they can do in the Lord's cause, and our old men are dreaming dreams, rational and sensible dreams, of the glorious results which will follow these efforts.

Missionary Societies.—The figures given by the secretary of the Women's General Missionary Society, and by the second clerk of the Assembly, do not agree. By a comparison of all the reports, however, we believe that there is but little change from last year. The number of societies is about 860, with about 20,000 members. These societies are very zealous and active, and are doing a great work now, and planning greater things for the future. The relation, however, of one of these societies to its congregation, out of which it is formed, and of the General Society to the Church, is something difficult for a man to understand, and perhaps ought to be determined more definitely by the Assembly.

Contributions.—The contributions of the year are $1,400,090, or $113,000 more than the regular contributions of any other year. Of this amount $563,000 was for salaries, $437,000 for congregational purposes, $295,000 for the Boards, $110,000 for general purposes. The average per member is $14.07, or an increase of 69 cents, the highest yet reached.

General.—The narrative and comparisons already given show something of the state of religion in the Church. The reports of the Women's Societies and the Young People's Societies, whose members constitute nearly one-half of our communicants in this country, indicate that the Church is not asleep or careless, but active and earnest. The increase of contributions, without special call, shows an increase in the grace of liberality. Our people are learning to give more as an act of worship, more systematically, more cheerfully, and, therefore, more freely. The testimony to the loyalty and activity of the young people is not only an indication of the present spiritual condition of a large and important class, but also a promise and earnest of the future.

The missionary spirit throughout the Church seems to be growing in intensity and improving in character. We hear less of the romance of missions and less appeal to the natural sensibilities of the human heart, but there is a stronger and more general desire to support home and foreign missions because of devotion to Christ, love to souls, loyalty to our Church and a sense of duty. That this land may be taken for Christ, that other lands may learn of his grace and salvation, and that our Church may bear her part of the burden and share her part of the reward, is our increasing desire and prayer. Individual effort or personal work is increasing in amount and efficiency. Our people are well qualified for evangelistic labors. With her perfect songs of praise, and her almost perfect tunes arranged for them, with her musical culture and aids in singing, with the general education and religious knowledge of her people, with the high social and moral standing of her members, and with the freedom and skill in teaching or preaching the gospel that is being attained by the women, and especially by the youth, scarcely any or no other Church in the World is so well fitted for evangelistic labor, or according to size is able to do more in missionary work. This country, and even the world unto earth's remotest bounds, will yet hear of the United Presbyterian Church. Thousands on thousands of lost sinners, saved by grace, will rejoice because of the evangelistic efforts of her people; for of many, it shall be said, "This and that man was born in her; and the Highest himself shall establish her."

But some things show that we have not yet reached the greatness of our strength. The increase in membership does not indicate that our Church has arisen in her full power and is shining with her full light, or that she has put on her most beautiful garments. The number attending Sabbath school, or Bible school, does not show that all her people are Bereans, more noble than those in Thessalonica, and that they love the study of the Word more than ease and sleep or social conversation on the Sabbath, even if they do desire it more than gold and sing of it as sweeter than honey. Or, if the communicants are in the school, constituting the number of its scholars, then we are not doing all the missionary work that we ought to do in that place of wonderful opportunity. Nor does the attendance at public worship, and the place of the public proclamation of the gospel, show that the Church has attained, and is using her full missionary power. The average attendance of her members shows a high regard for God's house, and a diligent use of the means of grace for themselves. But the attendance of outsiders as reported, or the size of the audience as compared with the membership, demonstrates either that our people are not as diligent and successful in making their friends and companions glad by saying to them, "Let us go into the house of the Lord," or else that we are more successful in bringing attendants and occasional hearers to Christ and into the church membership than the reported increase by profession indicates. Many report the attendance of the unsaved as small. But how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? How shall they hear unless they come to church? How will they come unless they be invited? To invite and urge friends and strangers, or to constrain them to come in, that God's house may be filled, is the work of the people especially. However, a few Presbyteries report an average attendance larger than actual membership, and even a very encouraging attendance of outsiders.

Presbyteries and sessions report a very general faithfulness to the distinctive principles of our Church. Our people hold to the Bible as the very word of God, true and infallible. "The law of the Lord is perfect," is held as one of our distinctive principles, which in these latter days is becoming more of a distinction. "An unsophisticated doctor of divinity," a professor in a Presbyterian Seminary, fitted for the chair of Dogmatic Theology, an inconsistent opponent of both higher criticism and Psalm-singing, remarked in a pompous manner recently, "Well, I suppose you U. P.'s havn't done away with the five books of Moses yet?" "No," was the answer, "that would be almost as bad as your Church doing away with the book of Psalms." But because the Word is perfect, and "the Scripture cannot be broken," and any part thrown away as imperfect, or as unsuited for its intended use, is a good reason for holding firmly to all of it, including that book given by the Spirit to be used as a manual of praise to the end of the world. A low estimate of the book of Psalms will tend toward a low estimate of the other books. The high regard of our people for the Word of God is one reason for their high regard for the book of Psalms, as well as their high regard for the book of Psalms being one reason for their high regard for the whole Word. The Psalms are loved and sung, and our people are singing them into a more general favor and use. Were objectionable features in their publication removed, or were they published not as denominational, but as union songs, they would be introduced into many other meetings outside of our Church.

Notwithstanding the surprising increase in the number and the terrible efforts of secret societies, and the most irresistible importunity of their members and their offers of reward to the living and dead, or their many most deceitful promises for this life and that which is to come, but very few of our people are ensnared. Other distinctive principles are maintained with a high degree of faithfulness. Our people, although aggressive in regard to methods, are wisely conservative in regard to principles.

"What is the attitude of your people toward prohibition, Sabbath and other reforms?" is another important question. The following are fair samples of answers received: "Our people are great on reforms;" "Strongly favor;" "Every congregation reports activity;" "All favorable, some aggressive;" "Interest considerable, and increasing;" "Favorable, but many indifferent;" "Favorable, except on election day;" "Favorable, but not as enthusiastic as they should be;" "All pray on the right side;" "No discount;" "Generally radical, some lax;" "Mixed—indifferent, awake, radical, cranks." Although engaged in the fight concerning the Columbian gates on the Sabbath, yet the overwhelming question in the minds of the people is that of prohibition. Our people are sound, but as one reports, "differ as to the how." The difference is whether prohibition or party should have the capital P.

The mid-week meeting for social worship seems to have been better attended, and to have increased in interest. This is due partly to the spiritual condition of the Church, partly to the training of the women and the young people, and partly to an increase in the use of uniform topics. The list prepared by your committee is used in most of the presbyteries, by one-half or two-thirds of the congregations, and some presbyteries report all the congregations as using them. Family worship and other religious duties of the home are reported generally to be well observed, although there is some laxity, or as a few say, a growing carelessness. The religious condition of our colleges is most excellent, and we have a devoted and consecrated body of students in our Theological Seminaries.

Presbyteries and sessions have reported this year in regard to the dissemination of religious literature. The importance of denominational literature is admitted by all, and need scarcely be emphasized. We are a reading people. Parents and children will read something. What they read, they become. One cannot take fire into his bosom and not be burned, or tar into his hands and not be defiled. The current literature in a home decides largely and indicates almost surely the politics and religion of the family. Loyalty to a political party is shown, maintained and increased by party papers. So loyalty to the Church is shown, maintained and increased by denominational literature. Nearly all of our Sabbath Schools use the supplies furnished by our Board of Publication; the young people generally receive the Young Christian; nearly one-fourth of the women in the missionary societies receive their monthly Magazine, and judging by the reports of clerks and by the reports of publishers—who are not often accused of understating their circulation—about two-thirds of our families receive one of the weekly papers published in the interest of our Church. In some presbyteries and congregations, especially the most prosperous ones, more are taken. In a few places where the Church is not growing, clerks report as low a proportion as one-fifth or even one-tenth as receiving them. Either the Church is prosperous where the papers are taken and read, or else they are taken and read where the Church is prosperous. But what of the 20,000 or 30,000 of our members and their children and several thousand adherents who do not read our denominational literature, and so do not know what the Church is or what it is doing at home and abroad, and who lack this religious and denominational instruction and stimulus? Is it important or necessary that they should be supplied? If so, how shall it be done? If no provision is made by any fund of the Church or congregation, how shall those who have the most need of them be induced to receive religious periodicals? But denominational literature in the form of books and pamphlets and tracts is not as well circulated as the papers. Tracts, except those published by the Women's Missionary Society, are almost unknown in our Church. Religious books have not the place that they should have in our homes. Should not our Board of Publication be not only more aggressive and liberal in its dealings, but also more missionary in spirit? Is that Board merely a business concern to make money, or is it an agency for the circulation of religious literature? Perhaps instead of refusing aid and boasting that it can stand alone, it had better ask help, and by a wide circulation of its cheap or free publications run out on missions of grace throughout the Church. There may be difficulties, but some measures should be taken to extend our denominational literature of all kinds.

This report is written at so late a date that it is impossible to submit it to other members of the Committee. The chairman only is responsible for it, with all its errors and defects. As this is generally the case, the suggestion is made that hereafter the Committee consists of one member, and that he report on the State of Religion, and that the Second Clerk be instructed to prepare the "Narrative." We suggest further that the Assembly adopt a list of questions for presbyteries and a corresponding one for sessions, which shall make inquiries on the matters on which a report is desired, and that these lists be distributed early in the year. Or we suggest that, instead of a committee to report on the State of Religion at the end of the year, the Committee on Ways and Means include some ministers and that it consider not only the methods of increasing the grace of liberality, but of all the graces, and also that it consider and urge plans for evangelistic work among the people, and that it report to each Assembly concerning its work and the State of Religion in the Church.

In conclusion, we believe that the Church is in a prosperous condition, that the state of religion among the people is high, and that we as a denomination have much reason for gratitude and joy as well as for confession and sorrow. The Church is organized and active, pious and prosperous. Still there is a need. The track is built; the train is made up; it is standing at the depot; passengers are aboard; the conductor gives the signal; but all is still or moves but slowly. What is the trouble? Nothing, only the steam—the great moving power—is lacking. The Church is well organized and equipped; all is ready; officers signal to go forward; there is unusual activity among her people; but her great moving power—the divine Spirit—is not present in such abundance as is needed. The Church moves; it is moving, perhaps faster than for years, but still it is moving too slowly. Not better organization, not more equipments, not the throwing out of some brakemen who lock the wheels, not the removal of obstructions, is needed, so much as a baptism by the Spirit of power. Praying for the presence and power of this divine Spirit in the Assembly and in the Church of our choice, this report is submitted.

REPORT ON THE UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE QUARTER CENTENNIAL COMMISSION.

The report of moneys I have received and paid out on account of unsettled matters of the Quarter Centennial Commission is as follows:

To balance on hand, as reported to the Assembly of 1892	$336 16
To cash from Lawrence Cong., Kansas Presb'y	10 00
To interest two years on $336.16	40 32	—$386 48
By Board of Foreign Missions	$ 77 30
" " Home "	19 32
" " Freedmen's "	15 46
" " Church Extension	54 11
" Ministerial Relief	15 46
" Allegheny Seminary	34 78
" Xenia Seminary	34 78
" Westminster College	46 38
" Muskingum "	30 92
" Monmouth "	46 38
" Knoxville "	11 59	—$386 48

This makes the sum total paid out by the Commission, $380,454.73. 165 congregations reported that under the influence of the Quarter Centennial movement they raised for new buildings and old debts the sum of $329,490.00, or making total amount raised, $709,944.73.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS.

Early in the past summer your Committee sent a personal letter to the Financial Agent of every Presbytery throughout the Church, asking for suggestions as to methods of work for the year 1892–1893, asking some as to the causes of their success, others as to the difficulties they met with and the means of overcoming them.

Many valuable answers were received to these letters, although some failed to acknowledge them. Acting upon the suggestions received from several Financial Agents and individual pastors, your Committee had prepared large charts, 38x50 inches, showing the amount appropriated by the Assembly to each of the different Boards of the Church, and also blank spaces to be filled out by the Financial Agent, showing how much was asked of the congregation for each one of the Boards.

One chart for each congregation in the Presbytery was forwarded by mail or express to the Financial Agent of every Presbytery, and he was asked to fill up the blanks, and forward to each congregation, and report the expense, if any, to your Committee. We also forwarded a smaller chart, 30x40 inches, direct to each congregation, showing how easy it was to raise $3.04 per year per member, if a little system were used and a little work given. The expectation of your Committee was, that both of these charts would be given a conspicuous place in the church, and kept there throughout the year, as a reminder to the people of the claims of the Church upon them, and the ease with which those claims could be met. Very many letters of approval have come to your Committee from pastors and laymen in regard to these charts, although a few have sent words of censure. We desire to express thanks to the Board of Publication for furnishing one of these charts free of cost.

During the year 100,000 twelve page folders were distributed throughout the Church, giving facts and figures of intense interest to every loyal United Presbyterian. These folders showed, in the most compact form possible, our work at home and abroad, what each Board of the Church had done, and was doing, how much was appropriated to it, and how much each member of the Church was asked to give to the support of each Board. Your Committee would like to know from pastors at the Assembly if these folders were helpful to them, or were read and studied by the people.

The minutes of the last Assembly were carefully gone over, and a record made of each congregation, as to the number of members, amount asked for by the Assembly, amount paid, amount in excess, or amount short. To the sessions of each congregation shown to be short, a kind but urgent letter was sent, showing the above mentioned calculations, and recommending the "envelope system," according to the action of the Assembly—page 40, Minutes, 1892. To these letters many responses were received, some giving good reasons why they could not do more than they were now doing, some approving of the suggestions and asking for information, while a few seemed to prefer being let alone.

It was the desire and plan of the Committee to have one or more of its members attend each Synodical meeting held throughout the Church during the year, but for unavoidable reasons, this was not accomplished. The Synod of Ohio, the Second Synod, Synod of Nebraska and a number of Presbyteries were visited. The Committee desires to acknowledge the kind courtesy shown its representatives at these meetings, and the interest taken in the Committee's work.

We take great pleasure in stating also that a majority of the Presbyteries have had conferences on the general subject of "Christian Giving," and also that the same subject has been presented and discussed in many of the Young People's Conventions.

While the contributions of the Church are yet far below her giving ability, yet there is great reason of encouragement, and cause for thankfulness in the advance being made. The year just closed shows a steady growth in the grace of giving. The contributions for all purposes for the year are $1,400.090, or $123,802 more than the preceding year. The direct contributions to the Boards are $23,793 more than last year. The general average for the year ending April 30, 1888, was $11.43 per member; 1889, $12.23; 1890, $12.34; 1891, $12.34; 1892, $13.38; 1893, $14.07.

The number of congregations contributing to all the funds of the Church for the year ending April 30, 1888, was 195; 1889, 178; 1890, 175; 1891, 196; 1892, 367; 1893, 432.

Congregations failing to report in 1891, 64; 1892, 61; 1893, 41. Some of these 41 we are sure gave something, but they failed to report it.

The movement among the women of the Church this year has been a grand success. Their contributions through their own Board this year has been a gain of over $4,000 on last year; their special thank offering over $37,000, a gain of $30,000 over last year; total gain of over $37,000; and while doing this, the leaders in the work urge every woman to do her full share in all congregational expenses, including the Boards of the Church, before giving to her own society.

The young people are also being interested, and are consecrating their earnings to the Lord's cause. At the annual Institute of Our Young People's Christian Union, held last week in St. Louis, the members pledged themselves to do all in their power in their respective congregations to raise the full amount asked for by the Assembly for the year 1893–1894. If pastors and elders are wise in encouraging and utilizing this comparatively new force in church work—young people's organizations—especially in the direction of meeting financial obligations, the Church has seen its last list of delinquent congregations.

Your Committee would call your attention to the fact that the office of General Financial Secretary created by the last Assembly is still vacant. Your Committee believes it is very desirable to have such a secretary appointed by this Assembly, if the right man can be secured.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

It gives the General Committee pleasure to report that the past year has witnessed a steady and healthy progress in Our Young People's work. For this we thank God and take courage. We have endeavored to keep the work well within the lines of congregational activity. The Committee is in sympathy with the idea that Our Young People, as an organization, shall take up no special work outside of that which their respective congregations may be called upon to do. We realize that to do its work as it ought to be done, and as the Church is asking that it should be done, each congregation needs the efforts of its young people, both as individuals and in their organized capacity. We wish to see the gifts and abilities of our young men and women laid upon the altar of the congregation of which they are members. So we have sought to interest the young people in their own church work. That the work is growing and thriving under this policy is indicated, first, in the figures given in the annual reports, as gathered by the Second Clerk of our General Assembly; and second, in the spirit of the work as indicated in the annual reports received by our Secretary from the various societies. The figures show as follows:

FIGURES OF THE WORK.

Number of Societies	524	589	664
Members	19,026	23,994	28,092
Junior Societies		47
Membership		1,706

Of these 664 societies, the Secretary of the General Committee has received reports from 374, or about 60 per cent. of the whole number. Blanks have been returned from only 53 congregations with the statement that they have "no young people's organization," although it is apparent from Assembly reports that there must be over 200 congregations where the young people are not organized. Here is a field for effort for the General Committee, and Secretaries, General and Presbyterial, yet to come. True, most of these congregations in which there are no organizations are weak, many of them without regular service; but the experience of past years proves that there is no better way to resurrect an old, decaying church, or put life into a feeble little flock struggling for existence, than by banding together and putting to work the young people within its bounds.

The societies from which reports have been received have contributed during the past year, $17,873.02. It is interesting to note the purposes for which the money has been used. To pay the expenses of the various societies, $4,139.21 has been required. To assist in the work of the congregations has taken $7,828.98. For session work outside of that done in the congregation, $3,753.18. The balance is in the treasuries of the various societies. We may infer that the societies not reporting have contributed as much money in their work, in proportion, as those from which reports have been received. If this inference is correct Our Young People must have raised, the past year, about $30,000.

It is also interesting in this connection to note the manner in which money has been raised. Seventy-two societies adopted the subscription plan; 265 raised the funds needed by collections, and 142 by entertainments. Quite a number levied a tax upon the membership. All this has been done without a special pressure or effort. Who can estimate the value to the young people of the Church of this training in giving?

SPIRIT OF THE WORK.

If there has been progress in the work from a numerical point of view, there has been a like progress, perhaps greater, in the spirit of work prompting our young people. We asked reports from societies as to encouragements and discouragements. Probably half of these reports stated that they have been much encouraged the past year, and indicated in what manner by calling attention to their "increased attendance and increase of interest." A number speak of a "decided growth in spirituality"; others call attention to the "increase in interest of the older people," while others speak of the increasing interest of the young. Some are impressed with the fact that "many more are taking part," and some describe the state of affairs by speaking of the "faithfulness" of the young people. A few find encouragement in the fact that interest in business meetings is increasing, and others say "that committees are more active."

Only a few see their discouragements so great that they think necessary to mention them. "Non-attendance" and "lack of interest in business meetings" and in "committee work," discourage a number of societies, while "back seats" get the blame in a few. "Poor place to meet" is the trouble with quite a number, while still more are discouraged by "having no pastor." Several societies complain that there is yet "objection made by the older members of the congregation" to their organization, and a very few state that the sessions object. The complaint made by the greatest number is that "we cannot get the young men interested." To such we hope that the late Institute may have brought encouragement by showing how to overcome this difficulty.

The same general sentiment of encouragement and hopefulness is seen in the reports from the Presbyterial Secretaries. We have reports from but 27 Presbyteries, or about half. These report 33 conventions held, all of which seem to have been very helpful to the general work. There seems to be a steady increase in the practical instruction and help given in these conventions, while the merit of the exercises and improvement in this respect call for frequent remark on the part of those reporting.

SPECIAL WORK.

While, as before remarked, the Committee has not favored special work outside of congregational lines, yet we have realized that this great force might be better utilized in the churches by doing there some special work, tending to build up the cause in that locality, and which should be done "under direction of the session." Asking for reports of what has been accomplished in this line, we are gratified to learn that many societies have worked through mission schools and special prayer-meetings, although nothing accurate can be given as to the number so working. Many have been interested in the laudable work of establishing libraries or reading rooms. Others have edited church papers, and thus have stimulated interest in local work. The poor and the sick have had special care of several unions; hotel and house-to-house visiting have occupied the attention of others. Two city societies have engaged in prison and hospital visitation, three supported or helped to support local missionaries, and a number helped improve or build church buildings or parsonages. Organizing and conducting revival meetings, helping improve the praise service, temperance work, Sabbath morning meetings, supplying the church with flowers and bringing in Sabbath School scholars, were fields of work for many more.

THE GENERAL INSTITUTE.

The General Institute, held in the First Church, St. Louis, May 18–21, 1893, although not so largely attended as some previous meetings, was of a very interesting and practical nature, and we believe fully up to any of its predecessors in the training for work and in stimulating to loyalty those in attendance, loyalty to Christ, and to the principles of our Church, being the prevailing thought throughout the exercises. Although unsolicited, several societies sent in thank offerings to a total amount of $105, which is herewith passed over to the General Assembly for disbursement.

DIFFICULTIES.

The General Committee has realized the past year more than ever before the difficulties in the way of directing the Young People's work by the present system of control. This movement has grown so rapidly, has reached such dimensions, and is so without precedent, that any system that might have been adopted at the beginning would now need change and improvement. You can realize some of the difficulties, when you remember that the members of the General Committee are located in almost every part of the Church. During the past year, for example, the General Secretary has been in the extreme eastern part, the chairman in the western part. Nearly all consultation with the Assembly part of the Committee must be by correspondence, resulting in loss of time and delay. For this and other reasons we suggest that this General Assembly take the steps necessary to change the method of management to meet the present conditions of the work.

THE WORK OF THE GENERAL SECRETARY.

In accordance with the instruction of the last General Assembly, Rev. M. G. Kyle, General Secretary, visited a number of conventions and church meetings in the interest of the work of the young people. The annual meetings of four of the Synods, Iowa, Pittsburgh, New York, and the First Synod of the West, were attended. With one exception, these were Synods not visited the previous year. One or more addresses were made at each place. The work of the young people received marked attention from the members of these Synods. It was manifest everywhere that the Young People's Society is a valued helper in the work of the Master, and from being regarded a very few years ago as a somewhat doubtful experiment is given to-day a place alongside of the Sabbath School, and held as scarcely less important.

SUGGESTIONS.

Our recommendations to the Institute at St. Louis, and which were adopted by that body, are as follows :

1. That this General Institute take such action as may be required to consolidate and localize the management, by requiring that the General Secretary give his entire time to the work; that in addition to his duties as defined by the General Assembly he also be assigned the duties usually performed by the Secretaries of the Church Boards.

2. That Our Young People be again urged to devote their talents and their contributions to the upbuilding of their own congregations, and that the action taken at the East Liverpool Institute, urging the organization of Mission Sabbath Schools wherever practicable, "under direction of the session," be endorsed and again commended to the Young People's Societies, as a work offering the best of training in personal work, and tending to build up the Church in their respective localities.

3. That the officers of the various unions and societies be urged to promptness, neatness, and care in making their annual reports, so that hereafter a more complete view may be had of the work through these reports than has yet been secured.

4. That Our Young People be invited to contribute to a thank offering the coming year, and that the General Assembly to meet at Monmouth, Ill., May 24, 1893, be requested to name the object to which this offering shall be devoted.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE G. WALLACE,
Chairman General Committee.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON REFORM.

The year just closing has been one of more than ordinary interest and activity in the matter of moral reforms. Never before, perhaps, in the history of the Church have there been such a massing of forces and unity of action among the various denominations of evangelical Christians on behalf of moral measures of a public nature as during the last twelve months. This has served to unify the Christian people of the country in a way that is truly gratifying and encouraging to all who seek the moral renovation of society.

1. Temperance. The evils of intemperance are so apparent, so manifold and so monstrous in their character and effects, that it has come to take a first place with all sincere reformers. There has been nothing new or especially noteworthy in this line during the current ecclesiastical year. The Christian women, who have become the leaders in this department of reform effort, have gone quietly, persistently and self-sacrificingly forward. There is evidence that the enthusiasm of our countrywomen is having its effect on their sisters across the seas, and that a fire is being kindled that will ere long, we trust, grow into a world-wide conflagration, which will sweep this giant evil from the face of the earth. As usual, the matter was pressed on the attention of the people during the last autumn in its political aspect through the presidential campaign. An outrage, it is felt, was perpetrated on the temperance element of the country by the Columbian directory, in granting to drunkard-makers the privilege of carrying on their nefarious traffic within the precincts of the people's exposition. Progress has been made during the year in many cities in the eastern states, in securing local option. So the good work goes on.

2. Sabbath Reform. On the matter of the preservation of the Sabbath, especially in its civil aspect, the year has marked an epoch in our country's history. At our last Assembly the crisis was upon us. The Congress of the nation had been appealed to on behalf of the rest-day, which is an inheritance from our fathers. The local directory of the Exposition, now in progress in Chicago, had refused to abide by time-honored precedent or regard the religious convictions of the great mass of our population and close the gates of the Fair on the first day of the week. Congress made its appropriation, however, conditional on the closing of the Fair on the Lord's day. This was a signal victory for the Sabbath and the religious people of the nation, as it set a precedent for future legislation, as well as secured the Fair against being opened by legislative sanction. Scarcely less was the interest taken in the battle fought in the State of Pennsylvania, in whose legislature an effort was made to repeal the Sabbath law which has stood on its statute book for almost a hundred years, and has preserved that commonwealth from much of the evil of Sabbath desecration which is demoralizing other parts of the country. A great mass convention was held at the capital of the state, Harrisburg, which was a surprise to both friends and foes. Hundreds of the leading business and professional men of the state, together with ministers, laboring men and women came pouring into the capital for the defence of the Lord's day. The law was saved.

The action of the officers in charge of the public buildings at Washington, D. C., in refusing the use of the pension building for a so-called sacred concert on Sabbath, March 5, in connection with the inaugural ceremonies of President Cleveland, is a matter for congratulation among Christian people. It is but just to record that the President-elect sent a message to Secretary Noble, directing him to forbid, in his name, the holding of the meeting and giving of the proposed concert as a part of the inaugural ceremonies.

Efforts are still being made by the enemies of the Lord's day to have the World's Fair opened on the Sabbath. It is expected that the General Assembly will take a positive stand against such a breach of trust as will leave none of its constituents in doubt as to their duty in the premises should such efforts succeed.

3. National Reform. There have been so many demands on the friends of this organization for work along specific lines during the past two years, that less effort than ordinarily has been put forth in their particular field. It is not to be overlooked, however, that it is in no small measure from their seed sowing of the last twenty-five years that the grand harvests in reform are being reaped to-day. Reform does not flourish on mere sentiment. It is because the people of the country have been indoctrinated in the fundamental principles of political righteousness that they respond to calls in defense of imperiled moral interests. The association should share more largely in the benevolent contributions of the Church than it has hitherto done. We would suggest to the Assembly the consideration of the question as to how this important and most worthy reform agent may be assisted in more efficiently prosecuting its great work.

4. The Public Press. It has been made sadly evident in the contest which has been waged during the last year in the effort for the preservation of the Sabbath, that the daily press of the country is almost solidly on the side of irreligion. We believe the time is very close at hand when the Christian people of the country will be under necessity to take up and seriously consider the question of establishing daily papers, to be published in the interest of good morals and the Christian religion. The mass of the secular press of the country are disseminators of irreligion and unbelief, and operate powerfully against the progress of the gospel and the cause of true reform. As Christians, we are exposing our children to most deadly peril by permitting these enemies of truth admission to our homes. Is it not possible for the Assembly to devise some measure that will bring this matter to the attention of other Christian bodies, and thus start a movement that seems to be a desideratum of the hour? In the meantime we should do all we can to encourage the daily papers that have stood by righteous measures, and have refused especially to join the crusade against the Sabbath by the publication of a "Sunday" issue.

REPORTS OF THE COMMITTEE TO PREPARE AN OVERTURE ON THE POWER OF THE ASSEMBLY OVER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARIES.

MAJORITY REPORT.

The Committee appointed to prepare an overture touching "the power of the General Assembly over the Theological Seminaries" beg leave to report as follows:

It seems to us that the object of our appointment was not to formulate an overture declarative of the present relation of the Assembly to the Seminaries, but to prepare an overture with a view to ascertaining what the Church thinks ought to be the relation of the General Assembly to those institutions.

The failure of the measure known as "The Enabling Act," together with the tenor of the last Assembly's decisions, appears to indicate that so far at least as existing seminaries are concerned, the Church is not disposed to place them under the immediate and sole control of the General Assembly.

But many may desire that the General Assembly, representing the Church as a whole, should be vested with a larger measure of control than is now accorded to it over the institutions in which mainly the future teachers of the Church are to receive their theological education. Hence, in order to elicit a definite expression of the mind of the Church on this important matter, and without committing ourselves individually or collectively to any side, we submit to the Assembly for transmission to the Presbyteries the following questions to be answered "yes" or "no":

1. Shall confirmation by the General Assembly be necessary to render valid the election of any person to a professorship in any of the Theological Seminaries of the Church?

2. Shall the General Assembly possess the power to remove with, or without, judicial trial any professor from any Theological Seminary of the Church?

Should the two questions just stated, or either of them, be answered in the affirmative, the following is to be answered "yes" or "no":

3. Shall the Book of Government and Discipline, part I., ch. V., art 4, sec. 3, be amended by inserting immediately after the words "course and term of study" the following words, or so many of them as may be sanctioned by the vote on the two previous questions: "to confirm, and so render valid, the election of professors to any of the Theological Seminaries and to remove with, or without, judicial trial any professor from said Seminaries."

JAMES HARPER.
W. C. WILLIAMSON.
J. B. MCMICHAEL.

MINORITY REPORT.

The Committee on an Overture "relating to the power of the General Assembly over the Theological Seminaries" would report as follows:

1. That the General Assembly has power according to the Book of Government and Discipline, "to establish and regulate Theological Seminaries so as to secure uniformity in the course of study," Art. 4, Sec. 3. The Book does not claim the right of the Assembly to assume control, in greater or less degree, of Theological Seminaries already in existence at the time of the formation of the Union and in 1864, when the Book of Government was adopted, and which have always been under efficient Synodical management and control. The Assembly has never exercised her function of establishing Theological Seminaries. She has been content with those set in operation by other agencies. Neither has she, so far as we can find, at any time endeavored to exercise authority over these schools, except within the strict letter of the Book, namely, in the adjustment of curriculum and length of terms. Upon a few occasions she has voted in confirmation of professors, but has laid no commands upon Seminary authorities that elections be reported to her for purposes of confirmation. She has simply accepted whatever recognition has been given her, as is shown by the act of the Assembly of 1890, as follows: "Resolved, It is not required of the Board of Managers of our Seminaries to report the election of professors to the General Assembly." This act may be interpreted as a declaration that the Assembly does not claim jurisdiction in any degree in the election of professors, and amounts to asking that no further reports of elections be presented to her for confirmation.

2. The question of Assembly control of the Seminaries is no new one. The meeting of that court in 1870, provided what is known as the "Enabling Act," whose purpose was to secure the entire control of the Seminaries to the Assembly. This was amended in 1871 in several points of objection, such as the title in property and the support of professors, in order to meet certain demands in the Church. As thus amended, it was earnestly urged upon the Synods in 1873. In 1874, owing to the reluctance shown by the Synods to accede to its terms, and indeed, in view of the hostility manifested, a special committee was raised by the Assembly to request the favorable action of the Synods in charge. It had but little influence. In 1875 another committee was appointed to represent the case to the persistently hesitating Synods and secure their favorable action. In 1876 it was found that no progress was being made, one Synod declining to consent to the transfer of jurisdiction (New York); one returning no answer (Synod of Ohio); while another, upon riper consideration, had rescinded her previous favorable action (First Synod of the West). This series of futile efforts to obtain Assembly control of the Theological Seminaries was protracted through seven years, and was then practically abandoned in 1876, upon the recommendation of the committee in charge. In the seventeen years elapsing since that time, nothing has arisen in the history of our theological instruction calculated to change the Church's judgment as then expressed. The work of the Seminaries is satisfactory to the Church. Nor is there anything within our ecclesiastical horizon which will seriously modify the views of the Church on these matters. She is probably content to have these institutions proceed as they have satisfactorily done through our entire denominational history.

3. It is a question whether the Assembly has any power to overture to the Presbyteries matters pertaining to the Seminaries, which the Church did not originally place in her hands, and which by its judgment upon the "Enabling Act" it distinctly declined to allow to pass from the Synods to the Assembly. An overture assumes a measure of jurisdiction in the Assembly over the Seminaries in the matter overtured; otherwise such an overture is mere meddling. However, except in the points defined by the Book of Government, the Synods alone have exercised jurisdiction. The previous propositions for transfer made by the Assembly have recognized that jurisdiction. Upon Synodical refusal it has still been allowed. That is, it has been continuously recognized that the Synods are entitled to exercise control, and not the Church at large. They are Synodical possesions, bearing much the same relation to the Church as the Colleges. For the Assembly to overture their transfer in any matters is to trespass upon a province heretofore recognized by the Assembly itself in the "Enabling Act" as belonging to Synods, and which Synods have refused to vacate.

Besides, the overture would not be one in which the whole Church could have a part. All the Presbyteries are not in Synods having charge of Seminaries. It could scarcely be expected that those without such Synods should be permitted to vote. The overture would, therefore, have the somewhat singular character of a limited destination. The Book of Government requires, however, transmission of overtures to all the Presbyteries, art. IV., sec. 5.

4. Even if the Presbyteries should respond favorably to an overture increasing the powers of the General Assembly, it would not be of value in the premises, inasmuch as the Synods in jurisdiction in their Synodical capacity would not have passed upon the contents of the overture. The present control does not lodge in the Presbyteries, but in certain Synods, distinct and different courts. A presbyterial vote has no official bearing upon official Synodical action. In this view, a presbyterial vote upon this subject would be invalid, and therefore futile. Nothing would be effected should the Assembly overture the Presbyteries upon the relation of the Seminaries to the Assembly. It is impossible to overture the Synods as such, inasmuch as the Book designates Presbyteries as the destination of all overtures. The probability is that the Assemblies of 1870 and 1871 reached the limit of their powers in efforts to secure Assembly control of the Theological Schools already established in the "Enabling Act," whose provisions were refused by the Church.

5. The present management and control of the Seminaries are most effective, and yield all the fruit the Assembly could secure. The doctrine taught and the grade of attainment reached by the students are entirely satisfactory. The faith of the Church is as perfectly secure as it is possible to make it. Allegheny is under the care of four Synods, and Xenia of five. The Boards of Directors are not self perpetuating, close corporations, as is the case in some of the Seminaries of other denominations, out of which conditions serious doctrinal troubles have arisen; but they are bodies elected by the Synods one-third every year, to serve for terms of three years each. They and the professors alike are placed under solemn obligation to maintain the doctrine and order of the Church. These Boards are simply the servants of the Synods, are subject to their orders, and may be changed as often as desired by the Synods, and so approved teaching and behavior be secured from the professors who are within their jurisdiction. Any heresy or other defect can be reached at once by these courts in charge of the institutions. Nothing more effective could well follow the appointment of an Assembly Board of Managers. This is an absolute guarantee that pure doctrine will be required.

In the choice of professors nominations are made to the Synods by the Boards of Directors. Synods, however, have power to make independent nominations. Every opportunity is thus afforded for bringing out correct judgment upon the candidates, in respect of both personal quality and doctrine. No other court is so favorably circumstanced and constituted for all this work of review and control. It is in the main permanent, and not representative. The Assembly is each year composed of new men who can have neither the opportunities for knowing the facts involved, nor the time to properly canvass the case. In the nature of the case, it is a body removed from intimate connections with the Seminaries. The Synods, on the contrary, have their members of the Board at their meetings, receive reports from the Seminaries, which they have time to consider, and by virtue of geographical location, and reports from their students in Presbyteries, and otherwise, are in position to have the best obtainable information.

It is also to be remembered that since the Assembly probably could not take the burden of the pecuniary support, and indeed many features of the management, any interference by it would tend to lessen the sense of responsibility for these schools now more locally felt, deplete present interest and so lessen their efficiency. What they are, is not because they have been fostered by the Church at large, but by the sections in which they are located. It is commonly felt that support carries with it the right of control. It will be difficult and hazardous, therefore, to place the General Assembly in any measure of jurisdiction which may interfere with present Synodical prerogatives. In these days, when liberal gifts and large endowments are becoming almost absolutely essential to Church education, no action can be afforded which will lessen affectionate local interest. Our own experience as a Church and wide observation inform us that such institutions owe their success very largely to those more closely connected with them, and those who may be influenced by them to contribute to their resources. Indeed, a large amount of the endowments already received has been given because of local Synodical control.

In view of these things it is our opinion that the General Assembly should not overture the Presbyteries upon this subject; and we would, therefore, ask to be excused from preparing and presenting such an overture.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES A. GRIER,
W. J. ROBINSON.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FEDERATION OF THE CHURCHES.

The Committee appointed by the last General Assembly to represent the United Presbyterian Church in the meeting on the federation of the churches of the land, respectfully submit the following report:

At a meeting in New York, on March 2, of the Committees of Conference on Federation, of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America; the United Presbyterian Church; the Reformed Church in America; the Reformed Presbyterian Church, General Synod, and the Associate Reformed Synod in the South, a sub-committee was appointed to digest and report a plan of federation of the Reformed Churches holding to the Presbyterian system, to be a basis for further conference.

The sub-committee met in New York on April 4, and unanimously agreed upon a report. The report was submitted to a second meeting of the Committee of Conference in New York on April 25, and after a long and careful consideration and amendment was unanimously and heartily agreed to. A copy of it accompanies this report.

It was further resolved that the chairmen of the different committees be requested to report this action to their General Assemblies and General Synods, and to ask for the continuance of the committees for the purpose of further consideration of the subject with each other and with other committees that may yet be appointed. The secretary, Rev. R. M. Patterson, D. D., was also requested to send a copy of the action to the General Assemblies and General Synods of the Reformed Churches in the United States, holding to the Presbyterian system, that have not yet taken action on the question of federation, and to ask for the appointment of committees for conference on the plan with a view to perfecting it and reporting it to all the General Assemblies and General Synods for action. The secretary was also authorized, after the meeting of the Assemblies and Synods, and after receiving their action in the premises, to call a meeting of all the committees appointed, further to consider and act upon the plan. All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. P. SANKEY,
JAS. A. REED,
W. S. MCEACHRON, Committee.

PLAN OF FEDERATION.

For the glory of God, and for the greater unity and advancement of the Church, of which the Lord Jesus Christ is the head, the following Articles of Constitution and Federal Union between the Reformed Churches in the United States holding to the Presbyterian system are recommended for adoption:

1. Every denomination entering into this Union shall retain its distinct individuality, as well as every power, jurisdiction and right, which is not by this constitution expressly delegated to the body hereby constituted.

2. Full faith and credit shall be given by all of these denominations to the acts, proceedings and records of the duly constituted authorities of the other denominations.

3. For the prosecution of work that can be better done in union than separately, an ecclesiastical assembly is hereby constituted, which shall be known by the name and style of the Federal Council of the Reformed Churches in the United States of America holding to the Presbyterian system.

4. The Federal Council shall consist of four ministers and four elders from each of the constituent denominations, who shall be chosen, with alternates, under the direction of their respective General Assemblies or General Synods, in such manner as those Assemblies or Synods shall respectively determine.

5. The Federal Council shall endeavor to promote united work for the reclamation of the Christless masses in the large cities, towns and old rural settlements of the country; co-operation in home missionary work by the different denominations in the new settlements and among the freedmen of the South, in such a way as to remove denominational friction and prevent the multiplication of weak and antagonistic organizations where unnecessary; and the prosecution of the foreign missionary work by the different denominations on the same principle of comity, so that different denominations shall cultivate particular fields. It shall also keep a watchful eye on current religious, moral and social movements, and take such action as may concentrate the influence of all the churches for the preservation of their religious inheritance and the maintenance of their fundamental principles.

6. The Federal Council may advise and recommend in all matters pertaining to the general welfare of the kingdom of Christ, but shall not exercise authority, except such as is conferred upon it by this instrument, or such as may be conferred upon it by the federated bodies. It shall not interfere with the creed, worship or government of the denominations. All matters of discipline shall be left to the exclusive and final judgment of the ecclesiastical authorities of the denomination in which the same may arise.

7. The Federal Council shall have the power of opening and maintaining a friendly correspondence with the highest Assemblies of other religious denominations, for the purpose of promoting union and concert of action in general or common interests.

8. All differences which may arise between the federated bodies, or any of them in regard to matters within the jurisdiction of the Federal Council shall be determined by such executive agencies as may be created by the Federal Council with the right of appeal to the Federal Council for final adjudication.

9. The officers of the Federal Council shall be a President, Vice-President, Clerk and Treasurer.

10. The Federal Council shall meet annually, at such time and place as may be determined.

11. The contingent expenses of the Federal Council shall be divided equally between the denominations.

12. Amendments to this constitution may be proposed by the Federal Council or by any of the General Assemblies or General Synods, but the concurrent action of the General Assemblies and General Synods shall be necessary for their adoption.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

The Committee met in the First Church, Chicago, July 12, and sat through four consecutive sessions. The Synods were all represented, except Nebraska and Pacific. Rev. James A. Grier, D. D., of the First Synod of the West, and Rev. John A. Wilson, D. D., of the Synod of Ohio, were not able to be present, but the Synods were respectively represented by Prof. R. W. McGranahan, of Westminster College, and Hon. H. A. Hart, of Wooster, Ohio. The Board of Education was represented by Rev. Andrew Renwick.

The direction given to the Committee was, (1) To arouse the people throughout the whole Church to foster our theological and literary institutions, and to present during the year the cause of higher education before the Synods and Presbyteries of the Church, and to prepare and publish in our Church papers and in the form of tracts suitable literature on the subject. (2) To take into consideration the location of new academies, colleges and seminaries, claiming the recognition of the Church, and what may be done in the way of unifying our educational work. (3) To consider plans and devise ways and means for the promotion of the educational work of the Church.

1. To meet the Assembly's direction, "to prepare and publish in our Church papers, and in the form of tracts, suitable literature on the subject of higher education," the Committee appointed Revs. J. A. Grier, D. D., J. D. Irons, D. D., and C. H. Strong a sub-committee for this purpose. As a result, directly and indirectly of this appointment, some fourteen articles were prepared on important features of Church education by brethren in the Church, and published in the Church papers. Also, a tract was prepared, entitled "Our Church Education," setting forth the Church's educational duty to her youth, the great embarrassment of our educational institutions for lack of adequate financial support, and an appeal to persons of means in the Church to aid our institutions by personal gifts. Fifty thousand copies of the tract were printed and mailed to all the ministers and correspondents of vacancies in the Church.

To bring the subject of higher education before the Synods and Presbyteries of the Church, the Committee agreed that the members, individually, arrange for conferences in their respective Synods, and as far as possible, in the Presbyteries of their Synods, and that a printed copy of the action of the Committee be placed in the hand of every member of our Synods and Presbyteries. As a result, a conference was held in every Synod, unless it be the Synod of the Pacific, from which no report has been received, and also in many of the Presbyteries. In all these conferences the subject of higher education was earnestly discussed, and in most of them the report of the Committee was carefully considered and heartily approved.

2. In regard to the location of new academies, colleges and seminaries claiming the recognition of the Church, the Committee was not called upon to take action, for the reason that no such claims were presented. We recommend that the question of new academies, colleges and seminaries be referred to the Presbyteries and Synods in conjunction with the Board of Education, and that their action thereon be subject to the approval of the General Assembly.

On the question of unification of our educational work, the Committee discovers there is a great want of uniformity in the courses of study pursued, and the standards of scholarship required for similar degrees in our several colleges, and that a considerable amount of energy and means are expended upon branches of study that have no place in a proper college course, and that there is a deep and wide-spread feeling throughout the Church asking for a revised, advanced and uniform course of study and standard of graduation. Therefore, in regard to the unification of our educational work,

First, We recommend the unification of all our educational institutions by affiliation in a uniform system.

Second, We recommend that an advisory and supervisory Committee be selected by the General Assembly to act in conjunction with one representative from the faculty of each of our educational institutions, and that this joint committee be instructed to formulate a uniform standard of scholarship and graded curriculum of studies that shall be operative both in course and graduation, and made applicable to both academies and collegiate institutions.

Third, We commend the growing sentiment in favor of a university, but are of the opinion, however, that no move for the establishment of such an institution should be made until at least a million dollars is pledged for this purpose, and that the establishment of such a university be regarded as essential to the completion of an organic educational system.

3. In considering plans and devising ways and means for the promotion of the educational work of the Church, the Committee recognizes the fact that our Board of Education have been faithful in carrying out the expectations and instructions of the Assembly, but our needs have enlarged and the conditions of the time have changed and the educational idea of the Church is higher and broader. We, therefore, recommend that the Board of Education be reorganized and reinstructed to meet the changed conditions, and the just expectations of the Church.

We believe that the most efficient aid that can be given to students is to provide the best possible facilities for a thorough education at the least possible expense. We recommend that the Board of Education be relieved from the work of aiding students as soon as possible, and that this work be committed to the management of our educational institutions.

The committee recognizes that while our institutions are doing a good work for the youth of the Church, they are doing it with so limited means and facilities as to oppress and embarrass the professors, and seriously interfere with the attainment of such a standard in the several college departments as would place our institutions on a plane with similar ones of sister denominations. The standing of our Church must, in a large measure, take rise from the efficiency and proficiency of her educational institutions, and her maintenance and aggressive work depend upon the thorough education of her youth. This desirable and necessary result cannot be realized while our professors are overworked and under-paid, and such facilities as are required for attaining the standard of scholarship required by the exigencies of the time are either entirely wanting or are the barest possible make-shifts.

Our institutions must be supported. The problem before the Committee, given it by the Assembly for solution was, How shall this be accomplished? There seem to be three ways by which a church college may be supported. One, and the best when it can be accomplished, is permanent endowment by personal gifts. But for this our institutions have been waiting from their infancy, and their experience does not inspire a brilliant hope for the immediate future. Unless donations and bequests multiply greatly beyond the ratio of the past, the educational demands of the time will always be greatly in excess of our financial ability.

Another means of support is the local "collection basket" plan, and this begets pauperism. This plan has been tried by all our institutions, and has been found wanting.

The third plan is an appropriation by the whole Church. This measure has worked well in supporting educational institutions in Egypt, India and amongst the Freedmen, and by parity of reasoning ought to work well in supporting the institutions of the Church at home. This measure, heartily entered into and faithfully carried out, would relieve the present financial pressure and enable our institutions to enlarge their facilities and increase their efficiency, until such time as permanent endowments have been secured. It would have the effect of placing the educational burdens of the Church upon the whole Church, instead of upon the localities where the institutions are located, and where the burdens have hitherto fallen. Moreover, we believe this plan would have the effect of arousing the whole Church to a deeper consideration of her educational needs, and would thus hasten the time when the institutions of the Church will be permanently endowed. The great interest the Church has taken in missions is the result of direct appeals to every church member to help support the work. It cannot be unreasonable to expect the same result, when the cause of home education, upon which the mission work of the Church and our denominational existence depend. If such an appropriation should be made, the question of distribution arises, but this was no insuperable difficulty when the Quarter Centennial Fund was distributed, and need occasion no invincible difficulty again. We, therefore, recommend that an appropriation be made annually to the Board of Education, and that it be distributed to the institutions affiliated under the prospective plan of Assembly unification, and approximating a certain prescribed standard or test of academic, collegiate and theological efficiency, respectively, and we recommend that $25,000 be appropriated for the first year.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Committee.

J. D. IRONS, Chairman.

REPORT ON THE RELATIONS AND PRIVILEGES OF THE BAPTIZED MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Committee presume that by "baptized members of the Church" are meant the non-professing and non-communing members. For we do not suppose that the General Assembly intended that we should report in regard to the relations and privileges of Church communicants, all of whom are presumed to have been baptized.

2. The non-professing members of the Church consist of two classes, children and adults. The true principle in regard to both these classes is that, according to the divine law, they are members of the Church from birth. As the offspring of Christian parents they are born members of the Church, and are recognized as such by the rite of baptism. That the infants of believing parents are included in the Abrahamic covenant and are therefore to be baptized is taught in our Larger Catechism, as follows: "Infants descended from parents, either both or but one of them professing faith in Christ and obedience to him, are, in that respect, within the covenant, and to be baptized." (Q. 166.)

3. Persons thus born within the covenant, and recognized by baptism as being of the seed of Abraham, are from birth entitled to all the rights and privileges of members of the visible body of Christ. Of these rights and privileges they are the born heirs and possessors. It is the right and privilege of all the infant members of the Church to be instructed and prayed for, to attend public worship, to take part in prayer-meetings, to partake of the Lord's Supper, and to vote in the election of pastors and other church officers. But some of the rights and privileges of the infant members of the Church must for the present be held in abeyance, like the rights of an infant heir of an estate, and the rights of infant members of the body politic. The idea of an infant voting in the choice of a pastor is absurd. Even the instruction of a very young infant, of an infant only a few weeks or a few months old, is impossible. Instruction must be delayed until the infant becomes capable of receiving it.

So also infant communion is an impossibility. Infants, children only a few weeks or a few months old, are both physically and intellectually incapable of partaking of the Lord's Supper. Besides this, the divine teaching requires that every communicant at the Lord's table shall be capable of self-examination and shall have knowledge to discern the Lord's body in the holy ordinance. (1 Cor. 11: 28, 29.)

4. Most assuredly children should be admitted to the Lord's Supper as soon as they make a credible profession of faith in Christ, however young they may be. It is not a question of age, but of knowledge, faith and piety. If children only ten years old give evidence of faith and piety, and thus make a credible profession, they should be admitted as communicants to the Lord's table. Even if children only six years old give evidence of knowledge, faith and piety, we know no law for their exclusion from Christ's table.

5. The Church has a special duty to perform with reference to all her non-professing members. The Church and Christ have a special claim upon them. All those who have been born and brought up in the Church, have been recognized by baptism as members of the visible body of Christ, and have been instructed and warned, are under special obligations to own Christ and serve him. By persistence in unbelief and disobedience, such persons incur deeper guilt and a severer doom than those who are not so highly favored. It is, therefore, the duty of Christian parents, of Sabbath School teachers, of pastors and other office-bearers in the house of God, and of all Christian people, to be deeply concerned for those who are born members of the Church, and to labor and pray for their conversion and salvation. It is the duty of pastors, teachers and parents to remind such persons of the great responsibility which rests upon them in view of their relation to the Church, and to the covenant on which it is founded.

REPORT ON THE CHARTER OF THE WOMEN'S GENERAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The officers of the General Assembly would report that, in accordance with the directions of the last General Assembly, they held several meetings with the Women's Board for the purpose of drafting a new or amended charter for the Women's General Missionary Society. Such a draft was agreed upon and it has been pronounced legal by competent lawyers. It embodies the instructions of the last Assembly, is similar to the charters of the other Boards of the Church, and gives the General Missionary Society the power of directly electing the members of the Women's Board. It has been submitted to the General Missionary Society at its recent meeting at Omaha, and it is now submitted to the General Assembly. It is as follows:

Be it known that the subscribers, having associated themselves together for the purpose of supporting missions and medical missionary institutions, and of erecting mission churches and homes for missionaries, in this and other countries, being desirous of becoming incorporated agreeably to the provisions of the act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled, "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved the 29th day of April, A. D., 1874, and its supplements, do hereby declare and certify that the following are the purposes, objects, articles, and conditions of their said association, for and upon which they desire to be incorporated:

1. Name. The name of the corporation shall be, "The Women's Board of Missions of the United Presbyterian Church of North America."

2. Object. The corporation is formed for the purpose of coöperating with the Boards of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, in the support of missions and medical missionary institutions, and of erecting mission churches and homes for missionaries, in this and other countries, subject to the General Missionary Society and the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

3. Place. The place where the business of the corporation is to be transacted [illegible] city of Pittsburgh, in the state of Pennsylvania.

4. [illegible]istence. The corporation is to have perpetual existence.

5. Subscribers. (Under this section are recited the names and residences of the fifteen persons now constituting the Board of Directors.)

6. Stock and Members. The corporation has no capital stock. It shall be composed of fifteen members, who shall be citizens of Pennsylvania, chosen by the Women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, to serve for three years, five being elected each year; the first named five of the subscribers shall serve for one year, the second five for two years, and the third five for three years.

7. Powers. The corporation shall have power to receive by donation or bequest, to purchase and to hold such real and personal property as its purposes may require, not exceeding the amount limited by law, and the same to dispose of at pleasure, provided that there shall be no sale or transfer of real estate except by a vote of two-thirds of the members at a regular meeting, or at one called for the special purpose; it shall hold all its property, real and personal, in trust for the United Presbyterian Church of North America, and in the event of the dissolution of the corporation, said property shall inure to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the said United Presbyterian Church, to be appropriated by them to the objects and uses for which it was contributed; it shall be the legal representative of the Women's General Missionary Society; it shall have power to adopt and use a common seal, the same to break, alter, amend, and renew; to sue and be sued: to make, amend, and repeal by-laws, subject to the approval of the Women's General Missionary Society, and subordinate to this charter, the constitution and laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the constitution of the United States, which by-laws shall be deemed and taken to be the law of said corporation, and shall prescribe the powers and functions of the members herein named and their successors, the times of meeting, the number of members who shall constitute a quorum, the manner of electing officers, the powers and duties of said officers, and all other concerns and internal management of the said corporation.

REPORT ON A THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The Moderator and Principal Clerk of the General Assembly, appointed as a committee to prepare and publish a Thanksgiving proclamation, would report that they performed the duty assigned them. The following is a copy of the proclamation:

To the ministers, ruling elders, and people of the United Presbyterian Church.—The late General Assembly took action in regard to a day of thanksgiving, as follows:

"1. That the Moderator and Stated Clerk of the Assembly be instructed to issue a Thanksgiving proclamation in the name of Christ, our King, to whom all thanks are due, and that the day named in the proclamation be the day appointed by the President of the United States.

"2. That pastors be requested to read this proclamation in connection with Thanksgiving services."

Now, therefore, by the authority in us vested, we, the Moderator and Principal Clerk of the General Assembly, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Head of the Church, and the King of men and nations, do hereby call upon the ministers, ruling elders and people of the United Presbyterian Church to observe the 24th day of November, 1892, as a day of Thanksgiving; laying aside their usual secular employments, assembling in their places of worship, and engaging in such services as are suitable to express sincere and profound gratitude to God the Father and our Lord Jesus Christ for all the many and rich blessings which we as individuals and as a nation enjoy.

It is impossible to enumerate in this paper the blessings for which we should be thankful, but we suggest that in giving thanks we ought to remember the late decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, declaring "that this is a Christian nation," the Sabbath-closing of the Columbian Exposition, and other [illegible] our national government, in accordance with the demands of Christian morality and Christian sentiment of the country; and we further suggest that earnest prayer be offered that our nation and government may be led on and on in the path of rectitude and duty.

REPORT ON THE MEMORIAL ADDRESS.

The Moderator and Clerks of the General Assembly would report that they selected Rev. R. A. Browne, D. D., of the Presbytery of Beaver Valley, to deliver the address in memory of the ministers deceased during the past year, and that he has consented to perform this duty. We would recommend that some hour be fixed for the delivery of this address.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT ON REDUCED RAILROAD FARE.

Your Committee on reduced railroad fare begs to report that reduced rates (one and one-third fare for round trip) to those attending the General Assembly have been granted by all lines in the territory of the Central Traffic and Western Passenger Associations, by the Chicago & Alton Railroad and the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway. The reduced rates are granted on condition that at least one hundred persons holding certificates attend the Assembly. The above arrangements have been duly published in The United Presbyterian, The Christian Instructor, The Midland, and in the city papers of Monmouth, Ill.

Your Committee would also report the performance of its duties without expense to the General Assembly. All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNION WITH THE ASSOCIATE REFORMED SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

At an early date notice was given to the Committee of the Associate Reformed Synod of the South that the General Assembly had responded cordially to the overture of the Synod in reference to union, by the appointment of a committee of conference, and the request was made that correspondence be opened without delay. A very cordial letter was received in reply, submitting also a draft of a basis of union. It is as follows:

"At a meeting of the Committee of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Synod of the South on union with the United Presbyterian Church, held at Chester, S. C., on the 12th of July, 1892, the following statements as to a basis of union between the two churches were agreed to, and ordered to be transmitted to the corresponding Committee of the United Presbyterian Assembly for their consideration, to wit:

1. That the Confession of Faith and Catechisms as now received by both Churches, and the Testimony of the United Presbyterian Church, with the reservations and limitations hereinafter expressed, be the doctrinal standards of the united Church.

2. That the Associate Reformed Synod, or any individual member thereof, shall be allowed full liberty of dissent from Article XIV. of said Testimony.

3. That in the acceptance of Article XV. of said Testimony, it is understood cle shall not be enforced as a term of communion in the churches ing the Associate Reformed Synod, except so far as sessions may rce the same.

the acceptance of Article XVI. of said Testimony it is agreed that h all its property rights and privileges, together with its permafunds now held for Home and Foreign Missions, and said Synod ne ownership and exclusive control of its College and Seminary.

ne foreign mission work of the two churches be consolidated trol of a Board of the united Church.
ne united Church coöperate in the home mission and church rk ; but until changed by mutual consent, the Associate Reformed n its churches and shall also retain its Home Mission Board ; and aus raised for these purposes, together with any funds that may he united Church, shall be expended within the territory of said the supervision and control of said Home Mission Board, acting n with the respective Boards of Home Missions and Church Ex-united Church."

onCommunion referred to in Section 4 of the above draft of basis
"While the Standards (of the Associate Reformed Church) do n or indiscriminate communion, they do allow of a restricted or asional communion, and therefore sessions, in extending this to maintain our testimony in doctrine, worship and discipline, so he edification of the church.") inary draft of the basis seemed to the committee of the General give prominence to the differences heretofore existing, and to much separateness in the practical work as to hinder that perfect which a union implies. After some unofficial correspondence be-airmen of the committees, the following draft of basis was sub-brethren of the South :
, The Associate Reformed Synod of the South and the United Church of North America have a common origin and substantially th, government and practice, they mutually agree to enter into following basis :
Confession of Faith and Catechisms as now received by both gether with the Testimony of the United Presbyterian Church loctrinal standards of the united Church, with the explicit under-the forbearance in love which the law of God requires shall be ex-d any brethren who may not be able to fully subscribe to all the Testimony; provided they do not determinedly oppose them, and ne things that make for peace and things whereby one may edify this forbearance shall apply especially to those Articles in regard e may have been a divergence of views between the two churches.
w of the existing substantial harmony, the Synod of the South, the Presbyteries and Sessions under its jurisdiction, may at their ntinue to use the Book of Government and Discipline and the Worship of the Synod of the South, but in any case carried to the nbly, the proceedings shall be according to the Book of the United Church.
upreme court of the united Church shall be a General Assembly, iate Reformed Synod of the South, in subordination to it, shall be Synod of the South of the United Presbyterian Church of North the Presbyteries under its jurisdiction shall be represented in the nbly by commissioners on the basis of representation now fixed d Presbyterian Church. Each Presbytery shall also be entitled to d by one delegate in the General Committee of Home Missions.
the South shall also continue the possession and full control of its stitutions. For this purpose it shall continue its name and corporate powers as the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, until it shall judge it proper to make a change in its charter, or so long as may be necessary to maintain its civil rights.

"4. The Synod of the South shall continue its Boards of Missions and its funds, in coöperation with the Boards of the United Presbyterian Church, until by mutual agreement a more complete consolidation shall be effected.

"5. This basis shall be overtured to the Presbyteries of the respective churches, and the union shall be complete and effective when the Moderators of the Synod of the South and of the Genersl Assembly of the United Presbyerian Church, duly authorized, shall jointly announce that it has been confirmed by their respective courts."

In preparing this basis the Committee followed the one overtured by the General Assembly in 1886, which was approved by the large majority of the Church, having respect also to what were said to have been objections to that basis by the Southern brethren, as not sufficiently definite in the matter of forbearance and not sufficiently guarded as to the interests of the Synod in the funds under its care.

This basis was submitted to the Synod of the South at its meeting in Salem, Tenn., October 21–23, 1892, and the following action was taken:

"1. That the Committee on Union be continued.

"2. That the said Committee be instructed to propose to the United Presbyterian Church that the testimonies on slavery and secret societies be printed in the book of the united Church in the form of an appendix, with the express declaration that these testimonies are not accepted by the Associate Reformed Church.

"3. That in case the United Presbyterian Church is willing to print the above named testimonies as suggested, we consider the propriety of overturing the matter of union to the Presbyteries."

This action was forwarded by the Synod's committee, and the committee of the General Assembly acknowledged the receipt of the communication and added:

"As we understand this proposition, a union based upon it would constitute a church with double standards, and would lay the foundation for future discussions and possible alienations, whereas there should be a union that would ultimately result in the old divisions being forgotten in the harmony of love and forbearance.

"The proposition asks for an agreement as preliminary to the further consideration of the propriety of an overture to the Presbyteries on the matter of union. The General Assembly did not vest the committee with power to make agreements, but only to coöperate in preparing a basis of Union, and therefore it can do no more than report the action of the Synod and correspondence which has been had for consideration and such action as may seem wise and good.

"The United Presbyterian Church very earnestly desires a union of the two Churches on a basis that may be satisfactory to both, that the work committed to us may be prosecuted more efficiently, and that our united testimony for the common faith may have more weight in the world. The General Assembly, therefore, rejoiced when informed that your Synod had appointed a committee to prepare, if the way be clear, a basis of union. We regret that the Synod did not see the way clear to take an advancing step towards the object for which we both have earnestly prayed. We still hope that the Spirit of God may lead us into a union, in which his name will be honored in greatly increased love and more devoted service."

The above statement of what has been done with reference to the desired union, together with the correspondence in full, is submitted to the General Assembly. The Committee does not feel that, under the present state of the case, it is within its province to formulate action for the consideratiou of the Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

The sessions ed interest, and were characterized by a spirit of unity and hope. announce that the United Presbyterian Church of North Amere-enrolled as a member of the Alliance.
eature of the work during the year just closed was the meeting of eral Council at Toronto, Canada. The sessions of the Council ex- September 21st to September 28th, 1893. The attendance was presentative, the discussions were scholarly, thorough and fra- e general result upon the community with whom the Council met representatives of the Churches, encouraging and unifying. Sine due to the citizens of Toronto for the generous provision made he entertainment of the Council, and large hopes are of right he future of the Alliance as an organization. The number of the al Churches in the membership of the Alliance is at present 91. d upon all the five continents, and have a total constituency of ne millions.
the Alliance needs for its proper conduct from year to year a money. The salary of the General Secretary and other necesmust be met in some systematic manner. The basis of pecuniary present the representation accorded the several churches in the il, and is as follows: "For each hundred congregations or less, up to one thousand congregations; above one thousand congregate for each additional one hundred up to two thousand congre- two thousand congregations, one delegate for each additional nd fifty congregations." Under this arrangement the number tes to the Sixth General Council will be eighteen, and the annual t of expenses due from you at the rate fixed by the Executive $15 per representative) will be $270.00. Will you kindly provide nt of this apportionment, and so enable the Executive Commis- Section, to carry forward its work, so far as pecuniary matters are an efficient manner?
of the Alliance are at present as follows: President, Rev. Talbot D. D., LL. D., New York, N. Y.; Honorary Secretary, Rev. W.

Garden Blaikie, D. D., LL. D., Edinburgh, Scotland; General Secretary, Rev. George D. Mathews, D. D., 25 Christ Church Avenue, Brondesbury, London, England; American Secretary, Rev. Wm. H. Roberts, D. D., LL. D., Cincinnati, O.; General Treasurer, R. T. Turnbull, Esq., London, England; American Treasurer, George Junkin, Esq., LL. D.; Philadelphia, Pa. It is proper here to state that Mr. Junkin, owing to temporary ill-health, is at present sojourning in Europe, and that F. K. Hipple, Esq., president Real Estate Trust Co., Philadelphia, Pa., has kindly consented to accept, for the time being, the position of treasurer pro tem. All moneys intended for the expenses of the Western Section should, therefore, be forwarded for the present to Mr. Hipple's address.

The next Council of the Alliance has been appointed for Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1896, at such period of the year as the Glasgow Committee of Arrangements shall appoint.

With a view to the more full expression of the common faith and of the spiritual unity of the Reformed Churches, it gives us pleasure to state that the Executive Commission has appointed Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., Rev. John A. Wilson, D. D., and Rev. W. S. Owens, D. D., as delegates to bear to your venerable body the fraternal greetings of the Alliance.

Tendering to you our Christian salutations, and best wishes for the prosperity of the work of Christ in your midst, as a Church, and through you in all lands, we remain,

Yours fraternally,

T. W. CHAMBERS, Chairman.
WM. HENRY ROBERTS, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE DELEGATES TO THE PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

The General Assembly of 1891 took action requesting re-admission to the Alliance of the Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian System, and appointed a delegation of eighteen members to represent the United Presbyterian Church in the Fifth General Council. This Council was held in Toronto, Canada, September 21 to 30, 1892, and was very largely attended by delegates from many countries. The proceedings throughout were of the deepest interest. Of the delegation appointed by our Church the following persons attended: Revs. Wm. S. Owens, D. D., R. J. Miller, D. D., W. T. Campbell, D. D., R. G. Ferguson, D, D., J. C. Taggart; Messrs. H. J. Murdoch, J. B. Irwin, M. D., James McCandless, John Lynch. In the absence of several members appointed, the delegation took the liberty, in accordance with previous practice, of adding the names of Revs. A. G. Wallace, D. D., and John Rippey, D. D.

The action of the Council upon our request for re-admission to the Alliance was most cordial and satisfactory. Inasmuch as this action settles definitely the question which led to the withdrawal of the United Presbyterian Church from the Alliance in 1886, it should have a place in the records of the Assembly. A report of the Western Section of the Executive Commission upon the subject was adopted by the Council and is as follows (See proceedings of the Fifth General Council, page 157, and Appendix, page 77):

"7. THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF NORTH AMERICA.

The Section reports the desire for re-admission into the Alliance of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. The General Assembly of this respected body of Christians discontinued its connection with the Alliance in 1886, for the reason that at the Belfast Council its position as a Church 'on the subject of Psalmody was practically disregarded by the use to some extent of uninspired compositions in the devotional exercises.' The General Secretary of the Alliance having explained to the Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church that the departure from the practice of using the Psalms only in the meetings of the Alliance was unauthorized, and that in the future, the brethren of this Church might expect a continuance of the deference which has been e past towards their convictions in the matter of Psalmody, the yterian Church resolved again to seek connection with the Al-nission, therefore, without considering any principle in the matter hereby expresses its sincere satisfaction with the action above nd recommends the re-admission of the United Presbyterian rth America to membership in the Alliance."

nended that at a suitable time, a delegation of eighteen members by the General Assembly to attend the Sixth General Council at land, in 1896. The delegation should be empowered to fill the nt members from visiting ministers and elders of the Church who nt.

commended that this Assembly make provision for the payment ur proportion of the expenses of the Alliance, which is $15 for tative to which the Church is entitled.

has been prepared without opportunity to secure the concurrence he members of the delegation. It is respectfully submitted by ving attended the Council, are present at this meeting of the nbly.

relation to the Assembly's control of the Theological Seminaries we ly eighteen Presbyteries have sent to this "Assembly their opinion ers." Of these twelve are favorable to the amendment laid over Assembly. (Min. page 260.) Six are opposed to this amendment.
Presbyteries have not answered. In view of these facts, and also in great and important interests involved :

Resolved That no action be taken affecting the control of the Seminaries present, but that these two questions be and hereby are sent down in overt to the Presbyteries, and that the Presbyteries be and hereby are directed report their judgment thereon by reporting the number of votes on each qu tion, for and against:

1. Shall the General Assembly have the veto power in the election of p f ssors in our Theological Seminaries?

2. Shall the General Assembly have the power to remove a professor unsoundness in the faith?

II. A memorial from the Board of Directors of the Allegheny Theologi Seminary asking that the termini of the Seminary year be changed, mak the time of opening and closing the sessions about one month later than present.

Resolved, That the Directors in control of the Seminaries be allowed to ex cise their discretion as to the time of opening and closing of the sessions, p vided that the term of study be not shortened, and that the Directors report the Assembly their action in this matter.

III. In regard to the scheme for a general delegate fund, laid on the ta by the last Assembly, your committee finds that only one Presbytery has ported on the subject, and it expresses only a conditional approval of measure. It does not seem that the Church is ready for the establishing of fund proposed. Therefore,

Resolved, That no action be taken.

IV. A memorial from the Presbytery of San Francisco, on the subject Sabbath School Music and Anthems for opening and closing services, has b before your committee and has received very careful consideration. In v of the manifest need of a larger number of simpler tunes, so written as to suitable to the voices of children, to be used in Sabbath Schools and Jun Societies, we offer the following:

Resolved, That this matter be referred to the Board of Publication, w instruction to insert in future editions of the Bible Songs, such a number such tunes, either selected or original, as may be necessary to meet the dema and that one or more such tunes be inserted each month in the Sabbath Sch Quarterlies.

In regard to anthems for opening and closing services, we call attentior the excellent collection published by the Board of Publication entitled, "Ps Anthems." And further recommend that the Board of Publication iss monthly or quarterly, Psalm anthems, original or selected, in sheet form, to sold to congregations or choirs at about the cost of publication; these to be sued in a manner similar to that adopted in the distribution of the Quarter or Bible Teacher.

V. In reference to the memorial of the Presbytery of Central Illin asking that some way be provided for foreign missionaries to secure the Chu papers free of charge, your committee recommend that no action be taken.

VI. The Presbytery of Allegheny memorializes the Assembly, asking t an arrangement be made, similar to that of last year, for the issuing of a Than giving Proclamation. We recommend that the prayer of the memorialists granted.

VII. The memorial from Brookville Presbytery asks that our Assembly quest the Assemblies of other Churches to suppress the name "Sunday" fr their publications. It has been characteristic of the United Presbyter Church to designate the Lord's day by the term Sabbath, which practice trust will be continued, but we do not deem it expedient for this Asse bly to make any suggestion to church courts of other denominations the subject; therefore,

Resolved, That no action be taken.

VIII. The memorial of Concordia Presbytery on the subject of un with other psalm-singing churches, recites reasons which seem to justify th petitions. Your committee presents the following:

Resolved, 1. That this Assembly invites the Holland Christian Reform Church, the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, the Associate Chur the Reformed Presbyterian General Synod, and the Synod of the Reform a Church of North America and any other psalm-singing churches e interested, to take steps looking toward a union of said churches.

urch. The joint action of the committees of all these churches orted to the respective Synods and Assemblies appointing them.
t no action shall be binding on any of the churches until the pro-shall be sent down in overture and be approved by the Church in anner in such cases.

Proceeded with the order of the day, viz.; the consideration the report of the Committee on the Board of Home Missions. Th report, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS.

To your committee have been referred the annual report of the Board Home Missions, the report of the General Committee, the report of the Spec Committee of the Board upon the mission at Seattle, Wash., and a resoluti asking this Assembly to take the constitutional steps necessary to decide t following question: "Shall the General Committee of Home Missions abolished and in its stead a Superintendent of Missions for each Synod be a pointed by the Synods respectively, who, together with the Presbyteries, Pr byterial Superintendents of Missions, and the Board of Home Missions sh manage the Home Mission work?"

Your committee finds that never before have we received such an encou aging report from the Board. In spite of the financial condition of the cou try, the contributions to this Board have exceeded by $1,000 those of a previous year. The membership of mission churches has increased 12½ p cent., more than four times that of the ordinary gain for the whole Chur That our Church is commending herself to the confidence of the people, is se from the rapidly multiplying calls from new and important fields. In this a of religious drift, many are turning to a church, whose pulpit has never soug to cast a shadow on the inspiration of the Bible, the atoning sacrifice of Chri or the regenerating work of the Spirit. In this age of social problems men a turning to a church, whose voice has no uncertain ring on any moral questio Out of this growing sentiment have come the largest requests ever made to o Church.

The deficit of last year, and the financial condition of the country seem to require retrenchment, but after cutting far below what was imperatively d manded, the committee recommends to this Assembly a grant of $79,657, t be added $10,768, borrowed from the reserve fund, making an ag- $90,425. The committee felt that to grant less would be disobedience aking through these needy fields; it would mean that no new work ken, and that our Church cease her aggressive work. This cannot To stop is to retrograde. Therefore the committee comes with confi- he, who has opened doors that we cannot shut, will awaken the her opportunity.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

In considering the work among the Freedmen, we are impressed with great importance and magnitude, and note with gratification the manifest a proval of the great Head of the Church of the labors of the 66 missionar in the field. The burning of the Knoxville College building, while it wa serious inconvenience to the work, yet we are glad to know the insurance w enable them to replace the building in the near future. We note with satisfi tion the outreaching influence of the schools and colleges in sending out qua fied teachers, fully equipped for their work and giving proof of their efficienc

It seems to your committee that in the future, as the Board may be able enlarge the work, which we hope may be soon, new plants should be locat in the great centers of population so as to reach the greatest number, and th reach out to the regions beyond.

The caution of the missionaries in the reception of members into t Church is to be commended, and yet we feel that it should not be forgott that the help of and fellowship within the Church and earnest pastoral ca may be just what these poor weak believers need in their struggle agai known temptations. We are to support the weak. With these consideratio your committee beg leave to offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That we record our gratitude to God for his blessing upon th branch of the Church's work.

2. That we heartily approve the Board, the missionaries and teache and commend their zeal and devotion in the work; their faithfulness and w dom in the management of all departments of the work in the several statio

3. That we especially commend the efforts of the Board and those charge of the different stations in making industrial education a promine element in the basis of the training of the youth for usefulness in life.

4. That we urge the prosecution of the work with vigor in the directi of reaching the children of this once enslaved race, not only to educate t head and reform the manners, but also to reach the heart, which delivers t whole man and brings him into the liberty of the sons of God. Instead of t fathers take the children and make them noble princes in all the earth.

Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions presented a nich, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

eport of the Board of Foreign Missions indicates that the past year ne of unusual loss and hardship. In the Board itself, the death of eaves a gap which it will take long to fill; the sad story of the fall of er, Mr. Jos. D. McKee, will send a pang deeper than sorrow to the very lover of foreign missions. In the field the death of a young wife and mother, after a short stay in India, is peculiarly sad, and n we have the record of the final resignation of no less than four es, with the premature return to this country, on account of broken five more. Moreover, while the work in the field is constantly end its demands increasing, the supply of new workers is wholly inad-ut three have been sent out to counterbalance the losses which the ave sustained. It would seem that God is rebuking our boastful pride k he has so graciously permitted us to do. This is the dark side.
er hand, the work itself seems to have been given the usual degree ty. Each of the mission fields reports an increase in membership ss in work. Notwithstanding the financial stringency, the work has llowed to suffer from lack of funds. The appointment by the Board w missionaries and their virtual acceptance of the appointment, indi-he missionary spirit is still active in our beloved Zion.
lition to the annual report of the Board, your committee has before ls from the students of Allegheny and Xenia theological seminaries, tiers Presbytery, and from Monongahela Presbytery. The first three k for the appointment of a Field Secretary. The last unites with the its request for a Corresponding Secretary whose whole time shall be the work.
erence to the deficit in the former treasurer's accounts and the tion thereupon, we recommend the adoption of the following:

d, 1. That we commend the promptness with which the Board, vering the deficit, took measures to protect its treasury from loss, e express our high appreciation of the faithfulness with which the members of the Board, through a long and anxious period, bore the heavy bu den imposed upon them in connection with the investigation and clear sta ment of their late treasurer's accounts.

2. That we condemn the Board for its failure to exercise due care in aud ing the accounts of its treasurer, and in scrutinizing the investment of its fun

3. That we approve of the new rules of finance adopted by the Board a herewith submitted for publication in the Minutes with the report of the Boa as affording adequate checks upon dishonesty and insuring its prompt discove if practiced; except that the rule concerning the signature of checks be ma to read as follows:

"(c) (The treasurer) shall have all checks countersigned by the Pre dent."

4. That the financial report of the settlement with the former treasur
Mr. Jos. D. McKee, be published in the Minutes as supplementary to the re ular annual report of the Board.

With reference to the methods of the Board, we recommend the adopti of the following:

Resolved, 1. That we disapprove of what appears to be the practice of t Board for several years, in setting aside money for investment at the time of annual report to the General Assembly.

2. That we direct the balance of current receipts over the actual expen tures to be reported each year to the General Assembly and made subject to order.

With reference to the Board itself, we recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That the Assembly hereby expresses its high appreciati of the long, efficient, and largely gratuitous services of the late Correspondi Secretary, Rev. J. B. Dales, D. D., LL. D., and also its deep sense of loss his removal by death.

2. That the appointment of a Field Secretary, asked for by the studen of Allegheny and Xenia theological seminaries and by Chartiers Presbyter would give this Board an undue advantage in its work, and is therefore n now desirable.

3. That the request of the Board and of Monongahela Presbytery for Corresponding Secretary who shall give his whole time to the work, be n granted.

4. That the salary of the Treasurer of the Board be increased to $500, a that such increase date from October 1, 1893, when the present Treasurer e tered upon the duties of his office.

With reference to the plans of the Board submitted to this Assembly f its approval, we recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That we confirm the appointment to India of Rev. G. E. He derson, of Glen Elder, Kansas; Miss Nannie Spencer of Columbus, Neb., a Miss Edith M. Fulton of Summerfield, Kansas; and that we also confirm t appointment to Egypt of Miss Minnehaha Finney, of Knoxville, Tenn.

2. That we authorize the Board to appoint and send out as speedily possible two male and two female missionaries to India, and one male and t female missionaries to Egypt.

3. That we authorize the Board to send to each mission field one or mo qualified persons, who shall be employed so much of the time as may be nec sary in educating the children of the missionaries; provided that the parents these children shall pay such tuition as shall compensate the Board for t portion of the time of the missionaries so employed.

4. That we authorize the reduction of the first term of service in a missi field to seven years, the subsequent terms to remain as at present, viz., ten yea

Finally, and in general, we recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That we are profoundly grateful to God for his blessing up our work during the year.

2. That we are especially under obligations for large and timely gifts the Women's Auxiliary Board, Mr. Wm. J. Sawyer and sisters of Alleghen Pa., and Mr. James Wilkinson, of Beaver, Pa.

3. That we extend thanks for generous gifts and help to the Americ the United States Consul General in Egypt, Lord Cromer. Messrs. ok & Son, Peoples Brothers, of Liverpool; Messrs Sampson and Mc- of Scotland, and Mr. John P. Duncan, of New York.

congratulate the Board for its efforts to introduce the Psalter and Bible ith all their conspicuous denominational characteristics, into churches denominations and into some unsectarian schools.

In regard to our Sabbath schools, the report of the Board gives but littl more than the statistics, and its representative in his remarks to the Assembl did not mention this important part of church work.

The amount of salary of the business manager, or of the editor of publi cations is not given, except as included with clerical expenses. It is suggeste that reports hereafter be more specific.

In view of all the information received, your committee presents to th Assembly the following resolutions:

1. That the Assembly approves of the insertion of advertisements in th Christian Union and the Bible Teacher so as to help to pay the expenses of thei publication, but that it suggests that great care be used in admitting advertise ments, so that nothing may be inserted that is not consistent with the charac ter of these periodicals.

2. That the Board be ordered to issue as soon as possible an edition of th Bible Songs without the denominational imprint; or, if this be impracticable to prepare and publish without this imprint another book suitable for use i union meetings and in other churches.

3. That the Board of Publication be instructed to omit the "preface" fron the future editions of the Psalter, the Bible Songs and the Psalms, and also th words "of the United Presbyterian Church of North America" from the titl page of the Psalter.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz.: A conference on Sab bath schools, Rev. A. Wareham in the chair. At 9:30 o'clock th chairman reported that an hour and a half had been spent in confer ence, that the program prepared by the Sabbath School Committee o the Board of Publication had been carried out, and that the conferenc had resulted in instruction and profit.

After prayer by Elder W. S. Heade, the Assembly adjourne till Wednesday at 8:30 o'clock a. m.

WEDNESDAY.

May 30, 1894, 8:30 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Elder C. A Hiles, Jr.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of th last session were read and approved.

The special Committee on Introducing Bible Songs presented report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON BIBLE SONGS.

There have been placed in the hands of your committee the report of th committee appointed by the last General Assembly on the introduction of Bibl Songs, and the report of the committee on a common version of the Psalm The former committee secured the introduction of Bible Songs in services con nected with the Bible Institute, Chicago, under the charge of D. L. Moody Both committees sought, by correspondence and otherwise, to bring the matte of a common English version of the Psalms to the favorable attention o brethren of various denominations. This effort has in some cases met a cordi response, while in others there has been little or no disposition manifested t unite with us in the proposed work. A prejudice exists in other denomina ast our Bible Songs and Psalter, as being denominational. The profor the preparation of a common version of the Psalms is an attempt ne this prejudice. We believe that a better means to this end would olication of a book similar to Bible Songs, but without the imprint l mark it as a denominational book. We therefore recommend: ed, 1. That our Board of Publication be directed to publish, at as te as possible, a book of the general character of Bible Songs, but ne denominational imprint.

hat the Board of Publication be directed to insert the 129th Psalm in editions of the Bible Songs.

Committee on the Board of Church Extension presented the ; report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CHURCH EXTENSION.

ffairs of the Board of Church Extension appear to have been wisely
. It seems to be growing in efficiency and usefulness. Many mis-their success to a church home built with the aid of this Board. The w price of labor and real estate makes this a favorable time in which in the eastern part of the Church. But the contributions are over than last year, and they are only 56 per cent. of the appropriation following for adoption:

ed, 1. That we approve the conduct of the Board for the past year.
hat we commend and recommend the business methods of the Board Extension.
hat we urge Presbyteries to more carefully scrutinize the applications ne Board, and protect the funds of the Church, as far as possible, asonable demands.
hat while we do not look with favor upon the making of grants for put upon leased ground, we approve the action of the Board in the e at Sioux City, Iowa. hat we urge the Board to press still more strongly upon all our con-
, and especially those aided by the Board, to keep their property ins large a sum as practicable, and that a failure to do so will be a bar-way of a grant of aid from the Board.
hat the Board designate a special object for the contributions of the hools during the third quarter of the year.
hat we gratefully acknowledge the very valuable aid given the Board peration of the Women's Missionary Board, and approve the regupted by both boards for this co-operation.
hat we express our hearty thanks to the members of the Board for did work of the past year.

Committee on Reform presented a report which was amend-lopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON REFORMS.

ast year has been one of activity in reform movements along certain bly the Sabbath, temperance and Christian amendment. One en-nt is the unity and sympathy among all evangelical denominations, wards the suppression of vice and immorality in high places, and the ent of moral measures of a public nature throughout the land.
is encouraging, nevertheless the enemies of the home, of the Sabof our cherished institutions, have not been idle, and much of the distress and suffering experienced to-day, is the result of our national a political sins, and the visitation of God's judgments for the violation of divi law. "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people

I. CATHOLIC INFRINGEMENT. There have been referred to your committ certain papers bearing on the matter of the Indian school appropriations:

Resolved, 1. That as the subject of government grants for sectarian a religious purposes, especially among the Indians, is attracting widespread tention among the other denominations of Christians, and since there is befo Congress at present a bill appropriating about $365,000, annually, of the pub funds to this purpose, or almost three times as much as to all the other church combined; which enables them to establish schools, and gather in large tra of land on the reservations, and to import foreign priests and nuns to mana these schools, which is both unconstitutional and un-American; this Gener Assembly, representing a large and patriotic constituency, believes that t money used in the education of the Indians, should be expended exclusive by government officials upon government schools, and we earnestly prot against that portion of the bill now before Congress which contemplates gover ment appropriations for schools under sectarian control.

2. That we heartily sympathize with all those denominations which ha declined to receive any further appropriation from the national governme for the support of mission work among the Indians.

3. That a committee be appointed by this General Assembly, whose nom nation is hereby referred to the Committee on Nominations, to co-operate wi other Protestant denominations in the use of all lawful means to bring to termination all grants of money from the treasury of the United States for t uses of religious denominations and associations of every name.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Congress as an e pression of the sentiment of this Assembly.

II. THE SABBATH.

Resolved, 1. That we view with alarm the growth of Sabbath profanati and the want of a conscientious regard for the sanctity of the Lord's da even by professing Christians, in the use of "Sunday" trains, reading of "Su day" papers and books unsuited to the sacredness of the Sabbath, receiving depositing mail matter, or the performance of other unnecessary work.

2. That we urge upon our people the faithful observance of the Sabba as a day of rest and worship.

3. That we commend all railroads and all other corporations which sho respect for the Scripture and civic laws for the Sabbath by ceasing their labo on the holy day.

4. That we urge the passage of the bill now before Congress, known as t
Blair Sunday Rest Bill

III. TEMPERANCE.

Resolved, 1. That we regard the liquor traffic as the over-shadowing cur of this nation; an enemy to the peace, purity and prosperity of the home, t Church and the State. To license this traffic is a sin against God and a crim against humanity. Being morally wrong it can never be made legally righ "For the Son of God was manifested," not to regulate, "but to destroy t works of the devil."

In this connection we lament the fact that one of our States, enjoying t benefit of prohibition, has taken a backward step, and its Legislature has so forgotten the dignity of law as to bargain for the violation of its own statu
We believe the time has fully come when Christians should cease to be indiffe ent, and should unite their efforts, regardless of previous party affiliations, its complete suppression.

2. That in our judgment no Christian can be held innocent of wrongdoi who, when a moral question is at issue, so votes as to be counted against t side of righteousness.

IV. CHRISTIAN AMENDMENT.

Resolved, 1 That we lament that there is not a more distinct and full rec nition of the existence of Christ as the ruler of the nation and the suprema of his law as revealed in the Scriptures, in our national Constitution than it co tains. That we urge the passage of the joint resolution, proposing the amen he Constitution of the United States, now tabled by the committees of e and Senate covering this matter.

hat the petition, put into our hands, be signed by the Moderator and this Assembly and returned to the petitioner.
hat we commend the National Reform Association for the work of he Christian Amendment before Congress during the past year.

NDUSTRIAL REFORM.

ponse to the papers on industrial reform, we submit the following:
ed, 1. That we view with sorrow the depression of the times and the nd poverty of many of our citizens, that we sympathize with the or and those willing to work who cannot find employment, and those been unable to find a market for their produce, and that by our d in every way possible we will show the Good Samaritan spirit for f.
hat we will use our rights of citizenship in the selection of such men e in the fear of the Lord, and legislate for the good of all the people elfare of our great republic.

SOCIAL CUSTOMS.

is cause for alarm in the manifest disposition in social circles to tol-ons which strike at the very root of public morals. If the fountain ry can effect but temporary good while the card table is tolerated in and while the social dance in the home prepares patrons for the ball

II. The reports and statements of the following Treasurers for 1893 ha been submitted and found correct, viz.: Gibson Trust Fund, Board of Chur Extension, Board of Education, Board of Publication, Board of Minister Relief, Board of Freedmen's Missions, Board of Home Missions, Board of F eign Missions and of the General Assembly.

III. The Trustees of the General Assembly have submitted a report, whi shows they have been prosecuting the work committed to them with d diligence, and we would recommend that the question of prosecuting the D troit church case further, being of somewhat doubtful propriety, be referred the Trustees of the Assembly, to do as their judgment may suggest after d consideration, and in case there is good hope of success, that it be carried f ward.

IV. The report of the executors of the estate of Wm. Reed, deceased, dicates that considerable progress is being made in the work, and that in course of time it will be completed to the satisfaction of the Church.

V. A carefully prepared report of the Committee on Ways and Means h been submitted to us setting forth the fact that the committee has been dilig during the year in pressing upon Synods, Presbyteries and congregations d obligations to support with greater liberality the cause of the Master. T report shows that these efforts have resulted in some good being accomplish but there is still room for much progress to be made in this direction. T failure of congregations to do what is expected of them seems to result larg from the want of a good system of raising money. The feelings, rather th the intelligence, the conscience and the Word of God are allowed to govern this matter. We would recommend, therefore, that the Assembly urge up all our congregations failing to meet their obligations to the Boards the imp tance of adopting some such plan as that recommended by the committee, vi that each person, member or adherent, be asked to honor the Lord with substance every Sabbath day by placing in the contribution basket, enclosed an envelope and properly marked, an offering consisting of such portion of income as the Lord requires at his hand, and that pastors, elders and trust be careful to set an example worthy of imitation in this respect.

Further, we would recommend that pastors present the teachings of Go Word upon this subject at the beginning of each year, and that the trust diligently endeavor to obtain a subscription from each one upon this wee basis, and that no encouragement be given by the officers of the Church efforts that are spasmodic, unscriptural or devoid of sound business princip but that the whole effort of the Church be concentrated upon the simple p recommended in the Word of God, that every one lay by him in store upon first day of the week as the Lord hath prospered him, and not leave the ma to the end of the year and cause the Boards to pay interest on the funds nee we express our gratitude to God for the success which has at-anch of the Church's work during the past year.

2. That the thanks of the Church are due the General Secretary and General Committee for efficient service.

3. In regard to the request of the General Committee that the names Presbyterial Corresponding Secretaries be published in the Minutes of the sembly along with the names of Financial Agents, Superintendents of M sions, and Presbyterial Sabbath School Superintendents, we would say that present Assembly has already taken such action.

4. We recommend the endorsement of the second suggestion of the G eral Committee, namely, that wherever practicable a Junior Union be ganized under the care of the pastor or a committee of the senior society, the training of the younger boys and girls in Christian work.

5. We agree most heartily with the third suggestion, namely, that thanks of the Church are due the Rev. R. J. Miller, D. D., editor of Christian Union and those who have assisted him, for excellent service rende in this branch of the Church's work. We recommend that societies be couraged to increase the circulation of the Christian Union.

6. Your committee recognizes the great advantage there is in unifo prayer meeting topics. At the same time there is an opinion preval throughout the Church that the present method of following closely the lin the Sabbath school lessons is not the best one. We would suggest that General Committee enter into correspondence with similar committees of ot denominational societies and of the Christian Endeavor Society with a view securing a change in this matter.

7. We commend the wisdom of the General Committee in changing time of holding the Institute from May to July, as being a more seasona time for such a meeting, thus affording an opportunity for those who are tea ing or attending school to be present. If this change to one of the sum months is intended as a permanent one, we would suggest that the date fi upon do not conflict with the annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor Soci

9. That the term of office should be limited to three years.

The standing Committee on Narrative and State of Relig presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

The committee, to which was referred the report of the Permanent C mittee on Narrative and State of Religion, would respectfully submit the lowing:

We find the report very full and satisfactory. The past year has beer many particulars a memorable one in our history, crowned with signal tok of Divine favor, and crowded with encouraging and gratifying evidences o marked and healthy advance along all lines of Christian activity.

I. STATISTICS.

The present number of Synods is 12, an increase of 2 over 1892; Pres teries 64, an increase of 4 over 1892; congregations 939, an increase of 19 o 1892; number of congregations vacant 271, or 28 less than last year; numbe ministers 833, an increase of 23 over last year, membership 115,272, a net g of 4,153, which is an increase of nearly 100 per cent. over the net gain of year. The net gain in America is 3,510. Number of scholars in our Sabb schools is 101,667, an increase of 4,759; number of Young People's Socie 710, an increase of 46; number of members in Young People's Societies 30,(an increase of 2,732; total contributions of the year $1,506,064, an increas $105,974 over the contributions of last year, or an average of $14.68 per cap the highest average ever reached.

II. OUR DEAD.

Nine ministers, whose ages reached the remarkable average of 74 ye with an average period of service in the ministry of 46 years, were called their reward during the year.

III. STATE OF RELIGION.

e of religion is, indeed, most encouraging, as evidenced by the folments: A genuine revival of church members; large accessions, om the world, the number of adult baptisms being 1,861, or an in-over last year; an increasing measure of liberality; greater effie part of the Women's Missionary Societies; a large increase in the of our Young People's Societies; an improved attendance upon ip and prayer meetings; a wider use and growing popularity of and a spirit of unswerving devotion to the truth on the part of rs and members.

IV. RESOLUTIONS.

1. That, while we regard with satisfaction an increase in the total s of the Church of $160,000, we deplore the fact that there is a nearly $60,000 in the contributions to the Boards, and we recomne Assembly enjoin upon pastors, stated supplies and congregations ecessity and sacred obligation of raising the full quota to the several ne Church.

t, in view of a growing spirit of "paternalism," or disposition to ne Church for aid, Presbyteries are hereby enjoined to encourage spirit of independence and self-help on the part of congregations s.

t the moderator and clerks of the Assembly be a committee to select om among the commissioners to the next Assembly to deliver a ldress.

t the Permanent Committee on Narrative and State of Religion be h the duty of preparing a list of uniform topics for the mid-week ings for the year 1894–95, and provide for continuing the study of books, according to the plan pursued during the past year.

Committee on Statistics presented the following report, adopted;

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON STATISTICS.

ommittee has examined the statistics compiled by the second clerk them the usual accuracy and completeness. We note with pleasure rease in the number of congregations and of ministers. The ine number of theological students is greater than at first appears, as r licentiates are still in the seminary. But our greatest cause for joy umber of souls brought into the kingdom on profession of their nearly two thousand of whom must have come from the world, as ptisms show. The number coming from other denominations on he statistics do not indicate. A marked increase in the attendance ath schools is noted, which certainly is an encouraging feature of nd a stimulus to renewed effort to make this department more effi-reports from the Young People's Societies show a steady and subgress, both in the increase in the number of societies and in memlicating diligent and faithful effort on the part of our young people.
of the Junior Society is not revealed by the statistics.

be deplored that the number of removals is 2,414 greater than the ceived on certificate. Some of these, removing to communities ave no congregations, enter some other denomination and are not Church universal. But it is to be feared that many fall away and rom all church connection, even while living within the bounds, e classed among the "removals." The attention of sessions is realled to this matter, that there may be great care exercised to pre-lling away, and also to follow carefully with letters of introduction ation all of those who remove, that pastors in towns and communih they have gone, may speedily find them.

The total contributions of the year are considerably in excess of those the previous year, yet it is to be regretted that the contribution to the missi work of the Church is not up to that of last year, and far below what is need to take advantage of the greater opportunities offered. We believe that t statistics, as a whole, show that this year of financial depression has been year of spiritual blessings.

We present the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the statistical tables submitted be adopted.

2. That gratitude and praise be rendered to the King and Head of t Church for these evidences of his good pleasure, and that his acknowled ment of the work done through us may lead to greater faithfulness.

3. That, as the value of statistics depends upon their accuracy, we ur pastors and sessions to use the utmost diligence in making out and prompt returning statistical reports.

4. That we express our high appreciation of the accurate and painstaki care of our second clerk in the preparation of this statistical table.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented the followi additional report, which was adopted:

ADDITIONAL REPORT ON DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES.

Your committee recommend:

1. In reference to the dispensation of the Lord's Supper in connecti with the next Assembly, that the matter be left in the hands of the pastor a session of the Sixth Church, Pittsburgh, and, if deemed wise, they arrange f its observance.

2. That an Elders' Conference be held during the meeting of the next A sembly, and that the pastor and session of the Sixth Church arrange the pr gram.

3. That during the next Assembly a conference be held on the pray meeting, and that the program be left with the pastor and session of t Sixth Church.

Fifteen minutes were spent in devotional exercises, Rev. T. H MacKenzie in the chair.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the followi report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

The letter of Rev. J. P. Brokaw, conveying to this General Assembly th fraternal greetings of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in Americ has been placed in our hands. The letter expresses a hearty interest in th work of our Church, and suggests that we appoint a delegate to represent ou Church at the meeting of the General Synod, to be held June 6, 1894, at Asbur Park, N. J.

Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., and Rev. J. G. D. Findlay report the fulfil ment of their appointment as delegates to bear the fraternal greetings of ou Church to other ecclesiastical bodies; the former to the Associate Reforme Synod of the South and the latter to the General Synod of the Reforme Church in America.

Resolved, That their conduct be approved.

The report of the Committee on Union with the Associate Reformed Syno of the South has been placed in our hands. This report clearly shows that th Associate Reformed Synod of the South earnestly desires organic union wit our Church, but does not consider such a union practicable at present. Th report also presents the request of that Church for our co-operation in hom mission work, especially in establishing churches at Atlanta, Ga., and Litt Rock, Ark.

1. That we are still heartily in favor of the proposed union with the eformed Synod of the South, and regret that any conditions exist unwise to further press the subject at the present time.

t the Committee on Union appointed last year be reappointed, with to continue correspondence on the subject.

t we are heartily in favor of co-operation in mission work, so far eemed wise and practicable by the different Boards of the Church.

ort of the Committee on Union with the Holland Christian Re- rch has been placed in our hands. On account of the failure of that ive its committee of last year authority to draft a basis of union, as yet been accomplished in that direction, but the report shows an earnest desire for union with our Church, and that a committee to prepare a basis of union will be appointed by their General ear.

That the committee appointed last year be reappointed with in- meet a corresponding committee from the Holland Christian hurch, if the way is open to do s', for the purpose of preparing a nic union.

unication has been placed in our hands from the chairman and the Western Section of the Pan Presbyterian Alliance, suggesting nent of delegates from our Church to the council to be held in Glas- d, in 1896, and requesting the payment of the apportionment of e from our Church for this year. The last General Assembly hav- that delegates to the council of 1896 be appointed by the General 1895, no action in regard to this matter is required at this time.

That a warrant for $270, the apportionment of expenses due from for the work of the Alliance for this year, be drawn on the treas- General Assembly in favor of the treasurer of the Alliance.

ort of the Committee on Federation of the Churches, together with py of the constitution proposed for this federation, has come into The features of the constitution to which our General Assembly objected have been removed. In regard to this whole matter your ave to say that, while we are unable to see that any great ad- ld be derived from such a federation, we believe it would serve to loser friendship between the churches and, perhaps, be of value at ery practical way. Therefore,

That we unite with other churches holding the Presbyterian sys- country in forming the proposed Federation of Churches, and that of delegates to represent our Church be referred to the Committee ons.

re to call the attention of this General Assembly to the moral and dition of the Army and Navy as deserving serious consideration.

1. That we unite with other churches in urging upon Congress the providing for each post a chaplain, a library and such other ap- conveniences as are needed for the proper moral and religious care rs.

we especially urge the suppression, by vigorous measures, of the military posts and the saloon feature of the post exchange.

the clerk of the General Assembly be instructed to forward a e resolutions to the Secretary of War and the chairmen of the mmittees of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives.

ollowing resolution on the salary of the corresponding f the Board of Foreign Missions was adopted:

ON ON THE SALARY OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRE- TARY OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

That the salary of the corresponding secretary of the Board of For- s be increased to one thousand dollars a year.

The following resolution on the support of the Board of Fore Missions was adopted:

RESOLUTION ON THE FOREIGN MISSION WORK.

Resolved, That the General Assembly makes a special appeal to all the gregations and members of the Church for a cordial and liberal support of Board of Foreign Missions, and for contributions to at least the full amoun propriated by this Assembly.

The report of the Committee on the Board of Ministe Relief was presented and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

There has been placed in the hands of your committee the report of Board of Ministerial Relief. It is with satisfaction we note that the good w quietly and unostentatiously done in past years by this Board has been co ued and increased during the present year, and the hearts of many of G faithful servants, burdened with cares and anxieties, have been relieved gladdened by its timely ministrations. In view of the fact, however, as st in the report of the Board, i.e., that the number of beneficiaries is increa each year, and the measure of help augmented in many needy cases, it is n ful that the attention of the Church be called to the necessity of making r liberal contributions to this Board, in order that its beneficent work ma more fully accomplished.

Our attention is directed in the report of this Board to the death o venerable president, Rev. J. B. Dales, D. D., and whose identification with Board dated from its organization.

The following resolutions are presented for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That we realize our loss in the death of Rev. J. B. D D. D., yet we desire to record our gratitude to God for his life and labors, do recognize the fact that, though dead, his life speaks to us, "be thou faithf and we rejoice in the hope that, ceasing from his earthly labors, he has ent into the full enjoyment of his eternal reward.

2. That the work of the Board for the past year be cordially approve

The Committee on Women's Work presented the following port, which was adopted:

REPORT ON WOMEN'S WORK.

The Committee on Women's Work report that there have been referre us the report of the Board of Directors of the Women's General Missio Society and the report of the last General Assembly's Committee on the C ter of the Women's General Missionary Society. From the report of the di ors we learn that the work of the women of our Church is in a prosperous promising condition; that this important department of our Church wo by the blessing of God, accomplishing much for the advancement of his k dom, in both the home and foreign fields. Eight hundred and sixty-one s ties, composed of 20,919 consecrated workers, are a mighty factor in the g work of our Church. They are developing a spirit of Christian benefic providing and supporting laborers in important and promising fields, building homes for faithful missionaries, which already have produced a dant fruit in the salvation of precious souls, and in bringing joy to the hear faithful laborers in the Master's vineyard.

We recommend for your adoption the following:

Resolved, 1. That the work of the Women's General Missionary So and of its Board of Directors be approved.

2. That we express our gratitude to God for the faithful and succe work of the women of our Church.

Committee on Revision presented the following report, adopted:

REPORT ON REVISION.

ommittee would respectfully report that the following records, all dorsed, have been placed in their hands. The printed minutes of the embly of 1893; of the Synods of Pittsburgh, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, st Synod of the West and Second Synod; and in manuscript form of the Synods of Columbia, Nebraska and Punjab. No records have been received from the Synod of New York; and as the Synod of Ca fornia meets biennially no meeting has been held since the last meeting of t General Assembly. Your committee find on examination of the above recor that have come into their hands, that the business of these courts has be transacted in an orderly and presbyterial manner, and that correct and ne minutes have been kept, in either printed or manuscript form, except in t case of the minutes of the Synod of Columbia, in which the reports of co mittees, written in pencil and untranscribed, are merely pinned in.

We therefore present for adoption the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the records before us be approved, and that the Asse bly's clerk be instructed to so certify.

2. That the Assembly recommends to the Synods of Nebraska, Columb and Punjab, in the future, to have their minutes printed in pamphlet form f circulation and more certain preservation.

3. That the Synod of New York be instructed to forward their minutes the next Assembly for review.

7:30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Elder Jac P. Taylor.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The report of the Committee on the Board of Education w amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

There have been placed in the hands of your committee, by reference, t following papers:

I. The report of the Board of Education. From this report we gath the following facts:

The two theological seminaries have been fully manned with four acti professors in each; 109 students have been in attendance, 76 at Allegheny a 33 at Xenia, an increase of three over the attendance last year; 37 of the students belonged to the first year class; 28 to the second year; 43 to the thi year, and one irregular. The endowment of the seminaries has been increas by $17,784, $8,000 being received by the Xenia seminary and $9,784 by Al gheny.

In the five synodical colleges of our Church we find that there have be in attendance in Westminster 238 students, 119 of these being in the collegia department; in Monmouth 177, 111 being in the collegiate department; Tarkio 226, 72 being in the collegiate department; in Cooper Memorial 100, being in the collegiate department. From Muskingum no report has been ceived.

In the three academies there have been 161 students; 47 in Marissa, 70 Pawnee and 44 in Waitsburg. Each of these academies has been aided the Board of Education.

Sixty-five students of theology were recommended by Presbyteries to t aggregate amount of $6,095. Owing, however, to the lack of funds the Boa was compelled to reduce the amounts, granting in the aggregate only $5,0 The Assembly made an appropriation to this Board of $12,000. Of this amou only $4,510.86 was paid. The term of the office of the Corresponding Sec tary, W. T. Campbell, D. D.; of Rev. T. G. Morrow, Hugh Nash and W. Schall, members of the Board, expires with this Assembly. There is also cy in the Board, occasioned by the death of Mr. David Graham.

The unsettled beques referred to in former reports, have been paid, or are in process of collectio as our treasurer's report, herewith presented and properly audited, will sho

The appeal in the Detroit church case, as is generally known, has recent been decided against us by the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan. T grounds of this decision seem to us, and others whom we regard as compete judges, entirely to ignore the principles of our church government, and those which similar cases have been decided in both State and United States cour We would respectfully refer to you the question of taking the case to the Unit States court, either by appeal, or bringing a suit there de novo. The bill of co in this case has not been received yet.

Should General Assembly create the proposed delegate fund, our Boa would respectfully suggest and request that a special treasurer be elected to ta charge of and disburse the same.

The terms of office of Samuel Collins, D. D., R. J. Miller, D. D., a Graham Scott will expire July 1 prox.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The thirty-fifth year of the existence and operations of the Board of Fo eign Missions was entered upon with a measure of anxiety in relation to t means for carrying forward its work as projected for the year. A financi cloud was gathering over the country, and it was feared that this might gr darker, and that as a result the Board's treasury might be injuriously affect by the stringency of the times. It has felt the pressure, but the Board and t whole Church have reason to be thankful to God who, by his grace, has mov the hearts of the people to present their offerings, even when special sacrifi has, in many cases, been required.

CHANGES AT HOME.

ile, as has been stated, the Board entered upon the year with some fore- s to the finances, little did they anticipate other trials that have come. ong these must be mentioned the death of our beloved corresponding y, the Rev. J. B. Dales, D. D., LL. D., who through the thirty-four the existence of the Board had held that office. The confidence of the y and of the whole Church reposed in him through all those years, and es of the mission work in our several fields attest how faithfully and ly his labor was performed. Dr. Dales died at Chautauqua, N. Y., on of August, 1893. To that place he had gone to attend the meeting of od of New York, of which he had been clerk for many years. In an d condition he stood upon the floor of the Synod and spoke his last public upon the theme, Foreign Missions, which was so dear to his He went down from the Synod to his bed, and four days afterward, he was released from his work on earth, and his spirit went to receive its rewa from him whose gospel he had done what he could to have preached in all t world. Dr. Dales died thus at the post of duty, and his last strength was spe in pleading the cause of foreign missions. The whole Church mourns his lo but he died as we all would have wished him to die—doing the work in whi he had his greatest delight, and to which he devoted the best energies of h life on earth.

Upon the death of Dr. Dales the duties of corresponding secretary, pro tempore, were assigned by the Board to W. W. Barr, D. D. He thereupon signed the presidency of the Board and Rev. M. G. Kyle was chosen to th office. It will devolve upon this Assembly to elect a corresponding secretary fill the place made vacant by the death of Dr. Dales. In this connection t Board would express to the Assembly their judgment that the time has co when the corresponding secretary should devote the whole of his time and en gies to the duties of his office. No one having the responsibilities of a pasto charge can give the amount of time required, and the watchful and thought care to the very extensive and important correspondence and other work th is demanded. The duties and responsibilities of the office are grave in th character, and should have the undivided attention and energies of him up whom they are devolved.

The Board deeply regret to say that in the month of September last a defi was discovered in the accounts of their late treasurer, Mr. Joseph D. McK It is gratifying to be able also to state that Mr. McKee promptly placed in t possession of the Board money, real estate, and other undoubted collater quite sufficient to cover the deficiency, so that no loss of principal or interes sustained by the Board, the missions, or the Church. The detailed statem prepared by an investigating committee and approved by the Board, is subm ted to the Assembly in connection with this report.

The resignation of Mr. McKee, as treasurer, was at once presented, a was accepted by the Board, and Mr. Robert L. Latimer (who had previou been elected a member of the Board, in place of Mr. R. H. Ferguson, who clined the election by the last Assembly) was chosen to fill that office. He once entered upon his duties and gave approved security. Upon the elect of Mr. Latimer the Board resolved to ask the Assembly to increase the sal of the treasurer from $300 to $500 a year, and to make this rate to begin w the date of his entrance upon his duties. The Board regard $500 annually a very small compensation indeed for the labor, care and responsibility of t office.

CHANGES IN THE MISSIONS AND OF MISSIONARIES.

It was with deep sorrow that the Board received in the month of April news of the death of Mrs. Porter, wife of Rev. E. L. Porter, and their inf son. The sad event occurred at Gujranwala, India, on the 7th of Mar Mrs. Porter was greatly beloved, and her loss is deeply felt by the whole m sion. All in the field, as well as the whole Church at home, feelingly sym thize with the bereaved husband. In addition to this affliction sickness in rious forms has laid aside a number of the missionaries in India for a time, some have been compelled to come to this country for change and rest, in hope that after a time they may be able safely to return to their fields and wo

At the time of the meeting of the last Assembly, Rev. Chauncey Mu and family arrived in this country from Egypt. Mr. Murch has been, dur the year, enjoying his furlough and has been doing good service in present the mission cause before many congregations, the students in seminaries, Near the same time, Misses Annie F. Given, Josephine L. White, Kate M. C bett, and Mary J. Campbell, of India, reached our shores. These have been r ing at their several homes, and as they have had strength and opportunity th have been advocating the good cause to which they have devoted themsel

On the 20th of September Rev. Ibrahim Moosa and his wife Fareda sai from Philadelphia to take their places as native laborers in the mission in Egy They arrived in due time and, already having the language at command, the once began to do efficient work. Mr. Moosa had enjoyed a good course of tr ing in our own institutions in this country, and was licensed to preach by Presbytery of Xenia.

e 14th of October, Rev. D. S. Lytle and family sailed from New York eturn to India. They reached their field on the 30th of November, g been assigned to the Pasrur district, entered with renewed vigor r work.

e 15th of November, Rev. T. J. Finney and family left New York on rn to the mission in Egypt. They arrived safely at their destination of December. After spending some time visiting stations on the the Nile boat, they settled down at their former station, Mansoora, are busily at work among the natives, who gave them a joyful welcome. g last summer Rev. E. E. Fife, of India, became so broken down in t the only hope of being spared was in his return to this country. He ed leave by the mission and Board to come home. Sailing from India t of November he arrived in this country on the 30th of December. uch improved by the voyage homeward, and hopes are entertained a time of change and rest he may be able to return to the work which osen for life. He accepted, temporarily, an appointment under the Home Missions, and is now laboring successfully at Lincoln, Nebraska. A. B. Caldwell, of the India mission, having served more than the eriod for missionaries, was granted leave by the mission and the the 23d of November, to come home on a furlough. His arrival in ry is expected at an early day.

ealth of Miss Maria White, M. D., and also that of Miss Susie A. aving become so impaired that, by the best medical advice, they could remain in India, leave was given them to return to this country. Calcutta early in March, and going by the eastward route, they are o reach the Pacific coast prior to the meeting of the Assembly.

e beginning of April, word came from Rev. J. P. McKee, D. D., of ndia, that his health, which had been precarious for a time, had com- ven away, and that by the advice of his physicians, he must at the te possible leave the mission for change and absolute rest. He could o obtain permission from the Board to return to this country. He to leave India about the middle of April, and is probably at the date ing this report well on his way home.

e month of September Miss Mary A. Frazier sent to the Board her n as a missionary in Egypt. The Board deeply regretted this, but do otherwise than accept the resignation. This was done on the 11th ber. She arrived in this country in October.

e 23d of September, much to the surprise and regret of the Board, e W. Hogg forwarded his resignation as a missionary in Egypt. he had come to a change of views, not only in relation to the dis- rinciples of our Church, but also in regard to her creed with respect rrancy and inspiration of the Scriptures, and other matters. He had refrained from teaching or preaching his peculiar views; but did not he could conscientiously continue to do so. The resignation was laid le for a time in the hope that Mr. Hogg might be led, on review of the change his views and so remain in the mission. There being no his, the Board after most careful consideration of the case, saw no to them but to accept the resignation, and this was accordingly done h of January. Mr. Hogg was, however, requested to remain in the ntil the close of the school year, provided he could do so without ng his peculiar views. It is proper to add that all the correspondence to this case was of the most friendly character, and Mr. Hogg's rse in relation to it was candid and honorable. The Board loved the d they regarded the son as one of their most scholarly and useful es. That the resignation was accepted with regret need not be said. ecember 1st Miss Matilda Strang, of the mission in Egypt, sent her n to the Board. As her reason for resigning was one that was per- in no way within the control of the mission or the Board, the resig- s accepted. Her removal from the mission is regretted by all.

iss M. J. McKown, of Egypt, had become in a large measure incapa- work through loss of sight and hearing, she proposed on December Board to give up her place and work, to return to this country and enter the Home for the Aged at Pittsburgh, in which provision had been kind made for her by devoted friends. Her proposition was approved by t Board on the 15th of January, and she will accordingly return home at an ea day and enjoy the provision which has been offered her. She has been lo and very effectively connected with the mission, and her leaving it tende touches all hearts.

NEW MISSIONARIES.

Miss Carrie M. Buchanan, whose appointment to the mission in Egypt w confirmed by the last Assembly, set out from New York with Rev. T. J. Finn and family on the 15th of November. She reached the field on the 6th of D cember, and as soon as possible began the study of the language and prepa tion for her work. She is, for the time, located in Cairo.

Miss Mary Agnes Lawrence, of Wichita, Kansas, was appointed by t Board to the work in India on the 17th of September, and Miss Ella M. Gord to the same field on the 28th of September. They accompanied Rev. D. Lytle on his return and reached their destination on the 30th of Novemb They are actively preparing for their life work among their degraded a down-trodden sex in the Punjab. Miss Gordon is located at Pasrur, and M Lawrence at Jhelum.

The Board made earnest efforts during the last summer to obtain at le two male missionaries for the field in India. These efforts, we regret to sa were not successful, and the work has suffered in consequence. During t winter Rev. G. E. Henderson, of Glen Elder, Kansas, offered himself for t work in India. He has had two years' experience in the home field, and h done good and faithful work. He was recommended for the foreign field every member of his Presbytery, and was accordingly appointed by the Boa on the 15th of January. The Assembly is asked to confirm this appointme The Board has been, during the past winter and up to the present time, seeki to obtain two additional male missionaries for India and one for Egypt. number of young men have had the matter seriously in mind, but difficulti that seemed to be insuperable, have, in every case intervened, and up to th date no one qualified for the work has been found ready to say, "Here am send me." In view of the pressing need for laborers, especially in India t anxious inquiry of the Board has been throughout the year, and still is, "W will go for us, and whom shall we send?" The Assembly is asked to autho ize the Board to appoint and send out as speedily as possible these great needed missionaries if they can be obtained, and also to send two addition female missionaries to India and two to Egypt.

THE WORK IN INDIA.

In India, as already indicated, the work has been hindered by the sickne of the missionaries, and by the reduction in the mission force. The labore for the proper oversight and management of the work in some of the distri could not be had. The result has been fewer accessions to the membership th in some former years, and loss of some who were already members, but who cou not have the needed care to prevent their falling away. Because of the scarcit amounting to famine, in the Punjab, many were compelled to leave the places and go where they supposed they could better their worldly conditio Not a few of these, from want of the shepherd's care, have at least temporari wandered from the flock. It is hoped that most of them may yet be found a restored. Notwithstanding these discouragements, there has been substanti progress in much of the work, as the following statistics will show :

Foreign Laborers.—Ministers, 12 ; females unmarried, 10 ; married, 1 physicians, 2. Total, 35.

been done in the stations and among the villages, by the use of the Nile boat, through the schools, etc. The Bible is extensively sold and dis uted in all the districts by means of colporteurs and others; 14,309 copie whole or in part, have been put in circulation during the year. The Trai College at Asyoot is doing grand work in educating the boys and young of the country. It had an enrollment of 340 scholars during the year, largest number ever reached. There were present, in 1893, scholars f eighty-six different towns and villages. They came from Cairo and eleven of the fourteen provinces into which the country is divided. From school competent teachers go out in large numbers, and are usefully emplo in teaching in various parts of the land. From this, too, come most of theological students as candidates for the ministry. This college should well endowed in order that it might do its very best work. The institu needs a layman from this country who is thoroughly acquainted with the methods of education among us. He could do much of the work of the col that is now done by ministers, and thus enable them to devote their ener more directly to evangelistic efforts. The Board having failed to obtain su one, a suitable female missionary is asked for to take part in this work.

The theological seminary at Cairo is doing efficient work in trainin native ministry under its able corps of Professors, Drs. Watson and Har Rev. John Giffin, and Rev. Tadrus Hanna.

In the schools and the homes the single female missionaries and the w of missionaries, as far as they are able, are doing excellent work in teac the way of life and usefulness to the girls and mothers of the land. The i ence for good thus exerted cannot be estimated in the uplifting of long degr Egypt. Already 1,700 women are enrolled in the membership of the churc

Dr. Watson has been doing what he could towards the preparation history of the mission, which he was requested to do by the Assembly. H ing it impossible, however, to go on with the work while engaged directl labors in the mission, he has asked and obtained leave of the mission and Board to be absent in some suitable retreat for a period of five months, co in between the sessions in the seminary, in order that he might, if poss complete the history which he has in hand.

The principal statistics of the mission for the year 1893 are as follows:

Foreign.—Ordained missionaries, 14: married female missionaries, 14; married female missionaries, 9; physicians, 1. Total, 38.

Native.—Ordained (one without charge), 17; licentiates, 18; theolo students, 7; other preachers, 10; Harem workers, 43; shopmen and col teurs, 30; school teachers, 200; total native, 325; total foreign and native, Presbyterial.—Ministers ordained during the year, 3; students licensed students received, 3; congregations organized, 1; new station occupied, 1.

Congregational—Stations on presbyterial list, 157; organized congregati 32; other places in which services are conducted, 99; congregations ha pastors, 20; membership, men, 2,395; women, 1,700; total, 4.095. Increas profession, 368; net increase, 205; salary of preachers, $8,729; proportion by native churches, $3,688. Total contributions by natives for congregati purposes, $12,749.

Sabbath Schools—Number, 107; pupils, 6,132; teachers, 297; amount tributed, $306.

Day Schools.—Number for boys, 101; for girls, 20; pupils, boys, 5,342; in girls' and boys' schools, 2,312; mission training schools, 12; pupils, 2, village and congregational schools, 109; pupils, 4,977.

Books.—Bibles sold and distributed, 14,309. Total volumes, 42,157.
ceipts, $8,900.

Grand total of money contributed by natives for religious, educational book departments, $36,849.

In the seven districts of this mission, which are more or less occupied our missionaries, there are in round numbers 7,000,000 of inhabitants. T are now 14 ordained American missionaries, or one for each 500,000 of population. If we include with these the 17 native ordained ministers and 18 licentiates, we would have one preacher of the gospel for each 143,000 of people. Reflect again that in this land we have one minister for each 80 the population, and let these figures teach their solemn lesson of our Chur duty to the land of Egypt.

hysicians have been invaluable to missionaries in their times of sick-need of medical advice and treatment.

SHORTENING OF FIRST TERM OF SERVICE.

g to the fact that a considerable number of our missionaries, and of the young women, have failed in health during the first term of nd have been compelled to retire from the field, the Board have he conclusion that it would be better to make this term of somewhat ration. They therefore ask the Assembly so to amend the rule in al relating to this matter as to allow new missionaries, with the cone mission and the Board, to return on furlough to this country at the period of seven years, the subsequent terms of service to remain as at namely, ten years. The Women's Board heartily unite with us in his request.

EDUCATION OF THE CHILDREN OF MISSIONARIES.

ew of the fact that some of the missionaries at least desire to retain dren with them, or near to them, in the fields to be educated, rather eparated from them by sending them to this country, the Board asks nbly for authority to send to each mission field one or more qualified who may be employed a part or all of their time in educating the chilissionaries; it being understood that the parents of the children shall tuition as will compensate the Board for the portion of the time of HELPERS.

Board, while gratefully recognizing the encouragement given to them work by the whole Church during the year, cannot refrain from menome special helpers.
among these must be named the Women's Auxiliary Board. These women, aided by their noble sisters in the Presbyterial Societies throughout the Church, have not only provided for the medical work and pa ment of the salaries of the yonng women missionaries generally in the fiel but they have also been instrumental in nominating for appointment, equi ping, sending out and sustaining the new female missionaries who have go to the work in the past year. This Board has put into our treasury during t year $13,971.51, an increase of more than $2,200 over last year.

Mr. W. J. Sawyer, of Allegheny, Pa., and his sisters, as a memorial to the deceased mother, have given in trust to the Board a sum amounting to mo than $4,600, which is to be increased to $5.000, and the income used from ye to year for the purpose of opening up new work in the Delta in Egypt. F this generous gift these devoted friends have the warmest thanks of the Boar

When money was asked last year of the Sabbath Schools and others f the purchase of the property at Rawal Pindi, India, Mr. James Wilkinson, Beaver, Pa., with large-hearted liberality, donated the sum of $5,000 to co plete the payment of the $15,000 to the Presbyterian Board for those ve valuable mission grounds and buildings. This gift was munificent indee May the Lord reward this and every other giver!

The Board also gratefully acknowledge the interest of the Sabbath scho in the foreign work and their gifts in its behalf. In not a few instances al the Young People's Societies have shown their special interest by asking wh they can do to further the work, and by making contributions towards its su port. It is cheering to know that this great cause is more and more taking ho of the hearts of the young.

During the year the treasury has been greatly aided by the bequests th have been received. The Board could not thank the good men and wom who made these bequests, but they do thank the Lord who put it into the hearts to remember him and his cause as one of their heirs, or, as in son cases, their sole heir, and they pray that others may follow their good examp when they come to dispose, by will, of their earthly estates. Many, thou dead, are still speaking in this way for Christ and his cause.

The Board and missions have received during the year generous gifts a help from the American Bible Society, the British and Foreign Bible Societ the Turkish Mission Aid Society, the United States Consul General in Egy Lord Kramer, Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son, Peoples Brothers, of Liverpo Messrs. Simpson and McKinnon, of Scotla d, and Mr. John P. Duncan, New York. Thanks are due and should be given by the Assembly to all these generous friends of our work. Other special helpers, whose names are not permitted to mention, have generously aided us during the year.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding this report, the Board ask the Assembly to unite with the in thanksgiving to God whose blessing has so manifestly been given to o missions in India and Egypt. It is asked that the Assembly and t whole Church be much at the throne of grace for a continuation of the divi favor, always remembering that "Paul may plant and Apollos water, but G giveth the increase." It is also ask d that the great subject of giving the gl tidings of salvation to the heathen be constantly kept before the church Let pastors and supplies remember this cause in their prayers, and ofttim speak of it to the people. Let the letters from the missionaries and month statements by the Board be carefully read, the annual report widely circulate and its important statements from the missions considered. If the people b come well acquainted with the work they will be interested in it, they will pr for it, and their hearts will be moved to put into the treasury the mon necessary for its support.

Respectfully submitted, by order of the Board,

M. G. KYLE, President.

RT OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS OF SETTLEMENT WITH ITS FORMER TREASURER.

with the deepest sorrow that the Board of Foreign Missions now lays e General Assembly the subjoined report concerning the defalcation of er treasurer, Mr. Joseph D. McKee. He was a man universally and trusted, and it was with the greatest astonishment and grief that him to have misused the funds intrusted to his care. The amount of ation was appalling, and the astonishment was that so great a sum ve been taken before detection. Before entering upon a detailed on of this point, a few things may be noted here. The distance to st mission field, India, makes it difficult at any time to get an exact etween the accounts at home and abroad. A debt of $5,000 or $6,000 y occur at the end of the year in India simply by the delay of a e a few days in the mails. Then up to the time of the last auditing cKee's books at the end of the year, April 30, 1893, the whole amount s from funds not passing constantly under the observation of the cept $4,000, reported as remitted to India but not sent, and from the e last audit until the discovery of the deficit some five months later, l having no occasion to examine Mr. McKee's accounts, the defal- m the current funds escaped detection for that length of time. It so be added that letters from India, enquiring about the deficiency in es, were withheld from the Board by Mr. McKee, and no knowledge l state of affairs reached us until the suspicions of the missionaries afficiently aroused to cause them to write about the matter to mem- e Board other than the treasurer. The whole case may be summed in two words, misplaced confidence.

l and detailed statement containing the facts and figures of the report pert accountant who examined the accounts is herewith submitted spection of the General Assembly. It needs to be added, however, e the dates and amounts of the defalcations are clearly ascertained, questions arising to which, from the complication of affairs, the t could find no satisfactory answer.

due Mr. McKee to say that, in all the investigation of this sad affair, e he rendered the Board every assistance in his power, and surren- thout reserve everything that could in any way reimburse the and the restitution has been so ample as fully to protect the Church

And it is believed that when all the securities have been realized re will be no occasion to require anything from the bondsmen, and e will be some surplus to return to the estate of Mr. McKee. The report is submitted under the following heads:

. Dates and amounts of the defalcations.
. Statement of interest due from Mr. McKee on account of the deficit.
. Statement of expenses incurred in the investigation and settlement for which Mr. McKee is also liable.
. Recapitulation of liabilities.
. Explanation of method by which detection was so long escaped.
. Statement of restitution made.
. Final recapitulation.

VIII. A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE INVESTIGATION.

The first intimation of the defalcation came from Dr. Martin, of India, Dr. Barr, corresponding secretary of the Board, about Sept. 25, 1893. After s eral unsuccessful attempts to get some admission from Mr. McKee, he mad confession to the president of the Board, September 28.

A meeting of the Board was immediately called for September 29. At t meeting Mr. McKee made a more complete explanation of the matter, an vestigating committee was appointed with instruction to take immediate p session of all the books and accounts in the case and to employ an expert countant and retain an attorney. At the same meeting the resignation of M McKee as treasurer was accepted, and Mr. Robt. L. Latimer was elected tre urer and entered immediately upon his duties. Thus within some five da after the first intimation of a deficit a confession was secured, a thorough vestigation was ordered and arranged for, and a new treasurer was installed.

By the advice of our attorney, that legal complications might be avoid the strictest secrecy was maintained by the members of the Board and enjoin upon the missionaries until such time as the condition of Mr. McKee's affa could be known and full possession gained of the assets.

There were duly assigned to the Board, September 30, 1893, all the insura policies enumerated above. There having been a loan of $2,700 taken by M McKee on the Provident Life Policy, the Board, at a later date, by the adv

y repaid it that the assignment of the policy might by duly acknowlrecorded by the Insurance Company.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS.

While the year has been marked by business depression all over the co try, and grave apprehensions have at times been felt as to the effect upon missionary activities of the Church, yet the Board of Home Missions pres its annual report with many reasons for thankfulness to God. His blessing u the work has been manifest in more than an ordinary degree. It has been great privilege, for many successive years, to report steadily increasing eviden of prosperity in our mission stations; but at no time has a more gratify exhibit been made than in the following comparative summary:

I. CONDITION AND PROGRESS OF THE WORK:

	1892.	1893.	1
Stations granted aid, year ending March 31	199	209
Presbyteries represented	49	53
Stations reporting	190	198
Stations reporting for less than four quarters	53	75
Unorganized Mission Stations	2	2

Increase by Certificate	1,375	1,363	1
Decrease	1,164	1,123	1
Net gain	1,309	1,463	1
Increase by Profession, per cent	9.9	10.4
Net gain, per cent	11.8	12.5
Teachers in Sabbath Schools	1,348	1,412	1
Scholars in Sabbath Schools	15,336	15,393	18
Contributions to the Boards	$16,703	$16,825	$15
For Salary of Pastors and Supplies	56,675	60,011	64
Organized congregations without church buildings	24	24
Stations with preaching full time	140	156
Settled Pastors	95	101
Stations served by settled pastors	99	106
Stations granted aid, year ending June 30	185	190
Appropriations, including grants by Board	$68,787	$74,779	$78
Payments to Presbyteries	59,693	64,819	69
Entire expenditures, year ending March 31	63,266	68,101	73

The large increase reported in contributions for salary of pastors, especi noticeable in such trying times, is partly due to the enforcement of the rule making payment of the amounts promised a condition of all grants. rule is working admirably. In very few instances has there been any req for leniency. When the unusually large number of stations reporting for b part of the year is taken into account, it will be clear that the contributi both to this purpose and to the general work of the Church, are really m larger than the figures here given would indicate, and much above the ave of other years. In all items the increase is remarkable. We can but re here a few sentences from the last annual report: "The work, as a whol richly rewarding the Church for all her outlay upon it, and is full of br promise. There can be no better pledge of the continued growth and prosp of our beloved Church than the success and encouraging outlook of her miss at home." It will be a great calamity should lack of support, failure by people to provide for its increasing needs, lay an arrest upon the extension o work.

II. GRANTS BY THE BOARD. Aside from the appropriations definitely fixe the General Assembly, there was placed at our disposal $1,740 to meet the n of cases referred, and $5,000 for any emergencies arising during the year. former sum $1,500 has been used; of the latter, $1,739; a total of $3,23

Jeannette, onal for settlement; Xenia, Greenfield, $100 on condition of settlement. he grant was made for new work. Such a statement has not been he Board in many years, if ever before. So unusually large were the ions sanctioned in detail by the General Assembly; so many were the ns ordered to be taken up; so certain it seemed that the amount al-ted would not be raised amid industrial difficulties everywhere pre-l seriously reducing the incomes of our people, that early in the year was constrained to give notice, by formal resolution, that it could not, ustice to the stations to which aid was already pledged, make any whatever for additional work. Many urgent appeals were presented, em more than once, but the resolution was adhered to, not without eason, as will be seen from the financial statement. In addition to ck of means to extend the work, however inviting the opportunities, he new enterprises already undertaken could not be provided for by of Church Extension, in its department. The sum total of the grants n the home mission funds for the last year greatly exceeds that of any ear, but the direct action of the General Assembly, not that of the made the increase.

Special Missions. Nominally thirty-one stations have been in the e of the Board during the year, but as work was not begun in two of number is really but twenty-nine. From these important missions ary special reports have been received. Nearly all of them have pas-ed supplies, and but few changes will be made. The membership n twenty-eight organized congregations is 1,606, a net gain of 267, or er cent. Church buildings have been completed, entirely or so far as e of some portion, in four stations. In a few of these missions the not report the outlook very encouraging, but in most of them the and prospects are certainly excellent, and some show a progress that y gratifying. It is impossible, in the space at command in this re-justice to the brethren who are serving Christ and the Church so and successfully in these stations. Only the briefest mention of cts can be made, leaving details to be gathered from statistical tables.

The people regret ility to do more in the way of self-support at present, and ask re-he grant of $900. This request, and that of the Presbytery for the nent of the stated supply, have been approved by the Board.

ganization and liberal giving in proportion to means, are the leading facts sho by the minister's report. $800 was asked for the coming year, a reduction $200. This amount has been granted and the request for the reappointmen Mr. Wilson cordially approved.

Denver 2d. Presbytery of Colorado. '93-8. Rev. J. G. Kennedy accepted an pointment to this field as stated supply, resigning his pastoral charge at We ville, Ohio, and entered upon his work about the first of October last. Tho the business disturbance, which was exceptionally severe in Colorado, has m the year a trying one he reports a fair start in his work and an encourag outlook for the future. The little band already gathered give proof of lib ality, even to sacrifice. As early as means can be secured the erection o house of worship will be begun, and there is good reason to hope for the s cessful establishment ere long of a second strong church in Denver. The P bytery asked, and the Board has granted, a renewal of the appropriation $1,200 and the reappointment of the missionary.

Detroit, Presbytery of Detroit '91-6. Rev. W. H. Vincent, stated supp As in other places the financial depression has made the year a hard one, fair growth is reported. Two Sabbath Schools are maintained, and in ot respects the organization for work is good and the prospect for success enco aging. The Supreme Court of Michigan has recently given an adverse deci upon our claim to the property held by those who seceded from the Un Presbyterian Church some years ago. Before this decision was rendered Presbytery asked a renewal of the grant of $1,200 and the reappointmen Mr. Vincent as stated supply. The latter part of this request has been comp with, but in view of all the circumstances the Board regards it as import that the General Committee should take into direct and special considera the interests of our work in Detroit, and therefore refers to that body the q tion of the grant to be made and any other action that may seem advisable.

Findlay, Presbytery of Sidney. '90-5. About the first of July Rev. J. Sharp, who had been in charge of this mission since its organization, ret from the field. In September Rev. R. A. Gilfillan took charge as stated sup and has rendered efficient service until the present time. Having accepte call to another field of labor his work closes with the month of April. Th has been no growth during the year. Certain hindrances to the prosperity the congregation are now under consideration by Presbytery, and it is hoped t will be removed. Mr. Gilfillan reports the nucleus as an excellent one, the Sea as capable and efficient, and believes that the work should be successful. A newal of the appropriation of $750 was asked and granted for the coming y Temporary arrangements for supply have been made, and as soon as possib permanent supply will be appointed.

Fort Wayne, Presbytery of Northern Indiana. '92-7. The state of things ported a year ago continued until very recently, and nothing has been don the Board. It is now asked by the Presbytery that $1,000 be granted, and work be begun irrespective of the past. The Board is not entirely satisfied a the expediency of beginning a new mission in Ft. Wayne, but asks that $1,00 placed at its disposal to be used if found advisable.

Kansas City 1st, Presbytery of Kansas City. '93-8. The condition a year ag this remnant of the earliest work of our church in Kansas City was far f encouraging. It is needless to enter into details. For many months it was possible to secure either pastor or stated supply, but at the first of January F. B. Murch entered upon his work as pastor-elect. He reports that the m bers are without much means but liberal in proportion to their ability. church building, though erected within a few years, needs repairs which cost a considerable sum. Harmony now prevails. Progress will probably slow, as the immediate neighborhood is not the most favorable for mission work, but there is good hope of success. Certainly the outlook is in every spect better than it has been. The city has suffered greatly from the depres of business, but will doubtless revive with the coming of better times to country at large. The grant of $900 has been renewed upon the request of Presbytery.

The congregation is united, stands the churches of the city, and no reason appears why it should not due time become self-supporting. Brother Fife speaks favorably of on and prospects of the work. There is no wealth in the congrega-me debt yet remains upon the building completed a year ago. For year Presbytery asked and the Board has granted a renewal of the on of $1,100.

Philadelphia, Wharton St., Presbytery of Philadelphia. '93-8. Rev. J.
Sharp began work as stated supply in this new mission in October. Pres tery has provided for formal organization, which will be effected soon, wit membership of about thirty. As yet there is no definite location. Services held in a rented hall. The Sabbath School is well attended and has a corps of faithful teachers. The whole work is yet in its incipiency, but field is large and open, and no reason appears why a congregation should be established in a reasonable time. According to request the stated supply urging strong reasons in favor of an increase to this amount, but the Board never yet made a grant exceeding $1,200 and does not feel warranted going beyond that sum, which has been granted.

Pittsburg, Presbytery of Pittsburg. '90-5. Rev. J. H. Gibson, stated sup year a house of worship was begun, the lecture room of which has been o pied for some months. The change of a mile from the temporary location volved the entire re-gathering of a Sabbath School, but this has been successf done and the field is regarded as a good one for future growth. Organiza has been completed by the installation of a regular session. Bro. Wall while speaking of disappointments experienced and difficulties yet to overco looks very hopefully to the future. In connection with the erection of church building, the financial burden to be carried is quite heavy. Reappo

The congregation of D enport made a call for him to settle with them as pastor, which is still pendi In the meanwhile temporary supplies have been sent from time to time. N urally the work does not show progress, but the condition of the congregati seems to be as good as can be expected in the circumstances. The Presbyt asks a renewal of the grant of $500, but has not reported any request for c tinuance as a special mission.

Los Angeles, Presbytery of Los Angeles. '83-8-91-4. At the beginning of S tember Rev. H. W. Crabbe ceased to serve as stated supply. His remo was the occasion of strife, which resulted in the withdrawal of many of members and an application to Presbytery, which has not been finally decid upon, for the organization of another congregation. Dr. John G. Brown co not take temporary charge, as requested, and the efforts of the Board to sec supply otherwise were defeated in a way which caused much trouble and an ety. Since November Rev. W. B. Barr has served as stated supply, by requ of the congregation and some of the ministers of the Presbytery, an arran ment which afterwards received the concurrence of the Board. Bro. Barr ports the work in fair condition, all things considered. Since he took charg number of new members have been received, and it is believed that with blessing of God upon well directed effort success may be looked for. The Pr bytery has not reported any action with reference to a stated supply for the n year, or the continuance of the special mission relation. They ask a renew of the grant of $650.

Newton. Presbytery of Arkansas Valley. '84-9-94. During the greater part the year Rev. C. C Potter has been the stated supply. He has served very ceptably but does not desire re-appointment. His report, while mention made of some hopeful features of the work, and the desire is expressed that Newt be held for the Church, is not upon the whole encouraging. sing this portion of the report the Board desires to call attention to a question which begins to cause embarassment and may become more reafter. Neither the Board nor the General Committee has ever made more than $1,200 to any mission, though the General Assembly did xtraordinary case many years ago. That sum has been regarded, by at least, as a maximum beyond which it does not feel authorized by h to grant money. But while a limit seems to have been fixed, by a written law, to the amount of any single appropriation there is no such consent and established practice to determine a limit to the salary for mission stations, provision may be made. While this is not more than an adequate support for ministers with the large cities referred to, yet it would be difficult to show that the ex- living are higher there than in other places in which but $1,200 is re- d thus arises an undesirable appearance of inequality of treatment. d fully believes that we cannot hope to establish our Church in these ers of population and business without providing a competent support ethren whose services are sought, and who not infrequently are asked astoral charges in strong self-supporting congregations to undertake ssive work; but great difficulties may be anticipated if discriminations where circumstances are substantially the same. If practicable some uld be fixed, or some action taken which will enable the Board to n the appearance of partiality and at the same time meet the evident nts of the work.

THE SUPPLY SYSTEM. The change provided for in 1892 went into full uly. Owing to occasional failures to report appointments by Presby- acceptance of work by men, a little difficulty has been experienced in he permanent roll in reliable shape, but this can doubtless be correct- selection of men from the lists furnished, and the necessary corre- e before appointments can be arranged, involve much work for super- s of missions and for the secretary of the Board, yet the main ends in been accomplished. Presbyteries have secured men to supply their nd men have found work so fully that during the winter months few borne upon the printed lists as available. The relief to the General e, in having no distribution of men to make, is very great. All its now be devoted to the consideration of requests for aid and the gen- sts of the work. A few superintendents of missions in the West of failure to secure needed supplies, but this has been owing either to of suitable men or to the unwillingness of some who were reported le to accept the work offered. No system can remedy these difficult- quarterly reports indicate quite clearly that the lack of workers for ds has not been so great as was common in past years through the fulfill appointments made by the General Committee.

THE SLIDING SCALE. Sixty stations in thirty-two Presbyteries were efore the Board with requests and reasons assigned for exemption from t operation of the sliding scale rules. Forty-nine are favorably recom- Ten others have not, in our judgment, shown reasons sufficient to emption. One is referred, without positive expression of opinion, to al Committee. In seven cases more aid has been asked than the ws, but the Presbyteries failed to comply with the rules. The Board is te a more general effort by Presbyteries to hold down the requests on old stations to the limits of the scale.

VI. WOMEN'S HELP IN MISSIONS. Requests for the help of women n sionaries are coming to us with increasing frequency. All that the Board done, or can do, in such cases is to recommend the application, if the reas supporting it appear to be sufficient, to the favorable consideration of Women's Board, by whom such missionaries are appointed and support Except under such a recommendation from the Board of Home Missions it is rule of the Women's Board to take no action upon applications of this nat In the comparatively few instances in which appointments have yet been m it is beyond question that the service rendered has been of great benefit. Board is persuaded that a larger use of the help women can give in home sionary work is very desirable, but has felt that the steps taken in that direct should be careful, gradual and tentative, so that experience may lead to the tablishment of sound principles and methods of procedure. It does not s possible to provide help of this kind for all city missions, where it is especi needed, or to make it, at the expense of the Church at large, a permanent of the working force of any mission. Willing as our Women's Board is to much for the home mission work along this line, as the way opens, it can scar ly undertake at once a wide extension of the work, nor would it be wise to so, even if the money could be obtained. For the present the Board of Ho Missions deems it best to restrict its recommendations to clearly exceptio cases and to limited periods of time; but will be glad to have any direction advice the General Assembly may see proper to give.

VII. FINANCIAL CONDITION.

	1892.	1893.	1894.
Received from Presbyteries	$55,618 85	$47,904 98	$50,41
From Sabbath Schools and Young People	52 27	373 66	26
From Ladies' Missionary Societies	177 79	28 00	2
From Individuals	3,677 61	1,014 32	4,08
Total direct contributions	$59,526 52	$49,320 96	$54,78
From Legacies	16,257 54	3,402 29	4,96
From Investments	751 78	1,243 24	1,34
Total ordinary receipts	$76,635 84	$53,966 49	$61,09
Total expenditures	$63,265 83	$68,101 43	$73,30

There is much to encourage in this statement. Compared with last Presbyteries have sent in $2,507.91 more, and from all direct sources of inc we have received $5,467.22 more, while the total receipts are greater $7,128.40. Considering the conditions that have prevailed, this is re remarkable. Yet the greater outlay required by increased appropriati leaves us again with a very large deficiency, $12,206.85, which has been by another draft upon the reserve fund. In two years the expenditures h exceeded the contributions of the Church by $26,341.79. The reserve fun reduced to $9,232.54, a sum utterly insufficient to secure the prompt paym of obligations which is so necessary. By direction of the General Assem this fund is to be maintained at not less than $20,000, so that $10,768 mus asked of the Church in addition to the sum appropriated directly for the port and extension of the work.

The small amounts reported from Sabbath Schools and Ladies' Mission Societies, it should be remembered, are not the total contributions from th sources, but only the few remittances coming directly to our Treasurer and passing through the hands of Financial Agents of Presbyteries. The Wom Board has paid during the year, directly from its own treasury, for the W Springs Indian work $3,771.70, and for other home mission work $2,804 The last item includes a special grant of $100 a month for the support of missionary at Ravenswood (5th Chicago), for which we were unable to vide, and also the amount paid to woman missionaries in several places. again express our thankful appreciation of the help the Women's Board i cordially giving.

VIII. THE COMING YEAR. The usual reports have been received in g time from nearly all Presbyteries. Applications for aid are entered wi nearly $89,000. More than $10,000 of this is for entirely new work, nich has been inaugurated and for some time sustained by Presby- e Board is reluctant to say anything that may have the effect of n any measure, the extension of our work to promising fields, yet the ituation, as stated abov , is such as to demand imperatively that ions be brought down within the limits of the probable contributions rch. Two years ago, as the result of special and successful efforts e Church to remove debt, with the addition of a large sum from the te, there was an available reserve fund of about $35,000. In that ontributions of the Church have fallen short of the appropriations nd of the actual outlay $26,342. The reserve fund now amounts nly half enough to make the paym nt of about $18,000 that will be st. Delay of payments from the beginning of the year seems to be ; while, if appropriations are made to an amount anything like that r, or approaching the requests now presented, an overwhelming debt accompanied by wide spread and long continued suffering among the nisters and their families whose support is largely drawn from the should be borne in mind that the financial and industrial outlook ntry is not good; that the full pinch of hard times and reduced as probably not yet been felt; that no matter what the deficiency of ons the Board is powerless to reduce its obligations by lowering or single grant definitely made by the General Committee; and that ning year the amount necessary to restore the reserve fund to $20,000 $10,768—must be added to the total of the appropriations for the view of these facts it is earnestly urged that a reasonable limit be n the amount to be granted. Sympathizing with the Committee in the difficult task laid upon it at this l knowing that experience demonstrates the utter impracti- of making needed reductions by revising the grants y have been once passed upon, the Board would suggest e taking up the applications in detail, full consideration be given to ements of the situation and practical measures devised for keeping the e imposed upon the Board within its probable resources. Not only v work be declined, wherever it can be safely postponed, but careful rom first to last, should be given to the whole list of applications. is, as a rule, in very healthy condition. Most of the stations need all Yet some ought to do more for themselves, and can bear reduction; ntire cutting off of some others would perhaps be a blessing to them- ell as a relief to the Church.

President of the Board, Dr. David Barclay, will represent it in the ommittee of Home Missions.

Members of the Board whose term of service expires on the 30th of Drs. W. J. Reid and John G. Brown, and Geo. M. Paden, Esq.

T OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF HOME MISSIONS.

Thirty-fifth Annual Meeting of the General Committee of Home was held in the First United Presbyterian Church, Portland, Oregon, to 23d, 1894. The attendance was quite full. Delegates were present ne Presbyteries in America, excepting Brookville, Caledonia and Ver- from the Board of Home Missions. Rev. James A. Reed, of the y of New York, was elected chairman, and Revs. Paul Stewart, of ytery of Central Illinois, and J. A. Henderson, of Omaha, were assistant secretaries.

Applications for aid were presented by the different Presbyteries w aggregated $89,552, exclusive of any sum to be placed at the disposal of Board. Appropriations are recommended in this report as follows: special missions in care of the Board, $26,420; for other stations hereto aided, $40,773; for new work, $6,450; to meet the probable needs of case ferred to the Board, $1,014; to the Board, to meet emergencies, $5,000; t $79,657. To this must be added, according to the action of the General As bly, $10,768 to restore the Reserve Fund to the minimum of $20,000, making total amount to be asked of the Church for Home Missions $90,425. While sum granted for the actual support of the work undertaken is less than year, the total amount called for is much greater than at any time in the

At its first session the Committee set a limit within which it would t confine appropriations. The deficit of the past year and the unfavorable dition of the country this year seemed to call for retrenchment. With thought in mind the Committee set to work, but when all the requests had considered it was found that the amount appropriated was largely in exce the sum it was thought wise to attempt to raise. Difficult and delicate as task was, the grants were gone over and cut down to what seemed the sma amount compatible with safety to the work in the several stations. The q tion then arose, 'Shall any new work be undertaken'? Many inviting d stood open. The Committee felt it would not do its duty, or meet expectations of the Church if it did not enter at least some of these. $1(was asked for new work; $6,450 was granted. Large as is the sum which Church is called upon to contribute, the Committee believes that the Gen Assembly can confidently appeal to our people and urge the raising of whole amount, as the very least upon which our great and growing home sion work can be successfully carried on during the coming year.

II.—SPECIAL AND NEW WORK.

1. With respect to the special missions which have been under the c the Board, but whose terms now expire, it does not seem necessary to con them as special missions, but the following appropriations and appointm are recommended: Creston, a grant of $480; Davenport, $400, and th pointment of Rev. J. E. Wishart as stated supply; Los Angeles, $575; Ne $650, and the appointment of Rev. J. S. Thompson, of Butler Presbyter stated supply.

2. In two instances the Board has asked special consideration of th quests made on behalf of stations remaining in its care. As to Detroit, the conviction of the General Committee that the work should be heartil tained at this critical time. A grant of $1,200 is recommended. Th pediency of immediate effort at Fort Wayne, Ind., is somewhat doubtfu so important is the field in itself and in its relations to the Presbyte Northern Indiana, that we recommend that $600 be placed at the dispo the Board to be used at its discretion.

3. We recommend that the following stations be placed in the care o
Board as special missions in accordance with the requests of the resp Presbyteries: Canton, in the Presbytery of Mansfield for five years, w grant of $1,000 for the coming year, and the appointment of Rev. D. K Knight as stated supply; Kearney, in the Presbytery of Omaha, for years, with a grant of $700.

Chicago, $1,200; Linesville, Lake Presbytery, $400; Pomona, Los An Presbytery, $300, to be available only after organization; Hamilton Av Pittsburgh, Pa., $800; Washington Heights, New York, $600; West Hob

III.—GENERAL.

From the report of the Board of Home Missions we learn that the bl of God has been upon the home mission work, and that notwithstandin financial depression all over the country the work has gone steadily on there are many evidences of the divine blessing.

The field of missions is being widened and the call for work and wor is ever increasing. It is important that the great centres,—the strategic poi tly seized and held by our Church. To do this work money is needed, eople need to be taught that it is poor economy to withhold from the use.

e is much to encourage in the progress made and in the liberality of e toward this work, and there is reason for profound gratitude to God vor shown to this part of our beloved Zion.

ecommend to the General Assembly, for adoption, the following res-hat the pastors throughout the Church be directed to present the the home mission cause to their people at least once every year.

hat a committee be appointed, composed of the corresponding secretary ard, and one member from each synod, whose duty it shall be to the Church, in ways which they may devise, the claims of the home ork; and that this committee be directed to meet some time during gs of the Assembly to agree upon the outlines of a plan of operations.

hat this committee be composed of the following persons, viz: Rev. ens, D. D., Secretary of the Board, Chairman, Revs. J. A. Reed, J. , D. F. McGill, D. D., John A. Wilson, D. D., Alexander Gilchrist, Hanna, D. D., J. W. Johnston, R. H. Acheson, J. D. Rankin, D. D., wes, J. F. Jamieson.

RT OF THE BOARD OF FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

KNOXVILLE, TENN.

ville College.—The term opened favorably October 2, 1893, with the com- ssurance that ample accommodation was provided for all that might d for a time all went well. On the night of the 15th of February a fire t in the upper story of the Young Men's Dormitory, which totally the College building and the dormitory. The origin of the fire is a till. We were able at great inconvenience to carry on the work to the e term. A fair insurance was carried, and the full amount carried will d. The work of re-building will be begun soon, and it is expected new buildings will be completed before the winter. No teacher has aside by sickness during the year.

names of the workers are: J. S. McCulloch, Eliza B. Wallace, Agnes Maggie McDill, Jennie McCahon, Edith W. Shontz, Hattie E. Shontz, lin, R. J. Love, J. J. Duncan, Wm. Petrie, Hattie A. Kerr, E. Bella P. Vance, Minnehaha Finney, Matilda Wishart, Jean A. Robertson, Simpson, Mary A. Wallace, Amelia Shoenhair, Mary J. Fisher and therford.

regational Statistics.—Members, 79; increase by profession, 25; by certifi- decrease, 17; adult baptisms, 14; contributions to the Boards, $292; contributions, $55; congregational expenses, $143; total contributions, rage per member, $6.53; enrollment of Sabbath school, 350; contribu- abbath school, $88.

ious Work.—Sabbath morning is left free as far as possible, so as to allow quiet reading and meditation, and also to afford an opportunity to any to do work in neighboring Sabbath schools. Preaching services are held at 10:30; Sabbath school at 2:30; and prayer meeting, Bible reading, or te perance meeting at 7. A considerable number of volunteers pursue a systema course of Bible study under the direction of Prof. Love. Other groups gat for reading missionary news or a good book. The increase of respect for t Lord's day is noticable in many after spending a few months on the coll grounds. The destruction of the college chapel left no audience room la enough for all to meet together, and hence a sermon was preached to the adu in one place, and another to the children in a separate place at the same tir Prayer meetings were held in three or four sections for the same reason, a also in order the better to exercise the gifts of the younger disciples.

The Sabbath School has been larger than usual; the average attendance fr October to April being over three hundred. It was found impossible for all meet together. Most of the advanced classes occupied, each, a separate roo both for devotional exercises and the study of the lesson. There were twen one classes, ranging in number of attendants from five to forty. The catechis are memorized by a large proportion of the children, and it is gratifying to how intelligently they answer on being received into the Church.

The Students' Christian Association has charge of the Sabbath evening me ings. One hundred and four are enrolled as members, and with their comm tees reporting monthly they endeavor to provoke one another to love and go works.

Mission Sabbath School.—Under the significant name of Back Alley Missi a school has been carried on without interruption. The usual attendance about 50, but the number present sometimes reaches 80. The students a teachers engaged in this work have shown a readiness to make sacrifices rat than allow interest to flag. The expenses have been met by collections ma every Sabbath. One of our female members, though having the care of her o family, acted as superintendent throughout the vacation, and by her exam both in the mission work and in her home life, rebuked the indifference many.

Bible Reader.—Miss Jennie McCahon began her work in August, visiti families, gathering in children, holding meetings with mothers and with you girls for sewing and religious instruction. She has confined her work to the i mediate neighborhood of the Sabbath schools, but she proposes to reach farther next year and gather in others. Her report was made monthly to t Women's Auxiliary Board, but most of the items with reference to the numb of visits, garments made and distributed, were lost in the fire, and had to be produced from memory. They are—visits, 432; scholars brought in, mothers' meetings, 59; prayer meetings, 59; sessions of sewing classes, 56; g ments made, 209; money received, $13; spent for reading-room, $3; for sewi school, $10; boxes and barrels received and distributed, 29.

Special Meetings were held in March and April, and for four or five weeks t interest seemed to warrant their continuance. There were earnest inquirers every meeting, and a considerable number professed their faith in Christ. Gl ness filled the souls of some, but others apparently could not enter in because unbelief.

College Work differs largely from what is required in most colleges. T course of study includes not only the higher branches usually taught, but a common school branches of the lowest grades. In addition to this, the ind trial arrangements require a large amount of superintendence. Teachers ha much to do outside of the class-room. They are required in the laundry, in t kitchen and dining-room, in halls, in the shop, in the printing room and the farm. Hence a large teaching force is required. Hence also peculiar qua fications are required. Students, after spending a few years in this institutio cannot but be influenced by the example of such teachers. It is reasonably pected that they will show to their own people that useful work of any kind not inconsistent with refinement and culture.

Industrial Department. For several years there has been constant growth the feeling of importance attached to this feature of educational work. Hou work, including chamber work, baking, cooking, washing and ironing; far work, including the care of cows and horses, the fertilizing of the ground, t keeping up of fences and the cultivation and storing of fruit; shop-work, e handling and proper use of tools, and the making of articles of prac-

; and type-setting with its accompanying drill in proof-reading and n—these show development and progress. The arrangement with the ersity of Tennessee continues. This secures to us $1,800 for the salo professors and $600 for remuneration of labor done by students ap-Senators and Representatives. Forty-five of such appointees have Boarding Department.—Miss Wallace reports 151 enrolled in the dining r of Elnathan Hall. "Of these 65 were girls and 86 young men. They ar from a distance, with the exception of one young girl from the city. We joyed our new hall very much. It was such a comfort not to be obliged to a cot in a room already full enough, or to have a partition erected when students came. Our dining room and laundry were a great improvemen the old ones. We returned thanks almost every day for Elnathan Hall. the fire came, and partitions had to be put in the halls, cots brought in, students crowded three and four in a room. Yet we rejoiced all the more if it had not been for this hall we would have been obliged to suspend school. Theological Department.—In accordance with the recommendation of th Assembly, the Board early in the year set about the organization of this and important department. After not a little consultation and inquiry, R R. Millin was elected, and his consent was at length obtained to enter upo work. There was at first much hesitation about beginning this year, b the first of February Prof. Millin reached Knoxville, and at once prepar began for carrying out the wish of the Assembly. A course of study ex ing over three years was agreed upon, and seven students volunteered to up such branches of the course as would not interfere with the successful p ation of their college studies. Classes were started in Hebrew, syste ology, Fisher's Catechism, English Bible with Kerr's Introduction, ient Greek, and Church History. This beginning exceeds our expecta-and the outlook for the coming year is full of hope. The regular course nged and published in the catalogue.

their earnest and cheerful co-operation with the teachers in the correct-

es. This promises to be helpful to them.

e Church.—Of the work required in lifting up these people none is of importance than that which relates directly to their religious life, as ife cannot be better than their religious ideas of life. Much of the good f the school and Sabbath school is counteracted by home influence and ligious teaching, both by precept and example. Rev. C. H. Johnson, a te of Knoxville College, class of 1888, and afterward studied theology in ilberforce University, was licensed and ordained in the A. M. E. Church, d to the Presbytery of Allegheny to be received into the United Presby-Church, October 3, 1893. Mr. Johnson appeared before Presbytery and lue care had been observed was received as a minister of the United terian Church. The Board at once sent him to Miller's Ferry with in-ons to organize a congregation as soon as practicable. He entered upon rk with energy and a congregation was organized in December with members. This was followed by a glorious revival in which many were ted and brought into the Church, which now numbers 38 members."

r. Johnson, the pastor, seems to have secured the respect and confidence people, and it is hoped that denominational prejudice may be overcome

PRAIRIE BLUFF, ALA.

This new station is known in the community as the middle place, but as it a strictly country place, and only a mile or two from the Prairie Bluff P Office, it will avoid confusion to give the mission the same name. Mr. H.
Oliver, a graduate of Knoxville College in 1890, entered the field in Januar the conditions are regarded favorable for the establishment of a school that w be a great benefit not only to the families within easy reach, but also indirect to others by stimulating school directors to secure better teachers and long school terms. The building is good, but very poorly provided with desks, a not large enough for more than 60 or 80 pupils. Some addition will be nec sary both to the building and teaching force. Mrs. Oliver spent several hou a day giving help in the school, because it was impossible for one teacher to justice to so many. Her valuable service is appreciated all the more becau rendered without pecuniary compensation. They have a Sabbath school wi an average attendance of 65, and it is hoped that Mr. Johnson will be able preach frequently at this place without interfering with his work at Mille Ferry. The distance between the two stations is only a few miles.

A Women's Missionary Society was organized during the year, w eighteen members. Twenty-three weekly meetings were held, $19.60 contri ted, considerable sewing done for the poor, and many sick visited.

The Congregation.—Has 101 members. Ten were received last year. Av age attendance at preaching service 75, and the amount of contributions $119.01.

The Sabbath School.—This is one of the most useful agencies. The harv does not immediately succeed the seedtime, but that the sowing is not in v is abundantly evident. The following figures, furnished by the principal, give some idea of the year's work:

This last is the largest attendance yet reached. The improvement in cipline and the increase in interest have been marked. We regard the S bath school papers furnished by the Board of Publication as one of the m efficient ways of preaching the gospel in the homes represented.

Day School.—This may be considered the most successful year in this m sion in this department of work. The enlargement of the building and the crease in teaching force has made thorough work in all departments possi The teachers have done well—several of them as well as the best.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan has been verse to the United Presbyterian Church. This will involve a large expendi for church premises in that city. ANNUITIES.

The annuity fund is attracting more attention. It furnishes donors wi safe investment from which an income is derived during life, and prov against the contingencies which attach to bequests. During the year $2 have been received. The funds so received are invested in approved first m gages. The amount now so held is $8,500.

BUSINESS METHODS.

The Board uses the precautions adopted by conservative institutions fo careful use, investment and preservation of the funds committed to it. Gr are made only on the application of the Presbytery in charge, with the pers endorsement of the Superintendent of Missions, together with full corresp ence and frequently after personal investigation. A permanent committe finance passes upon investments and the management of the funds. The vestments are made through agents of well-known and approved standing in Church. The Treasurer's account is kept with the Union National Ban Pittsburgh, an institution of high standing for its prudent and successful m agement, and all payments are made, not on his checks, but by warrants of Board signed by the President and Corresponding Secretary.

LOANS TO CHURCHES.

The Board has almost entirely ceased to make loans for the erectio churches. Congregations sometimes do not realize their expectations as t crease in strength and financial ability, and easily forget the obligation, or to be relieved of it. To this there are honorable exceptions.

A statement of such loans and also of the permanent funds is herewith mitted to the General Assembly.

THE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY BOARD.

During the past year the Women's Missionary Board has rendered valu aid by its co-operation. All applications for parsonages have been referre it and grants have been made to Altoona, Boyden and Second Portland.

The last General Assembly authorized arrangements by which the Wom Board could "act as an auxilary in the work of building churches for mi congregations." Aid was thus granted to the Second Church, Indianap The following regulations for this co-operation have been adopted by Boards and are submitted to the General Assembly:

REGULATIONS:—1. The Board of Church Extension shall receive all a cations for aid.

2. The Board of Church Extension shall transfer to the Women's Mis ary Board such applications as may be arranged for by the Corresponding retary for that department of the work of the Women's Board

3. The action of the Women's Board shall be final, and all responsib of the Board of Church Extension shall end with the transfer of the applica

4. The grants made by the Women's Missionary Board shall be upon conditions and under the regulations, approved by the General Assem which govern the Board of Church Extension. Provided, however, that no g shall be made for a larger amount than may be recommended by the Boa Church Extension.

5. The securities for grants made by the Women's Missionary Board be taken in its corporate name. Provided, that if in any case it is thought pr to make a donation through the Board of Church Extension, it shall be on condition that in the event of the sale of the property the proceeds shall b paid to the Women's Missionary Board. If both Boards have given help proceeds shall be divided pro rata.

6. The Women's Missionary Board shall report to the Board of Ch Extension the action taken on each application.

SABBATH SCHOOLS.

ntributions of the Sabbath Schools reported last year were applied eld, Mo., a mission which has had a very satisfactory history. The s sufficient to complete the work. Guided by the expressed wish he Board selected Second Providence and Second Denver for the con- of the schools during the past year, thus giving contributors a choice Special interest in Second Denver was manifested by the Presbytery ville. The amount given is $531.05 larger than in the preceding rill not be sufficient to meet the needs of the two missions.

THE ASSOCIATE REFORMED SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

ssociate Reformed Synod of the South, at its meeting in October, ed the co-operation of the United Presbyterian Church in establish- on in Atlanta, Georgia, and requested the Corresponding Secretary ard to visit the field in company with a committee of the Synod. was made, and on the report given an appropriation of $1,250 was he belief that such co-operation would lead to happy results in the l that a church of like faith in Atlanta would be of importance to our e removing to that city. The Synod has thus far failed to secure a issionary, and no purchase of property has yet been made.

NOTES.

Chicago.—The Board has made grants to both the Third and Fifth Churc in Chicago, therein departing from its usual rule not to undertake a second w in a city until the first has been completed. In this case the appropriation the Third Church had been long delayed, and the two are so far apart as to quite distinct fields.

Kansas City, Kan.—The First Church, Kansas City, Mo., set apart $8,000 mission purposes in Kansas City, and paid the money to the Board to be used. Seeing the importance of the field, the Board bought some lots in K sas City, Kansas, with a view to a mission. These lots are included in grant of $6,000.

Lincoln, Neb.—This was undertaken as a Young People's Memorial Chur It became necessary for the Board to make a grant of $1,200 to save the chu from liens entered against it.

Sioux City, Iowa.—The grant is for the erection of a small church, to be moved to the permanent site when secured.

Philadelphia, Southwest.—The grant is in part payment of a lot, the Pres tery assuming the remainder.

SECURITIES.

Careful attention has been given to the securities required for aid given the Board.

INTRODUCING THE SCRIPTURE PSALMS.

ast General Assembly with the view of bringing our Scripture more prominently to the attention of other denominations and securing n by them, directed the Board of Publication, in connection with a nmittee appointed by the Assembly to take into consideration suitable or extending the use of our Bible Songs. During the year the Board tion notified the chairman of the aforesaid committee of their readiter upon the duty assigned them by the General Assembly, and the co-operation of his committee in accordance with the resolution embly. To this request no reply was received.

The Board, after having given some consideration to the subject, begs l to state that acting under the authority of the Assembly, it has already very much to bring our Psalmody to the attention and favorable considera of other Christian denominations.

We have in the Psalter and "Bible Songs," music equal to if not sup to that of any other church. The Associate Reformed Church of the S has adopted and is using our Psalter and Bible Songs. The Holland Chris Reformed Church has adopted the Psalter as a part of its authorized Psalm In union meetings in which churches of our denomination join, the B Songs is the book generally used, and, as our information leads us to beli used to the satisfaction of the worshipers from other churches. They are used in public institutions and in schools and academies not denominatio Slowly but surely they seem to be finding their way into union Sab schools, and in not a few instances into the Sabbath schools of the other e gelical churches.

We believe there exists a willingness on the part of other Presbyte churches to join with the Psalm-singing churches in the preparation of a version of the Psalms in meter. If such a book was prepared, the joint of the several Presbyterian churches, we have reason to hope that it w soon be brought into general use among them.

As the committee appointed by the last General Assembly to confer similar committees of the Psalm-singing churches, for the purpose of secu a metrical version of the Psalms which would be acceptable to all the churc have this matter in hand, we do not feel that it is necessary that we sh make any other suggestions in this line, further than to say, that we thin would be well to give this committee authority to ask, in the name of the eral Assembly, the higher courts of all the Presbyterian churches in country to appoint committees similar to the aforementioned, with the vie securing a metrical version of the Psalms, which would be acceptable to al Presbyterian denominations.

In our last Annual Report we stated that plans had been adopted fo enlargement and improvement of the "Young Christian." These plans carried into effect at the first of this fiscal year whereby the paper was enla to sixteen pages without additional cost to the subscriber.

Our total business for the year in the two departments is as follows: Book department, $37,581.60, a decrease over the business of the prece year of $6,236.91. In Periodical department, total is $39,382.32, being a crease of $6,896.04, ($3,860.51 of this increase is in the advertising depart of the "Christian Union,") making a net increase in the year's busine $659.13. A comparison of figures with last year's report shows that in that of our business which deals directly with supplying the church wants there been but a very small decrease —the decrease being almost entirely in the plying of individual wants, where we have been effected, as all other busi houses have been during the past year, by the disposition of the public to tail their expenditures.

The receipts from the "Christian Union" include $3,860.51, the incom the year from ADVERTISEMENTS. And the receipts from the "Bible Teacher" clude $334.17, the receipts for the year from ADVERTISEMENTS. The "B Teacher" would have been published at a loss from the very first except fo small annual income from advertising which has brought its receipts up point just above the cost of manufacture.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

I.—BENEFICIARIES

Board has given aid to 65 young men during the year. Sixty-two are al students, and three are literary students of the senior year. Of the al students, 42 attended the Seminary at Allegheny, Pa., and 20 the Sem-Xenia, Ohio. Monmouth, Tarkio and Westminster each has one of ary students in the Senior class. Eighteen of the beneficiaries were in uating classes of the present year. One of the number, Mr. G. L.
the Senior class of Allegheny Seminary, a young man of much prom-called to an heavenly home only a few days before the time appointed raduating exercises of his class. Eighteen students were recommended ach; one for $75; twenty-five for $100 each; one for $120; and twenty each. The total amount asked for beneficiaries was $6,095. Twenty-sbyteries have been represented, as follows: Xenia, seven students;
ix; Allegheny, five; Monmouth and Westmoreland, four each; Col-ngs and Mercer, three each; Arkansas Valley, Caledonia, Conemaugh, rt, Kansas City, Lake, LeClaire, Monongahela, Muskingum, Sidney, eeling, two each; Beaver Valley, Boston, Brookville, Cedar Rapids, s, Des Moines, Illinois Central, Indiana, Omaha, Oregon, and Steubene each. The Board has not been able, from the contributions received, he full amount of appropriations asked by the Presbyteries. Students ended for $50, have received $41. Second year students, who applied have received $83; and those of the first year, who applied for $125, en paid $104 each. The actual payment to students amounts to $5,047.
umber of applications have been made by Presbyteries on behalf of litdents in the Sophomore and Junior years. Presbyteries have taken on upon the recommendation of the Assembly of 1891, namely, "That anted to all students who have passed the Freshman class, as the Board able." We regret to say that, since the transfer of the Speers estate to naries, it has been impossible for the Board to make any appropriation nts before entering the Senior class. The same policy will be pursued ture, or until such time as the contributions of the Church will justify in the method of distributing the money.

II.—SEMINARIES, COLLEGES AND ACADEMIES.

educational institutions of the Church are still demanding a more libonage on the part of the people. It must be remembered that the eceived from tuition in our colleges and accademies does not cover the utlay incurred in securing competent professors and instructors. In the es there is no tuition required. In order, therefore, to meet present the endowment of our denominational institutions should be largely d.

teachers in our colleges and academies will compare favorably with ployed in the larger institutions of the country. They are men and who are willing to make personal sacrifices for the good of our own in-
s. They are not demanding an advance in salary, but they do ask, e a right to expect, the Church to provide that which is necessary to a cessful prosecution of their work. The Assembly should not overlook, with indifference, a matter of so much importance to the future welfare ess of the Church. Again we repeat, "The educational enterprises of rch ought to be recognized as of equal importance with the work com-our mission boards."

with gratitude to God that we record the success of the work in our es, colleges, and academies during the past year.

SEMINARIES.

heny, Pa.—There are in the faculty four active professors, and one . Seventy-six students have been in attendance during the year. The tion is as follows: First year, 29; second year, 17; third year, 29;
, 1. The report shows an increase of 13 over the attendance of last ne year ago the graduating class numbered 19, the present year, 29.

The financial report is: Present endowment, $181,000. Receipts du the year: Endowment, $9,784; current expenses, $14,734; other objects, $3, total, $27,578.

Xenia, Ohio.—There have been four professors in the faculty. At a re meeting of the Board of Managers the resignation of Rev. W. W. White, D., was accepted. Provision will be made for filling the vacancy, either t porarily or permanently, before the opening of next session. Thirty-th students were in attendance during the session. The classification is as follo First year, 8; second year, 11; third year, 14.

The financial report is: Permanent endowment, $75,000. This fund received an addition of $8,000 during the year. Paid salaries to profes $6,000.

It is recommended by the faculty that "a yearly appropriation be m by the General Assembly in behalf of our educational institutions."

These reports, compared with the statements made to the Assembly 1893, show an increase of three in the attendance at the seminaries, and also increase of nine in the number of graduates.

COLLEGES.

Cooper Memorial College.—The faculty consists of 13 professors and instruct There are 179 students enrolled. The preparatory department numbers the collegiate, 14; and other departments, 79. There are two in the pre senior class, both preparing for the ministry. Ninety-two per cent. of students in the literary departments are professing Christians.

Present endowment, $25,000. During the year the contributions to end ment and current expenses have amounted t› $400. The reported need of college is, "More money to pay our teachers, and to purchase apparatus." recommendation of the faculty is, "An annual appropriation from the Gen Assembly to our colleges, and believe that the Church can in no better way vance the kingdom of Christ, and the cause of United Presbyterianism."

priation of $400. The Board allowed, and has forwarded, $350.

III.—FINANCE.

The annual statement of the treasurer is herewith submitted to the As bly. The report shows that 54 Presbyteries have contributed to the fun the Board during the year, and that 6 Presbyteries have not reported. By tion of the Assembly of 1893, $12,000 was appropriated for meeting dem upon the Board. The receipts for the year, including all the contributio the Church, are $4,510.86. It must be evident to every one, that the B cannot fulfill its mission of aiding young men, of assisting academies, an helping forward the educational work of the Church, when little more one-third of the appropriation is placed at our disposal. The recommenda of the General Assembly for 12 cents per member has been responded t the Presbyteries as follows: Three Presbyteries have contributed less than

IV.—THE BOARD.

The work performed by the Board in past years is a sufficient warran its existence and support. Experience proves that timely aid to young while prosecuting their studies, does not take away self-respect or weaken sonal influence. The system adopted in our public schools makes every pu beneficiary of the state. Our general government takes charge of every c and makes ample provision for his education. There is not a college or un sity in the land where we do not find this same element of beneficiary e tion fees are not sufficient to meet necessary expenses, hence the de-permanent endowments, and as a result rich and poor alike are being by drawing upon the liberal gifts and benefactions of others. It is he Church to recognize this general principle, to fall into line, and to same methods of beneficiary education which are proving so helpful eges, as well as in all our state and national institutions. Every year d promising young men are kept out of the ministry because of finan-ity. The calls for laborers in both the home and foreign fields are e demands upon the Church to provide more liberally for the educahe young. If the full amount appropriated by the Assembly was the hands of the Board there would be money sufficient to answer and to meet every claim. May we not expect a more prompt and ponse in the future?

Board asks for an appropriation of $12,000.

RT OF THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

Board of Ministerial Relief, in presenting its twenty-first annual re-ld gratefully recognize the continued goodness of God. During the the important work entrusted to it has been carried on quietly, and usual beneficent results. Notwithstanding the financial pressure, s materially affected contributions to the support of ministerial relief, neficiaries have regularly received their allotted assistance. In view ts, that the number of beneficiaries is increasing yearly, and that the f help is being augmented in many needy instances, the necessity for generous support of this Board in its good work is apparent.
Board have recorded with profound regret the death of its venerable

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S BOARD.

It is with pleasure we submit the annual report of the Women's Boa the year 1893–1894. The monthly report of the Secretary shows an incre the progress and interest in the work. Regular monthly reports have be ceived from the Foreign, Home, Freedmen, Church Extension and Pars Fund, Junior Missionary Secretaries and from Chairman of the Liter Committee and the Treasurer. The annual summary shows that reports been received from every presbytery in the Church, 62. Two new presby organizations are reported, Pittsburg, Kansas; and Spokane, Washin also 13 additional congregational societies, making in all 861 societies, com of 20,919 members. The number of members reported is less than that o year, but this is accounted for by the omitting of several societies that hav been reported for two years. The contributions for the year ending April 1894, amounted to $53,609, to which add the estimated value of boxes, $8 making a grand total of $62,171.

The charter is still in an unsettled state, but a report recommending the one at present in force be amended was received from the Assembly's mittee. The report was accepted by this Board.

FOREIGN WORK.

The report, which the Corresponding Secretary of the Foreign Depart presents, is in appearance very much the same as the reports of other year to those who have borne the burdens of the work, the encouragements an couragements, the joys and sorrows are not just the same as in other year the foreign fields the harvests have been whitening, but we are sorry to sa number of reapers have been diminishing until those remaining are appall the amount of work which needs to be done. In women workers, Egyp just lost two valuable helpers, and India has seven missionary women off

Work at Home. Because of the financial stringency of the times, an in in contributions was not expected. A few societies have taken up new wo are about to assume pledges, but that old pledges requiring no small amou sacrifice and self-denial have been faithfully kept, is certainly a cause for itude and encouragement. In answer to appeals last year from both Egyp India three new missionary women were sent out last autumn. We are happy to report that during the past year a larger number of young women volunteered their services for foreign work than during any previous year

Contributions. The total amount of money contributed by Missionary eties during the year ending April 15, 1894, was $25,064.76. Of this an $14,517.66 came into the treasury of the Women's Board, making, with t offering and balance from year before, $30,113.17. A few societies have reckoned as a whole, $547.10 to the treasury of the Board of Foreign Mis for the Present Year. The great need of both Egypt and India is for sionary women. There are young women holding themselves in readi- he work. The means is in hand (from thankoffering) to equip and but their support must come from increased contributions, otherwise be incurred. Missionary societies are therefore asked to bend their in this direction.

MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

In addition to the many boxes, etc., of goods sent by societies to our m ministers and their families our Board has expended in cash $325.21. Not has given us more pleasure.

FREEDMEN'S DEPARTMENT.

The most prominent feature of the work in this department has been Industrial Training for Girls. Seven Industrial Teachers, three Matro Homes (who are in reality Industrial Teachers also) and two Bible Readers been supported. The expenses of this department have been met as neces The Girls' Boarding Hall at Knoxville, Tenn., was furnished at an outl $2,000, also an addition to the school building at Miller's Ferry, Ala., at an lay of $1,000, was included in the work of the year.

Work for the coming year. The Board recommends the continuation o support of the Industrial Department this coming year, i. e., payment of aries, &c. Also at the suggestion of the Freedmen's Board, the erection school building at the mission at Athens, Tenn., and if the way is clear a s building at Prairie Bluff, Ala. (new mission).

CHURCH EXTENSION AND PARSONAGE WORK.

By aid from the Board two congregations have built parsonages this Clearfield, Iowa, receiving a loan of $800 for seven years, and the Se Church, Portland, Oregon, $2,250 for twelve years. A third loan of $45 five years was made to the congregation of Boyden to build an addition parsonage. A loan of $3,560 has been granted to the congregation of Alt Pa., for fourteen years, and it is now ready to begin building.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

We are happy to report increased interest in this department. In th vised constitution for Presbyterial Societies, a secretary of Junior Missio work is made an officer of that society, thus the work is being better tematized. The Junior Missionary Society includes all the youth of our Ch from the "Cradle Roll" up to the Young Women's Societies. Many ne cieties have been organized. One Presbyterial reports 200 new mem another 251. A number of the Junior Missionary Societies are pledged for sp work, such as scholarships in the schools of India and Egypt and work a the Freedmen.

RT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

ollecting information to lay before the Assembly, we have sent out the nks for all the congregations, and have had reports from the clerks of ries, based upon the facts thus obtained. Each one of our Secretaries asked for his views of the situation, not only from the standpoint of d, but from his general knowledge of the condition of the Church. large number of letters were written to brethren in different parts of ch who were supposed to be well informed as to the state of religion own Synods. Almost all of these brethren have courteously respond- requests, and we have in our hands a large number of very satisfac- rts. This report is simply a summary of the information thus gathered. e no theories of our own to ventilate or any advice to give. Our duty rged when we have laid before the Assembly all the information we n able to gather concerning the condition of the Church.

regations—There are 939 congregations, of which 11 are in India and ypt. There are 776 pastoral charges, of which 10 are in India and 29 . There are 668 congregations with pastors or stated supplies, an in- 30. Twenty-nine of these are in the foreign field. Two hundred and one congregations are vacant, 11 of which are foreign; 28 less than last year. Twenty-one congregations have been organized, one of them in foreign field; there were 33 organized last year. Thirteen congregations dissolved, same as last year. There were 38 houses of worship erected, co $402,465; there were 23 last year, costing $134,735. There were 21 parson erected, costing $39,600; there were 16 erected last year, costing $30,050. T are 54 congregations that have no houses of worship; there were 61 last ye Membership.—The number of communicants is 115,272. The whole nu received during the year is 14,419; 8,249 on profession, and 6,170 on certifi The net increase is 4,153; last year it was 2,101. There were 1,861 adults tized, 343 more than last year. There were 1,680 deaths and 8,586 remo There are 104,058 members in America, an increase of 3,510.

In order to show the relative progress of the work your attention is c to the following comparative statistics. We will made the comparison Synods:

Synod.	Profession.	Certificate.
New York	1,082	782
Pittsburgh	1,526	1,006
First West	1,210	918
Ohio	645	363
Second	715	387
Illinois	909	548
Iowa	658	606
Kansas	217	289
Nebraska	329	367
California	168	128
Columbia	140	136

The effect of emigration is seen by comparing the increase by profe and by certificate. In all west of Illinois the proportion of the latter is gre Last year attention was called to the fact that there is a great loss of mem by removal. For years past the number of removals has been largely in e of the certificates received. This year has been no exception to this rule difference being 2,146. What becomes of these members? Some of t doubtless go to other Churches, but then we receive members from Churches in return. One correspondent suggests that a good many of t drop out without moving away and without going into other Churches.

Sabbath Schools—Schools open the whole year 1,096, increase 31; sch open part of the year 18, decrease 33; total number of schools 1,114, decrea Officers and teachers 11,123, a decrease of 33. Number of scholars 101 an increase of 4,759; contributions $79,250; a decrease of $427.

The number of scholars in the Sabbath School is 13,605 less than the n ber of members in the Church. When we take into account the fact tha the most of our schools, there are scholars that are not members, and tha many of our larger schools there is a large per cent. of such scholars, w forced to the conclusion that there must be from 15,000 to 20,000 membe the Church that have no connection with the Sabbath School. In the Syn New York there are 106 Sabbath Schools and 105 congregations. In the Sy of California the number is the same. In all the other Synods the numb congregations is greater than the number of schools, ranging from 7 i Synod of Pittsburgh to 2 in the Synod of Ohio, making in the aggregat more congregations than Sabbath Schools. As there are a number of con gations that are supporting two schools, there must be from 30 to 40 cong tions that are trying to do the Lord's work without any Sabbath School.

Missionary Societies.—Congregational societies number 853, a decrease The Young People's Societies number 710, an increase of 46. The membe of the Young People's Societies is 30,824, an increase of 2,732.

Contributions.—(Including contributions of Sabbath Schools and Mis ary Societies)—For salaries of ministers $569,086, an increase of $6,066; co gational purposes $598,105, an increase of $160,555; the Boards $241,787, crease of $59 039; general purposes $97,086, a decrease of $11,608; making a of $1,506,064, an increase of $105,974. This is not only an increase ove aggregate of last year, but of any preceding year. The average per memb he highest average ever reached. The Synod of Pittsburgh has the average, $21.73. Nebraska comes second with an average of $14.94. other Synods are below the average, Ohio, Second and Kansas being st.

average salary of pastors in the different Synods runs from $810 and Second and Ohio, to $1,275 and $1,277 in New York and California.

n hundred and sixty-nine congregations have contributed to one fund, the funds, 50 have not contributed to any of the funds, 47 with a mem- of 2,350 have not reported.

STATE OF RELIGION.

The past year has been one of great spiritual quickening all over the Ch Large ingatherings have been made. In many places the work has been l ly aggressive, as is shown in the number of adults that have been baptized other places the accessions have been chiefly from the Sabbath School. I great majority of the reports there are accounts of the revival of the mem of the Church. and of their being stimulated to greater activity in Chri work. Here are some specimens of the words of cheer that we have rec from many of the brethren: "There is great spiritual thrift throughou Presbytery;" "God's hand of blessing is very visible in many congregatio "The Holy Spirit has wrought wonderfully in many congregations throug preaching of the Word;" "The evangelistic work done confirms us in th lief that the United Presbyterian Church has but entered on the era aggressive efficiency." There is one very encouraging feature of this wo grace, and that is the fact that our people are beginning to realize the that our beloved Church is thoroughly equipped for aggressive work. hymns, given to the Church by the Holy Spirit, are just what his people in evangelistic work, because they are the best revival hymns in the world because we may expect the Spirit to bless the instrumentality appointe himself. Our workers, too, are among the best. There is no training scho Christian workers equal to the family in which the parents conscienti bring up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, whic believe to be the case in a great many United Presbyterian families.

A great many special meetings are reported. A number of Presby report such meetings in every congregation. The accessions from the have been chiefly in connection with these meetings. This method of is becoming a prominent feature in our Church operations, and is now g ally recognized. While we rejoice in the good accomplished through agency, and pray the Head of the Church to make it still more effective, o tention has been called to an element of danger connected with it. brother writes: "We should be on our guard against unauthorized and qualified evangelists." great majority of the reports speak of the "hard times" as a blessing urch. One brother from the far West writes: "Really I believe that l times have resulted well in this, that many have been brought to re about their souls' welfare, than they were wont to do in times of y. But whilst our people are conservative, they are awake to nt needs of the world. Hence reform movements find in our member- pathy and help. There is not a reform movement that is now attract- tion but that has a large percentage of its leaders and managers from stry and membership of the United Presbyterian Church.

Another an equal num- e usual proportion being from one-third to two-fifths more females than If the average is the same in the congregations not reporting, the proportion of male to female members in our Church, is greater than the av in other denominations. This proves that whatever may be the influ which the lodge exerts in keeping men out of our Church, it exerts a gr influence in keeping them out of the churches that fellowship the membe secret associations. There is good reason to believe that the influence o young people's societies will, to a very great extent, prevent the lodges recruiting members from the ranks of our young men in the future.

In our letters to the brethren asking for information, we requested the speak freely of thei discouragements, as well as their encouragements. are some of the discouraging things developed by this correspondence.

1. A growing spirit of paternalism; "Pauperism" one brother calls Congregations ask large sums, but give wonderfully little. The Church set them up, as a wealthy father would set up a son in business. Many stu look to the Church to get them through and take care of them.

2. There is a tendency to merge the denomination in general active C tian work. Our Young People's Societies are in many cases Christian deavor. They are identified with that movement, and hold it superior t Church movement. They like to attend the overwhelming conventions, an carried away by dimensions, rather than by convictions and personal devo After writing along this line, a correspondent says: "I would like to se young people thoroughly organized as United Presbyterians, and then if n sary let there be a delegate representation in a general convention. I bas remarks on the possible danger, on what I have seen in our own Church on what I have heard men of other churches say."

3. From several quarters come statements such as these: "There is enthusiasm for the United Presbyterian Church;" "The psalms are sung greater extent;" "There is a growing pride in the Church;" "But a same time there is an increase of the feeling that denominational differenc not amount to anything."

4. Another danger pointed out by several brethren is well express the following quotation from a letter written by a brother who has given matter much thought: "A matter was broached at our Synod last au that should receive the attention of the whole Church, viz., the spiritual tution of large sections of the country. The great influx of the people the country districts to the cities and large towns has weakened country co gations, so that in many places there is little or no preaching of the Gospel as a consequence families that remain are growing up half heathen. Atte to this condition of affairs ought to be urged upon Presbyteries and Sy Hitherto we have looked to the country for stability in things moral and s ual, but this will not be afforded in the future as in the past if this negl permitted to continue, or increase."

It is but just to these brethren that have written of these discouragem to say that they are not fault-finders, or pessimists. They are active, ho earnest men, diligently engaged in their Master's work. Their positi watchmen on the walls of Zion gives them an opportunity of knowing the dangers are, and faithfulness requires them to declare them.

The Committee would report their obedience to the Assembly's orde the preparation of uniform topics for the mid-week prayer meetings, an the renewal of the study of the Bible by books. The Minor Prophets selected, because the study of them is much neglected, and because describe a condition of affairs that largely exists in our own land at the pr time. A brother, who has carefully studied this subject, suggests the rangements be made by the Assembly to provide a People's Course in Biblic ology, covering the whole Bible in about 5 years, using one mid-week p meeting every month. He says, "I sincerely believe that if the Asse would take hold of the plan vigorously, and appoint a committee of our nary professors who are specially adapted to the work, to prepare and pu such an outline or course as indicated above, for the people's use, it wou nothing else could, place us before the world as a Church devoted to the or God, and also increase that devotion. What testimony is more pressing demand? What increase is more desirable?"

May the influences of divine grace, that have been enjoyed during r so abundantly, be increased in power, until every member of the e filled with the Spirit. May the Assembly be guided in all its delib-by the King and Head of the Church.

r committee believe that the failure to raise the sum asked by the f a good congregational system of raising money. Your committee be-the binding obligation of the tithe and the blessings that follow tithe yet they believe that in this dispensation the majority of Christians ive more than the one-tenth, that is, "as God has prospered them"; but this be recognized or not, any plan that is regular and systematic is an the haphazard plan of "giving what you have with you," as prac-often. Your committee would, therefore, again urge the envelope upon all congregations, whose present plan fails to meet the require-the Church. By this is meant a careful canvass of the entire congre-nd the securing, if possible. of a subscription to be paid each Sabbath ry man, woman, child, and adherent in the congregation; then the ng of fifty-two envelopes, properly marked and registered in the Treas-ok, to each one of these subscribers, these envelopes to be collected in ection boxes each Sabbath, and opened on Monday and the amounts

At the end of six months, if any subscriber has failed to pay two or baths, send him a statement, showing the amount in arrears, as any iness house would do. Many successful congregations raise all their astor's salary, general expenses, Sabbath school expenses, and mission in one common fund in this way. One advantage of this system is, it . Another is that it raises more money. Many a child could subscribe five cents per week, and thus be trained in habits of thrift and giving, would be almost impossible to give $1.00 at the end of the year. Many ould think himself liberal if he subscribed $5.00 to the Church or to missions, or perhaps could not well spare $5.00 at the end of the year, yet w cheerfully and easily give twenty-five cents a Sabbath or 160 per cent.

than $5.00 per year.

Your committee would suggest that the Board of Publication be requ to prepare in connection with the Ways and Means Committee, suitable scription cards, envelopes, and treasurers' books to be used in this system supplies to be furnished to congregations at about cost.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE ON YOU PEOPLE'S WORK.

It is five years since the General Assembly, in response to a memorial the Young People's Convention held in Allegheny, Pa., appointed a perm committee of five to give general direction to the work among our youn ple. This committee, in connection with a committee of five elected an by the Young People's Institute, and the General Secretary appointed an by the General Assembly, constitute what is known as the General Com on Young People's Work in our Church. It is a pleasure to know tha method of guiding and assisting this work, as outlined by the Assembly worked so satisfactorily, that every year gives us some new evidence wisdom of the plan. Yet as the work grows in interest and in responsi it appears to us that some slight changes could be made with advantage concerned.

The plan of having denominational oversight in the training of the people for active Christian work is being followed by the Methodist Epis the Baptist, the Presbyterian, the United Brethren, and recently by branches of the Lutheran Church. They, as well as we, are beginn realize that the work of training the young for service should be placed i same relation to the Church, as the work of teaching the young in the Sa school.

The following is a synopsis of the work done during the past year by committee and the friends who have assisted them. Conferences upon ork and Bible Study were held by nearly all the Synods last year, ses were made at many of them by some members of the committee eral Secretary.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARIES.

er part of the year's work was the effort put forth to systematize the ng our young people by organizing local societies and Presbyterial s wherever there was an opportunity. Requests were sent by letter gh The Young Christian to the clerks of different Presbyteries, m to report the names and addresses of the Presbyterial correspond- aries. About twenty names were thus reported, but our General has, by the assistance of Dr. A. G. Wallace, the second clerk of the succeeded in obtaining the names and addresses of all these corre- secretaries. The committee has prepared blanks similar to those in Sabbath School Committee of the Board of Publication, and hopes Presbytery will aid its corresponding secretary in holding confer- this work, in organizing societies and in any other way that may able.

g the year the secretary of the General Committee sent out blanks y Presbyteries. requesting reports from every society in our Church, for young people's work. She has received reports from fifty-one of byteries, and from four of our Freedmen's mission stations. The re- that fifty-four Presbyterial conventions and conferences have been that a number of new societies have been formed, and a gain in ip of over 2,700. This has been due in a large measure to the faith- n the part of our corresponding secretaries.

ciety. It is with profound gratitude to our Heavenly Father that we ca port that 2,130 members of these societies have united with the Church du the past year by a profession of their faith. This is the first time tha committee has been able to give a definite report upon this part of the w and this item is not complete because some of our societies failed to answe inquiry about conversions.

CONTRIBUTIONS.

The societies reporting have contributed during the year the sum of 872.86. A large percentage of the societies report that they have raised money by collection and subscription, while some report that they have r theirs by entertainments. It is a reason for congratulation that the volu method has been so prevalent, and we hope that the time will come whe the young people of our Church and of every Christian Church will re that this is the only acceptable method of giving to the Lord. In additi these contributions, we note with pleasure that the Junior Unions have tributed $1,238 for various purposes.

The committee asked the Young People's Societies for a contribution o cents per member to help defray the expenses of the Institute, and othe penses incurred in connection with the Young People's work. Accordi the report of the treasurer, W. J. Stewart, over one half of our members contributed, making an aggregate of $830.

ENCOURAGEMENTS AND DISCOURAGEMENTS.

In the blanks sent out we asked reports from societies as to the encou ments and discouragements. Among the encouragements mentioned in reports, some societies speak of "great spiritual awakening" and "many fessing Christ;" others report "greater activity" among their members. are encouraged by seeing "the active work of the committees." A few couragements are mentioned. The first one is "the failure of young m

Some report their discouragement to be "a failure to keep the pledge," others are discouraged by the "non-attendance of members."

CONVENTIONS.

At the close of the year, 1893, the chairman of the General Committe ceived an official invitation (from Mr. John R. Mott, chairman of the E tive Committee) to attend the Second International Convention of the Stu Volunteers, held at Detroit, February 28–March 4, 1894. The chairman asked to personally represent "Our Young People's Union" at this impo gathering. This invitation was referred to the committee, and at their re he accepted it. This convention was the largest and most representative sionary convention ever held on this continent, there being an attendan over 1,400 delegates, 1,100 of whom were students from the different inaries and colleges of the United States and Canada. The reflex influen such a convention will be felt for many months in all the churches and soc represented.

In April of this year the committee of the Associate Reformed Syn the South sent a most cordial invitation to the Young People of our Chur attend the synodical convention of their Young People's Societies, to be at Due West, S. C., May 3–6, 1894. Rev. R. J. Miller, D. D., editor o Sabbath school periodicals and of our Christian Union, and the chairman requested by our committee to accept the invitation and represent the y people of our Church. They did so, and were received with the greatest ness by the Convention, and by the friends whose hospitality they were mitted to enjoy. The Convention was a very profitable one. The di-cus and papers gave evidence of very careful preparation, and the large attend delegates and visitors indicated the deep interest felt in the young pe

nt. The convention elected two of their members to our Institute in phia, Pa., and when it was learned that others expected to attend, a vas passed that all those who will be present in this Institute from the e Reformed Synod of the South should be regarded as delegates. We l expect to meet quite a number of these friends next July.

THE INSTITUTE.

next Institute will be held in the Second United Presbyterian Church, phia, July 5–8, instead of May 3–6, as first proposed. Among the rea- holding it after the meeting of the Assembly were the fact that some ost active workers would be prevented from attending both meetings, ral requests were made that we change the date of the Institute this s to give an opportunity to our members who are attending or teach- ol to attend the Institute. We herewith submit a copy of the pro- this next Institute, and extend a most cordial invitation to the mem- his General Assembly to come, if possible, to the meeting, and aid ur presence and prayers in training the young people of our beloved or better serving him, "whose we are and whom we serve."

EPORT ON THE CHARTER OF THE WOMEN'S GENERAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Committee on the Charter of the Women's General Missionary Society eport that they have had several meetings with the Women's Board erence to the charter of the Society. We have also taken legal counsel erence to the incorporation of the Board as provided for in the charter d to the Assembly last year, and find that there is a difference of opin- the legality of such an incorporation under the laws of Pennsylvania. the points involved have never been passed upon by the Supreme Court State, and the advice given was that the charter, if obtained, should be carried to the Supreme Court for a decision as to its legality, inas- it would be unsafe to acquire vested interests until such a decision was . In view of the time and expense required in testing this matter, and iew of the rights vested in the present corporation and the undoubted of its charter, we recommend that the present charter be retained with mendments hereafter suggested, which will carry out the directions of ious Assembly. REPORT ON RAILROAD FARE.

After conference with different representatives of lines interested i business, we selected as the official routes the Union and Northern Pacifi connecting lines, as they would serve the largest number of our people least inconvenience and expense.

As far as the matter of rates is concerned, the trans-continental lines a distinction between lay and clerical delegates, giving the former a roun rate of $65.50 from eastern terminals, and to the clergymen and their fa one-half of the first-class rate in each direction, which was $22.50 from e terminals. These figures show that, although there was a discriminatio tween the two classes of delegates, the average rate was less than that se for the Presbyterians two years ago, which was $60.00 for the round trip.

Every possible effort was made to induce the lines of the Western Pass Association to grant some concession on regular rates, in which we were as by representatives of the Trans-Continental, Central Traffic, and Trunk Associations, but were only successful in securing half rates for clergymen.

There was, by the Northern Pacific R. R., an additional charge of per passenger in the standard sleeping cars and $1.00 per passenger in t cars over regular rates, to provide, in part, for the expense of the lay-ov the cars on the west-bound trip. The greater part of the expense for th over of cars, however, was paid by the lines interested.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON A COMMON VE SION OF THE PSALMS.

The action of the Assembly of 1893, though that action was taken pron ly upon its presentation, was necessarily too late to be transmitted to the G eral Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of Amer This year, however, owing to suggestions made, one or more of the Presbyte of that body have formally approved the project and overtured it to the G eral Assembly, which meets in Saratoga, N. Y., May 17. Possibly new their action may reach you before you adjourn.

The Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church was in session in Castle, Pa., June 1, upon the arrival home of the chairman of your c mittee; and the news he brought of your action was received with warm gard. A meeting was held next day with their committee, and later a sec meeting with members of that committee in Allegheny. A full meetin your committee was secured at a later date. It results from these meet that the matter has been brought by conversation and correspondence to favorable attention of brethren of various churches. It grows upon us tha extensive co-operation of the churches is attainable in view of the greatne the object, viz., a translation of "the Book of Psalms into English ver which shall be the common work and property of the churches of our L using our common tongue, and shall thus be the joint literary possession of Anglo-Saxon race in many lands and for many years to come. An obje great requires devout dependence on our divine Lord, whose glory is sou and also regard for his servants, who have an equal heritage in the work its results.

We, therefore, suggest that a committee be authorized by the Assemb continue the work, to secure all available co-operation from sister churches, to proceed as far as may be practicable in the labor of compilation, selection revision, looking to future approved results.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE INTRODU TION OF BIBLE SONGS.

At as early a period as practicable a correspondence was instituted with Board of Publication for instructions as to what measures should be adopte carry out the purpose of the Assembly, and the committee was authorize proceed as might seem best. Accordingly, after correspondence with var parties conducting union services, the committee received satisfactory a ances that Bible Songs would be accepted and used in services connected the Bible Institute, Chicago, under the charge of Mr. D. L. Moody. through what seemed unavoidable delay, the books were not furnished late in the summer, and valuable opportunities had been lost. The books gratefully received, and a promise given that they would be used when practicable.

The masses are ignorant of the authority for and superiority of the Ps as a book of praise, and show no special desire to return to their use even the sake of United Presbyterians. There is much prejudice that ought removed. By employing a competent person to take charge of the sin more might have been done, we believe, but the committee had no authori employ such person, nor had they any funds placed at their disposal to the expense. Our present books are regarded as denominational and lo upon as imperfect by other Churches, so there is great reluctance to adopt t The committee thought it possible that this feeling might be better overc if a version were prepared and set to music by competent scholars from va bodies, and presented to Christendom as God's book of praise for all nat the use of all Churches and by all Christians. We have one English

Sir:—I am greatly obliged by the receipt of your cordial invitation to e in the preparation of a metrical version of the Psalter. As this is a hich especially interests those who make exclusive use of the Psalms oture paraphrases in public worship, it seems to me that the book ter be committed to their management. I most heartily wish that us bodies, which employ the Psalms exclusively, would act in concert atter. If they can unite upon some metrical version of the Psalms, ry to them all, I feel very confident that the branch of the Presbyter-h to which I belong would be ready to meet them half way, either in r of union services or of denominational union. The Presbyterian Publication has for the last twenty years published an edition of our ian Hymnal containing in addition Rouse's version of the Psalms, ther or both can be sung at the pleasure of the congregation. And ethren, who are one with us in every other respect, show a preference other metrical version of the Psalms, we shall, I am sure, be forward hem in the same way, and do everything in our power to remove any rom this source in the way of a more perfect union.

ing you all success in the enterprise proposed, I am, questions relating to "Bible Songs" are received. Speaking for my-idually, and to a limited extent as representing the Congregationalists, body I belong, I would say that it appears to me that the question, such a revised book should be prepared, is one which belongs rather a denomination than to us. We do not feel the need of such a book. urpose is to provide a book which shall be the basis for undenomina-e, I do not think it feasible, because it would exclude very many of salms and hymns and spiritual songs, which are necessary in our own nd in ninety-nine hundredths of the union services in which we would . You could hardly expect, for example, that such a book would be used in any union services, except when some United Presbyterian dele were present, and then simply out of courtesy, and, as we think, to our detriment. I do not think the Congregationalists would co-operate in s movement. I would answer to your questions: 1—That such a book is not ticularly desirable from my point of view. 2—That I question whethe feasible to have such a book prepared by representatives of different denc ations. 3—I should personally be very glad to do anything I could to aid in better translations of such psalms or portions of the Bible as can be useful in the song of our modern Churches. 4—I doubt if Congregation would co-operate in such a movement. At the same time I do not think the wealth of Scripture has yet been exhausted in song, although I do no lieve that it can often be closely paraphrased. Yours very truly,

Dear Bro:—I have your communication of March 22, relative to the posed revision of Bible Songs, etc. I answer your four questions from Methodist standpoint as I understand it: Question 1—Answer, No. Que 2—Ans., possibly. Question 3—Ans., I should certainly do nothing to op it, but can see no reason why I should take any active part in the m Question 4—Ans., I do not think that our denomination would take any i est in the matter. I may be utterly wrong as to the Methodist sentime lack of sentiment on the question, but I am inclined to think that I am n from right.

CHICAGO, ILL., March 23, 18

Dear Bro. Collins.—Your letter in respect to the plan of preparing a containing Bible Songs received. After looking it over and noting the q tions raised, I understand that the object is to have such a book which i denominational. In a certain sense, such is a fine ideal. But as some tho it best to submit the matter to competent musicians, etc., I am afraid tha music will be very good and the words not what we wish them to be, lar in hymns. It strikes me as though one of the lines of demarcation bet different denominations will be effaced, out of which much dissatisfacti am afraid, will arise from the side of some churches. If, however, it does conflict with some of the principles of your and our church, it is a very plan. It would be very desirable indeed and would receive my hearty sup Our denomination would undoubtedly co-operate in such a movement.

As to the feasibility of the matter, I cannot help but express fear. It w undoubtedly receive from the majority applause and strong support, bu minority would feel the more hurt.

Dear brother, the singing question is very tender, not to be me roughly with. The history of our Church and yours are examples. We d want to disturb the peace, and by laying such a broad foundation as no nominational, thus attempting to suit all, how good it may be, will cause trust from the side of many. And if, above all, something can be found apparently is in conflict with laid down principles, the end will not pr blessing.

In these few thoughts I express what came in my mind when reading letter. Hoping the spirit of wisdom may fill the committee in their la remain your affectionate brother in our Saviour.

DUE WEST, S. C., March 27, 1894

Rev. J. A. Collins.

Dear Bro:—In reply to yours, I would say: 1—It is desirable, with objection from the standpoint of an old Psalm singer. The multiplicati approved versions weakens our position for an exclusively inspired Psalm not logically, I know, but practically. Then, too, the commendable practi ng Psalms, becomes more difficult and confusing by change of vert with all this, I think the suggestion a good one. 2—Yes, it seems irely feasible. 3—Yes 4—I think so, but it is simply an opinion of and therefore not worth much. The more other denominations know lms the better they will like them.

these letters the Assembly can judge whether it would be wise to matter upon the attention of other bodies at the present time. The e is unanimous in the opinion that the time has come for such a t. As we have one English Bible for reading in all English speaking let us have one metrical version prepared by an Interdenominational e and fitted for universal use, but specially in union meetings. The e suggests:
hat the effort to introduce the Psalms into union services be continued.
hat those to whom this work may be committed by the Assembly er to employ a proper person, qualified to take charge of the praise such union meetings.
hat the books necessary for introduction be furnished gratuitously by hat proper steps be taken to earnestly press the matter of preparing a REPORT OF THE WESTERN SECTION OF THE EXE TIVE COMMISSION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

Honored Brethren.—The Executive Commission, Western Section, o "Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the World holding the byterian System," respectfully reports to your venerable body as follows:

Since the date of the last report two meetings of the Commission have held, one in Cincinnati, Ohio, October, 1893, and the other in Philadel Pa., April, 1894. After due consideration the Commission deemed it wi order to further the interests of the Alliance, to meet in other cities, in tion to New York. The success of the meetings in Cincinnati and Phil phia is the best proof of the wisdom of the new policy.

The Commission would further report that the Sixth General Coun the Alliance will be held in Glasgow, Scotland, during the summer of The basis of representation in the Council is as follows: "For each 100 gregations or less, two delegates, up to 1000 congregations; above 1000 co gations, one delegate for each additional 250 congregations." It is sugg that your venerable body take action looking towards the appointment o egates to this Council.

The apportionment of expenses due from your Church for the year is Will you kindly take action providing for the payment of this apportion and direct that it be forwarded to F. K. Hipple, Esq., Treasurer of the All 1340 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.?

With a view to a more full expression of the kindly sentiment of th formed Churches, each with the other, and of their spiritual unity, it giv pleasure to state that the Executive Commission has appointed Rev. W Black, D. D., of Marshall, Mo., as a delegate to bear to your venerable bo fraternal greetings of the Alliance.

One matter, which does not fall directly within the sphere of the w the Commission, is yet of general interest, viz., the proposed Federation Presbyterian and Reformed Churches in the United States. We rejoice th plan of this proposed Federation has been adopted by the Committees of ference appointed by the several churches, and it is our hope that the act the committee may be followed by a like unanimous action on the part supreme judicatories of the churches.

With best wishes for the prosperity of the cause of Christ in your mi a Church, and through you in all the world.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following partial report, which was adopted:

PARTIAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

Rev. Francesco Rostan, of the Waldensian Church, is present, bearing duly authenticated credentials as fraternal delegate to this Assembly. We therefore recommend that he be so recognized, and the time for hearing the greeting of this ancient church be fixed for 11 o'clock this morning. We have also received an invitation addressed to the Assembly from the Board of Managers of the United Presbyterian Orphans' Home to visit the Home on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock. We recommend that the Assembly accept this invitation with thanks, and that as far as possible the Commissioners avail themselves of this opportunity to become better acquainted with the management of this noble work for the Lord's little ones.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Home Missions was made the order of the day for to-morrow at 10 o'clock a. m.

J. G. Carson, D. D., presented the following paper, and the request made in it was granted:

DR. J. G. CARSON'S REQUEST.

The undersigned desires to change his protest against the action of the Assembly of 1883, allowing the use of instrumental accompaniment in the worship of God in the United Presbyterian Church, and all his subsequent protests on the same subject into a dissent, for the following reasons:

1. Because he regards a protest as a solemn declaration that he cannot submit to such action, whereas a dissent is merely an expression of disapproval and a declaration that he cannot acquiesce in it.

2. By the former he is excluded from joining in the worship of any congregation of the United Presbyterian Church where the instrument is used, and from participation by contributions or otherwise in the work of those Boards, any portion of whose funds is used for the help or support of those congregations which employ such instrumental accompaniment; whereas by the latter he is enabled to do both without compromising his conviction.

For these and other reasons he asks the privilege of having this statement recorded in the minutes of the Assembly, and this dissent substituted in place of his protests without, however, receding from the reasons accompanying such protests.

The death of Rev. Alex. Story, of Keokuk Presbytery, and Rev. J. A. Edie, of the Beaver Valley Presbytery, commissioners-elect to this Assembly, was announced. The following were appointed a committee to attend the funeral of the latter, which occurs this afternoon: Revs. J. G. Carson, D. D., and W. F. Harper. John A. Wilson, D. D., the Moderator of the last Assembly, was requested to act as a member of this committee.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following partial report which was adopted:

REPORT ON J. K. ANDREWS' COMPLAINT.

In the case of Mr. J. K. Andrews, who was suspended by the session of Londonderry, Ohio, congregation, for "making determined opposition to one of the principles of the United Presbyterian Church, viz: That the first day of the week is the Holy Sabbath;" and whose case is presented by complaint against the action taken by the Synod of Ohio, the Judiciary Committee finds that the complaint is regularly before the Assembly, but in view of the fact that the complainant, by his plea against his own public profession and against the public profession of the Church, can claim no standing in this Court.

Resolved, That the complaint be not entertained.

The Committee on Union with the Holland Christian Reformed Church presented a report, whose consideration was made the first order of the day for Tuesday afternoon.

The following resolution was proposed: "That a committee be raised to revise the Bible Songs, and that an abridged edition of Bible Songs be prepared for use in mission schools." This resolution was referred to the Committee on the Board of Publication.

A recess was taken until 11 o'clock to give the committees an opportunity to prepare their reports.

Proceeded to the order of the day, when Rev. Francesco Rostan, delegate from the Synod of the Waldensian Church of Italy, presented the Christian salutations of that Church. The Moderator responded in the name of the Assembly.

The report of the Permanent Committee on Reform was read and referred to the Standing Committee on Reform.

After prayer by W. G. Moorehead, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

2 o'clock, p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. H. J. Bell.

The roll was called. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The Moderator nominated and the Assembly confirmed the following as members of the Permanent Committee on a Union Metrical Version of the Psalms:

On a Union Metrical Version of the Psalms.—W. J. Robinson, D. D., R. G. Ferguson, D. D., Joseph Kyle, D. D.

A short time was spent in devotional exercises.

The Committee on Judiciary presented a partial report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON DR. W. H. BLAIR'S APPEAL.

In reviewing the papers in this case, the Committee on Judiciary find Wm. H. Blair, M. D., charged by the session of Adamsville congregation with selling liquor, with and without prescription, in his drugstore to minors and drunkards. The investigation was made by a Commission appointed by Presbytery, upon the case coming before it from session. The Commission found Dr. Blair guilty and administered the censure of admonition. The Presbytery sustained the action of the Commission. Dr. Blair gave notice of appeal to Synod. On taking up the case Synod sustained the action of the Presbytery. Mr. Blair appealed from the decision of the Synod to the Assembly.

Having reviewed the facts in the case, the Judiciary Committee decide the appeal of Dr. Blair from the action of the First Synod of the West to be regular, and recommend that it be referred to the Assembly for adjudication.

Rev. J. A. Bailey was given the privilege of the floor of the Assembly during the consideration of this case as the representative of the appellant. The records in the case were read. The appellant was heard by his representative, the time of adjournment being postponed half an hour.

After prayer by S. Kerr, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

7.45 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by Rev. F. O. Ross.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz., a memorial service for ministers deceased during the year. At 9.45 o'clock the Chairman reported that the program adopted by the Assembly had been carried out. This report was adopted.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following partial report, which was adopted :

PARTIAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

According to the Assembly's appointment, the delegation to convey the fraternal greeting of this Assembly to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, in session in this city, fulfilled its mission this afternoon. Our sister Assembly accorded to the delegation and accompanying representatives of your committee a most cordial reception, and gave unquestionable evidence of gratification with this interchange of Christian courtesy.

After prayer by James Brown, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

SATURDAY.

May 25, 1895, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. P. W. Free.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

An invitation to visit the Home for Aged People was read, and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

Took up unfinished business, viz., the appeal of Wm. H. Blair, M. D. The appellee was heard.

Before disposing of this case, the time for the order of the day arrived, viz., the consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Home Missions. During the discussion of this report, the hour of adjournment was postponed till the report was finally disposed of and the Secretary of the American Bible Society was heard. It was resolved that, when the Assembly adjourns, it adjourns till Monday morning at 9 o'clock. The report, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON HOME MISSIONS.

To your committee has been referred the report of the Board of Home Missions, the report of the General Committee of Home Missions, and the report of the Special Committee on Continuous Membership in the General Committee of Home Missions.

REPORT OF BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS.

A careful examination of the report shows a very healthy and hopeful condition, both of the general and special mission work of the Church, as evidenced by the very encouraging accessions to the Church from the world, the number thus received being 1,639, a large increase over previous years, the net gain being 12.6 per cent., and also by the gratifying aggregate of contributions to this work, which fell short only about $1,700 of last year's contributions, notwithstanding the prevailing financial distress of the entire country. This gives gratifying evidence of strong devotion to this work, and promises favorably for future effort. We recommend:

Resolved, 1. That we express our gratitude to the King and Head of the Church for the continued prosperity of the work entrusted to the Board.

2. That the annual report of the Board be approved.

3. That the Board be instructed to return to the invested fund the $1,000 gift, which is subject to a 5 per cent. annuity during the life of the donor and which was used during the past year for current expenses.

4. That in view of some minor defects in the form of application for aid, the Board is hereby instructed to revise the form.

5. That inasmuch as the form of security for property, which the General Assembly requires of all congregations receiving aid, has at times occasioned trouble, the Board is hereby authorized to secure legal counsel in difficult cases, and act accordingly.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF HOME MISSIONS.

The General Committee reports requests from presbyteries amounting to $83,450 for regular work. Grants were made aggregating $74,788 for this work; $5,000 placed at the disposal of the Board as an emergency fund; $1,875 to meet an overdraft upon the treasury, and $20,000 to restore the depleted reserve fund, making a total of $101,663. While this amount seems large, we feel that the providence of God, as read in the demands and promises of the field, called for such a service at our hands, and we dare not retrench or hinder the onward leadings of the Spirit. We recommend:

Resolved, 1. That the report of the General Committee of Home Missions be adopted.

2. That to enlarge the contributions of the Church to home missions, and to secure, at the earliest possible time, the sum which is needed to meet the present emergency, Revs. T. C. McKelvey, G. E. Hawes, J. F. Ross, J. C. Taggart and J. W. English, be appointed a committee who shall present to the Church at once the urgent necessity of this work, and who shall throughout the year keep the matter before the presbyteries and the people, and shall after consultation appoint a day upon which a special offering shall be taken in all our churches for home missions, and shall arrange to have the preceding Sabbath and week used throughout the Church in calling attention to the work.

3. That the home mission work requires this year one dollar from each and every member of the Church, and we urge that a united effort be made for a contribution for at least this amount.

4. That as members of this General Assembly we will go back to our presbyteries to do all we can to stimulate an interest in the work, and secure offerings adequate to its support.

REPORT OF A SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON CONTINUOUS MEMBERSHIP IN THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

The report views the argument favorable to lengthened term, and lays the matter before the Assembly without recommendation. Your committee would recommend that no action be taken.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions was made the order of the day for Tuesday evening.

Alex. McLean, D. D., Secretary of the American Bible Society, addressed the Assembly.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Freedmen's Missions was made the order of the day for Monday at 10 o'clock a. m.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was made the second order of the day for Tuesday afternoon.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following partial report, which was adopted.

PARTIAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

There are present with credentials as fraternal delegates to this Assembly Rev. S. W. Haddon, of the Associate Reformed Synod of the South; Rev. J. C. Voorhis, of the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church; Rev. G. D. Mathews, D. D., Secretary of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterian system, and by letter Rev. John G. Gardner, delegate from the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America.

We recommend that the hearing of these delegates be made the first order of the day for Monday afternoon.

The session of the Sixth church presented the following program for the Elders' Conference, which was adopted:

PROGRAM FOR THE ELDERS' CONFERENCE.

We recommend that the Elders' Conference, as provided for by the last Assembly, be held on Monday evening, May 27, with Mr. R. E Brown to preside

1. Address, "Our vows; what standard of qualification do they demand for us?" By J. W. Arrott.

2. Address, "Our obligations to the sick and aged." By J. N. Smith

3. Address, "The ruling elder as a soul winner; do the exigencies of the times demand that, when properly qualified, he should be commissioned by Presbytery as a lay evangelist?" By Wm. Neely.

4. Address, "How can the ruling elder assist the pastor in fostering home religion and aid those who feel unable to pray in the presence of their families?" By J. C. McNary.

5. Address, "The ruling elder as an ensample to the flock." (a) "In liberality. Should he be a proportionate giver?" By Robert L. Latimer.

"(b) In patriotism. What should be his standard of Christian citizenship?" By Robert S. Smith.

After prayer by S. F. Morrow, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

MONDAY.

May 27, 1895, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. George E. Young.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

A memorial from Gujranwala Presbytery, asking the Assembly to take steps to adjust the difficulties which have arisen between the United Presbyterian and the Reformed Presbyterian Missions in that field, was read and referred to the Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions.

The following resolutions on the issuing of a Thanksgiving proclamation were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS ON A THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Inasmuch as there is no suitable Christian acknowledgment in the thanksgiving proclamations of our President and the great majority of our State governors, whereas there should be in all such documents due mention of the Lord Jesus Christ, by whom alone any worshiper can come with acceptance into the presence of God; and

Inasmuch as there is usually defect in the recitals of mercies bestowed upon the nation, and in the suggestions regarding objects of supplication, therefore Resolved, 1 That the Moderator and the Principal Clerk of the General Assembly be instructed to issue at the proper time a thanksgiving proclamation of becoming phraseology, wherein there shall be recognition of Christ's mediatorial claims, and recommendations regarding praise and prayer; and that the day named in the proclamation be the day appointed by the President of the United States.

2. That pastors be requested to read this proclamation in connection with thanksgiving services.

Took up unfinished business, viz.: the appeal of William H. Blair, M. D. The appeal was not sustained.

The Standing Committee on Narrative and State of Religion presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

The report of the permanent committee is the only paper put into our hands. The design of this report is to bring before this Assembly and the Church the most important interest to be presented, viz., the state of religion.

The mission of the Church is to promote, maintain and perpetuate the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ. And what ought we to be so fully informed about, as the truth concerning the state of religion? Thereby are we to find out whether or not we are meeting the demands of God upon us in relation to his Church. But how are we to know? It is assumed that certain facts in a year's history of the Church will enable us to form something like a correct estimate. In the report of the permanent committee we have many of these facts. We are told about the money collected, the increase in membership, the attendance upon ordinances of worship, the religious life in the home, and elsewhere, of God's people, so far as it may be known. These are the gathered fruits, and by them the tree is judged.

It is said in this report that attendance upon the ordinances of worship is improving, the membership of the Church increasing, the habit of giving is more systematic and regular, and the activities of the people, young and old, men and women, in the way of Christian work far in advance of former years. Judged by these facts there is a good state of religion. On the other hand, it is said that family worship is too formal, in many homes none at all, and the fear is expressed that it is much neglected, that the Sabbath is not respected as in the past, and that there is a tendency to worldliness and indifference to things serious and religious. So judged there is not the best state of religion possible, nor such as God requires of his people.

Then, there are some things not said that would be said when the higher and better standard of religion exists. In the Acts of the Apostles, where God gives the report on the state of religion in the early Church, we find expressions like these: "The Lord added to the Church daily of such as were saved;" "Many believed;" "Much people turned unto the Lord." Those who examined into the affairs of the Church speak of seeing the grace of God, and being called upon to deal with men and women saying, "What shall I do to be saved?" Like scenes and manifestations of the power of the Spirit ought to be characteristic of the present state of religion as well as in that past. The report does not indicate that such is the case to any great degree. Thus tested, we would sum up our findings as to the present state of religion: There is religion, genuine and true, in the hearts and homes of the followers of the Lamb as represented by our Church. The great King and Head of the Church looks down upon a people at peace among themselves, active in his service; and in many respects very prosperous; and yet it is evident that he does not find many things essential to the highest degree of vital piety and greatest efficiency in the way of the great work to which his people are called.

We recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, 1. That God be praised for his goodness to us, in that he still gives us reason to say and to sing of the Church, even as he taught us, "God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved; God shall help her and that right early."

2. We have reason to think the times are such as to remind us of God's word to this effect: "Humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God that he may exalt you in due time." The continued depression in business circles, the unrest and uneasiness of the masses on all sides may be on account of the Lord's being displeased with this nation and his Church in the midst of it. It is time to cry mightily unto the Lord that he might turn his judgments into mercies, by bringing his people to set their affections more and more upon Christ at the right hand of God and less upon the perishing things of this world.

That among the many things regarded as necessary to the welfare of the Church, the presence and the power of the Holy Spirit be regarded as the one supreme need. There is need of more money, more laborers in the mission fields at home and abroad, more religion in the home, more reverence and respect for the sanctuary and the Sabbath, more spirituality in the pulpit and the pew, among young people and old, for the women's work and the men's. The presence of the Holy Spirit in larger measures of saving power will do more to supply these demands than anything else. Therefore, let us neither give sleep to our eyes, or slumber to our eyelids until we have used diligently the means appointed of God in the way of a genuine revival of religion. Yea, on his own warrant, let us not give God rest until he establish and until he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

The Principal Clerk was directed to return all the papers in the appeal of Wm. H. Blair, M. D., except the appeal itself, to the parties in the case.

The committee on the Board of Freedmen's Missions presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

We have examined with some care the report of the Board, and find that it indicates a carefulness of management and efficiency of work in all departments, that is increasing with the years, and is to be commended. We call especial attention to the magnitude and importance of this work, not only because of what it is in itself, but because of the bearing it must have on the future of our Southland, and eventually on the whole nation. The work of this Board, in its educational and industrial departments, is doing much that will tell upon the home life of the colored people, and when coupled with proper religious instruction will doubtless go far toward their evangelization.

The Women's General Missionary Society is recognized as a strong arm, and we are pleased to note that it is planning to improve the greater opportunities that are opening up to the women of the Church in this field.

The following resolutions are offered for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That we hereby give praise, and express our gratitude to God, for the evident blessing with which he has crowned the Church's labors in this field during the past year.

2. That we heartily approve the work of the Board, its missionaries and teachers, the skill and management of all concerned, as is apparent by the progress made in the work.

3. That the joint request of the Board and of the Women's Board, that the agricultural industrial work in Alabama be given to the Women's General Missionary Society for special work, be granted; and that this work be taken up by the women at such time as may be deemed expedient by the Boards co-operating.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on the complaint of J. G. Stewart, which was adopted:

REPORT ON J. G. STEWART'S COMPLAINT.

Rev. J. G. Stewart, having been tried by the Presbytery of Monmouth, for "promising to abstain from preaching peculiar views on the subject of miraculous healing, and then violating the promise; for vain pretentions of being the divine instrument of miraculous power; and for misrepresentations which lead to distrust on the part of brethren," was found guilty, and suspended from the exercise of the office of the gospel ministry. From this decision an appeal was taken and the case brought before the Synod of Illinois. A commission of Synod was appointed, with plenary power, to hear and issue the appeal. The Synod reaffirmed the sentence of the lower court. The records show that the complainant, when sentence of suspension was announced by the commission, "expressed his willingness to submit to the authority of his brethren," received and accepted the sentence without giving notice of appeal.

The complaint before the Assembly is made against subsequent acts of the Presbytery of Monmouth, to which the case was referred for further consideration by the commission. There are no official records in the hands of your committee to show that the case has been considered by the presbytery subsequent to the decision of the commission of Synod, or to indicate that reasons for complaint have been lodged with the presbytery. The statement of the Book of Discipline, chapter 12, article 4, section 2, is, "In judicial cases a party declining to appeal shall not be allowed to complain." For these reasons, Resolved, That the complaint of Rev. J. G. Stewart cannot be entertained by this Assembly.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on the petition of Rev. J. R. Wallace, which was adopted:

REPORT ON REV. J. R. WALLACE'S PETITION.

The Judiciary Committee, to which was referred the petition of J. R. Wallace asking this Assembly to review and reverse the decision of the Assembly of 1893, in the appeal of Lake Presbytery from the action of the First Synod of the West, submits the following:

Three reasons are assigned by the petitioner.

1. "The Assembly of 1893 evidently erred in admitting the appeal as regular, the presbytery having no right to appeal, as one church court can never in any case appeal against another church court."

2. "The Assembly was clearly deceived, or misled, by misrepresentations made by the representative of Lake Presbytery and others."

3. "The action of the Assembly has evidently not been blessed by the great King and Head of the Church."

The committee has nothing in the way of records or of evidence to sustain these claims of the petitioner. The presumption is that the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly of 1893, when all the evidence in the case was in its possession, acted intelligently in declaring that the appeal came regularly before the Assembly. There has been nothing presented to the committee to show that the interests of truth and righteousness have been injuriously affected by the action of the former Assembly. Therefore,

Resolved, That the petition of J. R. Wallace be not granted.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on the memorial from Garnett Presbytery, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THE MEMORIAL OF GARNETT PRESBYTERY.

The Judiciary Committee, to which was referred that part of the memorial of Garnett Presbytery, relating to section 6, on page 296 of the minutes of the Assembly of 1893, viz., "That ordinarily no aid shall be given by the Board of Home Missions in cases in which less than half of the salary of the pastor is paid by the congregation, unless the Board has consented to such settlement," respectfully report as follows:

It is due to the Board of Home Missions to say that the action of the Assembly, referred to in the memorial, was not asked for by the board, and there is no intimation, in the memorial or from any other quarter that the Board of Home Missions has, under the action referred to, interfered in any way with the rights or authority of presbyteries in any particular.

We deem it a sufficient answer to the memorialists to say that any rule or resolution, adopted by the General Assembly conferring upon any Board or committee of the Church powers in conflict with the rights and prerogatives of presbyteries, as set forth in the subordinate standards of the Church, in article 2, section 4, of the Book of Government and Discipline, is, in the very nature of the case, inoperative and without effect. But it is the judgment of your committee that, in regard to congregations in which the major part of the support of the pastor is contributed by the Church at large, it is eminently proper for the interests of the whole Church that authority to advise, in such cases, be given to the Board of Home Missions. Therefore,

Resolved, That no further action be taken.

The nomination of the members of the permanent committees of the Assembly was referred to the Committee on Nominations.

The Standing Committee on Sabbath Schools presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON SABBATH SCHOOLS.

It is with pleasure your committee would note the healthy and prosperous condition of this department of the Church's work. The report of the Permanent Committee on Sabbath Schools, which has been placed in our hands indicates that the work has been prosecuted with success during the year. As compared with the year preceding, there has been an increase in all its departments. The enrollment of scholars was 103,346, the largest hitherto, lacking only 4,000 of the total membership of the Church. This indicates that the interest in the Sabbath School is growing more and more every year. The contributions amount to $80,017, an average of about 80 cents per member. That, however, which brings greatest joy to our hearts is that, from the Sabbath school, there have been born into the kingdom of God and added to the Church 4,507, a gain of almost 35 per cent over last year, which is an evidence of God's blessing attending the faithful teaching of his word. In view of these facts we recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved 1, That we express gratitude to our heavenly Father for his blessing upon the work among the children.

2. That Presbyterial Sabbath School Superintendents be urged to hold conferences on the Sabbath school work in their respective presbyteries during the year, and secure a still deeper interest in this work.

3. That, in accordance with the request of the "London S. S. Union," and as recommended by the Permanent Committee, the fourth Sabbath of November be appointed as Temperance Day.

4. That, after this year, "Missionary Day" be observed on the second Sabbath of June, in order to correspond with "Children's Day" of other denominations.

5. That the third Sabbath of October be appointed as a day of special prayer, in all our churches, for Sabbath schools.

6. That the contributions of the Sabbath school be appropriated as heretofore, viz.: First quarter, July to September, Foreign Missions; second quarter, October to December, Home Missions; third quarter, January to March, Church Extension; fourth quarter, April to June, Freedmen's Missions.

7. In regard to the memorial from the Presbytery of Rock Island, requesting the appointment of a Permanent Committee on Sabbath Schools, which shall be independent of the Board of Publication, your committee would suggest that the work of the Committee on Sabbath Schools has much in common with the Board of Publication, and depends upon that Board for its financial support. Because of this mutual dependence and co-operation the work was combined in the year 1883. This consolidation necessitated a change in the charter of the Board of Publication, and to separate them now would require another change. We cannot see that there would be any advantages to be gained in a separate committee, which may not be enjoyed as presently constituted. We recommend, therefore, that the request be not granted. We further suggest that the Board of Publication annually nominate to the Assembly one of their members as Chairman of the Sabbath School Committee for the year.

8. The Church hails with delight any plan that increases the interest and stimulates activity in the Sabbath school work. Inasmuch as the "Loyal Sabbath School Army" plan has proven a great help in promoting faithfulness in attendance, lesson study and contributions wherever it has been introduced, we recommend it to the favorable consideration of all our schools.

A memorial from the Presbytery of Central Illinois, asking who are entitled to be considered as members of the congregations of the Church, was read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The credentials of the delegate from the General Synod of the Reformed Church of [illegible] and a letter from the delegate who was not able to be present, were presented and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises.

The Permanent Committee on Young People's Work presented their report, which was referred to the Standing Committee on Young People's Work.

After prayer by Rev. J. W. Harris, the Assembly adjourned.

2 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. J. Buchanan.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz., hearing of delegates from corresponding churches. Rev. S. W. Haddon, of the Associate Reformed Synod of the South; Rev. J. C. Voorhis, of the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church; Rev. G. D. Mathews, D. D., of the Alliance of Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian system, presented the Christian salutations of the bodies they represented, and the Moderator responded in the name of the Assembly. Letters were also read from Rev. John S. Gardner, delegate from the Reformed Church in America, and from Rev. H. S. Wiles, delegate from the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the United States of America, who were not able to be present in person.

A former action of the Assembly was reconsidered, and the consideration of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was made the first order of the day for Tuesday morning.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on Women's Work was made the order of the day at 10 o'clock a. m., Wednesday.

The Committee on the Board of Church Extension presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CHURCH EXTENSION.

The committee have examined the papers put into their hands, and from them it appears that the efficiency of this Board has been somewhat hindered during the past two years in consequence of the financial depression. The direct contributions of the Church to this Board were $25,147, or about the same as last year; but $7,301 less than in the more prosperous year of 1893. In consequence of this falling off of contributions, the Board closes the year with an indebtedness of $9,788, although the appropriations were $12,127 less than the year before, and of this limited appropriation $11,550 remains unpaid. If, therefore, the efficiency of this Board is not to be seriously crippled, and many urgent appeals for help denied, it will be necessary for the Assembly to provide liberally for it during the coming year.

The committee also examined the very neat and precise financial statement of the Corresponding Secretary, the register of grants and loans made by the Board since the time of its organization, and the business methods of the Board, and we can say with confidence that the Lord's business as committed by the General Assembly to this Board is carefully done; that considering the character of the loans and the object for which they were made, namely: the assistance of weak and struggling congregations, the proportion of losses is reasonably small. The members of the Board have been pleased to attribute much of its efficiency to the capability and the unquestioned fidelity of Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., who has for twenty-five years filled the position of Corresponding Secretary.

The report of the Treasurer is accompanied with the certificate of the Auditing Committee, that it has been examined and found to be correct, and the certificate of the Union National Bank that the balance shown by the account is on deposit.

A form of declaration of trust for use in case of parsonages has been prepared by the Board which, it is believed, will be suitable for use under the laws of the various States. It is as follows: "In trust that the said premises shall be used and kept, maintained and disposed of, as a place of residence for the use of the minister of the United Presbyterian Church of ———, subject to the standards and acts of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, as from time to time authorized and declared by the General Assembly of said Church; and in case the United Presbyterian congregation of ——— shall cease to exist, be dissolved, or cease to be connected with and subject to the jurisdiction of the General Assembly of said Church, or shall lose its corporate existence, the trust shall terminate and the title shall rest absolutely in the trustees of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, who shall then have the right to sell and convert the same into money without any liability of the purchaser to see to the application of the proceeds of such sale. And when, in the judgment of said trustees of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, it shall be proper or right, for any cause, to terminate such trust and sell or otherwise dispose of said property, the said trustees, with the concurrence of the said congregation, may, in their discretion, act accordingly." Therefore Resolved, 1. That the report of the Board of Church Extension be approved.

2. That the form of Declaration of Trust for parsonages prepared by the Board be adopted.

3. That we hereby express our appreciation of the long and faithful services of Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., the Corresponding Secretary, that we commend the work of this Board to the favorable consideration of the Church, and that we call upon the people of the Church to respond to the special call of this Board, and relieve it from its present embarrassments by liberal contributions during the coming year.

An invitation from the United Presbyterian Social Union to the members of the Assembly, to take a drive through the parks and boulevards of the East End of the city, was accepted, and the hour of starting was fixed at 3 o'clock p. m. on Tuesday.

The committee to attend the funeral of Rev. J. A. Edie presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON ATTENDING THE FUNERAL OF REV. J. A. EDIE.

The committee, appointed to attend the funeral of Rev. J. A. Edie, a delegate-elect to this Assembly from the Presbytery of Beaver Valley, would respectfully report, that they performed the melancholy duty assigned them by attending said funeral, which took place at Beaver, Pa., on Friday, May 24, at 3 o'clock p. m., and conveying to the bereaved family and friends of the deceased the expression of the deep and heartfelt sympathy of the Assembly in their sore affliction.

We recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, That this Assembly hereby records its appreciation of the high Christian character and efficient services of Rev. J. A. Edie during his ministry of forty years, and of the great loss which has been sustained by the whole Church in his death, which, however, it is confidently believed, is to him a great gain, as removing him from labor and suffering to the enjoyment of his reward in the presence of the Master.

2. That a copy of this action be sent to the family of the deceased.

7.45 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. Joseph A. Scroggs.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz., an Elders' Conference. At 10 o'clock the Chairman reported that the conference had been a source of very great joy. This report was adopted.

After prayer by Rev. W. M. Howie, the Assembly adjourned.

TUESDAY.

May 28, 1895, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. R. Hutchison.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. Minutes of the last session were read and approved.

A petition from W. C. T. U., asking for gospel temperance instruction in the Sabbath school, was read and referred to the Committee on Reform.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz., the consideration of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures. The first and second parts of the report were adopted. While a motion was pending to amend the third part, it and the proposed amendment were recommitted, with instructions to report to-morrow morning immediately after the consideration of the report of the Committee on Women's Work.

After prayer by G. D. Mathews, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

2 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. R. M. Patterson.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Took up the report of the Committee on Union with the Holland Christian Reformed Church. W. W. Barr, D. D., Chairman of the Committee on Union, and Rev. John Riemersma, a representative of the Holland Church, were accorded the rights of the floor during the discussion of this report. The report was adopted.

Revs. W. W. Barr, D. D., and John McNaugher, D. D., together with the delegate to the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church, were appointed a visiting committee to the Synod of that Church.

After prayer by Rev. J. L. Aten, the Assembly adjourned.

7.45 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. M. F. McKirahan.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz., a conference on the report of the Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions. At 10.20 o'clock the conference rose and reported, through the Chairman, the request that the report of the committee be referred to the Assembly for further consideration. The report was adopted.

After prayer by D. W. Collins, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.

May 29, 1895, 9 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. J. W. Kerr.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The Committee on the Board of Education presented the following report, which was adopted.

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

There has been placed in our hands the report of the Board of Education. From it we learn that, during the past year, 116 young men have been in attendance at our theological seminaries; 1,092 young people have been enrolled in our colleges, and 179 in the academies that are the beneficiaries of the Board.

Our seminaries have productive endowments, amounting to $284,000, while our colleges have an invested endowment of $348,000, making the total endowment of our educational institutions $632,000.

Contributions to the work of the Board have been received from 58 of our presbyteries, and amount to a little over $11,000, over $7,000 of which were received for the new work of the Board—the aiding of colleges and seminaries. Your Committee find that 35 per cent. of the amount asked for the new work has been paid, while only 30 per cent. of that asked for the regular work, namely, aiding theological students, has been received. It may be a matter of interest also to the Assembly, to note that Monmouth Presbytery, in the West, and Argyle Presbytery, in the East, were the two presbyteries in the Church paying the highest average, per member, to the work of this Board, each paying over 24 cents a member. Of the Synods paying to this Board, Iowa takes the lead at an average of 16 cents a member, and Illinois ranks second at 15 cents a member.

Out of the money received, the Board has aided 79 young men in our seminaries to the amount of $6,386, an increase of $1,399 over last year. It has also supplemented the incomes of our seminaries to the amount of $7,097.

The Board asks for the coming year $32,000, $12,000 for the regular work of aiding theological students, and $20,000 for the new work of aiding colleges and seminaries

There has also been placed in our hands a memorial from Cooper College, at Sterling, Kas., asking a change in the basis of distribution of funds raised for aiding colleges and seminaries, and also that the young people of our Church be asked to make the work of education a special object of their contributions.

Your Committee considers that in assisting in the education of 79 young men, who will soon enter the gospel ministry, is a work of which the Church should be justly proud, and in which it should be deeply interested. It also judges that the raising during the first or experimental year of over 35 per cent. of the amount asked for new work, is auspicious for the future. Without crippling its special work, the Board has placed over $7,000 at the disposal of our educational institutions, which is equal to the income of $130,000 of permanent endowment.

Your Committee also agrees that we should commend the cause of higher education to our people. We should make more thorough and complete the institutions we already have, but let us recognize that, because of the demands of the times and existence of universities in other denominations, our own Church must keep in mind the need of aggressive movement toward the end of a higher educational standard.

Your Committee would report the following for adoption:

Resolved 1. That we commend to the Church the special work of the Board of Education.

2. We recommend no change in the present plan for raising and distributing funds for the new work of the Board.

3. That Our Young People's societies be asked to give their contributions during the fourth quarter of the year to the cause of the Board of Education.

4. That our pastors be requested to observe the Sabbath preceding the day of prayer for colleges, namely, January 26, as a day of special prayer and special sermons in behalf of our own educational institutions.

5. That the Board be instructed to adopt active measures in bringing their work before the Church, and that the following brethren be appointed to present, under direction of the Board, the claims of this Board in their respective Synods:

Revs. J. M. Ross, Pittsburgh; D. G. McKay, D. D., New York; D. Livingston, Ohio; P. W. Free, First West; A. M. Campbell, Ph. D., Second; F. O. Ross, Kansas; J. F. Ross, Nebraska; W. H. Patterson, Iowa; J. A. Renwick, Illinois; W. A. Spalding, Columbia; E. B. Stewart, California.

The committee on the Board of Publication presented their report. Before disposing of it, the hour for the order of the day arrived, and the Committee on Women's Work presented the following report, which was adopted.

REPORT ON WOMEN'S WORK.

The Committee on Women's Work report that there has been referred to us the report of the Board of Directors of the Women's General Missionary Society. From the report we learn that the work, under the care and management of the Women's General Missionary Society, has been conducted with evident ability and marked success. The work of this society has already expanded, until it touches with its helping hand almost, if not quite, every department of the Church's work, and shows evident promise of still further enlargement. The work connected with each of the boards has been thoroughly and systematically carried on.

In the foreign field the salaries of eighteen of the missionary women have been provided for by that Board. The school and Zenana work have received liberal support, and the medical work in India has been carried on with success. In the Home Mission work, in addition to the work called for by this Board among the Indians, eight missionary women have been supported during the year at different points throughout the Church. The Church Extension work has been aided to the amount of $10,450. In the work among the Freedmen this Board has paid the salaries of eleven industrial teachers for the past year, and has become responsible for the salaries of thirteen during the present year. It also erected a parsonage at Miller's Ferry, Ala., finished the dormitories of the new college building, and supported thirteen girls in the Little Girls' Home.

We are also pleased to note that they contemplate taking up the additional feature of agricultural industrial training in Alabama, in co-operation with the Freedmen's Board, which enterprise has the united and hearty approval of your committee. This project, having already received the approval of the General Assembly, needs no further recommendation from us.

We recommend for your adoption the following:

Resolved, 1. That we hereby acknowlege with thankfulness, and express our gratitude to God for his evident blessing bestowed upon this society and its agencies.

2. That the work of the Women's General Missionary Society and its Board of Directors be approved.

3. We most heartily commend the junior missionary work to the favorable consideration of the Church, and recommend the co-operation of the officers of the local societies with the general secretary in the extension of this work.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures, whose report had been recommitted, presented the following which was adopted:

REPORT ON BILLS AND OVERTURES.

I. The Presbyteries of College Springs and Cedar Rapids memorialize the General Assembly to submit an overture, changing the basis of representation in the Assembly from seven to ten ministers. In reference to this, we believe the reasons, which led the Assembly of 1891 to refuse a like request, still hold good. We, therefore, recommend that the petition of the memorialists be not granted.

II. In reference to the communication from the Board of Superintendents of Newburgh Theological Seminary, informing the Assembly of the action of the Synod of New York in establishing a summer school for scientific instruction in the English Bible and for training in practical Christian work, your Committee recommend the following for adoption:

Resolved, That this Assembly have learned with great satisfaction that such a work has been inaugurated by the Synod of New York, and assure that Synod of its favorable influence in behalf of the work that it has undertaken.

III. Respecting the overtures in regard to the Assembly control of theological seminaries: There have been placed in the hands of your Committee the tabulated vote of the presbyteries on the overtures, and the following memorials on this general subject, viz: One from the Directors of Allegheny Seminary praying, for reasons given, that the Assembly shall not enact the overtures as part of the organic law of the Church; also memorials from the Synods of Pittsburgh and Ohio, objecting to overturing to the presbyteries a matter in which, it is alleged, they have no rights; also one from Chartiers Presbytery, praying that the Assembly, if it shall enact the overtures as organic law, shall adopt certain definitions and instructions respecting its application; also one from Argyle Presbytery, asking the disposal of the overtures according to the Book of Government and Discipline; also one from Allegheny Presbytery praying that the overtures be not enacted as constitutional law and that Committees of the General Assembly be appointed to negotiate with the Synods; also one from Allegheny Presbytery asking the Assembly to require the directors of the seminaries to report annually on all matters coming within the oversight of the Assembly.

In regard to the overtures and in answer to these memorials, your Committee respectfully submit the following: The whole number of presbyteries voting on each overture is 60. The whole number of votes cast on the first overture is 1062. Of these, 743 are affirmative and 319 are negative. The majority for this overture is 424. There is, therefore, a clear majority of the votes of the whole Church in favor of the first overture.

The whole number of votes cast on the second overture is 1065. Of these, 784 are affirmative and 281 are negative. The majority for this overture is 503. It appears, therefore, that both these overtures have been carried by a clear majority of the votes of the whole Church. Therefore,

Resolved, 1. That these overtures be and hereby are enacted as a part of the constitutional law of the Church.

2. That in order that these overtures may find proper place and expression in our Book of Government, the following question be and hereby is overtured to the presbyteries with instructions to vote yea or nay on its adoption, viz: "Shall Part I, Chap. V., Art. 4, Sec. 3 be amended by inserting immediately after the words, 'course and term of study,' the following words: 'To confirm or veto the election of professors to any of our theological seminaries, and to remove for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided by our Book of Government and Discipline, any professor from said seminaries.'"

3. That this action is not to be understood as interfering with rights vested in the Synods having control of the existing seminaries of the Church, further than may be indicated in the language of the overtures themselves.

4. In answer to the memorial of Allegheny Presbytery, this Assembly shall require the directors of the seminaries to report annually on all matters coming within the oversight of the Assembly.

5. We recommend that a committee of five be appointed by the Assembly to negotiate with the Synods having control of the theological seminaries, with a view to the adjustment of any apparent or alleged discrepancies between this action and their chartered rights.

The Principal Clerk was directed by the Assembly, through the Moderator, to record the fact that the second resolution of the above report was not adopted "until the second sitting after the one at which it was offered." The nomination of the committee provided for in the fifth resolution was referred to the Committee on Nominations.

After prayer by W. T. Campbell, D. D., the Assembly adjourned.

2 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Elder R. E. Brown.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented the following partial report, which was adopted:

PARTIAL REPORT ON DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES.

Resolved, That at least one-half hour, and as much more as the business of the Assembly will permit, of this evening's session, be spent in thanksgiving to God for the blessings attending the labors of the Church during the year past, and in supplication for the direction and power of the Holy Spirit in the work of the coming year.

On invitation of the pastors of Xenia, O., that city was selected as the place of meeting for the next Assembly. The Moderator and Principal Clerk were empowered, after consultation with the pastors of Xenia, to designate the church in which the sessions of the Assembly will be held, and to choose the place in which the General Committee of Missions will meet.

The following resolution was adopted:

RESOLUTION ON TEMPERANCE.

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in session in Pittsburgh, May, 1895, by a rising vote instruct its proper officers to send a telegram to the Governor of the State of New York, expressing the earnest hope that the mandatory temperance law, recently passed, receive his signature.

Resumed the consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions, which was adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

There have been placed in our hands, first, the report of the Board of Foreign Missions; and second, a memorial from the Presbytery of Gujranwala. From the first we learn with gratification of the continued success and prosperity of the work in all its branches.

Truly, as a Church we have reason for great and renewed thankfulness to him who said, "Lo, I am with you alway," for the faithful fulfillment of his promise, as it appears in the providential dealings with all connected with this work. The good hand of our God appears, not only in the large accessions to the membership in the mission churches, and in raising up a large class of promising young men to fill places of trust as native pastors and teachers, but also in the removal, to a large degree, of hostile forces from the fields occupied by our Church. We have reason to be thankful also that, in these trying times, the work has not been suffered to lack for funds, and the year is closed without a dollar of debt.

Much anxiety obtains over the rapid depletion of the force in India, owing to the failure of the health of some of the workers in the field, and the Board's inability to secure others to fill up the thinning ranks, and all this in the face of the fact that the field is greatly enlarged by the recent acquisitions of the Rawal Pindi district. Truly, we should pray the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

Resolved, 1. That this Assembly confirm the appointment of Rev. David R. Gordon, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Miss Jennie B. Morrison, of Lincoln, Neb., to the mission in India, and of Rev. Ralph E. Carson, of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Adella McMillan, of Sunbeam, Ill., to the mission in Egypt.

2. That this Assembly hereby authorize the Board of Foreign Missions to appoint and send out at least three additional male missionaries to India, and one single female missionary each to India and Egypt.

3. That in view of India's great need, the depletion of forces in that field, and the great difficulty in securing young men to meet the ordinary requirements of the Board, we suggest the propriety of meeting the requirements of India by sending out at least some unmarried male missionaries, if suitable candidates should offer themselves.

4. That the Assembly hereby expresses its appreciation of the long and efficient service of Mr. Thomas Stinson, for thirty years a member of this Board, and desires to place on record its sense of the great loss sustained by the Board and the whole Church in his removal by death.

5. That we call the attention of the Reformed Presbyterian Church (G. S.) to the provisions of the plan of federation in its relation to work in foreign fields, which plan has been adopted by both churches in this country, and kindly ask the withdrawal of workers from fields occupied by our missionaries.

6. That we commend the earnest, faithful, and successful effort of the members of the Board to conserve the financial interests of the Church in a time of peril, and heartily commend the Board to the confidence of the whole Church.

7. That the thanks of this Assembly are due to the American Bible Society, the American Tract Society, the British and Foreign Bible Society, and Turkish Mission Aid Society, the United States Consul General in Egypt, Lord Cromer, Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son, Peoples Bros., of Liverpool, England, Messrs. Simpson and Mr. John P. Duncan, of New York, and to the Women's Missionary Board, for efficient and timely services rendered in carrying on the work of this Board.

8. That we express hereby our gratitude to Almighty God our Creator and Saviour for the blessings of the past year, and recommend that the Assembly be led by the Moderator in a prayer of thanksgiving for blessings in the past, and of supplication for continued divine favor upon this branch of the Church's work.

In compliance with the last resolution of this report, the Assembly was led in prayer by the Moderator.

J. G. Carson, D. D., entered his dissent against the action of the Assembly in adopting the second resolution of the third part of the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, and the Clerk was directed to place the reasons for this dissent on file.

Took up unfinished business, viz., the report of the Committee on the Board of Publication. This report, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON PUBLICATION.

The following papers were considered, viz.: A memorial from Keokuk Presbytery, respecting the Christian Union Herald, and the annual report of the Board of Publication. The Board announces the fulfillment of the direction given by the last General Assembly to issue an edition of Bible Songs without the denominational imprint; also its intention to erect a new building, and its proposed change in the price of the Youth's Evangelist and Christian Union Herald. After a careful examination, your Committee would recommend the following for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That no advance be made in the present price of the Christian Union Herald, but that the reduction of five cents proposed by the Board on the Youth's Evangelist be approved.

2. That the Assembly endorse the action of the Board in proceeding with the erection of the new building.

In the matter referred to us by vote of this Assembly, in regard to the revision of Bible Songs, it appears that this desire for revision arises mainly from a few typographical errors, and some incongruity between the body and the chorus in some instances, notably that of No. 110. It does not appear to your Committee that this would justify the revision of the entire book, but we would recommend that the Board be directed to make all such needed corrections in its future editions.

Resolved, 3. That as there is already published an abridged edition of Bible Songs, there is no action needed on this point.

4. That, in addition to the room to be provided for general public uses, the Board set apart a fire-proof vault for the use of the Boards and Committees of the Church, and for the preservation of their papers and records.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on actual membership in the congregation, which was adopted:

REPORT ON ACTUAL MEMBERSHIP OF THE CONGREGATION.

The Central Illinois Presbytery memorializes the General Assembly to give a deliverance upon the questions: 1st. Who are entitled to be reported to your body as members of the congregation? 2d. What is necessary to set before the General Assembly the actual membership? 3d. Can a name be dropped without following the mode prescribed?

Passing for the time questions one and two, we answer the third. Under this there are two classes: First, those removing from the bounds of the congregation without asking for certificate. What is the duty of the Church to these? This question was answered by the Assembly of 1879. See minutes of the Assembly of 1879. See also Digest, page 205, sections 4 and 6.

But there is another class who do not remove from the bounds of the congregation, but simply want to pass out of the Church into the world. The Church has a duty in the case of these. Such apostacy is itself censurable, and the reason often given for such a course, "I have not believed on Christ," is more criminal, and the Church cannot discharge her duty without in some way imposing censure before the tie which binds such members to the Church is dissolved. There are only two ways recognized by our subordinate standards by which connection with the church can be dissolved, namely, certificate or censure. In such cases no formal trial is needed (see Ch. 6 Directory), but official action should be taken, because (1) that perchance along the line of his own ordinance God may grant to such repentance to the acknowledgement of the truth, and (2) that the Church may fulfill her mission as a witness to the truth.

In answer to questions one and two we would say that the roll corrected in one or the other of these ways must be submitted.

The Committee on Revision presented a report, which, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON REVISION.

There have been placed in the hand of your Committee the printed records of the General Assembly of 1894; also of the Synods of New York, Pittsburgh, First of the West, Second, Illinois, Iowa, and in manuscript the minutes of Punjab, Columbia and Nebraska. No records have been received from the Synods of Kansas, Ohio, California, and the Presbytery of Egypt. The Clerk of California reports that he has mislaid the minutes of that Synod, but hopes to find them in time to send to the next General Assembly. The records of the Synod of Columbia are not signed by the Moderator. The records of Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, and Columbia contain no presbyterial reports, and in all the others, except New York, the reports are very meager.

We find the minutes of the General Assembly of 1894 neatly and correctly kept. The Presbytery of Egypt has not sent her records for revision for the past two or more years.

Your Committee recommend:

Resolved, 1. That this Assembly do, and hereby does, instruct the Synods of Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, and Columbia to require their presbyteries to report to them annually, and keep their reports on record.

2. That the Presbytery of Egypt be instructed to forward all her unapproved records to the next General Assembly for revision, and that the Synods of Ohio, Kansas and California be given the same instruction.

3. That the minutes of the Assembly of 1894, of the Synod of New York, for the years 1893 and 1894, of the Punjab, Pittsburgh, First of the West, Second, be approved and so certified by the Clerk, and that the records of Columbia, Nebraska, Iowa, and Illinois be approved and so certified by the Clerk, it being understood that they will carry out the Assembly's instructions concerning the reports of their presbyteries, and that Columbia will have her records properly signed by her Moderator.

The Committee on the Board of Ministerial Relief presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

From the report of the Board of Ministerial Relief we learn, 1st. The lamented death of Mr. James McCandless, who was Treasurer of the Board from its organization in 1873, until his death, January 28th, 1895. In the good providence of God it was largely through his instrumentality, and his devoted and unselfish giving continuously, both of his time and means, that the Board has been enabled to do much of what has been done for those under its care; that it has at this time an endowment fund of over $100,000, and that there is so much promise of continued blessing and usefulness in the important work with which it is entrusted. 2d. The financial statement shows but slight changes in the receipts and payments as compared with last year's report. 3d. That there are at present 59 persons on the roll of beneficiaries—21 males and 28 females; a net increase of four during the past year. 4th. The receipts from the presbyteries have been somewhat less than last year; while the increase in the number of calls and in the amounts asked for, and the desire of the Board to meet these requests, require the continued and increased liberality of the whole Church. 5th. In consequence of this deficiency, there has, for the first time in quite a number of years, been no appreciable increase in the permanent endowment fund. 6th. That Mr. James Walker has been elected Treasurer.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved 1. The Assembly expresses its profound sympathy with the Board in the death of its Treasurer, Mr. James McCandless, who, during the 22 years of his unselfish and devoted service, has done so much to bring this fund to its present high state of efficiency and usefulness, and expresses the hope that his successor may emulate his fidelity and devotion.

2. That the election of Mr. James Walker as Treasurer is hereby confirmed.

3. That the support of this fund, the importance of which, on account of its quiet and unobtrusive work, is in danger of being overlooked, is hereby commended to the liberality of the whole Church, and especially of the ministry, in order that the Board may be able to meet the increasing demands on its resources.

4. That the rules of finance adopted by the Board and appended to its report are hereby approved, viz.:

RULES OF FINANCE.

I. The Treasurer: (a) Shall be elected for the term of one year at the April meeting of the Board. (b) Shall give an approved bond to the amount of five thousand dollars, the cost of said bond to be paid by the Board. (c) Shall receive a salary of one hundred and fifty dollars per annum. (d) Shall deposit all moneys in a financial institution approved by the Board. (e) Shall make all deposits and draw all checks as "Treasurer of the Board of Ministerial Relief." (f) Shall have all checks countersigned by the President. (g) Shall report in full to each regular quarterly meeting of the Board.

II. Investments: No investment or reinvestment of the permanent or endowment funds of the Board shall be made by the Treasurer without the written consent and approval of an advisory committee, consisting of two members, who shall be appointed at the first regular meeting of the Board each year, and whose term of office shall be one year.

III. Auditors: Two auditors shall be appointed at the first regular meeting each year, who shall audit all letters containing remittances to the Board, and all the accounts of the Treasurer, and report quarterly to the Board.

IV. Securities: All securities of the Board shall be deposited by the Treasurer in an approved deposit company, subject to the order of the Board.

V. Advisory Committee: The Advisory Committee on Investment of Permanent Funds shall report at least annually to the Board as to the amount, nature and character of said investments.

The Committee on Statistics presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON STATISTICS.

Your Committee on Statistics, to which was referred the statistical tables, prepared by the Second Clerk of the Assembly, find the following: An increase of 16 in the number of pastors and stated supplies; a decrease of one in the number of congregations; an increase of seven in the number of pastoral charges; an increase in the membership in America of 3,317. There were 1,950 adult baptisms, which indicates the number of accessions from the world. This shows an increase of about 1½ per cent., or three conversions to each 200 members of the Church. There is an increase of 409 in the number of scholars in the Sabbath schools. The contributions of the churches in America amount to $1,378,035, showing a decrease of $115,537. The average contribution per member is $12 96, a decrease of $1 72.

It appears that some of the presbyteries have not reported within the specified time, so that the table, as presented, is not entirely complete, but a completed table is promised for the Assembly's Minutes.

We recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That the statistical tables be approved.

2. That clerks of presbyteries be required to furnish to the Second Clerk of the Assembly the presbyterial statistics not later than April 20.

The following resolutions on amending the rules of order were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS ON AMENDING THE RULES OF ORDER.

WHEREAS, Many years have elapsed since the General Assembly's rules of order were formulated; and

WHEREAS, It is apparent that the business of the Assembly would be facilitated by certain amendments to the rules aforesaid; therefore Resolved, 1. That a committee of three, two of whom shall be the Clerks of the Assembly, be appointed to deliberate upon the proper order of Assembly procedure, and report its recommendations to the next Assembly.

2. That the same committee be authorized to arrange concerning the order of presentation and discussion of all the fixed items of business for the next Assembly.

The Committee on Nominations presented the following report, which was adopted:

As a representative from the Foreign Mission Board, and entitled to act as a corresponding member, Rev. W. W. Barr, D. D.

The Standing Committee on Reform presented the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

REPORT ON REFORM.

As we cast the eye out upon the social, moral, and political horizons, the impressions are not such as impart joy and assurance.

If we view the condition of things from the commercial point of view, a scene of instability and uncertainty greets us. Viewing them in their social aspect, they fill us with forebodings of evil. If we behold them in the light of history, the inspiration is not one of unvaried hope. But we turn to God's Word and read the question of the Spirit: "Watchman, what of the night?" We see, through a rift in the cloud, the calm, cheering light as it shines down upon us in the inspired answer: "The morning cometh, and also the night."

To regard the signs of the times as indicative of the triumph of the kingdom of darkness, would be pessimistic and paralyzing. To regard them as prophetic of the conquest of the world for Christ in the near future, would be optimistic and disappointing. But when we recall the word of God by his apostle: "For he must reign till he hath put all enemies under his feet." We are encouraged, and should be ready, each in his department of work, to exclaim with Paul: "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me."

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

On this subject the indications are anything but favorable. The progress is in the wrong direction. As stated in last year's action, "One prohibition State has so far forgotten the dignity of law as to bargain for the violation of its own statute, and thus to render the prohibitory law wholly ineffective, and, to all intents and purposes, license this sin against God, and crime against humanity. In another prohibition State, where the law had for some years been generally enforced, and proved itself an incalculable blessing, is now meeting with the combined opposition of leading members of leading political parties, and every effort is being made to accomplish its repeal, and legalize a traffic crimsoned with the blood of the bodies and souls of about 100,000 of our fellow-beings year by year. It is vain to deny that, in the politics of our country, the liquor traffic is in the ascendant. Alcohol is king. The demons of this infernal traffic are on the throne and dictating to our rulers what they must do, and what they must not do. Being obeyed, they are boasting of their power. The condition of our county, under such rule, is alarming to the last degree. What is the remedy—the only remedy? It is to drive the monster from the throne. It is to kill the traffic with death. It is worse than folly to experiment with the licensing of this crime for its own remedy This is but to give it the sanction and protection of law, and perpetuate the evil. Protestants have always condemned, in the most emphatic manner, popish indulgences, whereby, for a specified price, an individual was licensed to commit murder, or any other crime. Was not the Pope, by whose authority it was done, partaker of the crime? So the legislature, which licenses this crime fraught with all crimes, becomes partaker with the criminal. And what of the citizens who elect such a legislature? Are they not guilty before God as abettors of this enormous sin? That license, as a remedy, has proved itself a failure, even its friends acknowledge. In view of these facts, what is the plain duty of the voter, especially the Christian voter There can be but one answer to this question, viz., Vote for no individual who will not pledge himself to use all his power as a citizen and official to destroy this infamous business; or what is still better, vote with no party refusing to put itself on record as uncompromisingly opposed to the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage. We, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. In the language of the Assembly last year, that we regard the liquor traffic as the overshadowing curse of this nation; an enemy to the peace, purity, and prosperity of the home, the Church, and the State. To license this crime is a sin against God, and a crime against humanity. Being morally wrong, no human legislation can ever make it right. Law is for the overthrow of crime, not its protection.

2. That, as the united power of the Christian voters of this land is sufficient, at the ballot box, to extirpate this curse, they are responsible for its continuance.

3. That it is inconsistent with membership in the United Presbyterian Church to sustain any business or political relation whatever, favorable to the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

4. That we recommend that at least fifteen minutes monthly be devoted to giving instructions in our Sabbath schools on the individual duty of total abstinence from, and the political duty of prohibiting, the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

5. That the fourth Sabbath of November be recommended as a day to be especially devoted to the cause of the prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage, our pastors being requested to preach thereon.

THE SABBATH.

The enemies of Christianity, perceiving the Sabbath to be the stronghold thereof, have concentrated their forces and made their assault upon it. Having succeeded in disgracing the fair name of our nation in the matter of open gates at the Columbian Fair, they are attacking the bulwark of our liberty at various other points, with the intention of driving its friends from the field, and prostituting this divine and beneficent institution to the purposes of avarice and pleasure. While the battle has been carried on in various parts of the country, the fiercest engagements have been in the Middle States, especially Pennsylvania. The Sabbath-breaking newspaper is leading the forces of the enemy in this warfare. It is itself a most flagrant law-breaker. By its continued issues it is defying the law, and thus encouraging every species of lawlessness. Its spirit is unqualifiedly anarchical. This foe of Christian civilization has met with a series of defeats in Pennsylvania, in its efforts to overthrow the law by means of unfriendly legislation. A revival of wholesome Sabbath legislation has been inaugurated in some of the New England States, notably Massachusetts; thus illustrating the value of the Sabbath of our Pilgrim Fathers in the estimation of their children. The three giant Sabbath-breakers are the mails, the railroads, and the newspapers issued and sold on the Lord's Day. When we remember that the carrying of the mails on the Sabbath is authorized by our Government, and that the railroads are chartered by the same authority, to be operated without any restrictions as to the Sabbath, there can be no doubt but that we are in this matter as a nation incurring the wrath of God, who in the person of his Son, is the "Governor among the nations," and that his just judgments will certainly be visited upon us until as a nation we learn to keep his commandments. The statement is sometimes made that professed Christians are in the habit of using railroad trains, lifting and reading their mails, and buying and reading secular newspapers on the Lord's Day. To the extent to which such statements are true, it is a cause of humiliation and shame. It is dragging the banner of the Christian religion in the dust. In view of these facts and considerations, we recommend for adoption by the Assembly the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That we give thanks to God for every evidence of the Divine favor on efforts to preserve the Sabbath of our God and of our fathers.

2. That we believe it to be within the province, and divinely required of civil government, to extend such legal protection over the Sabbath as to prevent its overthrow or abuse by its enemies; to secure to all the privilege of rest and worship on the Lord's Day. See Nehemiah, chapter 13.

3. That if the civil ruler fail to do this, it becomes the duty of the ministers of the gospel, and others, to remind him of his duty, and urge him, in the name of Christ, to perform it. See Jeremiah, chapter 17.

4. That it is the plain duty of every member of the Church, as by other means, so especially by his example, to enforce the obligation of careful Sabbath-keeping, according to the commandment of God, refraining from every appearance of sin in regard thereto.

5. That we regard it a duty we owe to God, to ourselves, to consistent Christian legislators, and other consistent officials to withhold our patronage from any candidate for office who is not pronouncedly in favor of protecting the Sabbath by proper and adequate legislation and penalties.

6. That we urge the enforcement of existing Sabbath-laws by State and municipal authorities.

7. That we are heartily in favor of a national Sabbath-law, and that we urge the enactment of such law by the next Congress.

8. That we pledge ourselves to use every proper means within our power to bring about the overthrow of that enemy of the Sabbath, known as the "Sunday newspaper;" that we will not by any act of ours encourage the handling of mails on the Sabbath, or the operating of railroads on that day.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

The rapidly increasing preponderance of population of our cities over the country districts clothes municipal government with the highest importance. In many states already one or two cities substantially dominate the government of the State; and the alarming corruption in our political life has its seat in the cities. The facts that the liquor traffic prevails especially in ou that the criminal classes frequent these centers of population, that S desecration is more prevalent there, that the overwhelming proportion unsaved masses are to be found in the cities, compel the profound atte Christian philanthropists.

In this manifest condition of society, reform in municipal governme every way most difficult, as well as most vital and essential to the reform our nation. To this work the attention of Christian citizens must be more emphatically. Efforts have been made, and notably in New Yor election last year, on a non-partisan basis, to unite the better citizens.
election, though 112,000 votes were cast for corrupt candidates of an and pilloried secret political organization, yet the reform candidat elected by a majority of over 50,000, and this result determined the campaign in the entire State. As a partial result, some bad laws ha amended, and a better class of men occupy official positions, but the demagogueism is not yet wholly cast out. "This kind goeth not out prayer and fasting." But Christian citizens have learned their power united.

Experience confirms the teaching of the Word of God, that su reformation depends upon these factors, viz: 1st. The gospel of Jesu must be planted and maintained in our cities with all possible efficiency only permanent reforming agency. 2d. Christian men without distin party or denomination, on the basis of the moral law comprehended in commandments, must rally for the establishment and maintenance of C civilization, or we shall soon witness its overthrow. 3d. A limita suffrage to exclude the ignorant and immoral and criminal classes wou long step toward this devoutly desired consummation. 4th. The can placed on the voters' ticket must not be self-seeking politicians, but known and tried moral character, who will understand that he serves his best whose official life conserves the eternal principles of right. " ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God."

GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

It is cause of great gratification that the various societies of C Young People have undertaken to study and propagate the practical pr of good citizenship.

The great question which is vital to the interests of the nation is th acter of its citizens. There must, therefore, be some recognized stan character for the citizen, and where are we to find that standard? Is i Christianity as applied to civil affairs? to the nation's life? But can thi ard become the rule of civil life, and its author be ignored? We boast Christian institutions, but we thus far have failed to secure the recogn Christ even in national proclamations of the annual public thanks Christ is "the Governor amongthe nations." It is written "on his vest on his thigh"—"King of Kings and Lord of Lords." A voice from hea been heard saying: "The kingdoms of this world are become the king our Lord and of his Christ." Good citizenship is only conceivable in knowledgement of the Headship of Jesus Christ over the nation, and quent conformity of the nation's laws and life to his revealed will.
fact that Christ is King and his law supreme and the basis of all preached from the pulpits of this land and taught in our schools and c and we shall soon see a universal illustration of good citizenship. Thi key to the situation. Let the lock be turned and the nation enter an out the infidel of secular government.

SOCIAL PURITY.

Our attention is especially called to this subject by a paper placed hands by Mrs. J. S. Collins, the Secretary of the Women's Protective Le Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

There are many foes to society, but the crime against virtue is, in t nature of the case, the most invidious and difficult to reach. To efficien the character of this foe of manhood and womanhood, this enemy of an marriage and the sanctity of the home, is one of the peculiarly diffi-ties of the pulpit.

t so almost ubiquitous, and so brazen-faced has this evil become, that to t as to its ravages would be evident unfaithfulness to duty. So bold has mon of uncleanness become, that woman herself has undertaken the rescuing her daughter and her sister from its foul embrace. But is the only victim? Is it not true that the sexes go down together under ages of this fell destroyer? If this evil pushes its hellish conquest upon ks of society, who is free from its hurt, and where? The exhibitions upting art made visible on every hand, on the street, in the shop win-d the living exhibitions on the stage, have in some classes of society obliterated that purity and sweetness of character which are inestimable gs to man and woman. We recommend the following action:

olved, 1. That our pastors be requested to preach more frequently on eat evil, and effectively warn those exposed thereto of their danger and uty.

That civil officers be held to strict accountability in the matter of the ment of laws for the punishment and suppression of this evil.

That we urge upon parents the duty of careful watchfulness over the tions of their children; that they guard them against the reading of such re as tends to corrupt the minds and hearts of their sons and their ers; and especially warn them against the dangers of theater-going, the m, the promiscuous dance, lonely late hours and all "unchaste words or ."

e would call attention to the evil of secret societies, which statistics show n the increase. These institutions, which sap the life of the Church er they exist within her pale, threaten to usurp the prerogative of overnment, pervert the equity of our courts of justice, and invade the y of the home, are active and aggressive. Therefore, olved, 1. That we reaffirm our former deliverances upon this subject oin our sessions to be vigilant and faithful in the application of the law secret societies; and that instruction thereon be earnestly and timely rom the pulpits of the Church.

That we indorse the work being done by the National Christian Asso-in giving light upon this important subject.

After prayer by Rev. J. H. Leiper, the Assembly ad-ed.

7.30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. A. ick.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of st session were read and approved.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following t, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

he Committee on Correspondence would submit the following report on ters and papers which were referred to them:

REPORTS OF DELEGATES TO OTHER CHURCHES.

Rev. W. C. Williamson, D. D., appointed to convey the Christian greeting of our Church to the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church, reports the performance of this service, and a very cordial reception at the hands of the brethren of the Synod. Rev. T. W. Anderson, D. D., delegate to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, makes a similar report as to the fulfillment of his mission. No report has been received from our delegate to the Associate Reformed Church, but it is known that his duty was satisfactorily performed. The churches above named, the Waldensian Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the United States of America, and the Reformed Church in the United States, clearly manifest a wish for the continuance of this interchange of Christian greeting.

We therefore recommend:

Resolved, 1. That the conduct of our delegates be approved.

2. That correspondence with these sister churches be continued by the appointment of delegates as follows: To the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church, Rev. A. H. Orr; to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, Rev. J. O. Campbell, Ph. D.; to the Synod of the Associate Reformed Church, Rev. M. M. Patterson; to the Synod of the Waldensian Church, Rev. W. T. Campbell, D. D.; and to the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran, Rev. Charles H. Robinson.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The Committee on Union with the Associate Reformed Church, Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., Chairman, reports no official correspondence with this church on this subject during the year. The committee has deemed it wise to await the development of a more positive sentiment in favor of union on the part of this sister church, before making further advances in this direction. A continuation of negotiations is, however, recommended in the report. The Committee on Union with other Psalm-singing Churches, through its Chairman, Rev. W. G. Moorehead, D. D., reports hopeful progress in the negotiations with the Holland Christian Reformed Church.

Rev. J. P. Sankey, D. D., Chairman of the committee appointed to represent our church in the Federal Council of Presbyterian Churches, reports the postponement of the consideration of the plan of federation by the council, owing to the failure of some of the churches to take action upon it All bodies interested are confidently expected to take final action very soon. As the General Assembly of our church has agreed to the plan of federation, reported in the minutes of 1894, the request is transmitted from the Chairman of the Council for the continuation of this committee.

We recommend that the conduct of all these committees be approved, and that they be reappointed to their respective missions.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM OTHER ECCLECIASTICAL ORGANIZATIONS.

The Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey extends an invitation to this Assembly, to send representatives to a meeting to be held in Monmouth county, New Jersey, June 4, 1895, in commemoration of notable events connected with the establishment of Presbyterianism in America, viz.: The first ordination of a Presbyterian minister in this land, and the building of the famous "Tennent Church." The Moderator and other officers of the Assembly are specially invited.

A letter of greeting has been received from the Moderator and Clerk of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America. The annual report of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches, holding the Presbyterial System, together with a letter from its Secretary, Rev. G. D. Mathews, D. D., has been put into our hands.

The only matter of special interest to which these communications call attention, is the meeting of the Sixth General Council of the Alliance, to be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Glasgow, beginning June 17, 1896. The General Assembly of 1893 referred the appointment of delegates to this Council to this Assembly. The basis of representation, adopted by the Council, entitles our Church to twenty delegates, and one representative of the Board of Foreign Missions who shall sit as a corresponding member.

The Ecclesiastical Peace Conference, in which our Church is represented, requests an appropriation of $25 to aid in the work of securing the circulation of petitions to the governments of the world to submit their differences to councils of arbitration.

Respecting these communications, we recommend,

Resolved, 1. That the official representatives of the Assembly be requested to participate in person or by letter in the proposed commemorations to which the New Jersey Synod has invited them.

2. That fitting acknowledgment be made of the greeting sent by the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

3. That twenty delegates and one representative of the Board of Foreign Missions be appointed to the Sixth General Council of the Presbyterial Alliance.

4. That the sum of $25 be appropriated to the work of the Ecclesiastical Peace Conference.

THE RECEPTION OF DELEGATES.

We would also propose for adoption the following general resolution, touching the hearing of delegates from other churches:

Resolved, That hereafter Friday afternoon following the opening of the Assembly, be appointed as the time for the reception of all fraternal greetings.

The Committee on Finance presented their report, which, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON FINANCE.

The Finance Committee recommend the payment of the following bills:

The Committee on Railroad Fares	$ 21 00
Executive Commission of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches	280 00
Committee on the Constitution of the Committee of Home Missions	13 60
Committee on Narrative and State of Religion	9 00
Delegate to the Associated Reformed Synod of the South	45 00
Ways and Means Committee	57 31
Committee on Union with the Holland Christian Reformed Church	24 40
Sexton at Canonsburg	10 00
The Sexton of the Sixth Church, Pittsburgh	20 00
Stationery for the use of this Assembly	3 45
Delegate to the Holland Christian Reformed Church	16 00
Bill of Thos. Moreland	8 00
Expenses of Clerks of Assembly	18 00
Bill of Murdoch, Kerr & Co	31 10
	$556 86

Reports from the Treasurers of Home, and Foreign, and Freedmen's Missions, Church Extension, Education, Publication, Ministerial Relief, the Gibson Trust Fund, and the General Assembly have been submitted, and are found correct.

The Trustees of the General Assembly have submitted their report, which shows the work committed to them has been attended to with commendable zeal.

The Committee of Ways and Means have submitted a report, showing that the work of this Committee was materially interrupted by the protracted illness of the chairman, and business engagements of other members; yet, notwithstanding this, much has been accomplished and good results will follow.

The committee have nominated, as they were directed to do by the Assembly of 1892, as Financial Secretary, Rev. W. R. Wilson, of Mercer, Pa. The salary and duties of this Secretary have been determined by the Assembly of 1892. Owing to the financial depression, it is not thought best to elect a Financial Secretary at the present time.

We recommend that the Ways and Means Committee be directed to call the attention of Christians, in making final disposition of their property by will or otherwise, to remember Christ and his Church.

We recommend that the Board of Home Missions be authorized to borrow money to pay the claims of the home missionaries when necessary to do so.

The Board of Foreign Missions submitted an itemized statement of their settlement with Joseph D. McKee, the former Treasurer, with a list of securities that show in their judgment the Church will ultimately suffer no loss of funds, and we recommend that, in further settlement with Joseph D. McKee, the Board require him to pay interest on balance now due.

The memorial from Garnet Presbytery asks that the salaries of the secretaries of the different Boards of the Church, or of others who receive their salaries from the public funds of the Church, be not in excess of $1,000 and expenses. Upon examination we find but two of the secretaries receive salaries in excess of this amount. The Secretary of Church Extension receives $1,500, and the Secretary of Home Missions $2,500, and they are devoting their whole time to the work. There are home missionaries who receive more than $1,000, and could not be sustained in their fields for a less sum than they are now receiving. Inasmuch as the memorial is too sweeping in its demands, we recommend that no action be taken.

We recommend that the Boards of the Church adopt a uniform system of keeping their accounts and having them audited; and with this in view the several Boards are hereby instructed to deposit all moneys received to the credit of their respective Boards, in some safe and reliable bank to be selected by such Board, and to be drawn out only by warrants issued by the Boards in pursuance of resolutions authorizing the same; said warrants to be signed by the President and Secretary of such Board, and when authorized by the Treasurer, paid by said depository; that hereafter all Treasurers be required to furnish, with their audited account to the General Assembly, a certificate of the bank or banks where the funds are deposited, that the balance shown by the account was on deposit to the credit of such Board on the date of the settlement, and that moneys appropriated by the General Assembly be paid on the warrant of the principal clerk.

The Standing Committee on Young People's work presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

To your committee were referred but two papers, viz.: A letter from Rev. C. H. Robinson, tendering his resignation as Chairman of your General Committee, and a report of the General Committee on Young People's Work.

In this report there is much to encourage, and many evidences that the young people of the Church are being aroused to meet the responsibilities of our day. In the number of organizations and membership, there has been very commendable growth. In 1894, 710 societies were reported, having a membership of 30,824, while this year the report shows 776 organizations with 33,746 members. This is a gain of 66 societies and 2,922 members. The report shows that, of the 938 congregations in our Church, this year 162 congregations report no Young People's Society. There has been a very commendable growth in liberality of contributions. Last year the money contributed for all purposes was $28,110.86. This year the report shows a gain of over $4,000, or $32,180. Of this amount $7,630 was contributed to the Boards of the Church. Had reports been received from all the societies, these figures would be largely increased. It is a matter of thanksgiving to God to note that 2,143 persons have confessed their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and taken upon them the vows of God.

The report is most cheering in regard to junior work. In 1894 there were reported 125 societies, with a membership of 4,003, while this year shows 211 societies, with 7,612 members, or nearly double the membership of last year. In every way these facts are most gratifying. They show efficiency in organization and growth in spirituality among our young people. Your committee feels that much gratitude should go out to God from the whole Church, and that earnest prayer should be made that He will lead the young people in their work and endue them with power from on high.

Your committee would recommend:

Resolved, 1. That the resignation of Rev. C. H. Robinson be accepted, and that the remaining members of the General Committee be moved forward two places instead of one.

2. That the thanks of the Church are due our General Secretary, Rev. J. A. Duff, and also our General Secretary of Junior Work, Rev. W. I. Wishart.

3. That the thanks of the Church are due Rev. R. J. Miller, D. D., editor of the Christian Union Herald, and those who have assisted him, for the excellent service rendered through our Young People's paper, and that we most heartily commend the paper to the patronage of our young people.

4. That we earnestly urge upon all our congregations the organization of Junior Societies wherever it is practicable, and that the presbyterial secretaries be requested to push the work among the Juniors.

5. That, in view of the enlargement of our home and foreign missionary opportunities, and the consequent need of increased funds in prosecuting the work, we recommend to our young people the habit of generous giving to the regular work of the Boards of the Church, rather than to special work; and that they be encouraged to adopt the plan of systematic beneficence, which was assigned by the wisdom of God, and is described in the Holy Scriptures as "Tithes and Offerings."

The Committee on Appropriations presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Your Committee on Appropriations would recommend appropriations to the various Boards of the following amounts:

To Foreign Missions	$107,375 00
To Home Missions	81,663 00
To Freedmen's Missions	50,000 00
To Church Extension	50,000 00
To Education:
1st. Beneficiaries	12,000 00
2d. To colleges and seminaries	20,000 00
To Ministerial Relief	8,000 00
To Assembly's Fund	5,000 00
Total	$334,038 00
Also to restore the Reserve Fund of the Home Mission Board, not to be included in the apportionment per member for the Church	$ 20,000 00

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES.

Your Committee on Devotional Exercises would recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That Rev. J. K. Montgomery, of Cincinnati, O, be appointed the Moderator's alternate to preach the opening sermon at the next meeting of the Assembly.

2. That Revs. R. G. Ramsey, W. J. Buchanan, J. G. Carson, D. D., and W. G. Moorehead, D. D., be appointed a committee to arrange for conferences for the next Assembly.

The following resolutions of thanks were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS.

In expression of our high appreciation of the entertainment this General Assembly has received, we offer the following:

Resolved, 1. That we gratefully render our thanks to our Father in heaven for the blessings which have been given to us during the sessions of this Assembly.

2. That we congratulate our Moderator, President J. B. McMichael, D D., upon his unanimous election, and upon his genial bearing and wise rulings as a presiding officer.

3. That we rejoice with Dr. Russell and the members of the Sixth church, Pittsburgh, on the completion of their elegant house of worship.

4. That we thankfully recognize the thoughtfulness and the kindness of Dr. Russell and the members of his session, who have so efficiently served on the various committees of entertainment.

5. That we convey our thanks to the ladies of the Sixth church and to the ladies of the other congregations of Monongahela Presbytery, for the sumptuous meals that have been so daintily served.

6. That we would make mention of the kindness of the young ladies who have so cheerfully served in the postoffice during the Assembly.

7. That we appreciate the full and accurate reports and the complimentary editorials of the Pittsburgh papers. Nor in this connection would we forget the gratuitous distribution of our church papers by the publishers, and of Assembly souvenirs by Joseph Horne & Co.

8. That for favors shown, we tender our thanks to the Daugherty Typewriting Company, Western Union Telegraph Company and the City Telephone Company.

9. That we are highly pleased with the courtesy shown us by the Pittsburgh United Presbyterian Social Union in the enjoyable drive through the beautiful parks of the city.

10. That we shall always bear in our hearts the memory of this Thirty-Seventh General Assembly as being one of the most royally entertained in the history of the Church.

May peace and prosperity ever rest upon our friends of Pittsburgh and vicinity.

The following resolution was adopted:

PUBLICATION OF THE REPORT ON REFORM.

Resolved, That the Board of Publication be directed to publish the report of the Committee on Reform, in tract form, for distribution throughout the Church.

The minutes of this session were read and approved.

The Assembly was dissolved, when the Moderator said: "By virtue of authority to me delegated, I do hereby dissolve this General Assembly, and require another General Assembly, chosen in the same manner, to meet in Xenia, O., on the fourth Wednesday of May, 1896, at 7.30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly was led in prayer by Rev. James Brown, D. D., Psalm 133, C. M., was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the Moderator.

J. B. McMICHAEL, Moderator.
WILLIAM J. REID, Principal Clerk.
A. G. WALLACE, Second Clerk.

APPENDIX.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

During the past year we have attended to such business matters as have been brought before us, to the best of our ability.

In regard to the Detroit church case, in view of all the facts it was not thought expedient to prosecute the appeal in the higher courts. The costs in the case, amounting to $1,210.67, have been paid, and the congregation is now engaged in erecting another house of worship.

We have sold for $5,750, $1,000 cash and balance secured by a mortgage, the farm known as the "Mann Farm," situate near Hanover, Ind., being the land devised, some years ago, by Andrew Mann, to the Trustees of the General Assembly, "the proceeds to be used, as much as possible, for educating a native ministry in heathen lands."

The "Martin" farm, of 434 acres, near Sommerfield, Kans., valued at near $10,000, remains unsold, but under the efficient care of our agent, James Hemphill, is yielding a fair increase.

For our financial report in detail, we would refer you to the account of our Treasurer, Thomas Jamison, which is herewith submitted properly audited.

The term of office of Thomas Jamison, S. L. McHenry, and Thos. J. Gillespie will expire July first next ensuing.

Respectfully submitted,

S. Collins, Pres.
Graham Scott, Sec.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 21, 1895.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Another mile-stone has been passed. Another year's work has been done, and the Board presents to the Assembly, as succinctly as possible, a record thereof. The year was entered upon with hope in regard to the work. This hope rested upon the divine promises, and was encouraged by the manifest blessing of God that has been vouchsafed to our foreign mission work through all these years.

The Board also began the year with a large measure of anxiety. There was anxious concern first about the greatly reduced force of laborers in our India mission, and threatened disaster to much of the work unless reinforcements could be secured. After making every possible effort, and being again and again disappointed, help was obtained and sent to the field, but it was by no means what the exigencies of the case demanded. Efforts in the same line have been continued, and we now hope to send a strong reinforcement to the field next autumn.

There was concern also about obtaining money which had been appropriated for the work for the year. The financial depression in the country continued, and the Boards of the Churches generally found it more difficult to raise money than during the preceding year. We are thankful, indeed, to be able to state, that while our treasurer has received somewhat less than was contributed the year before, yet the Board closes the year without debt. This is partly owing to the circumstance that considerable donations were received in Egypt and credited, and also that the Board was credited on this year for funds remitted near the close of last year, and also to the fact that the reinforcements for India were not all obtained, that so many laborers had withdrawn from the work, and being at home, the expense was less; and still more to the very favorable rate of exchange, especially during the latter part of the year. A considerable amount accrued to the benefit of the Board from these causes. Reduction of expenses because of failure to reinforce the India Mission, was, of course, costly to that mission. Reduction from the other causes was helpful to the Board, but cannot be relied upon as a means of relief for another year. The rate of exchange, for instance, may turn in the opposite direction at any time.

THE BOARD.

Regular monthly meetings of the Board have been held during the year, and also adjourned and special meetings at frequent intervals. Last year the circle of members was broken by the death of our beloved Corresponding Secretary, Dr. J. B. Dales. This year we sorrowfully record the death of Mr. Thomas Stinson. The event occurred on the 12th of October. Just as the goodly company of thirteen new and returning missionaries were leaving us for India and Egypt, his spirit took its flight. He attended the farewell meeting on the night preceding, and had his word of cheer to each of the missionaries, some of whom he was entertaining in his hospitable home. Soon after noon the day following, with only a moment's pain, his life on earth ended. His departure seemed to us like a translation rather than death.

Mr. Stinson came into the Board in 1864, and was one of its original charter members. Through all the intervening years he had rarely been absent from a meeting. He was a man of good business qualifications. His judgements seemed always to be instinctively right, and it is not too much to say that to no member's judgment was more deference paid than to his. His removal has been deeply felt. The vacant chair stood at our table unoccupied during the remainder of the year, no one apparently finding it in his heart to move that another should occupy the vacant place. It will devolve upon Assembly to do this.

The Corresponding Secretary of the Board chosen by the last Assembly accepted the office, and at once entered upon its duties. Fully convinced by an experience of months before, while Corresponding Secretary pro tem, that he could not discharge the duties of the office as they should be performed, and at the same time have the care of a large city congregation, he resigned his pastoral charge and was released at the close of September. His time and energies are now given exclusively to the promotion of this great work of our Church.

THE MISSIONARIES.

Whilst there have been numerous cases of sickness among the missionaries in the fields, and perhaps more than the usual number have been compelled to turn aside for periods of rest and recuperation, yet the lives of all, in both missions, have been mercifully preserved through the year.

We here record some items of interest relating to missionaries new and old. Just at the time when the last Assembly was in session, Miss M. J. McKown, who was so long and successfully connected with the mission in Egypt, arrived in this country. She has spent the year with relatives, and will soon enter her room in the Home for Aged People, at Pittsburgh, which has been kindly provided for her. At the same time came Miss Matilda Strang, now Mrs. Hyde, from Egypt. Her change of name reveals the reason for her resignation mentioned in our last annual report. By the same steamer, also, the Rev. A. B. Caldwell and family reached this country. They have enjoyed their furlough and rest and now report that they will be ready to return to the mission whenever the Board is prepared to send them. This will be as early as possible in the autumn.

On the 19th of June, the Rev. J. P. McKee, D. D., and Mrs. McKee, reached this country from India. Though completely broken down before leaving the field, yet the voyage homeward, a brief stay with relatives on the other side of the Atlantic, and rest in this country, have wrought very beneficially towards his restoration. It is hoped that ere long he may again take his place in the mission which he has so long and successfully filled.

Miss Elizabeth McCahon, of the India Mission, being much broken down in health, first tried, with the consent of the mission and the Board, a somewhat protracted period of rest in the hills, hoping that by this means she could avoid the necessity of coming home. Her hopes were disappointed, and it was found to be absolutely necessary that she return to this country. She arrived on the 13th of April, somewhat benefited by her homeward journey, but still in an enfeebled condition. It is believed that by strictly resting here, and by the change of climate, she will secure the restoration of her strength.

Rev. J. O. Ashenhurst and wife, of the Egyptian Mission, having more than completed their first allotted term of service, by consent of the mission and the Board, left Egypt on the 1st of April for a furlough in this country. They arrived in New York on April 27th, and after a brief stay there and in Philadelphia, proceeded to their friends in Ohio.

On the 13th of October, a goodly company of thirteen returning and new missionaries left New York for the fields in Egypt and India. Those going to Egypt were Rev. Chauncey Murch and family who returned to their field; Rev. J. P. White and Mrs. White, of Walton, Kansas, appointed as new missionaries by the Board on the 3d of September; Miss Minnehaha Finney, of Tarkio, Mo., appointed by the last Assembly and Miss Grace Brown, of Lincoln, Neb., appointed by the Board on October 1st. These all arrived at Alexandria on the 9th of November and at once resumed work or entered upon the study of the language. Those going to India were Miss Mary J. Campbell and Miss Josephine L. White, who returned to their work; Rev. J. S. Thompson and wife, of Newton, Kansas, appointed as new missionaries by the Board on the 3d of September, Miss Nannie Spencer, of New Wilmington, Pa., and Miss Edith M. Fulton, of Summerfield, Kansas, appointed by the last Assembly, and Miss Mary A. Platter, M. D., secured by the Women's Board to take the place temporarily of Dr. Maria White in the medical department at Sialkot. These reached their field on the 15th of December. Their arrival cheered the missionaries who had been so long and loudly calling for help. The reinforcement, however, was far from being adequate to the need.

Rev. G. E. Henderson, who was appointed by the Board to India prior to the last Assembly, and whose appointment was confirmed by that body, was providentially prevented from going to the field with the other missionaries in October. One obstacle after another delayed his going, until in the month of February. Arrangements were almost completed for his sailing, and he was well on his way to the sea-board when, owing to the illness of Mrs. Henderson, he gave up the purpose to go, at least, until next fall. As hindrance after hindrance had come in his way, and doubts had arisen as to duty, and as it appeared then to be quite possible to obtain others to go to the field next fall, who were less encumbered, and as Mr. Henderson had submitted to the Board the question whether it would not be better to accept his resignation, it was deemed best, in view of all the circumstances, to release him from the appointment.

ADDITIONAL MISSIONARIES.

The call for help, especially from India, has been so impressive that the Board made every effort that seemed possible to secure reinforcements of young men. They obtained the services of only two male missionaries, and the choice of one of these was to go to Egypt. Efforts were continued. The seminaries were visited, and the young men were approached on the subject wherever it was thought possible that help might be secured. It is gratifying to be able to state that a number of well-qualified young men offered themselves for the work. The Board were quite confident at one time that they would be able to secure all the reinforcements that were absolutely required. In several instances, however, the health certificates proved to be an insuperable barrier. In other cases, those who had expressed their willingness to go found obstacles in the way when the time came for their appointment. Thus our disappointments have been frequent. The following appointments, however, have been made by the Board: Miss Adella McMillan, of Sunbeam, Illinois, on the 8th day of April, to the mission in Egypt. On the 16th of April, the Board appointed the Rev. David R. Gordon, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, son of the late Dr. Andrew Gordon, to the mission in India. Mr. Gordon has consented to go. On the same date, Rev. Ralph E. Carson, of Baltimore, Md., was appointed to the mission in Egypt. On account of the much greater need in India, the Board wished to send him to that mission, but his choice was to go to Egypt, and the Board yielded to his desire. Mr. Carson accepts the appointment. The Board is in correspondence with other young men, and it is hoped that their consent to go to the needy fields may be obtained. On May 13th, Miss Jennie B. Morrison, of Lincoln, Nebraska, was appointed to the mission in India. The Assembly is asked to confirm the appointments already made, and to authorize the Board to appoint and send out to India, at least, three additional male missionaries, and to India and Egypt two additional single females.

INDIA.

RAWAL PINDI.

After long delay, which could not be avoided, Rev. Dr. Martin wrote to the Board on the 15th of May last, that all the papers securing the legal transfer of the property at Rawal Pindi had been duly executed. The balance of the purchase money, $10,000, was then paid to the Pesbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and now the property is fully and legally in possession of our mission and of the United Presbyterian Church.

TRIALS AND OBSTACLES.

We regret to report that the mission in India has experienced numerous trials of late. The greatest of these has been the breaking down of so many of the laborers, and their consequent enforced retirement from the field, and coupled with this the Board's inability to secure recruits to take their places. The acquisition of the Rawal Pindi district enlarged the field, and made it necessary to increase the mission force. Instead of this it has been much diminished. Those in the field have been compelled to work at the risk of their health and lives. No real advance could be made into new places. No new work could be undertaken, and it has become a serious question whether some points must not be abandoned. At the same time, because of scarcity in some of the districts, many of the members of the churches have been removing to places where they could better their condition. The government having provided for irrigation in the districts of Jhang and West Gujranwala, our members have gone there, and others are flowing in, so that these are becoming among the most promising of the mission districts. But the mission has had no one to occupy and oversee these places, and so it happens that, for the time at least, serious loss is experienced. For this reason, and because of insufficient laborers at other points, while there were 774 accessions to the churches during 1894, there has been a serious net decrease in the membership. This year there has been a purging of the rolls, and we have now, probably, a nearly accurate statement of those who are known to be actually in membership as communicants and as baptized adults. The decrease seems to be discouraging, but the large additions to the membership during the past year show that faithful labor has not been in vain. No year has been more prosperous in this respect.

A few years ago our mission field was invaded by the Roman Catholics. For a time, by deception and bribery, a number of our Christians were enticed away. The defection, however, was only temporary. When matters were better understood, the most of those who had been led astray returned, and now it is believed the effort of the Romanists has spent its force, and that but little if any more injury will result.

But during the past year a serious invasion has been made from a very different source. The General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church has a mission in India at Roorki, some 200 miles distant from our field. They employ two native ministers, both of whom received their education in this country. By marriage these native ministers are closely related to some who have been more or less identified with our mission in Gujranwala. Some dissatisfaction existed with some of our members in that district. Led by a native minister who was connected with our Presbytery, but who was out of employment in our mission, a petition was sent to the Reformed Presbyterian missionaries to come and organize work in Gujranwala. The petition was sent to the Executive Committee of the Board in this country. The committee gave the missionaries leave to do as they deemed best in the circumstances. The result was that speedily work was begun, and a congregation organized. The movement is hostile to our mission and work. It has made itself a reproach in the sight of the heathen, and there is no prospect of the two missions being able to work in harmony. The cause of Christ suffers, and apparently evil only can result. The matter has been laid before the Executive Committee in Philadelphia, but thus far without effect. It is fondly hoped that when the facts in the case became more fully known, and the real condition of things is understood, our good brethren of the Reformed Presbyterian Church will, in the interests of peace and good will, and the cause of Christ in the presence of the heathen, withdraw from the field. Surely there is room enough in India for both Churches to work without one entering directly into the field of the other which it has occupied for more than a quarter of a century, and which is already as well supplied by missionaries as almost any place in the land.

ENCOURAGEMENTS.

But notwithstanding these obstacles and discouragements, the mission has had a fair measure of success during the past year. The accessions to the membership were surprisingly large, compared with the number of missionaries. The schools have prospered. A very promising class of young men are in the Training Institute at Sialkot. It is hoped that out of these, in a short time, will come a good accession to the native ministry. As a result of this, one of the missionaries says, "Our Theological Seminary has been full the last year, and it is believed that it will be fuller the next, and it is hoped that we will soon be able to meet the demands of the field." Several new congregations have been organized, and some additional ones are about to have their own pastors, they agreeing to contribute for their support according to the "sliding scale," that has been adopted by the mission. Considerable advance has been made by the natives in the line of contributing, and gradually they are taking hold of the idea of native self-support. The Board and the mission have been insisting upon this specially during the year. Because of the extreme poverty of the people, the progress in this direction is slow, but it is gratifying to know that there is progress.

STATISTICS.

The following statistics will be of interest: There are 11 mission centers or districts. In the mission are 11 ordained American missionaries. There are 13 single females, and two female medical missionaries. Six native ordained ministers are at work with 193 other native helpers. There are 15 students of theology. The schools number 126, and the pupils 4,600. The communicant members are 3,058, and the baptized adults 3,289, making a total of baptized members of 6,347. The contributions by natives directly for church purposes were $442.

SCHOOLS.

The schools in the mission have been carried on with a large measure of success. Some of these are probably not surpassed by any in the Punjab. The establishing and conducting of schools exclusively for the children and youth of Christians is manifestly becoming more and more important. Out of these are to come mainly the young men and women who are to become the future workers in the mission. We have referred already to the Boys' Training School at Sialkot, and its good work. The Girls' Boarding School in the same place is doing an excellent work in the line of preparing young women for useful lives in the mission, and it may be for suitable wives for native Christians.

ZENANA WORK.

Most of the single female missionaries, and ofttimes the married ladies spend much of their time and strength in house to house work among the women. Into many dark and degraded homes is the light of life thus shining, and it is hoped that many of these may be speedily gladdened with the joys of salvation.

MEDICAL WORK.

Because of the departure of Dr. White for America early in the year, the Memorial Hospital at Sialkot was placed temporarily under the superintendence of Dr. S. E. Johnson. Mainly through Mrs. Fretwell, who had been Dr. White's European assistant, the work went on successfully through the year. 5,178 new patients, and 11,094 old ones—16,272 in all—were treated. Dr. Johnson and her helpers have treated over 15,000 patients, old and new, at Jhelum and Bhera. At the same time healing for the soul has been brought to the attention of many of these, and of others who have been visited in their homes. The work has been hindered by the want of proper accommodations since the flood of last year which swept away so much of the property, but buildings and other accommodations are being provided, and the outlook is hopeful. Under the superintendence of Dr. Platter, the work at Sialkot will no doubt prosper more and more.

EGYPT.

For some reason, which we cannot account for the annual report of the mission in Egypt has not reached the Board at the time this is written. We fear that it has been lost in transmission by mail. In the absence of this report, our statement to the Assembly must be less specific than it would otherwise have been.*

It may be stated in general, that while the work has been carried on during the year according to the usual methods, by preaching the gospel, by colportage, by schools, by house to house visitation, some important advances have been made. Among these may be mentioned prominently that of establishing new centres of operations in the Delta. Two of these have been opened up during the year—the one at Zagazig, and the other at Benha. The Rev. J. Kruidenier has been given charge of the former, and the Rev. Chauncey Murch of the latter, after his return from this country.

The rich Delta sustains an immense population. Hitherto but little inroad comparatively has been made upon it. The mission has determined to push the work more vigorously in this direction than heretofore. The "Mrs. Sarah A. Sawyer Fund," mentioned in last year's report, established specifically for opening up work in the Delta, has given impulse to this movement. The cherished design is to embrace the whole of the Delta as speedily as possible in evangelistic effort. From the five centers now established, Alexandria, Monsoora, Tanta, Zagazig and Benha, it is believed that by means of colporteurs, Bible readers and evangelists, the gospel may be speedily extended to this spiritually destitute garden of Egypt. At the same time the schools for boys and girls established in these centers will be exerting their potent influence in enlightening the young, and training many for useful positions in the land, and specially for Christian work.

COLLEGE AT ASSIOOT.

The past has been, it is believed, the most prosperous year of the Training College at Assioot. The number of pupils has been larger than during any former year, and the capacity of the building is overtaxed. It would be altogether beyond the truth to say that all who go out from this Institution are Christians. But they go forth to teach in the schools of the land, and into many prominent positions, at least enlightened in the knowledge of Christianity, and many of them favorably impressed with its teachings. It is impossible to estimate the influence that the college is exerting upon the country. Most of the theological students also come from its training, and not a few other workers in the mission.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Theological Seminary at Cairo has also been steadily doing its good work. Nine students received its instructions during the year, three new ones having been admitted at a late meeting of Presbytery. Nearly 40 students in all have been prepared for the ministry of the gospel in this seminary, many of whom are now pastors of native churches.

PRESSLY MEMORIAL INSTITUTE AND OTHER SCHOOLS.

The Pressly Memorial Institute at Assioot has been very successfully doing a work for young women, similar to that done for young men by the college. The boys' and girls' schools elsewhere are prospering, and some of them are crowded to their utmost capacity.

ZENANA WORK.

Besides the important work done by the single female missionaries in the girls' school in the mission centers, much time is spent by them in visiting homes, and there in a quiet way making known the good news of salvation. The wives of missionaries are also, as far as possible, active along these and other lines of usefulness.

*The report has since come to hand.

THE NILE BOAT

has been kept in active service, and by means of it Rev. J. O. Ashenhurst and Mrs. Ashenhurst have been able in the past two years to visit most of the towns along the river, in which Christians are found. Large opportunity has been thus offered of preaching the gospel and instructing, directing, and confirming those who had already professed their faith in Christ.

THE MEDICAL WORK

under Dr. Henry, in Assioot, has had a prosperous year. 14,267 patients have been treated, 1,200 visits made to houses. The receipts for fees have been $1,890, the largest amount yet collected in any year. The doctor has greatly felt the need of a hospital on a limited scale, in which patients could be retained for a time and treated. He will probably make a trial of something on this line, the Women's Board aiding him in meeting the expense.

STATISTICS.

The following statistics, while not full, will be gratifying to all: In the field are 15 ordained American missionaries and their wives, and 8 unmarried female missionaries. Under the care of the Presbytery are 33 organized congregations, 19 of which are supplied with native pastors. There are 21 licentiates, and 9 students of theology. Besides the organized congregations, work is carried on in 134 other places. The average Sabbath morning attendance in all the stations is 8,886, while the evening prayer-meetings and other meetings for Bible study are attended by an average of 3,722. The total membership is 4,554; of these, 1,939 are women. The proportion of females compared with male members is increasing from year to year, indicating the pleasing fact that women are becoming more and more influenced by the gospel. Of the whole membership 509 were added during 1894, truly a gratifying increase. The contributions by natives from congregations, Sabbath Schools, etc., for church purposes amounted to $11,503.50. There were paid by the natives for tuition and other fees for their children over $17,000. Altogether the natives have contributed for all purposes probably not much less than $40,000. We do not think that this financial exhibit can be equaled by any other mission in the world. In the 110 mission Sabbath Schools are 5,365 scholars, and in the 119 week-day schools 7,975. During the past year there were distributed by the book department 13,845 volumes of scriptures, and of Sabbath School, religious, and educational books 35,552. These statistics should cause the whole Church to rejoice and to give thanks to God.

EDUCATION OF MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN.

The last Assembly gave the Board and the missions authority to make arrangements for a teacher for missionaries' children in each of the mission fields, and thus save the necessity of having them come to this country for education, and also of being separated at so great a distance from their parents. The mission in India, after considering the matter, concluded that, as there are already schools established within reach of that mission, and to which missionaries' children may be admitted, it was not deemed necessary to do anything in the circumstances. No definite action has been taken by the mission in Egypt.

CONFERENCES.

For three years past conferences have been held, in New York as a central place, of secretaries and other representatives of all the Boards and Foreign Mission Committees in North America. At these conferences important subjects common to all the Boards have been considered, and valuable papers upon them presented. Some sessions have been spent in perfectly free and informal interchange of views and plans as to the methods of work by the different Boards. Important united action has been taken upon certain subjects, and specially a united effort put forth to promote the work in the fields by the native Christians. There has been prepared and published a schedule of missionary outfits, allowances, salaries, etc., paid by the different Boards. From this it appears that our missionaries are provided for at least as well as the average. These conferences have been very valuable, and the harmony among the Boards is delightful. Another conference will be held next year, and it is probable that these will be continued annually.

HELPERS.

The Board is thankful to the whole Church for the evidently increasing interest in the good work, and for the sacrifices which they know have been made in many instances to sustain it. At the same time they feel that they should make mention of some who have been special helpers.

THE WOMEN'S BOARD

has been constant in rendering aid throughout the year. They have selected and nominated for appointment the young ladies who have been sent to the fields; they have provided for the outfit and traveling expenses of these, and for their salaries, while at the same time they have paid the salaries of nearly all the single female missionaries in the field. This is help that has been highly appreciated by our Board, and that has enabled us to put missionaries in the fields who otherwise would not be there. The medical work by female physicians is entirely provided for and controlled by that Board.

At the time of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the pastorate of the late Dr. Dales, his congregation presented him with a purse containing $5,000. Dr. Dales gave it to the Board of Foreign Missions in trust, "the income to be annually applied towards defraying the expenses of native male students while pursuing their studies in the respective theological schools of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, located in the Foreign fields of India and Egypt, in preparation for the gospel ministry." The $5,000 has been paid to the treasurer of our Board during the past year by the trustee, Mr. James D. Ferguson. Truly this is generous and timely help.

INDIVIDUAL HELPERS

have been numerous, putting into our treasury from $500 to $1,500 or more, and often giving our treasurer permission only to credit the amount to "A friend." Numerous bequests, too, have come into our treasury, made generally by those who were accustomed to give liberally in their lifetime, and, who, making their last will and testament, did not forget to put the cause of Christ among their heirs. Thus, not a few, though dead, are speaking to-day in the land of Egypt and India.

We must also make mention of the help given again during the year by the American Bible Society, the American Tract Society, the British and Foreign Bible Society, the Turkish Mission Aid Society, the United States Consul General in Egypt, Lord Cromer, Messrs. Thomas Cook & Son, People's Brothers of Liverpool, Messrs. Simpson and Mr. John P. Duncan, of New York. Let the Assembly make suitable recognition of these institutions and friends, and above all let thanks be given to God for his gracious favor to our missions through another year. Let unceasing prayer be offered that his favor may be more and more abundantly enjoyed, and, specially in this day of India's great need, that laborers may be found to go forth to sow the seed and gather the harvest in that mission.

Respectfully submitted,

M. G. KYLE, President.
W. W. BARR, Cor Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS.

With sincere sorrow the Board reports the recent death of James McCutcheon, Esq., one of its members. He has been continuously in service since his first appointment by the General Assemby in 1870. Only two remain among us whose connection with the Board covers so long a time. The high character of Mr. McCutcheon, his standing in the business world, and his interest in home mission work, made his presence and counsels of the greatest value.

The universal and severe business depression noted in our last report has continued during most of the year, and its effects upon contributions have been very severely felt, not only by our own Church, but by all others. The apprehensions expressed in that report have been more than realized. As will be more fully shown in connection with our detailed financial statement, the home mission work cannot be sustained in its present extent, even if no new work is undertaken, without a large increase of income, and an early replenishing of the treasury, which is now entirely exhausted.

Yet the work itself has gone forward with undiminished evidence of the divine blessing. In some parts of the West there has been great distress, absolute destitution indeed, through failure of crops, and this has, in some places, made it impossible to maintain regular church services. Besides this, all parts of the country have suffered because of industrial depression, and no surprise would have been felt had the reports indicated some aggregate decline in the great prosperity of our home mission stations. Let us give praise to our gracious God that no such result is seen. On the contrary, we are permitted to report the largest increase by profession that has ever taken place. Other leading items also show an encouraging increase. Only in the contributions to the general work of the Church is there any marked decrease.

A summary of the entire work from 1858 to 1894 was printed for general distribution in December last. For the sake of a permanent record, we give the substance here. The whole number of organized congregations in America in 1894 was 896; of these 503 have been aided from the Home Mission funds. Fully one-half of all the congregations now on the roll of the Church would not be there at all but for the help thus given in their early struggles. These congregations have increased in membership from 28,422, as first reported, to 52,300 in 1894, and now contain one-half the members of our Church in this country. Since its organization the entire outlay of the Board has been $1,301,868 The congregations aided have already paid back IN CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE GENERAL WORK of the Church, that is, for the great objects committed to all our boards, $1,092,415, or nearly eighty-four per cent. of the entire expenditure. They have also paid for the support of pastors or supplies, $5,050,552, and for all purposes, $10,006,897, which represents an immense expenditure, in money only, for Christian work in our own country, all of which has been secured by the comparatively small outlay for Home Missions. The Minutes of 1894 show that the whole Church contributed, during the preceding year, for all the boards, $241,787; of which sum $77,633, or about one-third, was given by congregations which have been, or are now, aided through the Board of Home Missions. These congregations are actually giving, year by year, to the whole missionary work of the Church, more than the Church is spending annually for Home Missions. Of the 503 congregations aided, 264 may be regarded as self-supporting. These 264 have increased in membership from 13,613. as first reported, usually in the year when aid was first given, to 30,792 in 1894. The whole amount paid out by the Board in aiding them is $370,383, while they have contributed to the missionary funds, for the general work of the Church in all its branches, $863,002; or two and one-third dollars for every dollar spent in aiding them. Comparison of this with a similar general statement of results given in the report for 1892, will show most gratifying progress. The Lord is surely giving to our Church every encouragement to support and extend this part of her work.

II. GRANTS BY THE BOARD. Besides the appropriations fixed in detail by the General Assembly, there was placed at the disposal of the Board $1,014 to cover the probable needs of cases referred, and $5,000 to meet emergencies. Our endeavor has been to avoid, save in cases where absolute necessity was shown, any increase of obligations to be met. $694 has been used for cases referred, and $2,920 to meet emergencies; a total of $3,614, but little more than one-half the sum allowed for these purposes.

For cases referred. Des Moines, Dexter, $160; Detroit, Fair Grove and Erskine, each $55; Omaha, Eagle Grove, $50, s. s., ⅓; Ewing, $150, s. s., ⅔; Orchard, $200, s. s., ⅔; Pawnee, Amity, $24. The grants in Detroit and Pawnee Presbyteries were additions, under the sliding scale rules, to appropriations made by the General Committee.

To meet emergencies. Arkansas Valley, addition for rearrangement of work at Anthony and other points, $125; Boston, Central Falls and 2d Providence, additional to secure pastoral settlement at each place, $300, Worcester, new station, $150; Caledonia, Lyndon, $75; Chartiers, 3d Washington, new station, $350; Indiana, Caledonia, $60; New York, Clarenceville, new station, $800; North Platte, Gering and Harrisburg, $700; Ohio 1st, Mt. Pleasant, $100, Sycamore and Hopkinsville, $200; Rock Island, Rock Island, $60 additional. This list includes but three new stations.

III. SPECIAL MISSIONS. Twenty-nine stations have been nominally in the special charge of the Board, but of these two were unoccupied. The customary special reports have been received. Twenty-seven stations reporting have all been served regularly by pastors or stated supplies, and very few changes will take place. The membership reported is 1,622, a net gain of 240, or about 17½ per cent. Four church buildings, in some instances temporary, have been completed and entered within the year. Only three of the stations, Canton, Detroit and Olympia, remain without a house of worship. In general, the condition of the congregations is good. Progress has been much retarded by the inactivity in all lines of business, but the return of better times, now hoped for, will much improve the prospects for success. In the statements which follow only brief mention can be made of leading facts, leaving details to be gathered from the statistical tables. In several instances the aid requested for the coming year was greater than that granted for the current year. The Board, in view of the straitened condition of the finances, has felt constrained to refuse any increase except in one clearly exceptional case.

Altoona. Presbytery of Conemaugh. '92–7*. Rev. R. A. Hutchison has continued as stated supply, and is reappointed. No material change has occurred. Rapid growth cannot be expected until the railroad shops offer more regular and constant employment, but the work is in good condition. $850, a reduction of $50, has been granted for the coming year.

Canton, Presbytery, of Mansfield. '94-9. Rev. D. K. McKnight is the stated supply, and will continue as such. There has been some growth during the year, and prospects seem good for more in the near future. It is expected that a house of worship will soon be built. The outlook is regarded as good. $1,000, the same as last year, has been granted.

Columbus 2d, Presbytery of Xenia. '92-7. Rev. J. B. Wilson, who has had charge from the time of organization, has been reappointed as stated supply. Reports show continued increases, a good organization for work, commendable liberality in giving, and improved prospects for growth and success. The amount asked for the coming year, $750, being a decrease of $50, has been granted.

Denver 2d, Presbytery of Colorado. '93-8. Rev. J. G. Kennedy, stated supply, has been reappointed. This new mission was begun at a very discouraging time, but has made good progress, and there is every reason to count upon its ultimate success. The chief work of the past year has been the erection of a church building, which was opened for services quite recently. For the Sabbath School, especially, entering this new building was practically the occupation of an entirely new field. With excellent organizatiou for all lines of Christian work, the congregation may be expected from this time to make more rapid progress. The grant of $1,200 has been renewed.

Detroit, Presbytery of Detroit. '91-6. Rev. W. H. Vincent, who has hitherto served as stated supply, is now called and expected to settle as pastor of the congregation. The Church certainly owes him a debt of gratitude for the courage with which he has stood by the work through the long and at last unsuccessful contest for the possession of the property held by those who seceded from our body, and for his zealous labors to regain the ground lost. With God's blessing, he has faith in ultimate success. A new lot has been secured, by the Board of Church Extension, in a very favorable location. Upon a part of it, with a loan from the Women's Board, a parsonage has been erected. Every effort will be put forth to gather means for the erection of a house of worship at an early day. By all these steps the people of the city are assured of the permanency of our work Some growth is reported, a good organization along the usual lines, an excellent Sabbath School, and prospects for steady, if not rapid growth. Aid for the coming year to the amount of $1,100, a reduction of $100, was asked and granted.

Fort Wayne, Presbytery of Northern Indiana. '92-7. No work was done during the time covered by this report. $600 was placed at the disposal of the Board, with the understanding that some one would be sent with instructions to investigate and report upon the prospects. Arrangements were made with Rev. S. P. Barackman to begin this exploring work about January last, but illness prevented him from going to the city until April. Recent reports from him do not give much encouragement as to the prospects for success, if permanent work should be undertaken. The Presbytery has made no request for the coming year.

Kansas City 1st, Presbytery of Kansas City. '93-8. Rev. F. B. Murch, pastor. After a year's experience the pastor speaks of the immediate field as not the most inviting, but thinks the opportunity presented in that city a great one, and is hopeful of success if supported in the work. No increase of membership is reported, but this results from the dropping of many names in a necessary revision of the roll. The work is now well organized. Presbytery asked a grant of $900 for next year, but the Board, convinced of the absolute necessity of keeping down appropriations, refused to give the increase of $100 and granted the same amount as last year, $800.

Kansas City 2d, Presbytery of Kansas City. '88–'93–8. Rev. James White, D. D., pastor. Some increase is reported, but the business conditions in the city have been unfavorable to growth. In all other respects Dr. White regards the congregation as in much improved condition, and the outlook as very hopeful. With expected business revival steady progress may be expected. The grant of $1,000 has been renewed.

Kearney, Presbytery of Omaha. '88–'93. '94–7. Early last fall Rev. M. M. Gilchrist accepted an appointment as stated supply, and has been reappointed for the coming year, at the request of the congregation and Presbytery. The year has been a very trying one, owing to the destitution prevailing in all that region, and little progress can be reported. Prospects for the future depend upon the crops. But the congregation has not lost heart, and has nobly done its part in caring for the needy, thus showing to the community a Christian spirit which will be remembered. $900, an increase of $200, was asked for next year, but the Board felt constrained to limit the grant to $800.

Lincoln, Presbytery of Pawnee. '91–6. Rev. E. E. Fife, who has been stated supply during the past year, is reappointed. He reports a fair accession, but the net increase, owing to many removals, is small. The city is not at present growing, and all the churches feel the effect. Our work is well organized and in good condition, and with improved business outlook will have good prospects of success, but growth must be slow. Debt and taxes make heavy demands on the congregation, and they are unable as yet to increase their share of pastoral support. The grant of $1,100, as requested, has been renewed.

Oakland, Presbytery of San Francisco. '93–8. Rev. J. M. French, stated supply. No special report has been received, but it is known that the congregation entered their neat new building in June, 1894, and that since that time the work has gone forward steadily and is in good condition. A request from the congregation for the reappointment of Bro. French has been complied with, and a grant of $1,100 has been made for the coming year. This is a reduction of $100.

Olympia, Presbytery of Oregon. '93-8. Rev. J. M. Welsh remained in charge as stated supply until the close of March. Some time before this he had asked to be relieved, but as no special reason appeared for his removal, the Board asked him to reconsider the subject and remain. As he still thought it best to leave the field, assigning as a leading reason his desire to pursue a course of special study, with a view to better preparation for the Lord's service, his resignation was accepted, and Dr. W. G. M. Hays, who had been released from Waitsburg, was assigned to the vacancy, taking up the work about April 1st. But little change is reported in the condition of the congregation. It is in good working order, and with improved business in the city, has fair prospects for success. Dr. Hays has been appointed for the coming year, and the grant of $1,100 renewed.

Omaha, South, Presbytery of Omaha, '92-7. Rev. J. F. Ross, stated supply during the year, has been reappointed. The year has been marked by increase exceptionally small and decrease exceptionally large, both explained by great business depression and failure of crops in the State. Contributions have been exceedingly creditable, and the working organization is good. Bro. Ross speaks of some discouragement, but it is hoped that these will disappear, and that he can continue his work, which has been greatly blessed in the past. He says as to the prospects, "With patient and diligent labor, with the return of better times, above all, with the blessing of God upon the seed already sown and yet to be sown, there is no reason to despair of an abundant spiritual harvest." A renewal of the appropriation of $800 was asked by Presbytery, and granted by the Board.

Philadelphia, Wharton Square, Presbytery of Philadelphia. '93-8. Rev. J. P. Sharp, stated supply, has been reappointed upon request of Presbytery. Organization was effected within the year. The Board of Church Extension secured a lot at South Twenty-third street and Wharton Square, and upon this a frame structure, purchased and removed from another location, has been placed, which will, for a time, answer the purpose of a house of worship. A large Sabbath School has been gathered, and a good working organization is reported. The field seems to be an excellent one, and with faithful work and the blessing of the Lord this mission should prosper. Presbytery asked a grant of $1,200, but the Board could not see the way clear to do more than renew the grant of $1,120 made last year.

Portland, Grand Av., Presbytery of Oregon. '92-7. Rev. H F. Wallace, D.D., has continued through the year as stated supply and is reappointed. Fair progress, good organization and spiritual condition, and improving prospects for growth and success are reported from this mission. $1,100, a reduction of $100, was asked and granted for the coming year.

St. Louis, Waggoner Place, Presbytery of Southern Illinois. '93-8. Rev. A. C. Douglass, stated supply, has continued his work during the year, and is reappointed. The reports show a very encouraging growth in numbers, good organization and spiritual condition, a high degree of liberality, and excellent prospects of success. Some debt remains, which burdens the congregation. A renewal of the grant of $1,000 has been approved.

Salt Lake City, Presbytery of Colorado. '92-7. The information before the Board with reference to this field led to the conclusion, some time since, that the opportunity presented to our Church a few years ago has gone by for the present. After laying the subject before the Presbytery and asking their advice, the Board has recently advised the Woman's Board, by which the support of a mission had been so generously pledged, that for the present it is inexpedient to begin work in Salt Lake. Our failure to secure a suitable missionary at the opportune time is much to be regretted, and it is hoped that at some future day the effort may be renewed with better success.

San Diego, Presbytery of Los Angeles. '88-'93-6. Rev. R. G. Wallace, D. D., pastor. No marked change has occurred during the year, but the pastor regards the spiritual condition and organization for work as better than in former years, and thinks the outlook improved. Southern California has not recovered from the reaction following the "boom" some years ago, but the city will grow with the advent of better times. The grant of $875 has been renewed for the coming year.

Seattle, Presbytery of Oregon. '92-7. Rev. S. Dell Johnston, who has served as stated supply since the organization of the congregation, during last fall offered his resignation, and the Board accepted it, but asked him to remain until a suitable successor could be found. When this became known to the members of the congregation, strong protests, and an earnest request for reconsideration, were sent to the Board. These papers appeared to represent the unanimous feeling of the congregation, with the exception of a few who had withdrawn. After considerable delay, and full inquiry as to the judgment of members of the Presbytery, the whole question was left to the decision of Mr. Johnston himself, and he has notified us that it is his intention to leave the field at an early day. Rev. J. A. Henderson has been offered an appointment as stated supply, and we hope for his aceptance. It is impossible here to explain the causes which have led to Bro. Johnston's withdrawal, but it is due to h m to say that the Board attaches no blame to him, and did not in any way seek a change. His action was voluntary. While, naturally, the congregation shows little progress during the year, there is nothing in its condition to forbid the confident expectation of prosperity in the future. The grant of $1,100 has been renewed.

Sioux City, Presbytery of Northwestern Iowa. '92–7. Rev. J. A. McKirahan has continued as stated supply and is reappointed. During the year a place of worship, the want of which was a very serious hindrance, has been secured. While circumstances, as elsewhere, have been unfavorable to rapid growth, yet some progress is shown, the spirit of the congregation is excellent, its organization for work fair, and the prospects for success are regarded as good. The grant of $1,200 has been renewed.

Spokane, Presbytery of Spokane. '91–6. Rev. W. A. Spalding, our first missionary to the field, continues to serve as stated supply, and will remain. While the loss by removals has been heavy, there has been some net gain. In all respects the condition of the congregation is good, and the outlook encouraging, if better times return. $1,000, a reduction of $50, has been granted for the coming year.

Springfield, Presbytery of Pittsburg. '93–8. Rev. John Teaz is the stated supply, and has been reappointed. A net increase of twenty is reported, but the loss by death and removals leaves the financial strength no greater. Some defects exist in the working organization, to which the Presbytery has been giving special attention, but the general condition is good, and the prospects of success better than ever before, though largely dependent upon improvement in the general business outlook. A grant of $900 was asked for the coming year, but the Board felt it necessary to limit the amount to $800, as last year.

Tacoma, Presbytery of Oregon. '91–6. Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick continues in charge as stated supply. The work is in good condition. Business stagnation has greatly retarded progress, but the outlook for the city is regarded as encouraging, and the congregation will go forward more rapidly with the return of better times. The grant of $1,100 has been renewed.

Waitsburg, Presbytery of Spokane. '92–7. After ten years of faithful service, Dr. W. G. M. Hays was released in March, at his own request, from the charge of this mission, and shortly afterwards accepted charge of Olympia. His work at Waitsburg has been much more than the usual charge of a mission congregation. To his efforts the Church is indebted for the existence of Waitsburg Academy, which gives good promise of important and lasting influence npon the development of our mission work throughout that new region. The congregation itself has never had much prospect of growth, and shows little change recently. Prices for wheat, the principal product of the country, have been so low as scarcely to equal cost of raising, and the people have little means at command. Otherwise the work is well organized and in good condition. Presbytery asked a renewal of the grant of $650 and the appointment of a new missionary, but these requests are held over for the present. In view of the retirement of Dr. Hays, some questions have arisen as to the relations for the future between the work of the congregation and that of the academy. The Board asks that $650 be held at its disposal, for use if found advisable.

The stations above named continue for some time longer in the special care of the Board. Five others cease, with the current year, to be special missions, and their reports and requests will come regularly before the General Committee.

Columbus 1st, Presbytery of Xenia. '87–'92–5. Rev. R. B. Patton, pastor. Reports continue to be of very encouraging character in every way. The grant asked for next year is $600, a reduction of $75.

Findlay, Presbytery of Sidney. '90–5. Early in the year Rev. J. F. McKnight accepted an appointment as stated supply, and has served very acceptably. His reappointment is asked. Business depression has prevented growth, but the condition of the congregation is stated to be good and improving, and the prospects of success fair. A renewal of the grant of $650 is applied for.

Muncie, Presbytery of Northern Indiana. '90-5. Rev. J. C. White took charge as stated supply in the early part of the year, and his reappointment is now asked by congregation and Presbytery. There has been some increase, and difficulties reported a year ago seem to have disappeared, so that the general condition of the congregation is improved. But here, as elsewhere, prospects for success depend very largely upon the revival of business. A renewal of the grant of $800 is asked by the Presbytery.

Pittsburg, Presbytery of Pittsburg. '90 5. Rev. J. H. Gibeon has been the stated supply of this mission since it was first undertaken. He has stood nobly by his work during some years of depression and difficulty, which have been exceptional even in these times of general business disturbance. His reappointment is earnestly asked by congregation and Presbytery. The outlook for the city is now much better. The congregation is in excellent condition, and has undertaken to do considerably more for the coming year towards self-support. Presbytery asks a grant of $740, which is $60 less than the grant of last year.

Pueblo, Presbytery of Colorado. '90-5. Early last fall the stated supply, Rev. J. L. Hervey, desiring to spend some time in special study, asked to be released. His request was granted, with the understanding that he would remain until the Board should find it convenient to release him. He remained until the end of March. No one has yet been secured to take his place permanently, but correspondence is in progress with that end in view. Reports show some growth, but, as in other places, the conditions have been unfavorable. We must expect growth to come but gradually. The congregation is well organized, and its condition good. Presbytery asks renewal of the grant of $1,000, and that Pueblo be continued as a special mission for three years.

In several of the special missions important help has been given during parts of the year by lady missionaries, appointed and supported by the Woman's Board. In every instance the brethren in charge of these fields speak in terms of high appreciation of the work done by these helpers.

IV. THE SLIDING SCALE. Sixty-five stations in thirty-one Presbyteries were brought before the Board with requests and reasons assigned for exemption from the present operation of the rules. Thirty-three are favorably recommended. Twenty-eight others have not, in our judgment, shown reasons to justify exemption. Four are referred to the General Committee. without positive expression of opinion. In four cases, besides those included in the above statement, more aid is asked than the scale allows, but no action is reported under the sliding scale rules.

V. FINANCIAL CONDITION.	1893.	1894.	1895.
Received from Presbyteries	$47,904 98	$50,412 89	$47,926 86
From Sabbath Schools and Young People	373 66	266 20	291 99
From Ladies' Missionary Societies	28 00	20 00	46 10
From Individuals	1,014 32	4,089 09	4,005 19
Total Direct Contributions	$49,320 96	$54,788 18	$52,270 14
From Legacies	3,402 29	4,962 97	6,555 72
From Investments	1,243 24	1,343 74	892 17
From Annuity Granted	.....	.....	1,000 00
Total Receipts	$53,966 49	$61,094 89	$60,718 03
Total Expenditures	$68,101 43	$73,301 74	$71,825 86

The deficiency of income is thus seen to be $11,107 83. To meet this, the Board has used the entire balance of $9,232 54 reported in the reserve fund last year, and in order to pay all claims up to March 31, the treasury has been overdrawn the further sum of $1,875 29. The deficiency should really be regarded as $1,000 greater. A gift of that amount, received upon agreement to pay an annuity of 5 per cent. during the life of the donor, was used for current expenditure, while heretofore all such money has been held for investment. The General Assembly asked the Church to give $90,435, but the receipts from all ordinary sources have been less than $60,000. In three years the outlay of the Board has exceeded its income by $37,449 62, not because the contributions of the Church have been declining, but because the General Assembly has, year by year, added to the appropriations, and contributions have not increased in like proportion. The result is that the reserve fund is totally exhausted, and a further debt created. During most of the year it has been utterly impossible to meet obligations promptly. Our payments are due at the close of each quarter for work already done, but our missionaries have had to wait, some of them three and four months. It is hard to express the extent and degree of hardship caused by this state of things. Should it continue. many excellent workers, especially in important new fields where they depend mainly upon the grant of the Board for support, may be forced to leave the mission service. We have reached a real crisis in our work, and we trust that wisdom from above will be given to the General Committee and the Assembly to meet it with proper and effectual measures of relief.

As stated in previous reports, the amounts credited to Sabbath Schools and Missionary Societies, do not represent the total contributions for the home work from these sources, but only the few remittances which are made directly to our Treasurer, and not passing through the hands of Financial Agents of the Presbyteries. We again acknowledge gratefully the help of the Woman's Board in the support of work among the Warm Springs Indians, and of women helpers in several important stations. For the former purpose that Board has expended during the year $3,646.80, and for the latter $3,324.05; a total of $6,970.85.

VI. The Declaration of Trust. The form of security for property required by the General Assembly of all congregations receiving aid has, at times, occasioned difficulty. Especially in the State of Ohio claims are made as to the legal status of all church property which we do not know how to meet without legal counsel. The General Assembly is, therefore, asked to give authority to the Board to take legal advice in difficult cases, and to act accordingly.

VII. The Coming Year. Reports have been received from all Presbyteries. Applications for aid are entered which amount to $82,800, which will not likely be much increased. This, of course, is exclusive of any sum that may be placed at the disposal of the Board for emergencies. It should be remembered, too, that action of the General Assembly requires the raising of $20,000 to restore the reserve fund, without which there is no possibility of meeting the quarterly payments promptly, and that a debt of $1,875 must be repaid. Taking all these items into account, the Church would be called upon to give about $110,000 for home missions. In deciding what proportion of so large an amount can safely be asked, two important facts must be kept in view: First, that less than $60,000 was contributed in the past year, and, secondly, that the hard times which make the calls for aid larger are quite as seriously felt in the self-supporting congregations from which help must be expected.

What shall be done in this crisis? Either severe retrenchment must be resorted to, or special effort must be made to increase the contributions for the home mission work. The General Committee will have this year a problem of no ordinary difficulty to solve. The Board can offer no specific suggestions beyond those presented a year ago, but we trust that God in his goodness will avert the arrest that seems to be threatened to the home work of our Church, which has been so signally crowned with his blessing.

Rev. J. W. English will represent the Board in the General Committee of Home Missions.

The members of the Board, whose term of service expires on the 30th of June, are Rev. D. Barclay, D. D., Messrs. Thomas S. Stewart and Alex M. Scott The later was appointed by the Board to fill the unexpired term of Mr. McCutcheon.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board,

D. Barclay, President.
Wm. S. Owens, Cor. Secretary.
J. W. English, Rec. Secretary.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF HOME MISSIONS.

The thirty-sixth annual meeting of the General Committee of Home Missions was held in the Chartiers Church, Canonsburg, Pa., May 15 to 21, 1895, with a closing session in Pittsburgh, May 22. The representation was complete, with the single exception of Vermont Presbytery. Rev. W. A. Spalding, of the Presbytery of Spokane, was elected Chairman, and Rev. T. C. McKelvey, of the Presbytery of New York, Assistant Secretary.

Fifty-two out of the sixty Presbyteries in America presented applications for aid, which amounted in the aggregate to $83,450. This was exclusive of any sum to be placed at the disposal of the Board for unforeseen needs arising during the year. In addition to these ordinary demands of the work, it was found that deficiency of contributions for several years had totally exhausted the reserve fund of $20,000, without which prompt and regular payments to the missionaries in the field cannot be maintained, and that the treasury had been overdrawn $1,875.

Appropriations are recommended in this report as follows: For special missions in the care of the Board, $25,235; for other stations heretofore aided, $42,218; for new work, $4,675; to meet the probable needs of cases referred to the Board, $2,660; to the Board for emergencies, $5,000; total, $79,788. This total exceeds that of last year by only $131. There must be added $20,000 to restore the reserve fund, and $1,875 to cover overdraft on the treasury, making the whole amount to be asked of the Church for Home Missions $101,663.

It has been generally supposed that much the larger part of our home mission churches and expenditure are in the western field, but the report for last year shows that this is an error, and analysis of the grants now recommended reveals a remarkably even distribution over the whole Church. Every Synod and nearly every Presbytery in America has mission stations in its bounds, draws aid from the common fund, and depends upon Home Mission enterprise, under God, not only for extension into open ground yet unoccupied, but even for continued life and growth in territory already held. Of 183 mission congregations granted help for the coming year, 82 are east of the Mississippi river. Of $74,788 definitely voted to all the stations, $36,110 is for work east of this great natural dividing line. Of the $4,675 voted to new work, only $600 is for the West. This, however, is an altogether exceptional occurrence.

In submitting this report of its action the General Committee of Home Missions is deeply sensible of the fact that, at a time when the effects of business and financial disturbance are generally and seriously felt, the Church is called upon to raise for this part of the Lord's work much more money than has ever before been asked. But after a week faithfully spent in careful consideration of the needs and the prospects presented, and after much earnest prayer to the great Head of the Church for light and guidance, we declare it as our solemn conviction that retrenchment of our home work ought not to be attempted. If our United Presbyterian Church is to continue obedient to the positive commands and providential leadings of her Lord; if she is to be loyal in her practical devotion to the very highest interests of the nation, and true to herself and her mission, not less, but MORE, must be undertaken in our own land. Feeble as our efforts have been, the record of the past shows that the divine blessing has crowned them with remarkable success. The opportunities of the present are too great and too vitally important to be neglected or even postponed. All that is necessary to support the work, and to extend it, too, the Church is well able to give, and will give if all her people unite in the effort. ONE DOLLAR A MEMBER FOR HOME MISSIONS should be our watchword this year. With faith in God and faithful endeavor in all our presbyteries and congregations, by all our ministers and sessions, the money can be raised. Let the General Assembly speak unto the people, in the name of our God, that they go forward.

I.—AID GRANTED.

The following characters are used to express conditions upon which appropriations are made: p. s., continuance of existing pastoral settlement: s., settlement to be effected. IN ALL OTHER CASES THE CONDITION IS STATED SUPPLY, unless something different is expressly indicated. A fraction after the appropriation shows the amount of time to be taken, as ½ or ⅔. Where no figures are used the grant is for full time. When a * is affixed, as $120*, the station has received what the sliding scale rules permit, and is referred to the Board for consideration of its claims to exemption and an increase.

II—SPECIAL AND NEW WORK.

1. With respect to special missions which have been in the care of the Board, but whose terms now expire, it does not seem necessary that the 1st Columbus congregation should be longer continued on that list. Findlay is recommended to be continued for three years. with the reappointment of Rev. J. F. McKnight as stated supply; Pueblo to be continued for five years, and Rev. A. E. Brownlee appointed as stated supply for the year; Pittsburg, Kansas, to be continued for three years and Rev. J. H. Gibson re-appointed; Muncie to be continued for three years, and the appointment of the supply referred to the Board for further consideration. In all these cases the grants for the coming year have been stated in the table of appropriations.

2. Requests came from the Presbytery of Rock Island that Davenport be again made a special mission for three years, and from the Presbytery of Philadelphia that the new mission in Baltimore be placed in the special list for five years. It is recommended that both requests be approved.

3. Grants are recommended to the amounts stated in the table for the following new stations: Boston Presbytery. Worcester; Cedar Rapids, Clarion; Chartiers 3d Washington; Monongahela, Gladden; 1st Ohio. Middletown; Pawnee, Jewett; Philadelphia, Baltimore. Sheldon and Siloam Springs, in the Pittsburg Presbytery, have been referred to the Board for such action as further inquiry may warrant, and the 4th Chicago congregation is recommended for aid if the property shall be secured as required by the General Assembly.

III—GENENAL.

The following resolutions were adopted and are submitted for the approval of the General Assembly:

[So far as adopted these resolutions are contained in the report of the Standing Committee on Home Missions, page 703.]

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

The work done at each station during the year just closed, and the results of the effort, in part, will be seen by the detailed account which follows:

KNOXVILLE, TENN.

Knoxville College.—The first two months of the school year were passed in crowded quarters. Relief came when the new dormitory, and the college building were completed. These were both completed and occupied in December, 1894. Many are the thanks of both teachers and students for what God has done in putting better buildings in place of those destroyed by fire. The general health has been excellent. Two teachers were laid aside for a short time by sickness, but both made a good recovery and were soon at work again. But little sickness occurred among the students. The laborers at this station are, Rev. J. S. McCulloch, D. D., President, Rev. R. J. Love, Ph. D., Rev. J. R. Millin, W. A. Dunn, W. G. Purdy, Eliza B. Wallace, Agnes H. Walt, Maggie McDill, Jennie McCahon, Edith W. Shontz, Hattie A. Kerr, Belle E. Kerr, Tillie Wishart, Agnes Wishart, Ida M. French, Anna Rutherford, Mabel Simpson, Mary J. Fisher, Mary A. Wallace, Alice McMillan, and Letitia Dickson.

Congregational Statistics.—Members, 88; increase by profession, 15; increase by certificate, 5; decrease by death, 1; decrease by removal, 10; adult baptisms,10; contributions to the Boards, $309; general contributions, $36; congregational expenses, $184; total contributions, $529; average per member, $6.01; enrollment of scholars in Sabbath School, 350; contributions of Sabbath School, $91.

Religious Work.—Preaching services have been kept up regularly in the college chapel and in a mission station in the city. They were held also in a destitute neighborhood in the country for several months. All are expected to attend in the chapel at 10.30. The students and teachers engaged in three or four Sabbath schools return to the college, and attend preaching, and in the afternoon, at 2.30, they attend the Sabbath school. At four o'clock, a meeting of young men is held in the Asylum street mission with a view to enlisting young men of the city in doing good. Some of the young ladies meet at four in the afternoon for devotional exercises and to gather missionary news from all parts of the world.

At night the Students' Christian Association conducts a prayer meeting or Bible reading in the chapel. The intention is to familiarize the young people with organized Christian work, and prepare them for taking part intelligently in congregations and Sabbath schools at home.

Asylum Street Mission.—In addition to the regular session of the Sabbath school begun last year, and continued with increasing interest, a sermon is preached at night, and the young men exert themselves to gather in from the neighborhood many who seldom hear the gospel elsewhere. The attendance ranges from 50 to 85 at this service, while the attendance at the Sabbath school and young men's meeting averages 110 and 30 respectively.

The Sabbath school at the College is organized with seventeen classes. The enrollment, including teachers, is 371, and the average attendance for the entire year is 226. The primary classes meet together and have opening and closing exercises separate from the more advanced classes.

Bible Reader.—Miss Jennie McCahon has continued her work from house to house, holding meetings with women for devotion, and teaching sewing, besides distributing clothing to needy persons and ministering to the sick. The interest in the meetings has increased. The women come cheerfully and quite regularly. The leaven of the Word is at work and good results are reported from the Bible study and prayer meetings. The number of visits made within the year is 737; garments completed, 110; prayer meetings held, 44; meetings of sewing classes, 88.

Theological Department.—The hope of having colored applicants from several places was not realized. Correspondence for a time promised well, but usually the meager literary qualification was an obstacle. Some who were expected found work elsewhere; so that when the term opened there was only one student ready to take up the regular course, and he was not a colored man. Prof. Millin, who had been appointed to the theological department, heard classes in the College in addition to his class in the theological course. After several months, a young man, graduate of Knoxville College Normal School, was admitted, and took up such studies as he could with a view to the work of the ministry. The students who entered this department last year have either been engaged in teaching, or in finishing their college course. The prospect for the coming year is more favorable, at least three regular graduates being already pledged to enter in October.

Industrial Department.—While the moral and religious advancement of colored youth is of primary importance, and while good literary training is next to be aimed at, there is a great prominence given to handiwork. Young men and young women are encouraged by example and by precept to do something with their own hands. The greatest range possible is given to the kinds of such work—house work, shop work, farm work, office work—every needed thing that we have facilities for doing. Students are here taught to economize time by so arranging their studies and recreations as to secure from ten to fifteen hours a week for training the hand, and earning money. They learn also the value of the dollar as it can be taught in no other way. By an arrangement with the State University, $2,400 is received for the agricultural and mechanical branches of this department. Over fifty appointees from the State have been admitted this year, and about $700 has been paid out to the students for work done by them during the school terms. The largest amount earned in this way by one person was about $50. The work done by these appointees has been almost all of a thoroughly practical nature, such as would have required the employment of both skilled and common laborers. They made about fifty folding beds for the new dormitory; tables for the dressmaking room; shelves for the library; book cases for the office and class rooms, and repaired and strengthened the roof of Elnathan Hall, injured by a storm. They set up all the desks in the college, and repaired windows, doors, locks, and tables, besides running the electric light plant, consisting of boiler, engine, and dynamo of 180 sixteen candle power capacity.

Sewing.—The first three months were lost in this brnach of work, but as soon as the new college building was opened, the sewing was taken up with new interest in the room specially adapted to it. Much of the work is try-work, learning the various stitches. As skill is acquired, the pupils are advanced to other work. The average number sewing has been 96. The expenditures for material have been met by the income from articles made.

Dressmaking.—The number enrolled here is thirty-four; of these, five worked one hour a day; seventeen, two hours; two, three hours; nine, half the day, and one, all day. The net income is about $90. It would not be fair to estimate the amount of good done by the net receipts. If an impulse has been given that will result in one skillful and reliable dressmaker for the colored people; if half a dozen girls have been taught to make their own plain dresses; the most liberal outlay will be justified.

The College Enrollment for the year is 315; boarders, 192. Of these 25 are in the Little Boys' Home, and 37 in the Little Girls' Home. The average attendance is 240.

The Training School enrolls more than half of all who enter the institution. This indicates that a large proportion of the work done is with the common school grades. Advanced students are selected to assist, and they are glad to render such assistance in order to secure the drill and experience required on going out to teach public school.

The Boarding Department, under the management of Miss Eliza B. Wallace, is self-sustaining, and with very few exceptions the students are supported by themselves or by their own relatives. Out of 130 young men and women, she reports only four as receiving aid from the Ladies' Missionary Society. Of 37 in the Little Girls' Home, four are supported by the Church, two by individuals, and one is yet to be provided for. All but two of the little boys are supported by their parents or friends.

The Homes for little girls and boys seldom fail to attract the attention of visitors, and call forth favorable comment. They make it possible for parents and guardians to do the next best thing for their children, after their own homes are, for any reason, broken up. They commit them to these homes with the assurance that they will not only be regularly in school, but also off the street. Some idea of the magnitude of the boarding department may be had from the following summary:

INCOME.		EXPENSES.
Dairy	$ 443 47	Provisions	$5,299 00
Janitor Work	20 00	Furnishing	901 23
Empty Barrels	4 50	Fuel	1,427 70
From Boarders	8,707 74	Light	179 79
		Water Supply	101 32
		Cow Feed	238 97
		Work	343 84
		Plumbing	366 64
		Balance on hand	227 22
	$9.175 71		$9.175 71
Amount not collected last year			186 20

Students' Fund.—The compensation of student labor is partly from the Students' Fund, which is also used to support little boys and girls, who are either orphans or whose parents are unable or unwilling to support them. Small amounts have been given from this fund to supplement the expenses of worthy young men and women, to save them from the necessity of dropping out of school before the end of year. The good done by such aid is already shown in the sending out of excellent teachers with high moral and religious principles, who would otherwise have grown up to disseminate vice rather than virtue. Individuals and societies would feel great satisfaction could they step into the schools or homes of some of those whom they have aided. The amount received for this fund from State scholarships within the school year is $1,050; from Ladies' Missionary Societies, $450; from individuals, $290; total, $1,889.

MILLER'S FERRY, ALA.

The enrollment at Miller's Ferry is 270. On account of want of room many were refused admittance, and about 30 in the primary department were required to remain at home during the winter months when the school was crowded. There are about three months, September, October, and April, when all available hands are required in the field. To avoid running into the April throng, school is opened early in August. Mr. Cloud says, "However great the disadvantages may be, our schools are making steady progress. Two of our scholars have finished the prescribed course of study this year and a large class will finish next year. With the training these teachers have received in the mission they are certainly prepared to do much better work than those who have not had such advantages. There are very few who teach in the country schools who have even a good literary training in the common branches, and I know of none who have any religious training and do work in this line. Many persons who once regarded mission work among the freedmen a farce can now see the good it is doing for the race. They acknowledge the general improvement in the intelligence and morals of the people. The results of the religious work are highly gratifying. The growth of the congregation in number and spirit has been encouraging. Much of the open opposition has ceased. We had a glorious revival, in which we had the hearty co-operation of many of the members of other congregations. As a result of the revival we had twenty conversions. Thirteen joined our church. The more aspiring and self-respecting are attracted to our church which now numbers fifty-four."

"The Sabbath School is doing well. A large number of fathers and mothers have been gathered into it. One new class of married men has been organized, and promises to rival the large class composed of mothers. All the classes study the catechism and enjoy it. The enrollment is 313.

"Prayer Meeting.—The Wednesday evening meeting is a means of grace that is well attended and appreciated by the young people, many of whom come two or three miles after their hard day's work is done.

"Our Junior Young People's Society was organized in November and has enrolled forty active Christian workers. Five cents is paid on joining, and five cents monthly. Paying even this amount means, in most cases, self-denial, and yet the cheerfulness with which they do this is gratifying. It has aroused an interest in the missionary cause, and many have expressed anxiety to fit themselves for its work. An evening occasionally spent socially has done much toward destroying a taste for the plantation 'break-downs' and other rough, degrading plays, and developing in their stead a liking for amusements of a refined nature.

"The Band of Hope numbers 165 boys and girls and is doing a good work, affording excellent facilities for social, moral, and religious training along many lines. Its work is so divided as to give each teacher a certain part to do.

"The Mothers' Meetings are growing in numbers and interest. The enrollment is 65, with an average of about 50. The subjects discussed are always of a very practical nature, and the results are enlarged homes, gardens, more attention to poultry, butter making, general house comforts and supplies. 'I got my ole man in de notion to have mo' room an he's been down in de swamps a cuttin poles to put it up,' was the report of one mother, which was followed by many others of a similar spirit. In addition to this, neatness and growing self-respect are manifested. The good effects of the mothers' meetings are felt and seen in all the mission work.

"A great deal of visiting is done by the teachers, and especially by the minister. In this way we become well acquainted with the home life, and the general condition of the homes. But a short time ago we could go into homes at any time of the day, and find the beds not made up, and everything very disorderly, but all this has been greatly improved. Many of the homes are very poor, and made poorer by the way in which they are kept, but the manifest spirit to improve in this respect is highly encouraging.

"The Ladies' Missionary Society was organized Nov. 8, with 12 members. It now numbers 55. A missionary spirit is being aroused and cultivated in them. This society is doing much to relieve the sick and suffering. Any person can become a member by paying five cents on entering, and ten cents per month. Many wondered where they could get ten cents each month, and when asked if they could not sacrifice a box of snuff, or some tobacco, they thought it impossible, but now quite a number have given up their snuff and tobacco, and are prompt in paying their monthly dues.

"The Young People's Literary Society, which meets each Friday evening, is doing much in the way of interesting its members in general reading and imparting practical knowledge of parlimentary rules."

Rev. C. H. Johnson, the pastor, has, at the suggestion of the Board, explored Camden, the county seat, and he reports the way open for beginning work at once. The people, both colored and white, seem not only willing, but eager for a school. The influence of the mission at Miller's Ferry has evidently removed much of the old prejudice, and prepared the way for another effort of like nature within supporting distance. The working force at Miller's Ferry consists of P. C. Cloud, principal; Rev. C. H. Johnson, pastor; Mrs. Tillie E. Johnson, Miss Minnie L. Jenkins, Miss Lillie E. Jarnagan and Miss E. O. Hebron.

ATHENS, TENN.

The laborers at this station are Rev. J. L. Cook, principal and pastor; J. A. Cotton, Mary V. Byars and Maggie Buchanan. Some assistance is given in teaching by the more advanced students, and one of the former students was employed as an assistant several months.

The school is now provided with a good five-room building, which renders the work much more agreeable and efficient. The enrollment is 184, with an average attendance of 127. The average attendance at church is 72, and at Sabbath school 60. The membership of the church is about 70, and while they are very largely young people, they hold a high position among the churches. The spiritual condition is reported as good, and the influence of the school and church on the community is most encouraging. Opposition is waning and friends are multiplying. Prominence is given to temperance work. A Band of Hope is organized. The Young People's Society has thirty members, and Mr. Cotton conducts a large Bible class in the Methodist Church.

Sewing was not commenced, because no rooms suitable could be had at first, and after the new building was opened it was thought too late to justify the appointment of a special teacher to take charge of it. Arrangements are made to have a regular sewing teacher for the coming year.

Since writing the above the startling announcement has reached us: "Miller's Ferry School was burned to ashes with its contents, on the night of May 4th. The work of an incendiary." The Board has not had time to carefully consider this sad condition of things, and at present cannot recommend anything.

PRAIRIE BLUFF, ALA.

The second year's work here has closed so far as the day-school is concerned. Mr. H. J. Oliver and his wife are the workers. They have enrolled 209, but they have not house-room sufficient to seat properly more than 80, and yet the average attendance in March rose as high as 130. The Sabbath school numbers 113 with an average attendance of 74. The field is large, and steps are now taken for the erection of a building to meet the demands.

The Women's General Missionary Society, to which we are indebted for the furnishing at Knoxville and the building at Athens, propose to undertake this work, and also the erection of a dwelling for the teachers. With several hundred colored people near the building, there is room for work, and the opposition which nearly always arises will, it is hoped, subside, and leave the workers free to do the much needed work of lifting up the people.

CHASE CITY, VA.

The Sabbath school enrollment at this mission is 385. The highest average attendance for one month was 282. The attendance upon the preaching service was equal to that of the Sabbath school.

Day-school.—The term enrollment is 357. Average monthly enrollment for eight months is 249.

The Congregation.—The number of members is 132. The increase by profession is 7. Deaths, 1; Removal, 1. Contributions, $54.38. This does not include the contributions of the teachers.

Religious Services.—A systematic course of doctrinal Bible study has been arranged, extending through all the departments of the school, beginning in the primary department with Brown's Catechism and the Scripture texts relating to the weekly prayer-meeting topic for the Junior Society, then the Assembly's Shorter Catechism and the Scripture text relating to the prayer-meeting topic for the Christian Union, in the Intermediate department, and Patterson on the Catechism as a text book in the Grammar department, closing the course in the Normal with Dr. Moorehead's Outlines of Bible Study. One-half hour each day is given to these studies, and the students are required to pass an examination on them each month as in the other required studies of the course. The colored people are not lacking in the emotional features of religion; but they are radically defective as to their knowledge of the doctrinal basis upon which an effective practical religion must necessarily rest, and the special object of this course is to supply this defect. At the same time special effort is made to bring out and enforce the practical duties, which logically result from this system of doctrine.

We have two Young People's Societies, Junior and Senior, the former with a membership of 223, the latter over 100. These societies meet each Friday afternoon in a prayer-meeting service, using the regular topics. The program is prepared by the proper committee, and the meeting led by the students themselves. The members of the faculty are all present at one or the other of the meetings. The interest taken in these weekly meetings is very encouraging.

The regular congregational prayer-meeting is held each Wednesday evening in the chapel, and the attendance averages about one hundred. The regular Sabbath services have been kept up as usual, sermon by the principal at 2 P. M., followed by the Sabbath school. The attendance has been unusually encouraging, the chapel being nearly always filled, and, on many occasions, the side room had to be utilized to accommodate the audience. Special meetings were held during the year, continuing altogether about three weeks. The meetings were well attended, and their influence was clearly seen in the conversion of some, and especially in the quickened spiritual life of the members of the church.

The class, organized last year for the special study of Christian doctrine, under the direction of the principal, has been continued all through this year. Six of the young men who were in the class last year have been in all of this year, and one new member, a regularly ordained minister of the Baptist Church, who entered Thyne Institute just after the holidays. The doctrines discussed were—"The Fall of Man," "Original Sin," "Regeneration," "Faith," "Justification," "Sanctification," "The Means of Grace," "Word," and "Sacraments."

Girls' Industrial Home.—Fourteen girls have been in the Home the most of the year, and six young men in the Cottage since October. Most of the girls were in the Home this year for the first time, and they show a high appreciation of the privileges afforded them. Those who have entered the Home this year represent the best class of students we have yet had. One or two have had to leave within the last week on account of sickness in their homes, but the rest expect to remain until the end of the term, and all expect to enter the first of next year. Under the careful management of the matron, the Home has been self-sustaining, with a balance in the treasury of $120.33 to date. The most of this will be needed in making necessary repairs in preparation for next term. The girls in the Home have received the usual careful instruction in household duties, and their response has been gratifying and their progress encouraging.

Sewing Department.—This department was under the care of Miss McCampbell from the opening of the term until April 6th, when she went to her home in the North. Since that time the work has been carried on as before, Mrs. Moore taking charge in the forenoons and Miss Cleland in the afternoons. There has been an average attendance of 90 for each month, 426 articles have been made, and 1,518 yards of material used. Much of the material was donated by friends in the North, which, with the proceeds from the sale of garments made, kept the department self-sustaining, with a balance in the treasury of $12.60. Since the holidays a class in dressmaking and fitting has been organized. Heretofore only plain sewing, cutting, and fitting were taught in this department. This part of the work will be continued as heretofore. But as there is a large demand for competent dressmakers in the South, it is believed that competent instruction in dressmaking will open a profitable field for usefulness to many, and so dressmaking will be a permanent feature of the work in this department hereafter. Only those who have completed the prescribed work in plain sewing will be admitted to this class.

The missionaries here are Rev. J. M. Moore, Ph. D., principal; Misses Clara Hazen, Alice Wray, Armitta Buck, Lizzie Dickson, M. A. Cleland, and Mary McCampbell.

BLUESTONE.

The workers in this mission are Rev. W. M. Fowlkes, principal and pastor, Mrs. Nannie D. Fowlkes, and Henry Wilson.

Day School.—The enrollment is 232. The attendance during the unusually severe winter was smaller than usual. The people generally are very poorly clad, and therefore it is impossible for them to brave the rigors of such a winter. The progress in school work is very gratifying.

Religious Services.—The religious work has been thoroughly done and the results prove the efficiency of the efforts, and assure us of the approval of the Master. The enrollment in the Sabbath school is 230 and the principal reports a greater interest in the study of the Word, and an increasing enthusiasm in the singing of Bible Songs. All of the accession to the Church on profession the past year were from the Sabbath school.

The Congregation.—The membership is sixty-one. Increase by profession nine; by certificate, two. The contributions were $10.00 to home missions, and $10.00 to freedmen's missions. The other contributions were expended at home. The Word is regularly preached every Sabbath afternoon. Special meetings were held in September and in March. In the latter services the "Holy Spirit was present in quickening power. Christians renewed their covenants, backsliders were reclaimed, and twenty-five confessed Christ. Nine of these united with our Church, and others will soon unite." Prayer-meeting is held every Tuesday night and and each alternate Sabbath night.

O. Y. P. C. U. has a membership of thirty-five, and holds a meeting every Friday night. These meetings are more largely attended than any of the other prayer-meetings. The Junior Y. P. C. U. was organized April 8, with fifteen members, and has already reached an enrollment of sixty. The Juniors hold their meetings Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Surely the Lord is blessing the work at Bluestone.

NORFOLK, VA.

The following extracts from the principal's report to the Board will show the condition of the work here in a satisfactory light. The influence of this mission for good has been very great. The homes, the schools and the churches of the community show its marks. But perhaps the most encouraging consideration is that foundations have been laid largely out of sight, upon which future and more conspicuous buildings may rest with security. Some of the seed sown has sprung into instant life, the larger and better part is passing through the slow process of germination and growth toward fruitfulness. Patience must have her perfect work, not only here, and in the Board, but also in those who contribute to the support of the cause.

The Congregation.—A preaching service is held each Sabbath at eleven o'clock. Some who are unable to be present at that time attend the Sabbath school at two o'clock. The attendance at the morning service is not what it ought to be. But it is to be remembered that there are eleven churches within half a mile of the College with services much more attractive to colored people. The membership of the congregation is 104. Contributions $100. Contributions of the W. M. S. $21.

Sewing School.—This department enrolled 245 pupils. Five hundred three months of this year. The highest enrollment was in September, when the number reached 603. The average attendance for the year was 522 or nine less than the year before. All the pupils of the day school have a thorough written review of the Sabbath school lessons at the end of each month. About 125 pupils who are not in the day school attend. The contributions of the Sabbath school for the year, $141.96.

Christian Endeavor.—There are two Christian Endeavor Societies of about 40 members each. They meet every Wednesday afternoon. The interest has been well sustained. Contributions, $12. No contribution is taken in the Juniors.

Day School.—The total enrollment for the year, 688. Average monthly enrollment, 523, and average daily attendance, 472. The cut in attendance was caused by the unusually severe winter. The teachers have done good work. Instruction has been thorough and discipline excellent. The course in religious instruction is now complete, beginning with Brown's Catechism in the primary department, and ending with theology in the senior year. The interest shown in Bible study is simply wonderful. They are hungry for it. Our school and Sabbath school are exerting a great influence in the community. Our alumni and students are becoming leaders in all the churches.

Industrial Work.—The printing department has been well sustained. A number of young men have made commendable progress in a practical knowledge of the trade, including type-setting, press work, and composition. The department has done all the printing for the College, including the annual catalogue of 28 pages, besides a large amount of job work. It has been self-sustaining, except the salary of the printer.

Sewing School.—This department enrolled 245 pupils. Five hundred pieces of work were finished including dresses, aprons, boys' shirts, jackets, underwear, three quilts, and some fancy work. Cutting and fitting, and making basques also taught. 1,843 yards of material were used, of which the greater part was purchased. The department is well sustained.

Alumni.—Our graduates number 87, of whom 38 are teaching and 8 are pursuing their studies in other institutions. The senior class this year numbers 21. Besides our alumni, a goodly number of the former students are engaged in teaching. The missionaries at Norfolk are, Rev. J. B. Work, principal; R. S. McClenahan, T. E. Brownlee, Mabel Wylie, Ina McLaren, Ila J. Ramsay, Nan J. Mahan, Anna Williamson, Elizabeth Houston, Sarah E. Ganey, Gertrude Broughton, Ida W. Johnston, H. A. Morgan and M. A. Gebbhart.

The School.—The total enrollment for the term is 602. There has been a marked improvement in the regularity of attendance. In former years many were in school only a few days, many more only a few days in each month; but this year by far the larger number has remained four months or more, and so, in proportion to the enrollment, the attendance has been better than ever before. The school has been more closely graded than formerly, and, necessarily, the work done by the teachers has been of a higher order, and the results correspondingly more satisfactory.

Cottages for Self-Boarders.—The total number in these cottages this year is 117. As high as 100 have been in at one time. This is a larger number than ought to be admitted, yet, notwithstanding the crowded condition of the rooms, the health of the occupants was uniformly good, and no serious outbreak of ill feeling on the part of the students occurred, requiring the exercise of severe discipline. This is the more remarkable when we consider the homes from which they come, and the fact that there is no one in the buildings to look after them. It must be due to the restraining power of divine grace exercised in answer to believing prayer in this behalf. The best students in the school, as a rule, are those who could not be there at all only for the provision made for them in the cottages. In the girls' cottage, religious services are held daily by some of the female missionaries, and in the boys' cottage the young men, teachers, hold a similar service. The students take a deep interest in these services, and frequently join intelligently in the exercises. This is, perhaps, the most promising field for religious work.

Religious Services.—The Sabbath school enrollment for the term is 650. The average attendance at divine service has been 475, and at the Wednesday evening prayer-meeting about 140. The interest in these services has been good. Many attend from time to time who are not in the school. The greatest prominence is given to the religious training of the scholars. Every day in the opening and closing of the school, and at intervals during recitation hours, and the Sabbath are wholly given to this delightful and most important work.

The preaching of the word follows immediately after Sabbath school every Sabbath afternoon; all remain for this service.

Sewing.—This department is still very popular, and the work has been carried on systematically and with gratifying results. Six classes, of about 20 each, receive lessons each day. During the year 4,500 yards of material have been used, 1,300 garments have been made, including 500 dresses and 300 aprons. A class for training in dress making has been formed, so that the girls can have a trade by which to support themselves.

Printing.—An experimental effort has been made by the principal to establish a printing office in connection with the work. This has been carried on during the year, without any expense to the Board. Quite a good deal of work has been done, and well done. A small paper, "The Gleaner," has been published. It has paid for the material, and has a balance in the treasury of $11.39. A very creditable catalogue has just been finished, and is distributed as a means of advertising the work. Six students have been employed in this department, two of whom have made good progress. The others have been in but a short time. Nothing definite has been decided on in reference to the future of this part of the work. But it is very popular with the students, and at each of the stations where printing is taught, there is always a number eager to learn the trade.

The workers at Henderson are: Rev. C. L. McCracken, principal, John McKitrick, Answorth Hope, Stella Marshall, Mary W. Reid, Margaret Kerr, Mattie B. Speer and Emma F. Robertson.

This brief summary shows at a glance the status of the work committed to this Board. The number in the schools is smaller by a little than last year. The enrollment of the Sabbath schools is a little smaller. The severity of the winter, and the pinching poverty that settled down on these poor people, fully explain the reason. The membership of the churches is increased by 66. Thanks to a loving Christ, who has, in a measure, blessed the labor of his servants.

A larger number of teachers than ever before has been employed in the public schools, and through them a larger number of pupils and homes and hearts have been visited than ever before in one year, by the sweet influences that go out from these life saving stations. Hallelujah!

We hereby make grateful mention of the kindly co-operation, and the valuable aid in this work rendered by the Women's General Missionary Society through their Board of Directors. They, as in former years, paid the salaries of all the industrial teachers to date, amounting to $4,480; erected a school building at Athens, Tenn., at an expense of $2,050; paid for the building of a parsonage at Miller's Ferry, Ala., $860—amounting in all to $7,390. In addition, they provided for the furnishing of the Young Men's Dormitory at Knoxville, at a cost of $1,424.02, sent direct to the field. A large debt rests upon this Board, much to our regret, amounting to $24,500 (including the indebtedness reported last year of $7,525), which threatens to seriously embarrass the work of the coming year. However, there is an offset to this, in part, in the form of a liberal bequest amounting to $15,000, which will be due and payable within the next Assembly year.

The Board respectfully asks for an appropriation of $50,000, with which to carry on the work during the coming year, and to liquidate the present indebtedness so far as may be practicable.

The term of office of Revs. Joseph Kyle, D. D., D. W. Carson, D. D., and W. H. McMillan, D. D., expires with this meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
By order of the Board,

W. H. McMillan, President.
D. F. McGill, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

The Board of Church Extension respectfully submits the following report:

We regret to say that the President of the Board, Rev. E. S. McKitrick, D. D., has been compelled to seek the restoration of his health in a milder climate. His long experience and good judgment have great weight in the counsels of the Board. Prompt in attendance, careful in every thing entrusted to him, deeply interested in the work, always courteous and genial, his absence has been deeply felt. We are happy to say that the substantial improvement already made gives promise of his restoration to us in the not distant future.

The year has been one of much solicitude, but there is great reason for thanksgiving on the part of the General Assembly for the gracious providence of God in this department of its work. Encouraging reports come in from all parts of the field and there is a general hopeful feeling as to the future. The Corresponding Secretary, in connection with the meeting of the last General Assembly, visited a number of the missions on the Pacific coast which had been previously aided, and found the results of the work very satisfactory. He has also visited some of the missions in the East, and held conferences in regard to fields already open, or about to be entered upon by the Presbyteries, with good results.

FINANCIAL CONDITION.

The continued financial depression has caused great anxiety, and a serious limitation of the work. It has been the policy of the Board to make payment to the congregations when the conditions are fulfilled, and if the money is not in the treasury, it is borrowed. This year it became necessary to borrow more than for many years. At one time the interest-bearing debt amounted to $11,750. The Board holds that good faith, as well as the welfare of the missions, requires this course. The loss should be borne by the Church at large, rather than by the missions. It has not been possible to replace the permanent funds reported last year as used in current expenses. This indebtedness has been increased, and now amounts to $9,788. The only alternative to this was greater loans bearing interest. There has not, however, been any infringement upon the trust and annuity funds.

A full statement of the loans to congregations, and of the securities for other loans, is herewith submitted.

In consequence of the financial condition of the Board, the appropriations to congregations are $12,127 less than last year. Many applications for aid have been refused, or laid upon the table. It has not been possible to give the encouragement to missions which is desirable.

In some cases applications have been made to meet indebtedness incurred since former aid was given, or to meet taxes or assessments on the property. The Board recognizes the burdens which are thus imposed, but has declined to make grants for relief.

DECLARATION OF TRUST.

The form of the Declaration of Trust was prepared altogether with reference to premises used for churches, and is not suited to parsonage properties. When separate properties have been bought the Board has used a modified form, and joins with the Women's Missionary Board in asking the approval of the General Assembly for the form used, a copy of which is herewith submitted.

THE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY BOARD.

With one exception, the Board has assigned all approved applications for aid for parsonages to the Women's Missionary Board, and gratefully acknowledges the cordial co-operation of that Board, and the assistance it has given. The appropriations thus made amount to $10,450, of which $5,000 is not yet paid.

SABBATH SCHOOLS.

In the expectation of contributions equal in amount to last year, the Board selected two missions as special objects for Sabbath schools, viz.: Newark, N. J., and Olympia, Wash. But there has been a disappointment. The receipts from this source amount to only $2,388 79; altogether insufficient for the two churches.

THE ASSOCIATE REFORMED SYOND OF THE SOUTH.

After much delay, negotiations are about completed for the purchase of a lot and the erection of a church in Atlanta, Ga., and the Board has paid the appropriation reported last year to the Board of the Associate Reformed Synod of the South. The title will be taken by the Trustees of the Synod, and an obligation, the form of which has been agreed upon, will be given by the Trustees, that in case of the failure of the congregation, the proceeds of the property will be divided, pro rata, between the two churches. The outlook is reported as very favorable.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from all sources have been as follows:

From congregations	$19,845 05
" Sabbath schools	2,388 79
" Societies	389 04

Summerfield, Parsonage	Pawnee		300
Wilmerding	Westmoreland	550	450
Total Appropriations		$ 29,978	$ 2,275 32,253

Notes.—The appropriations to Baltimore North Avenue Mission, Detroit, and Canton were for the purchase of lots. That to Detroit includes interest and expenses.

The appropriation to Second Denver includes $300 for the lot, in addition to the amount reported last year.

The appropriation to Second Providence is to help to cover the increased expense made necessary by a new building ordinance of the city.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Board has been under continued obligation to William F. Robb, Esq., for gratuitous services as Notary Public.

It also acknowledges the valuable services of Mr. James H. Hamilton, of Arkansas City, Kan., in the settlement of complicated claims in that city.

In every case Superintendents of missions and others whose official services have been required, have responded promptly and efficiently.

VACANCIES.

The term of service of Mr. Thomas McCance, Rev. M. M. Patterson, and Mr. W. J. Sawyer, expires with this year.

APPROPRIATION.

In view of the present indebtedness of the Board, and the information of proposed mission work, the Board recommends an appropriation of $50,000 for the coming year. Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Board,

M. M. PATTERSON, Vice President.
C. F. DEAN, Secretary.
A. G. WALLACE, Cor. Secretary

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 7, 1892.

Concurrent with the presentation of this report closes the twenty-fifth year of the uninterrupted incumbency of Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., as Corresponding Secretary, of this Board, and the members of it associated with him in the work feel that some official and kindly recognition of the fact should be taken. During all these years he has discharged the important duties laid upon him with a rare capability and an unquestionable fidelity that has made the United Presbyterian Church at large a debtor to him. It is hoped that he may be spared many years yet, and that they shall be spent in the same field in which he has served with such eminent fitness and ability for the past quarter of a century.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

In submitting this, our annual report, to the General Assembly, we desire to express our gratitude to the Head of the Church for his kindness toward us, for the favor he has extended to the work of the whole Church, and for that good measure of prosperity he has given to this, in common with the other boards of the church.

INSTRUCTIONS.

We have endeavored as fully and faithfully as possible to carry out the instructions of the last Assembly. We have issued, as directed, an edition of Bible Songs without the imprint of the Board. The demand for this particular edition has not been large. But we are gratified in being able to say that the book seems to be constantly growing in favor. It is now used in every quarter of the globe. Some of the soldiers in the British army in Egypt have found great comfort in the use of these precious songs of Zion. Effort has also been made, with some degree of success, to introduce these songs into public institutions, Young Men's Associations, Sabbath School Institutes, Young People's Meetings, etc. Some of those who are now most earnestly pressing them for use in these places have but lately become acquainted with the superior excellence of our Scripture psalmody. We have also furnished, as directed, some excellent new music in our Sabbath school publications.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In the early part of the synodical year the Board secured the right to print an edition of "Talks on Psalmody," by the late Rev. W. D. Ralston. This is the fourth edition of this book. It has been brought out in very neat form and is sold at 10 cents per copy.

Near the close of the past year the Board issued a large edition of Lessons From the Life of Jesus, containing anniversary and review exercises for Sabbath schools. This publication is of permanent value, and may be used with advantage and profit on future anniversary occasions.

Other Sabbath school publications, as A Manual for Primary Classes, are referred to by the Sabbath school Committee.

The Board has now ready A Sabbath Manual, by the Rev. Joseph H. Leiper. This is a timely book, and covers the whole range of discussion of the Sabbath question better than any other work that is offered to the public. It is a book well suited particularly to the wants of public men, business men and the laboring class. We anticipate a very large demand for the work.

Following the directions of the General Assembly last year we have issued new music with each number of the Quarterly, and this will be continued for the present. Four pages of this new music have been added to the "Bible Songs" in the edition last published, and additional pages will be added to new editions from time to time.

We hope to complete arrangements very shortly by which we shall issue during the coming year a new book of "Psalm Anthems," to be known as "Psalm Anthems No. 2," which will supply the want of those choirs who have already used the present book of "Psalm Anthems" issued some three years ago. We have found it impracticable to issue any music of this kind in sheet form.

NEW BUILDING.

Our most important undertaking of the year is the erection of a new building on our present site. This building will be constructed of stone, brick and iron, of the most substantial character, as nearly fire-proof as possible, with all modern improvements in the way of heating, lighting, ventilation, sewerage, etc.

The building when completed, will not only in outward appearance but in the arrangement and adaptation to the purposes for which it is required, be equal if not superior to any structure of similar character in the city.

The Board has felt for years that a more suitable building than the present one was an absolute necessity for successfully carrying on our constantly enlarging business, and using to advantage the capital that in the good providence of God has been placed in our hands.

In undertaking this work we have not been entirely uninfluenced by the consideration that the building we propose to erect will be a credit and a convenience to the whole Church. But if we had not thought it wise and prudent from a business point of view to erect such a building, the present movement would not have been made. We have done just what we would have done had we been an ordinary business firm using our own money for what we believed to be the advancement of the best interests of the company. We think that any man of good business ability placed in our position, having charge of a similar business, and wishing to use his capital and manage his business with a view to the best returns possible, would at once have entered upon the same undertaking that we have. In fact, we find that all over our city our most substantial business firms and commercial houses have been doing just what we are doing for the more successful carrying on of their respective branches of business.

We have advised with men engaged in the real estate business, in banking and commercial enterprises, who approve of our undertaking, regarding it as timely and judicious.

Furthermore, this Board believes, as it always has done, that we are under solemn obligations to use the money, which God through his servants has given us in trust, in that way which will most advance his cause and kingdom in the world.

We have been doing a work, as related to the interests of the Church, its progress and prosperity, which, perhaps, is not sufficiently appreciated, but would be hard to overvalue. With our new building we believe that our resources will be such that in a few years we can furnish our Sabbath schools and missions with periodicals and church literature on more favorable terms than ever before, and at the same time make much larger grants to the missions, and weak congregations and Sabbath schools.

GRANTS.

As will be seen by the summary of the business of the year, the Board has rendered aid to the Home, Freedmen and Foreign Missions and to new churches and schools, as follows: Bibles and Testaments, $543.86. Psalm Books (including "Bible Songs," Selections, etc.), $914.75. Sabbath school supplies, $800.34. And in completion of the translation and publication of Volume I of the "Treasury of David," by Spurgeon, in Arabic, by the Mission in Egypt for use of the native ministers, $197.16, making a total of direct financial aid to the Church of $2,456 11.

The net gain of the year's business is $3,284.14, a margin that would seem very meagre were we conducting our business with a view to financial profits. No private enterprise would venture to invest $105,000 and be content to realize about three per cent. profits.

COST OF PUBLICATIONS.

Complaint has been made that during the previous year one of our publications was issued at a loss. No publishing house, either private or Church, has ever been able to run all its publications at a profit. Not a few of the most successful publications of the times have been a source of loss to their owners during their first years. The fact is that several of the Board's publications have always been issued at a loss:—The Minutes of the General Assembly, The Digest, Scouller's Manual, Psalm Anthems, and several books on the doctrines, etc., of the Church have never paid cost of publication. The Psalter is furnished to churches at a price which just covers cost of manufacture—a price, too, which is just one-half what similar books are furnished to other churches by their publishers. Bible Songs is sold at ten cents per copy less than any similar book published. A careful comparison of the prices of our periodical publications made with those published by other Boards and publishing houses, shows that for equal grade they are in no case higher, while in many cases they are lower in price than any others. Quarterlies similar to ours are furnished at a price not less than 20 per cent. higher by other publishers. Papers of the character of the Evangelist are published at forty cents per year for forty-eight issues. We furnish the Evangelist at forty-five cents for fifty-two issues. Our Bible Teacher is five cents per copy cheaper than any similar publication issued. There is no 16-page paper published that will compare in price with the Christian Union Herald. The nearest approach to it in price is eighty cents, or twenty cents higher than we propose to make the Herald next year.

We propose, beginning the first of the year, to increase the price of the Christian Union Herald in clubs to sixty cents per year and to reduce the price of the Evangelist to 40 cents per year. This increase of price in the Herald will enable it to pay its own way and will make a more equitable adjustment of price between the two papers.

REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON SABBATH SCHOOLS.

It is with a deep sense of gratitude to Almighty God that we present this, our annual report of the Sabbath schools of our Church. We first give a statistical summary of the reports received from the Presbyterial Superintendents. For comparison we append last year's figures:

	1894.	1895.
Number of Presbyteries reporting	54	58
" " " not reporting	6	2
" " Schools reporting	758	819
" " Pastors attending Sabbath school	521	594
" " Elders " "	2,426	2,675
" " " not attending "	632	666
Enrollment.
Number of officers and teachers	9,896	10,680
" " scholars	80,235	90,850
Total	90,131	101,530
Average attendance	55,969	63,070
Contributions.
To the Boards of the Church	$30,226	$29,755
To school expenses	32,509	38,260
To other purposes	12,908	11,451
Total	$75,643	$79,466

	1894.	1895.
Number of scholars confessing Christ	3,027	4,507
" " teachers' meetings and normal classes	151	184
Schools studying catechisms	.....	651
Mission schools reporting	53	72
Presbyteries holding conventions	21	32

Only four Presbyteries, viz., Butler, Chartiers, Philadelphia and Princeton, report a decrease in enrollment, contributions and number making confession.

Three Presbyteries, viz., Arkansas Valley, Big Spring and Detroit, report a decrease in enrollment and contributions.

From two Presbyteries, viz., Albany and Indiana Northern, we have received no reports. Each one of thirty-two Presbyteries reported every school.

The above figures tell their own story; yet they suggest only a part of what we wish you to consider. We not only invite a comparison of the statistics of '94 and '95, as in the above table, but we invite a comparison of this year's statistics with those of any former year in the history of our Church.

PASTORS AND ELDERS. Not only is there a larger number of pastors and elders attending and taking an active part in the work of the schools but there is a larger proportionate number than ever before.

ENROLLMENT. The total reported enrollment is 101,530, or 11,399 more than on any previous year. Think of this vast addition. What an honor for the Church to be entrusted with more than 11,000 additional souls in one year! Yet what a grave responsibility it places upon us. Well might we ask, "Who is sufficient for these things?" But listen! "My grace is sufficient for thee."

CONTRIBUTIONS. Until the year 1890 our contributions had never reached the $60,000 mark. This year we report $79,466, or more than $21,000 above that of any year preceding 1890, and nearly $4,000 above that of any other year in the history of the Church. It is gratifying to learn that our schools "abound in this grace also." By keeping constantly before our schools the special objects for quarterly contributions, and by presenting frequently the importance of these objects, a double purpose will be accomplished, viz.: that of constant addition to the contributions and missionary zeal. Under these influences let the spirit of systematic benevolence continue to be cultivated in all our schools and it will not be long until the perplexing "quota" problem will be solved.

SCHOLARS CONFESSING CHRIST. This is the item in the statistical table that makes our hearts leap for joy. In the year 1888, 3,792 scholars made a confession of faith in Christ; and this is the largest number reported in the history of our Church. But this year there have been 4,507 S. S. pupils added to our Church, or 1,480 more than last year. This large increase is not the result of a spasmodic effort in any particular part of the Church; but it is a steady growth throughout the entire Church. Only a small fraction of the presbyteries show a decrease in the number of conversions over that of last year. Surely the angels in heaven have been rejoicing, and why should not we?

PRESBYTERIAL CONVENTIONS. More than one-half of the presbyteries report conventions held, and almost without exception they are spoken of in the highest terms of praise. For arousing a general interest these conventions are valuable aids. Let every presbyterial superintendent arrange for conventions where it is practicable, and where it is not practicable on account of widely scattered schools, let conferences be arranged for and held in connection with the regular meeting of the presbytery. In some such way keep alive and aglow this most important department of Church work.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS. We note with pleasure an increase in the number of Teachers' Meetings and Normal Classes. The exchange of ideas and methods, and the more intimate acquaintance of superintendents and teachers thus secured, tend to better qualify all the Sabbath school workers

Judging from the reports the Catechism seems to be generally taught. And so it should be. We would urge the importance of this subject upon pastors and superintendents.

We heartily approve of the earnest effort in some parts of the Church to establish a "home department" of the Sabbath school. This opens a wide field for usefulness. The Board is now prepared to furnish suitable blanks and directions for carrying on this branch of the work.

"The Loyal Sabbath school Army" plan is evidently successfully employed in certain parts of the Church. We recommend its examination.

An earnest plea comes from some presbyteries for music better adapted to the Junior Department. We are in hearty sympathy with these requests, and we promise the Church that this matter shall receive our continued and most careful consideration.

We recommend the appointment of the third Sabbath of October as a day of special prayer in all our churches for Sabbath schools; the last Sabbath of June, '96, as Missionary Day, and the 4th Sabbath of November as "Temperance Day."

While we rejoice over the renewed interest and evident improvement in the Sabbath School Department, we would by no means imagine that we have reached the ideal. Far from it. The Sabbath school is yet in its youth. Its best days are to be seen. As yet we are reaping only the first fruits. Let us each say with Paul, "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended, but this one thing I do: forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." In regard to our Sabbath school work, let us "be thus minded."

The terms of office of the following members expire this year, viz: Addison Lysle, Esq , D. S. Littell, D. D., Rev. J. A. Douthett, John D. Fraser, Esq., and S. B. Donaldson, Esq.

The following statement shows in detail our operations during the past year, and our present financial condition :

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The annual report of the Board of Education for the year ending April 30, 1895, is respectfully submitted.

I.—BENEFICIARIES.

There has been an increase of fourteen in the number of beneficiaries since our report to the last Assembly. Eighty young men have been recommended by presbyteries. Of this number, three are members of the senior class at Muskingum College; one in the senior class at Monmouth, one at Tarkio, and one at Westminster; forty-three attended the seminary at Allegheny, Pa., and thirty the seminary at Xenia, Ohio. One young man was prevented by sickness from prosecuting his studies in the seminary, and his application was withdrawn. Seventeen students were recommended for $50 each; two for $75 each; thirty for $100 each; and thirty for $125 each.

The total amount asked for the assistance of young men is $7,750.

The presbyteries making application, and the number of students receiving aid, are; College Springs, 11 students; Xenia, 9; Allegheny, 6; Butler and Monmouth, 5 each; Lake, 4; Illinois Southern, Monongahela, Muskingum, Westmoreland, and Wheeling, 3 each; Arkansas Valley, Frankfort, Garnett, Mansfield, Mercer, Ohio First, and Sidney, 2 each; Argyle, Boston, Brookville, Cedar Rapids, Chicago, Cleveland, DesMoines, Illinois Central, Indiana, Le Claire, and Steubenville, one each.

The contributions of the Church, added to the annual income of the Board, were not sufficient to meet the full amount asked by the presbyteries. In order to pay an amount equal to that given to the students on last year's appropriations, namely, 83 per cent., the Board was obliged to borrow $1,400. The amount paid to beneficiaries is $6,386, an increase over last year of $1,339.

The funds at command have not permitted the granting of aid to literary students before entering upon the studies of the senior year. Applications have been made on behalf of young men, who are still in the lower college classes, and, in some cases, these claims have been urged with commendable persistency. It is with regret that the Board has not been able to consider these requests, and has been compelled, through lack of funds, to adhere to the former method of distributing money. This must continue to be the settled policy of the Board until such time as the contributions of the Church will justify a change.

II.—SEMINARIES, COLLEGES AND ACADEMIES.

It is with gratitude to God that we record the successful work of our educational institutions during the year. This report, compared with the statement made one year ago, shows an increased attendance of 7 in the theological seminaries, 131 in the colleges, and 18 in the academies.

The Board, by direct means and through the agents appointed by the respective Synods, has made special effort to secure as large a proportion as possible of the $20,000 appropriated by the last Assembly for the aid of seminaries and colleges. The amount received, and distributed to the several institutions, in accordance with the direction of the Assembly, is $7,097.00.

In addition to this, an appropriation of $650.00 has been made from the regular funds of the Board for the aid of academies.

The distribution is as follows:

Allegheny Seminary	$1,336 00
Xenia Seminary	863 00
Cooper Memorial College	586 00
Monmouth College	1,183 00
Muskingum College	955 00
Tarkio College	943 00
Westminster College	1,231 00
Marissa Academy	150 00
Pawnee City Academy	200 00
Waitsburg Academy	300 00
	$7,747 00

There should be a most determined effort on the part of the Church to pay more than thirty-five per cent. of the money deemed necessary for the successful prosecution of her educational work. It is worthy of note, however, that the amount, contributed during the past year toward meeting the current expenses of our denominational institutions, was equal to the income of $130,000 of permanent endowment. The success of the past warrants a more faithful presentation of the claims of these institutions during the coming year.

SEMINARIES.

Allegheny, Pa.—Rev. Alexander Young, D. D., for many years a member of the faculty, and who had rendered faithful service as teacher in this, and other institutions of the Church, has been removed by death.

There are four regular professors in the faculty. During the past session the course included a series of lectures on missions by Rev. Robert Stewart, D. D., also several lectures on special subjects by persons engaged for this work.

Seventy-three students have been in attendance. First year, 29; second year, 30; third year, 14. The productive endowment is $199,000.

There is no report made of current expenses, or of receipts of money for the year.

The statement of the faculty is, "Health of students exceedingly good, not a single case of sickness during the year. Greatly pleased with the change made as to the time of opening the seminary."

Xenia, Ohio.—There are three regular professors, and one temporary. Forty-three students have been in attendance, classified as follows: First year, 21; second year, 8; third year, 14.

Permanent endowment	$85,809	68
Received during the year:
Endowment	12,848	49
Current expenses	6 266	39
Other purposes	3,930	07

The recommendation of the faculty is, "That the amount paid on the appropriation to each student be decreased in proportion to the number of his unexcused absences, and absences on account of preaching."

COLLEGES.

Cooper Memorial College.—The total enrollment of students is 174. The preparatory department numbers 91; the collegiate, 23; and other departments 60. There are two in the senior class. Eighty-four per cent. of the students are professing Christians.

Present endowment	$20,000
Received for current expenses	367

Knoxville College.—The faculty consists of 21 professors and instructors. The enrollment for the year is 315—an increase of 29 over the previous year. The preparatory department numbers 83; the collegiate, 20; and other departments, 191. There is one in the present senior class. Ninety-five per cent of the students are professing Christians. Aside from the Christian work connected directly with the college, much has been done by the students in sustaining a mission in the city.

The funds necessary to maintain the work of the college are furnished through the Board of Freedmen's Missions. In addition to money thus contributed, there has been received,

For current expenses	$2,400
Other purposes	1,376

The amount reported for current expenses has been contributed by the University of Tennessee, to support two professors, and as a remuneration for labor performed by students. Of the amount contributed for other purposes, $450 came from State scholarships, and much of the balance was given for the erection of new buildings. It will be seen that money received purposes has been donated very largely by the State, and through agencies altogether independent of the educational organizations of the Church.

Monmouth College.—The faculty consists of 13 professors. Students in attendance during the year, 261. One hundred and twelve are in the preparatory, 119 in the collegiate, and 30 in other departments. There are 30 in the senior class. Fourteen or 15 of the young men are preparing for the ministry. Ninety-five and one-half per cent. of the students are professing Christians. The Christian work of the college is well organized. Much attention is given to systematic Bible study; the prayer meetings and Christian Union services are well maintained.

Present endowment	$130,657
Received during the year:
Endowment	862
Other purposes	14,747

The faculty recommends that "the Assembly continue its appropriation through the Board of Education to the seminaries and colleges. One year is not sufficient time to test the efficiency of any such measure, and especially under such financial stringency; and yet under these conditions the contributions have been such as to warrant confidence in the future success of the plan."

Muskingum College.—There are 12 professors; total number of students, 168. The classification is as follows: Preparatory, 26; collegiate, 85: other departments 57. There are 8 in the present senior class; of this number 4 or 5 are preparing for the ministry. Ninety-eight per cent. of the students are professing Christians.

Present endowment	$36,000
Received during the year:
Endowment	375
Current expenses	5,800
Other purposes	800

The report indicates a year of prosperity in the Christian work of the college. The prayer-meetings are well attended. These are followed by one-half hour of Bible study, then special classes are organized for social study of the word.

Tarkio College.—There are 10 professors in the faculty. Total number of students, 241. Of this number 48 are in the preparatory, 79 in the collegiate, and 114 in other departments. The senior class numbers 18. Three certainly, and possibly 9, will enter the ministry. More than 82 per cent. of all the students are professing Christians.

In addition to former agencies, the Y. W. C. A. has been organized, which is doing good work in Bible study, and in stimulating to Christian work.

Present endowment	$51,000
Received during the year:
Current expenses	943
Library	10

"The faculty and Executive Committee would suggest that the appropriation made by the last General Assembly be renewed by the coming one, and that steps be taken to urge the claims of this important object upon the Church."

Westminster College.—Number of professors, 12; students, 248. There are 44 in the preparatory, 141 in the collegiate, and 63 in other departments. There are 39 in the senior class. Of this number 14 will probably enter the ministry.

Money received during the year:
Endowment	$1,000 00
Contingent	5,824 78
Other purposes	2,596 78

The report of the Christian work of the college is: "Special classes are formed by the students themselves for the study of the life of Christ, and much interest has been awakened. Every Saturday evening a missionary class meets for the study of topics concerning missions. These, with the regular meetings of the Christian associations, have contributed to the spiritual quickening of the college, so that a good healthy spiritual condition has been maintained.

ACADEMIES.

Marissa, Ill.—Illinois Southern Presbytery. Principal, H. W. Speer; assistant, Sherman Hamilton. Twenty-six students have been enrolled. The classification is as as follows: Seniors, 9; juniors, 6; freshmen, 6; irregular, 5.

There is no permanent endowment. The property, valued at $2,000, is in charge of a Board of Trustees, as required by the Assembly. The Academy has been in operation nine years. During this time many, who began their studies here, have taken the higher courses in college and seminary. Seven of the former students are at present attending our denominational colleges.

The presbytery recommended an appropriation of $200. One hundred and fifty dollars was allowed, and the money has been forwarded to the Treasurer.

Pawnee City, Neb.—Rev. R. T. Campbell, principal. There are three assistant professors. Enrollment for the year, 82. Classical, 37; scientific, 17; irregular, 28. There are eight in the graduating class. One graduate and six undergraduates are attending some one of our colleges.

The academy is chartered under the laws of the State of Nebraska; the property is secured to the United Presbyterian Church, and is in charge of a board of trustees, as required by the Assembly.

Property valuation..... .....$23,000

The academy has been in operation ten years. It is thought that after another year it will be self-sustaining. Presbytery asked for an appropriation of $300. The Board made a grant of $200.

Waitsburg, Wash.—Principal, Rev. J. A. Keener; five assistant professors, 71 students in attendance, classified as follows: Academic, 23; preparatory, 40; irregular, 3; business, 5.

Property valuation.....$6,000

The work does not demand the full time of six professors. Some of the assistants are employed as tutors, and receive instruction for the work performed.

The Synod of the Columbia recommended a grant of $400. The Board was hearty in its approval of the work being done in this home mission academy of the Church, but the funds at command would not justify an appropriation of more than $300. This amount has been forwarded to the treasurer.

III.—FINANCE.

The annual statement of the Treasurer, properly audited, is herewith submitted to the Assembly.

Fifty-eight presbyteries have contributed to the educational fund during the year.

The General Assembly of 1894 made an appropriation aggregating $32,000—$20,000 for colleges and seminaries, and $12,000 for the regular work of the Board.

The amount received is:

From Presbyteries	$10,957 83
From donations	97 50
Total contribution of the Church	$11,055 33

The recommendation of the General Assembly for contributions amounting to thirty cents per member for the educational work of the Church has been responded to as follows: One presbytery contributed one cent per member; four, two cents; two, three cents; eight, four cents; two, five cents; four, six cents; eight, seven cents; six, eight cents; one, eleven cents; seven, thirteen cents: one, fourteen cents; two, fifteen cents; three, eighteen cents; two, nineteen cents; two, twenty cents; one, twenty-two cents; one twenty-four cents; and two—Argyle and Monmouth—more than twenty-four cents per member.

The following table shows the amount contributed by the respective Synods, and the average per member:

Synod of New York	$1,410	19—	8	cents	per member.

IV.—THE BOARD.

The Board asks an appropriation for regular work, $12,000; for seminaries and colleges, $20,000.

The term of office of Revs. R. Graham, D. D., W. C. Williamson, D. D, and Mr. G. M. Evans, expires with this Assembly.

By order of the Board,

R. GRAHAM, President.
A. RENWICK, Secretary.
W. T. CAMPBELL, Cor. Sec.

Monmouth, Ill., May 15, 1895.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

In presenting the report of the Board, the most noteworthy incident which we have to record during the past twelve months, is the lamented death of Mr. James McCandless, who was treasurer of the Board from its organization in 1873 until his death, January 28, 1895. In the good providence of God, it was largely through his instrumentality and his devoted and unselfish giving continuously, both of his time and means, that the Board has been enabled to do much of what has been done for those under its care, that it has at this time an endowment fund of over $100,000 and that there is so much promise of continued blessing and usefulness in the important work with which it is entrusted. May the Church never lack such fathers and such examples for guidance and encouragement in her labors.

The accompanying financial statement shows but slight changes in the receipts and payments as compared with last year's report. The treasurer's accounts and the securities of the endowment fund have been properly audited and examined and found correct.

There are now 59 persons on the roll of beneficiaries, 21 males, 38 females. There were two deaths during the year, one application was not renewed, and seven new names were added to the roll.

The Board has continued its good record of granting every application that came before it, and in a number of cases has increased the appropriations previously made.

The receipts from presbyteries have been somewhat less than last year—three presbyteries contributed under $10 each, eight under $20, six under $30, five under $40, and seven have made no contributions.

With the increase in the number of calls and in the amounts asked for, and with the desire of the Board to meet these requests, the continued and large liberality of the whole Church is absolutely necessary. The action of some of the presbyteries as noted above indicates that some of our churches are forgetful of the existence of this Board, of its quiet and unobtrusive work and of its labors of love and mercy, and some may think that the endowment fund justifies such oversight and neglect. It will be noticed, however, by the treasurer's report that all our income from every source is now required to meet the calls for aid, and thus, for the first time in quite a number of years, there has been no appreciable increase in the permanent endowment fund. May we not look to our whole Church—being confident of the worthiness of the object—for that enlarged and generous support which will enable the Board to increase still more its usefulness to those who are now or may hereafter come under its care?

The Board asks for an appropriation of $10,000 for the coming year.

The term of office of James McCartney, James S. McCracken and James D. Ferguson expires this year.

The Board has elected James Walker as treasurer to succeed the late James McCandless.

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S BOARD.

The Board of Directors of the Women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church have the honor to present the following report of the work during the past year:

THE GENERAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Women's General Missionary Society, was held in Summit Avenue Church, Jersey City, N. J., May 14-16, 1895, with Mrs. W. W. Barr as president and Mrs. Mary W. Porter as recording secretary. The work of the past year was approved, and plans for the future were suggested. The next annual meeting will be held at Erie, Pa., May 14th, 1896, at 7.45 P. M.

THE BOARD.

The Members are Mrs. Mary B. Reid, C. Jane Vincent, M. D., Miss E J. Sloan, Mrs. N. Wylie Stevenson, Mrs. M. M. Patterson, whose term expires in 1896; Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. Mary Clokey Porter, Mrs. Annie R. Herron, Mrs. W. H. McMillan, Mrs. Jennie S. Stevenson, whose term expires in 1897; Mrs. James A. Grier, Mrs. Mary W. Porter, Miss Elizabeth D. Brown, Mrs. E J. McPherson, Mrs. G. W. McDonald, whose term expires in 1898.

The Officers are Mrs. Annie R. Herron, president; Mrs. Mary W. Porter, recording secretary; Miss E. J. Sloan, treasurer.

FOREIGN WORK.

The past year, which has been crowned with many mercies, has not been without its trials and discouragements, both in the home and foreign fields, but the work has gone steadily on. We are sure the Father's eye has rested lovingly upon all those who, by strict economy and self denial, have kept good their pledges for the carrying on of his work.

Financial Statement.—The total amount of money contributed by missionary societies for foreign work during the past year, was $20,794.35. This includes the thank offering and the small sum of $376.41, which the Board of Foreign Missions kindly credited to its account with your board, it having been received direct from a few missionary societies, and it has been reckoned in with our disbursements. Balance from previous year $10,330.16. Entire resources for foreign work $31,124.51.

Disbursements have been made as follows:

Salaries of Missionary women	$ 9,600 00
Schools in Egypt	563 50
Schools in India	806 21
Zenana Work, Egypt	296 41
Zenana Work, India	1,227 00
Zafarwal and other native churches	276 41
Outfit of new missionaries	300 00
Traveling expenses of missionaries	1,901 76
Medical work	2,121 69
Miscellaneous specials	102 08
Work among Syrians	657 00
Balance	13,272 45
	$31,272 51

New Missionaries.—Four new missionary women were sent out last year, Miss Minnehaha Finney, Miss Mamie Spencer, Miss Edith M. Fulton and Dr. Mary A. Platter. The first named was assigned to Egypt, the other three to India. Report comes that all are making a good record for themselves.

Work of the past year.—The salaries of eighteen of the missionary women have been paid; the school and Zenana work has also received liberal support. The medical work in India, which consists of one hospital already established and one in process of building, also three dispensaries, has been carried on with much success.

Work for the coming year.—In answer to earnest appeals four new missionary women will be sent out this year. Two have been already appointed, Miss Adele McMillan and Miss Jennie Morrison; others are under consideration. The medical work in Egypt, under the auspices of the Board of Foreign Missions, will be transferred to the Women's Board for future support.

HOME WORK.

As we look over the records of work for the year, our hearts go out in gratitude to our Father, and we write as the key-note of our report, "Ebenezer: Hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

Indian Work.—At the Agency, Rev. Joseph Alter in charge, 8 members have been received into the church, and 2 restored who had been under suspension; baptisms, 5 adults and 7 infants; deaths, 4; present membership, 120. The old people's class in the Sabbath school numbers 60. Cottage prayer-meetings have good attendance. A Women's Christian Temperance Union has been organized; it is the first society of its kind among the Indians of Oregon. Contributions, $20, have been given to the Boards of the Church.

At Simnasho the work is encouraging, Rev. J. A. Speer having it in charge. The Lord's supper has been observed three times. There has been but one accession to the membership by certificate, and one infant baptism.

Home Missionary Women.—Eight missionary women have been supported during the year: Miss Lyda McCool, at the Liberty Mission, Topeka, Kan.; Miss Helen Currie, at San Francisco, California; Mrs. Maria G. Gaston, at Tacoma, Washington; Miss Minnie H. Speer, at Ravenswood, Ill.; Miss Kate Corbett, at Altoona, Pa.; Mrs. Jennie C. Nichol, at Seattle, Washington; Miss E. H. Black, at Simnasho, and Miss Rhoda Hail, at Warm Springs Agency, Oregon.

Financial Statement.—Receipts, $10,521.63. Disbursements, $9,147.90.

MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

Receipts, $330. Expenditures, $152.

FREEDMEN'S WORK.

It has been thoroughly and systematically carried on, the monthly reports showing encouraging progress and increasing interest. Eleven industrial teachers have been supported. At Knoxville, Tenn., 13 girls have been supported in the Little Girls' Home, the dormitories of the new college buildings were finished at a cost of $2,050, and a parsonage built at Miller's Ferry, Alabama, costing $860.

Work for the coming year.—A school building is to be erected at Prairie Bluff, costing about $1,286, which is to be a memorial to Mrs. Jennie H. Gillespie, the loved junior secretary so suddenly called "home." A mission home is also to be erected at this place at a cost of $700. The request for two additional industrial teachers has been granted, making us responsible for thirteen salaries.

Financial Statement.—Balance, $3,716.83. Receipts, $7,683.78. Total, $11,400.61. Disbursed, $9,884.27.

CHURCH EXTENSION AND PARSONAGE WORK.

Aid to the amount of $10,450 has been given to seven congregations. The property owned in Alliance, Nebraska, has been sold to the congregation of that place for a parsonage, the trustees giving a mortgage and notes for ten years. Three congregations, pleading hard times, are behind in their paymants, causing an indebtedness to the Board of $1,020.53. The loans now number sixteen.

Financial Statement.—Receipts, $7,582.56. Disbursements, $6,919.46.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

It is three years since the present plan for organization of Junior Missionary Societies was adopted. Number of societies reported, 197; number of new societies, 29; number of members, 4,498; new members, 898; number in Little Lightbearers' Division, 385; honorary members, 229; Young Women's Division, 62; contributions, $3,803.61.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT.

More leaflets have been purchased and distributed this year than any preceding one, and the account is closed with a small balance in the treasury. The leaflets are carefully selected, and ought to be helpful to missionary societies in many ways. Receipts, $172.25. Expenditures, $133.26.

THANKOFFERING.

The committee on work connected with the thankoffering report: Cr By cash paid for 4,000 boxes and sundry items, $100.82. Dr. To cash from sale, $11.02.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

Our work is the making and presenting of the composite photograph of the subjects furnished by the clerks and secretaries. Some of these were nice, rosy cheeked specimens; others were badly distorted, and even lacking some very essential features; eyes turned in and eyes turned out, some sadly down in the mouth, and varying in color from a rosy red to an indigo blue. The prevailing type is now submitted.

NARRATIVE.

Synods.—There are 12 synods, the same as last year.

Presbyteries.—There are 64 presbyteries, the same as last year, 60 of which are in America.

Congregations.—There are 938 congregations, a decrease of one. Forty-five of these are in foreign fields, an increase of two. Pastoral charges 783, an increase of seven; 40 of these are in the foreign field. There are 667 congregations with pastors or stated supplies, a decrease of one; 271 are vacant, the same as last year. Fourteen congregations have been organized, against 21 last year; 5 have been dissolved, against 13 last year. There are 329 mission stations, against 148 by last report, but only 21 new stations have been organized, an increase of 11 over last year. The discrepancy is accounted for by the fact that the synod of the Punjab did not report in 1894.There have been erected 25 houses of worship, 13 less than last year, costing $423,075 or $20,610 more than the 38 cost in 1894. And since the price of building material and labor is lower, the inference is plain that our people are becoming willng to erect and dedicate to God a house more nearly corresponding with the comfortable and elegant homes of these times. The average cost of these houses was $16,923 against $10,590 in 1894. Fifty-two congregations have no house of worship, 2 less than last year. Sixteen parsonages have been erected, 5 less than last year, costing $27,945 or an average cost of $1,747, against $39,600 and an average cost of $1,886 in 1894.

Membership.—The total membership is 117,236, a net increase of 1,964. 8,893 have been received on profession, 644 more than in 1894. 5,744 have been received on certificate, 426 less than last year. Reports were not full, but from those received we discover that we have received more from other denominations than we have given to them. There have been 5,194 more removals than certificates received. Many of these must belong to that class whose names have been "removed from the roll because they were no longer regarded as members." It is a sad thought that we have allowed so many of our members to fall from grace. There were 1,835 deaths, 10,838 removals. There are 107,375 members in America, an increase of 3,317. There have been 1,936 adult baptisms; in the Synod of New York, 314; Pittsburgh, 240; First of the West, 229; Ohio, 144; Second,199; Illinois, 272; Iowa, 216; Kansas,79; Nebraska, 118; California, 55; Columbia, 80.

Sabbath Schools.—There are 1,086 schools open the whole year, a decrease of 10; 34 schools were open a part of the year, an increase of 16; total number of schools 1,120, an increase of 6; number of scholars, 102,544, a decrease of 383; there are 11,644 officers and teachers, a decrease of 5. The membership of our Sabbath schools is 4,692 less than the membership of the Church. This is partially accounted for by the fact that persons are received into the Church at an earlier age now than formerly. One presbytery reports that very few over ten years of age are now out of the Church, but the fact remains that many thousand of our members are in no way connected with the Sabbath school, the Synods of Illinois, Kansas, California, and Columbia alone reporting a membership in the Sabbath school a little in excess of the membership of their congregations. The contributions of the Sabbath schools were $79,343, an increase of $93.

The Missionary Societies have grown from 853 in 1894 to 876.

Young People's Societies.—There are 770, with a membership of 53,535, an increase of 60 societies and 2,711 members. This includes the junior societies.

Contributions.—(Including contributions of Sabbath schools and missionary societies). For salaries of ministers, $572,085, an increase of $2,999; for congregational purposes, $420,428, $77,677 less than last year; for the boards of the Church, $245,395, an increase of $3,607, but it should be remembered that there was a decrease of $59,039 in 1894 over 1893. For general purposes, $120,151 have been contributed, an increase of $23,065; and during this year of prolonged droughts in parts of our country, and great business depression in all of our country, many thousands of dollars were contributed by members of the Church for the relief of the needy, of which the Church militant has no record. The salary of pastors run from $783 in the Synod of Kansas to $1,221 in the Synod of New York, with an average for the Church of $1,031. Total contributions $1,369,822, a decrease of $136,242; of this $7,769 was contributed by the foreign field. Average per member $12.96, a decrease of $3.72, but still higher than in 1891 and 1892, when in the midst of prosperous times. The largest number of congregations contributing to any one fund is 759, a decrease of 10; 385 contributed to all the funds, a decrease of 34; 30 congregations, a decrease of 20, had breath enough left to tell us that they did not contribute to any of the funds, while 47, with a membership of 2,396, have been knocked speechless, presumably by the business depression.

The Ministry.—There are 583 pastors and stated supplies, an increase of 7; without charge 274, an increase of 17; 12 have died during the year; 2 were received, 4 dismissed, 1 suspended, 42 ordained; 36 students have been licensed. To meet the demands of the growing Church there are now in our seminaries 171 licensed and unlicensed students, a larger number than at any former time; 115 of these are in the two seminaries. These come from the homes of farmers 71; ministers 24; mechanics 6; merchants 5; editors 2; manufacturers 2; physicians 2; dairyman 1; lumberman 1; cabinet maker 1. Showing that, while the drought may have been too great to allow raising a crop of hay, it was not so great as to prevent a good crop of candidates for the ministry. If these should prove a little dry in their future ministry, it must be attributed to the season and not to their fathers or professors. And again, since the ministry, constituting less than one per cent. of the membership of the Church, has been contributing 20 per cent. of her ministers, it would look as though the sons of United Presbyterian ministers were a rare exception to the popular belief that the sons of ministers turn out worse than other people's boys, or else this belief is a base slander on the sons of the ministry. Twelve ministers, whose names have long been familiar to us, have finished their work on earth. These are:—

John Brown Borland, D. D., age 51; Butler Presbytery; son of John and Mary Ann (Brown) Borland; was born Jan. 22, 1843, near Bridgeville, Allegheny co., Pa.; professed faith in St. Clair congregation, Allegheny co., Pa.; was graduated at Westminster in 1864, and studied theology at Allegheny; was licensed March 27, 1867, by Monongahela Presbytery, and ordained Sept. 12, 1871, by Steubenville; was pastor of Richmond and Knoxville, Ohio, April 1, 1871, to Oct. 1888; of White Oak and Mt. Chestnut, Pa., July 1, 1889, until the time of his death. The title of D. D. was conferred by Richmond College in 1889. He was married to Elizabeth Margaret Stevenson, of Bolivar, Ohio. He had a son and daughter, the daughter and wife survive him; died at Buttercup, Butler co., Pa., May 4, 1894, of heart failure, brought on by rheumatism.

James Armstrong Clark, age 65; Butler Presbytery; son of William and Jean (Armstrong) Clark; was born Dec. 4, 1831, at High Chester Mills, near Hawick, Scotland; professed faith in the Free Church of Scotland, Roberton parish, at the age of 15; was educated at the Free Church Normal College, Edinburgh, and at Franklin College, Ohio, leaving there in 1855; studied theology at Allegheny, graduating in 1858; was licensed April 15, 1857, by Monongahela Presbytery, and ordained April 12, 1859, by Butler; was installed at the time of his ordination over the united charge of Prospect and Mt. Chestnut. He served this charge until Feb. 2, 1876, when he was released from Mt. Chestnut, and on May 5 was installed pastor at Porterville, Pa., resigning in 1888 to give this half of his time to West Liberty, Pa. He was pastor of Prospect and West Liberty at the time of his death. For one year after coming to this country he taught a commercial school in Philadelphia; was married April 24, 1854, to Margaret Scott, of Scotland, and Nov. 1, 1884, to Mrs. Frances N. Wilson, of Zelienople, Pa. His wife and six of his seven sons and two of his three daughters survive him; died at Prospect, Pa., of acute dysentery, July 26, 1894.

Harvey Thompson Ferguson, age 48; Rock Island Presbytery; son of John Pollock and Jane (Day) Ferguson; was born near Mansfield, Ohio, Aug. 24, 1846; made profession of faith in the Ontario, Ohio, congregation, Sept. 29, 1866; was graduated at Ohio Central College in 1871, and at Xenia Seminary in 1874; was licensed June 23, 1874, by the Presbytery of Mansfield, and ordained June 23, 1875, by the Presbytery of Keokuk, and installed pastor of the united charge of Living Lake and Grand Prairie, where he continued pastor until April 24, 1882; pastor of Sunny Dale, Kansas, May 19, 1884-Sept. 28, 1887; Sunbeam, Ill., March 18, 1890, until his death; was stated clerk of Rock Island Presbytery 1890-1894; was married Nov. 10, 1875, to Prudence McKinley, of near Mansfield, and on April 21, 1891, to Mina McClymonds, of Monmouth, Ill. He is survived by his wife and daughter and three of his five sons. He was killed by lightning, June 21, 1894, at his home in Sunbeam, Ill.

Y., who, with one son and two daughters, survives him. He died at Cuylerville, N. Y., May 14, 1894, of Bright's disease.

James Rogers, age 87; Cedar Rapids Presbytery; son of M. J. and Sarah (Hammond) Rogers; was born in County Monaghan, Ireland, Feb. 22, 1808, and early in life made a profession of faith in the congregation of New Bliss; was educated at Belfast, Ireland, and there studied theology; was licensed, June 1 1830, by the Presbytery of Monaghan, Ireland, and ordained July 12, 1832, by the Presbytery of York, United Presbyterian Church of Canada; was pastor of Demorestville, Prince Edward co., Can., for twenty-one years. He was received, Oct. 21, 1859, by the Presbytery of Xenia, and appointed S. S. at Canonsburg and Leipsic, Hancock co., Ohio., in 1863, and was pastor of these congregations, Oct. 1864-1868; S. S. at Vandalia, Owen co., Ind., 1869-1870; S. S. at Eden Prairie and Glendale, Scott co., Minn., and served these congregations as pastor, July 16, 1872-Oct. 1, 1875; S. S. at Caledonia, Wabasha co., Minn., 1876-1878. He sustained a severe fall, which crippled him for life and laid him aside from the active ministry. He was married, in 1831, to Catherine Howell, of Demorestville, Can. His wife and two sons are dead; his five daughters survive him. He died without charge, at Hastings, Minn., Dec. 15, 1894, of old age.

James Shearer, age 77; Des Moines Presbytery; son of John and Ann (Alexander) Shearer; was born in County Antrim, Ireland, Oct. 10, 1818; came to Crawford co., Pa., in 1829, where he united with the church under the ministry of Rev. Daniel McLean, in Shenango, Pa.; was graduated at Franklin College in 1853, and studied theology at Canonsburg, finishing his course in 1855; was licensed by Chartiers Presbytery, June 19, of the same year; was ordained by the Associate Presbytery of Indiana, at Canonsburg, Pa., Oct. 13, 1858, not having seen his way clear to come into the union at this time; was installed pastor of the Associate congregation of Carmel, Ind., Nov. 11, 1861; was pastor of Pleasant Divide, 1864, and Columbus City, Iowa, 1870. In 1871 he connected himself with Keokuk Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church. He then removed to Oscaloosa, Iowa, and was S. S. of the congregation of Pleasant Grove, 1874-1876; moved to Albia, Iowa, in 1886, where he resided at the time of his death without charge. He was united in marriage to Mary G. Bean, of West Greenville, Pa., Oct. 22, 1846, seven years before his graduation from college. His wife and two sons and three daughters survive him. Died on Jan. 20, 1895, of heart failure and general debility.

Oliver Washer, age 59; New York Presbytery; son of Oliver and Hannah (Briggs) Washer; was born, May 24, 1836, at Horsham, Sussex co., England; connected with the Presbyterian Church, England, early in life; was graduated from St. John's College, Oxford, England, date of graduation unknown. The theological seminary at which he studied is unknown; was licensed and ordained in Sterlingshire by the U. P. Church of Scotland. Place of settlements, Sterlingshire, Scotland; Liverpool, England, and Castle Pollard, Ireland. His wife and their one son and two daughters survive him. He died without charge in Jersey City, N. J., March 30, 1895, of rheumatism.

Alexander Young, D. D., LL. D., age 79; Westmoreland Presbytery; son of Alexander and Elizabeth (Smith) Young; was born in Glasgow, Scotland, June 4, 1815; made a profession of faith under the ministry of Dr. J. T. Pressly, in the First A. R. congregation, Allegheny; was graduated from the Western University of Pennsylvania in 1838, and studied theology at Allegheny; was licensed, April 13, 1841, by Monongahela Presbytery, and ordained, June 23, 1842, by Steubenville; pastor of St. Clairsville, Ohio, June, 1842-Sept. 1858. First church, Monmouth, Ill., co-pastor with Dr. D. A. Wallace, 1859-1860; sole pastor until June 1863; co-pastor of the Second church, Monmouth, with Dr. D. A. Wallace, June 1863-Oct. 1866; sole pastor until July 1871; S. S. at Logans Ferry, Westmoreland Presbytery, Sept. 1874-June 1890. He also supplied the church of Oxford, Ohio, during Seminary sessions; professor in the Theological Seminary at Oxford, Ohio, Dec. 1, 1855-March, 1858; in the Theological Seminary, Monmouth, Sept. 1858-Sept. 1874; in Monmouth College, professor of Greek and Hebrew, 1858-1864; of Evidences of Christianity, 1864-1876; in Allegheny Theological Seminary, 1876-1890; moderator of the General Assembly in 1863; delegate to the Pan-Presbyterian Council in 1884. Publications: An Address Before Franklin College in 1854; A Paper on the Massacre of St. Bartholomew, prepared by the direction of the General Assembly, and read before it in 1872; was a frequent contributor to periodicals and reviews; paper before the Pan-Presbyterian Council, 1884; sermons published at different times. The degree of D. D. was conferred by Jefferson College in 1858, and LL. D. by Washington and Jefferson College in 1872. He was married, Nov. 26, 1840, to Lucy Jane Bennett, of Blairsville, Pa. She, with one of the two sons and their only daughter, survives him. He died without charge in Lordsburg, California, Dec. 5, 1894, of strangulated hernia.

STATE OF RELIGION.

The general work, as shown in the narrative and comparisons, reveals something of the state of religion in the Church, but for the true and full state of religion our information must be gleaned from the reports of sessions; and in the effort the deplorable truth was revealed that many sessions do not know the true state of religion in their congregations, as the questions of the committee were in many cases answered by "don't know." And some of the clerks of presbyteries seem to be under the impression that the committee's work is the gathering of statistics, and even want blanks furnished for this purpose, and the questions that are designed to draw out the true state of religion in the Church are wholly ignored. But, on the other hand, many of our sessions and many of the clerks of presbyteries underdstand fully the design of this report, and from these, as well as from brethren, many of them laymen, who were asked to give their impressions as to the state of religion in their respective parts of the Church we are indebted for the following:

General.—The year has been one of general prosperity and much blessing, perhaps no one feature distinguishing it from other years. The financial condition of the country somewhat crippled the work, and caused great inconvenience to those servants of God who are dependent on the home mission board for their support. But while the contributions do not equal those of the last few years in their average per member, yet we believe they represent a far greater sacrifice on the part of our people, many of whom, last year drawing upon a surplus which has been exhausted, this year contributed from the depths of their poverty. The central and western portions of the Church have been growing nicely. The Church on the Pacific coast has been doing admirably the work it was sent to do, and has been meeting with greater encouragements and fewer discouragements than some of the other denominations; while the Church in the East has unusually bright prospects before it. Some of the stronger denominations have been losing ground in the East, and Presbyterianism has been pushing to the front. A wonderful change has taken place in the New England States, heretofore regarded as rather hopeless territory for our Church, but now, through a large immigration from Canada and Nova Scotia, of people who are somewhat favorably inclined toward our principles and practices, the prospects are most encouraging; and our prospects in the large cities of New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, and Baltimore are brighter than at any former time, and this staid old Synod of New York is even going to employ an evangelist.

Home Life.—As already intimated, sessions have not inquired, as they should, as to the observance of family worship. One clerk feels that they fear to make this inquiry, and in many instances it seems to be but a mere guess, but enough definite information has been elicited to lead to the conclusion that family worship can hardly be considered general, and that there is much need for improvement. Perhaps, too, family worship as ordinarily conducted is a little too formal to be fully appreciated. The too often stereotyped prayer of the leader needs to be recast each morning and evening, and to this an earnest sentence of prayer on the part of each member of the household would be helpful. Perhaps the introduction of some such feature would lead to the establishment of this institution of the Church in homes where it now has no place on account of the timidity of the head of the house. But while family worship is not general and far from universal, yet it is becoming more general; and this is very largely due to the special services held in our congregations, the establishment of the family altar, in many cases, growing out of these services and dating from them. The church paper has very much to do with the home life of the people, and there is cause for regret that so many homes are without it. But in this connection we ought to express our gratitude to the Board of Publication and to Dr. R. J. Miller, for publishing so excellent a paper as the Christian Union Herald, at a price that enables the Young People's Societies to take it in quantities, thus reaching fully 20,000 homes, many of these without any church paper, and instead of cutting down the circulation of our excellent church papers, it is fostering a taste for denominational news, and opening the way for their wider circulation.

Church Life.—Since the Lord loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob, we should lay special stress on the church life of the Christian. We are happy to report that an increased attendance is everywhere noted. The interest in the service is greater, and there seems to be little tendency to secularize the service with the mistaken idea of popularizing it, but to depend upon the Church's own unique attraction. Our pastors preach to more than 117,000 persons every Sabbath. The attendance at the mid-week prayer meeting varies in the different congregations from one-third to one-tenth of the membership, and while some report too much formality in the services and too strong an attachment to the old way of conducting them—which was largely a spiritual non-conductor—yet there is improvement here, and consequently greater interest and larger attendance. Many of the features of the young people's prayer meetings have been introduced, the young people themselves taking part in the service, and thus stirring older ones up until it has more largely become a people's prayer meeting instead of a mid-week sermon.

Development of the Young.—Our Sabbath schools, Young People's Societies, and Junior Societies are doing a grand work. The Church is now better organized for individual work than ever before. We seem to be a little slow in the organization of junior societies, but they are now multiplying rapidly, and their members becoming Aarons and Hurs in prayer and song. The Young People's Societies have been conducive, among other things, to a deepening of spirituality in the congregations. Each year shows a steady growth in spirituality. We may look for the future Church to be not only more active and aggressive, but also more spiritual. They are a power for Christ even now, doing much practical work. Their consecrated energy and ability are felt in the session, the trustees, the women's missionary society, the Sabbath school, as superintendents and teachers, leading to a more systematic study of the Bible, and ever ready to do whatever work has been assigned them, veritable Bezeleels and Aholiabs.

Financial Depression.—That the depression in business, the closing of the mills and factories, and stopping of building enterprises, etc., thus cutting off the souce of income of nearly all classes, has crippled the work of the Church, can not be denied; but that it has been spiritually helpful seems to be generally conceded. With but few exceptions, this was the emphatic testimony. And we have peen taught not to depend upon what this world offers, and have been brought to see the vanity of setting our hearts on earthly possessions. A spirit of sacrifice has also been developed, that cannot but be helpful to the individual now, and be of great benefit to the Church in the future. Perhaps for the first time in the lives of many individuals, they have given until they really felt it. And our people have been keeping up their church dues in comparison with other years, better than they have been meeting other obligations, such as taxes, interest, maturing debts, etc. Systematic beneficence is growing. There is a rapidly increasing number of members, who tithe their income. The faithful work of pastors is seen here, and with rare exceptions the pastors are all tithe payers. This perhaps could not be said of any other denomination.

Special Services.—There is a growing recognition of the importance of these special services in our congregations, and that to the social, didactic and sacramental services of our churches, there must be added a special service, in which the prayers and songs and sermons and energies of all be turned in one direction, and focused on one point—the securing of an immediate decision for Christ. Wherever these services have been held, good results have followed, not only in adding to the Church such as are saved, but in rousing the Church to a sense of duty and to a greater enjoyment of blessings.

Foreign Work.—From the reports that have already reached you, we can see very marked evidences of the Spirit's presence and blessing upon this important department of the Church's work. A wonderful growth of grace has been wrought in the hearts of the people and pastors, and their contributions, considering their poverty, are astonishing.

Needs.—1. "More written in our church papers showing the workings of the tithe, not arguments for; nearly all Christians believe that at least one-tenth is demanded; but showing how to practice it; more personal experience."

2. "Less talk about the quota and more about the tithe, there is a tendency to prune the rolls, cutting off those who are unable to pay the assessment and even to dissuade such from connecting with the Church because they cost more than they are worth to the congregation."

3. "A new anthem book is greatly needed. Many of our congregations have sung our present one through and through, and not wanting to be disloyal to the Church must sing it through again. This book has done much to make the songs of Zion loved, but we need another."

4. "The envelope system pressed into more general use. No trouble to raise funds in the congregations using this system."

Lessons.—1. Where the prayer meetings are well attended and proportionate givers are numerous, the financial depression has not hurt the work of the Church.

2. The most discouraging reports come from congregations where tithe payers are few, family worship not general, and attendance at prayer meeting slim.

3. The United Presbyteritn ministry is not tongue-tied on any reform. We believe the year has been one of growth in grace. We feel greatly encouraged and cannot say that the former days were better than these. but we would rather forget the things which are behind and reach out unto those things which are before.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. SCOULLER,
Chairman.

GREENVILLE, PA.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS.

Your Committee would report that one of its members attended the Convention of the Young People's Christian Union, in Philadelphia, early last July, and presented briefly plans of financial work, that at that convention they exhibited on the walls and galleries large charts, one showing how many congregations had contributed all that was asked of them for the current work of the Church, and how many had fallen short; another the growth in the grace of giving from 1888 to 1894; and a third one showing how easily the whole amount could be raised. They also distributed at this convention some 5,000 circulars, a copy of which is attached to this report, and over 1,000 sample copies of cards and envelopes for raising church funds. The convention apparently was much interested in the subject, and the young people went home, resolved to assist their congregations to the extent of their ability in raising the amount asked for. These large charts were afterwards used with good effect at the First Synod of the West, at its meeting at Conneaut, the Second Synod at its meeting in Xenia, Ohio, at a Young People's Convention in Cleveland Presbytery, and one in Detroit Presbytery. A member of your Committee by invitation presented financial plans, etc., to the First Synod of the West, and another member talked of ways and means to the Synod of Illinois.

Owing to a very severe illness, the chairman of your Committee was confined to his home for over thirteen weeks, and was unfit for active work from the latter part of September until March, just the time when much of the Committee's work has formerly been done; hence your committee must with sincere regret confess that the plans, made early in the season, were not carried out, and they have accomplished less this year than they had hoped for.

The figures as made up for the Minutes this year, and upon which we must depend for our facts, do not include the contributions of Colorado Presbytery. Estimating their contributions as $20,000 would make the total contributions of the Church in America $1,378,059, being $115,413 less than last year. The average per member upon this basis would be $13.15, or $1.53 less than last year. While this is to be deeply regretted, yet when we remember the wonderful shrinkage of income experienced by nearly every one, specially among farmers and wage earners, we feel that we have much to be thankful for.

We would call special attention to one fact, which a study of the "General Statement" of the Minutes will show, viz.: That while the total contributions are less than last year, congregations have not economized by withholding from there own pastors nor from the Boards of the Church. The average salaries of pastors have increased from $1,020 to $1,031, a gain of $11.00, and the contributions to the Boards have increased from $241,787 to $245,395, a gain of $3,608. Also that $423,075 have been expended in new church buildings this year, or $20,610 more than last year. Last year 54 organized congregations did not own a church home; to-day but 52 are so unfortunate. The "financial stringency" shows itself in the next two items. Last year the largest number of congregations contributing to any one fund was 769. This year it drops to 759. Last year 419 congregations contributed to all the funds. This year only 385 do so. But general increased interest in the work of the Church is shown by the fact that, while last year there were 50 congregations that did not contribute to any of the funds, there are only 30 this year.

We think these figures show that our people are being educated to know of and take an interest in the regular work of the Church, as represented by the Boards; also that they are having a clearer understanding of God's claim upon their means. We believe that this interest is due to a number of causes; the influence of the pastors, the discussion in the church courts and church papers, and very largely to the work of the Young People and Women's Societies.

The experience of the past year more than ever persuades your Committee of the need of a Financial Secretary to give his whole time to the work. In accordance with the instructions of the Assembly of 1893, we would nominate for the position of Financial Secretary, Rev. W. R. Wilson, of Mercer, Pa. The term of office, duties, and compensation were fixed by the Assembly of 1892.

The three members from Pittsburgh and Allegheny, who have been longest on the Committee, feel that they have not been able to give that time to the work that its importance demands, and from the pressure of their own private business cannot do so in the future; hence they ask that other names be substituted for theirs on next year's Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

In the name of the King and Head of the Church, whose we are and whom we serve, to the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, by whose authority and under whose appointment we have carried on the work committed to our care, your Committee on Young People's work would submit their report. We shall endeavor to report only such things as are of general interest, such things as show the status of the work.

The present arrangement of denominational oversight through a committee, always changing, yet carrying with it the counsels and experiences of those to whom the work has been committed from the beginning, is, in our judgment, the best for the present needs of the work. Under this arrangement, societies are multiplying, the membership increasing, and the work in general moving forward successfully. It would not be expected, therefore, that in this, the sixth year of this arrangement, the Committee would depart from a course which experience had proved profitable. Our efforts have been directed toward energizing the work through the present organization. Conferences on young people's work were held in most, if not all, of the Synods, and reports from 58 of the 60 presbyteries show that 55 presbyterial conventions were held last year. Concerning these presbyterial conventions, the almost universal testimony was, "Excellent; a deep spiritual interest"; and one report stated that at their convention 200 delegates were present, ten of whom pledged themselves to work in the foreign field, the Lord willing.

STATISTICAL REPORT.

The statistics gathered by the Committee, while the most complete of any year, are not so full as we had hoped they would be. Blanks were sent to all the presbyterial secretaries, and to clerks of presbyteries where no secretary had been elected, and by them distributed to every congregation in the Church. Reports have been received from only 630 congregations, representing 58 presbyteries. One hundred and forty societies either failed to report, or their report did not reach the presbyterial secretary in time to be included in the report to the General Committee. To give the full number of the societies and membership, we are compelled to use in part the statistics gathered by the second clerk of the General Assembly. The following table will show the number of societies and membership since 1892:

	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.
Societies	589	664	710	776
Membership 23994		28092	30824	33746

CONTRIBUTIONS.

The contributions, as reported to the General Committee, amount to $32,180. This is an increase of $5,308 over the contributions reported last year. This is not a full report of the money raised by the societies, as a number of those reporting membership failed to report contributions, and 140 societies failed to make any report to the General Committee.

The reports show the money raised to have been used as follows:

For the Boards.....	$ 7,630
Expenses of societies.....	9,179
Other purposes.....	15,371

Owing to a misunderstanding of the blanks sent out, the reports as to the manner of raising the money are incomplete. The amounts returned are as follows:

By collection,.....	$7,828
" subscription	2,938
" entertainments	6,433

The full reports would possibly not vary the porportionate amount raised by each method.

A new feature in the work of the year was the setting apart by the Committee of a week to be observed as self-denial week, the proceeds of which should be devoted to the mission work of the Church. While there was not the response hoped for, the Boards of the Church received, as a result of the self-denial, more than $2,300. As an experiment it has not been satisfactory.

JUNIOR WORK.

We desire to call special attention to the Junior work. There has been such an interest manifested in this work that, at the Institute held in Philadelphia, provision was made to further the work, and Rev. W. I. Wishart, of Allegheny, was appointed Junior Secretary for the year. He has, through visiting conventions, by correspondence, and through the columns of the "Christian Union Herald," kept the work before the Church. It is therefore, with pleasure that we report, from 58 presbyteries, 211 societies, having a membership of 7,612, and contributions amounting to $2,755. The growth in four years is shown by the following table:

	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.
Junior Societies.....	35	47	125	211
Membership	795	1,706	4,003	7,612

PRAYER MEETING TOPICS.

There seems to be general satisfaction with the present arrangement of topics for both Senior and Junior meetings. The committee, therefore, deemed it unwise to make any changes, either in the arrangement of topics, or in the preparation of the helps.

ENCOURAGEMENTS AND DISCOURAGEMENTS.

The conditions prevailing during the year have not been so different from former years as to require new terms to describe either the encouragements or discouragements. It is significant that in no case has fault been found with the pastors or sessions because of lack of interest or encouragement, but, on the contrary, some societies have asked the General Committee to send them a pastor.

It is certainly a matter of congratulation that 2,143 persons have been gathered into the Church from the Young People's Societies during the year.

There is still difficulty in securing attendance at business meetings, in some cases at the prayer-meetings, and the old cry is heard, "Our young men will not take part." We trust this latter discouragement will be overcome when our present Juniors become Seniors, for in them we think we have the bridge that spans the gulf between, "What I know I ought to do," and "How to do what I know I ought."

INSTITUTE.

One Institute has been held since our last report to you, that in Philadelphia, July 5-8, 1894. The attendance was interfered with by the railroad strike, which occurred at that time, but the interest was not diminished, and the Institute ranked with any previously held. There was no action taken by the Institute requiring action by the General Assembly.

While the time of holding the Institute was an improvement over the date at which previous Institutes were held, your committee, at the earnest solicitation of presbyterial conventions and individuals, resolved on a further change, and selected Aug. 21-25, as the date for the next Institute. The place selected is Columbus, Ohio. A program is being prepared and arrangements made, which, in the judgment of the Committee, will secure a larger attendance and unify the efforts of the young people along practical lines of service.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON A THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The committee appointed by the last General Assembly to prepare a Thanksgiving proclamation and publish it in the papers of the Church, would report that they performed the duty assigned them. The proclamation is as follows:

By the good hand of our God upon us, we are brought to another Thanksgiving season. There is much in our country that calls for humiliation and fasting rather than for thanksgiving and feasting. While this should not be lost sight of, the great purpose of the occasion is thanksgiving.

Nor are the reasons few which should stir up "young men and maidens, old men and children," to give high praises to Jehovah. Temporal mercies have been many as the moments of the year. He has given us life and breath and all things richly to enjoy. There has been no breaking in nor going out. We have been saved from the pestilence that walketh in darkness, and the destruction that wasteth at noonday. Widespread financial depression has not been permitted to grow into a panic, nor serious social disturbances into a revolution Amid frequent exposures of social and political corruption, there have been cheering indications of a growing moral sense, and of a widespread uprising against vice and crime. Let us recall the past with gratitude while we seek for a continuance of his mercies and a bountiful bestowal of his grace for the year to come.

Above all else, we should thank God for his unspeakable gift, the Son of his love, the bread and water of life.

During the coming winter many worthy persons will be in want. Let thanks for our competence take practical shape by providing for their lack. Let us hear our Lord saying: "Is not this the thanksgiving that I have chosen? that thou deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?"

Therefore, by direction of the Thirty-sixth General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, we, its officers, do designate Thursday, the 29th day of November, 1894, for a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God, through Jesus Christ our Lord, for all his benefits so liberally and unmeritedly bestowed during the past year; and we call upon our people to lay aside their ordinary pursuits, and gather together, so far as may be possible, in their places of public worship, and with thanksgiving and the voice of melody praise and bless the Father of mercies and God of all grace for his goodness and his wonderful works to the children of men. "Let us enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; let us be thankful unto him, and bless his name"

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CONTINUOUS MEMBERSHIP IN THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF HOME MISSIONS.

Reference to the action of the General Assembly, under which this Committee was appointed, makes it evident that, while a broader range might be taken, the report was expected to deal mainly with the question of "Securing, if possible, some degree of continuity in the membership of the General Committee." In view of a closely connected part of the same action, namely, the seventh resolution, Minutes 1894, page 481, we think it best to confine our attention to the one point specially indicated.

Members of the General Committee, with few exceptions, are also Commissioners to the General Assembly of the same year, and chiefly for this reason are changed every year. Seldom is any one a delegate twice in succession. At each meeting a considerable number are members for the first time, and nearly all the others re-appear after an interval of years. This entire want of continuity in membership has one great advantage. The largest possible number of ministers are brought into direct connection with the practical working of the home mission system. But it necessarily involves, on the other hand, some disadvantages which impair the efficiency of the General Committee's action, and which, in our judgment, grow more serious as the presbyteries increase in number, and the mission work grows older and becomes more widely extended.

1. The first of these disadvantages, and the most serious in its effects, is the lack of knowledge and preparation necessary for the best discharge of the duty assigned to the General Committee. Indisputably this body is composed, year by year, of men who well represent the Church in ability, in wisdom, in general fitness for the task they are to perform. But when we consider what that task is; the detailed examination that must be given to scores of applications for aid coming from all parts of the country; the comparison of needs and of probable means to meet the needs which is so essential; the extended and varied interests involved; the limited time in which this extremely important and difficult work must be completed; it is no disparagement to say that no set of men coming together, many for the first time and the rest after a long interval, can at once grasp fully the duties required of them and discharge them in the best manner. The very same men, if two-thirds or even one-half of their number had gone over the same ground a year before, would act with a confidence and efficiency immeasurably greater. Under present conditions nearly the whole week of the meeting has gone by before the General Committee is fairly educated for its work, and then, though mistakes are apparent, it is too late to correct them by a revision which, to be fair and useful, must go back over practically the whole action.

2. Again, the want of continuity of membership takes away from the General Committee a sense of responsibility for the mission work as a whole. The absence of this realization of a common responsibility is natural and unavoidable in the circumstances. We do not wish to be understood as imputing blame to any one because of it. Brethren coming for a single meeting, not expecting to return for years, if at all, come with scarcely any other thought than simply to get, if possible, what is asked by their respective presbyteries; regard themselves merely as advocates of certain applications; too often take little interest in the proceedings as a whole; carry away with them no strong feeling of continued responsibility for what has been done, or for the effective pressing of the claims of the cause, which is so much needed, upon the Church during the ensuing year. Is it not reasonable to believe that this would be corrected, in a great measure at least, if members were chosen for more than one year? Would not such a change lead to closer examination of requests for aid in the presbyteries, to more careful action in granting aid by the General Committee, and to more general and earnest effort to secure adequate support for the work undertaken?

It is unnecessary to extend this report by mention of other and minor disadvantages attending the present method of appointing different men each year. The obvious remedy would be to have the members chosen, say for three years, so that only one-third of the number would be changed annually. Even election for two years, retiring one-half annually, would be a great improvement, though it would not so thoroughly meet the difficulties.

This proposition has been presented before, more than once. The only serious objection urged against it has been that presbyteries must either send the same representative to the General Assembly for several years, or bear the additional expense of another as delegate to the General Committee. Probably this objection will be regarded as conclusive now, just as it has been in the past. For this reason, we present no resolution, but will take the liberty to lay this report before the General Committee in the hope that the way may appear clear to that body itself, to make some positive recommendation on the subject to the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RAILROAD FARES.

We have secured concessions from the following passenger associations, namely: New York and Boston Lines, Boston Passenger Committee, Trunk Line, Southern Passenger, Western Lines, Central Traffic, which include all of the territory in the United States east of and including the Missouri river. These concessions enable all those who attend the General Assembly, and who have purchased a first-class ticket to Pittsburgh from any point within the above described territory within the specified time, to purchase their return trip ticket over the same line at one-third fare, providing compliance is had with the well-known certificate plan. We believe we have concessions covering greater territory than has ever before been secured for a meeting of the General Assembly.

The committee has been obliged to advance the sum of $11.00 to the Central Traffic Association for the expenses of their representative, who will be present at the General Assembly on Friday, the 24th inst., to examine and sign certificates. We have also incurred expenses for postage, stenographic services, stationery, etc., amounting in all to $10.00. We, therefore, respectfully ask to be reimbursed for the amount of $21.00.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNION WITH THE ASSOCIATE REFORMED SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

During the past year there has been no official correspondence, except the statement of the action of the respective bodies.

The General Assembly having adopted the basis of union, your Committee deemed it proper not to take any new step, but rather to await the development of a more positive sentiment in favor of the union on the part of the Synod. In the meantime, your Committee is assured that there is the most kindly feeling on the part of the Synod, and that we may look for more intimate relations at an early day.

The co-operation of the General Assembly in the erection of a church in Atlanta has been highly appreciated, and no doubt will be followed by other acts of co-operation in the mission work.

In the judgment of your Committee, substantial, though silent, progress has been made, and negotiations should be continued.

Respectfully submitted,

A. G. WALLACE, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNION WITH THE HOLLAND CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCH.

The Committee, reappointed by the last Assembly, with instructions to meet a corresponding committee from the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church of North America, for the purpose of preparing a basis of organic union between the United Presbyterian and the Holland Christian Reformed Churches, respectfully submits its report:

At a meeting of the conferring committees, held in Xenia, Ohio, December 27, 1894, all the delegates being present, the subject appointed for consideration was thoroughly discussed. It was found that the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church had not vested its Committee with the right to negotiate organic union, but only to propose a plan of co-operative action, whereby for the time being the two Churches would retain their separate organization, and yet would be affiliated formally as regards ecclesiastical intercourse and certain missionary arrangements. Upon a full hearing of the facts involved, your committee acquiesced in this proposition as lying within the intention of its commission, there being on both sides the expression of desire and confidence that such fellowship would develop at an early date into a complete consolidation. After mature and prayerful deliberation, the preliminary points of agreement, embodying a scheme of co-operant union, were drawn and unanimously approved, and since the adjournment of the joint committee correspondence enables us to place the following draft of basis before you, which, it is believed, will be fully acceptable to the Holland Christian Reformed Committee, and will be by it presented to the Holland Christian Reformed Synod, at its next meeting in 1896, for approval. Its specifications are transmitted herewith:

1. The substantial agreement of the two Churches in doctrine, government and worship is mutually recognized.

2. There are practical difficulties in the way, which render the organic union of the two Churches unadvisable for the present.

3. On the ground of the large measure of unity in faith and order existing between these sister denominations, a plan of co-operation, embracing the succeeding articles, is approved and accepted:

A. There shall be an interchange constantly of fraternal delegates between the supreme judicatories of the two Churches.

B. Whenever desirable ministers in the two Churches may exchange preaching; and the proper officers in any vacant congregation may invite to occupy their pulpit any minister or probationer of the other denomination, who is in good standing in his own Church.

C. Congregations in each body shall have the liberty of calling as pastor a minister or probationer from the other Church; this to be done in accordance with the regulations of that Church from which he is called.

D. Certificates of membership from the congregations of either Church shall be accepted in the congregations of the other, just as sessions and consistories within each body respectively honor the certificates of their own denomination; and members from the congregations of either Church shall be received to participation in sealing ordinances in the congregations of the other Church, on the understanding that organic union is distinctly in view.

E. Co-operation in foreign missionary work shall be engaged in as follows: (a) A duly authorized representative from the Holland Christian Reformed Church shall be admitted to the United Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions as a consultative member. (b) Missionaries, whose services are tendered, may be appointed from the Holland Christian Reformed Church by the United Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions to the foreign field, it being understood that the appointee shall become fully identified with the United Presbyterian Church, and shall be subject to all the rules and regulations governing the foreign missionaries of that Church. (c) In pursuance of the foregoing missionary arrangements, opportunity is given the Holland Christian Reformed Church to make optional contributions through the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Presbyterian Church to the furtherance of the work administered by that Board.

4. This declaration of conventional agreement between the two Churches is made, and this co-operation is undertaken, in the confident hope that the way for complete organic union between the two denominations will open up, under the blessing of God, in the near future.

Believing that the Assembly will deem a certain measure of information concerning the Holland Christian Reformed Church needful at this stage of proceedings, your Committee beg to add a few statements concerning the history and usages of said Church.

The Holland Christian Reformed Church of North America is a descendant of the Church of the same name in Holland, which seceded from the Established Reformed Church of Holland in 1834, because of the corruption of doctrine and modification of polity in the latter body. Some years after this dissenting organization arose in Holland, a number of its people came to the United States, and thus the Christian Reformed Church of Holland was transplanted to American soil, and became eventually an American Church, independent of all foreign control. During subsequent years its fold was gradually enlarged by Holland immigration and accessions from the Reformed Dutch Church in America. In 1890 it incorporated, as a constituent, the bulk of the True Reformed Dutch Church in the United States, thus securing to itself definite American antecedents. This denomination just named originated in 1822, when there occurred a secession of ministers and parts of congregations from the Reformed Dutch Church in America, the secession resulting from the prevalence of alleged heresy and looseness of discipline in the parent denomination. The Holland Christian Reformed Church of America has, therefore, its main ancestry in Holland, but includes as its subordinate branch the representative of the old secession from the Dutch Reformed Church in this country.

The last year-book, issued in 1895, shows that the denomination has seven classes, or presbyteries, subordinate to a General Synod, 74 ministers, 121 congregations, 15,548 members, and a total of 47,349 souls. Its strength lies in Michigan and Iowa, though it has a number of churches in New Jersey. It has a theological and collegiate institution which is located at Grand Rapids, Michigan, and which has three regular professors and a present enrollment of 17 theological and 37 literary students. Some of its churches are English-speaking, but the majority of them adhere to the Dutch tongue.

The standards of the Church embrace the Heidelberg Catechism, one of the most generally adopted of the Calvinistic Symbols: The Belgic Confession, which is thoroughly Calvinistic, and which, as revised in 1571, was accepted by the entire Holland Church, and the canons of the famous Calvinistic Synod of Dordrecht, which was convened to oppose a rising Arminianism in Holland. Conscientious stress is laid on a full witness for, and propagation of, the system of doctrine contained in the denominational creed. It is a standing rule that the Heidelberg Catechism shall be reviewed in order, annually, before the congregations, the 129 questions of the Catechism being arranged in 52 sections, according to the Sabbaths of the year, one of these sections being briefly explained in the afternoon's service of each Lord's day. A doctrinal compend is employed also for the instruction of all who are contemplating entrance into the full membership of the Church.

The government of the Church is Presbyterian, the method being derived from the Synod of Dordrecht. Their consistory answers exactly to our session, and their classis to our presbytery. Regarding the articles of our Testimony on Communion and Secret Societies, these Holland brethern subscribe to the principles for which we stand, and maintain likewise a consistent application of these principles. Occasional partakings of the Lord's Supper by members from other Churches are passed upon by their consistories. In their antagonism to secret orders they are stalwart, rivaling, if not outstripping, our own denomination in the vigor of their synodical resolutions. This distinctive is a legacy from the mother Church in Holland, and has always been emphasized in their denominational procedure. It may be mentioned here that some ministers and churches left the Dutch Reformed Church as recently as 1882, and joined the Holland Christian Reformed Church, because of an unheeded demand that the Dutch Reformed Church denounce Freemasonry and refuse fellowship to members of oath-bound secret societies.

The only variation requiring special adjustment is the use, by the Holland Christian Reformed Church in the service of song, of a few extra-psalmodic compositions, like the ten commandments, the Lord's prayer, the so-called Apostles' Creed, and the so-called songs of Mary, Zacharias and Simeon. It should be noted, however, that they hold to such supplements only because these have descended as a inheritance from the times of the Reformation, having been approved by the old Dordrecht Synod. The fact that not one addition has been made to these extra-psalter pieces, which were introduced centuries ago, is proof sufficient that the trend of the Church is not in the direction of uninspired hymnology. Indeed one of the grounds of offence, leading their forefathers to withdraw from the Established Reformed Church of Holland in 1834, was that they were asked to employ newly-made hymns, inculcating questionable doctrine. To-day the staple matter of praise in all the Holland Christian Reformed congregations is the Psalms, our own version and psalter being in use in many of their households, and in the English-speaking congregations. According to all that appears, the Holland Christian Reformed Church clings to an inspired psalmody as tenaciously as does our own. The brethren with whom your Committee was in conference, on ascertaining our exclusive adherence to the psalter, expressed satisfaction with the position, and private assurance has been given that if organic union was the pending question, the Holland Christian Reformed Church would assent heartily and without reservation to Article XVIII of our testimony. Your Committee have thought it proper to make a detailed report regarding the status of the Holland Christian Reformed Church on this very important distinctive, that there may be explicit understanding on the part of the Assembly.

Summing up the case, from all that can be discerned, the Holland Christian Reformed Church is practically one with our own in doctrine, polity and worship. Minor divergences in any of these departments can, it is believed, be readily overcome when the time is ripe for final negotiations. The conservative tone of the Church, in its tenure of truth and its aggressive reform and missionary spirit, mark it out likewise as belonging to our denominational kindred.

It has been noticed that the credentials of the Holland Christian Reformed Committee only allowed them to proffer a co-operative alliance with our Church. It was explained that their Synod counted it wise to maintain an independent existence for the present, in order to meet the special necessity caused by the continuous immigration from the Netherlands. There was doubtless the feeling also, though it was not definitely expressed, that reasonable time should be allowed for securing a better acquaintance of the one body with the other, and this the more because of the diversity in tongue and national ancestry. However, it was represented and warmly urged that complete organic union was the object aimed at in this preliminary association. Your Committee, while regretting that the way did not seem open for an immediate merging of the respective bodies under one compact system of judicature, readily accepted the tender of ecclesiastical co-operation according to the stipulations aforesaid. In conclusion we offer the following recommendations for your action:

Resolved, 1.—That the draft of basis of co-operative union, herein reported, be adopted, the understanding being that it shall become effective when duly ratified by the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church.

2.—That, inasmuch as the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church does not meet until 1896, a Committee on Union be continued with instructions to negotiate concerning any additional propositions that may be presented.

3.—That, inasmuch as the negotiations for co-operative union are still in progress, and the next Holland Christian Reformed Synod will deliberate and act upon the matter, a visiting committee of three, one of whom shall be the delegate chosen last year, be appointed to represent our Church in the Holland Christian Reformed Synod of next year.

4.—That as a means of information concerning our own faith and ecclesiastical procedure, the Board of Publication be directed to furnish every minister in this sister Church with a copy of our Confession of Faith, Catechisms, Testimony, and Book of Government and Discipline.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNION WITH PSALM-SINGING CHURCHES.

The committee appointed by the last General Assembly on Union with other Psalm-singing Churches would beg leave to report, that little or nothing has been done by the committee, and that the only encouraging indication of union is with the Holland Christian Reformed Church, upon which another committee will submit a report to which the attention of the Assembly is solicited.

Respectfully submitted,

REPLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO A REQUEST TO CO-OPERATE IN THE PREPARATION OF A METRICAL VERSION OF THE PSALMS.

The General Assembly, in session at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 28, 1894, in the matter of a communication from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, took the following action, viz.: "To the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church: While heartily sympathizing in every effort towards closer fellowship in our common work, we deem it inexpedient at present to co-operate in the revision of the metrical version of the Psalms."

REPORT OF THE WESTERN SECTION OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMISSION OF THE ALLIANCE OF THE REFORMED CHURCHES HOLDING THE PRESBYTERIAN SYSTEM.

The work of the Commission has progressed favorably throughout the year. Notification respecting the meeting of the Sixth General Council of the Alliance was forwarded last year, and is repeated this year in a communication from the General Secretary. The Commission respectfully request that you authorize your treasurer to pay the customary annual apportionment towards the expenses, viz.: $280.00.

Very truly yours,

LETTER FROM THE GENERAL SECRFTARY OF THE ALLIANCE OF REFORMED CHURCHES.

The Sixth General Council of the "Alliance of the Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian System," will meet in St. Andrew's Hall, Berkeley Street, Glasgow, Scotland, on Wednesday, June 17th, 1896.

At the London Council of 1888, it was agreed, "That the representation in the Council shall be: For each hundred congregations or less, two delegates up to 1,000 congregations; above 1,000 congregations, one delegate for each additional 100 up to 2,000 congregations; above 2,000 congregations, one delegate for each additional 250 congregations.

In the case of union of Churches represented in the Alliance, it is recommended that the number of delegates remain as previous to union, till the following meeting of Council, when, on the union being reported to the Council, the future number of delegates shall be determined." (Vol. of Proceed., 1888, p. 308).

At the Toronto Council of 1892, it was farther agreed: "That in order to advance the interests in co-operation in mission fields, each of the Churches represented in this Alliance be invited to send to the meetings of Council a representative of its Foreign Mission Board or Committee, and such representative shall be entitled to act as a corresponding member." (Vol. of Proceed., 1892, p. 280).

Will you have the goodness to communicate this letter to the supreme court of your Church at its approaching meeting, and secure the appointment of delegates to the Council? It will be of great service to the Glasgow Local Committee, if you send me the names and addresses of the delegates as soon as these have been appointed by your Church.

Yours fraternally,

G. D. MATHEWS,
General Sec'y.

LONDON, March, 1, 1895.

The within letter of the General Secretary of the Alliance, in accordance with the regulations duly adopted by the Council, is hereby countersigned by the officers of the Western Section of the Executive Commission.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE OF THE FEDERATION OF THE CHURCHES.

The undersigned, with Rev. Drs. J. Elmendorf and David Steele, was appointed a Committee of Correspondence by the Conference of Committees of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches on a federation of those bodies. We transmitted to you a year ago the Plan of Federation, which the Comittees in conferance had unanimously agreed to recommend for adoption by the different General Assemblies and General Synods, with the request that, if it commended itself to you, you would adopt the same and continue your committee to receive the action of the different bodies, and to take the further steps that such action might require.

We beg leave now to report the present status of the movement: The General Assembly of the Presbyerian Church in the United States of America postponed the consideration of the plan until this year, and called the attention of the presbyteries to it for information and advice. The presbyteries have been considering it, and the Assembly at its meeting in Pittsburgh, beginning the 16th inst., is expected finally to act upon it. The United Presbyterian Assembly has adopted it, and has also elected its delegates to the Federal Council. The General Synod of the (Dutch) Reformed Church in America, and the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church have also adopted it. The General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, referred it to special committees to report this year. The General Synod of the Reformed (German) Church in the United States has not yet met, but the members of its Committee were among the most earnest in approving the plan, and are confident of its adoption by their Synod. The Welsh Calvinistic Assembly, which meets every three years, has not yet had the opportunity to act, but favorable action by it is also confidently looked for.

In these circumstances we respectfully ask you again to continue your committee in order that it may receive the final action of all the judicatories, and report to you as may further be necessary.

Fraternally yours,

R. M. PATTERSON,
Chairman.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 9, 1895.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE FEDERATION OF CHURCHES.

The committee on the Federation of the Churches, appointed by the last Assembly to meet with similar committees holding the Prebyterian system, would report that some of the Synods and Assemblies interested have not acted on the Constitution proposed for this federation as yet. It is confidently expected that final action will be taken by all the bodies interested this spring.

It has been suggested by the chairman of the Committees that have been appointed, that the churches that have adopted the Constitution for a Federation Council, continue their committees another year, in the hope and expectation that final action will be taken by all the synods and assemblies in the near future.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE ECCLESIASTICAL PEACE CONFERENCE.

The Executive Committee, representing your body and others that have joined in the petition to governments in behalf of arbitration, are under the necessity of appealing to you for financial support. Members of the Committee, aided by a few friends, have borne the expenses of carrying forward the work to its present encouraging state of progress; but all the while we have been embarrassed and our work has been delayed from want of funds. The Committee estimates the amount needed at $2,000, and ask from your venerable body an appropriation of $25. Like requests will be made of other co-operating church assemblies.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTORS OF THE REED ESTATE.

Owing to the continued stringency of the times, specially affecting the kind of property—large tracts of cheap mineral lands in West Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri—composing this estate, and the entry of another lawsuit (recently decided in our favor), little progress has been made during the year towards final settlement. We have collected interest on $16,500 of the $30,600 on bond and mortgage last year. This, together with most of the balance reported, $1,900 cash in bank, has been expended in payment of taxes, $975; surveying, $1,238; court and other incidental and necessary expenses, about $500, much of which we expect to be repaid. The interst on the balance of the $30,600 on mortgage, we have been prevented by the lawsuit from collecting, but expect to receive in due time.

The report of the Permanent Committee on Narrative and State of Religion was read and adopted.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following partial report which was adopted:

PARTIAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

In the matter of the communication from the National Reform Committee, your committee would beg leave to report as a question of privilege:

The communication requests that our Assembly hear their representatives, Revs. W. Wishart, D. D., and D. McAllister, D. D.; but as Dr. Wishart states that he did not come with any intention of addressing the Assembly;

Resolved, That the request be granted, and the hour of 4 P. M. on Monday be fixed for hearing Dr. McAllister on the subject of National Reform.

After prayer by Rev. S. W. Lorimer the Assembly adjourned.

1.30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. D. C. Stewart.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The Committee on Judiciary presented the following report on the protest and appeal of Rev. J. I. Frazer which was addopted:

REPORT ON REV. J. I. FRAZER'S APPEAL.

We have carefully examined the papers in the case, and find that the appeal has been regularly taken, and, therefore, recommend that the Assembly proceed to issue the case.

Spent some time in devotional exercises under the direction the Moderator.

Took up the protest and appeal of Rev. J. I. Frazer against the action of the Synod of the Columbia. The records were read. The parties were granted forty minutes each to present his case. After the appellant was heard, the case was continued and made the first order of the day for to-morrow morning.

The report of the Committee on Railroad Fare was read and and referred to the Committee on Finance.

The Committee on Sabbath Schools presented the following partial report which was adopted :

PARTIAL REPORT ON SABBATH SCHOOLS.

The Committee on Sabbath Schools would present a partial report, and recommend that a conference on Sabbath schools be the order of the day for Tuesday at 10 o'clock A. M.,—Rev. H. H. Wallace to preside, Rev. G. W. Robinson to make the opening speech; the opening address to be limited to ten minutes, all others to five minutes each, the entire conference not to exceed one hour.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented a report on the memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others. Before disposing of this report, the hour of adjournment arrived and the Assembly adjourned with prayer by Rev. Joseph Boyd.

7 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by J. B. Lee, D. D.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day: viz., a memorial service for ministers deceased during the year. After the program, as adopted by the Assembly, was carried out, the chairman of the evening reported a very interesting and protracted conference. This report was adopted.

After prayer by Rev. A. H. Elder, the Assembly adjourned.

SATURDAY.

May 30, 1896, 8.30 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by A. G. Wallace, D. D.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The report of the Permanent Committee on Young People's Christian Unions was read and referred to a special committee.

The Moderator nominated and the Assembly confirmed the following special committee on Young People's Work:

COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

Revs. A. S. Vincent, D. D., A. H. Elder, J. L. Acheson; Elders S. B. Frazier, Joseph S. Hamilton.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following partial report, which was adopted:

PARTIAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

A communication having been received from the fraternal delegate of the (German) Reformed Synod, now meeting at Dayton, Ohio, asking that some time be fixed for his coming:

Resolved, 1. That the hearing of the delegate from this synod be made the order of the day for Tuesday at 4 o'clock P. M.

2. That the General Assembly appoint two delegates to this synod.

3. That Revs. W. S. Owens, D. D., and G. M. Reed be appointed our delegates to the synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, in session at Dayton, O.

Resumed the consideration of the protest and appeal of Rev. J. I. Frazer. The appellee was heard. In hearing the members of the court, speeches were limited to five minutes and one speech to each man. The appeal was not sustained. Rev. J. I. Frazer entered his protest against this action for reasons to be handed in, and this privilege was accorded him.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises under the direction of the Moderator.

Took up unfinished business, viz., the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on the memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others. A communication from Dr. D. W. Carson in defense of this memorial was read by permission of the Assembly. Before disposing of this report, the hour of adjournment arrived, and the Assembly adjourned after prayer by Elder J. M. Nevin

MONDAY.

June 1, 1896, 8.30 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. M. Butler.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The credentials of Rev. John H. Prugh, delegate from the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, were presented and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

A memorial on behalf of the suffering Armenians was presented and referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

Rev. W. A. Mackenzie was appointed chairman of the conference on Home Missions.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Church Extension was made the order of the day for Tuesday at 2 o'clock p. m.

Took up unfinished business, viz., the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on the memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others. The report was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON DR. D. W. CARSON'S MEMORIAL.

The memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others asks that a certain statement be placed on record for their exoneration in refusing to join in or support the worship of God, where instrumental music is used. We submit the following for adoption by the Assembly.

Resolved, That the request of the memorialists be respectfully declined.

The time of adjournment this afternoon was fixed at 5 o'clock in order to hear the representatives of the National Reform Association, who could not be present before the regular hour of adjournment.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following report on the overture on Seminary Control, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THE OVERTURE ON SEMINARY CONTROL.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures has examined the returns of the presbyteries on the overture on seminary control.

The following presbyteries have not made any report: Cedar Rapids, Egypt, Gujranwala, Gurdaspur, Sialkot, and Westmoreland. The presbytery of Xenia reported the vote in a two-fold form, but in neither form is the vote a direct one on the overture as submitted, and therefore can not be counted. But the result is not affected thereby. The vote reported from the other fifty-eight presbyteries is as follows: Yeas, 882; nays, 20; total, 902. There is, therefore, a clear majority of the votes of the whole Church in favor of the overture. Therefore,

Resolved 1. That the overture submitted by the last General Assembly be and hereby is enacted as a part of the constitutional law of the Church, and part I, chapter V, article 4, section 3, of the Book of Government, is amended by inserting immediately after the words, "course and term of study," the following words: "To confirm or veto the election of professors to any of our theological seminaries, and to remove for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided by our Book of Government and Discipline, any professor from said seminaries."

2. That all future editions of the Book of Government shall be printed according to this amendment.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following report on co-operation with the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CO-OPERATION WITH THE A. R. SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

The communication from the Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension submits a plan for co-operation with the Associate Reformed

Synod of the South in these departments of work. Such co-operation is very desirable. The two Churches are of common origin and have common interests in our country; they hold principles practically identical; and their forms of worship are the same. Negotiations for organic union are pending, and such co-operation in work would tend to promote this union in the near future.

The General Assembly of 1876 adopted a general plan of co-operation in all departments of mission work. Under this general arrangement, the Board of Church Extension rendered aid for the purchase of a church lot in Atlanta, Ga., as reported to the last General Assembly and approved by it. The experience in this case has been so satisfactory that overtures were made informally by the Board of Missions of the Synod of the South for more extended co-operation. Our boards recognized the importance of such co-operation, but did not feel authorized to enter into any permanent agreement on the subject, and also judged that there should be a definite plan adopted, so that misunderstandings may not arise in the future. A tentative plan was submitted to the brethren of the South and was by them cordially approved. More carefully elaborated, the plan is now presented to the Assembly. Your Committee recommends the following action:

The General Assembly approves the following plan of co-operation with the Associate Reformed Synod of the South in Home Missions and Church Extension, and authorizes these boards to act upon it, according to their discretion, after it shall have been approved by the Synod of the South.

PLAN OF CO-OPERATION.

1. Any joint missions in the South, in territory not occupied by a presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, shall be under the immediate care of the Associate Reformed presbytery in whose bounds it is located.

2. When aid in money is asked of the United Presbyterian Church for joint work, the application shall first be approved by the Board of Home Missions of the Associate Reformed Church, and shall then be submitted, if the aid is asked for the support of ordinances, to the General Committee of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, or in cases of special emergency to the Board of Home Missions, under the same forms and in the same way as like applications are made by United Presbyterian congregations. If the aid is asked for Church Erection, the application shall in like manner be submitted to the Board of Church Extension.

3. The appointment of missionaries in stations supported jointly by the two Churches shall be arranged by the two Boards of Home Missions, no missionary to be appointed by either Board without the approval of the other.

4. The Board of Home Missions of the Associate Reformed Church shall be entitled to send a representative to the General Committee of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, who shall have the usual rights of a consultative member; and the Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension of the United Presbyterian Church shall be entitled to like representation in the body corresponding to the General Committee of Home Missions in the Associate Reformed Church.

5. The property of missions in the South, jointly supported by the two Churches, shall be vested in the trustees of the Associate Reformed Church, in a manner similar to that embodied in the trust clause of deeds, or declaration of trust, used by the United Presbyterian Church. In case of incumbrance, alienation, failure, or other cause requiring cessation of the work and sale of the property, the proceeds shall be divided between the two Churches in the ratio of the contributions made by each for the work, the cost of the house, as well as of the lot, and all aid given for the support of ordinances, to be included in the estimates.

6. In congregations supported jointly by the two Churches, the contributions of the people for missionary objects shall be divided between the two Churches in the ratio of the aid given by each for the work.

7. The Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension of the United Presbyterian Church shall have power to consent to any modification of minor details in these rules that may be found desirable.

The consideration of a partial report of the Committee on Finance was made the order of the day for Tuesday morning immediately after the presentation of papers.

The Committee on the Board of Education presented their report. Before disposing of this report the order of the day arrived and the report of the Committee on the Board of Freedmen's Missions was taken up. This report was adopted and it is as follows:

REPORT ON FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

It will readily be seen by the facts stated in the report of the Board which is before you, that its work is enlarging from year to year. The missionaries have been faithful in the discharge of duty, blessed with health for service, and their labors have been crowned with such results as call forth our gratitude to God. In the five principal stations are nine ordained ministers and 64 missionaries, giving a teaching force of 73, with an enrollment of 3,079 Sabbath-school scholars. The total net membership in these and other mission stations is 575.

Your Committee gives these statistics from the annual report to show the success of the work of the Board during the last year. Its contents, as you may see, are encouraging; more missionaries, more pupils in the day school and Sabbath-school, more communicants, more native workers and greater efficiency; and every department of its work gives evidence of progress.

The Board asks this Assembly to grant an appropriation of $50,000 to carry on the work next year. Your Committee would recommend the following resolutions for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That we are grateful to God for the prosperity given in the work of the Board the past year, for his favor which preserved the lives and crowned the labors of our missionaries in this needy field with success.

2. That we hereby express our sympathy with the workers at Norfolk, Va., and Mr. H. A. Morgan in particular, in being the victim of a murderous assault by a saloon-keeper for giving testimony against him when summoned before the grand jury; and approve of the prompt measures of the Board for bringing the offender to justice.

3. That we hail with satisfaction the extension of the work for the Freedmen into the densely populated rural districts, especially in the black belt, as a decided advance, essential to the true idea of missionary effort, well calculated to reach a much larger number of this needy race, and promising to be more fruitful in results to our Church; and we recommend to the Board to make diligent effort toward a like extension from all the centers of the Freedmen's Missions.

4. That since the constant expectation of the Church in regard to the establishment of churches among the Freedmen is long in being realized, we recommend the Board and the workers to give very careful attention to the matter of introducing plans and methods of work, looking to the extension of our Church in the organization and establishment of congregations among the Freedmen.

5. That the Board and missionaries be commended to the sympathy and liberality of our Church. Because of the heavy indebtedness resting upon the Board, since the erection of buildings at Knoxville, seriously impedes the progress of the work, your committee recommends that earnest effort be put forth by the Church for the prompt payment of the same.

A telegram from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church on co-operation in home mission work was read and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

The certificate of the election of Dr. J. D. Irons as professor in the Xenia Theological Seminary was read and referred to the Committee on Theological Seminaries.

Resumed the consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Education, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

There has been placed in our hands the report of the Board of Education. From it we learn the past year has been one of great prosperity with our educational institutions, notwithstanding the continued financial stringency. One hundred and forty-three students have been in attendance at our theological seminaries, 1,142 have been enrolled in our colleges, and 723 in the academies that are beneficiaries of the Board. This is a total increase of 130 students over last year.

The productive endowments of our seminaries amount to $291,800; that of our colleges to $352,600; making the total endowment of our educational institutions $644,400, being an increase of $11,400 during the year.

Fifty-eight presbyteries, the same number as last year, contributed to the Board. The amount of their contributions, however, was about $700 more than last year, while the increase from interest, donations, and legacies suffered a material decline.

Sixty-seven per cent. of the amount asked for by presbyteries for students was all the Board could pay, and about sixty per cent. to academies. Although the number of students recommended for aid was greater than for any preceding year, yet the actual amount paid to beneficiaries was about $550 less than last year.

The Board asks an appropriation of $12,000 for the regular work, and $20,000 to the special educational fund for seminaries and colleges.

From the reports of our seminaries and colleges, it would appear manifest there is a general desire for the appointment of a general educational secretary, who shall give his whole time to this work. Such, also, was the recommendation of the representative educational conference, held in the city of Chicago last December. While your Committee is not prepared to recommend that such an appointment be made at this time, yet we do feel that, with such a secretary in the field, the need of an aggressive movement toward a higher educational standard would best be met. We submit the following for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That we commend to the Church the whole work of the Board of Education.

2. That we urge upon the Synods to hold a conference on the special work of the Board.

3. That we request presbyteries, in view of the fact that applications for aid in behalf of young men who have not completed a college course are rapidly increasing, that they diligently regard the former action of the Assembly, namely, "Presbyteries are urged not to present names of theological students who are undergraduates, and persons not intending to graduate, unless the cases are rarely exceptional."

4. That our pastors be requested to observe the Sabbath preceding the day of prayer for colleges, namely, January 28, as a day of special prayer and special sermons in behalf of our educational institutions.

5. That the following brethren be appointed to present, under the direction of the Board, the claims of this Board in their respective synods: Revs. J. M. Ross, Pittsburgh; A. S. Biddle, New York; David Livingston, Ohio; J. S. McKee, D. D., First West; A. M. Campbell, Ph.D., Second; F. O. Ross, Kansas; C. H. Mitchell, Nebraska; H. T. Jackson, Iowa; A. Renwick. Illinois; W. G. M. Hays, D. D., Columbia; E. B. Stewart, California.

One resolution reported by this committee, as follows, "That our Young People's Societies be asked to give their contributions during the fourth quarter of the year to the cause of the Board of Education," together with certain amendments and substitutes, was referred to the Committee on Young People's work.

The time of adjournment was deferred for fifteen minutes in order to hear addresses from Charles W. Drees, D. D., and Justo Cubilo, Esq., the former the superintendent of Methodist missions in South America, and the latter a native of that country, who are in the United States as delegates to the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Assembly was then adjourned with prayer by Rev. G. M. Wiley.

1.30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. J. B. Edgar.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

A resolution on the prohibition of the sale of intoxicants in the national capitol building was presented and referred to the Committee on Reform.

A memorial on the O. Y. P. C. U. and Y. P. S. C. E. was presented and referred to the Committee on Young People's Work.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented a report on the co-operation of Presbyterian churches in home mission work. Before disposing of this report, proceeded to the order of the day, viz: the consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Home Missions. The report was adopted and is as follows:

REPORT ON HOME MISSIONS.

There have been placed in our hands the annual report of the Board of Home Missions and the report of the General Committee. From these reports it appears that the work is in a sound and healthy condition, and that commendable progress has been made during the year. Two hundred stations, including the 28 special missions, have received aid. These stations have a membership of 14,383, or nearly one-seventh of the Church in America, and 18,239 Sabbath-school scholars, which is nearly one-fifth of the American enrollment. The increase by profession was 9.1 per cent., or nearly a third greater than for the whole Church. The net gain is slightly less than last year, due mainly to continued failure of crops in some sections of the west. These 200 mission stations received from the Board $68,212, and contributed to the salary of pastors and supplies $59,900, and to the boards $13,017.

The receipts of the Board from presbyteries, missionary and young people's societies, and individuals, were $60,272, and from legacies and investments $3,744, or a total of $64,016, an income never exceeded but once in the history of this work, and yet it is $13,017 less than the necessary out-lay of the past year.

Aid was asked to the amount of $87,821 by 203 stations for the coming year, and the General Committee recommends an appropriation of $74,964 to 189 stations, and $5,000 more for the emergency fund. A contribution of not less than one dollar per member will be needed to meet the claims of this work for the coming year.

Attention is called to the fact that the appropriations made to home missions are largely to stations that have received aid for 10 years or less, $58,127 being recommended for 116 such stations, and only $16,832 to 73 stations that have received aid for more than ten years; that is to say, nearly four-fifths of our home mission contributions go to stations that have not been under the care of the Board over ten years. The sliding scale, which has been in operation since 1882, has relieved the Board of a large part of its old and less promising work, and left it free to turn its attention to real Home Mission work. The scale has not been rigidly applied, however; 50 exemptions having been approved by the Board of the 83 stations asking it, and a still larger number of exemptions were allowed by the General Committee.

The Board and the General Committee are urging that congregations receiving aid must themselves contribute to the extent of their ability to the salary of their pastors or supplies, and that they become self-supporting at the earliest date possible.

The most serious matter to which your attention should be directed is the growing indebtedness of the Board. The expenditure ordered by the General Assembly itself has for many years been outrunning the ordinary receipts. During the past sixteen years, $82,000 received from unusual legacies has been expended. The $20,000 reserve fund, which was set apart out of these legacies, has been entirely exhausted. In addition the Board is now $13,000 in debt, $6,000 of which has been borrowed on short time from the bank, and the balance temporarily from permanent funds. On July next about $18,000 more will be due to missionaries in the field. It is necessary that steps be taken immediately to secure larger contributions from the Church. From the nature of the case, the home missionary work cannot stop until contributions overtake expenditures. Suffering and loss must follow any failure of the Church to provide at an early day the funds necessary to meet the obligations of the Board.

A serious result of this growing indebtedness is the necessity of refusing to enter promising new mission fields. Only $3,715 of the $9,125 asked for this work is recommended by the General Committee, and this only on condition that it is contributed by the Church. The amount asked for the work for the coming year, and to meet the debt and restore the reserve fund, is a large one, $112,982, but it is not beyond the ability of the Church to give. Two cents per week from each member is not too much to ask for this important branch of our work.

The work of the Board, as it relates to the mission stations and special missions under its care, and to its financial management, appears to have been done with scrupulous care, fidelity, and good judgment. It may be proper to note in this connection that a probable loss of $2,172.56 has been sustained by the failure in December, 1893, of the banking house of R. P'atrick & Co., of Pittsburgh, where the funds of the Board were then deposited. It appears that the treasurer had exercised more than ordinary business prudence and judgment, and his good faith is shown by the fact that he had for years used this bank as the depository of his own private funds. His course in this matter was honorable and blameless, and the Board has justly, we think, assumed whatever loss may be occasioned when the accounts of the bank are finally settled.

We recommend the following resolutions for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That we express our gratitude to the King and Head of the Church for his continued blessing on the Home Mission work.

2. That the annual report of the Board be approved.

3. That the report of the General Committee of Home Missions be adopted.

4. That the corresponding secretary be directed to furnish the Church papers for publication, a monthly statement setting forth the condition, progress, and needs of the home mission work; that financial agents of presbyteries send to their congregations quarterly statements of their obligations, and urge regular and prompt contributions throughout the year; and that pastors and sessions be most earnestly entreated to do all in their power to raise at least one dollar per member from their people for this work.

5. That, in order to meet the immediate and pressing wants of the Board, all our congregations be asked to make a special contribution to home missions on or before Sabbath, July 12, 1896, and that pastors be requested to preach on this subject before these collections are taken.

The following circular letter relative to Home Mission work, prepared by the officers of the General Committee of Missions, was endorsed by the Assembly:

CIRCULAR LETTER ON HOME MISSIONS.

The report of the Board of Home Missions for the year just closed shows that God's blessing has constantly attended the efforts of the board in the home field. During the past year more than 1,200 persons have come out from the world and confessed Christ in the mission stations.

The report shows that 186 stations have received aid during the year, and during this time these stations have contributed over $13,000 to the boards of the Church, making a return of over 20 per cent. of the total expenditures upon these fields. The problem that confronted the General Committee as it entered upon its duty was, how to maintain the work already in hand, and to undertake new work in the new fields asking to be aided. The financial condition, consisting of a debt of over $13,000, and a reserve fund of $20,000 exhausted, which must be restored, met the committee on one hand, and requests from presbyteries aggregating nearly $88,000 met it on the other. The question was, Shall we cut down the requests or go before the General Assembly asking for an appropriation much larger than in any previous year? To do the former seemed to invite disaster to a work which, in the providence of God, is in a very prosperous condition. If the requests were granted and all the work already in hand continued, and the inviting new fields entered which God has opened up for our Church, it would be to recommend an appropriation altogether beyond the hope of realization.

As the Committee entered upon its work it was confronted with requests that had been carefully considered by presbyteries, and the amount asked was in most cases at so low a figure as to allow a very meager living to the family of the faithful missionary, who was already in the field or who might be sent to it. In many cases it was found that to reduce the request was to deprive the station of the services of a missionary, in others to bring hardship and deprivation to the home of the pastor or supply, and in others such a reduction would imperil the very existence of presbyteries. With these stubborn facts before the Committee, it became next to impossible to make reductions, yet reductions were made, even when it was felt that the cause of our Church was being jeopardized and the missionary's small salary reduced to greater scantiness.

In addition many new stations were asking for help to develop and establish United Presbyterianism in neglected city districts, and in rapidly developing portions of the great northwest, which is considered, by all who are acquainted with the conditions and prospects, a strategic point, not only for the interests of the United Presbyterian Church, but for Christianity as well. Yet notwithstanding these bright prospects and pressing demands, the Committee was obliged to refuse to recommend aid to most of these new fields.

It was a sad trial to refuse aid to this important work of extension, when it was considered how greatly God, hitherto, had blessed this part of the Church's effort, for fully one-half the congregations now on the roll of our Church owe their existence to the aid afforded by the home board in their early struggles. Bating all the good that has come to souls and to our country, and the honor that has come to our blessed Master, in a purely financial aspect the Church has not been a loser, for these congregations have contributed to the boards of the Church a sum nearly, if not altogether equal to the amount expended upon them. In view of these facts is it any wonder the Committee voted with reluctance to refuse the aid asked?

After all the reduction that could be made the amount recommended is in excess of any previous year, and unless this is furnished the cause of the Lord as represented by our Church will be made to languish. An appropriation sufficient to carry on the work of the year, to pay off the indebtedness, and to restore the r serve fund, in the aggregate appears a large sum, but an average of one dollar per member will fully meet the demand.

Can we not raise this amount this year and thus relieve the board from its present embarrassment, and preserve the home work from distress? There is need of immediate response to meet the payments soon due, and to meet a note in bank that will mature in four months. In view of all the facts it is urged upon pastors and sessions to keep the work and needs of the board continually before their congregations, for experience shows that where this has been kindly and faithfully done the people have responded cheerfully and liberally. To meet the urgent demands of the board it is recommended that the second Sabbath of July be appointed upon which special contributions shall be taken for home missions, and that pastors be requested to present the subject to their people on the Sabbath previous.

The roll was called, and the absentees were noted.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises under the direction of the Moderator.

Rev A. F. Kirkpatrick was appointed to preside in the Conference on Foreign Missions on Tuesday evening.

The consideration of the report of the Special Committee on Women's work, and the hearing of the delegate from the Women's Board were made the order of the day for Tuesday afternoon, immediately after the disposition of the report of the Committee on the Board of Church Extension.

Took up the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on the co-operation of Presbyterian Churches in home mission work.

Before disposing of this report, the hour for the order of the day arrived, when D. McAllister, D. D., delegate from the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church and representative of the National Reform Association, addressed the Assembly, and the Moderator made a suitable response.

After prayer by Rev. H. S. Boyd the Assembly adjourned.

7 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. R. T. McCrea.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day, viz., a conference on Home Missions and Church Extension, Rev. W. A. Mackenzie presiding.

At 9.30 o'clock the conference rose and reported a very pleasant and profitable meeting, and that Rev. L. E. Hawk had been appointed to take charge of the money contributed for missions during the conference. This report was adopted.

After prayer by Rev. J. H. Andrew the Assembly adjourned.

TUESDAY.

8.30 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. H. C. Marshall.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises under the direction of the Moderator.

The Committee on Finance presented their report. Before ending the consideration of this report, the hour for the order of the day arrived, and the Assembly went into extra judicial con-

PARTIAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

A communication having been received from the fraternal delegate of the (German) Reformed Synod, now meeting at Dayton, Ohio, asking that some time be fixed for his coming:

Resolved, 1. That the hearing of the delegate from this synod be made the order of the day for Tuesday at 4 o'clock P. M.

2. That the General Assembly appoint two delegates to this synod.

3. That Revs. W. S. Owens, D. D., and G. M. Reed be appointed our delegates to the synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, in session at Dayton, O.

Resumed the consideration of the protest and appeal of Rev. J. I. Frazer. The appellee was heard. In hearing the members of the court, speeches were limited to five minutes and one speech to each man. The appeal was not sustained. Rev. J. I. Frazer entered his protest against this action for reasons to be handed in, and this privilege was accorded him.

Some time was spent in devotional exercises under the direction of the Moderator.

Took up unfinished business, viz., the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on the memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others. A communication from Dr. D. W. Carson in defense of this memorial was read by permission of the Assembly. Before disposing of this report, the hour of adjournment arrived, and the Assembly adjourned after prayer by Elder J. M. Nevin

MONDAY.

June 1, 1896, 8.30 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. M. Butler.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The credentials of Rev. John H. Prugh, delegate from the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, were presented and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

A memorial on behalf of the suffering Armenians was presented and referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

Rev. W. A. Mackenzie was appointed chairman of the conference on Home Missions.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on the Board of Church Extension was made the order of the day for Tuesday at 2 o'clock p. m.

Took up unfinished business, viz., the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on the memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others. The report was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON DR. D. W. CARSON'S MEMORIAL.

The memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson and others asks that a certain statement be placed on record for their exoneration in refusing to join in or support the worship of God, where instrumental music is used. We submit the following for adoption by the Assembly.

Resolved, That the request of the memorialists be respectfully declined.

The time of adjournment this afternoon was fixed at 5 o'clock in order to hear the representatives of the National Reform Association, who could not be present before the regular hour of adjournment.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following report on the overture on Seminary Control, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THE OVERTURE ON SEMINARY CONTROL.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures has examined the returns of the presbyteries on the overture on seminary control.

The following presbyteries have not made any report: Cedar Rapids, Egypt, Gujranwala, Gurdaspur, Sialkot, and Westmoreland. The presbytery of Xenia reported the vote in a two-fold form, but in neither form is the vote a direct one on the overture as submitted, and therefore can not be counted. But the result is not affected thereby. The vote reported from the other fifty-eight presbyteries is as follows: Yeas, 882; nays, 20; total, 902. There is, therefore, a clear majority of the votes of the whole Church in favor of the overture. Therefore,

Resolved 1. That the overture submitted by the last General Assembly be and hereby is enacted as a part of the constitutional law of the Church, and part I, chapter V, article 4, section 3, of the Book of Government, is amended by inserting immediately after the words, "course and term of study," the following words: "To confirm or veto the election of professors to any of our theological seminaries, and to remove for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided by our Book of Government and Discipline, any professor from said seminaries"

2. That all future editions of the Book of Government shall be printed according to this amendment.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following report on co-operation with the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, which was adopted:

REPORT ON CO-OPERATION WITH THE A. R. SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

The communication from the Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension submits a plan for co-operation with the Associate Reformed

Synod of the South in these departments of work. Such co-operation is very desirable. The two Churches are of common origin and have common interests in our country; they hold principles practically identical; and their forms of worship are the same. Negotiations for organic union are pending, and such co-operation in work would tend to promote this union in the near future.

The General Assembly of 1876 adopted a general plan of co-operation in all departments of mission work. Under this general arrangement, the Board of Church Extension rendered aid for the purchase of a church lot in Atlanta, Ga., as reported to the last General Assembly and approved by it. The experience in this case has been so satisfactory that overtures were made informally by the Board of Missions of the Synod of the South for more extended co-operation. Our boards recognized the importance of such co-operation, but did not feel authorized to enter into any permanent agreement on the subject, and also judged that there should be a definite plan adopted, so that misunderstandings may not arise in the future. A tentative plan was submitted to the brethren of the South and was by them cordially approved. More carefully elaborated, the plan is now presented to the Assembly. Your Committee recommends the following action:

The General Assembly approves the following plan of co-operation with the Associate Reformed Synod of the South in Home Missions and Church Extension, and authorizes these boards to act upon it, according to their discretion, after it shall have been approved by the Synod of the South.

PLAN OF CO-OPERATION.

1. Any joint missions in the South, in territory not occupied by a presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, shall be under the immediate care of the Associate Reformed presbytery in whose bounds it is located.

2. When aid in money is asked of the United Presbyterian Church for joint work, the application shall first be approved by the Board of Home Missions of the Associate Reformed Church, and shall then be submitted, if the aid is asked for the support of ordinances, to the General Committee of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, or in cases of special emergency to the Board of Home Missions, under the same forms and in the same way as like applications are made by United Presbyterian congregations. If the aid is asked for Church Erection, the application shall in like manner be submitted to the Board of Church Extension.

3. The appointment of missionaries in stations supported jointly by the two Churches shall be arranged by the two Boards of Home Missions, no missionary to be appointed by either Board without the approval of the other.

4. The Board of Home Missions of the Associate Reformed Church shall be entitled to send a representative to the General Committee of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, who shall have the usual rights of a consultative member; and the Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension of the United Presbyterian Church shall be entitled to like representation in the body corresponding to the General Committee of Home Missions in the Associate Reformed Church.

5. The property of missions in the South, jointly supported by the two Churches, shall be vested in the trustees of the Associate Reformed Church, in a manner similar to that embodied in the trust clause of deeds, or declaration of trust, used by the United Presbyterian Church. In case of incumbrance, alienation, failure, or other cause requiring cessation of the work and sale of the property, the proceeds shall be divided between the Churches in the ratio of the contributions made by each for the purchase cost of the house, as well as of the lot, and all aid given for the support of ordinances, to be included in the estimates.

6. In congregations supported jointly by the two Churches, the contributions of the people for missionary objects shall be divided between the two Churches in the ratio of the aid given by each for the work.

7. The Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension of the United Presbyterian Church shall have power to consent to any modification of minor details in these rules that may be found desirable.

The consideration of a partial report of the Committee on Finance was made the order of the day for Tuesday morning immediately after the presentation of papers.

The Committee on the Board of Education presented their report. Before disposing of this report the order of the day arrived and the report of the Committee on the Board of Freedmen's Missions was taken up. This report was adopted and it is as follows:

REPORT ON FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

It will readily be seen by the facts stated in the report of the Board which is before you, that its work is enlarging from year to year. The missionaries have been faithful in the discharge of duty, blessed with health for service, and their labors have been crowned with such results as call forth our gratitude to God. In the five principal stations are nine ordained ministers and 64 missionaries, giving a teaching force of 73, with an enrollment of 3,079 Sabbath-school scholars. The total net membership in these and other mission stations is 575.

Your Committee gives these statistics from the annual report to show the success of the work of the Board during the last year. Its contents, as you may see, are encouraging; more missionaries, more pupils in the day school and Sabbath-school, more communicants, more native workers and greater efficiency; and every department of its work gives evidence of progress.

The Board asks this Assembly to grant an appropriation of $50,000 to carry on the work next year. Your Committee would recommend the following resolutions for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That we are grateful to God for the prosperity given in the work of the Board the past year, for his favor which preserved the lives and crowned the labors of our missionaries in this needy field with success.

2. That we hereby express our sympathy with the workers at Norfolk, Va., and Mr. H. A. Morgan in particular, in being the victim of a murderous assault by a saloon-keeper for giving testimony against him when summoned before the grand jury; and approve of the prompt measures of the Board for bringing the offender to justice.

3. That we hail with satisfaction the extension of the work for the Freedmen into the densely populated rural districts, especially in the black belt, as a decided advance, essential to the true idea of missionary effort, well calculated to reach a much larger number of this needy race, and promising to be more fruitful in results to our Church; and we recommend to the Board to make diligent effort toward a like extension from all the centers of the Freedmen's Missions.

4. That since the constant expectation of the Church in regard to the establishment of churches among the Freedmen is long in being realized, we recommend the Board and the workers to give very careful attention to the matter of introducing plans and methods of work, looking to the extension of our Church in the organization and establishment of congregations among the Freedmen.

REPORT ON WOMEN'S WORK.

The report of the Women's General Missionary Society, given to the Assembly, shows every department of their work to be in a most prosperous condition. It is only thirteen years since the General Society was organized, and already its accomplishments have reached magnificent proportions; every part of the Church's work has been greatly enlarged by means of the aid given by the Women's Board.

In the foreign field the salaries of twenty-five female missionaries have been paid during the past year, and four additional missionaries have been sent out; arrangements are already in progress for sending out four more this year. Some time ago the medical work in the foreign field was given into the care of the Women's Board, and right well has this work, which appeals so strongly to their hearts, been carried on. Two hospitals and three dispensaries in India under the control of female physicians are doing much to minister to the suffering bodies of those people, and thereby open the way for the higher ministry of the gospel for their dying souls. The medical work in Egypt has also been under their successful management, but it has now been brought to a point where it is believed it can be better carried on by the Foreign Board alone, and they ask that it be so transferred.

In the home field 18 female missionaries have been supported in various places, and the increase of attendance upon Sabbath-schools and church services shows the very great productiveness of this kind of work. The work among the Warm Spring Indians has been prosecuted successfully during the year at an expenditure of $3,452.

In the Freedmen's work during the year, the Board erected a school building at Prairie Bluff, Ala., as a memorial to the memory of Mrs. Jennie H. Gillespie, a former member of the Board, at a cost of $2,667. The Board is giving its attention chiefly to the industrial education of the Freedmen, and is supporting 12 teachers in that work. The last Assembly committed to the Women's Board the matter of the agricultural industrial training of the Freedmen, and the Board has purchased for this purpose 627 acres of land at Prairie Bluff, Ala., preparatory to carrying the plan into effective operation. The Board has expended $13,441 in the work of the Freedmen during the last year.

In Church Extension and Parsonage work, the Women's Board has given their aid with their usual liberality. $13,200 were expended for this work during the year.

The Junior Missionary work is reported to be in a prosperous condition; 43 new societies were organized during the year, including a membership of 1,812 members. The contributions of the little people amounted to $4,113. It is proposed to publish, as soon as possible, a missionary paper for the Junior Societies.

The ladies report that their annual thank-offering the past year amounted to a liberal sum, and it is proposed to make the offering the coming year reach, if possible, $75,000, as a suitable recognition of the fact that this will be the tenth year of their annual offerings of thankfulness to God.

The plan of opening training schools, in connection with our theological seminaries, for lay workers, was inaugurated the past year with good results.

The report shows that the Women's Missionary Societies of the Church include only about 19,000 members, which cannot be more than one-third of the whole number of women in the Church.

We recommend the following resolutions for adoption:

Resolved, 1. That the Assembly has received with great satisfaction the report of the Women's General Missionary Society, showing such successful work in all its departments.

2. That the request of the Women's Board, with the approbation of the Foreign Board, to have the medical work in Egypt placed entirely under the care of the Foreign Board, be granted, and that the work be so transferred.

3. That the Assembly urges upon all pastors and sessions to give all possible encouragement to the Women's Missionary Societies in their respective congregations, and endeavor, if possible, to have all the women of the Church take part in the work.

4. That, inasmuch as the Junior Missionary Societies conducted by the Women's Board, and the Junior Unions conducted by the Young People's Union are working along the same line, and for the same object, we recommend that the Women's Board appoint a committee of three of their number to confer with a like committee from the Young People's Union, to be appointed by the General Committee, "to devise a plan of uniting these two organizations, and report thereon to the next Assembly."

Miss Sallie McDowell was heard on the claims of the Women's Magazine.

The Committee on Young People's Work presented their report. Rev. J. A. Duff, general secretary, and Rev. Edgar MacDill, president of the Omaha Local Union, addressed the Assembly. Before disposing of this report proceeded to the order of the day, when Rev. John H. Prugh, delegate from the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, presented the salutations of the body he represented, and the Moderator responded in the name of the Assembly.

After prayer by Rev. J. W. Taylor the Assembly adjourned.

7 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. J. A. Burnett.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The report of the delegate to the synod of the Reformed Church in the United States was read and referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

During the order of the day, a conference on foreign missions, Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick presided. The report of the conference, through the chairman, was that a pleasant and profitable meeting had been held. This report was adopted.

After prayer by Rev. J. A. Kennedy the Assembly adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.

June 3, 1896, 8.30 o'clock a. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. J. C. Greer.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Rev. James Parker, Ph. D., was appointed to take the place of Rev. S. R. Lyons on the Standing Committee on Reform.

The consideration of the first part of the report of the Committee on Finance was made the order of the day immediately after the presentation of papers.

A communication from the non-partisan Christian Temperance Union was read and referred to the Committee on Reform.

Took up the report of the Committee on Finance. It was agreed to close the discussion on the first part of the report at 9.25 a. m. The resolution to elect a financial secretary was lost. The whole report was recommitted, with instructions to harmonize the report with this action.

The Committee on the Board of Publication presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON PUBLICATION.

Your Committee on the Board of Publication would respectfully report that it has carefully reviewed the published report of the Board for the past year, and finds that the year just ended has been one of activity and considerable progress.

With the successful completion of the proposed new building, and the effort to extend the denominational influence by new publications, as well as the successful effort to sustain the high standard of the regular publications, the Board heartily should be sustained.

Your Committee would recommend,

Resolved, 1. That the effort being made to extend the influence of the Church and cultivate a livelier denominational interest, by the publishing of literature calculated to stimulate such feeling, be heartily commended.

2. That we notice with pleasure that grants exceeding $2,000 have been made to needy and important mission stations, and that the Board be encouraged liberally to distribute denominational literature wherever practicable, as a most helpful missionary agency.

3. That we express our appreciation of the efforts of editors and publishers for the painstaking labors in connection with the issuing of the Christian Herald and Bible Teacher, believing them specially helpful and stimulating in the Sabbath School work and among our young people.

4. Desirous that our Board may have the widest possible influence, and be most helpfully and loyally supported in its efforts to serve the Church, that the Board be urged to make a specially persistent effort to provide standard publications at prices which will compare most favorably with widely known houses dealing in Theological Literature.

The report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on co-operation with Presbyterian Churches in home mission work was laid on the table.

Before disposing of the report of the Committee on Young People's Work, the hour of adjournment arrived, and the Assembly adjourned after prayer by Rev. A. M. Smeallie.

1.30 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Elder Hugh Copeland.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The report of the Committee on Young People's Work was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

To your Committee was referred the report of the General Committee of the O. Y. P. C. U. This forms the basis of our report.

In this report there is an unquestioned manifestation that the young people of our Church are more alive to the present work of the Church and to the demands of the age than at any previous time. There has been an encouraging growth in organizations, membership, and contributions.

Although there has been an increase of only two societies, the gain of membership is 2,393. The contributions to the boards of the Church were $7,011; to expenses of societies, $10,125; to other purposes not designated, $16,909. The total contributions were $35,310. This is an increase over last year of $3,130. The average contribution of the societies is $55.78.

The Junior work likewise shows a commendable progress. Last year 211 societies were reported; this year 238; last year there was reported a membership of 5,451; this year a membership of 8,902. Their contributions are $1,007 over last year, making the amount this year $3,762 as against $2,755 last year. There has also been an encouraging growth in the missionary societies. This year there is a membership of 2,910 as against 2,127 last year.

While evidently this is the most encouraging report that any General Assembly has yet received, yet it is to be regretted that the reports to the General Secretary were not more full, for had there been complete reports from each society as to the amount of contributions and the number of members, a much more encouraging report would have been before your committee. In other words, the facts are evidently in excess of the reports actually made out and sent to the General Secretary.

Your committee believes that they cannot express too highly their thankfulness and appreciation for the great success and the enthusiasm that prevailed at the Columbus convention of last August, and we believe that the mighty impulse as to liberality in contributions and the spirit of zeal from on high, that prevailed at that convention, were an impetus toward a higher plane of Christian living throughout the entire Church.

Your committee is profoundly impressed with the thought that a universal spirit of thankfulness should constantly go up to God from the hearts of all our people, for this new baptism from on high that our heavenly Father has so graciously bestowed upon our young people.

1. Your committee would recommend that there be an increased attendance on the part of the pastors and supplies in the field, and also that a greater effort by them should be put forth that the weekly meetings of the young people should always be attractive and instructive.

2. That there should be greater attention directed to a fullness, minuteness, and accuracy of reports that are to be forwarded to the proper authorities.

3. While your committee regard with the highest appreciation the increased amount of the contributions of our young people, yet it would be their desire that a larger proportion of their offerings should go to the general work of the Church.

4. Anent the matter of the societies of our young people contributing during the fourth quarter of this coming year to the Board of Education, which was referred to your committee, it is recommended that in their several organizations our young people be asked to contribute to no particular board of the Church, but that they conscientiously contribute to the general work of the Church "as the Lord hath prospered them."

5. Anent the paper referred to your committee, looking to a relation that might be established between our young people and the Society of Christian Endeavor, signed by W. H. McMillan and others, your committee, recognizing the great work and influence of the Society of Christian Endeavor, would recommend that the prayer of the memorialists be granted, and that a committee of five be appointed by this Assembly to confer with the president and officers of the Society of Christian Endeavor, to ascertain what, if any, relation can be established between our Young People's Christian Union and the said Society of Christian Endeavor, and report thereon to the next General Assembly.

6. In reference to the memorial from the Columbus Institute regarding the preparation of music suitable for Junior societies, we recommend that the request be referred to the Board of Publication, with instruction to issue such music from time to time as they may deem helpful to the needs of the Junior societies.

An invitation for the General Assembly to hold its next meeting at Rock Island, Ill., was read and accepted. The hour of meeting was fixed at 7.30 p. m.

The Committee on the Board of Ministerial Relief presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

There has come into our hands the twenty-third annual report of this Board, which states that its members have been able in the past year to respond to every call for assistance, and to extend its work of aiding those entitled to claim the benefactions of the Church. Sixty-three persons are enrolled as beneficiaries, an increase of four over the preceding year. A number of others are likely to be added soon.

Notwithstanding the shrinkage in receipts from presbyteries, and the fact that the amount received from this source was little more than forty per cent. of the amount paid to beneficiaries during the year, the financial condition of this Board seems to be excellent. The Endowment fund is now $140,150; total receipts, $24,672.72; total payments, $20,423.08; balance, $4,249.04.

This Board asks for an appropriation of $10,000 for the ensuing year.

Your Committee would recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That with the members of this Board we render thanksgiving to the Father of all mercies for the evidences of his favor toward their work.

2. That we approve the work of this Board and commend its purely benevolent efforts to the whole Church, trusting there will not again have to be reported so many presbyteries giving little or nothing to its funds.

The reasons for the protest of Rev. J. I. Frazer were read, ordered to be recorded, and a committee consisting of Revs. W. H. McMillan, D. D., R. H. Hume, D. D., and J. C. Scott, Ph. D. were appointed to answer said reasons of protest. The reasons of protest are as follows:

REASONS OF PROTEST BY J. I. FRAZER.

I do hereby respectfully and solemnly protest against the decision of this General Assembly in refusing to sustain my appeal in the case of Rev. S. D. Johnston;

1. Because by this action the General Assembly has sustained the Presbytery of Oregon in not admitting my protest and appeal with reference to the trial and final judgment in the case, "because of discourteous terms contained in the appeal" (see Minutes of Presbytery, p. 400). The only terms in this paper, to which I have ever heard objection on this ground, are the words of a complaint appended to my protest and appeal, which, as presented and read in presbytery, contained the following words and no others: "Complaint—In connection with this protest and appeal I must complain to synod of the unfaithfulness of the presbytery of Oregon, as shown by their manifest unwillingness, through the whole course of this case, to sustain and enforce the law of our Church, when the evidence of its violation was before them." The refusal to admit my protest and appeal on such grounds I believe to be contrary to Book of Government and Discipline, chapter XI, section 3, and chapter XII, article 3, section 8.

2. Because by this action the General Assembly has sustained presbytery in declaring the charge on communion, expressed in the very terms of the law, irrelevant, on the ground that "the administration of the Lord's Supper is under the control of the session, and if the church law has been violated the session as a body is responsible, and not the pastor individually." The defendant has been practising open communion, inviting to the Lord's Supper any who were present and wishing to commune, as we were prepared to prove. How can it be that the session as a body is to be held responsible for the words and acts of the pastor in administering the sacrament, to such an extent that the pastor has no responsibility left as an individual for his own words and acts?

3. Because by this action the General Assembly has sustained the presbytery in declaring the charge on psalmsody not proved, when we have the positive testimony of three witnesses, not controverted, but sustained by the testimony of others (all being members of our Church in good standing) that the defendant did sing an uninspired hymn in the worship of God. That the opening exercises of the Christian Endeavor meeting, at which the defendant sung an uninspired hymn, were devotional is proved by the testimony of three witnesses.

4. Because by this action the General Assembly has sustained the presbytery in visiting upon me "its gravest censure" upon a charge without either proof or opportunity of defense. I solemnly affirm that there is not one word of truth in the charge that I have long manifested a litigious spirit of opposition to Bro. Johnston in his work at Seattle. The other charges upon the ground of which this censure was passed I do not think amount to anything.

5. Because by this action the General Assembly has sustained the presbytery against my complaint as above stated, in reference to the unfaithfulness of the Presbytery of Oregon. At first the presbytery refused to hear the statements of members of the church, as to violations of law in their own congregation. After clear and positive evidence of these violations was in the hands of its committee presbytery refused either to consider it or take any action. When the identical charges, on which this case came up to this Assembly, were first presented in presbytery they were declared out of order, and the minutes of this action obliterated, I persisted in asking for a hearing, and after more than six months the charges were tabled. Then the presbytery sought, by intimidation and unworthy motives, to induce me to withdraw the charges. A paper was adopted containing charges against me; and then the proposition was made on the floor of presbytery and pressed upon me in private that this paper would be withdrawn if I would withdraw charges against Mr. Johnston. I can not help but believe that these and other facts presented in the records of this case show an unwillingness on the part of presbytery to enforce and sustain our law on psalmsody and communion. If the presbytery believed that the session alone was responsible for the violation of our law on communion why did the presbytery not call the session to account when the evidence was offered? The presbytery has up to this time refused even to hear the evidence, although the prosecutor had assumed the responsibility of proving that the law had been violated.

For the sake of brevity in this paper I will omit my reasons of protest in reference to the unjust exclusion of testimony, and the granting of a certificate to the defendant while under charges. With a strong conviction that the action against which I protest is subversive of our principles on psalmsody and communion, I submit these reasons of protest. J. I. FRAZER.

The nomination of the committee provided for in resolution 5 of the report of the Committee on Young People's Work was referred to the Committee on Nominations.

The Committee on Finance presented a report which, as amended and adopted, is as follows:

REPORT ON FINANCE.

The reports of the treasurer of the Foreign, Home and Freedmen's Missions, Church Extension, Publication, Ministerial Relief, Gibson Trust Fund, and Trustees of the General Assembly, have been put into our hands, and are found correct.

The report of the Committee of Ways and Means shows that good work has been done, and that considerable advance has been made in contributions to the work of the Church. The subject of tithe paying has been pushed with vigor, a large number of cards and literature on the subject has been distributed, and many persons have pledged themselves to tithe paying in the future. Owing to pressure of private business, the members of that Committee feel that they are unable to give the time and attention to the work that its importance demands, in consequence of which "the work of the Church suffers injustice and is crippled."

Agreeably to suggestions of the Trustees of the General Assembly, your Committee would recommend

1. That greater care be taken by testators and attorneys when writing wills to use terms and phrases unmistakable in their meaning.
2. That persons take into serious consideration the propriety of making their donations to church funds during their life time.
3. That a committee of three be appointed by this General Assembly, which shall report to the next Assembly, to devise a plan by which the Boards of the Church may receive donations which are conditioned upon the payment of a reasonable annuity to the donors during life.
4. That the Trustees of the General Assembly be referred for authorite and direction as to the distribution of surplus funds in their hands to thy "General Rule Concerning Bequests" in the "United Presbyterian Digest" page 195.

Your committee would respectfully call attention to the fact that the directions of the Assembly last year in reference to the signing of warrants by the president and secretaries of the boards, and the treasurers furnishing, with their audited accounts to the General Assembly, a certificate of the bank or banks where the funds are deposited, has not in all cases been complied with. But as the rule requiring warrants to be signed by the president and secretary of each board does not seem to be practicable, we recommend

5. That the warrants be signed by two officers of the board that they may designate.
6. That financial agents be instructed to furnish each congregation in their respective presbyteries a quarterly statement showing the amount received from each congregation for the different funds, and the amount asked for.
7. That the Clerks of the Assembly be authorized to use the proceeds of the sale of the safe for fitting up the vault in the Board of Publication building for the use of the trustees of the General Assembly and the Boards of the Church.

8. That the following bills be paid:

Committee on Ways and Means	$127 31
" " Railroad Fare	16 00
" " Union Metrical Version of Psalms	30 00
" " Seminary Control	98 90

The Committee on Theological Seminaries presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARIES.

I. From the documents put into our hands, we learn that the past year has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the Allegheny Theological Seminary. The directors report no change in the faculty during the year, and that the professors have been regularly in place giving instruction in their respective departments; and that a training school has been established in connection with the seminary classes, by opening the classes and lectures to all comers of good moral character; but that no general interest was manifested in the way of taking advantage of the privileges granted.

They report further, that the amendments to the constitution of the seminary, proposed by the committee of the General Assembly to negotiate with the synods, having control of the seminaries, were all adopted; and in the event of the adoption of the overture on the subject of seminary control by the Assembly, and the enactment of the same into a permanent law, will become part of the constitutional law of the seminary.

Your Committee recommends the following action:

Resolved, 1. That we approve of the amendment to the constitutional law of the Allegheny Seminary.

2. That we approve the actions of the Board of Directors, so far as they come under the supervision of the Assembly.

3. That we render thanks to God for the prosperity of the seminary during the past year.

II. No general report from the Board of Managers of the Xenia Seminary has come into the hands of your committee.

We recommend the following action:

Resolved, 1. That we approve the constitution of Xenia Seminary, amended so as to embody the action of the Assembly on the subject of seminary control by the General Assembly.

2. That the Board of Managers of the Xenia Theological Seminary be directed hereafter to report annually to the General Assembly.

III. Last year the Newburg Theological Seminary was opened for a summer term of three weeks, for the study of the English Bible, and methods of Christian work. The sessions of the school were so largely attended and the results so gratifying, that the Synod of New York recommended its permanent establishment. The Board of Superintendents has made arrangements for a summer term of three weeks, beginning July 15, 1896; a competent corps of instructors has been engaged, and an excellent program prepared.

Your committee recommends the following action:

Resolved, That we approve the action of the Board of Superintendents of Newburg Theological Seminary in establishing a summer school at Newburg, and commend the school to the patronage of the Church.

IV. A memorial to modify the course of study in theological seminaries has also been referred to us. It is as follows: "We, the undersigned ministers of the United Presbyterian Church, respectfully memorialize the Assembly to so modify the existing curriculum of study in the theological seminaries as to provide for a department for the systematic and devotional study of the English Bible; also to provide for the thorough, practical training of the students in personal and direct evangelistic work." This memorial has 70 signatures.

Your committee would recommend the following action:

Resolved, 1. That the directors of the theological seminaries be instructed to report to the next Assembly what is being done in the way of giving instruction in the English Bible, and in training students in evangelistic work.

2. That, since the course of study in the seminaries has not been revised for a number of years, a committee be appointed to consult with the directors and professors of the seminaries, as to what changes, if any, should be made in their curriculum; the committee to consist of J. K. McClurkin, D. D., A. G. Wallace, D. D., R. H. Hume, D. D., E. C. Simpson, D. D., and W. H. McMillan, D. D.

V. The committee, appointed to negotiate with synods having control of the seminaries, with the view of adjusting any apparent or alleged discrepancies between the action of the General Assembly on the overtures, and their chartered rights, reports that the synods in control of the seminaries of Allegheny and Xenia have transferred to the Assembly the measure of control over the seminaries, contemplated in the overtures, by adopting the following amendments to their constitutions:

"The election shall be subject to confirmation or veto by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. The Board of Directors shall report to the next following General Assembly the name of the professor elected and the professorship to which he is chosen. In case the election is confirmed, the professor shall be inaugurated. In case of a veto, the Board of Directors shall take steps to fill the vacancy, as above provided. If the General Asembly to which an election shall be reported does not veto the same, it shall be held as confirmed."

"The permanent transfer of a professor from one chair to another shall be considered an election, and shall be reported to the General Assembly for confirmation or veto."

"The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America shall likewise have power to remove any professor for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided in the Book of Government and Discipline of the United Presbyterian Church, and in case of such removal, the Board of Directors shall take steps to fill the vacancy so created."

The General Assembly having enacted the overtures submitted to the presbyteries, these amendments now become part of the permanent constitutions of these seminaries.

Your committee recommends the following action:

Resolved, 1. That the Assembly approves of, and expresses its gratification at the promptness and unanimity with which the synods have amended the constitutions of their seminaries, so as to conform to the new relations in which they stand to the Assembly.

2. That it shall be the standing rule of the Assembly that the election of a professor shall be reported to the next Assembly following the election, and not later than the third session of the Assembly; and action to be taken not later than the fifth day of the meeting, notice having been given at least one day previous.

3. It shall also be a standing rule of Assembly that if the Assembly, to which the election of a professor is reported, does not veto said election, it shall be held as confirmed.

4. The permanent transfer of a professor from one chair to another shall be considered an election, and shall be reported to the General Assembly for confirmation or veto.

VI. In relation to the theological seminaries located at Cairo and Sialkot, there are peculiar complications as to the management of these schools and tenure of property, making it impossible to formulate present action. Therefore we recommend the continuance of the Committee on Seminary Control to report to the next General Assembly.

VII. Concerning the theological department of Knoxville College, we recommend that the relation of that department to the General Assembly be referred to the Committee on Seminary Control to report to next Assembly.

VIII. The Board of Managers of the Xenia Theological Seminary report the election of Rev. J. D. Irons, D. D., to the chair of Hebrew and Old Testament Literature.

Resolved, That this Assembly confirms the election.

The time of adjournment was extended three-quarters of an hour.

The Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions presented a report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

There was referred to the committee the report of the Board of Foreign Missions to the Assembly. From this and the statements of the secretary we select for your special attention and action the following points:

I. The kind providence of God in preserving the lives of all the foreign missionaries in this country and in the field, and of all the members of the board. We are even inclined to mention as a special favor of God the great grace given to our dear brother, Girgis Anshalian, enabling him to testify to Christ with his blood, "faithful unto death." There is this cause of joy even in his sad death, his cruel assassination, that it was a glorious martyrdom.

II. The disturbances among the nations and races, which form the field of Christian missions, are also to be noted, and the divine protection that gave quiet and safety to our two missions amongst the same class of peoples as caused disturbance and war and fanatical riot in many other lands. We and other nations of the earth may have had just cause to complain of many acts of the government of Great Britain in former and recent history. But we, as a Church, have ample cause to thank God for the power his providence has entrusted to her Majesty Queen Victoria in Egypt and India, and to pray for its continuance and extension.

III. The financial condition of the country and the financial exhibit of the board's treasury taken together are of special interest. A most anxious, uncertain, in many respects disastrous, financial condition, and the largest contribution our Church has ever made to foreign missions! The prophet Haggai teaches that that is the right way to restore good financial conditions. Perhaps we may hope for some improvement in national finances and business prosperity, as the result of last year's work in foreign missions, and we should use the same means more vigorously in time to come. Not gold standard, nor bimetalism, nor protection, nor free trade, but "All the tithes in the storehouse, meat in my house," is the Lord's condition of even temporal prosperity. The last Assembly's appropriation was all paid in and more.

For this result, under the grace of God, we would joyfully recognize the agency and influence of the annual convention of O. Y. P. C. U. at Columbus last August. Steady but weary veterans in the evangelizing of the vast heathen world heard the shout and saw the rush of the young people, and caught up hope again. With this new development of a force that always existed in the Church, but was not always recognized, and did not always recognize itself, with the now well-tried and proved help of the Women's Missionary Societies, with the aid of friends whom God raises up so opportunely; with candidates, both men and women, eagerly offering themselves for the foreign field, shall the Church fall short of what the Board of Foreign Missions asks for the coming year? Shall we not give all that is asked, and then give more, and then double the amount, and then double it again, and at his invitation "prove the Lord herewith," and find how soon we can empty out our treasures in his service faster than he can and will fill them?

IV. The divine favor shown in the success of the gospel as preached and taught by our foreign missionaries and mission churches and native helpers. In that exceedingly discouraging field, with its mighty hindrances to the gospel and to the acceptance of it, the net increase of communicants over last year was 700, or, by the figures of the statistical tables, about one-third the net increase of the whole Church.

We offer the following resolutions for adoption by the Assembly:

Resolved, 1. That this Assembly confirm the appointmont of Rev. Robert Reed McClure, Rev. Osborne Crowe and Miss Josephine Martin to India; and Rev. W. H. Reed to Egypt; and that Rev. George A. Sowash be appointed without designation of field, and that the Board be recommended to present to him the special needs of India before a decision is reached with regard to the field to which he is to be sent; and that the Assembly give authority to the Board to send out additional missionaries during the year as God in his providence may open the way.

2. That the Assembly reappoint, according to the recommendation of the board, Rev. David Strang to the mission in Egypt.

3. That the Assembly approves and highly appreciates the conduct of the board, and the faithfulness and efficiency of its officers during the past year.

4. The thanks of the General Assembly are due and are hereby expressed to the special helpers named in the report of the board, especially to those not identified with our Church, namely, Mr. Peter Mackinnon, of Scotland; John P. Duncan, Esq., of New York; Mr. F. C. Penfield, U. S. Diplomatic Agent and Consul General in Egypt; Lord Cromer, Her Majesty's Minister and Consul General in Egypt; Halton Pasha, President of Railway Commissioners, Egypt; The American Tract Society; The American Bible Society; The British and Foreign Bible Society; The Bible Lands Mission Aid Society; Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son, London; and Messrs. Peoples Brothers, Liverpool.

5. That we gratefully recognize and joyfully accept the fellowship and cooperation of the Holland Christian Reformed Church in our foreign mission work. One missionary reared in that church and contributions more than half enough to pay his salary are the present fruits of this fellowship, besides the fraternal sympathy and friendship it has produced between the two churches. They differ in language but are one in the love of Christ with us.

6. The Assembly hereby expresses fervent grati ude to God for all his great and numberless favors bestowed on this part of our work during the past year; and especially for providing in the extreme need of the field and plainly in answer to prayer, so large and so excellent a force of willing missionaries to reinforce the weakened and weary workers in the field.

After prayer by Rev. J. T. Campbell the Assembly adjourned.

7 o'clock p. m.

The Assembly met and was opened with prayer by Rev. T P. Proudfit.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The Committee on Correspondence presented the following additional report, which was adopted:

ADDITIONAL REPORT ON CORRESPONDENCE.

Official letters have been received from the following fraternal delegates: Rev. G. R. White, from the Associate Reformed Synod of the South; Rev. Henry M. Cox, from the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America and Rev. M. W. Hamma, D. D., from the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the United States.

Rev. J. O. Campbell, D. D., our delegate to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America writes that he expects to attend the meeting of that Synod, June 3, at Catskill, N. Y. The delegate to the Associate Reformed Church, South, reports his attendance upon the meeting at Due West, S. C. Our delegates to the Holland Christian Reformed Church, state that they expect to attend the Synod June 17, in Grand Rapids, Mich. Rev. W. S. Owens, D. D., appointed by this Assembly to convey our fraternal greetings to the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, now in session at Dayton, O., reports his attendance at that Synod.

We feel that we cannot too strongly emphasize the importance of this fraternal interchange between the Churches, as we cannot know how the Lord is using it to bring his Church more closely together, and to answer his own intercessory prayer, "That they all may be one."

The Committee on union with the Associate Reformed Church of the South reports no official correspondence during the year, but that progress is being made through unofficial correspondence. The Committee on union with the Holland Christian Reformed Church reports that no meeting of the joint Committee has been held, as no further steps can be taken until the Synod of the Holland Church shall have acted upon the report adopted by our General Assembly of last year. The Committee on Federation of Churches, appointed by the General Assembly of 1894, and reappointed, 1895, reports that no meeting of the Federal Council has been held, owing to the failure of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church to adopt the plan of federation. We are advised that the Assembly will take action at its meeting this year.

We recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That these committees be continued, viz., the Committee on union with the Associate Reformed Church of the South; the Committee on union with the Holland Christian Reformed Church, and the committee on the Federation of Churches.

2. That the following fraternal delegates be appointed: To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. A. M. Campbell, Ph.D.; to the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, Rev. A. I. Young; to the Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Rev. J. R. Brittain, D. D.; to the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, Rev. A. S. Vincent, D. D.

The Committee appointed presented the following answer to the reasons of the protest of Rev. J. I. Frazer, which was adopted:

ANSWER TO J. I. FRAZER'S REASONS OF PROTEST.

Reason I. It is a sufficient answer to this that the evidence shows that the case was taken up by the Synod of Columbia, and after a full hearing the action of the Presbytery of Oregon was unanimously sustained.

Reason II. In answer we call attention to the action of the Assembly of 1868 in its deliverance on the sixteenth Article of our Testimony, wherein it is said: "Sessions, of course, are responsible for the manner in which they exercise this discretion (the admission to the communion of persons not members of the United Presbyterian Church), but the right to exercise it is unquestionable." The defendant ought, therefore, to have cited the whole session to answer to the Presbytery for the exercise of its discretion in the above matter.

Reason III. The Presbytery acted in this case according to the action of the Assembly of 1887, in which it declared, "No definite rule can be laid down by which all can be enabled to determine between acts of worship and exercises of a kindred but less solemn character; something must, therefore, be left to the good sense and Christian prudence of each individual." The evidence does not show that Mr. Johnston sang hymns in what he regarded as the formal worship of God, or that he transcended the liberty allowed by the above action of the Assembly. That the Presbytery was faithful in maintaining this principle, is shown by the fact that they did admonish him to be exceedingly careful in the exercise of this liberty.

Reason IV. The Presbytery acted within the law of the Church, which holds an accuser responsible for the presentation of unfounded charges against a ministerial brother, and there is no evidence to show that the Presbytery went beyond its proper authority in this case.

Reason V. It is a sufficient answer to this that the Presbytery did go through the entire case, first by a committee of investigation; and second, by judicial proceedings, in which Mr. Frazer had full opportunity to present his case under the rules of evidence governing judicial cases.

The Committee on Appropriations presented a report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Your Committee would recommend an appropriation of the following amounts to the various boards:

To Foreign Missions	$108,000
" Home Missions*	100,000
" Freedmen's Missions	50,000
" Church Extension	50,000
" Ministerial Relief	8,000
" Education:
For regular work	10,000
" educational institutions	20,000
" Assembly's Fund	3,000
Total	$349,000

*With the direction that the Board of Home Missions set apart five per cent. of the contributions for the purpose of restoring the reserve fund.

The Committee on Devotional Exercises presented the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT ON DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES.

Your Committee would recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That Rev. A. M. Campbell, Ph. D., be appointed the Moderator's alternate to preach the opening sermon at the next meeting of the As-at Revs. H. C. Marshall, J. T. Meloy, A. L. Davidson and C. E. appointed a committee to arrange for conferences for the next As-

The Committee on Reform presented a report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON REFORM.

Your committee, to which was referred various papers relating to reforms, would respectfully report that: Since there is no proper Christian acknowledgment in the Thanksgiving proclamation of the President of the United States and those of a great majority of our State governors, whereas there should be in all such documents due mention of the Lord Jesus Christ, through whom alone any divine worship has acceptance, and since there is usually noticeable defect in the recital of mercies bestowed upon the nation and in the suggestions regarding petitions to the throne of grace, we recommend the following:

Resolved, 1. That the Moderator and Principal Clerk of the General Assembly be instructed to issue at the fitting time a fitting Thanksgiving proclamation.

2. That pastors and pulpit supplies be requested to read this proclamation in connection with thanksgiving services.

Believing that a crisis is at hand in the work of National Reform, because of the fact that an amendment to the constitution of the United States has been formulated and is in the hands of a committee of Congress, and will be before Congress for adoption or rejection during the coming year, and whereas this crisis calls for special efforts on the part of friends of this reform, and we believe there are many in all parts of the Church who would regard it a privilege as well as a duty to contribute to this cause in the present emergency, therefore we recommend that a contribution be given by each congregation of our Church during the coming year, and as early as possible.

Believing as we do that the Church of Christ must press steadily on in opposition to the deadly liquor traffic, we recommend, in accordance with the request of the London S. S. Union, and the action of the last General Assembly, that the fourth Sabbath of November be appointed as Temperance Day.

2. That we hereby petition the International Committee of the Evangelical Alliance that one entire day of the Week of Prayer be devoted to prayer for the removal of the drinking usages of society, and the abolition of the traffic in alcoholic beverages, and of the opium habit and trade.

Believing, as we do, that the social application of Christianity is the needed cure for our serious social evils, we recommend that the Moderator and Clerk of this Assembly be and hereby are authorized to sign and send petitions, in duplicate, to each of the two houses of Congress, requesting our legislators,

1. To raise the "age of consent" in the District of Columbia to 18 years, and to extend this law to the territories.

2. To restore the former law of the District of Columbia against Sabbath desecration.

3. To apply to interstate gambling by other means of communication the penalties provided for interstate gambling by mail and express.

And we further recommend all who are opposed to these evils to follow up these petitions with personal interviews and brief, courteous letters to officials and legislators, remembering that the mail-box is only second to the ballot-box as a power in politics.

We would call special attention to the evils arising from the prevalence of the secret lodge system. False worship is behind and is the support of all this evil. The secret lodges that exclude the Redeemer of men from their worship, and yet profess to point out the way of salvation, are much to be deplored. Statistics show that such associations are multiplying. Their baneful influences are everywhere manifest. Our Church has always been faithful in her testimony against them, yet remembering that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," we would urge,

1. That all pastors be diligent in procuring all facts concerning these organizations, and presenting the same to their people.

2. That we endorse the undenominational work being done for this cause by the National Christian Association through its agents, and we commend its literature to our people.

We believe that the question of the hour in international affairs is the question of the peaceful arbitration of all international difficulties. We believe that, in the difficulty which lately arose between this and the mother country, relative to Venezuela, the influence of the pulpit was powerfully exerted on behalf of peace. We believe that no difference between Christian nations should be allowed to be a cause of war, and that none should arise which the Christian wisdom of such nations cannot peaceably settle. Therefore, we pledge ourselves not to relax watchfulness and endeavor until the principle of arbitration in all international difficulties be embodied in a binding treaty.

Certain resolutions respecting alleged violations of the law of the Church by Seattle congregation were read and laid on the table.

The Committee on Nominations presented a report, which was amended and adopted. It is as follows:

REPORT ON NOMINATIONS.

The Committee on Nominations recommend the following persons to fill the vacancies in the Boards of the Church and Committees of the General Assembly:

BOARDS.

Trustees of the General Assembly—Graham Scott, R. E. Stewart, Esq., James H. Scott.

On Annuities—Rev. A. G. Wallace, D. D., A. P Burchfield, W. J. Sawyer.

The Moderator and Principal Clerk were empowered, after consultation with the pastors of Rock Island and Davenport, to designate the church or place in which the general committee of missions will meet.

The following resolutions of thanks were adopted by the Assembly:

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS.

Resolved, 1. That we gratefully render thanks to our heavenly Father for the blessings bestowed on us during the sessions of this Assembly.

2. That we congratulate our Moderator, Rev. Jas. White, D. D., on his election and his genial bearing, patience, courtesy and tact as a presiding officer.

3. That the Assembly thank the brethren of the Presbyterian Church for the use of their beautiful church building for committee meetings.

4. That we thankfully recognize the thoughtfulness and kindness of the Xenia pastors and those associated with them, who have so efficiently served on the various committees of entertainment, and those in charge of the post office.

5. That we convey our thanks to the ladies of the Xenia and neighboring churches for the sumptuous dinners so daintily served in the halls of the Theological Seminary, and the hospitality of their homes.

6. That we appreciate the full and accurate reports of the proceedings of this Assembly by the Xenia Gazette.

7. That we acknowledge the favors shown us by the various Traffic Associations.

8. That we will always remember the Thirty-eighth General Assembly for its royal entertainment, harmonious proceedings, and careful attention to the important business claiming its attention.

9. That special thanks be returned to the pastor and members of this congregation for furnishing us with this house for our meetings, and other acts of kindness; and to the trustees of the Theological Seminary for the use of the seminary building.

The minutes of this session were read and approved.

The Assembly was dissolved when the Moderator said: "By virtue of authority to me delegated, I do hereby dissolve this General Assembly, and require another General Assembly, chosen in the same manner, to meet in Rock Island, Ill., on the fourth Wednesday of May, 1897, at 7:30 o'clock p. m."

The Assembly was led in prayer by the Principal Clerk, Psalm 72:15-18 C. M., was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the Moderator.

JAMES WHITE, Moderator.
WILLIAM J. REID, Principal Clerk.
A. G. WALLACE, Second Clerk.

APPENDIX.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Our business during the past year has been more formal than eventful. Nothing of special importance has required our attention. The treasurer's report, duly audited, shows receipts from rents, bequests, donations, and sale of property (reported last year), with disbursements of the same during the year.

The only special expense has been for securing the bequest of Mrs. Maria Johnston, of Juniata County, Pa., to "the General Mission funds of the United Presbyterian Church." This resulted, after being carried to the Supreme Court, in the collection of $2,628.37.

Such cases suggest: First, Greater care by testators and attorneys in writing wills, to use terms and phrases unmistakable in their meaning. Second, The propriety of persons making their donations to the church funds during their lifetime. Third, That the Assembly either devise a plan, or authorize the maturing of a plan, by which the trustees and the different boards, or the trustees for the different boards, may receive donations, on condition of paying a reasonable annuity to the donors during life.

We would also suggest that the trustees be authorized hereafter to distribute any surplus funds, after paying expenses and orders of the Assembly, on the basis of the appropriation, by the Assembly, year by year.

The term of office of Graham Scott, R. E. Stewart, Esq., and James H. Scott expires on the 30th of June next.

Samuel Collins, Prest.
Pittsburgh, Pa., May 25, 1896. Graham Scott, Sec'y.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

I. INTRODUCTORY.

In presenting this, the thirty-seventh annual report to the General Assembly, the Board of Foreign Missions feel that they have abundant reason for gratitude to God. The lives of the members of the Board, and of all the missionaries, have been mercifully spared throughout the year. There has been sickness among the missionaries, even causing some to come to the home land for restoration; but all lives have been preserved, and there is hope of recovery in the case of those who have been more or less prostrated by disease.

The year has been an eventful one. Among the nations there have been wars and rumors of wars. China and Japan were engaged in actual conflict. The former, containing more than one-fourth of the entire population of the globe, was humbled by the latter. Japan, almost at a bound, leaped into prominence among the nations. The influence of mission work, and of Christianity, was manifested in the civilized mode in which her warfare was conducted. But the cause of missions suffered in both of these countries in connection with the war, suffered as it has not done since the Sepoy rebellion in India in 1857. From one of the provinces in West China, nearly all of the missionaries were expelled. Some even lost their lives at Ku-Cheng, and throughout the Empire the mission work was more or less broken up or impeded.

Later in the year all hearts have been made sad at the atrocities committed [illegible]h Empire, and especially in Armenia. Thousands of Armenian [illegible]ve been slaughtered in cold blood by the savage Kurds or Turks, [illegible] of thousands of defenseless women and children have been reduced to beggary and starvation. Our own mission in Egypt did not entirely escape from this calamity. One of our devoted native ministers, the Rev. Girgis Anshalian, who was graduated in one of our own theological institutions here, and licensed by one of our own presbyteries, being on a visit to his native land, Armenia, fell a victim by the bullets and swords of the infatuated Turks. He was offered his life if he would renounce his religion. Loyal to his master, he was faithful unto death, and has joined "the noble army of the martyrs." By this terrible outbreak in Turkey, much foreign mission work has been paralyzed or destroyed. Our sympathies are specially with the American Board. Nearly one-third of its entire work in foreign lands has suffered calamity from which it will require years to recover.

Our Church has much reason for gratitude that our missionaries have been spared. These atrocities in Armenia are the natural and inevitable outcome of Mohammedanism unrestrained. Mohammed himself and the Koran have sanctioned, if not required, the destruction of all who will not embrace the Mohammedan faith. It should not be forgotten that seven-eighths of the population in Eygpt, and fully two-thirds of that of the Punjab in India, are followers of the false prophet. Were it not for the restraining power of Christian Britain, the scenes in Armenia that have shocked the civilized world during the past few months might be repeated at any time in Egypt and in the Punjab.

II. THE FINANCES.

As we entered upon our ecclesiastical year, the financial outlook in our country was becoming more hopeful, and we trusted that our land was beginning to recover from the depression of the two years preceding. Our hopes have not been realized in this regard. The agitation in relation to the financial policy of the country has continued. This has had a depressing effect upon the finances, which has been greatly increased by the agitation of the country's relations, first with England and later with Spain. In consequence of this, it has been more difficult to secure money for benevolent objects than during the preceding years. These events and conditions of the year have been testing our faith, and the faith of our own and other missionaries; yet all this trial has no doubt been working for good, and preparing us for more and better work than heretofore. It is a matter of sincere gratification that the war clouds that seemed to arise on our horizon at times during the year have for the most part disappeared. The protest of the Christian people of Britain and the United States, against these nations going to war, has been earnest and universal. It makes us hopeful that these leading nations of the world will adopt a peaceful mode of settling difficulties that may arise, and that henceforth there will be no war between them. It would be difficult to conceive of a more terrible blow falling upon the cause of foreign missions than that of these Christian nations engaging in bloody conflict. It would be against every earthly interest of the human race. May God avert such a calamity.

III. FINANCIAL EXHIBIT.

Notwithstanding the depressed condition of the country's finances, the Board has great reason for gratitude and rejoicing. The people throughout the Church have come up nobly to our help. Evidences of a deepening interest in the work have multiplied during the year. Many instances of self-sacrificing devotion in giving have come to our knowledge. As a result, notwithstanding that the missions have been largely reinforced and the expenses thereby proportionately increased, it will gratify the Assembly, and the whole Church, to know that the close of the year found us square in our accounts with the missions and with a balance in our treasury. To secure this result the outlay in the missions was as economical as possible. Liberal donations by travelers and friends in Egypt helped us. The rate of exchange with India has been very favorable during the year, and the Board has had the advantage of this. The amount received from legacies was larger than in preceding years. All these things contributed to the good result.

The following is a condensed statement of receipts and expenditures presented by the treasurer:

IV. APPROPRIATIONS.

The Assembly is asked to make the following appropriations for the present year. These are less by several thousand dollars than the estimates received from the Mission Associations. In view, however, of the continued financial depression in our country, the Board has not felt warranted in asking the Assembly for larger amounts. It is left with the missions to make the reductions from their estimates in whatever departments of the work that will be least injured thereby. Gladly would the Board have recommended the Assembly to grant the entire estimates made by the missions had they felt that they could do so without involving the Church in debt, which experience has taught us is very difficult to remove when once incurred:

To India	$54,000
" Egypt	58,000
For Salaries of Missionaries at Home	7,000
" Children of Missionaries in America	875
" New and Returning Missionaries	7,000
" New Work	4,000
" Printing, Postage, Salaries of Cor. Sec'y and Treas.	2,700
Total	$133,575

Included in the above total amount is $25,000 pledged by the Women's Board, Women's Presbyterial Societies, Sabbath schools, congregations and individuals.

V. MOVEMENTS OF MISSIONARIES.

In the autumn of last year the doctors in India ordered Rev. Thos. E. Holliday and wife to return to this country, as the only means to save the life of their little daughter, who had been sorely afflicted for months preceding. The Mission and the Board gave them leave to come home. They left India in November and reached this country December 12. They settled in their home in Cadiz, O., where we are glad to say their daughter's health has been gradually improving.

To the great regret of the Mission and the Board, Rev. G. W. Morrison was also compelled to leave India in the late autumn on account of the precarious condition of Mrs. Morrison's health. Going by the eastern route, they landed on the Pacific coast January 15. The journey by this route was a little more expensive than by the one usually taken, but Mr. Morrison agreed to pay the extra expense from his own funds. Coming home by this way they were enabled to visit relatives on the Pacific coast, and Mr. Morrison was permitted to see and speak to nearly all our organized churches in that region. By stages they have been making their way eastward. Mrs. Morrison's health, we are glad to report, has been constantly improving, and hopes are now entertained for her complete recovery. Mr. Morrison expects to be at the General Assembly as a commissioner from his presbytery in India.

Rev. J. S. Barr, D. D. and wife, having remained in India beyond the period of ten years, obtained permission to return to this country. They are expected in June.

Misses C. E. and Rosa T. Wilson, on account of their health, asked and obtained leave to return from the same mission on a furlough. They were to leave India in May, and will be due in this country by the middle of June, or a little later.

Rev. Dr. Ewing and wife, having remained in Egypt much beyond the allotted period, asked and obtained permission of the Mission and the Board to return to this country on a furlough. Their arrival is expected at an early day —possibly in time to be present at the Assembly.

Rev. J. Kruidenier and wife, on account of the condition of their youngest son, and for other reasons, asked that they might have their furlough from Egypt this year. The time for this had scarcely expired, but considering the circumstances the Board and the Mission granted their request. They left Egypt April 5, and reached this country May 5. Mr. Kruidenier expects to be at the Assembly as a commissioner from the presbytery in Egypt, He will also be at the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church in June, where he will speak to his former brethren in their own tongue. It is hoped that his visit will aid the cause of union between the two Churches, and at the same time be instrumental in awaking a much deeper interest among his Holland brethren in our foreign mission work.

For the purpose of making arrangements for their family, and attending to certain business matters, Rev. J. R. Alexander, D. D. and wife, instead of taking their furlough at the usual time, asked and obtained the consent of the Mission and the Board to come home on a furlough of two or three months this summer during the vacation of the college at Asyut. They may reach this country in time for Dr. Alexander to be at the Assembly. In the early autumn they will return to Asyut for the opening of the college. By the arrangement made they will postpone their regular furlough until the year 1900.

VI. RETURNED AND NEW MISSIONARIES.

Rev. A. B. Caldwell and wife, having enjoyed their furlough from the mission in India, and having made satisfactory arrangements for their children whom they were leaving in this country, sailed from New York for their mission field October 26, and reached their destination, December 17. They at once took up the work to which their lives have been devoted. Miss Kate Corbett, who was compelled to return some three years ago on account of her health, having obtained medical opinion that she was restored and in health sufficient to justify her in going to the mission work again, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell to the field, and is successfully engaged in the Girls' Boarding School in Sialkot.

The General Assembly last year formally appointed Rev. David R. Gordon and Miss Jennie B. Morrison to the mission in India, and Rev. Ralph E. Carson and Miss Adelle McMillan to the mission in Egypt. The Assembly gave authority to the Board to appoint and send out additional missionaries during the year. The call from the missions, and especially from India, for help was intensely loud and earnest. The Board rejoices to report that, as it is believed in answer to prayer, the Lord of the harvest raised up the greatly needed laborers. On July 8, Miss Sallie E. Dickey, of Baxter, Pa., was appointed to the mission in India. On August 26, Rev. H. J. Kyle and wife, of Mundale, N. Y., and on the same day, Rev. John A. McConnelee and wife, of DeLancey, N. Y., were appointed to the same field. On September 9, Rev. J. W. Ballantine, of Winfield, Iowa, and on September 26, his wife and on September 16, Miss Fannie C. Martin, were appointed to the same mission. All of these, except Mr. McConnelee and wife, (who were detained one week) sailed for Egypt and India October 26. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell and Miss Corbett. Mr. Carson reached Egypt November 24, and Miss McMillan on the 28th. The whole party for India arrived in their field December 17, where they had a joyful welcome by the missionaries who had been calling for help until they were well nigh in despair. This party of six- ·mbraced the largest number of new missionaries ever sent out by the at one time, and constituted a noble reinforcement for our mission fields.

But large as this reinforcement was, it did little, if anything, more than fill up the ranks that had been thinned by removals. The call for additional laborers still came from the mission fields. The Board directed the Corresponding Secretary to visit the theological seminaries. He found more enthusiasm among the students than had manifested itself perhaps in any former year. A large number of the young men expressed their willingness and desire to go with the gospel to the heathen. The Board could not assure all who were willing to go of an appointment, because of the condition of the treasury. They at length resolved to nominate to the Assembly for formal appointment at least two young men from each of the seminaries. Unexpected obstacles came in the way of some whom they had agreed to appoint. After due investigation as to their qualifications and consideration of all the circumstances, the Board, at their meeting January 20, agreed to recommend to the Assembly for appointment to India Rev. Robt. Reed McClure, and to Egypt, Rev. Geo. A. Sowash. At a meeting held March 9, Rev. Osborne Crowe and Miss Josephine Martin, daughter of Dr. Samuel Martin, were nominated for appointment to India. At the meeting on May 11, Rev. W. H. Reed was nominated for appointment to the same mission.

In view of the still pressing need for laborers in the missions, the board asks the Assembly for authority to send out additional missionaries during the year, if the state of the treasury will warrant them in so doing, and especially to send at least two or three young women to Egypt.

In the autumn of 1894 Rev. David Strang, formerly a missionary to Egypt, was providentially led to go back to that country on account of the ill-health of his son. Subsequently Mrs. Strang joined him, to find that but a few days before her arrival her son had been laid in the grave. Thus providentially in the country and having well retained the use of the language, Mr. Strang applied to the board to be re-appointed to the mission. The board, considering that they had not authority to make the appointment without the Assembly's consent, asked the mission on October 14 to assign some work temporarily to Mr. Strang at the salary usually paid to missionaries. He has been successfully engaged in mission work for several months, and the board, believing that he can be usefully employed for years in the future, recommends his re-appointment to the mission work in Egypt by the Assembly.

VII. MISSIONARY RESIGNED.

Between two and three years ago Rev. E. E. Fife was compelled, on account of failure of health, to come home from the mission in India. He has improved by the change of climate and has been usefully employed in the home mission work in Lincoln, Neb. His own judgment, however, and that of his physician, is that his health has not been sufficiently established to justify his return to India, and that it may not be, at least for some time to come. He, therefore, sent his resignation to the board, and it was by them accepted April 13. The necessity for this action was deeply regretted, as Mr. and Mrs. Fife were among our most devoted and efficient missionaries. It is hoped that his health may yet be restored so as to justify their re-appointment to the mission work.

VIII. THE MISSIONS.

(A) EGYPT.

(1) Encouragements.—The work in this mission has gone on throughout the year without any serious hindrance or interruption. The annual report shows that there has been a decided advance in almost every department of labor. It institutes a comparison with preceding years, and says that this "will show that each one of the great departments of our work—native ministers, congregations, mission stations, communicants, attendance, Sabbath schools, common schools, book distribution, contributions and fees, has increased at the rate of 50 per cent. each five years, and has doubled and trebled each ten years." While the population of Egypt has probably increased about 12 per cent. in the last ten years, the mission has increased at the rate of 100 to 200 per cent.

(2) Statistics.—The board presents a condensed statement of these as follows: There are now in the field 16 ordained missionaries and 15 wives of missionaries, and 9 single women. There is one physician, making a total of 42. There are 22 native ministers who are pastors and 19 licentiates; 11 young men are in the theological seminary. The total number of native workers is 401. There were 4 ministers ordained and installed during the year; 3 students were licensed and 5 were admitted to the study of theology; 4 congregations were organized and 32 new stations occupied, making the whole number of stations 190, a net gain of 23. There are 37 organized congregations, and 25 of these have native pastors. Two of the congregations are entirely self-supporting. Others are nearly so, and all are working towards that end. In these congregations and stations are now 5,004 members; 2,833 of these are men, and 2,171 are women; 577 members joined by profession during the year—a net increase of 450. The average attendance on the Sabbath morning services is 9,729, and at the night meetings 4,252. The number of Sabbath schools is 125, and the pupils are 6,222. There are 161 common and boarding schools, and in these are 10,871 pupils. Of books of all kinds there were distributed during the year 62,137. Included in these were 14,079 volumes of the Scriptures. The contributions by the natives for all distinctly religious purposes amounted to $13,552, an increase of $2,899 over the preceding year. For tuition, boarding fees, etc., in the schools, $20,774 were given. The total contributions by the natives for all purposes amounted to the munificent sum of $47,244, an average of $9.44 per member. For every dollar sent from this country about $1 has been contributed by the natives in Egypt. The receipts from the sale of books were $10,906, and for medical services, $2,042. The statistics in detail will appear in the annual report to be published by the Board. Enough has here been given to cause every Christian heart to thank God and take courage.

(3) The Outlook.—This is in almost every aspect encouraging. It is true that there is complaint of worldliness on the part of not a few of the members. All do not contribute as they should do for the support of the gospel among them. Some, even men of influence, do not keep the Sabbath as a holy day, and neglect its religious services. Of course the mission has constantly to encounter Mohammedan bigotry and fanaticism, and Coptic formality and superstition. But, on the other hand, there is so much to cheer that all hearts are hopeful.

The report says: "All the churches and stations are doing what they can in paying the expenses of their pastors and preachers; so that the native church, as apart from the mission, pays about half its entire expenses. It has undertaken a home mission work, and work among the women, to which it contributes $300 to $500 annually. It has devised a system of relief for superannuated workers, and raises about $100 each year for this object. It nearly supports an energetic little church paper, and pays the entire expense of printing and publishing a lesson leaf of 3,800 copies each week for the Sabbath schools. * * * The schools have made a tremendous advance over last year, having increased from 119 to 161, and the pupils from 7,975 to 10,871. Many thousands of the young men of the country—the leaders in life and thought in many communities—have been trained in these schools. Notice, too, that there are more Mohammedan than Protestant pupils in our schools, and nearly five times as many pupils of other religions as of Protestants. The total cost of the educational work for 1895 was $33,682. Of this sum the people paid $20,744, or about 61½ per cent. * * * God's word is being offered to every town and every community. It will not return to him void. The offering of the Book to all classes affords wonderful opportunities for presenting the truth to all. Even the Mohammedans are beginning to inquire and believe. A good number have been baptized, and during the past year several—including a family of father, mother and son—were baptized. A hundred Mohammedan women are learning to read, and scores of others are hearing the gospel by means of our Harim workers. * * * Our schools are increasing, and our evangelistic and colportage [illegible] ever widening. The masses of the people are gradually being reached [illegible] various agencies, and in the new districts especially, by the itinerant agency of our colporteur evangelists. Each year the work in its various departments is growing and expanding. By natural expansion the native church is rapidly lengthening its cords and strengthening its stakes."

(4) The Medical Work.—This is under the charge of Dr. V. M. Henry, at Asyut. It has prospered greatly during the year; 14,068 patients have been treated, 115 surgical operations performed, 1,667 houses visited, and $2,042 received in fees. The Bible has been read and explained by a Bible man to the patients while awaiting their turn to be treated, and not a few have been enlightened and impressed by this means. Thus, healing for the body and for the soul have been constantly connected, and more interest in the gospel has been manifested than in former years.

(5) Evangelistic Districts.—For some years it has been felt that the Presbytery of Egypt was too large to operate effectively the methods of work. The first thought was to divide the Presbytery, but this, on consideration, was not deemed politic. It was judged to be better to divide the country into six large evangelistic districts, each division to be placed under a special committee of superintendence, consisting of three ministers and two elders. A permanent committee of general superintendence is to form the connecting link between the district committees and the presbytery. This scheme is now in operation, and the annual report says: "It already gives promise of being a great improvement on the former system. It is hoped that with the experience gained in this way, the six districts may soon develop into six presbyteries."

(6) Others in the Field.—Until lately the whole field of Egypt has been by common consent left almost entirely to our United Presbyterian Church. The country being largely under control of Great Britain, and our mission being so prosperous, it was not unlikely that the attention of missionary boards or committees in England should be turned to that country. Several of these, and one small society from the Continent, have actually entered the country and have, in some small degree, initiated mission work. The polity of these societies, their modes of worship, and forms of government being quite different from ours, and our mission having already occupied the great centers of the country, our Board felt that the incoming of these different workers would be unfortunate in many respects. A friendly correspondence has been entered into with the societies in question. It is hoped that the result may be the withdrawal of these laborers from the field, or at least, that their numbers will not be increased. We would not exhibit any jealousy or wish to hinder any who would work for the salvation of souls, but it seems to be a pity that missionaries of various Boards should crowd into Egypt which is rapidly being so well occupied by our mission, while so much of the world is utterly destitute of Christian workers. The facts thus stated, however, present a louder call to our Church to occupy the whole land with the utmost possible speed, that others may have no plausible reason or plea for entering into it.

(B) INDIA.

(1) Obstacles and Discouragements.—The usual methods of work have been pursued in this mission during the year, and on the whole with gratifying results. It is true that obstacles have been in the way and discouragements have been experienced. The Roman Catholics have been working against the mission in some parts of the field, but not with as much activity or success as in the year preceding.

The Reformed Presbyterians have still continued in the field at Gujranwala. They have attracted to themselves some of our members, and have unsettled the minds and conduct of some of our native workers. The prosperity of the work, however, in this district has increased during the year. It is still hoped that our sister Church will withdraw from this field. In the circumstances there must continue to be friction and evil results. The field in India is too wide to justify the crowding of missionaries into the same district. Our missionaries had fairly occupied that portion of the country, and mission comity should have left them undisturbed.

The Salvation Army also invaded parts of our field during the year. It employed some unworthy agents, who by improper inducements drew away a number of our laborers and members. Protests against these methods were entered in vain. It is hoped, however, that the eyes of most of our native Christians have been opened, that reaction is taking place, and that the evil has about spent its force. The "Army" has certainly not commended itself to our mission, or to other missions in the Punjab, as an evangelizing agency. That part of India, at least, would be better without its presence. The annual report says: "We are sorry to have to say that a people bearing the name 'Salvation,' should come to hinder, rather than help us."

Another source of discouragement has been the removal of many of our members from some of the districts to West Gujranwala and Jhang. There was not sufficient mission force to follow these and retain them within the fold. Very serious loss in membership has in consequence resulted.

(2) Encouragement.—Still the net gain in membership has been considerable, and the number of baptisms for the year has been large. Now that the mission force has been increased, and as there is a prospect of additional increase this year, a much larger degree of success may confidently be expected in the not distant future. The following condensed statistics, indicating the general progress of the work, will be read with interest.

(3) Statistics.—There are 11 mission stations, and more or less work has been done in nearly 600 villages. In the field are 16 ordained American missionaries and their wives, and 9 ordained natives. Associated with these are 17 single women missionaries and 2 women physicians from this country. Of the native helpers there are 198, making a total native force of 219, and a grand total of workers of 254. There are 14 congregations and several of these have pastors. One of these congregations receives no aid from the mission treasury, and all pastoral relations are formed upon a sliding scale of support. In these churches and in the stations and villages are 6,582 communicants and baptized adults. Of these 564 were received on profession during the past year. There are 12 licentiates and theological students. In the 125 Sabbath schools are 3,022 scholars. There are 170 village schools with 6,261 pupils—5,040 males and 1,221 females. For the support of these schools the government has granted $6,391, and the natives have paid in fees $5,697. In addition to these fees the native Christians have contributed $562 for religious purposes. There is connected with the missions 1 theological seminary, 1 college, 4 high schools, 3 middle schools, and 170 village schools. Engaged in the girls' schools and zenana and medical work are the wives of the missionaries, as far as their time and strength will allow, the 19 single women missionaries, and 32 native women helpers. Truly these figures are cheering at the present, and make the outlook hopeful indeed!

(4) Methods of Work—(a) Evangelistic.—In regard to these the board insists upon the preaching of the gospel as the great means of salvation to all classes of those perishing in sin, and the mission is quite in accord with this. Accordingly the ministers of the gospel preach in the churches and bazaars of the central stations, and in the towns and villages around about. In the cool season each missionary, accompanied by his wife and one or more young ladies and native helpers, is expected to spend several months in itinerating. The object in this is to reach, if possible, every town and village in each district. In one or two cases this object has been accomplished, and every village in a given district has had the opportunity of seeing the living missionary and hearing the word from his lips. Of course such visits, in many cases, have been mere calls and but little time could be given when the number of villages is so great. One of the missionaries, Rev. W. T. Anderson, says in his annual report, referring to his itinerating tour: "We preached in two hundred and ten [illegible]en villages to 7,500 men, besides the women seen by Mrs. Anderson and [illegible]lper." Another missionary, Rev. J. H. Martin, says: "We have al[illegible]) work among non-Christians, for the reason that we have had too much [illegible]ork to do. In passing from one Christian community to another, the [illegible]s been presented to many who have never heard it, but we have not been able to follow it up, or to do in any systematic way what we could call evangelistic work. There are scores of villages in our district (West Gujranwala) which have never yet heard the news of salvation."

This indicates the great need of the mission for more help. But little advance or outlying work can be undertaken. The attention demanded by the native Christians about exhausts the missionary's time and strength. In relation to this Rev. J. H. Martin writes again: "The work of gathering up the Christians of the new settlements has taken up all my time. Whatever has been done in what is usually termed West Gujranwala has been done in passing through to other work. * * * By reason of the scarcity of men more than double work has been assigned to every one. No man has a right to accept such an appointment. It is bad for all the work. Better have a little well done than too much half done. The Church at home should do her duty and keep the places full. As now reinforced the mission will be able to do much more aggressive work.

(b) The schools.—While the preaching of the gospel is the great aim of all, the educational work is regarded as being important. Specially is this true of the education of the Christian children and youth. By means of education the very foundations are taken from the false systems of religion in the land, and by this means also an intelligent Christian community is gradually developed and Christian ministers and workers are brought forward. Hence education is given an important place, and some of the missionaries, men and women, are largely occupied with this department of work.

(c) The Zenana Work.—It is true in India, as in oriental countries generally, that the great mass of heathen women are secluded in their houses and can be reached by women missionaries only, and hence the great necessity for the presence and work of these. It is true, too, that no great elevation of the people can be accomplished until the wives and mothers become Christians, and are trained in Christian morality and modes of living. To accomplish this end the wives of the missionaries give such time as they are able, and most of the young women missionaries give the chief part of their labors to the zenana. By this means the way of salvation is being made known in many of the poor humble homes, and not a few are coming out of darkness into Christ's marvellous light. This is one of the most interesting and important branches of the mission work, and many more laborers are needed for it in India and in Egypt as well.

(d) The Medical Work.—This is under the charge of Mrs. S. E. Johnson, M. D., and Miss Mary A. Platter, M. D.,—the former at Jhelum and Bhera, and the latter as Sialkot. Each of these has some valuable native women assistants. Dr. Johnson reports that at Jhelum during the year 9,371 new and 2,895 old patients received treatment. Twenty-three villages in the northeastern part of the district were visited in February, and over three thousand patients treated in their own villages. The opening of the new dispensary in Jhelum has been of great advantage to the work. We quote: "Our patients have also shown their appreciation of it, for never before in all the six years of our work in Jhelum has the outdoor department been so full throughout the year, nor so visited by all classes of women, more especially by the high caste zenanas who used to consider it a disgrace to come to the old dispensary for treatment."

Dr. Platter reports that "there have been 30 'in' patients in the hospital at Sialkot during the year, 7,266 old patients and 3,968 new patients have been treated in the dispensary." Connected with all this work Bible women have been employed in reading the Scriptures and talking upon the subject of religion while the patients have been awaiting their turn for treatment. Through these patients, too, access has been had to not a few homes, and there the gospel has been made known. This whole arm of the mission service has been gaining in strength and efficiency.

IX. SELF-SUPPORT.

Again during the year the board has been insisting upon renewed efforts in both of the missions in the direction of self-support by the native Christians and churches. The Fourth Conference of Secretaries and other representatives of the boards in the United States and Canada, met in New York in January. One of the great questions specially considered was that of self-support in foreign mission fields. All of the boards are more and more turning their attention to this, and giving instructions and directions in relation to it. Our missions are heartily concurring and are doing what they can to bring the native Christians up to the measure of duty and responsibility in this respect. The Christian people in Egypt are advancing in a way that is reasonably satisfactory. In India the members of the Church are poorer and the progress is slower. They are progressing, however, and no effort will be spared to bring about, with all the speed possible, the greatly desired result. A native self-supporting, self-propagating, independent church must be the goal toward which all missionary efforts shall tend. The sending out of foreign missionaries is not to be perpetual.

X. SPECIAL HELPERS.

(1) Among these mention must be made first of all of the Women's Board and the Women's Missionary Societies throughout the presbyteries. The Women's Board has selected and nominated to the Foreign Board for appointment the single women missionaries that have been sent out during the year, and backed up by the Presbyterial Societies, they have paid the outfit and passage money for these and have also provided for their annual salary and the salaries of nearly all the single women in the mission fields. This is noble indeed and deserves the thankful recognition of the Assembly and the whole Church.

(2) A number of congregations of the Holland Christian Reformed Church have made liberal contributions to our treasury during the year. The amount thus given is about double that of the preceding year.

(3) The Young People's Societies have shown a growing interest in foreign missions, and have increased their contributions to this cause. The enthusiasm awakened at the Columbus Institute was remarkable, and spread its benign influence widely throughout the Church. The board recognizes with gratitude this uprising of the young people of the Church, and regard it as one of the most hopeful assurances of the extension of the gospel in the near future.

(4) The Women's Magazine has gone out in large numbers of copies monthly during the year, bearing full treasures of missionary articles and letters giving information of mission work in general and of our own in particular. The papers of the Church, too, have kindly published the "Monthly Statement" of the board, and numerous letters from the missionaries. All this has tended to make the Church more intelligent in regard to the mission work, has increased the interest in it, and thus helped our treasury. The board gladly makes recognition of these valuable co-laborers.

(5) Some "Friends," who have not granted leave to have their names mentioned, have put into our treasury $700 to create a fund to be known as "The Sterrett and Agnes Cummins Memorial." This amount is to be invested and the income from it is to be used perpetually for the furtherance of the mission work. This is noble on the part of these "friends."

(6) Mr. Peter MacKinnon, of Scotland, lately gave to the mission in Egypt £1,000 as a memorial fund to be called "The Helen Love MacKinnon Fund." This amount is to be invested and the annual income to be used specially for the education of girls in connection with our mission in Cairo. For this munificent gift Mr. MacKinnon received the most hearty thanks of the mission and the board, and should be thankfully recognized by the Assembly. The generous donor has, in many ways, and by noble gifts, aided the mission in former years.

(7) The board has been greatly helped during the year by means of bequests. Had it not been for an increase in these the year would not have closed as it did financially. Thus, by the thoughtfulness and good will of those who ave gone to their graves, the work of the Lord is being carried on and they, ng dead, are speaking by their benefactions. May their example stimulate ny others to remember Christ in his cause as one of their heirs.

(8) Many individuals and societies outside of our Church have greatly helped by generous contributions and acts. Of these we may specially mention, and the Assembly should specially thank, the following: John P. Duncan, Esq., of New York; Mr. F. C. Penfield, U. S. Diplomatic Agent and Consul General in Egypt; Lord Cromer, Her Majesty's Minister and Consul General in Egypt; Halton Pasha, President of Railway Commissioners, Egypt; The American Tract Society; the American Bible Society; The British and Foreign Bible Society; The Bible Lands Mission Aid Society; Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son, London; and Messrs. Peoples Brothers, Liverpool.

Above all let most hearty thanks be given to the great King and Head of the Church; who has heard our prayer; who has sent forth laborers into the harvest, and who has crowned this, another year of our foreign missionary work, with his blessing.

Respectfully submitted,

M. G. KYLE, President.
W. W. BARR, Cor. Sec.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS.

This year also death has removed one of our members. Thomas S. Stewart, Esq., passed away from earth, after a short illness, on the 17th of April. His service with us, though not long, was most faithful and efficient.

Regular meetings of the Board have been held monthly. For the preparation of business to come before the General Committee and the General Assembly four special meetings, each lasting for most of a day, have been necessary.

1. CONDITION AND PROGRESS OF THE WORK:

In considering this comparative statement it must be remembered that fewer stations than usual received aid during the year just closed. Allowing for this most of the leading items are fully up to the figures of last year; but the gain of members is very much less. In view of the constant advance reported for many years, it is not surprising that some falling off should at length appear, even if it were general. But a careful examination of statistical summaries shows that the diminished rate of growth is almost wholly in certain portions of the country, where repeated failure of the crops and other extraordinary causes have made increase very small and loss by removal very large. Leaving out these districts the gain is nearly as large, proportionally, as in past years. While the progress, generally speaking, has not been so marked, yet the condition of the work is encouraging.

The increasing debt of the Board has made it impossible for two or three years past to grant help to many new stations. This arrest of extension into new fields has not as yet seriously affected the general prosperity of the home mission work, because these years have been marked by universal business depression and cessation, for the time, of the development of the country. But these unfavorable conditions are beginning to pass away. The calls for help have been many, even during these years of stagnation, and we have not been able to respond to them. They will surely increase in number and in urgency in the near future. We cannot permit these calls to be refused much longer without seeing bad effects upon the growth of the Church. Relief from the burden of debt, increased means to support and extend this great home mission work, are needed. God has wonderfully blessed this part of our Church work hitherto, and his continued favor is certain if we are willing to meet the responsibilities which He is laying upon us, and to improve the golden opportunities he is giving us.

II. GRANTS BY THE BOARD. Most of the appropriations for home missions are fixed in detail by the General Assembly, but it is customary to place certain sums at the disposal of the Board to meet emergencies arising during the year, and to provide for cases specially referred. Last year the amounts so granted were $2,660 for cases referred, and $5,000 for emergencies. Of the former sum $1,610 has been used; of the latter $2,140, as shown in detail below. Many applications came from Presbyteries for aid to begin work in new stations, but the insufficiency of contributions made it necessary to refuse all such requests.

For cases referred: Boston, Lowell, $60 additional; Los Angeles, Pasadena, $600; Pawnee, several stations, $650; Pittsburg, Sheldon and Siloam Springs, $300.

To meet emergencies: Argyle, Greenwich, $90 additional; Arkansas Valley, Arkansas City, $200; La Crosse, $200; Sunny Dale, $300; Boston, Clinton, $100 additional; Wilkinsonville, $200; College Springs, Adams, $50 additional; Detroit, Erskine, $250; Keokuk, Harrison & con., $200; Le Claire, De Witt, $50 additional; Oregon, Seattle, $200 additional; Pawnee, Liberty, $100 additional; Spokane, Colfax, $100 additional; Oakesdale, $100 additional.

III. SPECIAL MISSIONS. Twenty-eight stations have been, by direction of the General Assembly, in the special care of the Board. Reports have been received from all of them. Regular services have been maintained in all these stations by settled pastors or stated supplies. Few changes have occurred, and very few are now anticipated. This is a highly satisfactory condition, for it is greatly to the advantage of the work to have the continuous service of tried and competent men. In a number of cases the congregations are now seeking the settlement as pastors of brethren who have heretofore served as stated supplies, and the Board has cordially approved the formation in this way of permanent relations. The membership reported in twenty-eight stations is 1,872, a net gain of 318, or over twenty per cent. Last year three stations were reported as having no Church building; now there are none, though the mission in Baltimore has but a temporary building, which must be replaced as soon as possible. Ten have parsonages, but none of these are yet clear of debt. In some of these missions little growth is seen, and the outlook for their ultimate success is not bright, unless changes occur in the existing conditions; but in most of them there has been excellent progress, as is shown by the unusually large increase. In the statements which follow, the utmost possible brevity is aimed at, as full details can be gathered from the statistical tables. The aid asked for the coming year has been in several instances larger in amount than the Board thinks advisable, under present financial conditions, to grant. Moreover, it is the profound conviction of the Board that in some of these special missions, as well as in very many other stations, the proportion of the salaries paid by the people themselves ought to be much increased.

Altoona, Presbytery of Conemaugh, '92-7.* Rev. R. A. Hutchison, by whom this mission has been served from the outset, continues in charge as stated supply. Industrial conditions in the community have improved and the present outlook is quite favorable. A renewal of last year's grant, $850, was asked by the Presbytery. The Board has fixed the appropriation at $800, with an intimation to the congregation that their subscription should be increased.

Baltimore, North, Presbytery of Philadelphia. '95-1900. Until the month of October this new mission was well and acceptably served by Rev. R. E. Carson, who then went to the foreign field in Egypt. The mission was begun about two years ago, chiefly through the efforts of Rev. C. H. Robinson, then pastor of the 1st Church. At the earnest request of the workers he consented to take charge of the new work, and accepted an appointment as stated supply. He will be continued in that relation during the coming year. Unusual prosperity has attended this mission from the beginning, and it gives promise of rapid advancement. Services are held as yet in a temporary building, but it stands upon a good lot, which has been purchased with the aid of the Board of Church Extension and is in an excellent location. $1,100 was asked and granted for the coming year.

Canton, Presbytery of Mansfield. '94-9. Rev. D. K. McKnight, Ph. D., has been the stated supply, and is reappointed. While there has been no numerical growth, the condition of the mission is reported as encouraging, and the outlook as likely to be much improved when the services are transferred from the unfavorable place in which they are now held, to the new house of worship which is almost completed. The grant of $1,000 has been renewed for the coming year.

Columbus, Neil Av., Presbytery of Xenia. '92-7. Rev. J. B. Wilson, who has labored so acceptably and successfully as stated supply from the time of organization, recently withdrew from the field, having accepted a call to the pastorate of the 1st Church, Baltimore. By action of the Presbytery the congregation is receiving supplies with a view to settlement. The work has prospered in every way during the year. $700, a reduction of $50, was asked and granted for next year.

Davenport, Presbytery of Rock Island. '84-9. 94-95-8. Rev. J. T. Meloy is the settled pastor. He reports the congregation in very good condition, and while the field is one presenting unusual difficulties, so that growth cannot be rapid, he thinks the prospects for success in time are good. The grant of $500 has been renewed, but the Board urges upon this congregation that an earnest effort be made to reduce the amount of aid asked.

Denver 2nd, Presbytery of Colorado. '93-8. Rev. J. G. Kennedy, stated supply, has been reappointed. Since entering the new church a year ago, the work has assumed settled form, and has gone forward with success. Business conditions in the city are still unfavorable to rapid growth, but signs of better times are not wanting. With the blessing of God there is every reason to expect success. The congregation is well organized and in good condition for effective work. A renewal of the grant of $1,200 was asked by the Presbytery. The Board has allowed $1,150 and hopes the congregation will be willing and able to add to their own contributions the $50 thus cut off.

* These figures indicate terms as Special Missions.

Findlay, Presbytery of Sidney. '90-5-8. Rev. J. F. McKnight has continued as stated supply during the year. He reports the congregation in good condition and working spirit, and quite freed from certain internal dissensions which prevailed at the time of his appointment. The growth is slow, and there is not much prospect at present of improvement in this respect. Mr. McKnight has expressed the desire to be relieved of his appointment at the first of July, but inasmuch as the judgment of Presbytery has not been reported, and no special reason for change is apparent, the Board deems it advisable to hold the question open for the present. The grant of last year, $650, has been renewed.

Kansas City 1st, Presbytery of Kansas City. '93-8. About the first of February Rev. F. B. Murch, having accepted a call to another field, was released from the pastoral charge. Soon after Rev. J. F. Ross took charge of the congregation, as stated supply, under an agreement with the Board to remain until July 1st, and longer, if he should see the way clear. He has been heartily welcomed by the congregation, and at their request will remain during the coming year. His report shows very decided signs of improved internal condition, and a better prospect of growth in the future. The grant of $800 has been renewed, but in taking this action the Board expressed its decided opinion that the congregation should raise a larger amount for salary.

Kansas City 2nd, Presbytery of Kansas City. '88-93-8. Rev. James White, D. D., pastor. There has been an encouraging increase in the membership of this congregation, and Dr. White's report states that the city is at last entering upon a decided revival of business prosperity and that the prospects of success for our church are much brighter than they have been for some years past. The spirit of the congregation and its organization for work are excellent. $1,000 was granted last year, and the renewal of this amount was asked; but the Board has voted $900 for the coming year, at the same time directing that the congregation be urged to increase the amount they have promised, so that the salary of the pastor may not be reduced.

Kearney, Presbytery of Omaha. '88-93.94-7. Rev. M. M. Gilchrist, stated supply, has been reappointed. While the condition of the city and surrounding region has not been so distressing as was reported a year ago, yet insufficient crops have led to serious loss of population, and our Church work could not make much progress. It is, however, in healthy condition. A mission work some miles out of the city has borne good fruit. Prospects for the future depend very much upon more favorable seasons and the extension of irrigation. The grant of $800 has been renewed.

Muncie, Presbytery of Northern Indiana. '90-5-8. Rev. J. C. White, stated supply, has been reappointed for the coming year at the request of the congregation and Presbytery. Little growth is reported, but the congregation is stated to be harmonious and well organized for work. The grant of $800 has been renewed.

Oakland, Presbytery of San Francisco. '93-8. Rev. J. M. French has continued in charge as stated supply and is reappointed. Organization, working spirit and internal condition generally are good. Growth has been slow, and Bro. French reports some little discouragement arising out of this. But times have been exceptionally dull upon the Pacific Coast, and we may hope for more rapid progress when business revival comes. A renewal of the aid given last year, $1,100, was asked for, but the Board limited the grant to $1,000, feeling that a larger part of the salary ought to be paid by the congregation.

Olympia, Presbytery of Puget Sound. '93-8. Rev. W. G. M. Hays, D. D., whose appointment was reported last year, continues to be the stated supply. Within a few months a neat and convenient church building has been completed. There has been encouraging growth, but business conditions must greatly improve before we can expect to see rapid advancement. The working organization and the spirit of the people are good. They have given liberally toward the church building, but thus far have paid nothing toward the salary of the minister. Dr. Hays speaks in terms of the highest appreciation of the help given to our work, both financially and by personal effort and service, by our venerable father in the ministry Rev. J. D. Whitham. To him, indeed, the Church owes recognition as the real founder of our work in Olympia. The Presbytery asked that $1,200, an increase of $100, be granted for the coming year; but the Board has not felt warranted in doing more than last year and has renewed the grant of $1,100. The congregation should certainly be required to pay something toward the salary, even though other demands upon them are heavy.

Omaha, South, Presbytery of Omaha. '92-7. During the winter Rev. J. F. Ross asked to be released from his appointment as stated supply, assigning reasons which the Board regarded as sufficient, but also as in every way creditable to him. His work in Omaha was most efficient and satisfactory, and his resignation was accepted with regret. The congregation is in good condition, and the prospects quite as favorable as heretofore. Rev. H. P. Espy, of the graduating class at Xenia Seminary, has been appointed for the remainder of this and for the next year. He enters upon the work at the close of the Seminary session. The grant of $800 has been renewed.

Philadelphia, Wharton Square, Presbytery of Philadelphia. '93-8. Rev. J. P. Sharp, stated supply, has been reappointed upon the unanimous request of the congregation and Presbytery. This young mission shows vigorous life and has grown very considerably in numbers. Reports indicate encouraging condition in every way, and bright prospects for the future. $1,100 was asked for the coming year and has been granted.

Pittsburg, Kansas, Presbytery of Pittsburg. '90-5-8. Rev. J. H. Gibson, stated supply, has been reappointed. This good brother, after years of faithful labor, some of them years of trial and discouragement, rejoices in seeing marked prosperity. The past year has been the best in the history of the mission, and the outlook for growth is now very good. $700 was asked and granted for the coming year.

Portland, Grand Avenue, Presbytery of Oregon. '92-7. Rev. H. F. Wallace, D. D., after serving as stated supply since the organization of the mission, has been called as pastor and will soon be settled. To this movement the Board has given hearty approval. The work continues in good condition. At the request of Presbytery the Board renews the grant of $1,100, but in doing so has directed that the congregation be urged to take upon themselves a larger proportion of the support of their pastor.

Pueblo. Presbytery of Colorado. '90-5-1900. In July last Rev. A. E. Brownlee took charge of the work as stated supply. He has served with fidelity and acceptance, and is reappointed for the coming year. Careful revision of the roll causes a somewhat smaller report of members, and the continued business depression has prevented much growth. The report received from the missionary shows decided advance in the organization for work and in systematic giving. When more prosperous times come to the city there is reason to hope for more rapid growth. $900, a reduction of $100, was asked and granted for the next year.

Saint Louis, Wagoner Place, Presbytery of Southern Illinois. '93-8. Rev. A. C. Douglass continues as stated supply, with the evident good will of his people. The congregation, while its net gain is small, is gaining year by year in working efficiency and in liberality, and the prospects for its success are very good. Request was made for the renewal of the grant of $1,000, but the Board has allowed but $900. This reduction was made more reluctantly than in other cases, because this mission has always shown a disposition to give liberally; but necessity compels the vote and we hope the congregation will not permit the minister to suffer any loss.

Seattle, Presbytery of Puget Sound. '92-7. Early in the year Rev. W. M. Howie was sent to this field as stated supply. He has been reappointed upon request of the congregation and Presbytery. The statistics show considerable increase, and the report of the missionary indicates that the congregation is in good condition and that prospects for the future are fair. $1,050, a reduction of $50, was asked and granted. In taking this action the Board directed that the congregation be urged to increase its contributions for salary, so that a larger reduction can be made in the amount the Church is asked to give.

Sioux City, Presbytery of Northwestern Iowa. '92-7. Rev. J. A. McKirahan is the stated supply, as he has been since the work began. He has been reappointed, as requested by the congregation and Presbytery. The report of the missionary states that the work is in good condition, and the prospects for the future somewhat brighter than they have been. Reports from the Presbytery indicate some doubts as to the condition and outlook of this mission, and the Board has specially requested that body to make careful examination and then express its judgment definitely. It is true that progress has been very slow, but the work was begun at an unfavorable time, and the Board has had no information that was not, on the whole, encouraging as to the ultimate prospects. $1,100, a reduction of $100, was asked and granted for the coming year.

Springfield, Presbytery of Pittsburg. '93-8. Rev. John Teaz continues in charge as stated supply, and is reappointed. While there has been little increase, and difficulties have existed in the congregation, yet its condition is reported as improved, and the prospect for growth as better. $750, a reduction of $50, was asked and granted for the next year.

Waitsburg, Presbytery of Spokane. '92-7. By the last Assembly $650 was placed at the disposal of the Board for use at this place if found advisable. Some doubt was felt as to the arrangements that ought to be made. There had been an understanding for some time before Dr. Hays finally decided to leave the field that, if that event should take place, the principal or some teacher of the Waitsburg Academy would be asked to take charge of the congregation, receiving his main support from the school and accepting from the congregation what they might be able to give without aid from the mission funds. The congregation has not seemed likely to grow into self-supporting strength independently of some connection with the Academy. Circumstances, however, made it impossible to give effect to this understanding, at least for the present. The Academy cannot, as yet, pay a salary sufficient, even when combined with what the congregation can give, to provide a competent support for a minister. Unless both are to be abandoned, which cannot be thought of, the school and the congregation must be worked together for some time longer. Rev. J. A. Keener had taken charge of the Academy and was preaching to the congregation. The Presbytery earnestly and repeatedly urged that he be appointed as stated supply, and asked that $400 be allowed as a supplement to his salary. To this the Board agreed, and the appropriation and appointment have been renewed for the coming year. The Presbytery bears the strongest testimony to the efficiency of Mr. Keener in the arduous labors he has undertaken. While the arrangement thus made is clearly in violation of the regulation that ministers serving mission stations must not give their time to other work, yet the case is so plainly exceptional that it cannot be made a precedent. It may be said, further, that the prospects of the congregation do not justify the heavier outlay that must be made if the whole time of a minister is given to it, and it cannot be united with any other station.

The twenty-three stations above named continue for some time longer in the special care of the Board. Five others cease, with the current year, to be special missions. Their reports and requests will come regularly before the General Committee. Only in the case of Spokane is there specific request for the renewal of the special mission relation.

Detroit, Presbytery of Detroit. '91-6. Rev. W. H. Vincent, D. D., pastor. The work continues to prosper, and is in all ways in good condition. A church building is rapidly nearing completion. The field occupied is a fine one, and with the better facilities for work soon to be enjoyed, together with the relief the pastor will have from burdensome outside work, more rapid progress may be expected. A grant of $1,000, a reduction of $100, is asked for next year.

Lincoln, Presbytery of Pawnee. '91-6. Rev. E. E. Fife, stated supply. Some growth has taken place. The congregation is in good working condition. Reports show improvement during the year, and a more hopeful outlook for the immediate future, but much depends upon business conditions in the city and State. A renewal of the grant of last year, $1,100, is asked.

San Diego, Presbytery of Los Angeles. '88-93-6. Rev. R. G. Wallace, D. D., pastor. Little growth has occurred, but the pastor reports the general condition of the congregation as much improved, and the prospects for the immediate future of the city and the church better. An effort is being made to pay off some debt remaining upon the church. The Presbytery asks a grant of $800, $75 less than last year.

Spokane, Presbytery of Spokane. '91-6. Rev. W. A. Spalding, our first missionary to this field, has continued in charge. His report shows that the last year has been by far the best in the history of this young congregation. The city is again prospering and the outlook is full of encouragement. The requests of Presbytery are, a grant of $900, being $100 less than last year, the reappointment of the stated supply, and the extension for five years of the time as a special mission.

Tacoma, Presbytery of Puget Sound. '91-6. Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick, who has been stated supply since the organization of the mission, has been called as pastor, with the cordial approval of the Board. The year's record is one of greatly increased growth and improved prospects. If the hoped for revival of business comes, there is good reason to expect steady progress. A grant of $950, being $150 less than last year, is asked.

IV. Work of the Women's Board. The mission among the Warm Springs Indians has been sustained, as for years past, by the Women's Board. $3,453.52 have been expended by them for this purpose. In addition that Board has provided for the support of several women workers, who have rendered valuable service in some of the leading missions. The cost of this part of the work for the year has been $4,271.60.

V. Sliding Scale. Eighty-three stations in thirty-six Presbyteries were brought before the Board with requests for exemption from the present operation of the rules. Fifty are favorably recommended. The others have not, in our judgment, shown reasons to justify exemption. The Board has given much time to the consideration of the requirements of these stations, and feels that many of them would be benefited rather than injured by a strict enforcement of the sliding scale rule.

VI. Financial Condition.	1894.	1895.	1896.
Received from Presbyteries	$50,412 89	$47,926 86	$56,063 24
From Sabbath Schools and Young People	266 20	291 99	851 21
From Ladies' Missionary Societies	20 00	46 10	10 00
From Individuals	4,089 09	4,005 19	3,347 66
Total Direct Contributions	$54,788 18	$52,270 14	$60,272 11
From Legacies	4,962 97	6,555 72	2,860 26
From Investments	1,343 74	892 17	884 30
Total Receipts	$61,094 89	$59.718 03	$64,016 67
Total Expenditures	$73,301 74	$71,825 86	$77,034 35

During the year an additional sum of $1,500 was received upon an agreement to pay a life annuity of five per cent. This is not included in the foregoing statement, but has been added to the funds held for investment.

The direct contributions of the Church show a marked increase, being larger than in any past year. And although the amount received from legacies is the smallest known for many years, yet the total income has never been exceeded but once. The efforts put forth by the Special Committee appointed a year ago have thus borne good fruit; but the financial embarrassment of the Board has not been relieved. The reserve fund of $20,000 is not replaced, and an additional debt of more than $13,000 is now reported.

The actual excess for the year of ordinary expenditures over income is $7,969.83. But to this must be added $1,875.29, the amount the treasury was overdrawn a year ago; $2,172.56 probably lost by bank failure; and $1,000 received last year upon life annuity and used for current expenses, but returned to permanent funds by order of the General Assembly. The total deficiency is therefore $13,017.68. This constitutes an actual debt for which provision must be made. $6,000 of the amount has been borrowed from bank, and will be due in four months. The remainder has been temporarily drawn from funds required to be held for investment.

In the opinion of the Board not only this debt of over $13,000, but the $20,000 needed to restore the reserve fund should be made part of the sum asked of the Church under the regular apportionment for the coming year. The plan of last year, by which the reserve fund was separated from the regular appropriation has resulted in entire failure to restore any part of that important and greatly needed fund, and, as we believe, has kept the contributions below what they would otherwise have been. There is most urgent necessity also that a large sum be placed in the treasury at a very early day. Not less than $18,000 will be needed to meet the quarterly payment falling due July 1st. Not only is there nothing in hand to meet this sacred obligation, but $6,000 borrowed in bank must be repaid.

By the failure of the banking house of R. Patrick & Co., in December, 1893, $2,172.56 on deposit in the name of the treasurer of the Board was made unavailable and perhaps entirely lost. The fact did not come to the knowledge of the Board till a year ago, because Mr. Reed, having determined to make good the loss out of his personal resources, did not report it. After a careful inquiry into all the circumstances the Board decided that it would be unjust to permit Mr. Reed to assume the loss in this way. He had used the bank in question for thirty years as a depository of his own business funds, and also for twenty years as one of the depositories of the Board. No direction had ever been given him as to where he should deposit funds of the Board, and he had in entire good faith used his best judgment in the matter. He was therefore directed by a unanimous vote of the Board to credit himself in his accounts with the amount lost, and to hold in the name of the Board the certificates of deposit furnished by the officers of the bank. The affairs of the bank are not finally settled, and it is possible, though not very probable, that some portion of the sum may ultimately be recovered.

VII. FINANCIAL REORGANIZATION. In accordance with directions given by the last General Assembly the Board has reorganized its system of accounts and method of handling the funds. The Exchange Bank of Pittsburgh has been designated as the official depository. All money received is there deposited and can be paid out only upon warrants having the signatures of both the Corresponding Secretary and the Treasurer. By far the larger part of our payments are in settlement of the claims of stations granted aid. All reports and accounts relating to these settlements are in the hands of the Corresponding Secretary. For this reason it was thought advisable that this officer, rather than the President of the Board, should countersign all warrants. The General Assembly is requested to sanction this departure from the letter of the instructions given.

VIII. THE COMING YEAR. Reports have been received from nearly all the Presbyteries. Applications for aid to the amount of $85,721 are entered, exclusive of any sum that may be assigned to the Board to meet emergencies.

The debt above reported, and $20,000 to restore the reserve fund, must also be kept in view. When it is considered that the contributions of the Church for home mission work have generally been far short of the outlay; that the work has been sustained in its present extent only by the possession of large sums coming, in the good providence of God, from sources outside the regular contributions, and that these funds are now entirely exhausted, it will be seen that the General Committee of Home Missions is called upon to deal with a difficult problem in deciding upon the requests for aid that will come before them. May divine wisdom be granted them in their deliberations.

Rev. E. Z. Thomas will represent the Board in the General Committee.

The members of the Board whose term of service expires on the 30th of June are George M. Reed, Esq., and Revs. J. W. English and E Z. Thomas. Rev. J. K. McClurkin, D. D., was appointed by the Board in the room of Thos. S. Stewart, Esq., deceased. This appointment is submitted for approval.

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 18, 1896.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF HOME MISSIONS.

The thirty-seventh annual meeting of the General Committee of Home Missions was held in Cedarville, Ohio, May 20 to 26, 1896, with a closing session in the First Church, Xenia, May 27. With the exception of Wisconsin Presbytery the representation was complete. Rev. J. D. Irons, D. D., of the Presbytery of Mansfield, was elected chairman, and Revs. A. F. Kirkpatrick, of Puget Sound Presbytery, and A. L. Davidson, of Keokuk Presbytery, assistant secretaries.

Applications for aid were presented from fifty-four of the sixty-one Presbyteries in America, amounting to $87,821, of which $9,125 was for new work proposed or actually begun. It was found, also, that the $20,000 reserve fund of the board had not been in any measure restored during the year; and that the debt additional to this had grown to $13,018, although the direct contributions of the Church for home missions have increased and are the largest on record. From the very outset of its work, therefore, the General Committee was compelled to recognize the gravity of the situation from the financial point of view.

Since 1880 the board has expended upon the home mission work over $82,000 more than regular contributions, including ordinary legacies, received from the Church. The work has been greatly extended during these years and is, generally speaking, in most encouraging condition. This board, unlike any other, has no effective control over the amount of the annual expenditures. Grants are fixed in detail by the General Committee and the General Assembly; and can not be annulled or even reduced by the board. Of necessity, then, there will be debt incurred if the contributions do not come fully up to the outlay ordered. The contributions have been increasing—increasing largely, so that the financial distress is not due to declining interest in the cause. The simple explanation is that the demands of this great work, as ascertained and declared by the General Assembly itself from year to year, have grown more rapidly than the support provided. The General Committee this year, like that of last year, has made strenuous and even painful efforts, seeking all the while the guidance of the Holy Spirit, to reduce the amount of the appropriations, but finds it impossible to do so without resorting to measures of retrenchment which must inevitably be followed at once by disastrous effects, not only upon deserving missions, but upon the life and progress of our beloved Church. Is such retrenchment really a necessity? Can it be said that less than sixty cents a member for the mission work in this great country, vital and fundamental as that work is, is all that our people could have given this last year? Is One Dollar per member too much to ask for the coming year, to carry forward the work undertaken after careful consideration, to pay all debt and to restore the greatly needed reserve fund? That amount will fully cover all these requirements. Our work in this department has been so crowned with the divine blessing, and is now so full of promise that we can not, without guilt and danger, permit it to go backward. Let our people know the need and they will meet it.

Appropriations are recommended in this report as follows: For special missions in the care of the board, $20,775; for other stations heretofore aided $49,149; for new work, $3,715; to meet the probable needs of cases referred to the board, $1,325; to the board for emergencies, $5,000; total, $79,964, which is but $176 above the grants of last year. The debt of $13,018 must, of course, be paid. The board urges, and we think with good reason, that this amount, and also $20,000 to restore the reserve funds, be asked of the Church as part of the regular apportionment. There is really no other way in which this important fund, without which prompt and regular payment of obligations as they mature is impossible, can be re-established. All these items together make the large sum of $112,982 to be asked of the Church; yet an average contribution of One Dollar per member from the American Churches alone will practically cover it all.

One item of the above statement deserves special attention. $9,125 was asked by the Presbyteries for new work, and the General Committee felt that almost every dollar of this should be granted. Nothing but debt and deficiency of means prevented hearty response to these appeals. Only $3,715 has been granted, the smallest sum devoted to new and aggressive work for many years. No station was taken up unless work had actually begun or the circumstances were clearly seen to forbid any delay, and nearly every grant thus made has been placed "at the discretion of the board," so that expenditure may be refused if necessity should compel such a course. Will the Church be content to continue this almost total arrest, which has now lasted for several years, of extension into promising new fields? Of the small amount granted only $175 is for new work west of the Mississippi. The same exceptional feature was noted a year ago. However easily this may be explained as a temporary thing, it must be recognized and emphasized that it is undesirable and unnatural. The call to resume aggressive work in the West and Northwest will soon become imperative and must be heeded. However important it is to extend our work in the older States the Church can not afford to neglect the new regions in which so much of the hope of the future centers.

I.—AID GRANTED.

The following characters are used to express conditions upon which appropriations are made: p. s., continuance of existing pastoral settlement; s., settlement to be effected. IN ALL OTHER CASES THE CONDITION IS STATED SUPPLY, unless something different is expressly indicated. A fraction after the appropriation shows the amount of time to be taken, as ½ or ¾. Where no figures are used the grant is for full time. When a * is affixed, as $120*, the station has received what the sliding scale rules permit, and is referred to the board for consideration of its claims to exemption and an increase.

II.—SPECIAL AND NEW WORK.

1. In regard to the special missions generally we have examined with care the report submitted by the board, and desire to express our approval of the manner in which it is doing its work. In general the stations show an unusual and most encouraging growth. We note with commendation that the board is urging larger proportional contributions by the congregations themselves for the support of pastors, and is cutting down the amounts granted wherever it can be prudently done. The ordinary relation of mission stations to the General Committee should in our judgment be maintained as a rule, but the results thus far justify the plan of special missions in really exceptional cases.

2. Of the five special missions that have been in the care of the board, but whose terms now expire, San Diego does not ask longer continuance in that relation. In this case we recommend that a grant of $800 be made, upon the condition that a debt remaining upon the congregation be paid during the year. For the other four stations we recommend as follows: Detroit, a grant of $950, being a réduction of $150, and continuance as a special mission for three years; Lincoln, Neb., continuance as a special mission for three years, re-appointment of Rev. E. E. Fife as stated supply, and a grant of $1,000 on condition that the congregation raise $200 for salary; Tacoma, continuance as a special mission for three years, and a grant of $950, which is $150 less than last year; Spokane, continuance for five years as a special mission, the re-appointment of Rev. W. A. Spalding as stated supply, and a grant of $900, which is $100 less than last year.

3. Two congregations have requested to be made special missions. In the case of Emporia, Kansas, we do not deem it necessary to grant this request, but recommend that $600 be allowed for the coming year, and that the congregation be particularly requested to make a satisfactory adjustment of an old floating debt. In the case of Pasadena, Cal., we recommend that it be made a special mission for five years, that Rev. E. S. McKitrick, D. D., be appointed stated supply, and that a grant of $1,000 be given for the coming year.

4. Grants are recommended, to the amounts and under the conditions stated in the general table, for the following new stations: Chicago Presbytery, 6th Chicago; Illinois Southern, Springfield, an old congregation, never before aided; Kansas City, 2nd Topeka; Philadelphia, Fairhill mission; Sidney, Toledo and Roundhead; Westmoreland, Pitcairn. The General Committee regrets that the condition of the finances would not permit grants to be made for the opening of work at Salem, Oregon, Whatcom and vicinity, on Puget Sound, Pullman in Spokane Presbytery and Moline in Rock Island Presbytery.

5. In view of the great importance to our Church of having a congregation in Washington, D. C., and the fact that it appears that present conditions are probably favorable, Resolved, That the Board of Home Missions be authorized to explore that field and if in their judgment there is sufficient encouragement to take proper steps toward establishing a mission in the capital of our country.

III.—GENERAL.

In view of the straitened condition of the board financially, and the absolute necessity of taking measures to secure from the Church not only increased contributions but very early help to meet the $18,000 which will be due to our missionaries July 1, and the note for $6,000 to be provided for in bank soon after; resolved,

1. That a committee consisting of Rev. J. C. Taggart, Rev. M. M. Patterson and J. J. Porter, Esq., be appointed, who shall, in connection with the corresponding secretary, devise means and plans for securing the full amount appropriated for the home work.

2. That the officers elected by this committee be requested to prepare a circular letter, which shall be submitted for endorsement by the General Assembly, setting forth the condition and pressing needs of this board and urging upon our congregations a liberal and speedy response to the appeal for help.

3. That the Board of Home Missions be directed to set apart as a permanent reserve fund, the stocks now held and all legacies received, not otherwise designated, until the said fund shall amount to at least $25,000, no part of which shall be used for the regular work of the Church, except the annual proceeds.

We recommend to the General Assembly that the following be made a part of the regulations for home mission work:

1. That after a congregation has been organized three years it shall be required as a condition of aid, save in extraordinary cases, that the congregation itself shall contribute for the support of the pastor or supply, not less than $5 per member.

2. When the board has refused to recommend an application for exemption from the rules of the sliding scale, the case may be opened in the General Committee only by a vote of two-thirds of the members in attendance.

3. Stations shall not receive aid from the home mission funds after a period of fifteen years from the date of their first organization. Exemption from the operations of this rule shall be secured only by recommendation of the Board of Home Missions, and a two-thirds vote of the General Committee of Missions.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FREEDMEN'S MISSIONS.

The Lord has been good to the workers, and has blessed the labor of their hands during the last year. The Board ask a careful consideration of the detailed statement which follows:

KNOXVILLE, TENN.

KNOXVILLE COLLEGE.

The enrollment, 327, and the average attendance, 250, indicate a year of prosperity.

The force of laborers has been increased by the addition of a printer. The list is as follows: J. S. McCulloch, Eliza B. Wallace, Agnes H. Wait, Maggie McDill, Jennie McCahon, J. R. Millin, R. J. Love, Edith W. Shontz, Hattie A. Kerr, E. Belle Kerr, W. A. Dunn, W. G. Purdy, Matilda Wishart, Agnes Wishart, Ida M. French, Anna Rutherford, Mabel Simpson, Mary J. Fisher, Mary A. Wallace, Alice McMillan, Emma Pinkerton, and R. M. Ginter.

CONGREGATIONAL STATISTICS.

Members, 147; increase by profession, 58; by certificate, 11; decrease by death, 1; by removal, 9; infant baptisms, 2; adult baptisms, 40; contributions to the Boards, $336; general contributions, $140; congregational expenses, $172; total contributions, $648; average per member, $4.41; enrollment in Sabbath-school, 375; contributions of Sabbath-school, $99.

RELIGIOUS WORK.

No great change has been made in the order of religious services. Preaching has been kept up regularly in the college chapel once every Sabbath. Sabbath-school is held in the afternoon. The classes are well graded, and promotions are made from year to year from one grade to the next higher. The college class rooms afford separate accommodations for nearly all the Sabbath-school classes, and no two classes are obliged to occupy the same room. Three Sabbath-schools of other denominations are largely supplied with teachers from among the students. These teachers go out on Sabbath morning, and after the close of Sabbath-school return to the college for preaching services. They attend Sabbath-school in the afternoon, when the regular lesson for the following Sabbath is studied. This arrangement, in good measure, supplies the place of a normal class.

Asylum Street Mission is kept up by students and teachers from the college. Sabbath-school is held in the morning, and a sermon is usually preached at night. The design is to reach habitual neglecters of religion, and bring them and their children into the Church. The enrollment of the Sabbath-school is about 100.

Miss Jennie McCahon is engaged in the work not only of going from house to house, coming into close contact with the people, but also meeting different classes of them statedly, and teaching them both how to sew and make their homes more attractive. She has relieved many needy and sick ones, furnishing them with food and clothing, besides giving them the consolations of the Gospel.

The Young People's Christian Union meets every Sabbath night, and the committees present reports once a month. Number of members reported, 96. The Junior Union meets at the same time in a separate room. Members, 56.

Special evangelistic services were held under the direction of Rev. H. H. Bell from Feb. 26th to March 8th, and the Lord manifested his presence in a great awakening. Believers worked with new zeal, backsliders were reclaimed and many were brought into the light.

THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

The good hand of God is seen in calling young men into a course of training for the work of the ministry. Four of these have been received regularly by the Presbytery as students of the first year. They have pursued their studies without interruption throughout the year, and give promise of ability to divide the word of truth aright. Four others joined the class in taking a partial course in this department while pursuing their literary studies. Two of them had been commissioned to preach by their respective Churches, and they are to be commended for their efforts to become better qualified for the great work to which they are called. Ministers, exhorters, Sabbath-school workers and others are encouraged to take up such parts of the course, especially English Bible, as may most assist them in their Christian work. Great satisfaction has been expressed by the students in this department, and the prospect appears good for the future. Prof. J. R. Millin has had sole charge this year.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Very unexpectedly a desire was found to exist among the students for a medical department, and quite as unexpectedly the way was opened up for the organization of such a department. A faculty of seven was secured to give their services without pecuniary compensation until the income from fees should justify it. Six students have been in attendance, and a fair beginning has been made at procuring a suitable outfit for practical operations.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Great prominence is given to the cultivation of industrious habits, and of a feeling of manly self-reliance in earning a livelihood. To this end the range of work is made as wide as possible, embracing ordinary housework, in all its branches, dairy, farm and carpenter work, running of engine and dynamo, care of boilers for steam cooking and heating, care of electric lights; sewing and dressmaking, together with printing, including the running of steam presses and job work.

Everyone is expected to do some work, and thus save the expense of hiring, and leave a large balance to furnish the tables with the best the market affords without increasing the price of board. Encouragement is given still further to manual labor by offering pay at a low rate by the hour. A large number of students avail themselves of this offer, and spend from one to ten hours a week at extra work, thus acquiring skill in handiwork and earning something to meet expenses. To enable the college to afford these liberal advantages to students, the State University gives $3,000 a year, besides equipping the department with the machinery and apparatus deemed most essential. About eighty students have within the year enjoyed benefit from this arrangement.

PRIMARY SEWING.

Sewing is required of all the girls in the Training School, and they receive no pecuniary compensation. When they acquire sufficient skill in common needle-work, and advance to the higher classes, they are admitted to the dressmaking room, and under certain restrictions receive pay by the hour. There is no doubt whatever that many colored homes to-day are enjoying the benefit of neatness, thrift and good order fostered by the instruction given here. The routine of daily school work does not differ much from that of well-regulated graded schools, except that one lesson each week is required in a course of Bible study, and that prominence is given to the maintenance of a high standard of Christian deportment.

STUDENTS' FUND.

The Students' Fund, established several years ago, has not received the attention which its importance seems to demand. Aside from what it has received from the State and from the Women's Board, but little has been contributed to it during the year. This is the more to be regretted since the aid given from this fund is largely on the principle of helping students to help themselves. Every dollar paid out for student labor is paid back in part when the article produced is sold. The money given in this way goes farther and does more good than if given outright. The amount received within the year from the State is $893.95; from ladies' missionary society, through the Women's Board, $417.82; from others, $131. Total, $1,442.77. This fund is overdrawn. Donations are needed and will be appreciated. Can money be put to a better use?

BOARDING DEPARTMENT.

It is difficult to get a clear idea of the complicated system called the boarding department. The promptness required to do the work satisfactorily, the minute division of the details, the frequent changes of boarders from one kind of work to another can hardly be comprehended without being seen. The enrollment of young ladies in Elnathan Hall was 66; of young men in McCulloch Hall, 77; of Little Boys' Home, 27; Little Girls' Home, 34. Total boarders, 204.

ATHENS, TENN.

The work at Athens is well organized, and there are evidences of fruit from the planting of former years. The standing of the school in the estimation of the community is very high. The impression is gaining ground that only thorough study and training will secure promotion. The workers are Rev. J. L. Cook, J. W. O. Garrett, Mary V. Byars, Maggie Buchanan, J. A. Cleage and Mary Sherman. The enrollment of the day school is 199, with an average attendance of 156. The Sabbath-school has enrolled 90. with an average attendance of 60. A Young People's Society is organized with 42 members, and the Band of Hope holds on with a steady interest among the children and young people. A commendable effort has been made to clear off all debts contracted in furnishing the church, and at the same time meet all the necessary expenses in carrying on the work of the Sabbath-school and congregation. The formal dedication of the church was delayed until the announcement could be made that all the pecuniary obligations had been met, and it is the expressed purpose of pastor and people that the Boards of the Church shall henceforth receive a larger share of their attention.

MILLER'S FERRY, ALA.

The outrage committed in the burning of the mission building at this place, last year, broke up the school work and seriously interfered with the religious work. We are pleased to note that, although we were not able to successfully indict anyone for the crime, the sentiment among all the good people of the country is so strongly condemnatory of the wicked deed that there is no fear entertained that such an outrage will be perpetrated again.

The Sabbath-school has been kept up without interruption and the Young People's Union and the mother's meeting also. The Baptist church has been generously placed at their disposal, and union services for preaching and Sabbath-school held every Sabbath. The total enrollment of the school is about 200. The spirit manifested by the colored people to carry on the work is worthy of all commendation. They volunteered their services, went to the wood, brought saw-logs to the mill and did nearly all the work of putting up a building well suited to the demands. They were encouraged in this work by the board. A competent mechanic was sent to guide the unskilled hands, and cash was paid out of our treasury for such material as doors and sash and hardware. It will be assuring to the Church to learn that reliable insurance companies, knowing all the facts about the burning, are willing to take risks on the buildings. Rev. C. H. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson were allowed to occupy their parsonage without molestation, and Miss Jarnagan assisted in the house-to-house work, and in the mothers' meetings. Those who have visited the field express freely the opinion that the things which have happened "have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the Gospel."

PRAIRIE BLUFF, ALA.

The school at this point has reported an enrollment of 261, with an average attendance of 134. A five-room school house, undertaken by the Women's General Missionary Society, is now completed and furnished. Its neatness and convenient arrangement, both for day school and Sabbath services, call forth admiration. The dwelling for teachers was not built, as the ladies intended. It was found that there was a good dwelling on the adjoining farm which they have now purchased, and that the expense of making it a home suitable for teachers would be much less than a new building. No effort has been made for the organization of a church here as yet. The Sabbath-school numbers 140, and the people are becoming familiar with Bible Songs and with careful and intelligent instruction in the Word. The industrial feature of this station, undertaken by the Women's Society, will be watched with great interest. It does not stop with the sewing room, but reaches out to the farm. Mr. H. J. Oliver is superintendent of the farm, and leases portions of it to men who are willing to use economy and work with a view to securing it for a home of their own. The teachers are Misses Minnie L. Jenkins, Christianita Totten and Lucy Cosby.

SUMMERFIELD, ALA.

Summerfield, about seven miles north of Selma, is now occupied. Mr. Cloud began work at this place about November, 1895, and opened a school in a large dwelling house. The accommodations for seating were very poor, and many of the facilities for school work were wanting; but, in a few weeks, the enrollment so increased that Miss Sarah Ellison was sent to assist him. It is said that 300 children live within easy reach, and that only 100 of them can read. One hundred and thirty-seven (137) have been admitted, and others have been turned away because of lack of room. As soon as books could be secured and other arrangements could be made, a Sabbath-school was opened and seventy children enrolled. The prospect is believed to be hopeful for getting a good foothold for doing evangelistic work. Property can be secured, which, with some repairs, can be made to accommodate both the teacher's family and the school.

CAMDEN, ALA.

Camden is the county seat of Wilcox county, and, in answer to a large petition from both colored people and white, a school was opened in this place in November, by Mr. H. M. Green. The number of applicants soon rendered another teacher necessary, and Mrs. Alice White was sent to his assistance. They have not yet organized a separate Sabbath-school, but are allowed to use the Bible Songs, and practically control the Sabbath-schools in the Methodist and Baptist churches. It is the intention of the Board, should the way seem to open up, to secure ground in or near the town for a school, and carry on the work of both secular and religious instruction. The latest report is that 231 are enrolled.

CANTON BEND, ALA.

Midway between Miller's Ferry and Camden is Canton Bend. This point was thought to be important, because, not only was a school needed by the colored people, but also favored by the neighboring planters. A building near the school house was fitted up for the teacher's home, and the school money was offered to pay in part the teacher. The reputation of the Miller's Ferry school did much to create a desire for this school at Canton Bend. Accordingly Mr. J. N. Cotton and his wife, former students of Knoxville College, were sent, and both day school and Sabbath-school were opened in January. The enrollment in the day school is 70, and in the Sabbath School, 120.

There are now four stations in Wilcox county, and they are within easy supporting distance, and not far from the center of the Black Belt. Let earnest prayer ascend to God that he may favor them all with his presence, and use them to throw light upon one of the most perplexing questions of the day.

CHASE CITY, VA.

STATISTICS.

The Sabbath-school enrollment for the year is 360, and the day school, 303; members of the congregation, 134; increase, 5; decrease, 3; contributions, not including those of the teachers, $80.48.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The system of Bible study used last year has been continued, with gratifying results. Those in the primary and intermediate departments are required to commit the Catechism. In the grammar department Paterson on the Catechism is used as a text-book, and in the normal department, Dr. Moorehead's Outlines of Old Testament Study. In addition to the special Bible study noted above Haven's Moral Philosophy and Fisher's Evidences of Christianity were used as text-books in the junior and senior classes. The results of this system of instruction are very encouraging. The papers read by the students, their remarks in prayer-meeting and their work in Sabbath-school indicate a more thorough and comprehensive grasp of the doctrinal basis upon which an effective, practical religion must rest.

The young people's societies, junior and senior, in one or the other of which all the students belong, have met regularly each Friday afternoon. The programs are arranged and the meetings conducted by the students themselves, though the members of the faculty are always present.

Preaching and Sabbath-school service have been held each Sabbath afternoon, as heretofore, and no abatement in interest nor decrease in attendance, as compared with that of last year, is noticeable. Special meetings were held during the year, which were specially notable for the depth of spiritual feeling pervading them, and for the character of those converted. One of these converts is an unusually bright and well educated young man. He soon afterward began teaching in a somewhat neglected part of North Carolina, and at once began Sabbath-school work in connection with his school, continuing it all winter. Under the influence of these meetings a missionary society was organized in the normal class for the purpose of gaining information on the subject of missions. Meetings have since been held twice a month. Missionary literature has been provided, papers on the importance of mission work in the home, foreign and freedmen's fields have been prepared and read by the students. Several of the young men in the junior and senior years have organized Sabbath-schools in the neighboring school houses, and teach the Sabbath School lesson each Sabbath morning, returning in time for afternoon service here. In this way a number of persons whom we have been unable to bring directly under our influence have been reached indirectly. Many who attend these Sabbath-schools would have to come 5 to 8 miles to attend the service here.

We cannot but feel that the people under the influence of the mission have made marked spiritual progress during the year. The personal conduct of most of them being fully up to the standard of church members anywhere, and the zeal of many of them being much in advance of the ordinary professor of religion.

GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL HOME.

Twelve girls have been in the home, and six boys in the cottage most of the year. The outlook for next year is good. The home has been kept self-sustaining, with a balance in the treasury of $110.74. The students in the home have been diligent, their interest in the work intense, and their improvement as marked as that of any former year.

SEWING DEPARTMENT

The work of this department has been very satisfactory. 117 students have been enrolled, 361 garments made, 1,297 yards material used; 334 yards material were donated by friends in the North, $45 in cash was donated by the Woman's Board, $20 of which was used in purchasing a sewing machine. There is a balance in the treasury of $16.18. The dressmaking class, organized near the close of last year, has been continued, and fair progress has been made in the use of the chart.

MISSIONARIES.

The workers here are Rev. J. M. Moore, Ph. D., principal; Misses Alice Wray, Clara Hazen, Armitta Buck, Dora Barr, Angie Lorimer, sewing teachers, and Margaret A. Cleland, matron of Girls' Industrial Home. Mr. Ernest G. Forrester taught the last two months as substitute for one of the teachers temporarily laid aside by sickness.

BLUESTONE, VA.

STATISTICS.

Enrolled in Sabbath-school, 224; in day school, 228; membership of the congregation, 59; increase, 2; decrease, 3; contributions of the Sabbath-school, $52.50, distributed as follows: Home missions, $5; Freedmen's missions, $35.50; home school expenses, $12.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Preaching every Sabbath at 2 o'clock. Frequent instruction is given in the history, principles and doctrines of the Church, to which the members give good heed. Special services were held in October and May, and, while no conversions resulted, the spiritual life of the members was much quickened, and many luke-warm and careless ones came out and renewed their vows, and seem to be striving for higher attainments in holy living.

The Sabbath-school meets every Sabbath and is carefully taught the lesson, to which all, old and young, give commendable attention.

The prayer-meeting is held every Tuesday evening and every alternate Sabbath evening. At these meetings all who can read take part in reading the Scripture lesson, and many take part intelligently in all the other exercises.

O. Y. P. C. U. meets every Friday night and has "steadily grown in efficiency and the quality of its work." The Junior society numbers 76, and the children are making considerable progress in the study of the Word.

DONATIONS.

The principal makes grateful mention of contributions of periodicals, lesson cards, clothing, etc., and says: "On behalf of these needy people, we truly thank the many kind friends who have contributed so liberally for our help. By this help you are preparing the way for the sowing of the seed, which will in due time spring up and bring forth fruit to the glory of the Master. The prospects of our mission never were brighter. We are truly thankful to God for his blessing this year."

MISSIONARIES.

These are Rev. W. M. Fowlkes, principal and pastor, Mrs. Nannie Fowlkes, Henry G. Wilson and Miss M. F. Boyd.

NORFOLK, VA.

THE SCHOOL.

The year has been quiet and successful. We are encouraged from time to time by the increasing respect manifested for the school by all classes in the community. The stringency of the times prevented quite a number from being in this year. The total enrollment is 682; average monthly enrollment, 527; average monthly attendance, 476; per cent. of the attendance for the year, 90 1-3. The principal says: Better work has been done in Bible study this year than ever before. The course covers the whole book; first, historically, then doctrinally.

SABBATH SCHOOL

The attendance at Sabbath-school has been more regular than in any previous year. The teachers receive a thorough drill in the lesson each Thursday afternoon. The pupils in the primary department have one review each Sabbath, and at the end of the quarter. In all other grades a careful written review is given at the end of each month, and a final examination at the end of the year.

ENROLLMENT.

The total enrollment of the Sabbath-school, although not reported, must have been at least 700. The average attendance for the fall term of the school year was 606, and for the winter term, 554. The contributions for the year were $148.19.

EVENING SABBATH SCHOOL.

This is a new and hopeful feature of our work. Into it are gathered children who are too ragged to attend the afternoon school. Some of them come in knowing nothing, but are progressing finely. The average attendance thus far has been about 80.

THE CONGREGATION.

The roll contains about 100 names. There has been no increase in membership during the year, although services have been held regularly and intelligently conducted, and all the equipment for congregational work, such as societies, prayer-meetings and Sabbath-schools has been in constant use.

The preaching service is held on Sabbath at 11 o'clock A. M., and Bible study is conducted regularly in connection with both Sabbath-schools. The prayer-meeting is held on Wednesday evening, and the Woman's Missionary Society meets monthly, and contributed during the year $21.06. The contributions of the congregation were $93.91.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

There are three Christian Endeavor Societies in operation, with an aggregate membership of 180. They all meet each Wednesday evening of the term, at 3 o'clock P. M. The senior society meets weekly all the year, and has a good attendance during the summer.

INDUSTRIAL WORK.

The sewing and dress-making department, always popular, has been full of activity and life all the year, and many homes and persons will exhibit the results in their better attire and adornment.

THE PRINTING DEPARTMENT has made its best record this year. Under the efficient management of Mr. H. A. Morgan, much more and much better work has been done than ever before. A large amount of stock and type has been purchased. About $200 worth of printing has been done for the college, besides a considerable amount of job work for outside customers, and there is a balance in the treasury to the credit of the department. A number of young men and women are employed in the office for stated periods, greatly to their profit. Three of last year's graduates have obtained permanent positions as compositors.

ALUMNI.

The graduates of this college number one hundred and eight, of whom sixty are teachers. Ten or twelve are in colleges or professional schools. Most of the others are usefully employed. Besides these there are thousands who have been taught more or less in the Church, school or Sabbath-school. The principal closes his annual report to the Board with these words: In closing we would mention the loving-kindness of the Lord. With his blessing the work has prospered. The Board and Church have reason to be encouraged. I believe that the work here will some day be the most important in your hands, for I am persuaded that Norfolk is destined to be the greatest center of influence in the South.

MISSIONARIES.

The workers are Rev. J. B. Work, principal; T. E. Brownlee, Robert Hamill, Mabel Gray Wylie, Nan. J. Mahon, Ina McLaren, Mary M. Welch, Anna J. Williamson, Elizabeth F. Houston, Sadie E. Ganey, Gertrude Broughton, Ida W. Johnston, industrial; H. A. Morgan, printer; Mrs. A. M. Gebbart, sewing teacher.

HENDERSON, N. C.

STATISTICS.

The school enrollment is 599, and that of the Sabbath-school 700.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Regular preaching service is conducted every Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock, with an attendance ranging from 375 to 500; and the evening at 7.30 o'clock, with an attendance of about 175. No congregation has been organized at this station, but we hope to report progress in this direction in the near future. The principal and teachers have worked together in harmony, with no other object in view than the best interest of the needy ones committd to their care.

Our Young People's Christian Union, senior and junior, is kept up with commendable earnestness. The meetings are held every week, and in the senior branch, conducted by the pupils, although the teachers are always present.

COTTAGES FOR SELF-BOARDERS.

Both cottages (one for boys and one for girls) were crowded during the term more than was good for either the health or for the best moral developments of the students, and a goodly number were turned away for want of room. These cottages accommodate more than one hundred every year who could not be in school were it not for this convenience. These are generally the best students in the school, and they are brought under the influence of the teachers in a way impossible to those who room and board at their homes. Only a lack of means prevents the Board from enlarging these accommodations.

SEWING.

This department has kept up its excellent standard of efficiency and usefulness during the entire year. All the more advanced girls in the school are found regularly in the sewing class. The progress made is most encouraging. During the year 170 pupils were enrolled, 1,495 articles were made and 4,577 yards of material used.

THE WORKERS.

The workers are: Rev. C. L. McCracken, principal; John L. McClenahan, J. A. Hervey, Stella Marshall, Matie B. Speer, Emma Robertson, Alpha Wright and Margaret Kerr.

By the above summary it will be seen that there has been an advance in all the departments of the work. The enrollment in the schools and Sabbath-schools is larger than last year. The number of missionaries is slightly increased, and the number of communicants 69 more than last year. The number of teachers that have gone out into the public schools from the different missions is larger, as is also the numbers gathered into the schools and Sabbath-schools taught by them. The work is growing and its influence widening every year. We thank God and take courage.

The balance is small, and there are two months' salaries to the missionaries to be paid before closing the work of the school year. Unless unusually large contributions are received for these two months the indebtedness of the Board will be increased. The Woman's Board paid in full the salaries of all the teachers in the industrial departments in the different stations, amounting to $5,340 for which we express our thanks.

The large indebtedness reported last year has been but slightly decreased, and we still have to report a balance against our treasury of $23,200, which we sincerely hope we may be able to pay during the coming year.

For this purpose, and to carry on the work as already undertaken, we ask the Assembly to make an appropriation of $50,000.

The term of office of Rev. R. H. Park, H. J. Murdoch, Esq., and Peter Dick, Esq., expires with this meeting. Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Board,

J. W. WITHERSPOON, Cor. Sec.

Allegheny, Pa., May 14, 1896.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

The year has been one of great solicitude and of much embarrassment, but withal of great favor and blessing. The mission work has been enlarged, the feeble missions have been strengthened, and the ministers of the word have been helped in their work by the better facilities given them through the aid of this Board.

The Rev. E. S. McKitrick, D. D., finding it necessary to continue his residence in a milder climate, tendered his resignation as a member of the Board. His brethren in the Board regretted very much to lose his valuable services, but there seemed to be no alternative. The Rev. S. J. Shaw was elected to fill the vacancy thus created.

During the year the Board has held sixteen meetings and has given all possible attention to the work committed to it. It has been the constant aim to distribute the funds entrusted to it with the best possible judgment, and with careful regard to the interests of the whole Church. The Corresponding Secretary visited in person some of the more important missions and attended five of the principal Synods and presented the work. In the other Synods it was presented by persons selected for the purpose. The reception given to these delegates by the Synods was most kindly. Besides the regular monthly statements, a circular was issued at the first of January and sent to all the pastors and sessions of the Church, and also one to the Sabbath-schools in connection with the memorial churches. Also, the Board sent to the Young People's Institute at Columbus an exhibit of its work and a special report for distribution, with apparently good results.

The financial methods of the Board as nearly as possible conform to the instructions of the last General Assembly. The account is kept in its own name in the Union National Bank of Pittsburgh, well known for its conservative methods and its stability, and payment is made only on warrants signed by the President and Corresponding Secretary. It was found better to continue the signing of the warrants by the Corresponding Secretary, rather than by the Secretary, as directed by the General Assembly. We understand this to be a virtual compliance with the instructions of the Assembly.

It has been noted that the proportion of applications from congregations in the country and small towns is becoming less than formerly. This is probably due to the general drift of population to the cities, but it indicates a peril to the work of the Church. As the cities are fed from the country, so are the city churches strengthened by a drain upon the country congregations. If not carefully guarded, the result may be the extinction of the country congregations. The Board has, therefore, been careful to give the applications from the feeble congregations the preference.

The appropriations by the Board are designed to be sufficient to complete the work undertaken, unless specifically stated otherwise. During the year quite a number of applications have been received for supplementary grants to meet liabilities contracted in building. As a rule such applications have been refused, but in a few exceptional cases there appeared to be a necessity to make the additional grants. In the judgment of the Board the Presbytery should exercise such supervision of the congregation aided that no supplementary grant would be asked.

It has been the aim of the General Assembly to discourage appeals by congregations and missions directly to the individual members of the Church outside their own communities. One of the conditions of all grants is, "that the congregation shall not solicit aid outside of its own community without the consent of the Board." In two recent exceptional cases this solicitation has been tacitly allowed, but of late such appeals have been frequent and urgent, and have diverted gifts which should have come to the general work. The Board has no power to control individual gifts, and has no desire to interfere with the liberty of every one to give according to his own judgment, but such solicitations are working to the injury of the resources of the Board. It would be to the advantage of all concerned if pastors and sessions would keep their members informed of the work of the Board, and encourage them to make their gifts through it, whether for special or general purposes.

When a presbytery undertakes to give aid to a mission within its bounds, it is understood that it will be by special effort outside of, and without encroaching upon, the contributions to the general work. It appears, however, that in such cases there is a serious diminution in the regular contributions, and yet credit is desired as if given to the funds of the Board. In this way the work of the whole Church is injured, and especially when presbyteries give their sanction to it.

The Board again calls attention to the increasingly large amounts asked for by the congregations. We are fully aware that in the cities a small mission requires a very liberal grant to properly equip it for its work, but at the same time feel persuaded that congregations do not always properly develop local resources, and that presbyteries do not sufficiently scrutinize applications and develop self-dependence in their missions. The tendency is to greater dependence on the Board. The special object for which this Board was established is to aid mission stations and congregations to obtain suitable houses of worship. It looks to the mission field, especially to the remote and separated missions. It is true that some of the most promising missions are in the outgrowing districts of our great cities, but it is also true that such missions in old and strong presbyteries should receive the large part of the aid they need from the surrounding congregations that the general contributions may be applied to the remote missions. Presbyterial Committees of Church Extension, to establish missions and develop the home resources, could be made to minister very greatly to the mission work in the older parts of the Church.

SABBATH-SCHOOLS.

Following the plan of former years, the Board selected two missions for the Sabbath-school memorial churches, Central Falls, R. I., and Pasadena, Cal. The receipts from the Sabbath-schools have amounted to $3,700.10. This is much below the amount required for these missions, but it is an increase of $1,311.31 over the previous year.

THE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY BOARD.

The Women's Missionary Board has continued its wise and liberal help to erect parsonages. During the year grants have been made to the amount of $4,000.

THE ASSOCIATE REFORMED SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

The co-operation with the Associate Reformed Synod of the South has resulted happily in the erection of a very suitable church at Atlanta, and a decided increase in the prosperity, strength, and influence of the congregation. A communication has been received from the Committee of Home Missions of that Synod in reference to continued co-operation. In connection with our Board of Home Missions a plan of co-operation has been outlined, which will be submitted to the General Assembly.

FINANCIAL CONDITION.

The hope of a decided improvement in the financial condition has not been realized. The year was begun with a debt of $9,766 to the permanent fund, and $11,550 of appropriations not paid. During a considerable part of the year the receipts were so small that the Board was compelled to suspend the making of grants, for it would be ruinous to increase the debt beyond the resources. To meet emergencies loans to the amount of $7,500 were made from the bank. For many months this was a heavy burden. To continued appeals for aid the answer was, "There are no funds at command." By this restriction and the increase of contributions at the close of the year, the debt to the permanent fund has been paid. It should be noted that part of the embarrassment arose from the lateness in the year at which contributions were made. One-fourth of the amount from congregations was received within less than two months of the close of the year.

Notwithstanding the depression, the contributions show an encouraging increase of $5,493.63. The total credit to congregations, Sabbath-schools and societies is 50 per cent. of the appropriation by the General Assembly. Including the contributions of individuals, almost 61.3 of the appropriation has been received.

The average per member of the appropriation was 47 cents. Arranged by Synods the receipts through the Financial Agents have been as follows:

New York,	$3,293.68,	or 18.2 cents per member.
Pittsburgh,	6,116.86,	" 29.5 " " "
First West,	6,192.49,	" 30.4 " " "
Ohio,	1,955.08,	" 19.2 " " "
Second,	1,456.21,	" 16. " " "
Illinois,	2,440.65,	" 26.6 " " "
Iowa,	2,002.32,	" 22. " " "
Kansas,	335.26,	" 7.9 " " "
Nebraska,	893.80,	" 24.2 " " "
California,	211.00,	" 13.1 " " "
Columbia,	173.50,	" 15.6 " " "
The whole Church,	24,525.38	" 28.8 " " "

Of the 895 congregations of our Church in this country 238, a little over one-fourth, report themselves as giving nothing to Church Extension. About 100 that gave to some other Boards gave nothing to this.

The appropriations for the previous year amounted to $32,253, showing a decrease of $8,103.

Notes.—The appropriations to Central Falls, Los Angeles, Pasadena and West Hoboken, were for the purchase of the lots.

Chicago, 5th.—Supplementary to complete the purchase of the lot.

Oakland and Sidney.—Supplementary to remove all debt.

REVISION OF REGULATIONS.

When the constitution of the Board was adopted by the General Assembly certain regulations were also adopted. To these, from time to time, have been added regulations and instructions which after the lapse of years are found to be complicated, and some of which have been found not practicable, or expedient. The Board therefore recommends a revision of the regulations and their condensation into convenient form for use in circulars and letters of instruction to congregations. A suggestion of the changes thought to be desirable is submitted with this report.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Board has been under continued obligation to William F. Robb, Esq., and also to F. L. Stephenson, Esq., for gratuitous services as Notaries. It also acknowledges the valuable services of Mr. James Gilkerson, of Horton, Kansas, and of Mr. W. P. Moffet, of Bismarck, N. D. The Superintendents of Missions, and others whose official services have been required, have responded promptly and efficiently.

VACANCIES.

The term of service of Rev. J. T. McCrory, and Mr. C. F. Dean, and Rev. S. J. Shaw, expires with this year.

APPROPRIATION.

From the number of applications of which notice has been received and from the general outlook of the work, the Board estimates that a larger amount will be required to meet the demands of the mission work than in the past year, and therefore asks an appropriation of $50,000 for the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Board,

M. M. Patterson, President,
C. F. Dean, Secretary,
A. G. Wallace, Cor. Sec.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 11, 1896.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

In submitting this our annual report to the General Assembly we gratefully acknowledge the divine goodness to this Board through another year. While the labors of the Board and those connected with it have been unusually heavy on account of our removal from the old building, the erection of the new one, and entering it in an unfinished condition, yet our work has proceeded with but little interruption, and, considering all the difficulties and disadvantages attending these changes, with a good degree of success.

GENERAL WORK.

Our general work has been of the same character as heretofore. We have aimed to keep on hand such a supply of the best theological, religious and Sabbath-school books as our people and ministers require. Special attention has always been given to our Bible department. We continne to keep a verv full assortment of family, pulpit, small Bibles, school Bibles and Bibles for Sabbath-school teachers. All these contain our authorized metrical version of the Psalms. As our Bibles with the Psalms are sold at the same rates that other houses sell the same without Psalms, including the fine Oxford editions, our people and all others as well will find it to their advantage to purchase from this Board.

OUR SABBATH-SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS.

It is not many years since the Church did not possess a single Sabbath-school periodical it could call its own. Now it has a complete variety of these, with quarterlies and other helps, which in mechanical execution, in their literary and religious character, in their evangelical and spiritual tone, and in their adaptability to all classes, are not second to those of any other Church, and indeed are quite superior to most others of their class. These, too, as well as our Psalters and Bible Songs, are furnished at lower rates than similar publications of any other Board in the country.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Since our last report the Board has published a revised and enlarged edition of "DYING AT THE TOP," or the moral and spiritual condition of the young men of America, by Dr. Joseph W. Clokey. The character of this book is so well known that further description is unnecessary.

PSALM ANTHEMS No. 2 has been issued. The favor with which Psalm Anthems No. 1 was received is a guarantee that this superior work will meet with a cordial reception throughout the Church.

STUDIES IN THE MOSAIC INSTITUTIONS by the Rev. Prof. W. G. Moorehead, D. D., is another valuable book published during the year. This work has received very favorable notice from the press generally. It at once takes a prominent place in this department of Biblical literature.

The last book issued by the Board is DAVID'S HARP IN SONG AND STORY, by the Rev. Dr. Joseph W. Clokey. This we regard as one of the most valuable books the Board has yet published. It is a thoroughly accurate, reliable and well-written history of the Psalter and its use in the Church in all ages. It is a book that it is believed ought to be and will be widely read, not only by ministers and members of our own Church, but by those of other Churches as well. "We believe," in the words of the introduction, "that this volume is not only a timely and valuable contribution to the religious literature of the day, but also a full vindication of the claims of the inspired Psalter to be the divinely-appointed and all-sufficient hymnody of the Church on earth, and a mighty plea for its restoration to its rightful place in the modern Church."

If the two last-mentioned books are not thoroughly appreciated and extensively circulated throughout the Church, the Board will have but little encouragement to attempt the further increase of our denominational literature.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS.

During the year we have printed new editions of the following books: School Bible, Sabbath School Record, the Confession of Faith, Church Register, Junior Manual, the Psalter, Bible Songs, and Psalm Anthems No. 1, and also several editions of the different catechisms, running up to many thousands in number. We are gratified to be able to say that we have published more new books and issued more new editions of former publications this year than in any year for some time.

NEW BUILDING.

Announcement was made in our last annual report that the contract had been closed for the erection of the new building. Work has been pushed forward on this during the past year as rapidly as circumstances would permit, and, although not entirely finished, the building has been occupied since April 1, and at the time of this report work is almost completed. Owing to the fact that the building was not finished at the time expected, we have not been able to have it entirely occupied by tenants. About two-thirds, however, is now occupied, and will yield an income more than sufficient to pay running expenses of the building, including taxes, insurance, and interest on borrowed money; and we have every reason to believe that in a very short time after completion the entire building will be occupied, yielding us a revenue to be applied to the payment of our debt as it matures.

In the following table of assets the real estate is valued at $50,000 for the ground (believed to be a conservative valuation), to which is added the amount paid out on the new building to date of April 30, viz., $66,779.40, as shown in the table of expenditures, making the value of real estate April 30, $116,779.40.

There will be yet to pay on the building when completed about $43,000, making the total value of real estate $160,000.

It is universally admitted that the building is in every way a credit to the Board and the Church it represents, and affords us one of the most commodious and best equipped publishing houses in the country.

GRANTS.

By reference to the summary of business of the year it will be seen that the Board has rendered aid to the Home, Freedmen's, and Foreign Missions, new Churches and Schools as follows: Bibles and Testaments, $605.95; Psalm Books, including Bible Songs, $993.74; Sabbath-school periodicals and miscellaneous books, $541.10, making a total of $2,140.79.

Notwithstanding the difficulties under which we have labored during the past year, owing to our occupying temporary and not very satisfactory quarters for business, the total amount of our business shows a gradual increase, amounting to $4,359.66 in Book Department and $1,663.05 in Periodicals Department, making a total of $6,022.71.

The receipts from the "Bible Teacher" for the year, amounting to $3,194.22, include receipts from advertising in same to the amount of $263.21. The receipts from the "Christian Union Herald," amounting to $16,758.59, include $6,182.71 from the advertising department.

REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON SABBATH-SCHOOLS.

At last your committee is able to state that a report has been received from every Presbytery in the home church, and also that these reports contain statistics from all, except thirty-two, schools. We first present a statistical summary, and, for comparison, append last two years' figures:

	1894.	1895.	1896.
Number of Presbyteries reporting	54	58	60
" " " not reporting	6	2	0
" " Schools reporting	758	819	886

To other purposes	12,908	11,451	13,404
Total	$75,643	$79,466	$85,905

	1894.	1895.	1896.
Number of scholars confessing Christ	3,027	4,507	4,135
" " teachers' meetings and classes	151	184	182
Schools studying catechisms	.....	651	699
Presbyteries holding conventions	21	32	39
Mission schools	53	72	63

Each of forty-two Presbyteries reports every school. Twenty-nine Presbyteries report an increase in the number of scholars confessing Christ; forty-two, an increase in contributions, and forty-three, an increase in enrollment.

PASTORS. They attend 654 schools. Statistics indicate that very few pastors fail to take an active part in this branch of church work.

ELDERS. Two thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, or nearly five-sixths of the total number of elders, attend our schools.

ENROLLMENT. The total reported enrollment is 111,458, or 9,926 more than any previous year; yet this is only 2,050 more than the total reported membership of our congregations. This indicates a vast army of our membership not enrolled in our schools. Why should our enrollment not be at least 140,000? Let all Presbyteries, and especially the seventeen that reported a decrease this year, strive for a large increase in the enrollment for the coming year.

CONTRIBUTIONS. For many years there has been steady progress in the grace of giving. This year the sum is $85,905, or $6,539 more than in any former year. For the rapid advancement of the financial interests of the Church in the near future, let pastors, superintendents and teachers be diligent in cultivating this grace. Let them teach by precept and example. Have the pupils understand that giving to the Lord is a pleasing act of worship.

SCHOLARS CONFESSING CHRIST. The number is 4,135. This is 372 less than last year; yet we have reports from 67 schools more than one year ago. This means a marked decrease, a decrease found in 31 Presbyteries. Let every pastor impress, again and again, the fact that the primary aim of all Sabbath-school work is to bring each pupil to an humble, intelligent confession of faith in the Lord Jesus. Jesus is the way. Let children be trained up IN the way.

PRESBYTERIAL CONVENTIONS AND CONFERENCES. These have been held in 39 Presbyteries. Why not the other 21? In many cases excuses were given; but among them all we fail to discover a satisfactory reason. Where it is impracticable to hold a convention, we dare say that not a Presbytery in the Church would refuse to devote part of its time once or twice a year to the discussion of subjects pertaining to this vital part of her work. Presbyterial superintendents, arrange for conferences in connection with your regular meetings of Presbytery. Then press your claims, and you WILL succeed.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS. There has been a slight decrease in the number of Teachers' Meetings and Normal Classes, and about the same proportionate number studying the Catechism.

The "Home Department" and "Loyal Army" plan, where adopted, are accomplishing good results. Let every pastor and superintendent examine thoroughly these methods. Blanks and full directions furnished on application to our Board or any of our Depositories.

New Music, adapted to the use of Sabbath-schools, has been, and will continue to be, furnished in the Quarterlies and Bible Teacher.

We recommend the appointment of the third Sabbath of October as a day of special prayer in all our congregations for Sabbath-schools; the second Sabbath of June as "Missionary Day," and the fourth Sabbath of November as "Temperance Day."

PRESBYTERIAL SUPERINTENDENTS. We heartily thank nearly all of you for your promptness, and the neatness with which you have prepared your reports, and the earnestness which you have manifested in securing full statistics. Now, praying God's blessing upon past efforts, let us aim and earnestly strive for higher and grander results.

The terms of office of the following members expire this year, viz.: Revs. W. B. Smiley, R. H. Hood, J. M. Wallace, T. J. Gillespie, Esq., and Robert Trimble, Esq.

The following statement shows in detail our operations during the past year and our present financial condition:

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

I.—BENEFICIARIES.

The number of students receiving aid, upon recommendation of presbyteries, has been larger than during any preceding year. Eighty-nine young men have been certified as being worthy the confidence of the Church, and as needing help from the educational fund. Three are members of the senior class at Monmouth; one is in the senior class at Westminster; fifty-one attended the Seminary at Allegheny, Pa., and thirty-four the Seminary at Xenia, Ohio.

The literary students were recommended for one hundred dollars each. Of the theological students sixteen were seniors and were recommended for fifty dollars each; forty-two second year students applied for one hundred dollars each; twenty-five first year students asked for one hundred and twenty-five dollars each. One first year student was recommended for seventy-five dollars, and one for eighty dollars.

The total amount asked by presbyteries for the assistance of young men was $8,680.

The presbyteries making application for aid, and the number of students assisted are: College Springs, eleven students; Muskingum, seven; Allegheny and Xenia, six each; Butler, Illinois Southern, Monmouth and Monongahela, five each; Lake, four; Sidney and Wheeling, three each; Des Moines, Frankfort, Mansfield, Mercer, New York, Ohio First, Rock Island and Steubenville, two each; Argyle, Arkansas Valley, Beaver Valley, Boston, Chartiers, Chicago, Chillicothe, Cleveland, Delaware, Garnett, LeClaire, Omaha and Pawnee, one each.

The contributions of the Church have been as liberal as during the preceding year, but the income of the board from interest, donations and legacies, has suffered a material decline. Sixty-seven per cent. was all that the board could pay on appropriations to students, and about sixty per cent. to academies. In order to do this much the board was obliged to add six hundred dollars to its indebtedness to the permanent fund. The amount paid to beneficiaries is $5,831, about $550 less than during the preceding year.

This repeated deficiency in the beneficiary fund should serve both as a warning and an exhortation to presbyteries. Greater care should be exercised in passing upon applications, so that aid may be given only to the needy; then there should be increasing faithfulness on the part of presbyteries and pastors in securing liberal contributions to this fund. It is to be feared that the present tendency is to lower the standard of ministerial education. Applications for aid on behalf of young men who have not completed a college course are rapidly increasing, and there is need for directing attention once more to the action of the Assembly, namely, "Presbyteries are urged not to present names of theological students who are undergraduates, and persons not intending to graduate, unless the cases are rarely exceptional."

II.—SEMINARIES, COLLEGES AND ACADEMIES.

In very many ways the year has been one of special blessing to the educational institutions of the Church. There have been hindrances in the way of securing increased endowments, but there has been a gain in the permanent funds; liberal contributions have been made for the erection and better equipment of buildings; there is an increase in attendance both in the seminaries and colleges, and the interest of the students in spiritual matters is reported as most commendable. The synodical agents appointed by the General Assembly have been faithful in presenting the claims of our educational institutions, and have been helpful to the board in the prosecution of its work.

The following payments have been made to the several institutions:

Allegheny Seminary	$1,275 85
Xenia Seminary	933 00
Cooper Memorial College	665 00
Monmouth College	1,100 00
Muskingum College	965 00
Tarkio College	950 00
Westminster College	1,240 00
Marissa Academy	150 00
Pawnee City Academy	200 00
Waitsburg Academy	300 00
	$7,778 85

The appropriation made to academies, from the regular funds of the board, is the same as last year; the amount given to seminaries and colleges—which indicates the contributions of the Church to the special fund—is $7,128.85, or $31.85 more than was raised for the same purpose during the preceding year. Representatives of the seminaries and colleges met last December in an educational conference in Chicago. A commissioner appointed at that meeting is to appear before the Assembly. One suggestion to be made by this delegate is the appointment of a general educational secretary, whose whole time shall be devoted to this special work. The board is ready to endorse any proper measure, and to lend every effort possible looking to the more efficient prosecution of this all-important work of the Church.

SEMINARIES.

Allegheny, Pa.—There are four professors. Eighty-six students have been in attendance—an increase of thirteen over the preceding session. The classification is as follows: First year, twenty-seven; second year, thirty; third year, twenty-eight; post-graduate, one.

Present endowment	$203,000 00
Increase during the year	3,000 00

The faculty is favorable to the appointment of a general secretary of education, who shall give his time to the work.

The recommendation is made that the present method of providing for the support of students shall be continued.

Xenia, Ohio.—The faculty consists of four professors. The students are classified as follows: First year, eight; second year, twenty-one; third year, nineteen. Apart from the regular classes, aggregating forty-eight students, there have been nine in the training department, making the total enrollment fifty-seven.

The endowment amounts to	$90,704 40
Increase during the year	4,894 70

The faculty recommends the employment of a general secretary, because: 1. Our educational institutions need financial aid. 2. This matter should be agitated in order to arouse attention and create interest.

COLLEGES.

Cooper Memorial College.—There are five regular professors and five assistants in the faculty. The total enrollment of students is one hundred and forty-five. Of this number seventy-six are in the preparatory department, thirty-three in the collegiate, and thirty-six in other departments. Three are to graduate in the present senior class. Seventy-seven per cent. of the students are professing Christians. The Christian work of the college is well organized, and much good has been accomplished during the year.

Present endowment	$25,000 00
Increase since last report	500 00

As means of securing greater success in work the college needs a larger annual income, more apparatus for work in the scientific department, a larger library for the use of students.

The faculty recommends the election of a general secretary, giving as a reason that "the educational interests of the Church are of sufficient importance and magnitude to require the full time of a wide-awake, energetic man."

Knoxville College.—The number of students is three hundred and thirty. Preparatory and normal departments, ninety-six; collegiate, nineteen; other departments, two hundred and fifteen. There are two in the present senior class, both of whom expect to enter the ministry.

The Christian organizations, consisting of Y. P. C. U. and Junior Society, have been prosecuting the work in a way that has been helpful to the members and profitable to others. In the college proper all the students are professing Christians, and ninety per cent. of those in the preparatory department are church members. The spiritual condition, as noted by the faculty, is "greatly revived, members engage in Sabbath school work in missions, and in neighboring churches. There are very few in the college who are not committed to a Christian life. The reviving seems to be a genuine work of the Spirit."

The theological department has four students of the first year, and four irregular. The medical department has been opened with six students of the first year. The principal improvement is in the printing department, two presses being added, and a good supply of type and job printing material.

"The University of Tennessee has transferred $2,400 to the college to compensate professors and remunerate student labor, but there is still a demand for additional remuneration to enable students to meet necessary expenses."

Monmouth College.—There are eleven professors. Number of students in all departments, two hundred and eighty-nine. The preparatory department numbers one hundred and twelve; the collegiate, one hundred and twenty; the musical, fifty-seven. There are twenty-four in the senior class. The spiritual condition of the college is good. Never was the prayer-meeting so well attended as during the past year. Eight or ten volunteer classes meet once each week for Bible study.

Present endowment	$100,283 00
Increase during the year	1,102 00

This does not include the Mathers estate, amounting to almost forty thousand dollars, the settlement of which is not completed, but the present interest-bearing fund and nothing more. The income for the year from tuition, interest and other sources amounts to $15,628. This is independent of money raised for refitting and refurnishing all the recitation rooms, and about eighteen thousand dollars already subscribed for the erection of an auditorium.

Muskingum College.—The faculty consists of nine professors and five assistants. Total number of students, one hundred and eighty-five. The preparatory department contains forty-eight; the collegiate, ninety-three, and other departments, forty-four. There are twenty-two in the senior class.

The Christian Association meetings have been well attended. Commendable interest has been taken in Christian work. Bible study has been prosecuted regularly, and contributions for missions have increased. More than ninety-five per cent. of the students are professing Christians.

Endowment fund	$36,500 00
Increase during the year	500 00

Improvements have been made upon the grounds, the chapel has been reseated, the library refitted, and two hundred and fifty volumes have been added to the library. The present needs are "better buildings, more apparatus, more teachers." The faculty recommends the appointment of a general secretary who shall give his time to the work. Even with this arrangement, it will take some years to bring the importance of the educational work to the notice of the church so as to win the support which this work ought to have.

Tarkio College.—The members of the faculty are ten professors and six instructors. The students number two hundred and fifty-four. Preparatory department, forty-two; collegiate, ninety; other departments, one hundred and twenty-two. There are twenty-one in the senior class. Eighty-one per cent. of the students are professing Christians.

Present endowment	$60,000 00
Increase during the year	2,530 00

The improvements made have been the equipping of buildings with pipe and hose for better fire protection. The needs of the college in order to greater success, as summarized by the faculty, are "more endowment, increased library facilities, more spirituality." The faculty favors a renewal of the appeal to the O. Y. P. C. U. for contributions, a more equitable distribution of the educational fund, and a more vigorous effort for its enlargement.

Westminster College.—There are ten professors. Number of students, two hundred and seventy-nine. Preparatory department, ninety-two; collegiate, one hundred and forty-eight; other departments, thirty-nine. The senior class numbers twenty-eight.

The Christian organizations, consisting of Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and Students' Missionary Association, have done effective work, and have succeeded in reaching a larger proportion than usual of the students in attendance.

During the year the Clark Chemical Laboratory has been completed and occupied, and is a fine addition to the scientific equipment of the college. A larger teaching force, which a larger endowment would provide, is needed in order to greater success. There is no important change in the endowment since the report one year ago.

The death of Professor Mitchell, who for fifteen years had faithfully served the college as teacher—first of Latin and then of Greek—is noted in the report as the most important, though the most distressing event of the school year.

Since the last report one year has been added to the scientific and literary courses, so that the scientific course is equal in length and requirements to the classical, and the literary is equal to the scientific course as it was in previous years.

ACADEMIES.

Marissa, Ill.—Principal, H. W. Speer; assistant, Miss Maria Coulter. Thirty-three students have been enrolled. The classification is as follows: Seniors, five; juniors, seven; freshmen, thirteen; irregular, eight.

The property, valued at $2,500, is vested in a board of trustees as required by the General Assembly.

The presbytery asked for an appropriation of two hundred dollars. One hundred and fifty dollars was allowed, and the amount has been forwarded to the treasurer.

Pawnee City, Neb.—Rev. R. T. Campbell has continued as principal, and, with four assistants, has been vigorously prosecuting the work. The enrollment for the year is one hundred and six, showing an increase of twenty-four over the preceding year. There are sixty-seven in the four regular classes, and thirty-nine in other departments.

The property, valued at $20,000, is vested in a board of trustees, the majority, as required by the General Assembly, being members of the United Presbyterian Church.

Presbytery recommended an appropriation of four hundred dollars. The board made an allowance of two hundred dollars.

Waitsburg, Wash.—The faculty consists of the principal, Rev. J. A. Keener, and four assistants. There have been ninety-four students in attendance, not including the musical department.

The estimated value of property is $6,000, and it is expected that needed additions will be made to the building during the present year. The property is secured to the Church, and the school is controlled by a board elected by the Synod of the Columbia.

An appropriation of three hundred dollars was granted and the money forwarded.

III.—FINANCE.

The annual statement of the treasurer, properly audited, is herewith submitted to the Assembly: Forty-eight presbyteries have contributed to the educational fund. The amount received by direct contributions of the Church is as follows:

From Presbyteries		$11,540 12
" Woman's Missionary Society		105 84
" O. Y. P. C. U., Kansas Synod		23 64
" Donations		70 00
		$11,739 60

This is about seven hundred dollars more than was received from the same source during the preceding year. The appropriation made by the last Assembly was thirty cents per member. The response of the Church is as follows: Two presbyteries contributed one cent per member; four, two cents; three, three cents; five, four cents; four, five cents; four, six cents; two, seven cents; four, eight cents; six, nine cents; four, ten cents; two, eleven cents; two, twelve cents; three, fourteen cents; four, fifteen cents; three, seventeen cents; one, eighteen cents; two, nineteen cents; one, twenty-one cents; one, twenty-two cents; and one, twenty-four cents.

IV.—THE BOARD.

It is with gratitude that we mention the interest taken by the O. Y. P. C. U. in contributing to the educational fund as recommended by the last Assembly. The trial of one year is not sufficient to create a general interest, or to perfect plans for the successful prosecution of such an enterprise; yet, encouraged by the past effort, we urge a renewal of the recommendation by the present Assembly.

The board asks for an appropriation of $12,000 for the regular work. It is also recommended that at least $20,000 be appropriated to the special educational fund for seminaries and colleges, and that, as last year, the Assembly appoint an agent in each synod whose duty shall be to present the claims of the board, and the interests of our educational institutions in the respective synods.

The term of office of Rev. T. H. Hanna, D. D., Rev. A. Renwick, and Mr. S. C. Hogue, expires with this Assembly.

By order of the board,

R. GRAHAM, President.
A. RENWICK, Secretary.
W. T. CAMPBELL, Cor. Sec'y.

REPORT OF BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

In submitting the twenty-third annual report of the operations of the board, its members desire to express their sincere and hearty thanksgiving to our heavenly Father for his continued blessing upon their labors, which has enabled them, as in all the years gone by, to respond promptly to every call upon them for assistance and to extend the good work of aiding those who, in the orderings of Providence, are entitled to claim the benefactions of the Church.

Sixty-three persons are enrolled at this time as beneficiaries, eighteen males and forty-five females, being an increase of four since our last report.

There are applications at hand which are likely to make an early increase in this number. The accompanying statement of our treasurer shows our present financial condition. The changes have been slight since our last report.

There has been some shrinkage in receipts from presbyteries, which is very much to be regretted when we consider the importance of the work, and the comparatively small amount asked for. Four presbyteries have given nothing to the funds of the board during the past year—fifteen gave less than fifty dollars each; eight gave less than twenty-five dollars each, and six gave less than ten dollars each. The total amount received from presbyteries was very little over forty per cent. of the amount paid to beneficiaries for the year. Surely such a purely benevolent work as that in which this board is engaged should commend itself to every congregation in our whole Church and should prevent the necessity of reporting that entire presbyteries appear to have forgotten the existence of such a board.

Rev. J. T. Chalmers, having removed to the Associate Church South, Rev. J. H. Webster was elected to fill the vacancy thus made. The term of office of Rev. John Teas, D. D., Rev. W. J. B. Edgar and Mr. T. W. Latimer expires at this meeting of the Assembly.

The endowment fund is now $104,150. An appropriation of $10,000 is asked for from the Assembly. The treasurer's statement is appended. The books, accounts, vouchers and securities have been audited and found correct.

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S BOARD.

THE GENERAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Thirteenth Annual Session of the Women's General Missionary Society met in Erie, May 12, 1896. President, Mrs. Jean S. Sands; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Mary W. Porter. The work of the year presented in the reports of the Department Secretaries was approved, and the plans proposed for enlarged work indorsed.

Invitations were extended to entertain the next Annual Meeting of the Convention, by the Ladies' Missionary Society of Indianola, Iowa, and of Sterling, Kansas. The first of these invitations was accepted, and the following ladies elected officers of the General Missionary Society for the ensuing year: Mrs. J. G. Kennedy, Denver, Col., President; Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Erie, Pa.; 1st Vice-President; Mrs. T. H. McMichael, Cleveland, Ohio, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Mary W. Porter, Recording Secretary; Miss E. J. Sloan, Treasurer.

THE BOARD.

The members of the Board are Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. Mary Clokey Porter, Mrs. Annie R. Herron, Mrs. W. H. McMillan, Mrs. Jennie S. Stevenson, whose term of office expires in 1897; Mrs. J. A. Grier, Mrs. Mary W. Porter, Miss E. D. Brown, Mrs. E. J. McPherson, Mrs. G. W. MacDonald, whose term expires in 1898; Mrs. Mary B. Reid, C. Jane Vincent, M. D.; Miss E. J. Sloan, Mrs. N. Wylie Stevenson, Mrs. M. M. Patterson, whose term expires in 1899.

FOREIGN WORK.

In reviewing the work of the past year in the Foreign Department, we are pleased to report a year of blessing and progress. Nothing striking or marvelous has taken place, but the workers, both at home and abroad, have seemed to do their best, and the Lord has made the work to grow and flourish, possibly to a greater extent than ever before. All plans for work for the year 1895 were carried out without exception.

New Missionaries.—Four new missionary women were sent out, viz: Miss Jennie Morrison, Miss Adella McMillan, Miss Sallie E. Dickey, and Miss Fannie C. Martin. Miss Kate Corbett, who has been home on a two years' furlough, was also returned to India.

Work of the Past Year.—The salaries of twenty-five missionary women have been paid, and liberal support has been given to schools and zenana work. The medical work in India, which now consists of two hospitals and two dispensaries, has been most successfully carried on. The medical work in Egypt, which is almost self-supporting, has required but small assistance from the Women's Board.

New Work for the Coming Year.—In answer to the again earnest appeals, both from Egypt and India, for more women workers, at least four more new missionaries will be sent out this year.

Medical Work in Egypt.—Concerning the medical work in Egypt, in charge of Dr. L. M. Henry, it is believed that it will be more effectually carried on if placed directly under the care of the Board of Foreign Missions, and that the Women's Board can accomplish better results by confining its efforts to medical work under the care of female physicians. We most respectfully request to be relieved from the oversight of the present medical work in Egypt. We are informed that the Board of Foreign Missions are willing to accept this arrangement, if the General Assembly gives its consent.

HOME MISSIONS AND MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

Eighteen workers have been supported by the Women's General Missionary Society during the year just closed, distributed as follows: Five in Oregon, laboring for the Warm Spring Indians; three each in California, Washington and Missouri, two in Illinois, and one in Pennsylvania. Rev. Joseph Alter has been obliged to resign his position as missionary at the Agency. This we very much regret, as he and his wife have been remarkably faithful and successful in their work for the Indians. We pray God's richest blessing to accompany them wherever they go. The burning of the government school at Simnasho, the consolidating of both schools by the erection of a new building at the Agency, and the resignation of Mr. Alter, led presbytery to recommend that Mr. Speer be transferred from Simnasho to the Agency, and be placed in entire control of the whole work. A chapel is to be erected about seven miles from the Agency, for the benefit of the Piutes, and a new man to be placed at Simnasho. Our Board concurred in all of the above. Expended for Indian work:

At Agency	$1,519 86
At Simnasho	1,932 66
	$3,452 52

California.—Miss Currie has hitherto been our only woman missionary here; we are glad to report that two additional workers began January, 1896. Miss Currie reports 1,140 calls during the year and also attendance at every meeting in church and Sabbath-school. Miss McIntyre, at work in San Jose, reports 321 calls in three months. Mrs. Brooks, at work in Alameda, no report as yet.

Spokane.—Miss Stewart reports 1,023 calls in ten months; Sabbath-school increase 157 per cent.; congregation net gain 30 per cent.

Seattle.—Mrs. Nicol has made 1,668 calls in seventeen months. When work was begun Sabbath-school numbered 40, now 191, with a mission school numbering 115, 50 having removed.

Chicago.—Miss Speer has labored in two fields during the year; from April to July, 1895, in Ravenswood making 595 calls. During her sojourn in Ravenswood Sabbath-school increased from 208 to 365. From July 1, 1895, to April 1, 1896, in the service of Third church; made 1,536 calls; Sabbath-school increased from 46 to an average of 100.

Kansas City, Mo.—Miss Barnett made from September to April, 372 calls; Sabbath-school increased from 25 to 87.

Moline, Ill.—Miss Blair made 754 calls in eight months; Sabbath-school increased from 15 to 81.

Topeka, Kan.—Miss Moore made 425 calls in six months; attendance at Sabbath-school, 120.

St. Louis, Mo.—Miss Lou Moore made 500 calls in three months; enrollment of 30 in Sabbath-school.

Three others resigned during the early part of the year. Disbursements, $7,676.25.

Ministerial Relief.—Details of this work cannot be printed, but we rejoice to report an expenditure of $568.98. "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

FREEDMEN'S WORK.

As agreed upon, a school building was erected at Prairie Bluff, Alabama, this year, at a cost of $2,667.45. It stands as a memorial to Mrs. Jennie H. Gillespie, by the Junior Missionary Societies, she having been called home while corresponding secretary of Junior Work.

The Agricultural Industrial Training having been given into the care of the women and children, arrangements were made for opening up this department by purchasing a tract of land at Prairie Bluff, Alabama, containing 627 1-5 acres, and a superintendent in the person of Mr. H. J. Oliver, a graduate of Knoxville College, was appointed. Mr. Oliver entered upon his duties February 1, and has been busily engaged getting the work into shape. One hundred and thirteen acres have been leased to six different parties, ranging from seven to twenty-five acres to each, for one-half share of the crop, and seventy-one acres to three different parties for money hire, ranging from nine to thirty-seven to each. There are a number of small houses on the farm, some frame and some log, which furnish homes for the tenants, and one larger than the others has been remodeled as a home for the superintendent and teachers, at an outlay of $224. The Board has supported twelve industrial teachers, and since February 1, the superintendent spoken of, which makes thirteen salaries, together with the running expenses of the industrial department. It is expected to continue along the same lines this coming year.

CHURCH EXTENSION AND PARSONAGE WORK.

The whole amount of money paid on loans this year is $9,200; $5,200 of this sum being last year's appropriations, and $4,000 for this year. Three congregations have built parsonages by aid from the Board, Alameda, California, receiving $2,000 for ten years; Mt. Washington church, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, $1,800 for ten years, and Pretty Prairie, Kansas, $200 for four years.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY WORK.

In presenting to you a report of the Junior Missionary Societies for the past year, we rejoice to say: "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." Since the advent of the newer Junior organizations for the training of the children of the Church, many feared the Junior missionary societies would be a failure. But it is not so. The annual reports show this work was never in a more flourishing condition, and we wish to call special attention to the increase in the number of societies, membership, and contributions. Forty-three new societies have been reported this year, 29 the previous year, making an increase of 72 societies in two years. New members last year, 902, this year 1,812, showing that 2,714 new members have been brought into these societies in two years. The actual gain in membership during the past year is 1,740.

Number of Societies reported	223
Number of members	6,190
Number in Little Light Bearers	500
Honorary members	332
Contributions	$4,113.90

An increase over last year of $309.29. The reports show that these societies have helped in every department of the work. The special work assigned for the coming year is the endowment of a child's bed in the Jhelum hospital, India, at a cost of $600.

In answer to many requests that have come to the Board urging the publishing of a missionary paper for the Juniors of the Church, the Women's General Missionary Society instructed the Board of Directors to proceed to the publishing of such a paper, just as soon as 2,000 subscribers are assured.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT.

The demand for literature has this year been greater than ever before, and an increasing interest is manifested in this department of work. $22 has been spent in the free distribution of literature.

Receipts	$201 53
Expenditures	165 27

THANK-OFFERING DEPARTMENT.

No year has ever given so much encouragement for a plentiful harvest of real heart interest in this part of the Lord's work, as the one just closing. The harvest fruit of 1895 was scarcely garnered until, from all parts of the Church, orders came for additional helps for the work of the new year. The thank-offering secretary reports having sold 8,062 copies of Thank-Offering Scripture Services and leaflets, besides sending out free, 7,475 Thank-offering boxes, 19,151 Thank-offering envelopes and 3,294 copies of "Appeal to the Women of the Church." The total amount of thank-offering paid into the treasury since the first offering in 1888 is over $112,000. "A thank-offering box in every home, and every inmate thereof a giver," is the bugle note sent forth this year from the Women's General Missionary Society, in preparation for giving a special offering of $75,000 on the tenth anniversary of this department of the Church's work, one year hence.

TRAINING SCHOOLS.

The Training School of Xenia, undertaken by the direction of the Women's General Missionary Society, was opened the first Wednesday of September, 1895. The ladies in charge of this work are Mrs. L. Ella Buchanan, Mrs. Mary Harper Wilson, Mrs. R. S. Finley, Mrs. J. C. Warnock, Mrs. Joseph Holmes. The committee report thirteen students enrolled during the year, and feel exceedingly grateful to the faculty of the theological seminary for the cordial welcome given to all connected with this new department of work, and return sincere thanks to the professors of the seminary, to the pastors of the city and vicinity, and to the city physicians who have delivered lectures especially prepared for the training class. The committee, under whose care the work has been so successfully prosecuted, are rewarded in knowing their efforts have been gratefully appreciated by those availing themselves of the instructions afforded, and also by the members of the missionary society to whose attention the Xenia Training School is especially commended.

The committee for the Training School of Allegheny report that, at the request of the Women's Missionary Society, the doors of the Allegheny Seminary were freely opened for the admission of all who desired training work in the gospel, to both men and women. The busy life around Allegheny, the crowded condition of the Seminary, and other considerations seemed unfavorable to the pursuit of continuous work, and but one student attended the Training School during the year, and that one a gentleman.

MEMBERSHIP AND MAGAZINE.

Statistical reports have been received from 62 presbyterial societies and from seven presbyteries where there are no organized presbyterial associations. These reports show the number of women's societies to be 948, representing over 19,000 members, and the number of subscribers to the Women's Missionary Magazine, 4,538.

PITTSBURGH, May 25, 1896.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

The Committee on Narrative and State of Religion present their annual statement, impressed by two things: First, the inadequacy of written reports and figures, however full and accurate, to express the true condition of the Church. Second, that the information obtained is not full and definite enough to make known even approximately the true status of the Church. Though imperfect, the report is submitted in the hope that it may provoke thought and action, and that its very imperfections may lead to amendment.

NARRATIVE.

Membership.—There are 120,853 members in our Church, a net gain during the year of 3,147. There have been received on profession of faith 8,023, or 934 less than last year, and on certificate 6,310, or 453 more. The net increase in America was 2,066, being 1,272 less than last year. The gain was shared by all the Synods except Nebraska and California, the former showing a net loss of 46 and the latter just holding its own. This is due, it would appear, in both cases to the large percentage of removals. The Synod of Pittsburgh shows the largest net gain, 625, and yet the per cent. of increase by profession in the Synod of Nebraska is larger than that of the Synod of Pittsburgh, being 8.7 per cent. in the former, and 6.7 in the latter. The Synod of Columbia shows the largest per cent. of increase by profession, 12.2, while the Synod of Kansas shows the smallest, 4.9. We may not be able fully to account for this difference, but one or two facts deserve attention. In the Synod of Columbia all of its congregations are settled; in the Synod of Kansas within two of one-half are vacant. In the Synod of Columbia there were no changes in the pastorate during the year; in Kansas there were seven pastors installed and seven released.

The removals exceed the increase on certificate by 3,265. We find this to be true of all parts of the Church, west as well as east, in cities and towns as well as in the country. And this is true year after year. Last year the number was 5,194, the year preceding 2,146, the year preceding that 3,154, etc. This is a heavy drain upon the Church, and calls for greater faithfulness upon the part of ministers and sessions, and stricter oversight on the part of presbyteries.

The actual progress of the Church cannot be determined by the increase on certificate, for the gain in one congregation is balanced by the loss in another. Nor can it be accurately measured by the number of members received on profession, for these are to a large extent the youths who have been nurtured in our Christian homes and taught in our Sabbath-schools. The adult baptisms more nearly represent the actual advance made upon the world. These number 2,072, being 337 less than last year. The Synods of Columbia and Nebraska show the largest per cent. of adult baptisms, 3.3 and 3.1 respectively, while the First Synod of the West and the Synod of New York show but .7 and .8 per cent. respectively. This may be accounted for, in part at least, by the fact that the first mentioned synod has within its bounds a large amount of missionary territory, while the latter has but little.

There are 948 congregations, a gain of 3, and 801 pastoral charges, a gain of 11. Seventeen congregations have been organized, as against 14 last year, nine of these in America; 13 have been dissolved, all in America, as against five last year. Five synods did not organize any new congregations. There are 696 congregations with pastors, or stated supply, an increase of 24; 252 are vacant, a decrease of 21. The largest proportion of vacancies to settled congregations is found in the Synod of Kansas and Second Synod, while Columbia has no vacancies and California but one. There are 385 mission stations, 361 of these in the foreign field; 32 stations were established this year, 23 of these in the foreign field. There have been erected 25 houses of worship, the same number as last year, costing $233,094, an average of $9,325. Thirty-nine congregations have no house of worship, 13 less than last year. Fifteen parsonages have been built, two less than last year, at a total cost of $26,737, an average of $1,781.

Sabbath-Schools.—There are 1,123 schools, a decrease of 4; of these 1,091 are open all the year, a gain of 8, leaving only 32 schools that are open but part of the year. Number of scholars 107,543, an increase of 3,943. There are 11,616 officers and teachers, a decrease of 128, making the membeship of the Sabbath-school just 1,694 less than the membership of the Church. In fact in all the synods in America, except New York, Pittsburg, and First West, the membership of the school exceeds that of the congregation. The proportion of the membership of the school increases quite uniformly as we move from east to west until, when we reach the Synod of Columbia, we find more than twice as many scholars as communicants. The contributions of the schools were $84,910, an increase of $4,893.

Missionary Societies.—The missionary societies have increased from 885 in 1895 to 921, or nearly as many societies as there are congregations. Some congregations have more than one society, and a few have none. It is hoped that in the near future the Committee on Narrative shall be able to report at least one society for each congregation or better still, that each congregation is a real missionary society.

Young People's Societies.—There are 805, with a membership of 35,- 146, an increase of 29 societies and 1,400 members. This includes junior societies. There seems to be a lack of uniformity in reporting, some reporting the junior and senior Y. P. S. as one society, and others as two. The New York and Columbia Synods report a larger number of societies than congregations, while all the others report less. We suggest that directions be given in the statistical tables in order to secure uniformity.

Contributions.—For salaries of ministers, $586,948, an increase of $3,049; for congregational purposes, $473,048, an increase of $41,002; for the boards of the Church, $255,366, an increase of $7,854; for general purposes, $102,736, a decrease of $8,282; total contributions, $1,418,098, an increase of $28,283. Of this amount $14,008 was contributed by the foreign field. The average salary of pastors ranges from $861 in the Synods of Ohio and Kansas, to $1,247 in the Synod of New York. The average for all the synods is $1,054, an increase of $6 over last year. In the contributions to the boards there is an increase in Foreign, Home, Freedmen, and Church Extension, and a decrease in Education, Ministerial Relief, and Assembly Fund. The contributions to the Board of Church Extension are $17,547 in excess of last year, while those to the Board of Education are $15,894 less. The average per member for all purposes ranges from $8.71 in the Synod of Kansas to $17.26 in the Synod of California. The average per member for the Church in America is $13.13 as against $13.04 last year. The largest number of congregations contributing to any one fund is 772, an increase of 8; 386 contributed to all the funds, a decrease of one over last year, and a decrease of 35 over the year preceding; 56 congregations, an increase of 25, did not contribute to any of the funds, and we can safely add to this number the 38 that did not make any report.

The Ministry.—There are 875 ministers, 11 more than were reported last year. Of these 611 are in the pastorate, 27 of an increase, and 264 are without charge. Eighteen ministers died during the year, more than in any previous year, except one. In the year ending April 1, 1888, the same number were called to rest. One minister disappeared, two were dismissed to other Churches, three were received from other Churches. 36 were ordained, 35 students were licensed. There are 75 licensed students and 115 unlicensed, 190 in all, a larger number than at any other former year. Of these 131 are in Allegheny and Xenia Seminaries. Of the 18 ministers called to their reward 7 were from the First Synod of the West. Of these 18, seven had passed the three-score and ten, 11 had reached or passed the age of 67, while two were under 50. The oldest, Doctor Simpson, died at the age of 78 and the youngest, Prof. Mitchell, was promoted when only 43. Thirteen died without charge, four were taken from the active duties of the pastorate, and one from the professor's chair. Seventeen died, what we are accustomed to term, a natural death, at the hand of diseases, one fell by the persecutor's sword, sealing his testimony for Christ with his blood.

MEMORIAL RECORD.

Samuel Alexander, of Garnett Presbytery, son of John and Martha (Ferguson) Alexander, was born July 21, 1822, at Jonesborough, Tennessee. He was graduated at Franklin College in 1849, and studied theology at Canonsburg. He was licensed October 5, 1852, by Chartiers Presbytery, and ordained August 21, 1855, by the Presbytery of Ohio. He was pastor of Bethel congregation, Lawrence co., Pa., from August, 1855, to February 21, 1872, was stated supply at Clarkson and Letonia, in Columbiana co., Ohio, from 1874 to 1879, of Holland Creek, Kan., from 1880 to 1882; was pastor at Lyndon, Kan., from June 27, 1882 to April, 1890. He taught in the Darlington (Beaver co., Pa.) Academy from 1872 to 1875. He was first married to Mary Ann Buchanan, of Hickory, Pa. His second marriage was to Sarepta Duira Silliman, of Enon Valley, Pa., on January 17, 1861, who, with his one son and two of his three daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 73, without charge, at Lyndon, Kansas, May 11, 1895, of epilepsy and nervous prostration.

K. Girgis Anshalian, of the Presbytery of Egypt, son of Elia Anshalian, was born in 1839, in Diarbekir, Armenia. When a young man he came in contact with the missionaries, through whose teachings and the influence of his wife, he became a Christian. He was graduated at Mardin in 1864, and studied theology at Mardin and Beyrut. He was ordained about 1865, and labored for some years under the direction of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. He was settled at Mardin and afterwards at Saerd. He came to America in 1881, and was admitted to membership in the Second church, Jersey City, then under the pastorate of Dr. Robert Armstrong. At the suggestion of Dr. Armstrong he spent a year in studying theology at Xenia, and in 1885 was received by the New York Presbytery, and the same year was sent as a missionary to Egypt. He was installed pastor of Koos, in Upper Egypt, where he labored until the date of his fateful visit to his native land. He was married twice. His first wife died in Koos. His second wife survives him. He left Egypt in September, 1895, with his wife to seek rest and health, and fell a victim to Mohammedan fanaticism. He died at the age of 56, a martyr to the Christian faith, at Diarbekir, in November, 1895.

James Young Ashenhurst, of Wheeling Presbytery, son of John and Mary (Young) Ashenhurst, was born in Brown co., Ohio, June 29, 1818. He made a profession of his faith in the Eagle Creek congregation (Brown co., Ohio) in 1834. He was graduated at Franklin College, and studied theology privately. He was licensed October 28, 1844, by the Reformed Dissenting Presbytery, and ordained by the same May 19, 1845. He was pastor of Short Creek, Three Ridges, Forks of Wheeling, and Forks of Yough from May, 1845, to October, 1852, when having united with the Associate Church he and one or two others resigned their charges for the purpose of combining weak congregations in the same neighborhood. He was pastor of Dalton, Ohio, from April, 1854, to October, 1856. He was installed at Haysville and Savannah, November, 1856, resigned the latter in 1859 and the former in 1872. He organized Christianville (now Chase City), Virginia, July 24, 1872, and Staunton River, Virginia, June 4, 1873, and was stated supply of these two congregations until 1877, declining a call from this charge in 1876 on account of ill health. He was married June 6, 1844, to Martha Johnston, of High Ridge, Belmont co., Ohio, who, with two of his three sons and four of his six daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 77, without charge, at High Ridge, Ohio, January 10, 1896, of kidney disease.

Hugh Leman Brownlee, of Des Moines Presbytery, son of James and Angelina Brownlee, was born December 1, 1837, at Iberia, Ohio. He made a profession of his faith in the New Wilmington (Pa.), congregation in 1864. He was graduated the same year at Westminster College, and studied theology under Rev. S. G. McNeal. He was licensed October, 1868, by the Associate Presbyterian Presbytery of Northern Indiana, and ordained by the same May, 1869. He was pastor of Portland Mills, Indiana, from May, 1869, to June, 1883, of Sharon, Presbytery of Kansas, from September, 1883, to October, 1890. He was received into the United Presbyterian Church by the Presbytery of Arkansas Valley in April, 1894. In December, 1894, he was called to the pastorate of North Branch, and installed June 10, 1895, but was unable to preach after his installation. He was editor of the Associate Presbyterian Magazine for a number of years. He was married October, 1868, to Annie Hindman, of Washington, Iowa, and on June 7, 1875, to Issaline M. McGregor, of Corning, Iowa. His wife, with one of his four sons and his three daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 57, at Newton, Kansas, July 22, 1895, of acute gastritis.

Joseph Leal Clark, D. D., of Lake Presbytery, son of John and Nancy

A. (Leal) Clark, was born at Kortright, Delaware co., N. Y., June 20, 1827. At the age of 18 he made a profession of his faith in Kortright congregation. He was graduated at Union College in 1855, and studied theology at Newburgh. He was licensed May 13, 1857, by Saratoga Presbytery, and ordained by the same July 22, 1858. He was pastor of Broadalbin, Fulton co., N. Y., from July 22, 1858, to June 10, 1872, was stated supply at Indianapolis, Indiana, for three or four years, was pastor of Kerr Ridge and Plumer, Crawford co., Pa., from October 6, 1876, to 1883, and of Adamsville, Pa., from July 2, 1883, to August 8, 1895, four months prior to his death. He was married in 1858 to Emma McLaury, of Kortright, and on December 20, 1865, to Mrs. S. S. Remington. He had one son and one daughter. His wife and son survive him. He was a contributor to the Church papers and magazines. The degree of D. D. was conferred in 1890 by Grove City College. He died at the age of 68, without charge, in Adamsville, Pa., December 19, 1895, of congestion of the liver.

Joseph Austin Edie, of Beaver Valley Presbytery, son of Guian and Margaret (Bonar) Edie, was born at Clinton, Allegheny co., Pa., August 25, 1827. He made a profession of his faith in Ohio congregation, May 5, 1845. He was graduated at Franklin College in 1851, and studied theology at Canonsburg. He was licensed in June, 1855, by Allegheny Presbytery, and ordained May 7, 1857, by Monmouth Presbytery. He was pastor of North Henderson, Illinois, from May 7, 1857, to October, 1869, of Clayton, Illinois, from December, 1869, to April 4, 1878, of Four Mile, Beaver co., Pa., from June 22, 1880, to June, 1886. He was appointed to the special mission at Wichita, Kansas, organized the congregation and supplied it from 1887 to 1888. He was one of the charter members of Monmouth Presbytery, and its first moderator. He was secretary of the Board of Education for fourteen years (1859-1873). He was a member of the Senate of Monmouth College for twenty years (1869-1878), during which time he never missed a meeting. During the civil war he was engaged for two winters in the service of the Christian Commission. He was married May 8, 1860, to Sarah Ann Hodgens, of Canonsburg, Pa., who, with two of his three sons and three daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 67, without charge, at Beaver, Pa., May 21, 1895, of cancer.

Samuel Glasgow Irvine, D. D., of Oregon Presbytery, son of Dr. Samuel and Maria (Glasgow) Irvine, was born in Wooster, Ohio, August 14, 1826. He made a profession of his faith early in life, probably in his father's congregation at Salt Creek. He was graduated at Franklin College in 1845, and studied theology at Canonsburg for two years, completing his course under private instruction. He was licensed July 9, 1850, by Muskingum Presbytery, and ordained by the same March 12, 1851. He was stated supply of a mission church in New York City from May 18 to August 24, 1851, was pastor of Willamette, Oregon, from November 20, 1852, to October 13, 1873, of Albany, Oregon, from June, 1857 to 1894. He was president of Muskingum College from 1850 to 1851. He was moderator of the General Assembly of 1878. The degree of D. D. was conferred by Franklin College in 1869. He was married March 27, 1851, to Mary Rainey, of Cambridge, Ohio, and on December 6, 1871, to Margaret (Martin) Osborne, of Peoria, Oregon. His wife, with three of his four sons and two of his three daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 69, without charge, at Albany, Oregon, October 31, 1895, of rheumatism and complications.

He died at the age of 53, without charge, at Reynoldsburg, Ohio, July 14, 1895, of consumption of the bowels and lungs.

John Mitchell, of Mercer Presbytery, son of Robert and Mary (Cairns) Mitchell, was born July 27, 1853, at Londonderry, Ireland. He professed his faith in 1869 in the Eighth church, Philadelphia. He was graduated at Westminster College in 1878, studied theology privately, was licensed August 10, 1891, by Mercer Presbytery, and ordained by the same April 9, 1894. He was principal of the Greenville High School for two years, and taught for a year and one term in Pine Grove Academy. In 1881 he was chosen to a professorship in Westminster College. At first he occupied the Latin chair, but was soon transferred to the chair of Greek Language and Literature, which he occupied to the close of his life. He was married December 25, 1878, to Margaret Criswell, of Mars, Pa., who, with his two sons and three daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 43, at New Wilmington, Pa., March 15, 1896, of typhoid fever.

John Patterson, of Beaver Valley Presbytery, son of William and Isabella (Conn) Patterson, was born in Armagh, Ireland, June 1, 1822. He made a profession of faith when about 18, in Mt. Jackson congregation. He was graduated at Franklin College, studied theology at Canonsburg, was licensed in June, 1854, by Muskingum Presbytery, and ordained by the same July 5, 1855. He was pastor of Londonderry, Ohio, from July 5, 1855, to June, 1867, of Peters Creek, Pa., from September 16, 1867, to June 18, 1872, of Mountville and Camp Run, Pa., from August 25, 1874. He was released from the latter April 10, 1879, and from the former in 1882. He was pastor of Oakland, in Beaver Valley Presbytery, from October 7, 1881, to June 24, 1890. He founded the Londonderry (Ohio) Academy in 1861, and conducted it for about six years. He and Rev. J. S. McCready engaged in a public debate, occupying four days, in Cadiz, Ohio, February, 1858, with two noted Universalist ministers, on the question, "Do the Scriptures teach the ultimate holiness and salvation of all mankind?" He was married September 30, 1852, to Elizabeth F. McFarland, of New Athens, Ohio, and on October 31, 1859, to Martha A. Spencer, of Quaker City, Ohio. He had four sons and two daughters. His wife, with three sons and one daughter, survives him. He died at the age of 73, without charge, at his home near Beaver, Pa., October 4, 1895, of dysentery.

Samuel Patterson, of Beaver Valley Presbytery, son of John and Isabella (McFarland) Patterson, was born in County Derry, Ireland, June 18, 1819. He made a profession of faith March 29, 1840, in First church, Allegheny. He was graduated at Duquesne College, Pittsburgh, in 1845, and studied theology at Allegheny. He was licensed March 29, 1848, by Monongahela Presbytery, ordained by the same September 25, 1849, and installed pastor of Rocky Spring, Beaver co., Pa., and East Palestine, Ohio. He was released from the latter in 1855, and continued his pastorate at Rocky Spring until his death. He was married June 5, 1856, to Eliza Jane Gilleland, of Darlington, Pa. He had four sons and three daughters, all of whom survive him. He died at the age of 75, at Darlington, Pa., May 22, 1895, of heart disease.

Clark, of Washington, Ohio, who, with two sons and two daughters, survives him. He died at the age of 51, without charge, at Mulberry, Missouri, January 27, 1896, of a complication of diseases.

Robert Graham Thompson, of Los Angeles Presbytery, son of John and Elizabeth (Findlay) Thompson, was born in Butler co., Pa., May 31, 1816. He made a profession of faith in Antrim congregation, Guernsey co., Ohio. He was graduated at Madison College in 1838, studied theology at Allegheny, was licensed in 1842 by Muskingum Presbytery, ordained August 14, 1845, by Mansfield Presbytery, and installed over Auburn, De Kalb, and Eden congregations. He was released from Auburn about 1856, from Eden near the same time, and from De Kalb in 1858. He organized the congregation of Kingsville, Missouri, in 1867, and supplied it two years, organized the congregation of Holden, Missouri, April, 1868, and supplied it four years. He was principal of De Kalb Academy from May, 1857, to April, 1863. He was chaplain of the 64th Ohio Infantry from July 1, 1863, to December, 1865. He was married May 9, 1844, to Sarah Leland Brown, of Port Washington, Ohio, and on July 11, 1861, to Martha Thompson Scott, of De Kalb, Ohio. His wife, three sons, and five daughters survive him. He died at the age of 75, without charge, in Santa Ana, California, August 7, 1895, of apoplexy.

In this connection it seems fitting to mention the mysterious disappearance of Rev. T. J. Kennedy, D. D., of College Springs Presbytery. He left home for Omaha on August 24, 1894, expecting to return in two days. Two letters bearing the date of his departure, one of them mailed in Omaha, were received by his family. Since then nothing has been heard from him. For months a reward was offered for his recovery, and every effort was put forth to unravel the mystery; but no trace of him has been obtained, and no reasonable explanation of his disappearance produced, except that of temporary derangement. His presbytery has officially reported his name as removed from the roll. The case is a peculiarly sad one.

STATE OF RELIGION.

While God alone knoweth the heart, yet there are marks by observing which we may in some measure ascertain the tone of religious thought and feeling. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

The Attendance Upon Public Worship.—David's heart must have been right with God when he could say, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." Looking at the Church as a whole, we find that the average attendance at public worship is somewhat in excess of the membership. This is disappointing. It would indicate, first of all, that the children do not as a rule attend the preaching service. We do not forget that many whom we call children are communicants, children being received into full membership at a much earlier age than in former years. The Sabbath-school is too often regarded as the children's church, and the attendance there is considered sufficient. The little ones are not brought to God's house as regularly as they should be. Again, the report as to average attendance would indicate either that many of the members do not attend regularly, or that comparatively few outside of the pale of the Church attend. Perhaps both is true. As a rule, the attendance in rural districts is larger in proportion to the membership than in towns and cities. This is accounted for in part by the fact that in the country the little ones are more generally taken to church. But there are exceptions to this rule. Arkansas Valley reports the attendance in the country less than the membership; in town, one-third and one-half more. In almost all parts of the Church the attendance at evening service is much smaller than at morning, ranging from one-third to almost equal. Arkansas Valley is again an exception, all but four of its congregations reporting a larger attendance than in the morning. From almost every quarter comes the report of an improvement in the attendance and interest as compared with last year. Some say "greatly improved," "much better," "interest much increased"; others, "somewhat improved," "somewhat better," "some increase"; while others report "very slight improvement," "none declining," "no noticeable change."

The Home.—"I will walk within my house with a perfect heart." The returns from the Church at large as to family worship are very unsatisfactory, many sessions declining to answer, many confessing they do not know. One presbytery reports, "Conspicuous for unfilled blanks," and " I don't knows," "sessions seem to have no means of reporting the facts"; another, "Evidently pastors and sessions do not know very much about the spiritual condition of the home"; and still another, "Reports show that sessions do not know positively." From the general tenor of the reports, it would appear that family worship is "sadly neglected" and "on the decline." From a very few congregations comes the information, "An altar in every home," and in one instance improvement is reported. As to family instruction and discipline, the returns are a little more encouraging. From many directions come reports of a good degree of faithfulness in the performance of the duty, and many record an improvement due to pulpit teaching, pastoral work, and a growing sense of parental responsibility. From some come reports of neglect and declination, and the statement that the instruction of the children is largely transferred to the Sabbath-school teachers. In fact a great many account for neglect of family instruction by the disposition to yield to the demands of business and pleasure, and to shift responsibility to the Sabbath-school and young people's society. As to how many parents talk freely with their children about their spiritual interests, but few replies comparatively are given, and these for the most part are, "Do not know," "cannot tell," with an occasional "few," "many," "good proportion," "almost all," proving very clearly, as one puts it, that there is a "lack of knowledge on the part of sessions" on this subject, and that "few parents take their children into their confidence spiritually."

The Prayer-Meeting.—"Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another, and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord and that thought upon his name." The reports would indicate that a large majority of the congregations have a mid-week prayer-meeting. The attendance varies from one-sixth of the membership to three-fourths. Many report one-half, and from at least half of the presbyteries comes the cheering news of improvement along this line. To the question, "Is there any increase in the number of those who take part?" every presbytery reporting answers affirmatively; and some, "quite an increase," "considerable," and others, that the answers from the congregations are uniformly, "yes." The young people's work has given an impetus to the prayer-meeting in almost every part of the Church. The proportion of young people attending prayer-meeting is given in almost every case as larger than that of the membership in general; some report the prayer-meeting as composed largely of young people. And the increase so encouraging and general, in the unmber of those who take part, is attributed almost entirely to the influence and training of our young people's societies. From one presbytery comes the report of a lack of interest in the congregational prayer-meeting on the part of the young people. As to the topics used in the prayer-meeting, we find that there is no uniformity. Less than one half the congregations use the topics prepared by the Assembly's Committee. A large number, perhaps the majority, use the Sabbath-school lesson for the following Sabbath, many, topics of their own selection, while a few use the "Shorter Catechism."

The Sabbath School.—"Feed my sheep," "Feed my lambs." Interest in this branch of the Church's work does not appear to be lacking. A few congregations are reported as having all their members enrolled in the Sabbath-school, others "nearly all," and very many from one-third to three-fourths. As to the proportion of adults who attend, the majority, perhaps, report one-half or more, while some are reported as low as one-tenth, and one congregation as having but one or two. The number of scholars in attendance from families outside the Church is, in the large majority of our schools, very small. Some report a larger proportion from the world, "one-half," "two-thirds," "three-fourths," "four-fifths," etc., while a number of purely mission schools are maintained. In the most of our schools something is being done to cultivate a missionary spirit. Missionary day is observed, mission bands are conducted, literature is distributed, special instruction is given, and special collections are taken. "Almost everything imaginable" is done, says one, and another says, "Everything we know to do." And as a result, "the schools that are doing something, no matter what, succeed in arousing the missionary spirit." Nearly all of the schools give something to missions, a few make all their offerings to this cause, the congregation meeting the expenses. Many contribute one-half, others less, and some give what is left after the running expenses of the school are paid. The Shorter Catechism is taught in nearly all our schools. Many presbyteries report "all," some "nearly all," some "generally," others "all but one," "all but two." etc. One presbytery reports, "not generally," and another, "only one requires it." Sixteen congregations have a "Home Department," and a few others are arranging for it.

Congregational Work.—"To every man his work." "And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another. In what place, therefore, ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us." As to the proportion of members in the congregation, who are active in Christian work, some of the replies are very indefinite, as, "not numerous but increasing," "very few." "liberal proportion," "majority," etc. The predominant answer is, "about one-half." Some are able to report, "three-fourths," a few "nine-tenths," and one happy session, "nearly all;" while a few estimate their active force as low as one-tenth. The methods which are employed to enlist, develop, and organize workers are, for the most part, the ordinary means of grace, and the usual church organizations. One has, "training classes," another, "district prayer-meeting." One says that they use "commonsense and scriptural methods," and another that they resort to "no special trick." One lays special stress on "personal work," and another on "putting the members right to work," and another "endeavors to give them something to do, and appreciates their efforts." The result in almost every instance has been gratifying. More workers have been enlisted and better service rendered. No one method has been marked by such signal results as to place it above all others in efficiency. Any proper method, it has been shown, is better than none, and any legitimate method persistently employed will be successful. And yet wisdom is needed in the choice of approved methods, one being suited to one locality, and another to another. "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good." Twenty presbyteries report some special mission work within their bounds. This consists in supporting mission schools, organizing and supporting mission congregations, developing new territory, and supporting special missionaries in the foreign field. The larger majority of the congregations have held some special meetings during the year. In a number of congregations special evangelistic services were held. The results in nearly every instance are reported as "good." In many cases, there was a quickening of the spiritual life of the members with but few additions to the membership; in others, many were added to the Church. Within the bounds of 15 presbyteries a synodical evangelist, city missionary, or special evangelist has been employed, and the reports of the work accomplished, with possibly a single exception, are most gratifying, and as one has expressed it, "such as to encourage others to follow their example." The reports read "large accessions," "many adult baptisms," "wonderful uplift," "marked spiritual awakening," etc.

The prevailing financial method is the envelope system, and almost without a dissenting voice, it is pronounced satisfactory. From one session does come the reply, "Convenient as a system, but will not make men pay their quota;" while two or three others respond to the same effect, "but we have not paid our quota." Other methods reported are, the subscription, collections, card, and usually a combination of two or more of them. These methods are but rarely reported as satisfactory. In very many cases the subscriptions are used for salary and congregational expenses, and collections for missions. Only two congregations are reported as raising money by the old pew rent system. Seventy-four congregations are reported as having paid their quota. One presbytery reports that a "few" of its congregations have paid their quota, and another "many," but as we are not able to translate a "few" and "many" into figures, we cannot add them to the above list. Twelve presbyteries report that none of the congregations have paid the quota, and thirteen make no report on the subject. From the answers given it is impossible to state even approximately the number of members in the Church at large who practice proportionate giving. Very few sessions give any definte answer to the question; by far the largest number do not seem to know enough about it, even to risk a guess. The most encouraging fact is that a number report the tithe payers as increasing. But while sessions do not seem able to give much definite information as to the proportionate givers, they are able to report almost unanimously that liberality is increasing. One presbytery reports a "marked increase," another "increase in spite of the hard times," and only one, a decrease. Though reports are somewhat vague, it would appear that a large majority of the families are reached by one or more of our Church papers.

The Christian Life. —"For me to live is Christ." "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." The standing of our members in their respective communities in all sections of the Church, is "good." Some put it stronger than that, and say, "excellent," "high," "very high," while others estimate their standing as, "few," "encouraging." Some seem disposed to measure themselves with others, and answer, "second to none," "we think we are as good as the best of our section." Another is more modest and replies, "While the Christian life is not so distinctly Christian as we would like to have it, yet the line of demarkation, as a general thing, is so clear, it is not difficult to know where they belong." Our members are reported as being generally loyal to their principles, and as one puts it, "Growing more loyal." Two or three complain of a disregard of our distinctive principles, but the prevailing tone from all sections is encouraging. As to spirituality, the information is not quite so full and definite. Some say there is a "lack of deep spirituality," and that it is "below the Bible standard," while others say there is a "high degree of spirituality," and that it is increasing. As to Sabbath observance the notes are somewhat discordant. Some are very high on the scale as, "exemplary," "of a high order," others, "generally strict," "fair," "generally better than other churches," and others are low on the scale, "below the United Presbyterian standard," "less severe than in the days of the fathers." The prevailing note, however, in spite of the tendency of the age, is, "still held sacred." Almost the same may be said as to the reports on worldly amusements. Some reply that they are "not patronized" by their members, and "give no trouble;" others that they are "seldom indulged in," have "little attraction," while others say, that they have "too strong a hold" upon the people, and are "crippling the spiritual life of many." The predominant tone is encouraging. Total abstinence is all but universal. Some are very emphatic in their declaration that "all" are total abstainers, that there are "no tipplers" among them. One says, "We would put them out if there were." As to the suppression of the drink traffic the reports would indicate that nearly all are right in sentiment, and very many are pronounced in their opposition to the business, and in many places our members are the leaders in prohibitory movements. From some presbyteries come the report that their members are not only right in their sentiment, but a "large proportion vote it;" and another reports "an increasing number who vote their principles on this question." But others declare the fact that "the rank and file of both pastors and people are found lagging far in the rear of the advanced standard raised by our Church in its highest court;" and again and again comes the refrain from all parts of the Church:—They "talk and pray all right, but most of them vote the other way." And a voice comes from conservative Xenia, daring to suggest that "the time has come for the Church to unite together, and say we will not vote for any man or with any party that will license the evil of intemperance, or take money from the saloons as a tax." Our members are reported as generally in sympathy with the national reform movement, but some are indifferent.

Colleges and Seminaries.—Westminster reports an enrollment of 279, the overwhelming majority of whom are within the pale of the Church. About eighty or ninety students are connected with the Christian associations. The religious life is less militant, but not less genuine and pervasive. The death of Prof. Mitchell was felt as a great loss and had a subduing influence. Monmouth reports 88.4 per cent. of the students as professing Christians. Every member of the senior and junior classes is a member of the Church: 144 belong to the Christian Union; 74 are in the Bible study classes, and 21 in the mission study classes. There are five student volunteers. The college prayer-meeting is better attended and the interest in missions deeper than ever before. Muskingum reports 172 out of 185 students as professing Christians; but few of these are not fairly active, and many are "full of good works." There has been a practical revival of missionary interest, which has resulted in contributions twice as large as for two or three years past. Knoxville reports all the students (17) in the college proper, as active Christian workers, and about 80 of the 87 in the normal classes as having made a public profession. During the evangelistic services conducted by Rev. H. H. Bell, seventy were hopefully converted or restored from backsliding. Eight or ten students conduct a mission Sabbath-school, and six or eight others assist in neighboring Sabbath-schools of other churches. Tarkio reports 254 students, 214 of whom are professing Christians, and 35 active workers. A series of special meetings were held in January, resulting in spiritual quickening. A well attended missionary meeting is held monthly. Two hundred dollars is contributed annually toward the support of a missionary in Egypt. Cooper Memorial reports 142 students, 77 per cent. of whom are professing Christians. All the members in the senior class belong to the Church. A large proportion are active Christian workers. There is greater interest in the students' prayer-meeting than ever before. There is something of a missionary spirit, and some missionaries, it is thought, are in training. Allegheny reports 86 men in the regular seminary work. Of these, three are under appointment to go to the foreign field. Three others offered themselves but found obstacles in the way. The missionary spirit has been good. One hour a week is given to experimental religion, Christian missions, or some kindred subject, with encouraging results. Almost all in the senior slass—28 in number—have already received and accepted calls. Xenia reports 48 students. Of this number one belongs to the Baptist denomination, and two to the Reformed Church in the U. S. Many of the students have expressed a desire to be employed in the foreign field, while all evince much interest in the cause of missions. Special lectures on foreign missions have been given. A training school for Christian workers has been conducted in both seminaries. There was but one in attendance in Allegheny, who was not counted in the regular classes. In Xenia there were eight, five or six of whom attended the regular recitations.

Hindrances.— The state of religion may be somewhat accurately measured by noting those things which are regarded as hindrances to the growth and spirituality of the Church. "A great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries." From nearly all the presbyteries hindrances are reported. These are for the most part such as are summed up by many in the Scriptural phrase, "The world, the flesh, and the devil." Of special hindrances secret societies is the one most frequently mentioned. At least 18 presbyteries reporting it. From one comes the statement that it is our position as to secret societies that is the hindrance, and from another, "the too rigid and literal interpretation of our article on secret societies." Two or three specify the minor orders as being specially in the way. Another hindrance frequently mentioned is that of "worldliness," "claims of worldly business," "worldly maxims." The running of trains and mills on the Sabbath tempting many of our members to desecrate the Lord's day, the "Sunday" newspaper debauching the public conscience, the presence of the distillery and saloon lowering the moral tone, are others. The "hard times" is given by many, one presbytery reporting no hindrance "greater last year than financial stringency." Among hindrances that are local and peculiar we find "no pastors," "rough roads," "the facts of a changing New England," "California general looseness," etc.

The Encouragements.—If the hindrances are great and numerous, the encouragements are greater and much more abundant. "If I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered." The most prevalent ground of encouragement is the service rendered by the young people. In almost every presbytery their work is gratefully recognized, and is regarded as the brightest feature in the outlook for the Church. Their piety, devotion and missionary zeal are all worthy of record. For example, the young people's societies of Conemaugh Presbytery have furnished a missionary, and provided her salary for seven years. The work being accomplished through the agency of the Sabbath-school and the missionary societies, is reported as grounds of encouragement. Others are, "growing liberality," "large percentage of accessions from the world," "willingness to work," "greater spirituality," "interest in Bible study." Among the local encouragements mentioned are, "better attendance," "improvement in praise service," "phenomenal growth of our Sabbath-school," "prohibition of the drink traffic," etc.

Suggestions.—Among the suggestions sent to your Committee, and not referred to elsewhere in this report, are the following:

That the Board of Publication issue a "booklet on family worship and instruction," "a small pamphlet on proportionate giving, to sell for ten cents or less," "a new and cheaper edition of Bible Songs in larger type, with at least one-half of the text omitted," "a small book of Psalm selections for solos, quartettes, etc., suitable for funeral and other special occasions," "literature on missions in tract form," etc. That a liberal rather than a rigid and conservative interpretation of our distinctive principles be given in the administration of ecclesiastical affairs;" that "field secretaries be appointed for Sabbath-school work." "More and better music" is suggested, "cheaper Sabbath-school helps," "the same prayer-meeting topics for our young people's societies as are used by other churches—the international Y. P. S. C. E. topics." In general it is evident that the Church as a whole is not retrograding, is not even standing still, a positive advance has been made. The net increase in membership is but small, not what we might reasonably expect. There has been no marked or unusual ingathering, but in many places there has been a healthy and encouraging growth. There has been some increase in religious activity, and an increase in direct evangelistic work. There has been growth in liberality, and in the missionary spirit beyond what the increase in contributions would indicate. There has been a revival of interest in the Sabbath-school. The young people's work is not only steadily advancing, but broadening and deepening. The missionary societies have increased in number and influence, and are doing a quiet but systematic work, not only in the way of cultivating an intelligent missionary spirit, but in increasingly efficient and aggressive work, both in the home and foreign field. Their missionary operations, conducted on a cash basis, are noticeably successful, and worthy of imitation. Again it is evident that the Church has caught the spirit of the age, which is to organize, multiply agencies, devise new methods and meet in mass conventions.

This has been done too often at the expense of our religious energy, the neglect of individual and family duties, and the deterioration of personal piety. Let us beware lest we come under Christ's condemnation. "These ought ye to have done, and not leave the other undone." The reports would also indicate that many of our members have so far imbibed the prevailing spirit of selfishness, as to sacrifice religious principles to personal gain and pleasure, to the extent of lax Sabbath observance, a measure of conformity to the world in the matter of amusements, and a failure to come up to the true standard of Christian citizenship. Our Church, as a whole, and in her separate organizations, seems to have reached high water mark in point of resolutions and declarations of principle. What is now imperatively needed is persistent and heroic effort to bring our membership up to this high level in practice as well as in theory. A growing dissatisfaction in many parts of the Church, occasioned by divergent interpretations of some of our distinctive principles, calls for serious consideration. Either they should be more specific and mandatory in statement, and more rigidly enforced, or they should be modified. We should not degrade our standards to the level of our practice, but should aim to conform our conduct to Bible standards. The growing disregard of the Sabbath, the conformity to the world in matters of business and pleasure, the neglect of family worship and instruction, the low tone of spirituality, the very inability to obtain data on which to base an estimate of the state of the Church,—all indicate a very prevalent lack of personal work on the part of pastors, elders and members. One pastor suggests that in the future blanks be prepared "that can be conscientiously filled out by at least one in twenty of the sessions." Another intimates that his session considered some of these questions as suitable only for "the day of final assize"; and another, in endeavoring to follow the suggestions of the Committee, became involved in serious trouble, many members and two of his elders resenting the proposal of the questions as "an unwarrantable intrusion into their private matters." In view of these instances and noticeable inability of sessions to report on matters of personal and family religion, we would suggest that the Assembly most clearly and emphatically set forth the duty of sessions to inform themselves along these lines, and of the people to furnish the required information. We suggest that in the future the duty of this Committee be restricted to the preparation of the report on the "State of Religion," in view of the fact that the Second Clerk so fully presents the "Narrative." We endorse the suggestion that in the future the blanks for this report be sent out early in the year. We suggest that all presbyteries be required to hold a conference on the state of religion at their spring meeting, if practicable. We suggest that action be taken by the Assembly, making it the duty of this Committee to prepare annually a list of prayer meeting topics, and call the attention of future Committees to the request that these topics be made more practical and better adapted for conference by the membership of the Church. In view of the fact that the members of this Committee are widely separated, and the work necessarily crowded into the few weeks preceding the meeting of the Assembly, the chairman alone must be held responsible for this report. We suggest that hereafter the Committee be so constituted that at least two members be within conferring distance of each other.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. MCKEE, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS.

The Committee on Ways and Means take pleasure in reporting that, notwithstanding the depression in business and the financial stringency of the year just closed, a gain has been made in the general giving of the Church. The total contributions for the year are $1,418,098, a gain of $28,283 on last year. The average per member this year is $13.13, a gain of nine cents per member on the statistical report of last year.

The contributions to the boards this year are $255,366, a gain of $7,854 on last year. For congregational purposes $473,048 was raised this year, or $42,228 more than last year. Although $199,981 less was spent upon new church buildings this year than last, yet there are only thirty-nine homeless congregations this year, where there were fifty-two last year. May the number constantly grow less and all be out of debt.

The largest number of congregations contributing to any one fund this year was 772, a gain of eight on last year. The number of congregations contributing to all the funds is 386, or one less than last year. Thirty-eight congregations failed to make any report this year, but that is an improvement of three on last year.

Your Committee believe that the entire work of our Church is the Lord's work, and should receive proportionate support, if possible, from every congregation, as recommended by the General Assembly, hence they would call the attention of all contributors, but especially of pastor and elders, to the fact that last year 772 congregations gave to the Home Board; while 21 less, or 751, gave to the Foreign Board; while 86 less, or 686, gave to the Freedmen's Board; 115 less, or 657, gave to the Board of Church Extension; 242 less, or 526, gave to the Board of Education; 262 less, or 506, gave to the Board of Ministerial Relief; and 321 less, or 451, gave to the Assembly's Fund.

Your Committee would report that through the action of its members the subject of tithe paying was vigorously presented and enthusiastically received at the young people's convention in Columbus, O., last August. Your Committee had tithe cards prepared and secured tithe literature, and instructed the young people's societies to draw on it for the same for free distribution. In answer to such calls as sent to Rev. W. R. Wilson, tithe secretary of the young people's societies, and to your Committee, over 35,000 tithe cards have been distributed, and 9,376 copies of tithe literature. Thus, your Committee believe they have been sowing seed that will continue to bring forth good fruit. So far about 3,000 signers have been reported to the cards. A great many others, doubtless, have signed cards, and will be reported to the young people's convention at Omaha next August.

A circular letter was sent out January 1st to all congregations that, according to the minutes of 1895, had failed to raise the amount asked of them by the Assembly. Many responses were received to these letters, all kindly in spirit, yet many giving apparently good reasons for the shortage; many others promising and hoping for a better showing this year. Doubtless, they have made it.

Owing to the pressure of private business on members of this Committee, they feel that the work of the Church suffers injustice and is crippled, and they therefore urge the election of a financial secretary, as provided for by the Assembly of 1892, one who shall give his whole time to the work. Your Committee would nominate for this position Rev. W. R. Wilson, of Mercer, Pa., for a period of three years, at a salary to be fixed by the Assembly; and would ask that this matter be not put off until the closing hours of the evening session just before adjournment, as in the last Assembly, but that it be taken up at such a time as may be convenient, when the mind of the Assembly may be given to it, and the will of the Church expressed.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN UNION WORK.

That which is a duty on the part of the General Committee on young people's work becomes a pleasure when the work under their care has been of such a nature as to reflect credit on the whole Church. This we believe has been true of the works in our last report to you, and we therefore present with joy the report of the young people's work to the body by whose suffrance we exist and under whose supervision we labor.

There seems to be no disposition on the part of the young people to be restive under denominational control, or to feel that the Church has not a right to counsel them and guard their interests and direct their energies. The young people know no sectionalism and manifest no objection to a liberal support of the work planned by the General Committee. They are a unit on loyalty to the denomination of which they are a part. The knowledge of this has relieved your Committee of much anxiety, and though there is still the column for information as to the form of constitution, it is not with any desire to obtain information that might be a ground for boasting, but simply that we might present you the facts for your consideration.

Unless the Committee is deceived in reference to the status of the work, we are able to report increased loyalty to the Church and devotion to her interests. The work has prospered along all lines, and the reports show a larger membership and larger contributions than any heretofore given. The 55 presbyterial conventions and rallies held during the year either stimulated the attendance on the General Institute at Columbus, or were helped by the spirit of that meeting; so that the reports from these conventions indicate that they were the best that have been held.

Four presbyteries failed to place a report in the hands of the Committee, and of the 56 reporting 10 held no convention.

The committee authorized a change in the blanks sent out, so that we have no items as to the manner in which the young people raised their money, or as to the number being received into the Church from the unions. The reports last year showed much confusion in the former items; and as to the latter, the society and the Sabbath-school so overlap as to make reports misleading.

STATISTICAL REPORT.

In submitting our statistical report to you, we confess to a measure of disappointment in that the reports have been so incomplete. Special effort was put forth in order that we might have complete returns from all our societies, yet but 633 reported. As all the other statistics herewith submitted concern only these 633 societies, we will omit the 172 societies with a membership of 6,766, reporting to the Second Clerk of the Assembly, but reporting nothing but organization and membership. Had all reported to the Committee and had the average of the 633 been maintained, our membership would be 35,310 and our contributions above $45,000. Of the 633 reporting 467 are Christian Union, 158 Christian Endeavor, and 8 are undesignated. Their present membership is 28,380, as against 25,987 last year; giving a net gain of 2,393. They contributed to the boards of the Church, $7,011; to expenses of societies, $10,125; to other purposes, $18,174; a total of $35,310. This is an increase over the amount reported last year of $3,130.

One of the features of the Institute at Columbus was a conference on systematic giving. So great was the interest in this subject that a tithe committee was appointed to keep the subject before the young people. Cards were printed and distributed, pledging those who signed them to try this method of giving. It seems from the returns that the secretaries of the local societies have not made a careful canvas of the results of this agitation, for only 2,560 are reported as committed to the tithe system. Two hundred and ten societies received the cards and 154 have a tithe committee. The average contribution per member last year was $1.12, this year $1.24, and this advance without the special effort of a self-denial week.

JUNIOR WORK.

There is nothing of special interest in this line of work. Rev. W. I. Wishart continues to serve as Junior secretary, having been reappointed thereto by the Institute in Columbus. He has been untiring in his efforts to form new organizations and to energize those previously organized. While there has been some advancement, the work has not yet become general. Difficulty is experienced in getting leaders who can and will give sufficient time, thought, and energy to interest, instruct, and develop the children. Reports have been received from 238 societies, having last year a membership of 5,451, while they report 8,902. Their contributions amounted to $3,762.

In reference to the Junior work the Institute took the following action:

"Whereas, the Junior work has become so important a factor in the work of the Church, and

Whereas, there appears to be a demand for music especially adapted to the work among boys and girls which is not now sufficiently supplied in the Bible Songs and Psalter, Therefore

"Resolved, That the Seventh Annual Institute of Our Young People's Christian Union hereby petitions the General Assembly to provide for this lack, by having a number of psalms arranged for marching tunes and music otherwise appropriate, and adopted for use in meetings of children, and that we respectfully request the Board of Publication to take note of this need when issuing new music in its several publications."

PRAYER-MEETING TOPICS AND HELPS.

There has been no change in the arrangement of topics for use in the prayer-meetings. Those adopted by the Christian Endeavor societies have been used, except where it was deemed advisable to make a change in the interest of our denominational work or polity. Mrs. Mary Clokey Porter has for the greater part of the time conducted the Junior department in the Christian Union Herald, and continues her helpful hints and suggestions, while Rev. J. G. Kennedy, by reappointment of the Committee, appears from week to week with his fund of illustrations, hints, and lessons, helping to make plain to the young people the topic for consideration. While not due, we think, to the topics selected, or to the manner or matter afforded in the helps, there is often, as indicated by the reports received, a lack of interest in the prayer-meetings. This is not a new complaint, but its reiteration claims the attention of the whole Church, for that which is uninteresting will not long hold the young people.

SUGGESTIONS FROM SOCIETIES.

Believing that the Committee had a full list of encouragements and discouragements, instead of asking that question this year, the Committee asked the question, How can the Committee help you? A number of replies have been received, the most important of which are, "Give live matter on missionary and tithe work;" "Help us get the younger members to work;" "Provide good practical literature;" "Help us make our business meetings interesting;" "Give more time and attention to presbyterial conventions." A number of suggestions have been made by presbyterial secretaries. Here are some of them: "Plan work for Juniors;" "Arrange local general conventions that many might attend, who, at present, because of the great distance, are prevented from so doing;" "Give the presbyterial secretaries more definite powers or duties;" "Provide a fuller literature for the Committees;" "Give a variety in subjects for Juniors;" "Don't repeat the Sabbath-school lessons;" "Urge pastors to take a deeper interest in young people's work;" "Devise some way to get reports in on time."

INSTITUTE.

Except to make it a matter of record in the year book of our Church, it would scarcely be necessary to report to you on the Institute, held in Columbus, August 21-25, so familiar are you with that Institute, its spirit, and proceedings. Believing that our young people's organizations had reached a point where we should have a meeting corresponding somewhat with their size and spirit, no effort was spared by the Committee to secure such a meeting. An elaborate program was prepared, a central location selected, a favorable time chosen, cheap transportation provided, and the young people urged to come. And they came. Twenty-two hundred and forty-eight signed enrollment cards, 772 of whom were delegate members, 1,147 delegates, and 329 visitors. It was the testimony of those who had attended the Institutes previously held, that this excelled the others in interest, attendance, enthusiasm, and spiritual uplift, and that it marked an epoch in our young people's work. Special mention should be made of missionary night, when the interest reached a climax, and the Institute laid an offering of $4,465 on the altar for missions.

Your committee, believing that the time of holding this Institute had much to do with the attendance, and that the attendance was in a measure responsible for the interest, have selected August 19-24 as the time for the next Institute, and have chosen Omaha, Nebraska, as the place. We report a program well arranged, a deep interest on the part of the young people throughout the Church in this Institute, and express the hope that the atmosphere of the Columbus Institute may pervade the meeting in Omaha.

While measurably satisfied with the attainment already made, your Committee is of the opinion that the interests of the young people's work require that some one give his entire time to the work, and that such steps should be taken as would secure this result. To secure this, we recommend that the General Assembly instruct the General Committee to lay the matter before the Institute at Omaha, with such regulations as in their judgment would secure the best results from such an officer, and that the action of the Institute be reported to the Assembly next year for final action.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SEMINARY CONTROL.

The Committee appointed by the General Assembly of 1895 to "negotiate with the Synods having control of the theological seminaries, with a view to the adjustment of any apparent or alleged discrepancies between" the action of the General Assembly "and their chartered rights," respectfully reports as follows:

The Committee met in the parlor of the Third church, Pittsburgh, on the 9th of July, 1895, and continued in session for two days, making a careful study of the organization of the several theological seminaries, their relation to the General Assembly, and the changes, if any, in their constitutions and management necessary to bring them into harmony with the overtures adopted and the action of the General Assembly on Seminary control. In the judgment of the Committee the overture submitted to the Presbyteries by the Assembly of 1895 is so related to those submitted by the preceding General Assembly and adopted by the Church, that it should be considered with them, as constituting the complete action of the Church on the subject, and therefore the paper submitted to the Synods was prepared on the supposition that it would be adopted.

Inasmuch as the object of these overtures is to give the General Assembly a certain measure of control in the education of the candidates for the ministry, the Committee interpreted its duty as extending to all the institutions in which theological instruction is given, whether controlled by Synods or otherwise. Inquiry was, therefore, made concerning the following institutions: The Seminaries at Allegheny, Newburg, Xenia, Cairo and Sialkot, and the theological department of Knoxville College. The following statement is submitted for the information of the General Assembly, and as furnishing the ground for the action taken by the Committee:

XENIA. The Xenia Theological Seminary was established by the Synod of the Associate Church in 1794. After the union of 1858, the "educational management" of the Seminary was transferred by the Associate Synod to the Second Synod of the United Presbyterian Church, the title to the property remaining in the Board of Trustees incorporated as "The Theological Seminary of the Associate Presbyterian Church of North America," and under the control of the Associate Synod. In 1874 the seminary of the Northwest, at Monmouth (formerly the Oxford Seminary,) under the care of the Synods of Illinois, Iowa and Kansas, was consolidated with it, by the adoption of Articles of Union. A constitution was adopted, and, July 30, 1877, the seminary became a corporate body under the general laws of the State of Ohio, by the adoption of the following Articles of Incorporation:

"Art. 1st. The undersigned will become a body corporate and politic by the name of, 'The United Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Xenia, Ohio.'

"Art. 2d. Said Seminary shall be located in Xenia, Greene county, Ohio.

"Art. 3d. The object of the Seminary shall be to instruct candidates for the Gospel Ministry in the knowledge of the doctrines, order and institutes of worship taught in the Scriptures, and summarily exhibited in the standards of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, to cherish in them the life of godliness, and to cultivate in them the gifts which Christ, the head of the Church, confers on them whom he calls to the ministry, to the end that there may be raised up a succession of able and godly ministers of the Gospel.

"Art. 4. The Board of Trustees of said Seminary shall consist of nine members, of whom five shall be laymen. They shall hold their office for three years, and one-third of them shall be elected by the Board of Managers at each annual meeting."

The funds and property connected with the seminary are held by this corporate body.

The constitution of the seminary defines the powers of the Synods and the Board of Managers as follows:

Chap. II., Sec. 1. "All powers necessary for the accomplishment of the object for which the seminary is established shall be and remain in the Second United Presbyterian Synod of the West, the United Presbyterian Synods of Illinois, Iowa and Kansas, and in such other Synods as may be organized within their present territorial limits, or may be united with them according to the provisions of this constitution." (The Synod of Nebraska is now represented in the Board of Managers.)

"Sec. 3. The Synods shall have power to amend, alter, add to or abrogate any part, or parts, of this constitution, by a vote of three-fourths of the Synods at the time included in the union; provided that such change shall not be in violation of the Articles of Union, or of the standards of the United Presbyterian Church.

"Sec. 4. The Synods shall appoint a Board of Managers of fifteen members, who shall be apportioned, as nearly as may be, in proportion to the number of communicants in each, which apportionment shall be revised by the Board of Managers every three years.

"Sec. 5. The Synods shall be the ultimate Court of Appeals in all cases of the trial of any officer of the seminary, or of any controversy arising in the Board of Managers, or of the Faculty, and shall have power of their own motion to review and to confirm, reverse or modify, any decision or action of the Board of Managers.

"Chap. III., Sec. 3. Sixth. The Board of Managers shall have power, and it shall be their duty,—

"(1) To establish and endow in the seminary all such professorships as it may deem to be necessary and proper, and to assign to the professors their respective departments of instruction, whenever this duty is not discharged by the Synod, or Synods, having supervision at the time.

"(2) To nominate to the Synods and induct into office, all professors, and to appoint other instructors; to judge of their competency and fidelity in the discharge of their trust, especially in regard to the doctrines taught; and in case any professor or instructor be found to be unsound in the faith, teaching directly or indirectly anything contrary to the doctrine of the Confession of Faith, Catechisms or Testimony of the United Presbyterian Church, or the fundamental principles of Presbyterian Church Government, of immoral or irreligious life, or otherwise incompetent or unfaithful, to admonish, suspend or remove from office such professor or instructor.

"Provided, That the Board shall act in any case only upon full and fair inquiry, affording such professor or instructor opportunity to be fully heard in his own defense, with a scrupulous regard to his good name and other rights, and to the true objects of the seminary, and with special prayer to God for Divine direction in this business.

"In all such cases it shall be the duty of the Board of Managers to report their action and the grounds thereof, to the Presbytery of which such professor or instructor may be a member.

"Sec. 4. When in the judgment of the Board of Managers, any additional professor may be needed, or any vacancies may occur, the Board shall nominate to the Synods a suitable person or persons. Each Synod shall vote by ballot on the nominees of the Board, and such others as may be made by any member of any Synod, and cause to be forwarded to the Secretary of the Board of Trustees within ten days after the adjournment of the synod a duly certified statement of all votes cast. At the first meeting of the Board of Trustees, which shall be within thirty days thereafter, all the votes thus returned shall be counted by the Trustees, and the person having a majority of all votes cast shall be declared elected. If no choice is thus made, the Trustees shall forthwith call a meeting of the Board of Managers, who shall choose between the two who have received the largest number of votes from the Synods, and the person receiving the majority of the votes of the Managers, provided it be a majority of the whole Board, shall be declared elected. A certificate of the election, signed by the President and Secretary of the Board of Managers, shall be sent to the clerk of each Synod included in the Union, and published in the papers of the Church.

The Board of Managers shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to fill, by temporary appointment, any vacancies in any professorships that may occur. Any person thus appointed shall hold his place until the vacant chair is filled as provided for."

NEWBURG. The seminary at Newburg was established by the General Synod of the Associate Reformed Church in 1804. After the disruption in 1822. it came into possession and control of the Synod of New York. It is not at present in operation but owns valuable property and franchises, with some endowment funds. It is a corporate body under a charter by the Legislature of the State of New York. The trustees are elected by the Associate Reformed Synod of New York. The United Presbyterian Synod of New York holds certain endowment funds, has the educational control, and elects Directors and also the professors. By direction of the Synod of New York the Board of Directors opened the institution in 1895, for a summer school, "for the purpose of scientific instruction in the English Bible and for training for practical Christian work." A similar school will be held in July of the present year.

ALLEGHENY. The seminary in Allegheny was established by the Associate Reformed Synod of the West in 1825. In 1839 the Synod was divided by the organization of the Second Synod of the West, and a General Synod was instituted. A seminary to be under the care of the Second Synod, was established at Oxford, O., and it was ordered "that the subsynods, after their organization, shall each have the exclusive direction of the seminary in its bounds." In 1859 the First Associate Reformed Synod of the West tendered to the First United Presbyterian Synod of the West "the possession and control" of the seminary, which was accepted. When the Synod was divided by the organization of the Synods of Ohio and Pittsburgh, it was agreed that the seminary "shall be in the possession and under the control of the three Synods jointly." The seminary was incorporated by the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, April 13,

1868. The corporate powers are vested in a Board "of not more than thirteen nor less than five persons, or trustees, all of whom shall be citizens of the United States and a majority of whom shall be citizens of Pennsylvania and of the whole number not less than five shall be laymen." The corporate name is "The Board of Trustees of the Allegheny Theological Seminary of the United Presbyterian Church of North America." Full power is given to purchase, receive, and hold in trust all property real, personal or mixed "for the use of the general or special funds of or for said theological seminary of the United Presbyterian Church." "The following Synods of the United Presbyterian Church of North America and their successors, to wit, The First Synod of the West, the Synod of Pittsburgh, and the Synod of Ohio, and such other Synods as may be associated with them, in the control of the Seminary, shall each annually elect such number of persons as the constitution of the seminary may prescribe, to act as a Board of Directors, or managers for said seminary, to serve for such term of office as the said constitution shall prescribe, or until their successors shall be chosen."

"Sec. 4. The Board of Directors shall . . . have power to oversee and direct the duties of the professors and the course of study in subordination to the Synods above mentioned and the General Assembly." The Constitution prescribes nine as the number of trustees, and nine from each Synod as the number of Directors. The Synod of New York now has equal share in the control of the seminary.

The title to all the real estate and funds of the seminary is in this corporation.

The constitution has the following provisions:

"Art. 1. Of the Synods. Sec. 1. The name of the institution shall be 'The Allegheny Theological Seminary of the United Presbyterian Church of North America.'

"Sec. 2. The Seminary shall be held jointly by the First Synod of the West, the Synod of Pittsburgh, the Synod of Ohio, and such other Synods as may hereafter be admitted to a share in its control. These Synods shall have an equal interest in the seminary and equal powers in its management. They shall therefore determine its constitution, and, in subordination to the General Assembly, the course and term of study and the length of sessions, and shall appoint a Board of Directors and make provision for a Board of Trustees, to whom shall be committed the control of the institution and the management of the property and funds, subject to the regulations and the review and control of the Synods.

"Sec. 3. No change in the Constitution shall be made except by and with the consent of a majority of all the Synods.

"Art. IV. Of the Term and Course of Study. Sec. 1. The term of study and the length of the sessions shall be determined by the General Assembly.

"Sec. 2. The course of study shall be under the control of the Board of Directors and the Faculty, until the Assembly shall adopt a course of study for all the seminaries.

"Art. V. Of the Board of Directors. Sec. 1. (Each Synod to elect by ballot two ministers and one elder to serve as Directors for a term of three years.)

"Sec. 8. Whenever a vacancy in the Faculty is to be filled, the Board of Directors shall nominate to the Synods in charge a suitable person. Other nominations may be made in each Synod. Immediately after its adjournment the Clerk of each Synod shall report to the Board of Directors the votes cast in his Synod. The Secretary of the Board shall count the votes reported to him and declare elected that person who shall have received a majority of the votes cast in all the Synods. If no person shall have received such a majority, the Secretary shall immediately call a meeting of the Board of Directors, who shall choose a Professor from the two persons having received the largest number of votes cast. It shall require a majority of all the members of the Board to elect.

"Sec. 9. The Board shall publicly inaugurate the Professors, have the oversight of them and encourage them in their official duties. If any Professor should teach doctrine in opposition to the principles of the United Presbyterian Church, or be immoral in conduct, or incompetent to the discharge of his duties, or from any cause should prove to be an unsuitable person, the Board may suspend him from office and shall make full report of their proceedings to the Synods for final judgment.

"Sec. 10. The Board shall have power to fill any vacancy in the Faculty temporarily, and to engage special lecturers or teachers, when in their judgment it would be for the benefit of the seminary."

In both Xenia and Allegheny it is required by the constitution that every professor shall be an ordained minister of the United Presbyterian Church and shall publicly subscribe a declaration of his adherence to its standards as a profession of his own faith.

CAIRO. The seminary at Cairo was stablished in 1871. It is not incorporated and has no formal constitution. It is under the control of the Missionary Association of Egypt—an association composed of the missionaries—which appoints the professors from time to time as the general exigencies of the work may indicate, as other missionaries are appointed to their respective fields. It has no separate funds or property.

SIALKOT. The seminary in Sialkot was established in 1877. The seminary is not incorporated, and has no formal constitution. It is under the control of the Synod of the Punjab, which elects the professors and manages the institution by a Board of Directors. It has no funds or property except a library of about 1,000 volumes. The term of study is four years, and the course is substantially that of the seminaries in this country, with such modifications as the circumstances require.

KNOXVILLE. The General Assembly of 1893 authorized a department of theology in connection with the college at Knoxville, under the care of the Board of Missions to the Freedmen. The professor is elected by the Board of Missions to the Freedmen as other teachers and missionaries are appointed. The term of study is three years. There are no regulations, but the professor is a member of the general faculty of the college, and all are under the control of the Board, which is elected by the General Assembly and reports to it.

The examination of these charters, constitutions and regulations made it evident to the committee that the amendments to the Book of Government relating to seminary control could not become effective in the chartered institutions without the adoption of proper amendments to their constitutions by the Synods in control, and that in the other institutions there should be action taken to formally invest the General Assembly with the power contemplated in the overtures, and also to secure any funds or property that in the future may be acquired by them against loss or alienation. As the native Church develops in the foreign missionary fields complications are possible, which should be guarded against before they arise.

It was found that such amendments to the constitutions of Xenia and Allegheny seminaries could be made in the same words. In order to prevent confusion or uncertain action by the several Synods, the committee prepared these amendments and a form of action to be taken by each Synod, and submitted the same to the several Synods in the following circular:

To the Synods in Charge of the Xenia and Allegheny Theological Seminaries:

The undersigned were appointed by the General Assembly at its late meeting in Pittsburgh as a committee "to negotiate with the Synods having control of the theological seminaries, with the view to the adjustment of any apparent or alleged discrepancies between" the action taken by the General Assembly on the overtures "and their chartered rights."

The subject is one of very great importance and has engaged the serious consideration of the Church. The character and work of a Church must depend on the character of its ministry. The whole Church, therefore, has a direct interest in the training of those who shall be its pastors and missionaries. Heretofore in the United Presbyterian Church this work of instruction and training has been rendered by institutions founded, supported and controlled by Synods, without any supervision by the General Assembly, except the determination of the term and course of study, and that only of late years. The work of these institutions has been in the highest degree satisfactory to the whole Church, which regards the intelligence, ability, piety and faithfulness of its ministry with just pride. Under the present unrest and dangerous tendencies in theological discussion and belief, the Church has thought it wise that the General Assembly should have a voice in regard to those who shall be teachers in theology as well as in regard to the course and term of study, and has taken action looking to the transfer of certain powers from the Synods having control to the General Assembly.

The General Assembly of 1894 sent down the following questions in overture to the Presbyteries:

"1. Shall the General Assembly have the veto power in the election of professors in our theological seminaries?

"2. Shall the General Assembly have the power to remove a professor for unsoundness in the faith?"

The General Assembly of 1895 found that both these overtures were carried by a clear majority of the votes of the whole Church, and thereupon adopted the following:

"Resolved, 1. That these overtures be and hereby are enacted as a part of the constitutional law of the Church.

2. That, in order that these overtures may find proper place and expression in our Book of Government, the following question be and hereby is overtured to the presbyteries, with instructions to vote yea or nay on its adoption—viz.: Shall Part 1, Chap. V., Art. 4, Sec. 3, be amended by inserting immediately after the words 'course and term of study' the following words: 'to confirm or veto the election of professors to any of our theological seminaries, and to remove for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided by our Book of Government and Discipline, any professor from said seminaries.'

3. That this action is not to be understood as interfering with the rights vested in the Synods having control of the existing seminaries of the Church, further than may be indicated in the language of the overtures themselves.

"4. In answer to the memorial of Allegheny Presbytery this Assembly shall require the directors of the seminaries to report annually on all matters coming within the oversight of the Assembly.

"5. That a committee of five be appointed by the Assembly to negotiate with the Synods having control of the theological seminaries, with a view to the adjustment of any apparent or alleged discrepancies between this action and their chartered rights."

In appointing a committee to negotiate with the Synods, the General Assembly recognizes the fact that the seminaries of Xenia and Allegheny are chartered institutions, governed by constitutions framed and adopted by the Synods in control. By these constitutions the Synods have the power of election and removal of professors. In order to carry into effect in these institutions the power of the General Assembly under contemplation, it is necessary that their constitutions be changed so as to conform to the overtures already adopted and to the one now before the presbyteries. The committee, in behalf of the General Assembly, now asks that such changes be made.

In order that there may be uniformity of action and to guard against any misunderstanding in the future, after careful consideration, we respectively submit the following form of action to be taken by the Synods, the amendments proposed being in the same words for both constitutions:

Whereas, The General Assembly of 1894 sent down the following questions in overture to the Presbyteries:

"1. Shall the General Assembly have the veto power in the election of professors in our theological seminaries?

"2. Shall the General Assembly have the power to remove a professor for unsoundness in the faith?" And,

Whereas, The General Assembly of 1895, in accordance with the votes of the Presbyteries, did enact the above overtures into permanent law in the Church, and at the same time did submit to the Presbyteries the following further overture, which, if adopted, will also become part of the constitutional law of the Church, viz.: "Shall Part I. Chap. V., Art. 4, Sec. 3, (of the Book of Government) be amended by inserting immediately after the words, 'course and term of study' the following words: 'to confirm or veto the election of professors to any of our theological seminaries, and to remove for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided in our Book of Government and Discipline, any professor from said seminaries' "; and,

Whereas, The General Assembly has declared that this action is not to be understood as interfering with rights vested in the Synods having control of the seminaries further than may be indicated in the language of the overtures; and,

Whereas, This Synod desires to carry out the will of the Church as expressed in the overtures adopted and in the one now before the Presbyteries,

Therefore, in order to carry out the purpose of the above recited overtures, be it

Resolved, That the.....Synod of.....hereby consents to, and approves the following amendments to the Constitution of the Xenia Theological Seminary, the same to take effect on the enactment of the overtures now before the Presbyteries:

1. Add to Sec. 1 of Chap. II., the following words:

"Subject, nevertheless, to the supervisory power of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, as set forth in Chap. III., Sections 3 and 4 of this Constitution."

2. Insert in Chap. III., Sec. 4, just before the last sentence, the following words·

"The election shall be subject to confirmation or veto by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. The Board of Managers shall report to the next following General Assembly the name of the professor elected, and the professorship to which he is chosen. In case the election is confirmed, the professor shall be inaugurated. In case of a veto, the Board of Managers shall take steps to fill the vacancy, as above provided. If the General Assembly to which an election shall be reported does not veto the same, it shall be held as confirmed.

"The permanent transfer of a professor from one chair to another shall be considered an election, and shall be reported to the General Assembly for confirmation or veto."

3. Add to Chap III., Sec. 3, and following (5), the following words:

"The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America shall likewise have power to remove any professor for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided in the Book of Government and Discipline of the United Presbyterian Church, and in case of removal the Board of Managers shall take steps to fill the vacancy so created."

Resolved, 2. That the Board of Managers shall make report to the General Assembly of the action of the several Synods on this subject, and, also, the Board shall make annual report to the General Assembly of all matters coming within the jurisdiction of the General Assembly.

Resolved, 3. That the Stated Clerk make report of the action of the Synod to the Committee of the General Assembly.

These same amendments are submitted to the Synods in control of the Allegheny Seminary, viz.:

No. 1 to be inserted in Art. I., Sec. 2.
No. 2 to be added to Article V., Sec. 8.
No. 3 to be added to Art. V., Sec. 9.
The Committee of the General Assembly respectfully asks the adoption of the above proposed action.

Respectfully submitted,

A. G. WALLACE,
W. C. WILLIAMSON,
M. G. KYLE,
G. W. HAMILTON,
SAMUEL S. MEHARD.

July 10, 1895.

[To the Synods in control of Allegheny Seminary the proposed amendments were in the body of the circular.]

These amendments were adopted in each Synod by an almost unanimous vote, the same to take effect on the enactment of the overture now before the Presbyteries. The Synod of New York added the following as a part of the preamble to its action: "The Synod in so consenting is not to be understood as yielding any other power of control."

The parts of the constitutions amended now read as follows:

XENIA. Chap. II., Sec. 1. "All powers necessary for the accomplishment of the objects for which the seminary is established shall be and remain in the Second United Presbyterian Synod of the West, the United Presbyterian Synods of Illinois, Iowa and Kansas, and in such other Synods as may be organized within their present territorial limits, or may be united with them according to the provisions of the constitution, subject, nevertheless, to the supervisory power of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, as set forth in Chap. II., Sections 3 and 4 of this constitution."

Chap. III., Sec. 4. "When, in the judgment of the Board of Managers, any additional professor may be needed, or any vacancies may occur, the Board shall nominate to the Synods a suitable person or persons. Each Synod shall vote by ballot on the nominees of the Board, and such others as may be made by any member of any Synod, and cause to be forwarded to the Secretary of the Board of Trustees within ten days after the adjournment of the Synod a duly certified statement of all the votes cast. At the first meeting of the Board of Trustees, which shall be within thirty days thereafter, all the votes thus returned shall be counted by the Trustees, and the person having a majority of all the votes cast shall be declared elected. If no choice is thus made, the Trustees shall forthwith call a meeting of the Board of Managers, who shall choose between the two who have received the largest number of votes from the Synods, and the person receiving the majority of the votes of the Managers, provided it be a majority of the whole Board, shall be declared elected.

"The election shall be subject to confirmation or veto by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. The Board of Managers shall report to the next following General Assembly the name of the professor elected, and the professorship to which he is chosen. In case the election is confirmed, the professor shall be inaugurated. In case of a veto, the Board of Managers shall take steps to fill the vacancy, as above provided. If the General Assembly to which an election shall be reported does not veto the same, it shall be held as confirmed.

"The permanent transfer of a professor from one chair to another shall be considered an election, and shall be reported to the General Assembly for confirmation or veto.

"A certificate of the election, signed by the President and Secretary of the Board of Managers, shall be sent to the clerk of each Synod included in the Union, and published in the papers of the Church.

"The Board of Managers shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to fill, by temporary appointment, any vacancies in any professorships that may occur. Any person thus appointed shall hold his place until the vacant chair is filled as provided above."

Chap. III., Sec. 3, Sixth. "The Board of Managers shall have power and it shall be their duty—

"(2) To nominate to the Synods, and induct into office, all professors and appoint other instructors; to judge of their competency and fidelity in the discharge of their trust, especially in regard to the doctrines taught; and in case any professor or instructor be found to be unsound in the faith, teaching directly or indirectly anything contrary to the doctrine of the Confession of Faith, Catechism or Testimony of the United Presbyterian Church, or the fundamental principles of Presbyterian Church government, of immoral or irreligious life, or otherwise incompetent or unfaithful, to admonish, suspend or remove from office such professor or instructor.

"Provided, That the Board shall act in any case only upon full and fair inquiry, affording such professor or instructor opportunity to be fully heard in his own defense, with a scrupulous regard to his good name, and other rights, and to the true objects of the seminary, and with special prayer to God for Divine direction in this business.

"In all such cases it shall be the duty of the Board of Managers to report their action, and the grounds thereof, to the Presbytery of which such professor or instructor may be a member.

"The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America shall likewise have power to remove any professor for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided in the Book of Government and Discipline of the United Presbyterian Church, and in case of removal the Board of Managers shall take steps to fill the vacancy so created."

ALLEGHENY. Art. I., Sec. 2. "The Seminary shall be held jointly by the First Synod of the West, the Synod of Pittsburgh, the Synod of Ohio, and such other Synods as may hereafter be admitted to a share in its control, subject, nevertheless, to the supervisory power of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, as set forth in Article V., Sections 8 and 9 of this constitution."

Art. V., Sec. 8. "Whenever a vacancy in the Faculty is to be filled, the Board of Directors shall nominate to the Synods in charge a suitable person. Other nominations may be made in each Synod. Immediately after its adjournment the clerk of each Synod shall report to the Board of Directors the votes cast in his Synod. The Secretary of the Board shall count the votes reported to him, and declare elected that person who shall have received a majority of the votes cast in all the Synods. If no person shall have received such a majority, the Secretary shall immediately call a meeting of the Board of Directors, who shall choose a professor from the two persons having received the largest number of votes cast. It shall require a majority of all the members of the Board to elect.

"The election shall be subject to confirmation or veto by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. The Board of Directors shall report to the next following General Assembly the name of the professor elected and the professorship to which he is chosen. In case the election is confirmed, the professor shall be inaugurated. In case of a veto, the Board of Directors shall take steps to fill the vacancy, as above provided. If the General Assembly to which an election shall be reported does not veto the same, it shall be held as confirmed.

"The permanent transfer of a professor from one chair to another shall be considered an election, and shall be reported to the General Assembly for confirmation or veto."

Sec. 9. "The Board shall publicly inaugurate the professors, have the oversight of them, and encourage them in their official duties. If any professor should teach doctrine in opposition to the principles of the United Presbyterian Church, or be immoral in conduct, or incompetent to the discharge of his duties, or from any cause should prove to be an unsuitable person, the Board may suspend him from office, and shall make full report of their proceedings to the Synods for final judgment.

"The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America shall likewise have power to remove any professor for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided in the Book of Government and Discipline of the United Presbyterian Church, and in case of such removal, the Board of Directors shall take steps to fill the vacancy so created."

NEWBURG. To the Synod of New York the Committee addressed the following note:

"The Committee calls the attention of the Synod to the fact that the seminary at Newburg is recognized as a seminary of the United Presbyterian Church, and suggests that the Synod take steps to have it placed in the same relation to the General Assembly with the other seminaries, and as contemplated in the overtures."

The Synod adopted the following:

"In relation to the Newburg Seminary, the Synod has the power of election of professors, and hereby agrees that hereafter the election of professors to the seminary shall be subject to confirmation, veto and removal by the General Assembly, as in the election of professors for Allegheny Seminary."

CAIRO AND SIALKOT. The Committee addressed the following communication to the Missionary Association of Egypt:

Dear Brethren:—The late General Assembly had under consideration the subject of the control of the Theological Seminaries by the General Assembly as to the power to confirm or veto the election of professors, and to remove any professor for unsoundness in the faith. For the action taken, see the Minutes of the General Assembly, page 716. The undersigned were appointed the committee contemplated in the last resolution.

In the performance of the duty assigned us, we have examined the constitution, or manner of control, of each seminary. We find that the Seminary at Cairo is under the control of the Missionary Association, which appoints the professors from time to time, as the general exigencies of the work may indicate. In order to carry out the will of the Church as expressed in the overtures already adopted and in the action of the General Assembly, and to secure uniformity throughout the Church, we submit for your consideration the following recommendations:

1. That the Missionary Association of Egypt, at its next meeting, frame and adopt a constitution for the Theological Seminary at Cairo which shall secure to the General Assembly the power to confirm or veto the election of professors in it, and the power to remove any professor for unsoundness in the faith, to be judicially determined in the way provided in our Book of Government and Discipline, and which shall secure the property and funds of the institution against alienation from the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

2. That the Missionary Association, after the adoption of such constitution, proceed at once to have prepared all necessary papers for the incorporation of the Seminary under the laws of Egypt, under such name and in such manner as will secure by said charter the powers and rights of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, as set forth in the constitution of the Seminary, and shall place the Seminary under the care of the Presbytery of Egypt, or under the Synod of Egypt, should such judicatory be hereafter formed, and submit, through this committee, these papers to the next General Assembly for its approval, before taking out papers of incorporation.

We submit, for your assistance in framing the constitution, the resolution concerning the power of the General Assembly which we have submitted to the Synods in control of the Allegheny and Xenia Seminaries.

A paper similar to this is sent to the Synod of the Punjab, having control of the Seminary at Sialkot.

Respectfully submitted, [Signed by the Committee.]

A similar paper was sent to the Synod of the Punjab, changed only as made necessary by the fact that the Seminary is under Synodical control.

The following communication has been received from the Missionary Association of Egypt:

"1. While it is the province of the Missionary Association to locate and direct missionaries when in the field, it is within the powers of the Board of Foreign Missions to recall missionaries with the concurrence of the General Assembly. This, in our opinion, secures to the General Assembly, in connection with the Board of Foreign Missions, the authority to recall any missionary professor who might show 'unsoundness of faith.' If the Missionary Association should be delinquent in its duty in this respect. If native helpers are required for our Theological Seminary, they are employed by our Missionary Association just as other helpers are employed by it, and they are subject to its control. The permanent appointment of a native professor, would, in our opinion, have to be made by the General Assembly through its Board of Foreign Missions, and the power giving the appointment, would also have the right of removal, in case of necessity.

"2. All the property under the direction of the Missionary Association is, by right and title, the property of the General Assembly, through its Board of Foreign Missions, and could not, in any way that we know of, be made more secure to the General Assembly than it now is. It might also be added that as the Missionary Association has no legal claim on any mission property, we do not see how it could take any steps towards the transfer of that property, even from one control to another.

"3. The limited time allowed for the preparation of this report makes it impracticable for us to obtain legal advice in regard to securing a charter under the laws of Egypt, but we are strongly of the opinion that it would be impossible for our Missionary Association to secure such a charter.

"It will appear from the foregoing statements, that it is our decided opinion that the General Assembly has now, through its Board of Foreign Missions, the desired control over our theological seminary."

The communication concerning the Sialkot Seminary would be laid before the meeting of the Synod on the 7th of April, and therefore no response has yet been received.

Under the present laws of India an institution may be registered, and so hold property in its own name, but the degree to which the interests of the Church in America in it may be secured is not known to the Committee.

KNOXVILLE. The following resolution was submitted to the Board of Missions to the Freedmen:

"Resolved, That we recommend to the Board of Missions to the Freedmen to prepare regulations for the management of the department of theology at Knoxville, in accordance with the overtures on seminary control, until such time as the General Assembly may make permanent regulations for the organization and management of the institution as a theological seminary."

Any action that may be taken will, doubtless, appear in the report of the Board to the General Assembly.

It is proper to say to the General Assembly that in the preparation of the communication to the Synods all the legal bearings in the case were carefully considered. In the judgment of the Committee the will of the Church as expressed in the overtures has been carried out and with the enactment of the overture now before the Presbyteries the object in view will be fully secured. In view of the importance of the subject and the diversity of opinions expressed in the previous discussions, the unity with which this result has been attained calls for devout gratitude to God for the guidance of his Spirit.

The Committee deemed it proper that one of its members, or a person appointed by it, should appear before each Synod and give any explanation that might be necessary. The Committee feels it due to the Synods to acknowledge the cordial reception given to these delegates. The earnest desire of the Synods to co-operate with the General Assembly and carry out the will of the Church, and the unanimity with which the amendments to the constitution of the seminaries were adopted, should be suitably acknowledged by the General Assembly.

In order to guard against oversight or hasty action in a matter of so much importance as the confirmation or veto of the election of a professor in a theological seminary, the Committee begs leave to suggest the propriety of a standing rule by the General Assembly as to the time when such election shall be reported, the length of time that shall intervene between the report and the action thereon, and that action shall be taken after due notice of the time, and at a time in the session of the Assembly when the attendance of members is yet full; and, also, a rule that if the General Assembly to which an election is reported does not veto the same, it shall be held as confirmed.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE ALLEGHENY THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

In accordance with the action of the last General Assembly requiring the directors of the seminaries to report annually on all matters coming within the oversight of the Assembly, the directors of the Allegheny Theological Seminary respectfully submit the following report:

In general we have to say that the year has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the institution. On every hand we have experienced the favor of the King and Head of the Church, and we are thankful for his mercies. Nothing has interrupted the work of the year, and at its close we look back with satisfaction on the task the Church has given us for this period.

In detail the following items may be mentioned: There has been no change in the faculty. The professors are: Rev. D. A. McClenahan, D. D., professor of Old Testament Literature and Criticism; Rev. J. A. Grier, D. D., professor of Didactic and Polemic Theology, and temporary professor of Homiletics; Rev. John McNaugher, D. D., professor of New Testament Literature and Criticism; Rev. John A. Wilson, D. D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Church Government, and temporary professor of Pastoral Theology. The professors have all been regularly in their places during the entire year, and have given instruction in the studies of the curriculum, including Systematic Theology; History of Christian Doctrine; New Testament Introduction, Exegesis and Literature; Old Testament Introduction, Literature and Criticism; the Canon of both Testaments; Church History and Christian Missions; Homiletics, including both the theory and practice of preaching; Church Government and Discipline, and Pastoral Theology. In addition to this, lectures have been given by several ministers of the Church on subjects of present importance.

The seminary has been open during the whole of the term from the first Wednesday in October to the third Wednesday in May. The attendance of the students has been considerably the largest in the history of the seminary, numbering, all told, 86, distributed as follows: Senior class, 28; middle class, 30; junior class, 27; post graduate, 1. One student has attended the training school, but not being in the seminary course he is not counted with the total. Four of the students in attendance are from the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, to which most of them expect, sooner or later, to return. One is from the Methodist Episcopal Church. A good degree of faithfulness to work has characterized the entire school during the year, and the grade of attainment is fully up to the usual standard. Of the senior class four are under appointment by our board to the foreign field.

By the direction of the Committee of General Management the request of the Women's General Missionary Society for the establishment of a training school for Christian workers in connection with the seminary classes was acceded to, and such a school was opened at the beginning of the term for all persons desiring such training. Owing to the lateness of the announcement, and, as we believe, the limited demand for such instruction in the general locality of the seminary, no considerable interest has been manifested. Only one student has presented himself, although a number of others made inquiry, and two or three expressed the purpose of attending. The busy life led in such a community as this does not give much promise of a large interest in such an annex to the seminary. The proposition made to the Church was to open all classes and lectures to all comers of good moral character. The character of the studies and lectures would have made attendance advantageous to almost any Christian worker, but there seemed to be small active demand for such opportunity. The training school will, however, be open next session, as has been announced in the annual catalogue, and the experiment will be given as full trial as the large attendance of seminary students and the draft upon the time of the corps of instructors will permit.

The amendments to the constitution of the seminary, proposed by the Committee of the General Assembly to negotiate with the synods having control of the seminaries, were all adopted, and in the event of the adoption of the overture on the subject of seminary control by the Assembly, and the enactment of the same into permanent law, will become part of the constitutional law of the seminary. It is hoped that the closer relation thus established, and particularly the presentation of the annual report of the seminary to the Assembly, will be followed by a deeper interest in the seminaries on the part of the whole Church, and by still more efficient measures to train a ministry devoted to, and fully qualified for, the work to which we are called.

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. ROBINSON, Secretary.

REPORT OF NEWBURG THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

In behalf of the board of superintendents of the Newburg Theological Seminary the following report is respectfully submitted:

The seminary was opened last year for a summer term of three weeks, beginning July 17, for the study of the English Bible and methods of Christian work. The sessions of the school were largely attended, and the results so gratifying that the Synod of New York recommended its permanent establishment.

Pursuant to Synod's direction the board of superintendents has made arrangements for the next summer term of three weeks, beginning July 15, 1896. A very competent corps of instructors has been engaged, consisting of Rev. W. G. Moorehead, D. D., Rev. James Harper, D. D., LL. D., Rev. John McNaugher, D. D., Rev. W. W. White, D. D., and Rev. T. C. McKelvey. A course of evening lectures will be given, the following named brethren taking part in these exercises: Rev. J. A. Thompson, D. D., Rev. W. W. White, D. D., Rev. W. J. Martin, Rev. Robert Stewart, D. D., Rev. John A. Wilson, D. D., and Rev. W. G. Moorehead, D. D. Hoping for the favorable consideration and commendation of the General Assembly, this statement is respectfully submitted.

J. G. D. FINDLEY, Secretary.

REPORT ON UNION WITH THE ASSOCIATE REFORMED SYNOD OF THE SOUTH.

During the year there has been no official correspondence. No action on the subject was taken by the Synod, and nothing has arisen to make correspondence necessary. Unofficial correspondence indicates an increase of the desire for intimate relations, and especially in the way of co-operation in mission work in the south. Direct overtures have been made on the subject which will come before the General Assembly, and which, in the judgment of your committee, should have careful consideration. So far as now appears, the union we seek will come to pass, not so much through direct effort as through common interests, common work, and much fellowship. Without doubt the two Churches are growing together, and we hope the time is near when our cherished desire shall be accomplished. Respectfully submitted,

REPORT ON UNION WITH THE HOLLAND CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCH.

The Committee respectfully report to the Assembly that, as it did not seem that any farther steps could be taken towards the organic union of the two Churches until the Synod of the Holland Christian Reformed Church shall have acted upon the report of the Committee, adopted by the General Assembly at the meeting in Pittsburgh last year, no meeting of the joint committee on union has been held during the year. Respectfully submitted,

REPORT ON THE FEDERATION OF CHURCHES.

The Committee appointed by the General Assembly of 1894 and re-appointed by the Assembly of 1895, to represent our Church in the Federal Council of Presbyterian Churches, beg leave to report that no meeting of the Council has been held during the past year for the reason that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church failed to adopt the plan of federation at its meeting in Pittsburgh last May. I have been assured by Rev. R. M. Patterson, D. D., chairman of the committee to which the plan of federation was referred by that Assembly that final action will be taken by the Assembly of May, 1896.

In these circumstances we respectfully suggest that you continue your Committee in order that it may receive and report the final action of all the judicatories next year. Respectfully submitted, ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 1, 1896.

REPORT ON A THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The Committee, appointed by the last General Assembly to prepare a Thanksgiving proclamation and publish it in the papers of the Church, would report that they performed the duty assigned them. The proclamation is as follows:

"With no people hath the Lord dealt more bountifully than with us. A great and a goodly land is the portion of our inheritance, and the provision with which it is stored is inexhaustible. In it is a vein for silver, a place for gold; iron is taken out of it, the stones of it are the place of sapphires, and the rock pours out rivers of oil. Soil and climate and fountains and rivers of water, with plenteous rains, fruitful fields, and bountiful harvests, for man and beast, gladden the face of the goodly heritage.

"Indirectly, through the divinely appointed agency of the people themselves, homes and schools and colleges and institutions of charity have increased the comfort, intelligence, growth, and happiness of the entire people; and under the wise provisions of our civil institutions it is our high privilege to worship the Lord according to the clearest light enjoyed.

"The year has been one of God's right hand. Bountiful harvests have rewarded the toil, and gladdened the heart of the husbandman: and the rekindling fires of the forge, the whirring spindles of the mill, and the hum of industry in the market are the happy results of returning confidence between capital and labor, for which God is to be praised. The work of his left hand, the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, has been left undone. Only where the unhallowed touch by human hand has been given, have local disorders broken out, and enforced idleness, want, suffering, and crime resulted; which should only serve to deepen contrition of heart, sorrow for sin, confession of guilt, and thanksgiving to God that he has not dealt with us as we have dealt with him—cut us off from being a people.

"Therefore, by virtue of authority, vested in us by resolution of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, we, the executive officers, do hereby designate Thursday, the 28th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1895, to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God; and do call upon all her people and the stranger within her gates to enter her courts with praise, and through the mediatorship of Jesus Christ, his Son, recount his mercies, making special mention of his goodness to our land, and supplicate his continued favor upon us, as a people whose God is the Lord." Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON REFORM.

The past year presents very little that calls for special notice in the field of reform. The various organizations for the overthrow of the evils which prevail in our land have continued their efforts with varying success. A glance at the entire field discloses the fact that, while there has been no abatement of zeal or energy on the part of the consecrated hosts who are battling for truth and righteousness, yet there are no marked advances to record.

1. The Temperance Reform. The appalling desolations of the liquor traffic still continue. A mighty army of drunkards still marches with unsteady tread along the highways of this Christian nation. Misery, wretchedness, death, and woe follow in its footsteps. Two hundred and fifty thousand legalized saloons constitute the recruiting stations for this terrible death-dealing and death-doomed army. Commissioned and protected by the authority of this great Christian government, they are still enlisting thousands of our young men into the ranks, and thus luring them on to present and eternal destruction. The agencies, which have been set in operation by Christian people for the arrest and stay of this monster of iniquity in our land, have not been entirely fruitless. Some portions of the land have been delivered from the very presence of the liquor traffic, and most blessed results have been at once manifest. One of the hopeful signs of the times lies in the fact that, while the temperance workers still seek to rescue the drunkard, yet the main effort is directed to the arrest of the evil at its fountain head. The conviction seems to have become almost universal in Christian minds, which consent to consider this question at all, that the most effectual remedy for intemperance is the suppression of the whole liquor traffic. And Christians are becoming more and more convinced that the legalization of the traffic, in any form, is both a sin against God, and a crime against humanity which cannot be longer tolerated by a Christian people. Another very hopeful feature of the temperance movement is found in the splendid awakening of the young people of the Church to the necessity of a radical reform in the whole matter of Christian citizenship. It is most gratifying that those, who are soon to have control of the destinies of this nation, are learning that Christ is to be honored at the ballot-box as well as in the sanctuary.

II. Sabbath Reform. The desecration of the Sabbath still continues to be one of our national sins. The Sabbath mail service of the United States government is every year on the increase. Nearly all our great railway corporations run their ponderous trains over the Fourth Commandment, and over the Sabbath laws of almost every State in the Union, fifty-two days in every year. Special Sunday excursions have become prominent features of railway service to-day; reading-rooms, picture galleries, museums, concert halls, theatres, and opera houses are opening their doors in all our cities, on the Sabbath. So-called sacred concerts in our public parks already constitute a very popular Sabbath recreation. The Sunday newspaper seems to be making good its boast that it has come to stay, and there is reason to fear that it stays by the consent of the Christian public. The fact is already apparent to the most careless observer, that the Sabbath of the decalogue, which is the Sabbath of our American history, has already been converted into a "Continental Sunday," a day for mere secular work or recreation, a day which has been for more than a century one of the worst scourges of continental Europe. About the only hopeful sign that is visible in this direction, is the fact that a real alarm is beginning to be felt in many quarters, in the presence of the imminent danger to our land which this state of things portends and the voice of earnest protest is heard. Surely, if there is anything clearly taught by history, it is that a Sabbath-breaking people cannot long escape divine judgments. The Church of Jesus Christ cannot afford to permit the enemy to despoil the land of this most beneficent institution, and most essential element of a Christian civilization.

III. Divorce Reform. One of the very alarming features of the present social and moral condition of our land is found in the records of our divorce courts. The dissolution of the marriage bond has become a common, every-day affair. Not long since, in one of the best moral communities in the land, no less than twenty-five divorces were granted in one court in a single day. When we consider the moral condition of many large classes, in our larger cities especially, it may not be surprising that large numbers should seek to be liberated from the obligations of the married life, but that our laws and our courts have reached the same low moral level with these degraded masses, and are ready to grant a legal dissolution of the most sacred relationship, for the slightest and most trivial causes, is certainly matter for both surprise and alarm. It is gratifying to be able to state that an earnest and energetic movement has been inaugurated, and is receiving favorable consideration from many State legislatures, to secure such amendments to our divorce laws as will check this great evil which is rapidly undermining the very foundations of society.

IV. National Reform. The effort to secure the acknowledgment of God, the moral law, and Jesus Christ in the preamble of our national constitution is still being pressed. A bill, embodying the desired amendment, has for the second time been introduced into both Houses of Congress, and a hearing has been granted to the friends of the movement. And while the bill has been tabled in the committees, it is still pending, and may be taken up at the next session of Congress. One of the results of the hearing on this bill was to disclose to the country the character of the opposition to it. It was an array of a character, which of itself ought to commend the measure which it opposed to every right thinking mind. It is believed that there never has been a time in the history of this movement when it has made a stronger appeal to every thinking Christian mind than the present. The whole trend of current thought is toward the secular theory of civil government. Every moral issue has already been eliminated from the platforms of the great political parties, and even the name of God scarcely appears. Laws protecting Christian institutions, such as the Sabbath, are being removed from the statute books, or so amended as to despoil them of their efficiency. And this tendency of current thought and political action is greatly strengthened by the fact that the fundamental law of the land is on the side of the secularist.

V. The Public Press. One of the most powerful agencies at work in the land to-day is the secular press. It does more than any other existing agency to direct the thought and mould the opinions of the masses. It reaches every home. It furnishes the entire reading matter for multitudes. And yet, with many honorable exceptions, the secular press is a mighty influence for evil. Being solely a business enterprise, and largely controlled by the greed for gain, it panders to the tastes and appetites of all classes, to secure the patronage of all. It has something that is good for those who desire good, but it has much that is evil for those who desire evil. And thus it becomes a channel of evil to all. It seeks for the startling and sensational in its rehearsal of the news of the day. It familiarizes the minds of all with the details of vice and crime. Its advertising columns often contain the most subtle suggestions of the most degrading vices. It is the advertiser of the corrupt and polluting theatre and play-house. It is the advocate of the open museum, concert hall, etc., on the Sabbath, and loses no opportunity to hold up to public ridicule those who oppose such violations of God's law. It is itself the great Sabbath-breaker, defying both the law of God, and the laws of the land, especially in its "Sunday issues." It is the champion of the liquor traffic. It is the apologist of almost every public evil. It takes especial pleasure in defaming those who dare to assert the claims of truth and righteousness against any existing moral evils. It is a mighty power for evil in our land to-day. And there seems to be little prospect of change for the better.

In view of this condition of things in the moral world, your committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That this Assembly reaffirm and call the special attention of our people to its former deliverances on the subjects of the liquor traffic, Sabbath desecration, the Sunday newspaper, divorce, and other existing evils.

2. That we urge our members to co-operate with every movement which has for its end the overthrow of these evils, in so far as they are conducted on wise Christian principles. Our Church is historically a reform Church. The present condition of things in our land calls for an advance along all the lines of our historic testimony.

3. That pastors be urged to bring to the attention of their people frequently the deliverances of the Assembly upon these matters, and do all within their power to secure their practical adoption.

4. We ask the special attention of the Assembly to the petition which is now before it, asking action with reference to national reform.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT ON A UNION METRICAL VERSION OF THE PSALMS.

By mutual agreement a meeting of the committees thus far appointed by their respective Churches was held for conference in Philadelphia, Pa., October 24, 1895. Committees representing the Presbyterian Church (North), the Reformed Presbyterian Church, the Reformed Presbyterian Church General Synod, and the United Presbyterian Church were present. After a mutual interchange of views, it was unanimously agreed to invite the following churches to appoint committees of co-operation in the prosecution of the proposed revision of the Psalter, viz.: The Presbyterian Church (South), the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the Reformed Church (Dutch), the (German) Reformed Church, the Reformed Episcopal Church, the Holland Reformed Christian Church, and the Canada Presbyterian Church. This invitation has since been extended to each of these Churches. Arrangements were made to secure a catalogue of metrical versions of the Psalms now in print, and also, as far as possible, a copy of each version, for the future use of the committee, the expense to be borne jointly by the bodies which shall engage in the work. It was agreed that when the different bodies invited are heard from, a meeting of all the committees appointed will be called by the chairman of the joint committee, to be held in Philadelphia, Pa. It is not probable that this meeting can be held before the autumn of the present year. So far as heard from the movement has been received with favor by the Churches invited.

REPORT ON REVISION OF THE RULES OF ORDER.

The Rules of Order have been in use for quite a number of years, and have been found to be eminently satisfactory. No radical changes are necessary, but only such as will embody the resolutions adopted by previous Assemblies, and conform the Rules to the present methods of business. The following are respectfully submitted:

Amend Rule 15 so as to read as follows: The Clerks shall prepare and present to the Assembly, immediately after the election of the Moderator, a docket of the business to come before the Assembly, and during the meeting shall keep an exact entry upon it of all unfinished business, and of every item accepted for the consideration of the Assembly. All papers, not referred, and reports shall be put upon the docket in the order in which they are read, unless otherwise ordered by a vote.

Rule 18. At the next sitting after the election of Moderator, or as soon thereafter as possible, the following standing committees shall be appointed, which shall report on the subjects referred to them during the meeting of the Assembly, namely: 1. A Committee on Bills and Overtures. 2. A Judiciary Committee. 3. A Committee for each of the Boards of the Church. 4. A Committee on Sabbath-schools. 5. A Committee on Finance. 6. A Committee on Statistics. 7. A Committee on Correspondence. 8. A Committee on Devotional Exercises. 9. A Committee on Revision. 10. A Committee on Nominations. 11. A Committee on Appropriations. 12. A Committee on Theological Seminaries.

Rule 24. The Committee on Finance shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred the reports of the treasurers of the Assembly and of the Boards, and all papers and resolutions relating to finances, except appropriations to the Boards.

Rule 27. The Committee on Devotional Exercises shall consist of five members, and shall arrange the religious exercises and conferences, and nominate the preachers, for the next Assembly.

Rule 29. The Committee on Nominations shall consist of five members, and shall nominate to the Assembly persons to fill the vacancies occurring in all the Boards, and the persons to constitute the permanent committees.

Insert after Rule 29 the following: The Committee on Appropriations shall consist of one member from each of the committees on the Boards, and one from the Committee on Finance, and to it shall be referred all the estimates of the Boards, and all other claims for money to support the general work entrusted to the Boards or special agencies.

The Committee on Theological Seminaries shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred all matters relating to the theological seminaries.

Omit Rule 30, as superseded by Committee on Credentials given below.

After Rule 33 insert the following: The following Permanent Committees shall be appointed, which shall report to the next Assembly: 1. A Committee on Narrative and State of Religion. 2. A Committee on Ways and Means. 3. A Committee on Railroad Fares. 4. A Committee on Reform.

The Committee on Narrative and State of Religion shall consist of three members, one to be chosen by each Assembly, to serve for three years. It shall prepare a statement of the events of the past year, and of the state of religion throughout the Church. It shall have power to prepare and send out the blanks necessary for its work.

The Committee on Ways and Means shall consist of seven members, four of them living in one vicinity, and the other three in different parts of the Church. It shall devise and execute proper measures for raising the money necessary to support the general work of the Church and submit recommendations on the subject to the Assembly.

The Committee on Railroad Fares shall consist of two persons, whose duty it shall be to arrange with the railroad companies for reduced rates for the members of the Assembly in attending its meeting and the meeting of the General Committee of Home Missions.

The Committee on Reforms shall consist of five members, shall consider all memorials and papers on the Sabbath, temperance, national reform, purity, and similar subjects, referred to them by the Assembly; and shall report on the history and progress of reform movements during the year, and recommend suitable action.

The chairman of the permanent committees, and of special committees to report to the next Assembly, shall have the right to speak on their reports during their discussion by the Assembly.

The Clerks of the Assembly shall be a Committee on Credentials, whose duty it shall be to prepare the roll for the next Assembly.

Rule 37, on the order of business. Omit section 2, and add as 7: A portion of each session shall be spent in devotional exercises under the direction of the Moderator.

Amend rule 68 so as to read: When various propositions are made with respect to filling blanks with particular numbers, times, or places, the question shall be taken by an affirmative vote on each proposition, and the one having the largest number of votes shall be adopted.

Resolved, 1. That all resolutions or orders conflicting with the Rules of Order as thus amended, be, and hereby are, repealed.

2. That the amended rules be published in full in the Minutes of this Assembly, properly numbered and indexed by the Clerks.

WILLIAM J. REID,
A. G. WALLACE.

Pittsburgh, May 25, 1896.

RULES OF ORDER AS AMENDED.

OFFICERS OF THE ASSEMBLY.

1. Officers.—The officers of the Assembly shall be a Moderator, a Principal Clerk, and a Second Clerk.

2. Election of Moderator.—Immediately after the constitution of the Assembly, the Commissioners shall, by ballot, choose one of their number to act as Moderator for the ensuing year.

3. Election of Clerks.—The Principal and the Second Clerks shall be elected by ballot, and their term of office shall be four years. They may be members of the Assembly or not, as may be deemed expedient.

4. Assistant Clerk.—At the request of the stated Clerks, the Assembly may choose an assistant Clerk to serve during the session of the Assembly.

5. Majority to Elect.—It shall require a majority of all the votes cast to elect. In case there is no election on the first ballot, the Assembly shall proceed to ballot for the two candidates having the largest number of votes.

DUTIES OF THE MODERATOR.

6. Constituting the Assembly.—At the time appointed, the Moderator of the last Assembly, or his alternate, or, in their absence,, the oldest minister present, shall open the meeting with a sermon, constitute the Assembly with prayer, and preside until a new Moderator is chosen.

7. Enforcing the Rules.—The Moderator shall preside over the Assembly, and enforce its Rules of Order.

8. Taking the Vote.—When the deliberations on a particular subject are closed, the Moderator shall give a concise and clear statement of the question, take the vote, and announce the result from the Chair.

9. Casting Vote.—The Moderator shall vote with the other members of the Assembly when the vote is taken by ballot. In any other case, if the Assembly is equally divided, he shall have the casting vote; but if he does not choose to vote, he may put the question a second time, and if the result is the same, the question shall be lost.

10. Deciding Questions of Order.—The Moderator shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Assembly by any two members; or he may, in the first instance, submit the question to the Assembly.

11. Speaking from the Chair.—The Moderator may, without leaving the Chair, speak to questions of order. But when he would express his views on any business before the Assembly, he must call some member to occupy the Chair until he has concluded his remarks.

12. Nominating Committees.—Unless otherwise determined by a special motion, the Moderator shall nominate all committees, subject to the confirmation of the Assembly.

DUTIES OF THE CLERKS.

13. The Principal Clerk.—The Principal Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the Assembly; call it at the opening of each session; record the transactions of the Assembly; preserve the records and all papers not otherwise disposed of, and sign all orders and official papers.

14. Second Clerk.—The Second Clerk shall have charge of all papers relating to statistics, prepare the forms, take the necessary measures for the collection of full and accurate statistical information, and in the absence of the Principal Clerk, shall perform his duties.

15. The Docket.—The Clerks shall prepare and present to the Assembly, immediately after the election of the Moderator, a docket of the business to come before the Assembly, and during the meeting shall keep an exact entry upon it of all the unfinished business, and of every item accepted for the consideration of the Assembly. All papers, not referred, and reports shall be put upon the docket in the order in which they are read, unless otherwise ordered by a vote.

QUORUM.

16. Of How Many it Consists.—"One-third of all the delegates duly commissioned, being assembled at the time and place appointed, shall be a quorum for the transaction of business."—Book of Govt. Art. General Assembly, Section 6.

17. In Case There is no Quorum.—If a quorum is not assembled at the hour appointed, any two members shall be competent to adjourn from time to time, that an opportunity may be given for a quorum to assemble.

COMMITTEES.

18. Standing Committees.—At the next sitting after the election of Moderator, or as soon thereafter as possible, the following Standing Committees shall be appointed, which shall report on the subjects referred to them during the meeting of the Assembly, viz.:

1. A Committee on Bills and Overtures.
2. A Judiciary Committee.
3. A Committee for each of the Boards of the Church.
4. A Committee on Sabbath Schools.
5. A Committee on Finance.
6. A Committee on Statistics.
7. A Committee on Correspondence.
8. A Committee on Devotional Exercises.
9. A Committee on Revision.
10. A Committee on Nominations.
11. A Committee on Appropriations.
12. A Committee on Theological Seminaries.

19. Bills and Overtures.—The Committee on Bills and Overtures shall consist of seven members, and be charged with the consideration of all such proposals for public acts, or other measures of general interest, as shall be referred to them.

20. Judiciary.—The Judiciary Committee shall consist of seven members, and to it shall be referred all questions involving the interpretation of the existing laws and doctrines of the Church.

21. Boards of the Church.—The Committees for the Boards of the Church shall consist of five members each, and it shall be the duty of each to review the transactions of the Board, and suggest new measures.

22. Sabbath Schools.—The Committee on Sabbath Schools shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred all reports and papers relating to Sabbath Schools. It shall be their duty to report on the condition of the Sabbath Schools of the Church, and suggest any measures that would increase their usefulness.

23. Finance.—The Committee on Finance shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred the reports of the Treasurers of the Assembly, and of the Boards, and all papers and resolutions relating to finances, except appropriations to the Boards.

24. Statistics.—The Committee on Statistics shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred all papers and reports concerning statistics, and it shall propose any action necessary to secure full and correct statistical information.

25. Correspondence.—The Committee on Correspondence shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred all matters relating to intercourse with other churches.

26. Devotional Exercises.—The Committee on Devotional Exercises shall consist of five members, and shall arrange the religious exercises, and nominate the preachers for the next Assembly.

27. Revision.—The Committee on Revision shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred the Minutes of the Assembly and of the Synods, and it shall report on the manner in which the Minutes have been recorded, and whether the proceedings of the Synods have been according to Presbyterial order.

28. Nominations.—The Committee on Nominations shall consist of five members, and shall nominate to the Assembly persons to fill the vacancies occurring in all the Boards, and the persons to constitute the permanent committees.

29. Appropriations.—The Committee on Appropriations shall consist of one member from each of the committees on the Boards, and one from the Committee on Finance, and to it shall be referred all the estimates of the Boards, and all other claims for money to support the general work entrusted to the Boards or special agencies.

30. Theological Seminaries.—The Committee on Theological Seminaries shall consist of five members, and to it shall be referred all matters relating to the theological seminaries.

31. Notification of Committees.—The Chairman of each Committee shall be furnished with a list of its members, and a copy of the minute of their appointment, when it contains any specification of their duty, together with all papers referred to them.

32. Reports of Committees.—The report of a Committee presented at the regular time in the order of business, may be accepted without a motion, unless it contains something objectionable to the Assembly. But at any other time it may be accepted only on motion.

33. Discharge of Committee.—The acceptance of a report discharges the committee from the further consideration of the business, unless by vote recommitted to it.

34. Permanent Committees.—The following Permanent Committees shall be appointed, which shall report to the next Assembly:

1. A Committee on Narrative and State of Religion.
2. A Committee on Ways and Means.
3. A Committee on Railroad Fares.
4. A Committee on Reform.

35. Narrative and State of Religion.—The Committee on Narrative and State of Religion shall consist of three members, one to be chosen by each Assembly, to serve for three years. It shall prepare a statement of the events of the past year, and of the state of religion throughout the Church. It shall have power to prepare and send out the blanks necessary for its work.

36. Ways and Means.—The Committee on Ways and Means shall consist of seven members, four of them being in one vicinity, and the other three in different parts of the Church. It shall devise and execute proper measures for raising the money necessary to support the general work of the Church, and submit recommendations on the subject to the Assembly.

37. Railroad Fares.—The Committee on Railroad Fares shall consist of two persons, whose duty it shall be to arrange with the railroad companies for reduced rates for the members of the Assembly in attending its meeting, and the meeting of the General Committee of Home Missions.

38. Reform.—The Committee on Reform shall consist of five members, shall consider all memorials and papers on the Sabbath, temperance, national reform, purity, and similiar subjects referred to them by the Assembly, and shall report on the history and progress of reform movements during the year and recommend suitable action.

39. Rights of Chairmen.—The chairmen of the permanent committees and of special committees to report to the next Assembly shall have the right to speak on their reports during their discussion by the Assembly.

40. Committee of the Whole.—As it may sometimes answer valuable ends for the members of the Assembly to confer together on certain subjects in a manner which would not consist with the strict rules of the Court, the Assembly may resolve itself into a "Committee of the Whole," or extra-judicial conference.

41. Rules.—The Moderator of the Assembly shall appoint a Chairman to preside, whose duty it shall be to report to the Assembly business thus extra-judicially transacted. The Rules of the Assembly shall be observed as far as they are practicable in the Committee of the Whole, excepting that the previous question cannot be called, the Ayes and Nays required, nor can there be an appeal from the decision of the Chair.

42. Report.—The Committee of the Whole cannot adjourn; it must always rise and report to the Assembly. If the business referred thereto is not finished, the Committee, through its chairman, "reports progress, and asks leave to sit again," which the Assembly may grant or refuse, at its discretion.

43. Credentials.—The Clerks of the Assembly shall be a Committee on Credentials, whose duty it shall be to prepare the roll for the next Assembly.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

44. Each session of the Assembly shall be opened and closed with prayer. The order of business at every session, unless suspended by a vote of two-thirds, shall be as follows:

1. Calling the Roll and marking absentees.

2. Reading and approving the Minutes.

3. The presentation of letters, papers, petitions, or matters requiring reference.

4. The presentation of reports from standing and select committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. New business, in the order in which it was put on the Docket.

7. A portion of each session shall be spent in devotional exercises, under the direction of the Moderator.

MOTIONS.

45. No Action or Speaking without a Motion.—The Assembly cannot act but in virtue of a motion regularly in its possession; and no speaking shall be allowed without a formal motion, unless it is for explanation or on questions of privilege.

46. Motion Must be Seconded and Announced.—No motion shall be in possession of the Assembly until it is seconded, and announced by the Moderator in the words of the motion.

47. Motions Reduced to Writing.—Every motion and amendment shall be reduced to writing, if the Moderator or any member desires it.

48. Name of Mover, etc., Recorded.—The names of the person who moves, and of the person who seconds a motion, may be entered upon the Minutes, at the discretion of the Clerk.

49. Withdrawing a Motion.—Any member who makes a motion, shall have the liberty to withdraw it, with the consent of his second, before any debate has taken place thereon, but not afterwards, without the leave of the Assembly.

50. Privileged Questions.—When a question is under consideration, no motion shall be received except to "adjourn," "to lay on the table," "for the previous question," to "postpone indefinitely," "to postpone to a time certain," "to commit," or "to amend;" and these motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged.

51. Use to be Made of Privileged Questions.—These privileged questions are not designed to separate amendments or appendages from the main question, and consequently cannot be moved on each other, but upon the main question; except "to adjourn," and "to postpone to a time certain," may be amended as to the time; and "to commit" may be amended in the question of the committee, and instructions.

52. Motion to Adjourn.—A motion to adjourn is always in order, except when the Assembly is taking a vote, or when a member is speaking.

53. Previous Question.—Any two members may call for the Previous Question, which shall be put in this form: "Shall the Main Question now be put?" If seconded by a majority of the members present, all debate shall cease, and the Assembly shall vote, first on pending amendments, if any, and then upon the main question.

54. No Debate after Previous Question is Called.—All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for the Previous Question, and pending such, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

55. Motion to Lay on the Table.—The motion "to lay on the table" has for its object, the temporary removal of business from the consideration of the Assembly, and, if decided in the affirmative on the main question or on the amendment, removes the whole subject from before the Assembly, until it is again taken up.

56. Indefinite Postponement.—When any question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon again during the entire meeting of the Assembly, except by a vote of two-thirds of the Assembly.

57. Order of the Day.—When a question is postponed to a "time certain," it becomes the "order of the day" for that time, and takes the precedence of all other business.

58. Amendments.—Motions are always open to amendment, even to the complete alteration of the motion.

59. Number of Amendments.—An amendment may itself be amended, but no further complication in this way shall be permitted; and this last amendment shall be considered first.

60. Substitutes.—Substitutes for motions or resolutions may, with the consent of the Assembly, be admitted instead of the original motion and its appendages; but the effect of a substitute is to supercede the original motion altogether.

61. Division of Question.—If the question in debate contains several points, any two members may have the same divided, provided the division called for embodies a distinct principle, or statement of fact.

62. Questions not Debatable.—All motions "to put on the Docket," "to adjourn," "for the previous question," "to lay on the table," "to take up business" in relation to the priority of business, and the admission of substitutes, shall be decided without debate.

63. Reconsideration.—A motion for reconsideration can be made only by a member who voted with the majority, and unless by consent of two-thirds of the members present, can be entertained only when offered at the same, or next subsequent sitting of the Assembly.

64. Notice of Motion.—A motion on any subject connected with the doctrine, discipline, government, or order of the church, shall not be considered until the second sitting after the one at which it is offered.

DEBATE.

65. Obtaining the Floor.—When a member desires to address the Assembly, he must rise and address the Moderator, and he may not proceed until the Moderator recognizes him and announces his name. The Moderator shall always give the floor to the member who first addresses him, or to the one furthest from the chair, when two or more address him at the same time.

66. Decorum of Members.—Every member, when speaking, shall address himself to the Moderator, and to no other person, except through the Moderator; he shall treat his fellow-members, and especially the Moderator, with decorum and respect, and shall attend closely, in his speech, to the question under consideration.

67. Calls to Order.—If any speaker acts, in any respect, in a disorderly manner, it shall be the privilege of any member, and the duty of the Moderator, to call him to order; and a member thus called to order shall immediately take his seat, until it is determined whether he was out of order or not, or until [illegible] him by the Assembly to proceed.

68. Number of Speeches.—On questions of order, postponement, commitment, or matters which have been discussed in Committee of the Whole, no member shall speak more than once, without express leave of the Assembly. On all other questions, each member may speak twice.

69. End of Debate.—When the Moderator has risen to take the vote, no further debate or remarks shall be admitted, unless there has evidently been a mistake; in this case, the mistake shall be rectified, and he shall recommence taking the vote.

VOTING.

70. Taking the Vote.—Before taking the vote, the motion shall be repeated by the Moderator, who shall put the question in the following form: "As many as are in favor of the motion will say, Aye." After the affirmative is expressed: "As many as are opposed will say, No."

71. Division.—If there is any doubt as to the result of the vote, the Moderator, or any member, may call for a division of the House; the Moderator shall then repeat the motion, and shall require the Ayes to rise, and be counted, and then the Nays to rise, and be counted in like manner, and shall pronounce accordingly.

72. Ayes and Nays.—One-fourth of the members present may demand the Ayes and Nays on any question; the roll shall then be called, and the vote of each member recorded in the Minutes.

73. Non-Voters.—Members, without weighty reasons, are not to decline voting. Silent members, unless excused from voting, are reckoned with the majority.

74. Interested Parties.—No member shall have the privilege of voting on a question in which he is personally interested, or in any case where he was not present when the question was put, unless with the consent of the Assembly.

75. Filling Blanks.—Where various propositions are made with respect to filling blanks with particular numbers, sums, times, or places, the question shall be taken by an affirmative vote on each proposition, and the one having the largest number of votes shall be adopted.

76. Appeals.—Any two members feeling aggrieved by a decision of the Moderator, may appeal to the Assembly, whose determination of the matter shall be final. The question shall be put in this form: "Shall the decision of the Moderator be sustained?"

MISCELLANEOUS.

77. Leave of Absence.—No member may absent himself from the Sessions of the Assembly without its consent.

78. Private Sessions.—The Assembly has the right to sit with closed doors on business, which, in its judgment, ought not to be made a matter of public notoriety.

79. Final Adjournment of Assembly.—The Assembly shall close its meeting with prayer, singing, and the Benediction.

80. Printing Minutes.—The Minutes of the Assembly shall be published by the Board of Publication, under the direction of the Clerks, as soon as possible after the adjournment.

81. Amendments.—These Rules of Order may be suspended or amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Assembly.

82. Rules in Lower Courts.—All Synods, Presbyteries, and Sessions, under the care of the Assembly, are directed to observe these Rules of Order so far as applicable.

REPORT ON THE ORDER OF BUSINESS FOR THE ASSEMBLY.

Your Committee was appointed last year "to arrange concerning the order of presentation and discussion of all the fixed items of business for the next Assembly."

According to a standing order of the Assembly, Friday evening of each meeting is set apart for a memorial service for ministers deceased during the year.

By the last Assembly Revs. R. G. Ramsey, W. J. Buchanan, J. G. Carson, D. D., and W. G. Moorehead, D. D., were appointed a committee to arrange for conferences at the present Assembly. Such arrangements have no doubt been made by the committee, and will be reported to the Assembly for adoption.

In view of these facts the committee do not think it wise to recommend any additional fixed orders, believing that the Assembly can, from day to day, most satisfactorily arrange its business. Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. REID,
A. G. WALLACE.

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 26, 1896.

REPORT ON CONFERENCES.

The Committee on Conferences would respectfully report that they have arranged for the following program:

1. A conference Thursday evening on the work of the Boards of Education and Freedmen's Missions. 2. A conference on Monday evening on Home Missions and Church Extension. 3. A conference on Tuesday evening on Foreign Missions. Time of conferences to be two hours beginning at 7 o'clock each evening. The secretaries of the boards respectively to lead in the addresses.

R. G. RAMSEY, Chairman.

XENIA, O., May 27, 1896.

REPORT ON RAILROAD FARES.

Reduced rates of one and one-third fare for the round trip, on the well-known certificate plan, have been conceded by the following passenger associations, viz: Central Passenger Committee, Trunk Line Passenger Committee, Western Passenger Association (Eastern Committee & Trans-Missouri Committee Territories), New England Passenger Association, Southern States Passenger Association.

The concessions apply from all territory in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, and will benefit all those attending the General Assembly who do not enjoy clerical half-fare permits. The concessions permit the purchase of tickets to the Assembly as early as May 23, and return tickets from Xenia as late as June 5.

We have arranged to have Mr. Charles Jobe, of Xenia, act on behalf of the committee in certifying the attendance, etc., and have also arranged with the Central Passenger Committee, in whose territory Xenia is situated, to have their representative present at the Assembly on Friday, May 29.

We have published these concessions in all of the Church press, and have diligently attended to all correspondence from delegates relating thereto.

J. P. TRACY, Chairman.

CHICAGO, May 27, 1896.

REPORT OF THE WESTERN SECTION OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMISSION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

The work of the Commission has progressed favorably during the year, and the Churches of the Alliance are being drawn yet closer together, under the blessing of God, in the bonds of fellowship and for the maintenance of the great principles of the faith and order which they maintain.

During the year the Alliance has suffered a great loss in the death of the chairman of the Western Section, and the president of the Alliance, Rev. Talbot W. Chambers, D. D., LL.D. Dr. Chambers was associated with the Alliance since the year 1880, was the chairman of the Western Section from 1888, and at the time of his death was the president of the Alliance. His entire career, as a member and officer of the Alliance, was characterized by great dignity, large catholicity of spirit, earnest effort in every movement which gave promise of inuring to the welfare of the Churches, and great activity up to the last in the performance of the duties assigned to him. His labors ended, he has received the crown of righteousness which was laid up for him in heaven, and which shall be the portion of all who love the appearing of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

During the year a movement was initiated by the Alliance in the interests of co-operation in home mission work on the part of the Churches in the American Section. The Committee, having charge of the same, was composed of Rev. W. H. Roberts, D. D., chairman, Rev. Chas. G. Fisher, D. D., of the Reformed Church in the United States, and Rev. W. S. Owens, D. D., of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This Committee invited a conference of the officers of the Home Mission Boards of the Churches connected with the Alliance, at Pittsburgh, Pa., on October 31, 1895. The conference was held as appointed, was largely attended, and as a result of the consultation had, the following conclusions were reached with entire unanimity, viz.:

1. That the work actually accomplished within little more than a century in the planting of the Church of Christ, through home mission effort in this new world, is quite as wonderful as the triumphs of the gospel in heathen lands, and that the success achieved has been more rapid and more complete from the very fact that so many different denominations have been employed in home mission effort. More men have been sent forth as laborers into the harvest, more money has been voluntarily given for the work, than could have come from any one great organization. The King and Head of the Church universal has manifestly used ecclesiastical division for the more rapid evangelization of America.

2. That among the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches, associated in this Alliance, practical co-operation in the great work of home missions has existed for many years, and is in full force at the present time. The relations of the different Boards and Committees are positively fraternal and harmonious; there is no friction between them, such as has been alleged in certain quarters, neither is there any substantial waste of men or money in denominational rivalry. Errors of judgment doubtless have been made in the location of new missions or churches in the frontier States and Territories, but such errors have been common to secular enterprises in their work, as well as to religious organizations. In some new communities, again, it may appear to the superficial observer that too many Church organizations are supported, but it must be remembered that these churches have combined to make such new communities preeminently Christian from their inception. And whatever may have been the errors of judgment or mistakes made in particular fields, here and there, it is a welcome fact that the Churches holding the Reformed faith and the Presbyterian polity, seek steadily to minimize occasions of difference between their respective missionary agencies, endeavor to advance the common interests in a fraternal spirit, and are in full accord in the great work of evangelizing the North American continent.

3. While, however, practical co-operation and harmony thus exist, there is need of some statement of general principles of co-operation, for the guidance of the several Boards or Committees on home missions of the respective Churches in the Alliance, such, for instance, as that adopted by the Boards of Home Missions of the Reformed (Dutch) Church in America and the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

The Conference therefore authorized a second meeting, to consider and, if possible, adopt a plan of co-operation. It also directed that, in addition to the Boards of Home Missions, invitations should be sent to the Boards or Committees of Church Erection, Sabbath-school Work, and Freedmen's Work of the Churches of the Alliance.

The second conference they authorized was held in New York City on January 30, 1896, and the following plan of co-operation was unanimously adopted by the persons present, representing as intimated above, the Boards of Home Missions, Church Erection, Freedmen's Missions, and Sabbath-school Work of several of the Churches in the Alliance. The plan is as follows:

PLAN OF CO-OPERATION.

The Boards and Committees of Home Missions, Church Erection, Freedmen's Missions and Sabbath-school Work of the American Churches in "The Alliance of the Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian System," both in the United States and Canada, recognizing with gratitude to God their substantial unity both in faith and polity, do agree upon the following principles of action for their guidance in their work, viz.:

1. That in the work of all these Boards as related to each other the authority of the Church courts is to be recognized as final.

2. That there shall be no interference with churches, missions or Sabbath-schools at present existing, unless by voluntary agreement between the denominations directly concerned.

3. That ordinarily, no churches, missions or Sabbath-schools shall be established in small communities where the field is fully occupied by other Presbyterian or Reformed Churches.

4. That the supreme judicatories of the several Churches recommend their Church members, when moving into new communities, in which there is no congregation of their own Church, to unite, for the time being, with some other Presbyterian or Reformed Church, if such there be.

5. That, if cases of difference of opinion arise in connection with the work, they shall be referred for consideration and amicable adjustment to the missionary authorities of the denominations directly concerned.

This plan has been already submitted to all the Boards interested for their approval, and has been approved by the Western Section of the Alliance at its meeting, April 28, 1896, in Philadelphia, Pa. It has also been approved, subject to action by the supreme judicatories of the Churches, by the Board of Home Missions, Church Erection, Freedmen and Publication and S. S. Work of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., by the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America; by the Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church in the U. S., by the Boards of Home Missions and Church Extension of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, and by the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The plan is herewith respectfully submitted to you in the hope that it may be adopted by your venerable body, and may bring yet closer together the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches on the American continent.

The Alliance r[illegible] requests an order from your venerable body for the paymen[illegible] apportionment of your Church for the expenses of the Alliance. The apportionment is based upon the number of delegates to which your Church is entitled in the General Council of the Alliance, viz., 18, and at $15 per delegate, this amounts to $270.

The notice of last year, with reference to the meeting of the Sixth General Council, is hereby repeated. This Council will meet at Glasgow, Scotland, on June 17, 1896, at 11 A. M., and will continue in session until June 26.

Wishing you grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, we are,

In behalf of the Alliance,

Yours fraternally,

W. H. ROBERTS, Chairman.
DAVID WATERS, Secretary.
